LARD is a commodity which affords ample opportunity for adulteration. Unless the maker is not reckless in regard to the foreign substances which he places in the lard when rendering it, ten chances to one the average consumer will remain in ignorance thereof. That the renderers of lard know this is evident from the analyses which are from time to time made by the officials of the Inland Revenue Department of the Dominion. The report for 1893 has just been issued, and it shows that in the whole list of articles analyzed the proportion of adulterated to pure was larger in lard than in any other, namely, 33 to 38, or nearly 87 per cent, while 6 were doubtful. The total number analyzed was 77. Cotton seed oil was the chief adulterant used, being apparent, in some instances to the extent of 30 per cent. in 26 out of the 33 samples adulterated. Tallow and mutton fat were the other substances used. In Halifax, 8 out of 17 samples were found to be adulterated; in St. John, N. B., 4 out of 12; in Quebec district, 10 out of 12, the impure in each instance being American lard; in London, 2 out of 12; in Winnipeg, 6 out of 12.

It is a poor commentary both upon the honesty of the lard manufacturers and the vigilance of the law when it is found that out of 77 samples of lard tested by Dominion analysts 33 should be found adulterated, 6 doubtful and but 38 genuine. Even the much abused milk men were able to make a better showing than that. Of the 188 samples analyzed they were able to produce 120 genuine. But the samples taken from the brewers turned out even better still: Out of 119, 107 were genuine, 12 doubtful, and none adulterated.

The law is clear in regard to adulterations. Adulterated food is defined by the act to be (1) such as is diluted with any substance which lowers its quality or strength; (2) such as has inferior or cheaper substances mixed with it, even although these may not be injurious to health; (3) such as may be deprived of any of its valuable constituents in whole or in part; (4) such as is an imitation of or sold under the name of another article; (5) such as is wholly or in part diseased or decomposed; (6) such as contain ingredients injurious to health; (7) if its strength or purity falls below the standard, or its constituents are not within the limits of variability fixed by the act or by the Governor-in-Council. The penalty for infraction of the law ranges all the way from $10 to $50. And yet in the face of all this we find the law so extensively violated. It is evident that more rigor needs to be generated somewhere.

The man who adulterates an article of food with a view to deception is, in plain English, a thief, and should be treated as such. Nothing can justify him. If an admixture of lard or any other commodity is demanded there is nothing to prevent a manufacturer providing it. All that the law stipulates is that the article shall be labelled as a mixture, and that the foreign substance shall not be injurious to the public health. The law, therefore, while specific in its reading against adulteration is sufficiently elastic to allow the manufacture and sale of cheap compounds. The cause of complaint seems not to be with the law, but with the officers of the law.

The conference now in session at Ottawa is unique in the history of the British Empire. Present are delegates representing Great Britain, Canada and Australia, and its objects are primarily twofold: The extension of inter colonial and inter-imperial trade. Neither of these objects are of recent conception. Every reader of the newspapers knows this. But the conference now sitting in Ottawa is the first of the kind held within the British Empire. There was a conference of delegates from the colonies and Mother Country in London some seven or eight years ago. But its object was to discuss ways and means for the defence of the Empire; this at Ottawa the extension of trade within the Empire.

To Canada, more than any other member of the conference, belongs the honor of the conference. She is the key stone of it. Ten years ago such a conference was probably dreamed of by no one. And were the conditions the same now as then its possibility of being fruitful in results would have been doubted by everyone. The building of the C. P. R. was the first step in bringing about the conference. Next the need of a steamship service between Canada and the Orient was conceived and subsequently established. Then followed the idea of extending trade relations with Australia. To promote this the Government of Canada offered to subsidize a line of steamships that would undertake to ply between the Antipodes and the Dominion. This induced a company of Australian capitalists to establish the desideratum about a year ago. Canada is now the stepping stone midway between Australasia and the Mother Land.

But the building of the C.P.R. and the establishment of a line of steamships were not the only things to be done in order to develop trade between Canada and the Australian colonies: Canada has a tariff wall in the way; so has some of the Australian colonies. British colonies now and British colonies when the memorable tea party was held in Boston harbor are vastly different. The colonies are now virtually independent. But now and then, when special circumstances arise, it is found that there are still a few more of the threads of the apron string which hold us to the Mother Land that curtail our liberty somewhat and which we would like to have severed. There is a disposition among the Australian colonies to enter into some special tariff arrangements with Canada whereby the development of trade between us and them may be facilitated. But while Canada is free in this respect, the Australian colonies are not. Under the Imperial statute known as the "Australian Customs Duties Act, 1873," the Antipodean colonies were conceded the power to make laws imposing or remitting duties, whether differential or preferential, for or against one another, but the right to impose differential duties upon goods imported from Great Britain or from foreign countries was denied them. This right they now want given them; and the matter will be discussed at the conference now sitting, the outcome of which will probably be a formal request to the Imperial Government to comply with the wishes of the Australian colonies. The laying of an independent Pacific cable will also be considered.

As to the results of the conference, time alone can but tell what their import will be. All parties to the conference will undoubtedly be benefitted to a more or less extent. As a result of the establishment of the direct line of steamships between this country and the Antipodean colonies, our trade with Australia and theirs with us is bound to expand; and when the difficulties in the shape of opposing tariff have been removed a still better growth may be expected, especially after the fruits of a better acquaintanceship, as a result of the present conference, have developed. But that at the same time does not mean that Canada is the country that is going to receive the greater benefit. In fact she is likely to receive the least benefit. Many of the staple articles that Australia wants to sell us are the very same class of goods of which we ourselves are sellers. One of the delegates stated at the opening of the conference that his colony had cattle which they wanted to sell to Canada, and at extraordinary low figures. Well, now, Canada does not want to buy cattle; she wants to sell them. This is only cited as an instance. Then by facilitating the transport, both by water and rail, of Australian products to England, we are helping to carry a competitor's goods to market. Then, too, Canada will be assisting Great Britain to compete with us in the Australian market. But while Canada is likely to reap the least benefit from the selling point of view, it must be remembered that in respect to transportation the greatest benefit will accrue to Canada. She is the bridge, as it were, across which most of the merchandise is destined to be carried and the passengers between Great Britain and Australia and the Orient travel. The immediate benefit that will result to Canada from the conference is the advertising she will get. Next the different portions of the Empire represented will get a better acquaintanceship with each other and a knowledge of the wants of each in a trade sense. And for such a large portion of the earth's population to know each other better is to hasten the approach of that cosmopolitanism which is so desirable for the peace and welfare of the world. Success to the conference.

SPECULATION IN JUNE CHEESE.

THE "June deal," as it is called, or rather the purchase of the cheese output of the month of June, this year presents many new features.

Never before at this period of the year have the shipments to Great Britain been so heavy—being already over 300,000 boxes, or 21,000,000 lbs. of cheese—fully 100,000 boxes more than for the corresponding period last year.

The output also to date is heavier than last year, and the make in progress is admitted to be much greater.

Last year the cold storage establishments contained little or no cheese, but to-day they are full to the brim.

In the face of all these conditions, which would naturally infer easier markets, buyers in the country have been having a regular scramble for cheese, and instead of the price being lower, the ruling cost at the different country markets last week was from ⅛ to ¼c. higher than it was the previous week.

It is difficult to explain this unusual condition of affairs except on the ground that the short interest for prompt and near-by shipment for June cheese is much larger than expected. As a matter of fact this is the case, and it is understood that no less than four or five of the leading firms of cheese exporters in Montreal have sold June cheese short to the extent of 30,000 boxes each, or in round numbers these are short on June cheese to the extent of 130,000 boxes, or almost half the month's entire output of the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

This fact explains the way the markets have kept up on this side of the water in the face of cables quoting lower prices from the other side. These goods had to be had, and put the peg in which kept values up in the country so well.

That the deal has not been a profitable one is obvious, but as it is understood that English firms are partially interested with the Montrealers in the above deal, it is likely that a lot of this June cheese will be put into cold store and held either on this side or across the water for a turn in the market. Prices, however, are rather high for this season of the year, and it has to be borne in mind that when they go above a certain figure the English demand always stops.

It is more than likely, however, that with the appearance of the July make, which will be due in the course of a week or so, prices will react, and sharply too unless the people behind the recent purchasing are prepared to add to their already heavy load—a very unlikely thing, for it looks just at present, to use a popular phrase, that they have "bitten off more than they can chew."

The amount of money involved in a deal of 125,000 to 130,000, it may be interesting to know, is about $800,000, which gives some idea of the magnitude of the deal in cheese.

The grocers and butchers of the Caterers' Union have a petition in circulation asking the chairman to call a meeting to discuss the advisability of having a weekly half holiday during July and August. It is thought that the grocers, butchers and dry goods dealers will probably arrange to keep the same half day.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

In water in which decaying vegetables have been infused the microscope discovers creatures so minute that 10,000 of them would not exceed in bulk a grain of mustard, though they are supplied with organs as complicated as those of a whale.

J. Youill & Sons, Carleton Place, have placed in their creamery a separator with a capacity of 800 pounds an hour. By this new improvement the milk can be passed through and the cream extracted therefrom and the milk given to the pigs before it cools.

With the view of warding off distress among the agricultural population in seasons of crop failure, Russian statesmen are preparing a scheme for the insurance of crops by the State. The insurance is to be compulsory so far as farming lands are concerned, the rates varying according to the conditions of the various districts.

The total duties collected at the port of Toronto during the past month were $215,935.69, being $130,524 43 less than the same month last year. For the year ending June 30, 1894, the total duties collected were $2,920.566,34, or $648,714.54 below the figures for the previous year.

According to some recent statistics on the cost of living, an Englishman spends, on an average, $48 a year for food; a Frenchman, $47; a German, $42; a Spaniard, $33; an Italian, $24; and a Russian, $23. Of meat the Englishman eats 109 pounds a year; the Frenchman, 87; the German, 64; the Italian, 26; and the Russian, 51. Of bread the Englishman consumes 380 pounds; the Frenchman, 540; the German, 560; the Spaniard, 480; the Italian, 400; and the Russian, 635.

HOW TO GET RID OF FLIES.

AMERICAN Grocer: A little fly is a big nuisance. Many flies are an intolerable pest. How to get rid of them is a puzzle to many retail grocers. Two of the correspondents of that lively little paper, "But—," offer the following:

NORRISTOWN, Pa., April 2, 1894.

DEAR "BUT—":

The remedy or prevention for flies is so simple that it is a wonder the grocers do not banish them altogether. The method is contained in one word, "cleanliness." Keep the sugar bins closed, the molasses in the cellar, the floor well scrubbed, glass covers on dried fruits, cakes and crackers in cans with glass fronts, and, in short, expose to the air no goods that attract the pests. The result will be a neat, tidy store, brighter and fresher goods and pleased patrons. There is no need of the ancient screen doors and sticky fly paper. The liberal use of water and elbow grease is cheaper and far more satisfactory, and the enterprising grocer who follows this plan will not only get rid of the flies, but cause increased sales. The writer knows by experience the merits of a clean tidy store.

YORK, Pa., March 30, 1894.

DEAR "BUT—":

My store is 15 x 30 feet, having two windows each 3 x 6 feet, three doors, two of which are half glass, and three transoms. So much for light. I do not hide my shelf goods with covers, have no paper on ceiling for flies to sit on, no screen doors to keep out fresh air and to be in the way of customers passing in and out, neither fly nor poison paper to draw flies and cause many dead ones to lie about. But during the entire summer, except on very dusty or stormy days, I have my two doors (one fronting north, the other east), and often the other door (fronting south) wide open. At the same time I have my sugar, etc., exposed, which generally attracts flies.

Now as to their presence, I rarely find a dead one, and the live ones are not so numerous that they cannot be counted with very little trouble. The secret is, they do not care to be in my store. I can only attribute this to the fact that for ten years I have been selling the Famous insect powder, and as I frequently weigh out and put it up in packages, the smell pervades the atmosphere, and, while it is not unpleasant and is perfectly safe and harmless to myself (who am handling it all the time) and to my customers, the flies seem to prefer to be elsewhere.

Now I do not claim perfection for this, and yet, the difference between the screen door and covering inconveniences, etc., and my simple and safe remedy with so few flies and so many advantages, such as plenty of light and fresh air, is very great.

But, if I am correct as to the cause, the question is, how to use it so that others may secure the same result. This I am not ready to answer, but I am ready to hear suggestions, and as "the proof of the pudding is in the eating," so my place is open for inspection for all, especially during fly time.

Respectfully yours,

W. H. WELSH.

MONEY-WASTING ADVERTISING.

BY NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR.

THE man who says that all advertising pays is a liar. Half the advertising mediums are worth half charged for them. Half the methods of publicity are worth little more than nothing.

The circulation of the average advertising solicitor is twice as large as the circulation of his medium.

Half the advertising is placed because the man who asked for it knows his business.

Half the printed matter suits the compositor better than the man who sends it out.

Half the printed matter is ten times too long.

Half the advertisements attract nobody.

Half the descriptive catalogues are understood principally by their publishers.

Advertising will pay if not too much and not too little money is expended for it.

Economy is to be practiced in advertising.

Economy is to be practiced in everything.

Too much economy in advertising is just as unprofitable as too little of it.

The newspaper or regularly issued periodical is the fundamental back, sides, and bottom of all successful advertising, and all else, to be profitable, must be used in conjunction with it.

The circular has its place; so has the flyer, the hand-bill, the sign on the fence, the painting on the rock, the novelty, and everything else which tends to bring people to the store or to keep regular customers.

In every town of any size there are one or two directories.

The majority of directories are issued by concerns who grind them out by the yard and paste on new covers, getting their names from the other directories.

The directory publisher depends upon the advertisements and not upon the sale of the directory for profit, because it has no sale.

The majority of local dealers advertise in every directory.

It may pay to advertise in the regular standard directory of the town, but it never pays to advertise in directories not thoroughly standard.

If the advertiser thinks his advertisement in the back pages of the directory, surrounded by 100 or 1,000 more advertisements, is of any particular use to him, let him put a $5 bill among these advertising pages, place the directory in the most conspicuous place in his store, and he will find that his money is about as safe in that directory as it would be in his safe.

The charitable programme, and programmes issued by other local entertainment committees, come under the classification of legitimate blackmail; that is, they are honestly issued, their publishers are leading men and women, and it generally does not pay the advertiser to refuse to place a small announcement in them, because by not doing so he is liable to get the ill-will of regular or prospective customers. He must take this advertising space, although it is practically worthless in itself, and charge it either to charity or to profit and loss.

The advertiser issues a pamphlet, describing his goods.

He spoils it because he plasters his name all over it.

He gives information of interest to himself and not of interest to the public.

He is too technical.

He does not present his goods so that the public can understand what he intends to tell them.

He makes a directory of his catalogue when he should make of it an interesting book of reading.

More good money has been lost in catalogue and descriptive pamphlet advertising than in almost any other method of publicity.

The catalogue is indispensable, but its value is practically annihilated by overwriting it and presenting it to the public, typographically and otherwise, in a way which makes the public immediately throw it into the waste-basket without even a glance of recognition.

The flyer is illegitimate in that it is a cheap way of advertising—cheap in cost, and cheap in every way.

The flyer can be made to be of benefit if it contains the briefest matter, and only makes one point at a time.

The flyer should never be used to dispose of regular stock, but it can be used for the announcement of bargains, shop-worn articles, or anything else out of the usual line.

The newspaper announcement of bargains is worth much more than the flyer, but both can be used to advantage.

Never let a boy distribute flyers, unless the boy is guaranteed by some surety company.

If he is like the average boy, or like you as you were when a boy, he will leave from one to one hundred at each house, and give to each passer-by as many as he will take.

The circular left at the door seldom gets beyond the front steps, because the wind blows it away.

If the bell is rung, the servant girl takes the flyer into the kitchen, and there it remains.

About one out of a hundred circulars left at houses is seen by the inmates.

About one out of every twenty-five handed to passers-by is read by the receiver.

A circular to be delivered at the houses, to be of any value, must be handsomely printed, and sent in a sealed envelope, properly addressed.

The circular given out upon the street must contain little matter and be in large type, that when the pedestrian drops it, and it happens to fall face up upon the sidewalk, it may then do a little good as a transient advertisement.

Signs on fences have been proven to be profitable.

Do not have the signs so near the street that the occupants of carriages cannot easily read them.

A large sign at a distance is much better than a small one near to.

Do not use the expression: "Go to Smith's," or "Smith's is the cheapest."

Paint lines of life.

Say something broad and out of the conventional ruts.

"Go to Smith's" means nothing.

"Smith's is the cheapest" is a hackneyed expression passed by everybody.

Of course the sign cannot be changed often, and therefore it must be of permanent character, but that does not interfere with its being bright.

If you know how to be funny, be funny in your signs.

Dry prose is bad enough, but cheap wit is an abomination.

The mile-board idea is not bad, although conventional.

If you put up mile-boards be sure that your distances are correct. It doesn't make a prospective customer feel very well to read while on the way that it is five miles to Jones', and then, after traveling a mile further, discover that he is five miles and a half away.

Be sure that your signs along the railroad are a considerable distance from the track, because passengers on a moving train cannot read letters close by the road-bed.

Advertisements on hotel blotters and depot clocks are worth comparatively little, because users of hotel blotters are transients, and people don't stay long in a depot if they can help it, and those who do are not generally townspeople.

Stereopticon advertising sometimes is valuable, but is not generally worth as much as is charged for it. It is of too transient a character.

The advertisement in the regular newspaper generally pays.

The advertisement in anything else may or may not pay.

From one-half to three quarters of the advertising appropriation should go into the regular newspapers, the balance into catalogues and other printed matter.

SALMON PROSPECTS.

H. O. Bell-Irving reports fishing prospects on the Skeena for this year very good though there has been very high water. A strike among the fishermen at first threatened some complication, but they are gradually coming in again one after the other and several boats went out on the 16th inst. The strike is chiefly confined to the Port Simpson Indians and is owing to a reduction of one cent in the price of fish. The number of boats this season has by mutual consent been restricted to 35 for each cannery, thereby increasing the likelihood of each individual boat doing better than they have done during previous years. No doubt when the fact is fully realized by the Indian fisherman, they will go to work again, because as a matter of fact, in spite of the reduction in the price of fish, the boats stand to make more this year even at the reduced figure than on former occasions. The water in the canon has been exceptionally high. On May 15th a canoe load of Indians attempted to get through, but the canoe was split in two and all the occupants drowned. The water too, is much muddier than usual, which is generally regarded as a good sign by the canners. The different canneries are all ready for work and a fair average pack is confidently expected this season.

On the Fraser fishing will most likely begin on July 5th, and the probabilities are that there will be a larger number of boats out than ever before. It is satisfactory also, to be able to state that more white fishermen will be employed this season on the river than on any other occasion.—Advertiser, Vancouver, June 27.

THE PICNIC SEASON.

The season of picnics is well under way and nothing can be more timely for a grocery store than a picnic window. But, to do this properly, more is required than a mere display of goods. An attempt should be made to realize a picnic scene. In one corner of the window arrange the regular camp cooking place, with kettle. Have floor covered with sod, or green tea. In the middle of the window spread a white linen cloth, and in the centre, place picnic plates around the edge of the cloth, as if they were laid for the picnicers. Show the cups, pewter spoons, and iron forks. If you want to put in a supreme touch of realism, get some toy spiders and put them on top of an olive bottle or astride of a lemon. If you want to create fun, have a number of "Brownie" figures seated around a table enjoying themselves. A hammock stretched across one corner of the window, the introduction of foliage or boughs; all these things will help out the effect wonderfully.—By Harry Harman.

COLOR HARMONY.

The following general rules on color effects in window dressing, which are taken from a catalogue issued by an eastern concern, will convey an idea as to the character of its contents :

Red and violet do not accord well.

Orange and yellow accord incomparably better than red and orange.

Orange and green do not accord well.

Orange and violet accord passably.

Yellow and green form an agreeable combination.

Greenish yellow and violet blend nicely.

The arrangement of yellow and blue is more agreeable than that of yellow and green, but it is less lively.

Green and blue produce an indifferent effect, but better when the colors are deep.

Green and violet, especially when light, form a combination preferable to green and blue.

THE MACKEREL CATCH.

LATEST returns show that the New England mackerel fleet, nearly all of which have arrived from their first trip, landed 25,175 barrels salt mackerel. The landings up to the corresponding date last year were 14,510 barrels. Those of 1892 aggregated 5,500 barrels. The returns for the present year would thus tend to strengthen the opinion that has been expressed for some time past by experts that the season's catch will be a large one ; but the uncertainties of fish are many, and there is more than a bare chance that the fishermen may not be as successful on their later trips, although reports from most sections are that mackerel are schooling freely. In accordance with usual custom, those fishermen who went out on a second trip will return in time to celebrate Independence Day whether they catch fish or not. Those who remained at home after the first trip will undoubtedly remain a few days after the Fourth. Meanwhile, the dealers will have a chance to trade on knowledge as to the extent of the supply for a week or two at least. The fish received thus far have been well taken care of. That is to say, dealers have purchased liberally, and distributed goods at prices showing comparatively small margin advance or average cost, besides giving a certain measure of support by taking up quite liberal quantities beyond what imperative wants dictated. The result is that Gloucesters are 50 to 75c. up from the extreme lowest point of the season, and the offering somewhat reserved. As yet evidence is wanting that the cheapness of mackerel has led to increase in the consumption. Jobbers have purchased more liberally than they did a year ago, and their sales have been larger as well. It is, therefore, presumable that retailers will push the sale of the goods, and encouraging results from work in that direction may be heard before the fishermen arrive from the second trip. Regarding the European catch, very little and only fragmentary information has been received up to the present time, and it is problematical whether packers of Irish and Norway fish will send much stock here in competition with American caught mackerel at present prices. After paying duty, freight, commissions, to say nothing of allowances for inferior goods, etc., that frequently have to be made, the net financial return to the packer would be very small.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

SQUARE DEALING.

IN building a business, as in building a house, remarks Merchants' Review, the first care should be to secure a substantial foundation. If the foundation is all right one can then go straight ahead and build, with the assurance that his time and energy will not be expended for naught because the underpinning of the business is too weak to sustain it. Various kinds of foundations have been tried by business men, but none has yet proven so durable or given such satisfactory results as what we will call the square-dealing foundation. Build your business upon a basis of square-dealing and you will soon obtain the entire confidence of consumers, after which the active competition or trickery of would-be rivals, including the offers of such baits as cut prices, gift schemes, etc., will have no terrors for you. If the average retailer would follow the example of the most successful wholesale salesmen, he probably would find the business a more remunerative, certainly a more pleasant avocation. Such salesmen, we mean, as those who are at the head of their class in the grocery business, and to whom is often left, more than to the retailer's own judgment, the difficult and important task of selecting the proper kinds of tea, coffee, etc., to suit certain customers. Many retailers depend upon the salesman's judgment in regard to the purchase of novelties, as well as the staples, and if he urges a purchase of the novelty, that settles it, because they know that he cannot afford to deceive them, while they also are aware that his skill and judgment as a professional buyer are superior to those of most men in their own branch of the grocery business. The cautious warning, caveat emptor (let the buyer beware), to them has no meaning, because having bought from only one man during a long period, they have found by experience that there has been no attempt to deceive, and that they can, in fact, rely better upon the salesman's judgment and honor than upon their own skill and practical knowledge. There are too many salesmen who could not be trusted in such a manner, and who, if put upon their honor, would not hesitate to betray the confidence of their customer, thinking it smart, perhaps, to do so. But for every one of these salesmen there are no doubt several of the first-mentioned class, and every retailer must have met such men and appreciated the advantages that they enjoy over their foolish competitors, by reason of the confidence that the merchant learns to place in them. It is equally an advantage, in dealing with consumers, to enjoy their confidence, and the merchant who refuses to recognize the importance of this suggestion will find before long that he has built upon an insecure foundation, and that the edifice is in danger of falling.

VALUE OF ACCURACY.

The president of a New England College, according to an exchange, in a recent address emphasized the moral value of accuracy. "There is a conscience of the mind," said he, "without the use of which no one can ever expect to become right-minded." But more than that he urged that accuracy is a joy. "Good study," he said, "is not a pastime—no one would claim that ; but it may be made a very interesting business. Attention, if it is not strained, may become a source of pride and delight. I have no doubt that if we would cultivate the habit of accuracy, we might derive quite as much pleasure from it as from the Yankee substitute of guessing at things. Not only does devotion to accuracy bring its moral gains and its pleasures, though no more valuable. Whatever shallow cynics may say, in the long run it is the accurate newspaper that wins circulation, the accurate clerk that keeps his place, the accurate writer whose words are read and heeded. The engineer true to the second, the elevator boy careful about the niceties of stopping and starting and shutting doors, the office boy who observes where the waste-paper basket is used and puts it there—these rise, and others do not."

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

DEMANDS from outside the city for anything but a few special lines of summer goods are very slim. Perhaps the most active line at present is men's furnishings in summer classes. Light colored neckwear, neglige shirts, linen and cashmere vests; linen, flannel, and other summer coats—these are the lines which are always selling, for the simple reason that the young man of to-day spends the first instalment of his income on his clothes. Cream cashmeres are favorites with the fair sex just now, although no wholesale house seems to have a large stock. Cream gloves in lisle, taffeta and silk are also selling well and are scarce with the jobbers. Wool crinkles are steadily moving out, and most wholesalers have found it necessary to repeat.

The French market in plain dress goods has an upward tendency, owing to an increased demand from the United States. Advances of from 5 to 7½ per cent. are reported.

Alexander & Anderson have just opened a new range of moire velveteens. In summer clearances they offer special values in laces, embroideries, ladies' underwear and hosiery.

Caldecott, Burton & Spence have maintained a full summer stock of their specialty—hosiery and gloves. Stainless black and stainless tan are in full display in hosiery, as are whites in all qualities. Black, tan and cream gloves are offered in their well-known lines and to suit the season's vagaries. In cashmere hosiery their range is never incomplete.

W. R. Brock & Co. report an extraordinary call for cream worsteds, cricketing flannels, light weight worsteds, etc. The male portion of the community seem to be going in for this class of goods much more strongly than at any previous season. This house claims to have yet a very fair assortment of this class of merchant tailors' supplies.

Wyld, Grasett & Darling are offering summer clearances in prints at prices which ensure quick movement. Their lines need no recommendation. In linens they have a full display of towellings, tablings, glass-cloths, etc., among which are some very special prices despite the fact that flax is high at present.

MONTREAL MARKET.

The week has been a quiet one in dry goods in Montreal, a few more sorting orders for prints, ginghams and dress goods being about the only business there is to note. A fair enquiry for cotton flannel is reported, and the same is to remark about silk goods. Payments continue much the same. Travelers are now out with fall samples for their placing trip, but it is too early yet, at the time of writing, to say what the prospects are.

A UNIQUE SALT SAMPLE CASE.

THE manner in which a commodity is displayed exercises an influence on its sale. If the package is attractive, it tends to induce business; if the package is unattractive, the opposite results are obtained. The proprietors of the Windsor Salt, for which the Toronto Salt Works are sole agents in Toronto, realize this fact; and they have distributed unique and attractive cases, containing samples of their product, among the trade. The case is of cardboard, covered with imitation of morocco leather, and across the cover, in striking gilt letters, are the words: "Windsor Salt Samples. Toronto Salt Works, City Agents." The interior of the case is divided into three compartments, containing samples of table salt, dairy salt and Acme table salt, all of which are covered in with a glass top. The package is an attractive addition to the grocer's counter.

CANADA'S GREAT FAIR FOR 1894.

The Toronto Industrial Exhibition has now become one of the great events of the year in Canadian history, and is looked forward to by the people in all parts of the Dominion. We have received a copy of the prize list for this year's fair, which is to be held from the 3rd to the 15th September next. The amount of prizes offered is as large as ever, and there is every prospect of this year's show excelling all others, as there is no other great fair to conflict with it, and the directors have voted a large amount for novelties and special features which are bound to attract the people. The grounds are also being vastly improved this year. Any one desiring a copy of the prize list can obtain one by dropping a post card to Mr. H. J. Hill, manager, Toronto.

NO ORDERS!

What takes the brightness off the morn,
And leadens dullest days that dawn,
Makes every rose turn out a thorn?
No orders!

When discontented workmen wait,
And well-paid travelers soundly rate,
What makes them so bemoan their fate?
No orders!

When costs work out absurdly high,
And the "governor" asks the reason why,
Who falls back on the well-worn cry—
No orders?

What makes the wife at home sedate,
The husband rue the married state—
Its "sad results"—both soon and late?
No orders!

When summer comes and neighbors fly
To seaside joys and pleasures high;
What makes the home-tied victim sigh?
No orders!

But wait a bit, the tide will turn,
The "governor," travelers, men will learn
That life can sparkle yet again—
With orders!

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 5, 1894.

GROCERIES.

NO new striking features have developed in trade during the week. Business appears to be fairly satisfactory for the season, although the volume of business for the past week has been somewhat curtailed on account of the holiday. Payments are reported fair. Canned goods are moving in seasonable quantities at steady to firm prices. There is some demand for the better grades of coffees, of which there is a scarcity on this market. Rice is in good demand. The demand for sugar continues to enlarge, although it has not yet reached a point where it can be called large. Syrups and molasses are dull. In teas, new season's Japans are attracting most of the attention. The conditions in dried fruits are much as before, stocks of most lines being scarce and prices firm. The butter market is firmer in consequence of light shipments, and the price of green fruits is advancing owing to the railroad strikes.

CANNED GOODS.

Tomatoes are in steady demand at 85 to 90c. Corn continues firm, with stocks low and demand good at 90 to 95c. Peas are in brisk demand at 80 to 85c. Canned peaches are getting very scarce, and prices are a little higher, at $3.25 to $3 40 for 3's and $2.10 to $2.25 for 2's. There does not appear to be any gallon apples to be had, and for the few preserved apples to be had there is a big demand. Other kinds of canned fruit are not much wanted. We quote as follows: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2 75, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40. Salmon continues in seasonable demand at $1.25 to $1.35 for tall tins and $1.50 to $1.60 for flat tins. Demand is just fair for lobsters, at $1.85 to $2 for tall tins, and $2.40 to $2.50 for flat tins.

COFFEES.

There is a good demand for good grades of Rio coffee, but there are very few of these to be had. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 21 to 21½c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

NUTS.

Nothing new to be said, trade being dull and prices unchanged. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c. a pound; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c. a pound; Terragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; peanuts, 10½ to 11c. for roasted and 8 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12½ to 15c.; Marbot walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9¾ to 10¼c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 12½c.

RICE.

There is a good demand for rice, principally for "B" at 3½ to 3⅝c. Demand is good for tapioca of medium quality at 4¼ to 4½c. We quote as follows: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

Trade remains much as before. Pure black pepper, 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 28 to 30c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 23 to 25c.; cream of tartar, 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

Demand is fairly good. There are a few carload lots moving, and an increasing demand is experienced for five and ten barrel lots. Buying however is still being characterized by more or less caution by both wholesalers and retailers. The ruling quotation is still 4⅛c. for granulated, but this price is being shaded; yellows range from 3⅜ to 4c.; raws 3¾c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Tuesday: On the market for raws there is a sort of skirmishing position among operators who are contending over small fractional differences only, and neither buyer or seller looking for any radical change at the moment. In consequence there is neither pressure to realize or special effort to purchase, and business has no snap. Europe was rather firmer to-day. Refined have been dull. In verification of indications at the close of last week there was a reduction of 1-16 to ⅛c. on soft grades, but that had no influence on business, as buyers were in quite a determined stand-off mood and about the only orders came from those who wanted some odd lot for assortment and could not wait until after the holiday.

Willett & Gray's Weekly Statistical: While conditions here, growing out of the duty agitation, tend to advance the quotations for refined, yet conditions abroad in beet sugar countries are not keeping pace in refined with our markets, and the offerings for the week of foreign sugars have been at a marketable parity. Trade is in a nervous condition, and in spite of a good demand for carrying stocks, refiners have melted beyond requirements, making an ⅛c. per lb. reduction necessary as the outcome of the week's business. This reduction has not increased the orders, and in order to keep the business up to the summer average in the present unsettled state of affairs generally it may be found necessary to make further concessions, though of this there are no present indications.

SYRUP.

Market continues dull at previous quotations — namely: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35c. to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

There is a little movement reported, mostly in Barbadoes. Prices are: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 30 to 33c.; half-barrels, 36 to 38c.

TEA.

May pickings new season's Japan teas are still attracting the most attention, and the demand is fair for them at 30 to 35c., but the bulk of the business will not of course be done until the arrival of the lower and cheaper grades of new Japan teas which will retail at about 25c. Samples of these lower grade teas are now being offered jobbers by brokers, and they are showing much better value than last season's teas. New black teas are expected to arrive on this market some time next month. Indian and Ceylon teas are quiet, and there is not much doing in Young Hysons.

Mail advices from London, under date of June 22, say that auctions of Indian tea were again extremely small, and no change can be reported. New season's teas are being catalogued more freely. Exports from Calcutta to U. K., from May 1 to middle of June were 3,850,000 lbs., against 4,080,000 lbs. same period last year. In Ceylon teas competition was good, but change can be quoted in rates, although prices of good liquoring kinds were here and there a little stiffer.

DRIED FRUITS.

There is no change in the situation in regard to Valencia raisins. There is a little off-stalk to be had, and that is about all. Some houses are taking advantage of the prices prevailing to substitute London layers for Valencia raisins, and are able to sell them at a lower figure. We quote off-stalk at 5¾ to 6¼c., and fine off-stalk at 6½ to 7c. Currants are in steady demand at former quotations. We quote: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4½c. in brls., and 4¼ to 4¾c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls, 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases; Panariti, 8½ to 9c. Although the demand has fallen off somewhat for prunes there is still a fair business doing, people buying more of this article than they otherwise would in consequence of the scarcity of dried and evaporated apples. The local market is almost bare of prunes. We quote: U's, 5½c.; B's, 7½.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c. Figs are dull and easy with quotations nominal. Small boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 5 lb. boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 10 lb. boxes, 8c.; 28-lb. boxes choice Eleme, 8½c.; 6-crown, 12½c.; 7-crown 13½c.; bags, 28-lb., 6½ to 7c.; taps, 4 to 4½c.; natural, 5½ to 6c. Dates quiet and easy, at 4¼ to 5c.; selected Hallowee dates 8½ to 9c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The butter market is not in a satisfactory condition. There appears to be a fair quantity of butter in the country, but buyers and sellers are apart, the latter asking as high as 14 to 15c. f.o.b. outside. In consequence of this there is a scarcity of choice butter on the local market at the moment. The hot weather, too, has naturally tended to curtail the supply. Receipts are of course largely confined to dairy tubs, no inducements being held out for shipment of other kinds. Prices are firm, and jobbers experience no difficulty in getting 16c. for choice dairy tubs. There is not much creamery tub butter moving, and there is not much wanted. The factories are asking 18 to 19c., but little or nothing is being taken by the jobbers. There is a fair movement in creamery pound prints, and supplies are none too liberal. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy— Choice tubs, 15 to 16c.; medium, 13 to 14c.; pound rolls, 17c. Creamery—Tubs, fresh, 19 to 20c.; pound prints, 20 to 21c.

Cheese is in fair demand and steady. Jobbers are not buying extensively, waiting for lower prices; 9½ to 10c. seems to be the ruling prices, although in some instances as low as 9¼c. is quoted.

PROVISIONS.

Trade in provisions is quiet. The only line which exhibits any life is smoked meats, for which the hot weather has created a good demand. Smoked backs are quoted a little firmer.

BACON—Long clear, 7½c.; smoked backs, 10 to 10½c.; breakfast bacon, 11 to 11½c.; rolls, 8½ to 8¾c.

HAMS—10½c. for smoked, and at 9½c. for pickled.

LARD—Pure Canadian 8¾c. in tubs, 9c. in pails and 8½c. in tierces. Compound, 7½ to 7¾c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $17 to $17.50, Canadian short-cut $17.00 to $17.50, shoulder mess $14.50, clear mess $15.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The market was dull and weaker Tuesday with no disposition on part of shippers to buy. The depressed condition of British market was the chief reason. Total receipts at western yard were 40 car loads. The demand for exporters was light and the top price is $4.30. A load was bought at this this price, but they are to be turned out to grass and wait for a better market. There were a few other sales at 4 to 4¼c. The hot weather has had a bad effect on the demand for meats, and consequently butchers show little disposition to lay in stocks. The best butchers' cattle sold at 3½ to 3¾c. per lb., medium at 3¼c., and interior at 2¾ to 3c. Calves steady, with sales of good veals at $4.50 to $5 each. Sheep and lambs are weaker. The former sold at 3½c., weighed off cars, and rams at 2½c. Spring lambs sold at $3 to $3.70 each. Hogs in limited supply and prices firmer; the best light bacon animals are higher at $5.30 to $5.50 per 100, heavy fats at $4 80 to $4.90, stores at $4 75 to $4.80, sows at $4 to $4.25, and stags at $2.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

The railroad strikes in the Western States are having their effect on the fruit trade here, very little seasonable foreign fruit now coming forward. As a consequence, prices are higher. Oranges are in good demand, with supply fair. There are a few California oranges on the market, but stocks are chiefly of Messinas. Lemon market is active, with prices in the ascendency. Supply is getting short and the trade will soon have to look to foreign markets for supplies. Bananas are scarce and much higher on account of the increased holiday demand. Strawberries are coming in freely, but the season will soon be over. Domestic raspberries and cherries are beginning to arrive. We quote: Oranges, Cal. seedlings, $2.50 to $3.25; Messinas, half-boxes, $2 to $2.25, boxes, $3.50 to $4.75. Lemons, $4 to $5. Bananas, $1 to $2 per bunch. Pineapples, 6 to 15c. Strawberries, Canadian, 4 to 8c. Raspberries, 9 to 15c. Cherries, 75c. to $1 per basket. California fresh fruit—Cherries, $1.25 to $1.50 per box; apricots, $1.50; peaches and plums, $2.50. Baltimore cucumbers, $2.50 to $3 per crate; in barrels, 40 to 50c. per doz. Baltimore cabbages, $1.75 to $2 per crate. Tomatoes, Mississippi, $1.60 to $2 per four basket crate. California dried fruit—Peaches, 16 to 17c. per lb.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Quiet, with prices much as before at $1.20 to $1.25 per bushel.

DRIED AND EVAPORATED APPLES—Are out of the market.

POTATOES—Are weaker, with demand good. Old stock are nominally worth 50c. on track, and for small lots out of stock 75 to 80c. is quoted. New Southern potatoes are quoted at $2.50 to $2.75 per barrel.

EGGS—There is a fair demand. Deliveries are not as free as they were and prices are higher at 10 to 10½c.

HOPS—Market is much as before. We hear of a sale of 10 bales of Canadian 1893 growth at 12c. here. Package hops, 20c. per lb.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: Syrup, wine gallon tins, 65 to 70c.; 5 gallon packages, 60 to 75c.; sugar, 1 lb. cakes, 7½ to 8c.; small cakes, 9½ to 10c.

HONEY—Dull; clover, in sections, 11 to 12c.; buckwheat, 5c.

FISH.

Trade continues quiet owing to the abundance of berries on the market. No change is reported in prices. We quote as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c.; Lake Erie herring, $1.50 to $1.75 per 100; blueback herring 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 5 to 6c. per lb.; salmon trout, 6c.; white fish, 6½ to 7c.; pike, 5c. lb.; perch, $1.50 per 100; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb; steak cod, 5 to 6c; large halibut, 10c.; brook trout, 25c. per lb.

SALT.

There has been a little falling off in sales during the past week, although a fair local trade is still reported. We quote: Dairy, $1.50, special grade; brls., 90c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 70c.; American rock, $10 per ton.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are quiet at unchanged prices. We quote prices paid by dealers 3c. for No. 1's, 2c. for No. 2's, 1c. for No. 3's.

SKINS—Are moving a little, and an advance of 5c. is reported in prices. We quote:

M. Masuret & Co. report a ready sale for Hire's root beer and Tanglefoot sticky fly paper. These are reliable goods, pay the retailer a good profit, and are a ready sale this weather.

T. B. Escott, London: Our sales the past week for proof vinegar and pickling spices have been large, ⅛ lb. packages for 5c. have sold well. Teas are moving well especially Grand Mogul ½s. and 1s, and Ceylo-China blends.

Saturday last Dawson & Co., retail fruiters, Brampton, had the largest business they ever had in any previous summer's day in their long history. In strawberries alone they retailed over 40 cases. Pretty good for a town of 3,500 inhabitants.

The Toronto Salt Works report sales in salt to be slightly on the decrease. They have had, however, an extra demand for Church's Potato Big Finish, having sold a car Friday last, and nearly all of another by the Tuesday following.

Eagle Japan teas are in store with M. Masuret & Co. "We are pushing this well-known brand this month, and we guarantee style and draw. You can recommend these goods to your customers. If you have not handled them, write us for samples and prices," say that firm.

During the last two weeks agencies for the sale of Salada Ceylon tea has been opened in the following towns: Lindsay, Peterboro, Belleville, Windsor, Brighton, Oshawa, Newcastle, Norwood, Lakefield, Port Perry, Millbrook, Bowmanville, Brampton, Georgetown, Milton, Orangeville.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 5, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THE fact of the holiday intervening has to a certain extent interfered with business in groceries during the week, and trade has ruled in somewhat smaller dimensions. Few new features of importance are to note, and there has been, up to the time of writing, no radical change in values. Sugar continues to furnish the main activity of the week, and the tone of values is strong. Teas exhibit no special change, while the same is to note in other lines. In dried fruit supplies are still in very small compass, and the demand for canned goods, with the exception of providing for future supplies, is conspicuous by its absence. In other lines there is not much change to note.

SUGAR.

There is a steady demand for sugar, immediate consumptive requirements, now that the preserving season is on, increasing daily. This leads to a good volume of business in all grades, from granulated to cheap yellows. The tone of the market is steady, and the recent advances in values are well maintained. Granulated in round lots moves at 4 3-16 to 4¼c. nett cash. Stocks of yellows are small, and keep so, refiners being closely sold up on all these grades. Sales are freely made at 3¼ to 3⅜c., as to quality at the factory.

SYRUPS.

Business in syrups has ruled quiet with no feature of special importance to record. Bright goods may be quoted steady at 2 to 2⅛c., and dark at 1¼ to 1½c.

MOLASSES.

In molasses the chief feature has been the receipt of unexpected news from Barbadoes of higher prices, cable quoting 19c. higher at the Islands. It has not had much effect on the spot market, however, which is steady at former prices under a quiet demand at 28c. in round lots; car lots, 29c., and single puncheons, 30c.

TEA.

The tea market has furnished no special features since our last report. Very few lots of new crop Japans have yet come forward, and in consequence large buyers are not in the market yet. The result is a generally quiet market. In a jobbing way business is not brisk either. The tone, however, is steady, and it is questionable if goods could be got on as favorable terms now as orders for supplies were booked for in the early spring.

COFFEES.

The coffee market does not present much activity, but rules steady with a fair demand. Maracaibo is the chief line to furnish any movement on the basis of 18¾ to 20c. in round lots and 21 to 21½c. in smaller quantities, and stocks of all grades on the whole are in moderate compass. We quote:—Java, 24 to 28c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c., and Rio, 18 to 21c.

SPICES.

There is no change in the spice market, with nothing special to record in any line. Pepper is dull and steady, while cloves and cassia are quiet and firmer. We quote: Black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c., and Jamaica ginger, 15 to 18c.

RICE.

The rice market is without any new feature. Demand is of a quiet but steady character, and prices are unchanged as follows: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3.95 to $4 25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

DRIED FRUIT.

Dried fruit continues quiet and unchanged, and it is likely to remain so for some time. There is no stock in first hands, and jobbers' supplies are scant also. Currants are quiet and unchanged with demand of an indifferent character. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine, 5 to 5¼c; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

Featureless and unchanged. We quote: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½c.; filberts, 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

There is no improvement to report in this branch of business, for aside from an occasional order for a lot of salmon for future delivery there is little to note. Business in this connection also is quieter than it has been, as buyers show a disposition to hold back at present. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz; peaches, $2 to $2 10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.

GREEN FRUITS.

There is nothing very special to say about the green fruit market. Oranges are selling well at steady prices, and the clearing up as noted in our last and the hot weather has had a markedly beneficial effect on lemons, which are from 50c. to $1 per box stronger. Pineapples are a light receipt and steady, and bananas meet a fairly ready sale. There are large supplies of strawberries and the market is easy. Cherries are in fair demand. We quote: Oranges, $4 to $4 50; lemons, $3.50 to $4 per box; pineapples, 18 to 30c. each; bananas, $1 to $1.25 per bunch; strawberries, 4½ to 7c. per quart; cherries, California, $1.25 to $1.50 per box, and Canadian $1.25 to $1.50 per basket; California peaches, $1.50 per box; apricots, $1.25 per box; plums, $1.50 to $1.75 per crate.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

There is a good demand for eggs in a small way, and sales are freely made at 10c., with round lots 9 to 9½c. per dozen. Beans are steady and sell at $1.25 to $1.35 per bushel of 60 lbs. There is a fair demand for tomatoes at $2.25 per crate. No Bermuda onions are offering, but Egyptian are selling at $2.50 to $3 per bag.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market is without change. Pork and lard meet a slow demand, while hams and smoked meats generally meet a fair enquiry. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $19; do., light, $17.50 to $18; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The butter market is in a nominal position at present. Speculators have bought up all the June creamery they care to handle at present, and as the regular demand is small the market is very quiet. We quote: Fine creamery, 10 to 20c.; fine townships, 16 to 17c.; fine western, 15 to 16c.

CHEESE.

The cheese situation has not cleared up a particle since our last. Speculators in the country have continued to pay higher prices than it is possible to realize on spot, which makes business difficult. English advices are not encouraging and the market has far from a healthy tone. Finest Western colored, 9 to 9⅛c.; finest Western white, 9 to 9⅛c.; finest Eastern, colored, 8¾ to 9c.; finest Eastern white, 8¾ to 9c.; under grades, 8⅜ to 8½c.

ASHES.

Ashes are quiet and unchanged. We quote first pots, $4.10; seconds, $3.65; pearls, $5.40 to $5.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Two more cargo lots of molasses have been received since our last, consisting of 2,000 puncheons, for John Pinder & Co.

Brokers here have been cabled withdrawals of all offers on Barbadoes molasses except at 11c. at the Islands, an advance of 1c.

Refiners' stocks of the cheaper grades of yellow sugar are more closely sold up than they have been in a long time at the same season of the year.

Laporte, Martin & Co, wholesale grocers, have since their fire taken up new and commodious premises at 72 St. Peter street,

FLOUR AND FEED

THE flour market is quiet, but no change in prices is yet reported, and if indications are to go for anything the tendency will be towards higher prices. The Mark Lane Express, in its last issue to hand, has an elaborate estimate of the grain crop, in which it figures out a decrease of one hundred million bushels, the principal part of which is in Russia, India and the United States. This is but one of many arguments in favor of higher prices, but notwithstanding they still remain the same.

Owing to the hot weather that we have recently experienced, the sales of flour in the grocery business have been very small, as their customers are doing very little baking at home. They report, however, that the increase in the sales of bread, cakes, etc., has not been in proportion.

It is the habit of many grocers to stock up heavily in cheap flour and to carry a large assortment of brands of more or less good quality. Some of the trade seem to be of the opinion that there is but little demand for the best flour from customers, and often, through not keeping the best brands in stock, lose many sales. The better class of grocer cannot afford to be without some high grade flour in stock. Though the demand may not be so large at first, as for the cheaper family flours, it will increase, and the customer being well pleased, will speak of it to others, and the demand for it will grow.

THE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

FLOUR—Trade is very quiet. There has been no change in prices. We quote as follows: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.65 to $3.80; strong bakers', $3.45 to $3.55; winter wheat patents, $3.45 to $3.60; Ontario family, $3.00 to $3.25; straight rollers, $2.90 to $3.05.

MILLFEED—Prices are unchanged. At city mills bran is selling at $15, and shorts at $16.

OATMEAL—Demand is much as before with prices a little higher. Rolled and standard meals are quoted at $4.35 in bags and $4.50 in barrels; granulated, $4.40 in bags; cornmeal, common, $3.10; gold dust, $3.25 to $3.50.

OATS—The feeling is not so strong as it was, and we now quote 39½ to 40c. on track.

CEREAL FOODS—Split peas, $3.75 per barrel; pot barley, $3.75 per barrel; pearl barley, XXX $2.25 per 49 lb box.

MONTREAL.

Flour meets with a fair local demand. Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.70; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight rollers, $3; extra, $2.75 to $2.90; superfine, $2.50 to $2.65; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.50; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.45 to $3.50.

The feed market has a firmer tone, and bran and shorts are $1 to $2 higher. Bran, $15 to $16; shorts, $18; mouillie, $20 to $22.

Oatmeal is unchanged. Standard, brls., $4.25 to $4.30; granulated, brls., $4.25 to $4.30; rolled oats, brls., $4.25 to $4.30; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

The millers who advanced prices much are now regretting lost business, as the market is drifting back to old figures, though still above them. Oatmeal is scarce and prices are advancing. Cornmeal is firm. Oats do not seem as firm as oatmeal, and at time of writing show a decline of about 2c. Oats are firm here. Canadian timothy seed is out of the market and American is marked up. Beans firm. Hay easy. We quote as follows: Manitoba, $4.25 to $4.35; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.65; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; oatmeal, standard, $4.40 to $4.45; roller, $4.65 to $4.75; cornmeal, $2.65 to $2.70; middlings on track, $20.50 to $21.00; bran, $19.50 to $20.50; oats, local, 46 to 48c.; Ontario, 49 to 51c. on track; smalls, 50 to 55c.; beans, h.p., $1.55 to $1.60; prime, $1.45 to $1.50; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; round peas, $3.75; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00; hay on track, $12 to $12.50; rice, 3¼ to 3⅜c.; timothy seed, American, $3.00; red clover, 11½ to 12c.; alsike, 13½ to 15c.

right in the heart of the wholesale district, and opposite the west wing of the Board of Trade building.

According to advices to W. T. Costigan & Co., the tenor of primary markets on Japan teas is steadier, and that orders for supplies could not be filled as cheaply as earlier in the season.

A small shipment of 1,000 boxes of Valencia raisins was no sooner offered by a commission man here than it was distributed to the jobbing trade at full prices in the twinkling of an eye. Two houses took the whole of the lot.

There have been offers of samples of canned Australian butter, brawn and meats on this market recently from a canning firm in Sydney, N.S.W. The Australians are showing more enterprise than our merchants and manufacturers.

Laporte, Martin & Co., of 72 St. Peter street, have just received a fine lot of currants in half boxes, which they offer at very low figures, as per their advertisement.

The St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery received on Thursday last another large cargo of raw sugar on the ss. City of Lincoln, from Matanzas.

Laporte, Martin & Co., wholesale grocers, have sent the police pension fund a donation of $100 in recognition of the able work done by the police in protecting their property at the recent fire in their premises.

Marshall & Co., the famous Scotch fish exporters, have advised their agents, W. R. Wonham & Sons, Montreal, that they are again able to fill orders for herrings in tomato sauce. The demand for Marshall & Co.'s Scotch fish is daily increasing.

ST. JOHN, N.B., MARKETS.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 5, 1894.

TRADE is quiet and has been so during the month. Accounts are being paid fairly promptly, perhaps because they are being more carefully looked after than usual. Changes in the tariff still continue; this time, oddly enough, it is a reduction, the duty on factory filled salt having been removed. In flour values are dropping back to old figures. Oats and oatmeal are higher. Molasses, raisins, and pork, are firmer. In tea it is expected new goods will be extra value. One firm reports a purchase of 2,000 packages. There is a growing feeling in favor of blends. The business in Ceylon tea is also showing an increase. On account of large crops values are good at right prices for business. In lumber the market continues unfavorable. The large bulk of shipments are to British markets.

SPICES—Nutmegs are reported firm with prospects of higher figures. In consequence there is expected to be a shortage to at least some extent in the mace product. Pepper, though low, shows firmness in price. Prices are: Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; bicarb. soda, $2 30 to $2.38; sal. soda, 1 to 1½c.

SALT—The removing of the duty from factory filled salt has caused a drop of 15c. in the price, it selling from vessel side as low as 85c. Stocks though equal to demand are not large when looked at from the standpoint of former years. Coarse, 48 to 50c.; factory filled, $1 to $1.10; Canadian 5 lb. bags, $3.25 per brl.; 10 lb. bags, $3.10 per brl.; 20 lb. boxes, 20c.; 10 lb. boxes, 12c.

TOBACCO—This week we quote prices of Tuckett brands which are meeting with good demand. Smoking tobacco, T. & B. Myrtle, 59c.; Lily, 46c.; T. & B. Myrtle cut, 1-9s. 70c.; chewing, T. & B, long black, 12s. 48c.; long Mahogany, 12s. 48c.; Mahogany, 7s. 48c. McDonald's brands, Crown, 43c.; Pilot, 45c.; Index, 43c.; Napoleon, 49c. McAlpin's Beaver, 62c.; Tecumseh, 65c.; Jubilee, 59c.; Gold Shield, 49c.; Woodcock, 53c.; Army and Navy, 45c.

OIL—Market tends to lower values; prices of cod, seal and castor oils are marked down. Burning oil, best American, 18¼c.; best Canadian, 17¼c.; second, 13⅛c., 60 days, no charge for barrel. Linseed, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. Turpentine, 45 to 47c. Seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; pale, 38 to 43c. Cod oil, 28 to 30c. Olive oil, 95c. to $1.05. Castor oil, 6½ to 7c. Extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

CANNED GOODS—Values are firm; prices show no change from last week. We quote: Corn, 90c.; peas, 90c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.40 to $2.50; salmon, $1.30 to $1.35; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; oysters, 1's, $1.50; 2's, $2.20; corned beef, 1 lb. tins, $1.75; 2 lb. tins, $2.65; American peaches, 2's, $1.65; 3's, $2.65; Canadian peaches, 2's, $1.90; 3's, $2.90.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—Evaporated apples are out of the market and dried are very scarce. Dates are firm. California loose mucatels, for which, owing to there being no Valencia layers to get, there is an increased demand, are firmer and prices will go higher. Nuts continue low. Dried apples, 7 to 7½c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; prunes, 5½ to 6c.; currants, barrels, 3½ to 4c.; cases, 4 to 5c.; raisins; Sultana, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5½ to 5¾c.; layers, 6½ to 7c.; London layers, $2.10 to $2.20; loose muscatels, 6½ to 6¾c.; Egyptian onions, 2¾ to 3c.; French walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 15c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazil, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c.; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 11c.

GREEN FRUIT—Both wild and cultivated strawberries continue to come forward in increasing quantities, and are now both cheap and good. Cherries will soon arrive; large quantities are expected. Oranges continue to go higher. Tomatoes and cucumbers are quoted lower. California peaches, plums, and cherries, are quoted. Lemons, $3.50 to $4; case oranges, 420s, $9 to $10; Messinas, $5; pineapples, $1.50 to $2; bananas, $2 to $2.50; tomatoes, per crate, $3 25; cucumbers, per dozen; 65c.; Watermelons, 65 to 70c.; California apricots, peaches and plums, per crate, $2 50; cherries, $1.75 to $2.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Butter continues very slow, with more arrivals than demand will take. Eggs are also slow, and poor eggs coming forward hurts the trade. Cheese continues in good demand and firmer. Firm creamery butter does not sell at price asked. Creamery rolls, 20 to 22c.; tubs, 19 to 20c.; dairy, 15 to 16c.; eggs, 8½ to 9c.; cheese, 10 to 10½c.

MOLASSES—Owing to a further advance of 1c. at Barbadoes this molasses is very firm here. Demand is good. New Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; old, 26 to 27c.; fancy Porto Rico, 43½ to 44c.; choice, 33 to 35c; seconds, 28 to 29c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27 to 28c.

SUGAR—There is no change in quotation. Granulated, $4.30 to $4.40; yellows, 3½ to 4c.; Barbadoes, 3¾ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6 to 6¼c.

FISH—Dry fish are quoted lower owing to increased arrivals and small demand. A very large business is being done in fresh salmon. Lobster season is closed; catch has been poor and prices low. Outside of salmon there are no fresh fish to speak of, which is unusual for this time of year. Large codfish $3.50 to $3.75; medium, $3.25 to $3.50; pollock, $1.75 to $1.85; salmon, 9 to 10c. per lb.; lobsters, $5.50 to $6; bay herring, $1.40 to $1.50; smoked herring, medium, 11 to 12c.; lengthwise, 10 to 11c.

PROVISIONS—Plate beef is lower. Pork firm with higher prices looked for. The change in duty has caused an increase in importation of short cut. Clear mess pork, $18.50 to $19; P.E.I. mess, $16.75 to $17; prime, $14 to $14.50; plate beef, $13 to $13.50; extra plate, $13.75 to $14; pure lard, 10 to 11c.; compound, 8½ to 10c.

TRAIN THE MEMORY.

A MEMORANDUM is a good thing for many purposes, but we should learn not to depend upon it for things which we ought to "have at our fingers' end," for knowledge that ought to be part of our very selves, says a contemporary. The Earl of Chatham, in those famous letters to his nephew, advises him not to depend much on his memorandum book. "Your memory," he says, is a good friend, who if you do not trust him will soon cease to serve you."

A junior partner in a house was one day seated before a table with samples, a microscope and a new memorandum book, determined to learn and note down everything that was to be learned about cloth. The old partner came along and advised him to put up his glass as he might possibly need it some day, though not likely; then burn the memorandum and go among the goods; look at them, feel of them, learn to know them thoroughly, ask questions, remember what he heard, and before he knew it he would be able to tell the value of a piece of goods in the dark. "You can't learn this business by rule, young man," he said, "you've got to absorb it."

You know that with dexterity a trained hand can turn off its accustomed work. Just so a trained memory can imbibe ideas, can ticket and lay them away on the shelf in excellent order, ready to be brought out whenever called for. As one has said, "People talk about being blessed with a good memory, but anyone of ordinary mental capacity may bless himself with that useful article if he will but try."

A frequent review of knowledge is quite a help to retain it, especially in the start. Rapidly run over at night the points you have gained through the day. Study over those you have noted down, and transfer them to the mental ledger, so you may never have to recur to the same on the place-book again.

A "sponge" is not thought to represent just the kind of character to be cultivated, but if we would all learn to absorb knowledge sponge fashion, we should be great gainers. Be just as much of the sponge as you can in taking up information about your business, from every available source.

AN OPINION RE BUTTER.

"I think there are some people who are going to be left on butter," said a commission man Tuesday. "I know where to go out and get two carloads in a day's drive, and every pound of it in country stores, some country storekeepers having as much as one hundred to one hundred and fifty tubs in store. The market is almost purely speculative. The Montreal people are paying pretty full prices, but they are going to get filled up shortly as they have before. We had intended buying a few carloads, but we shall not do so now. We prefer to wait for the fall, when prices cannot be higher than they are now, while we will be able to save the interest on our money."

HE'S WEDDED TO POVERTY.

An up town grocer says he "can't afford to subscribe," and complains that there is nothing in trade papers nowadays.

That's so; nothing but the news of grocery associations, announcements of new business establishments, failures and business changes, accurate and sensible statements of the news of the trade, authentic market quotations of butter, eggs, provisions, fruit and produce; a reliable list of the ever-changing prices of staple groceries, every available item of reliable news concerning the growing crops and the probable condition of the future markets; editorial comment, interesting reading, humorous paragraphs, and advertising columns filled with tempting bargains by the leading merchants in the trade, which alone are worth many dollars each week to the grocer who reads them carefully. Come to think of it, a grocery paper is an expensive luxury and the law should compel publishers to put three cents' worth of news in each issue. Perhaps the up-town man can't really afford to subscribe because he is paying a big bonus for someone else's judgment to run his business, but he's wedded to poverty all the same.—Cash Grocer, Philadelphia.

THE TRAVELER CONVINCED HER.

THE other day an omnibus, full of passengers, drove up to its suburban terminus, says a contemporary. Side by side sat a commercial traveler and a lady temperance lecturer. The commercial traveler seized his bag and made a move to get out. The lady made a snatch after him and he halted.

"I beg your pardon," she said, "but you have my bag."

"You are certainly mistaken, madam," the traveler said, courteously but firmly, "This bag is mine."

"No, sir," the lady replied firmly, "it is mine. I should know it among a thousand. You must not take it."

But the traveler persisted and the lady insisted, and they came very near quarreling.

Presently one of the passengers pointed to a twin bag in the omnibus, and said:

"Whose is that?"

"It isn't mine," said the traveler. "It is just like mine, but this is mine."

"And it isn't mine," said the lady. "He has mine, and I want it, and I'll have it. It's a pity if a lady can't travel alone in this country without being robbed of her property in broad daylight."

Finally the traveler said he would open the bag to prove his property.

The lady objected at first, saying she did not want her bag opened in the presence of a crowd of strangers.

But as there were no other means of settling the dispute, she at length consented.

The traveler took out a key, opened the bag, and the curious crowd bent forward to see.

On the top of everything lay a big, flat flask, half full of whisky, a pack of cards, meerchaum pipe, a quarter of a pound of tobacco, and a snuff box.

The traveler was the first to recover his self-possession and speech.

"Madam," said he, "You are right. The bag is yours. I owe you a thousand apolo—"

But the lady had fainted and the traveler relocked his bag with a quiet smile.

Early in the afternoon a sign painter received a note in a feminine hand, asking him to come to a certain house to mark a black bag in white letters a foot and a half long.

PERSONAL MENTION.

A. M. Smith, of Smith & Keighley, is still improving.

E. McCoy, with Lucas, Steele & Bristol, Hamilton, has been laid up again, THE GROCER is sorry to hear. Mr. Steele and John Stuart have being calling on some of his customers for him. He expects to be on the road next week.

E. B. Eddy, the well known manufacturer and head of the E. B. Eddy Manufacturing Company, of Hull, Quebec, was married at Halifax, on Wednesday, the 27th ult., by Rev. William Fraser, to Miss Jennie Shireff, daughter of John Shireff, high sheriff of Northumberland Co., N. B.

A MEEK MAN.

A demure-looking little man approached the haughty clerk in a grocer's shop, and meekly asked if he had any coffee to sell.

"We have ground coffee," said the young man.

"No other kind?"

"None. This is the best ground coffee on the market."

"But I don't want it," the little man braced up. "I got some sugar here the other day with sand in it, and I don't want coffee with ground in it. You must think I want the earth."—Harlem Life.

The second annual promenade concert of the City Travelers' Association, Toronto, to be held on Monday week, 16th inst., on the steamer Chippewa, promises to be a success-ful affair. That is at least if the preparations that are being made are any criterion. In the ladies' cabin there will be a vocal and instrumental concert under the direction of R. M. Corrie. On the promenade deck there will be dancing to the music of Glionna's orchestra, while card rooms will be placed at the disposal of those who have a preference for cards, checkers, etc.

LIME FRUIT JUICE.

THE island of Montserrat, says an exchange, is considered the most healthy of the Antilles; it is eight miles in length by a breadth of five miles; the temperature is uniform, with an average of 70 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit, and is almost entirely cultivated by the Montserrat Company for the production of limes and arrowroot.

In 1632 it was colonized by English settlers, each working his own farm. Like the adjacent islands, it was long a bone of contention between the English and the French, and even now some of the massive guns used in the contests may be found on the tops of the steepest ranges, partially concealed by the thick tropical vegetation.

The French took the island in 1664, restored it to England in 1668, retook it in 1782, and finally gave it up in 1784.

Lime fruit juice has become a standard article in the stock of every first class store. It is all important that it should be of high grade. It is a delightful, healthful and economical beverage, and is regarded highly beneficial in all cases of gout, rheumatism, dyspepsia, or any form of blood impurity. It is desirable to use with ærated waters. The "Montserrat" is made from limes, specially cultivated on the plantations of the Montserrat Company, and gathered just at the time when the fruit is best adapted for pressing. In order to obtain fruit juice which will improve with age, the perfectly ripened limes are only partially pressed. The pulpy matter and fallings from the trees are pressed separately and used in the manufacture of citric acid.

Much of the lime juice imported from the West Indies is pressed from limes in all conditions, and very soon decomposes. This accounts for the trash found in the market at the present day.

KEEP KICKING.

Once upon a time, says a contemporary, two frogs who had been living in comfort and ease in a cool pool of clear water were accidently scooped up by a pious milkman in a bucket of water which he poured into his can in order to give his milk more body, and thereby increase his revenue. The frogs were astonished to find themselves in an unknown element in which it was not possible to support life, and they had to kick vigorously in order to keep their heads above the milk. One of them, disheartened by being shut up in the dark in an element new to him, said: "Let's give it up and go to the bottom; it's no use kicking any longer." The other said: "Oh, no; let's keep kicking as long as we can, and see what the outcome will be. Maybe things will change presently." So one frog gave up and went to the bottom. The other kept kicking, and when the pious milkman got to town and opened his can, behold! the frog had kicked out a lump of butter large enough to float him, and he was sitting on it very comfortably.

Moral—In hard times never give up, but keep kicking.

Joseph Morris, manager for Mahaffy & Clinkskill, Leithbridge, N.W.T., is visiting points in Ontario and Quebec, on his marriage trip. He is an old Ontario boy, coming originally from Blenheim, and has, like most other Ontario boys, made a success in his new field. MECHANICS FOR MERCHANTS.

IN the ordinary acceptation of the term the "commercial" or business college means a bookkeeping college, and in a large part of the institutions having this name throughout the country the sole aim is to impart a knowledge of bookkeeping in all its applications and to give to the young man such instruction in the bookkeeping branches as will enable him to successfully enter upon a business career. The idea of adding anything to the courses as laid down in the better schools of this class seems to be an unheard of proposition. Additions have been few and far between in the last thirty years. They have mainly consisted of new systems applicable to new branches of business.

In answer to the question what could be with the greatest advantage added to the course of such a college to better fit the young man for success in a business career, we answer unhesitatingly a course in elementary mechanics. To most business educators this will seem an irrational idea, and probably a very large proportion of the young men who are studying bookkeeping would think that mechanics was the last thing in the world which they needed to help them in a business way. Let us see. The greatest number of mistakes made by business men seem to be in mechanical lines. They conduct a store and a counting house very fairly, and when they undertake the factory they are very likely to produce blunders which are phenomenal. Even in the handling of goods in stores there is a universal want of mechanical knowledge manifested by the heads of departments which shows that more blunders, as we have said, are made in this department than in almost any other. The worst errors made by the business men are in the mechanical line, and of these we only have to mention the Keely motor as an example. Here was stock in an entirely impracticable affair with a nominal value of $50, which was sold for over $2,500. A little mechanical knowledge would have kept the legitimate business element out of such a scheme, but in these days of mechanical achievements, mechanical credulity has been cultivated to such an extent that one only has to put a thing plausibly to find the ordinary business man a ready dupe. Inventions to supersede the crank, to propel ships by jets of water, to utilize a thousand and one "forces of nature" which do not exist, find ready and constant votaries in the business circles of our country, while schemes of the greatest usefulness languish and die and opportunities for immense fortunes are lost, simply because men with money, and business tact and brains, have not sufficient mechanical comprehension of the importance of mechanics to undertake them, or when undertaken do not have the technical knowledge to foresee and overcome trivial difficulties, meeting which they are discouraged and abandon the undertaking in disgust, still ready, however, to invest in the first bogus enterprise that appears.

The student will ask what use will mechanics be to him. Is it merely for the purpose, as it were, of keeping him out of mischief? By no means. There is another side to this question. The greatest fields for business success are to be found in the mechanical lines. The fortunes of the present day, as well as of the future, are to be found in the development of the resources of nature, and not in pure and simple commercial lines. The man of business who combines with his business ability a very small amount of mechanical knowledge is almost as certain to die rich as he is to live and do business. It is only necessary to name in this connection one or two of the men who are wealthy in this world, and become so by their own exertions. Henry Bessemer, Andrew Carnegie, Sir William Armstrong, Herr Krupp, and others are looked upon as great inventors. Practically they had to commence with a very small but practical knowledge of mechanics, and this they put to use to the very best possible advantage. They were able also to understand the inventions of others, and to take them to the right market. Sir Joseph Whitworth might be cited in the same way. The business men who are rich because of a moderate mechanical knowledge are to be numbered by the tens of thousands.

Two great lines—the mechanical and electrical—are open at the present time. In general it is supposed that these can only be entered by inventors. This is a mistake; inventions can be had for a song. The developing of them calls for men of business talent who have some knowledge of fundamental principles. In the immediate future in the electric line, for example, dynamos and motors must be manufactured in untold numbers. Now they are largely built, and between manufacturing and building there is a wide difference in profit.

Lastly, the question comes up, what would we do for a boy or young man to whom we propose to add mechanics as a branch of his education? First, we would teach him the principles, the reasons and the facts of mechanics in a general way. We would give him the foundation of the science of physics, with sufficient practical experimentation to enable him to really comprehend it. We would also give him an idea of the immutable laws of the universe and then some idea of their scope and application. We would put them before him in such a way that he would not fall a prey to the first inviting fraud who devised a new jargon and juggled with experimental mechanics.—William Eugene, in Business.

How to Handle and Care for MacLaren's Imperial Cheese.

What to Do

Keep cool.
Keep dry.
Keep packed in sawdust.
Keep in ordinary cellar.
Buy in small quantities.
Buy often.
Advise the consumer to keep in refrigerator.

What Not to Do

Don't pile up in window. Don't keep your stock in refrigerator. Don't pile on shelves or counter. Don't wait six months to find fault. Don't buy too much at a time, then goods will always be fresh. Don't say some other cheese is good enough.

We want to please the trade, and will pack almost any quantity desired in a case.

CREDITS.

CREDITS is a subject much written and much talked about, and yet it is always a live subject. At a recent meeting of the Southern Hardware Jobbers' Association that was the subject of one of the papers. It was prepared and read by W. L. Magill, and was so well handled that THE GROCER produces it for the benefit of its readers :

Goods may be bought well and sold at profitable prices, but if at the end of our business year our books are filled with worthless accounts, we will reap a harvest of barren regrets. While it troubles us at stock taking time to find in our stocks lines of goods that have declined in price, how much more painful to have to transfer to our suspense ledger a large list of accounts that are considered doubtful or worthless. To overcome this trouble is of the greatest importance to all of us.

In the first place, you no doubt have observed that the best salesmen on the road are most frequently the poorest judges of credits. The popular salesman is usually of a happy, genial disposition and looks only on the good side of life and sees his customer only in the most favorable light. With this happy turn of mind he makes many friends and customers and after he has taken the order he uses the same happy faculty to present his customer to his house under the most favorable conditions. One of the first things that a traveling man should be taught is that he is in a measure an assistant to the credit man, and he should be trained to look for unfavorable financial points in his customer as well as his good ones and avoid as far as possible sending in orders that are liable to be " turned down," for the influence brought about by refusing a man credit, no matter how hazardous the risk may appear at time, is far more lasting than we might suppose. It is therefore important to a house that they make as few enemies as possible in this manner.

A man may be a good business man, honest, straightforward man, etc., but may have associated with him a partner who, by intemperate, dissolute habits and outside speculation, has drawn his firm into financial straits. You stand on the safe side and decline the order, but he may later on extricate himself and get on a good, sound footing ; but it will be a long time before he forgets the humiliation of having been flatly refused credit. In this connection we have found it profitable to have our men take the names of possibly doubtful trade, which we look up with special reports and inquiries before we solicit their business. We allow our traveling men full access to our files containing our special reports on the trade and encourage them in studying this information.

A credit man should neither be too lax nor too rigid, but should give each credit a thorough, careful, impartial investigation, looking closely to the customer's character, capacity, capital, habits, location, mode of doing business, insurance carried, etc. We do not attach as much importance to the local reports obtained in a customer's own town, except as to his habits and general standing in the community, as we do to the trade and agency reports. In a man's own home his next door neighbors do not know much of his actual financial condition ; they do not know how much he owes in the market, or how much is due or past due ; how much is due him from his customers, etc. In a general way commercial agency reports help us a great deal and are valuable, but we have found that trade reports, obtained from jobbing towns from jobbers in the different lines who are having actual business transactions with a customer, show more clearly than anything else the customer's record as a desirable credit risk. We use two blanks for obtaining information of this sort—one we use in sending out of the city and the other we send around in our town, and this blank, if carefully and conscientiously filled out by our neighboring jobbers in other lines in our own town, will reveal promptly whether a customer is a man that we want on our books or not. It is also our custom to keep our traveling men advised each month of the condition of every account in their own territory.

Our traveling men are also informed that where ratings are very low no lapping of bills will be allowed. This makes them more careful to collect accounts that are due, as they do not relish the idea of having us write to their customers that we cannot ship the goods until their account that is now due is paid. The great idea of the jobbers should be to educate the retail buyer to pay promptly, and then the retailer, in turn, will be more exacting with his patrons.

It is the province of the jobber to do what he can to make the retailer a prompt payer and a systematic, successful business man, thereby insuring to the jobber a lasting customer ; and if the retailer is trained in this direction he in turn will educate his trade to do the same way, thereby increasing the general prosperity of the country.

HOW TO SMILE.

Meet your customers with a smile on your face, and if it is not a self-evidently manufactured one, it will bring you good returns before night, remarks a contemporary. Most certainly, if it is one simply gotten up for business purposes and does not come from an inherent or cultivated kindness of heart, your customer will detect the fraud and think less of you for covering your face with the symbol of kindness, which is after all only the formation of the dollar mark upon your lips. No, we don't mean that kind of a smile, but one that comes out and is the product of a thankful heart and manifests itself in the beaming eye and sympathetic tone. This kind of a smile—the true and not the counterfeit—will bring you friends, and friends mean customers, customers mean a good profitable return for your labors, and all the blessings which, honestly earned, money can bring with it.

POOR LOBSTER CATCHING.

The Liverpool, Nova Scotia, Times says: "Very discouraging reports come from our boat fishermen all along the shore, as well as from the lobster canneries. The great fall off in the catch of lobsters last week was thought to be owing to the heavy sea which prevailed, but with a smoother sea this week the catch has continued to decrease, and some of the fishermen have taken up their traps for the season. The spurt of good luck the cod fishers had last week did not last, and for some days the best fished boats have been coming in with less than half a fare."

SOAP PAPER.

There has recently been brought out in France, says a contemporary, a sort of fancy soap, for the use of those who are obliged to do considerable traveling. It is a question of small pieces of paper, slightly larger than visiting cards, covered on each side with a thin layer of ordinary soap variously colored and perfumed. These soap papers are put into memorandum books, card cases, and pocket books, just as if they were business or visiting cards. Each sheet serves as soap for one time only, and it is used like an ordinary cake of soap. In fact, it is an easily carried soap that may be offered to a traveling companion, for every sheet is intact, it having to be used but once. The manufacture of this soap paper is very simple. It consists in immersing sheets of unsized paper in a bath of cocoanut oil soap, prepared in the same way as for the manufacture of toilet soaps. The strips of paper are dried, and then passed between rollers, in order to render them smooth and give them a handsame appearance. The strips are then cut to the proper dimensions, and stamped with such marks as may be desired. Instead of paper, there may be used squares of parchment paper, or, better still, of tracing cloth. This industry is still new, and we do not yet know what development is in store for it.

"PLANKED" THE BUTTER.

One day last week a farmer came to town and sold some tubs of butter to T. N. Brown & Co. The firm usually dispose of their butter in the firkin, but this time they needed some for retailing, and accordingly used one of the tubs. On reaching the bottom they found a piece of plank that weighed six pounds neatly packed in along with three pounds of nice clean salt. The person who sold the butter is known, and if he does not make the little matter straight, he will hear further about it.—Collingwood Bulletin.

THE ADVANCE IN RICE.

FOLLOWING recent cable reports of advancing rice markets in Europe, Richard Gough & Co., of this city, says N.Y. Journal of Commerce, have received mail advices from one of the chief authorities in Europe on East India rice, who writes in substance as follows: "The continued fall in the values of rice in the past three years has seriously affected most of the European millers, and in some instances brought about a liquidation which resulted in a further decline, culminating a short time since after a considerable amount of sacrifice. From that point, however, in view of the healthy statistical position, prices have begun to rebound. We give you inclosed a statement of the shipment and imports of rice. It speaks for itself and does not require explanation. It is a position unheard of in the rice trade, and people are now all at once awakening to the situation. Prices have gone up 6d. per cwt. this week for cargoes afloat, with further rising tendency; and, as there are very few cargoes for sale afloat, the millers will probably have to pay dear for them. Prices for cleaned have also been marked up 6d. to 9d. per cwt. in the past few days, and sellers are very chary of making firm offers even at the advance, and then only for limited quantities. Compared with former years, prices are very low, and this in the face of the fact that shipments from the East will probably be smaller than we have seen in twenty years.

"The following is a synopsis of shipments, etc., above alluded to and from all ports, viz., Burmah, Calcutta, Siam, Saigon and Japan to the north of Europe up to date of June 14:

Arrivals in—	1894. Tons.	1893. Tons.	1892. Tons.
England	84,000	125,000	145,000

Afloat from all ports for Europe	90,000	156,000	136,000
Total	322,000	564,000	588,000

"Showing about 242,000 tons less visible supply against 1893, and 266,000 tons less visible supply against 1892.

Imports into—	1894. Tons.	1893. Tons.	1892. Tons.

THE THURBER-WHYLAND ESTATE.

The American Grocery Co., successors to the Thurber-Whyland Co., have chosen the following Board of Directors: T. L. Marsalis, F. W. Hopkins, E. F. Cuming, W. B. Nash, F. B. Thurber, David Hunt, Thos. E. Barr and Chas. E. Meade. Officers were elected as follows: President, T. L. Marsalis; Vice-President, F. W. Hopkins; Treasurer, E. F. Cuming; Secretary, W. B. Nash. The president is an energetic business man of the most pronounced type, and intends to devote his entire energies to building up the business of the company. The vice-president is a member of the Hopkins Bros., brokers. The treasurer is a son of a Philadelphia banker, and the secretary is a son of President Nash, of the Corn Exchange Bank. The combination is doubtless a strong one. Under the direction of President Marsalis numerous changes are being made in the arrangements of the counting room, salesroom and the shipping department, in which convenience, economy and artistic display will be combined. The plans indicate a complete change in these respects, and evidence is not wanting that the arrangement and management will be modern in all that the term implies.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce

U. S. SUGAR TARIFF.

The tariff on sugar was fixed by the U. S. Senate on Monday. It fixes a duty of 40 per cent. ad valorem on all sugars, with additions of one-eighth of a cent a pound on sugars above No. 16 Dutch standard, and of one-tenth cent a pound on sugars imported from countries that pay an export duty; and it goes into effect on the passage of the bill. The sugar bounty was repealed, and also goes into effect with the passage of the act.

THE extraordinary rapidity of the increase in the consumption of Indian and Ceylon tea has been one of the features of the tea trade during the past ten to twelve years. Many evidences of this have been exemplified of late, but one of the most striking is that adduced by a statement, illustrated by diagrams, issued by a London tea firm, Gow, Wilson & Stanton, by name. This statement demonstrates that not only had the teas of these countries the competition of China tea to contend with, but a steady fall in value besides. The fall was greatest in Indian tea during the thirteen years ending with 1893. In 1881 the average price of Indian tea was 1s. 5d., and of Ceylon, 11¼d., but in 1893 the average had fallen to 9¼d. to 9d. respectively.

In spite of discouragements, in the shape of low prices, to growers, the consumption of Indian tea in Great Britain swelled from 48,000,000 pounds in 1881 to 108,000,000 pounds in 1893, or over 55 per cent. In 1881 the consumption of Ceylon tea in Great Britain was limited. In 1883 it was one million pounds, but in 1893 it had jumped to 64 000,000 pounds, an increase of over 98 per cent. The consumption of China tea, on the other hand, fell from 114,000,000 pounds in 1882 to 36,000,000 pounds in 1893, while the aggregate consumption of all classes of tea had grown from 160,000,000 pounds in 1881 to 208,000,000 pounds in 1893. The question now arises in the mind of the Indian and Ceylon tea people, where is there room for largely increased tea production? The cost of displacing China tea on the British market is felt to be expensive, and the conclusion is arrived at that "if India and Ceylon are to extensively increase the output of their teas, year by year, Great Britain cannot take their whole crops. With this end in view increased attention has turned to the United States market, which at present takes but little Indian and Ceylon tea. And there is plenty of room yet for increasing the consumption of these teas outside Great Britain, although a good deal has been done in this direction. In 1880-84 the consumption in 25 different countries was only 53,000,000 pounds of Indian and Ceylon tea to 306,000,000 pounds of China tea, while in 1892 the proportion was 193 and 250 respectively. The quantity of British grown tea used outside Great Britain was 14,000,000 pounds in 1890 and 20,000,000 pounds in 1892. In Canada, the consumption of Indian and Ceylon teas has increased rapidly during the last few years, and the probability is that it will for some time to come. But whether this will be maintained remains to be seen. The public taste, like the public favor, is fickle.

Advertising can be made to pay or not to pay just as the advertiser chooses. If a merchant or manufacturer has an article which is worth advertising and no results are obtained from his announcement it is his own fault nine chances to one. The man who has an article to sell and who wishes to announce the fact to the public, should select as his medium some good trade or daily or weekly newspaper. To-day no advertiser need make a mistake if he be wide awake. There are too many mediums of from fair to good quality to be had. But the trouble is that advertisers are too fond of going out after new and strange things and devices. In a word fakes, which, if they would only stop and think twice before committing themselves, their better judgment would tell them were wild will o' the wisps. Program, guide book, pamphlet advertising, is of this character.

At the moment Canada is the happy hunting ground of a number of projectors of advertising fakes of the program and guide book type. They confine their scheme to no one class of business men. Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, one and all, may come in and reap the advantages (?) they offer. This very fact alone is sufficient to condemn the scheme. One of the first things an advertiser wants to learn is where he can find the best medium for reaching the constituency to which he caters: If it is the masses, the daily or weekly paper is the best; if it is the manufacturer or the jobber, the trade journal is to be recommended. It is obvious that where the circulation of the medium is indiscriminate much energy is lost. In other words it is as if a cannon ball was divided into a number of small pieces, which, when fired, would fail to demolish the object it was aimed at, which the ball, left in its original shape, would have accomplished. In order to successful advertising the effort must be concentrated and the medium trusty. Trustworthiness is the last thing that can be claimed for the average projectors of guide books and pamphlet advertising. If they promise to issue 5 000 copies, 500 may be taken as nearer the mark, while five dozen will be more probable. This is no secret. Nearly everybody who has had anything to do with these advertising fakirs knows this. The hint, to the wise, is obvious: Give a wide berth to those things whose intent and purpose you know not of—advertising fakirs especially.

TRADE SITUATION IN CANADA.

THE trade situation in Canada is not of a character that should cause mistrust.

Business is not brisk. Neither is it stagnant. Nor will an unprejudiced search gather much material for a hot bed whereon to propagate pessimism.

The more the trade horizon is scanned and the conditions analyzed, the more reason will there be found for taking a bright view of the situation and the less reason will there be for taking a gloomy.

It is not well to judge the condition of the business of the country from the condition of our own environment.

We need to climb the fence and look around at our neighbors before we can begin to qualify for expressing an opinion on a matter so broad.

There are some business men with whom trade is always bad, with whom collections are always slow. And so it will be with them to the end of the chapter. There is no business adaptibility in them. And they are not sufficiently keen of perception to see that the hard times they experience is of their own making.

Anyone that gets outside himself cannot fail to find much of an assuring character in the trade situation in Canada at the moment.

For some years, the past five years particularly, there has been a preconcerted attempt on the part of mercantile men to do business on more business-like lines.

And this peculiarity was never so marked, never so general as it is now.

Manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, all are scrutinizing their accounts more closely; all are curtailing their credits. And while there is still much room for improvement, yet much has been done. Rome was not built in a day.

Buying, too, is now being done more carefully. In fact, shorter credits and conservative buying are reforms that necessarily go hand-in-hand. Merchants do not now buy with the same speculative—or, rather, gambling—spirit that they did five or ten years ago. They buy because they want the goods. And this is the wiser course for everybody to pursue, be the times good or be the times bad.

So far the conditions noted are those within the trade. Those outside are on the whole of a promising character, too.

Ever since the seven fat and the seven lean years we read of in Holy Writ, much of any nation's prosperity depends upon the nature of the crops. In a country like Canada, where agriculture is the leading industry, it is of the utmost importance. Basing on this premise, the outlook for the next twelve months is excellent.

A land flowing with milk and honey, may Canada, like Canaan of old, at the moment be styled.

Never before probably were reports regarding the crops more uniformly assuring. From the Atlantic to the Pacific a rich and bountiful harvest is heralded. Fields are rich with golden grain, and the apple, the peach and the plum trees are loaded with fruit: and the cultivated and the wild small fruits are contributing their quota towards a bountiful harvest.

Turning to the dairying interests one is greeted by another bright view. As a maker of cheese Canada has a name that stands above all other names. She has for some years been qualifying for it. At the World's Fair she was formally crowned as such. Great as have been her achievements in the consuming cheese markets of the world, her prospects were never better than they are at the moment. While with regard to butter Canada does not occupy as enviable a position as desirable, yet her position is improving in this respect. The creamery system is growing, and as the creameries multiply the condition of the farmer, and consequently the condition of the country storekeeper, improves. This is beyond peradventure.

The world has not yet reached the ideal stage. Until it has, Canada, or any other country, will have a dark side as well as a bright side to its shield. Sometimes it may be the dark side that is the most prominent; at others, the bright.

In Canada at the moment the bright side of the trade situation shines out strong and powerful, almost hiding the conditions that are dark.

While the financial crisis which swept over the civilized world last year scarcely touched the shores of Canada, yet they did touch; and although it caused no panic, it exercised some influence: Capitalists became more cautious; some of them over so. But this influence was only slight and short-lived. Next the coal strikes in the United States caused a number of factories in Western Canada to close down for want of fuel, and the railways to curtail passenger and freight service. And now the wheels of commerce in this country are not moving as rapidly as they otherwise would because of the railroad strike that is causing our neighbors so much trouble.

That part of the Dominion where the situation is probably not so satisfactory as in others, is Manitoba, the Northwest Territories, and British Columbia.

Last season Manitoba and the Territories had one of the best crops they ever had as far as quality was concerned. But the unusually low prices obtained more than counteracted the results that might have been expected to accrue from the exceptional quality of the crop. Being almost wholly a wheat-raising country the effect of low prices was more keenly felt than it was in the older provinces of the Dominion. As the farmers in those portions of the Dominion are now actively branching out into mixed farming, a short wheat crop, or low prices for wheat, are bound to have less and less influence as this tendency becomes more general.

Then the credit system has obtained in its most vicious type in Manitoba, in the Territories, and in British Columbia, and for some time they have been reaping the whirlwind. But like all young countries they have to learn by experience, and pay a high price for it, too. A general improvement is now, however, apparent all along the line. The crop conditions are promising, and confidence is gradually, but surely, rising in the scale.

The people in Manitoba and the Northwest have unbounded faith in the future of their country and the greatness of its possibilities. In no other part of the Dominion is it probably so pronounced. And as they are made of the stuff that laughs at difficulties and cries "It shall be done," a brighter trade era may be expected soon to dawn in Manitoba and the Northwest.

In British Columbia a revival in the lumbering industries, in which that province is so rich, is setting in, and in spite of the injury wrought by the floods out there, a fairly active trade and a gradual recovery of normal conditions is assured.

There are some things that reflect more strongly than others the trade conditions of a country. One of them is the banks. The Canadian banks have lately been holding their annual meetings, and while the reports show a general falling off in business, yet the reports are equally plain in showing that the chartered banks in the Dominion of Canada are in a most healthy condition Last year in the United States over 600 banks failed, while in Canada there was but one chartered bank that went to the wall, and its collapse was directly traceable to reckless mismanagement. In Canada, too, the clearing house returns declined but 11 per cent. last year to the United States' 26 per cent.

To he who will stop and think this must be plain : The financial condition of the Dominion is healthy, the outlook promising, and, consequently, reassuring, and that the trade of the country is entering upon a newer and better era.

GREEN FRUIT AND THE STRIKE.

THE action of Mr. Debs in the recent labor disturbances in Chicago and the West has seriously affected one branch of trade in Montreal. This is the trade in fresh California fruit, which, during the past two summers, has assumed large dimensions and led to a great deal cheaper fruit for the great bulk of the population in that city.

In June, last year, the idea of running a couple of car loads daily of this fresh California fruit was first inaugurated, and it proved such a success that the original ideas of the promoters were extended until as many as five and six cars daily were auctioned off in the flush of the fruit season.

This summer these daily auction sales of fruit have become a regular feature of the green fruit trade, and from one to two car loads per day were auctioned off, aggregating from $8,000 to $9,000 worth.

The interruption to railway communication west of Chicago has stopped this for the time being, however, and since the 3rd of July there has been no daily auction sale for the reason that there was no fruit to sell. The Montreal Fruit Exchange, therefore, has to content itself with an occasional sale of receipts of such Canadian and other fruits as were derived from the eastern section of the continent.

It is estimated that there must be fully 100 cars of this California fruit consigned to Montreal tied up by the strike. At about $1,000 a car this would represent a loss of $100,000.

With regard to the effect of the strike on the immediate future of the fruit trade it is uncertain.

As the labor troubles in California, however, are equally severe as those in Chicago, no dealer expects that shippers are going to run the risk of sending out perishable freight unless there is some good prospect of getting it to its destination.

The growers will no doubt sell all they can to the canners at whatever price they can get in preference to hipping.

OLD-TIME TEA ADULTERATION.

BY ROBERT O. FIELDING, NIAGARA FALLS.

ADULTERATED tea is now comparatively rare, largely owing to the watchfulness of the food inspectors. Moreover, as it is nearly as cheap to make tea from the leaves of the tea plant as from those of any other herb, there is not much incentive to substitute the false for the real.

Some of the methods of adulteration practised in years gone by would astonish many of the present day grocers.

The making of shotty-leaf caper into gunpowder, by putting a quantity of the caper along with a little coloring powder into a doeskin or canvas bag, a man being stationed at each end who worked the bag to and fro until the caper had taken on the acquired shade of green, was a common mode of sophistication.

Turning over some papers the other day I came across the following advertisement in Every Saturday, for July 15th, 1871 :

COUNT ST. GERMAN'S.

LIFE TEA

Generates appetite, improves digestion, and by its gentle action, regulates the system, thus precluding all recourse to medicine. A small portion mixed with ordinary tea imparts to it a delicious aromatic flavor. Used alone it is an excellent substitute for ordinary tea, and admirably suited to those with whose constitutions Chinese teas do not agree. Sold by all druggists. Sole agents for United States.

EDWARDS & RUSSELL, 38 Vesey street, New York.

This was sold in England and France put up in fancy packages and labeled "Veno Bono Tea," and described by Dr. Normandy as being composed of two parts tea dust mixed with five parts of powdered catechu or terra japonica. A few grains of this substance thrown into the teapot are described in the advertisement as being capable of more than doubling the strength of the beverage.

The once notorious "Paraguay Tea Plant," sold in packets, was simply new meadow hay that had been wilted with a strong infusion of catechu, then dried, chopped small, and strongly compressed.

A writer in the Echo for June 8th, 1874, describes a "Fine New Season's Gunpowder" that was the refuse of a pig's stye mixed with green dust and faced with Prussian blue.

I remember a well known Liverpool merchant who was not adverse to a little speculation outside of his legitimate business. One day a man called upon him with a sample of fine Pingsuey Gunpowder, of which he had some 35 boxes, and as he wanted some little ready money he desired a loan on them. The merchant submitted the samples to some of his tea friends, and after some haggling about the price, which was finally agreed at 2s. per lb., he advanced the amount and the tea was duly delivered. The time for redemption having passed, the merchant thought he would realize on them, so had a box opened and took samples to the various tea houses. What was his surprise to learn that they were nothing but dried figs cut up into small pieces, rolled and colored.

PEA AND STRAWBERRY PACK.

"Yes," said a representative of the Canadian Packer's Association in reply to a remark of THE GROCER, "I believe there is a fairly good supply of peas in jobbers' hands; but the pack of peas is going to be short this season," he added, with an air that flavored somewhat of satisfaction.

"Are you in earnest?" ventured THE GROCER.

"I am, really," he rejoined, as his face assumed an expression in keeping with his protestation. "The only place that has a crop of peas that is at all good is around the Bay of Quinte. In the Niagara district and through Western Ontario the pea crop is a failure. Why, do you know the western packers are not putting up within 25 per cent. of what they usually do. I saw a letter from an eastern packer in which he urges an advance of from 5 to 10c. per dozen in peas, and a western packer whom I saw is of the same opinion. Then, by-the-way, the pack of strawberries will be exceedingly light. I know of one leading packer who has only put up a little over one hundred cases where he usually puts up two to four thousand cases. That is straight, too.

WHO SELLS CITRIC ACID?

THE GROCER has an inquiry from a manufacturer for the address of the Toronto representative of a Montreal firm which sells citric acid.

If any reader of THE GROCER can oblige him by sending the name and address to this office it will probably lead to an order.

TORONTO RETAIL GROCERS.

CHAIRMAN Roberts, of the Excursion Committee, reported at the regular meeting of the Retail Grocer's Association, held Monday night in St. George's Hall, that "everything is in good shape for the annual excursion to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, on Wednesday, July 25."

At a subsequent stage of the meeting it was resolved to request all retail grocers to close their places of business on July 25, and attend the picnic with their sisters and their cousins and their aunts.

There was a good attendance of members, and President Donald presided.

These names were submitted by Secretary Corrie for membership: W. H. Sharpe, Gerrard street east; H. E. Coupland, 467 Dundas street; E. Williams, 326 Lippincott street; D. F. Pickell, 72 Sussex street; J. Blood, 373 Church street; J. Graydon, 659 Queen street west.

On motion by D. W. Clarke, they were accepted into membership on complying with the usual regulations.

Communications were received from A. Paxton & Co., notifying the association that they had withdrawn from the Toronto Fruit and Produce Exchange, and would henceforth make their own terms, and from McWilliam & Everist, re selling fruit to consumers. The letter from the last named firm read:

ROBT. MILLS, ESQ., Hon. Secretary Retail Grocers Association:

DEAR SIR,—Your favor of the 6th duly to hand and contents noted. We have given our salesman, both at fruit market and wharf, instructions to be very careful and avoid selling to consumers. It is a trade we do not wish to cultivate, but sometimes the most careful will get caught, as there are so many new men in the trade. But we think with a little care a good deal of this may be avoided.

Both letters were ordered to be filed.

President Donald announced that Mr. Wright, of Wright & Copp, had told him that strenuous efforts were being made to prevent those not in the trade from selling Surprise soap; and that he (Mr. Wright) had every hope that they would be successful. He also stated, as has already been pointed out in THE GROCER, that there was no foundation for the statement made at a recent meeting of the association, that Lever Bros. were supplying the departmental stores with Sunlight soap.

Secretary Corrie: What do you think of the idea of establishing a library in connection with the association, where trade journals and books of interest to the grocery trade could be kept?

President Donald: I think it is a good idea. I never knew, until THE GROCER published a list, that there were so many bearing on the grocery trade.

J. S. Bond: Would the members be allowed to take the books home?

The President: Yes, of course.

Mr. Marmion: If you have any money lying around that you do not want, why not start an insurance fund for grocer's horses.

D. W. Clarke: Hear, hear.

The President (jocularly): Then you don't believe in improving the mind?

Mr. Marmion: O, yes, I do; but there are grocers who have their own ideas of doing business, and all the books in the world will not make them change them.

The President: I don't agree with you. There are men of ideas who have placed them on paper, and I think we ought to get all the benefit we can therefrom.

Mr. Mills suggested that representations be made to the Public Library with a view to getting that institution to place a better selection of books appertaining to the grocery trade on their shelves.

F. S. Roberts: Will we not then be giving too much information to consumers regarding our trade?

Mr. Bond: It would be better if some of them did know more about us than they do.

Eventually, on motion of Mr. Bond, President Donald, Vice-President Roberts, and Hon. Secretary Mills were appointed a committee to try and secure the desideratum from the Public Library Board.

The secretary was instructed to write associations having horse insurance funds in connection with their organizations for information regarding thereto.

President Donald suggested that the association donate fifty or sixty dollars as prizes for the first and second best grocery wagon shown at the next Industrial Fair, and that representations be made to Manager Hill in regard to the matter.

While the idea was favorably commented upon, it was thought to be too late to do anything in the premises this year, and the matter dropped.

President Donald gave a talk on books in the retail store, illustrating some on the black board.

He first dealt with a book in which might be kept a record of goods purchased whereby the grocer can refer readily to the time when he purchased a certain lot of canned goods for instance, the cost, and how many cases were bought.

A suggestion for a delivery book was outlined, during which the discussion drifted into the best method of delivering butter. The President's method was as follows: We simply take an old tea chest, put a few racks therein, break up ice and place in bottom and stand the butter in the racks. Over the top of the box we throw a wet rice bag, thus keeping the butter in good condition. By this means the use of trays was obviated, the butter being merely wrapped in suitable paper.

The association adjourned 10 p.m.

A penny is a very little thing, but the interest on it from the days of Cain and Abel would buy out the globe.

DESERONTO GROCERS.

The Deseronto Tribune, of June 29th, has issued an illustrated supplement showing the stores of the prominent business men of the town, with a brief sketch of their business career. Among the various merchants are the names of L. Hopkins, proprietor of the the "City Grocer." Mr. Hopkins is a member of the Town Council. Although in business but a short time, he has made an honorable reputation for himself. A. S. Valleau and J. Sexsmith are also among the list of grocers. Mr. Valleau established his grocery business in Deseronto in 1881, and the same year was appointed clerk of the Division Court. He has performed the duties of his office with marked ability, and at the same time has built up a lucrative business in groceries. At the last municipal elections Mr. Valleau was elected deputy-reeve by a large majority. James Sexsmith, grocery and provision merchant, also a member of the firm of Sexsmith & Hopper, manufacturers of the "Surprise" and "Souvenir" baking powder, is brought prominently to the front as an enterprising trader, and one, though in business but a few years, who has won a large circle of friends in the surrounding country. Dealing extensively in country produce, he enjoys a lucrative outside trade.

SALMON CANNING SEASON.

Arrangements are now completed at all the canneries to start work as soon as the fish make their appearance in sufficient quantities, which may be almost any day now. Already a few cohoes have been caught in the river.

The spring salmon season has been fairly good, and a large number of these beauties have been canned at Ewen's cannery.

At a meeting of the British Columbia Board of Trade, to-day, a letter was received from Agent-General Beeton that 7,500 cases of Point Robert salmon had been placed on the London market as Fraser River fish. —News, Vancouver, July 4.

TORONTO MARKET.

AMONG the wholesale houses the feeling concerning the spring trade is that it finished up wretchedly. The last three weeks, being warm weather, induced a good midsummer trade, and this relieved what would otherwise have been a painful monotony of very quiet trade. Nevertheless the whole volume of trade during the past two months has been less than for the corresponding period of last year, and much less profitable. Fall orders are not quite so good as last year, but everybody takes a hopeful view and buyers are confident, but careful.

Pin spot muslins are very scarce, the demand having distanced the supply. Narrow Valenciennes laces have also had a momentary demand of large extent.

Narrow jet edgings are in active demand, and will be the leading trimming used this fall.

This week's importations by W. R. Brock & Co. are worthy of notice at many points. Cream silk gloves, now so scarce, are being opened up. Hercules braids in all widths of black and cream are re-stocked. Linens are also in full display, and, in spite of the stiffer price of flax, their buyer has secured some stock lots which are now being offered at even lower prices than obtained before the rise in the raw material. These special lines include towellings, tablings, canvasses and napkins. Similarly some manufacturers' jobs of prints and other cotton goods have been picked up, and their customers are to receive the benefit of reduced prices on these lines. Some odd lots and broken ranges, and also some travelers' samples can be secured at very reduced prices in their hosiery, glove and men's furnishing department.

In John McDonald & Co.'s haberdashery department canvas belts, belt buckles and black silk Petersham in rolls are just to hand. H. B. red embroidery cotton is now shown in cabinets. Stockinette, silk, satin and cambric dress shields are re-stocked for the season's trade. All numbers of Thomson's corsets are again procurable in plain and web bands. Sequin trimmings in gilt, silver, steel and black are in full display, as are black jet edgings and braid insertion trimmings.

Moire velveteens are to hand in a large shipment and full range with Alexander & Anderson.

Some ten cases of black and colored velveteens are being opened up by John Macdonald & Co.

Wyld, Grasett & Darling report an increased demand, in neckwear, for 2-inch Derbys. Knots are also selling with increased vigor, now that their size has been reduced. The roll point collar is undoubtedly the most stylish collar of the day, but nevertheless the sale for their Grandee and Glendowe is on the increase. In gloves, tans and golden browns are leading in the orders placed for fall delivery.

MONTREAL MARKET.

Considering that the end of June and the beginning of July is usually a quiet time with the wholesale dry goods trade, the volume of business in summer goods has been more satisfactory since our last than most people expected. Sorting orders for prints, colored cottons, ginghams, etc., have continued good until very recently. Now, however, business has ruled rather duller, but travelers, who are now all out on their placing trips on fall account, are still getting quite a few orders for summer goods. This is notably the case in light ground prints, for which the demand since the spell of hot weather set in has been unusually brisk. City retail trade has not been specially active.

There has been a fair enquiry for Nottingham and other laces, and fancy goods have had their fair share of activity.

It is expected that there will be a big run on velveteens this fall. S. Greenshields, Son & Co. have made ample provision in anticipation of this event, and show a line of goods that it would be hard to surpass. In dress goods their plain cashmeres, plain satin cloth, etc., are well worthy of inspection. The firm expects that this class of plain goods will be leaders this fall.

Hodgson, Sumner & Co. are showing some very attractive lines of new "wave"

IN THE DOMAIN OF RETAILERS.

James A. Blain, of Gilford, paid a visit to Toronto last week on business.

J. Langskill, grocer, 60 Gerrard street east, Toronto, has sold out to W. Hutchinson, who was some years ago in the business at Grange avenue and Huron street.

H. Kiteley, grocer, Yonge and Hayden streets, Toronto, has sold out to J. J. Burns. Mr. Burns, who took possession Friday, was formerly a clerk with the W. M. Milligan Co.

Isaac Gilpin, formerly of Kirkpatrick & Gilpin, Lefroy, has built a store at Victoria Harbor, and will occupy it at once with a general stock. "Mr. Gilpin is a nice fellow," said a traveler to THE GROCER, "and will do well. They have enough lumber in the vicinity of Victoria Harbor to warrant a good trade for the next fifteen years."

A MANUFACTURER'S BRIGHT VIEW

DEAR GROCER,—I have been wondering for some time why people continually talk of "hard times." It is the only text some people seem to have for their "talks." Why not try the other side, and talk of all the good things we have.

Crops are good. Wages are not bad. Money has not entirely left this country.

The fact is this: We have got into the habit of grumbling; and it is a habit that seems to afflict everybody about the same time, like la grippe. Would we not feel better if we decided to look things fairly in the face and see if there is really room for all this grumbling?

I don't think there is, myself. You know what kind of a business I am in and doing. Trade with our concern is better than it was last year, and collections are not very bad. I believe they would be much better if everybody would quit saying, "Trade is very bad," "Times are hard," "Money is scarce."

Did you ever see money any other way? It has been hard to get ever since I commenced to try and get it. I like your story of the "Frogs in the Milk" in your last CANADIAN GROCER. Mark Twain says: "Blessed is the kicker, for he gets there every time."

An old Front street grocer said to me once: "You boys think your troubles are big ones, and that you are sure to be unable to get around this one or that one; but when you walk squarely up to it you find it not half so bad; and how many of them have you got safely over, time and again? You will get over them all if you 'try the best you know how.'"

Well, let us all try for one month to talk "good times," say trade is just what it is. Examine your affairs and see if business is worse than in past years. If it is worse, see if it is not your fault. See if you have not "let up" trying to win trade. See if you are as keen in buying, in selling, in looking after your windows, your stock, your customers. See if you are not just resting on your oars.

If we would all put our shoulders to the wheel, "b'ow" a little about this glorious Canada of ours and quit growling, we would find we had a good deal to be thankful for.

FRONT STREET.

MAKE A SUBJECT FOR VERSE.

Toronto has an old-time grocer who has received the honors of knighthood, and his name is just plain Smith. His career is a marked example of what a poor boy can do in growing to a good grocer.

"He cleaned the windows and he swept the floor,
And polished up the handle of the big front door,
He polished up the handle so careful-lee—"
That the queen has dubbed him a k-g-t.

SITUATION RE CANARY SEED.

CANARY seed for many years stood in the front rank as one of the most favored articles for speculative operations, but the old time spirit has almost entirely disappeared, the bold operators of the past having wearied of playing bulls and bears and standing the heavy losses that were more frequently harvested than profits. One by one the various speculative lights have given up the field, the losses incurred and the changed methods of business having suggested the wisdom of dropping the article as one of speculation, and confining attention to the legitimate purchase and sale for consumptive purposes. Though prices have certainly been reasonable the past year or two, there has been no time during that period when the large importers of former years considered it wise to venture upon operations with a view of manipulating the market. The result has been a slow legitimate trade and with values during the greater part of the time kept upon an even keel. This has been the condition of affairs up to a very recent date, when the trade began to receive advices from Smyrna to the effect that the growing crop was threatened by extremely dry weather and that the tendency of values was strongly upward. As time progressed the reports of drought continued, and the same coming from what was regarded as reliable sources, holders here began to strengthen their position by reserved offerings, and by gradually raising their selling limits. The higher tendency of the market served to increase the demand from the trade somewhat, but when it came to engineering a boom it was found that the old-time spirit could not be revived, and that to influence c. and f. business was an exceedingly difficult matter. Cables from London advise an advance in the price of Smyrna seed to 12s. 6d., and from primary sources direct the latest quotation received indicates an appreciation to 12s. c. and f., or say the equivalent of 2¾c. to import. From mail advices we learn that the sowings the past season were upon a much heavier scale than usual, and in consequence a large harvest was confidently anticipated; but well-informed authorities now state that owing to the absence of rain the net results will not show a quantity much beyond fifty per cent. of last year, and that the recent advance there is fully warranted. The crop of last year is said to have been about 215,000 bags, and of this quantity Smyrna is credited with holding now only a balance of 8,000 bags. The stock of this market is variously placed at 2,000 to 3,000 bags, though the latter figure is probably nearer the actual quantity held. Those who possess the goods are displaying considerable firmness and show an unwillingness to shade 2⅞c. Sicily seed has advanced in the primary market to 13s. c. and f., and upon this basis some little business has been completed for July shipment, a price which is equivalent to 3c. in this market. Smyrna seed is harvested during the present month, though first shipments are seldom made before August. The market certainly is in strong shape to-day, but sufficient confidence is lacking to induce speculative operations upon a large scale.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

CANADA WHEAT TOOK THE MEDAL.

JAS. ANDERSON, of North York, Ont., superintendent of Canadian exhibits at the San Francisco midwinter fair, was in the city yesterday on his way to Ottawa. Mr. Anderson closed the Canadian departments last week and shipped the exhibits east. He has been at the fair since last December, and from his observation he believes the exhibits of Canadian grains, grasses, coal and minerals placed in the agricultural building did great good to the country. The people of California and other adjoining states have peculiar ideas as to the climate of the Northwest, and in many instances their minds were cleared of the false impressions of the ice-bound, snow-covered plains by the excellent grain samples sent from the Brandon and Indian Head experimental farms. The grasses were used for decorating, and the grain in straw from Brandon, Souris, Edmonton, Calgary, and other points, together with the 800 bottles of grain from this province, the Territories, and British Columbia, captivated the eyes of many farmers, and a party of fifty persons left last month for Canada, and another party leaves on the 19th. California, Mr. Anderson says, is in bad shape. There is great depression in the farming districts, and the prices now received for the raising of grapes is not worth the trouble of growing the fruit.

The exhibit of grain sent in from Manitoba and the Territories, was judged by the commissioners, and they awarded it 100 points and the much coveted gold medal for the finest grain exhibit.

Besides showing visitors through the Canadian exhibit, 20,000 pamplets and 10,000 C.P.R. folders were given away.

The surplus of receipts over expenses at the fair was $160,000.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

WILL SEEK REST THURSDAYS.

In response to a petition fairly well signed by city grocers, a meeting was held in Winnipeg on the 4th inst., for the purpose of considering the question of a weekly half-holiday during the coming two months. J. W. Horne was appointed chairman and Geo. Hague, secretary. The general feeling was that Thursday afternoon should be chosen, and it was stated that the butchers had so decided, but that the dry goods men had already chosen Friday afternoon. It was agreed that the various branches of trade should close on the same day. Mr. New, who represented the dry goods trade, stated that the merchants had been seen, and that they were willing to unite with the others upon Thursday afternoon.

Moved by Mr. Hartley, seconded by Mr. Turnbull, it was resolved to close the respective places on Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, during the months of July and August, commencing Thursday, July 12.

On motion of T. Jobin, seconded by John Capell, the chairman was asked to appoint a committee to get cards printed to be placed in the windows of stores indicating when they close. The chairman appointed the secretary as the committee.

Free Press, Winnipeg: Rumors have been rife in the city for the past few days to the effect that certain wholesale firms had failed. The Free Press instituted inquiries, with the result that the reports were found to be lacking in truth. Two concerns went to the wall last month, viz., a biscuit factory and a pork packing establishment. It is said that the proprietor of the latter has left the city, and that before going he raised money on goods that had already been warehoused, and thereby let in one of the banks for a considerable sum.

The Windsor police are looking for a young man named Arthur Sparks, who, until a few days ago, resided in Walkerville, and worked in the grocery store of Blackadder & Johnston. He is charged with having taken about $30 from the till on the eve of his departure from the city.

Four burglaries and robberies were committed in Chatham on Thursday night of last week. The residences of James Cornhill and J. T. James Burnett, Montreal's leading broker, president of the stock exchange, and a man worth probably three-quarters of a million dollars, died suddenly the other morning. His health had not been good for some time past. Deceased had been for 20 years one of the foremost financiers of the street, and was at one time connected with the Bank of British North America. He was always considered exceedingly conservative in his financial methods, possessed excellent judgment and his wise counsel will be much missed by many younger members of the board. Deceased was 52 years of age and leaves a widow, six daughters and a son.

Indurated Fibreware

from Induratus (Latin) hardened, and Fibre (French) the fine, stringy substance found in animals and plants,

Is a ware made of the toughest wood fibre, prepared and pressed into shape by tremendous hydraulic pressure, and hardened or indurated by chemical process. It was first manufactured in this country in 1884, has been constantly improved on since, and has now reached the acme of perfection.

Indurated Fibreware is made into Tubs, Pails, Pans, Wash Basins, Cuspidors, etc., and its peculiar advantages are :

Will not shrink or swell.
Will not taint milk or any liquor.
Cannot leak, water-soak or rust.
Has no hoops to rust or drop off.
Being seamless, bottom cannot drop out.
Is lighter than a wooden pail.
Is proof against kerosene, benzine, vinegar, and ordinary acids.

In addition to its many superior qualities, it is forced upon the notice of the public by the most persistent and aggressive advertising throughout Canada.

To keep up with the times you must have in stock

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 12, 1894.

GROCERIES.

TRADE exhibits nothing particularly new this week. There is a fair business doing, although orders are not large. The usual seasonable falling off in the sale of canned vegetables and fruit is still to be noted, although there is an approach to activity in some lines. In regard to prices, canned goods are firm. Sugars are quiet and steady at previous quotations. Syrups and molasses are quiet and unchanged. New season's Japan teas are occupying some attention, although it is but small, holding off for the arrival of the medium and cheaper grades. In dried fruits, the demand for prunes continues to fall of, and the scarcity and strength of Valencia raisins still remains the feature of the market.

CANNED GOODS.

There is still a fair demand for tomatoes, although the seasonable falling off in sales has set in. Stocks held by jobbers are getting into small compass, and prices rule firm at 85 to 90c. Corn is still in fair demand, and moving rather better than tomatoes. Demand for peas is good, although in this line, too, there is less doing than there was; 80 to 85c. is the ruling quotation. Demand continues active for salmon at steady, unchanged prices—namely, $1.25 to $1.35 for tall tins and $1.50 to $1.60 for flat tins. There is a good deal of lobster selling, particularly of the new pack. We quote: Flats, $2.40 to $2.50; new flats, ½'s, $1.35; talls, $1.85 to $2.25 Canned chicken, meats, sardines, etc., are all in good demand. Demand is good for canned peaches and preserved apples; other lines of fruits are quiet. We quote: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2 75, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40.

COFFEES.

The conditions are much as before, both with regard to prices and volume of business. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 21 to 21½c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c. ; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

NUTS.

Business is quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c. lb.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c. a lb.; Terragona almonds, 12½ to 13c. ; peanuts, 10½ to 11c. for roasted and 8 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack ; Grenoble walnuts, 12½ to 15c.: Marbot walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9¾ to 10¼c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for smal lots; pecans, 12½c.

RICE.

There is a steady trade doing at unchanged prices. We quote as follows : "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

The movement is fair in this line, with Jamaica ginger at about 25c. having the call. We quote : Pure black pepper, 12c. ; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 28 to 30c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 23 to 25c.; cream of tartar, 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

Not much life is exhibited by the sugar market this week. Purchases are principally of five or ten barrel lots, and buying is not active. Large buyers seem to be holding off. Representatives of the refineries are doing scarcely anything. Jobbing price for granulated runs from 4⅜ to 4½c., and yellows sell at from 3⅜c. up.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Tuesday : "The average characteristic of market for raws are just about the same as at the end of last week. Supplies to take care of are not abundant ; buyers can be found at about former cost, making a good balance as between offerings and demand, and with opinions pretty nearly even regarding tariff, there is no seriously disturbing factor. The market for refined goods was slow, and a little quantity of stock satisfied all orders. The market for refined goods was slow, and a little quantity of stock satisfied all orders. Prices remain as before, excepting that the 1-16c. special rebate is now restricted to 50-barrel lots of Nos. 6 and 7."

Willett & Gray's Weekly Statistical : "Total stock in all the principal countries, 1,334,929 tons, against 976,378 tons at same date last year. Afloats to the United States from all countries estimated 62,000 tons, against 55,000 tons last year.

SYRUP.

Bright syrups are going out a little better in half barrels at about 2¾ to 3½c., but the market is on the whole quiet. We quote : Dark, 25c. ; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35c. to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Molasses, while quiet, is in little better demand than syrup. Prices are : New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEA.

New season's Japan teas are moving out fairly well at 25 to 35c., but not in large quantities. New Japan teas of medium quality are late in coming forward, although they are expected to arrive inside of a week. In the meantime people are holding back. There has been a fair movement in China blacks and Indian and Ceylon teas. Medium green teas at about 16 to 25c. are scarce. Cheap China black teas and Pingsueys are higher, a cable to this effect being received in Toronto, Tuesday.

DRIED FRUITS.

Valencia raisins are still scarce and dear, Good off-stalk are worth 6c. to-day. Demand is good. We quote off-stalk at 6 to 6¼c., and fine off-stalk at 6½ to 7c. Bevari & Co., of Denia, writing under date of June 23rd, say that the crop of Valencia raisins promises to be much larger than last year, unless it is ruined by the weather. Prices will depend somewhat upon the new United States tariff bill. Shipments will be made about August 8th or 10th—about a week later than usual. Currants are in fair request at previous quotations. Some good values are being offered in Patras fruit in cases and half cases. They are said to be showing better value than Vostizzas. We quote as follows: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4½c. in brls., and 4¼ to 4¾c. in half barrels ; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases ; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases ; Panariti, 8½ to 9c. A cable announces that currants are ½c. dearer in Patras, and a similar advance has taken place in New York. There is very litt'e doing in prunes, but prices are as before : We quote: U's, 5½c.; B's. 7½.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c. Advices regarding the prune crop state that the trees are flowering well. There is hardly any demand for figs, and taps and mats are out of the market. We quote : Small boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 5 lb. boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 10 lb. boxes, 10c.; 28-lb. boxes choice Eleme, 11c.; 6-crown, 12½c.; 7-crown 13½c.; bags, 28-lb., 6½ to 7c. Dates quiet and easy, at 4¼ to 5c.; selected Hallowee dates, 8½ to 9c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Butter market has been fairly active during the week with prices higher. Very little consigned butter is coming forward, receipts being largely confined to round lots that have been purchased in the country at about 15c., but the supply has been about equal to the demand. Dairy produce rolls are wanted. Creamery pound prints are in supply, and demand is good for them at quotations. There is not much enquiry for creamery tubs. We quote jobbing prices as follows : Dairy —Choice tubs, 16 to 17c. ; medium, 14 to 15c.; pound rolls, 17 to 19c. Creamery—Tubs, fresh, 20c.; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

Cheese are in fairly good demand at about 9¾ to 10c. There is a plentiful supply.

PROVISIONS.

An improvement is to be noted in trade this week, and the improvement is general, with smoked meats particularly active. Smoked backs are scarce, some of the packers being buyers. Prices in some lines are a little higher.

BACON—Long clear, 7½c.; smoked backs, 10½c.; breakfast bacon, 11 to 11½c.; rolls, 8½ to 8¾c.

HAMS—10½c. for smoked, and at 9½c. for pickled.

LARD—Pure Canadian 8¾c. in tubs, 9c. in pails and 8¼c. in tierces. Compound, 7¼ to 7½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $17 to $17.50, Canadian short-cut $18.00 to $18.50, shoulder mess $14.50 to $15, clear mess $15 to $15.50.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The run of live stock at the western yards Tuesday was heavy, over 100 loads coming forward. Receipts consisted mostly of export cattle, though supplies of sheep and lambs and of butchers' cattle were also liberal. Cables on cattle and sheep were stronger, but scarcity of ocean freights and firmer prices for same tended to make the market slow. There was neither the active buying nor the sympathetic advance in prices that might have been expected from the previous day's cables. The scarcity of space seemed to be the principal deterrent, both of trade and a rise of prices. Buyers of export cattle were numerous, but the heavy run reduced competition. Prices ranged from 4 37½ to 4½c. for fair to good shipping cattle, 4.60 to 4¾c. for choice, and from 4⅞ to 4 90c. for extras.

In butchers' cattle supplies were liberal and buying fair. Prices ranged from 2¾ to 3c. for medium grass cattle, 3 to 3¼c. for choice, 3¼ to 3.35c. for fairish fed grassers, and 3.40 to 3½c. for choice fed grassers. Stall fed cattle sold from 3⅝ to 3¾c., but there was only an odd bullock here and there to be had.

Export sheep sold freely at from 3½ to 3¾c., weighed off car. All offerings were taken. There was a good demand for spring lambs, sales being made at $2 85 to $3.75 per head. Butchers' sheep and yearlings were in fair demand at $3 to $3.25 a head. Calves—All sold at from $1 to $1.50 for bobs, $4 to $5 for good fair veals, and from $5.50 to $7 for choice to fancy veals. Prices for hogs were firm. Long lean hogs, extra choice, of from 150 to 220 lbs., were quoted at from $5.50 to $5 60. Nice lots sold from $5.40 to $5.50. Thick fats were firmer at $5 to $5 10. Stores sold at $4.75; sows at $4.25, and stags at $2.50. Demand was moderate for milch cows and springers, but prices were easy, the range being from $25 to $40. A bid of $40 was refused for one choice milker, but others sold at that figure.

GREEN FRUIT.

The railroad strike in the United States is still interfering with the receipts of foreign green fruit and vegetables, shipments of California fruit and tomatoes particularly being delayed. There is an active demand for oranges at prices a little higher than quoted a week ago. The cool weather has somewhat interfered with the consumption of lemons, and the market is quieter and prices easier in consequence. Bananas are scarce and higher, with demand good. There is a good demand for tomatoes, but there is some difficulty in satisfying it. Watermelons are in demand and supply is only fair, with prices higher. We quote: Oranges, Cal. seedlings, $2.50 to $3.25; Messinas, half-boxes, $2 to $2.50, boxes, $4 to $4.50. Lemons, $4.25 to $5. Bananas, $1.25 to $2.25 per bunch. Watermelons, 25 to 35c. each. Raspberries, 9 to 13c. Cherries, $1 to $1.75 per basket. Red currants, 65 to 90c. per basket. Gooseberries, Hanton's, 40 to 50c.; Downy's, 50 to 75c. Baltimore cucumbers, $1.25 to $1.75 per crate; in brls., 35 to 40c. per doz. Baltimore cabbages, $1.75 to $2 per crate. Tomatoes, Mississippi, $2 to $2.25 per four basket crate. California dried fruit—Peaches, 16 to 17c. per lb.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Are firmer on account of enquiries from the United States, and jobbers are now quoting $1.35 to $1.40 for choice hand-picked.

POTATOES—New Southern potatoes are only arriving slowly in consequence of the railroad strike. Prices are in consequence higher at $3 to $3 25 per barrel. Demand is good. Old have changed hands on track at 50c. per bag in carload lots; old out of store are quoted at 75c.

EGGS—Demand is fairly good, but supplies are arriving in bad condition, there being a good many held and musty eggs. Really good stock is worth 10½ to 11c., while some whose quality is not so good are going at 9¾ to 10c.

HOPS—Quiet, at 12 to 15c. for 1893's. Package hops, 20c. per lb.

ONIONS—Quiet and unchanged, Egyptian onions still selling at $2.25 per crate.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: Syrup, wine gallon tins, 65 to 70c.; 5 gallon packages, 60 to 75c.; sugar, 1 lb. cakes, 7½ to 8c.; small cakes, 9½ to 10c.

HONEY—Dull; clover, in sections, 11 to 12c.; buckwheat, 5c.

FISH.

Receipts are confined almost wholly to white fish and trout. We quote as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c. Lake Erie herring, $1.50 to $1.75 per 100; blueback herring 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 5 to 6c. per lb.; salmon trout, 6c.; white fish, 6c.; pike, 5c. lb.; perch, $1.50 per 100; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb; steak cod, 5 to 6c; large halibut, 10c.; brook trout, 25c. per lb.

SALT.

Jobbing trade is reported better, and and several inquiries for car lots have been received during the week. Prices are unchanged. We quote: Dairy, $1.50, special grade; brls., 90c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 70c.; American rock, $10 per ton.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Remain unchanged with poor prospects for advancement. We quote: No. 1's, 3c.; No. 2's, 2c.; No. 3's, 1c. Steers, ½c. in advance of above price.

SKINS—Nothing new to report in skins. The usual number are being received by butchers, but no export or shipments are reported. Prices are the same. We quote: Lambskins, 25c.; pelts, 20c.; calfskins, 4 to 6c. per lb. for No. 1's and 2's.

WOOL—Plenty of wool is offering, and farmers lots are being bought at 16 to 17c; country lots at close selection are 17c.; clothing, including down, 18 to 19c.; unwashed, 9½ to 10½c.; rejection, including black coat, burrs, and chaffy fleeces, 12 to 13c. It is expected that the passing of the Wilson Tariff Bill will have but little effect on our wool market owing to the fact that the domestic wools in the United States are as low as the domestic wools in Canada. The only hope that the dealers have is that there will be a demand for our bright, light, shearing and combing wools.

PETROLEUM.

There is no change to report in oils. Trade remains about the same, with a pros-

The Hamilton Biscuit and Confectionery Co. have reorganized the business, W. H. Herner retiring and R. F. Woodhouse succeeding him. The company have doubled their facilities for manufacturing and are going into many new lines. A number of new cutters ordered by them are now on the way from England. Thos. W. Purkis, who has been with Christie, Brown & Co. over twenty-two years, is foreman of the bakeshop.

English mails state that the total exports of tea from the north of China to the United Kingdom thus far in the new season are about 16,000,000 pounds, against 20,000,000 pounds in 1893 94. From Foo Chow the statement is received that the quantity exported from thence to the United Kingdom since the opening of the season has been nearly 7,000,000 pounds, as compared with between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 pounds last year.

Emil Poliwka, of the Canada Specialty Co., returned a few days ago from a business trip through Indiana. He reports that the mills of the Crystal Rice Co., at Marion, Ind., are closed on account of the railway strike. Mr. Poliwka brought back some new agencies with him. One is a line of chewing gums, of which "Tolu Sugar Plums," "Sweet Wheat," "After Dinner" are some of the brands. He has also secured the agency for the Curtis patent barrel truck.

The Surprise Soap people are nothing if not original. They have just issued a twine holder of unique style. It is a representation of a washtub, with soapsuds almost in the act of flowing over the sides, while a cake of Surprise in gilt is partly submerged in the suds. The tub is made of compressed paper, and is about eight inches broad by about four inches high. It is finished in gilt and makes an attractive advertisement for the St. Croix Soap Co., as well as an attractive twine holder for the grocer's counter.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 12, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THERE has been no important change in the position of the general grocery market since our last report. Trade, on the whole, rules on the quiet side, and the tendency of values generally is steady in all the leading staples. In teas and coffees a somewhat better distributing trade has been done, also in molasses and canned goods. Sugar has not been quite so active as it was, but there is no change in its tone. Syrups rule slow, while molasses has been fairly active. Rice has been fairly active, and other lines furnish no special feature.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has reflected nothing new during the week. Values rule steady in sympathy with other markets, but the volume of business has not been quite as large as it was last week. Still, a fair business has been done in refined, sales of granulated transpiring at 4 3 16 to 4¼c. net cash, and yellows at 3¼ to 3⅞c., as to quality, at the factory.

SYRUPS.

The demand for syrups has not shown any improvement since last week, ruling slow. Values are nominally unchanged, at 2 to 2⅛c. for bright grades and 1¼ to 1½c. for dark Canadian, while American is quoted at 17 to 21½c. as to quality.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market has been quiet and steady in a wholesale sense, as buyers have filled their wants pretty well, but the distributing trade from jobbers' hands is better than it was. Prices remain steady at 29c. for car lots, 30c. for single puncheons, and 28c. for wholesale business.

TEA.

The tea market has not exhibited any marked change. Jobbers seem to be doing a good distributing trade, but do not seem inclined to buy freely as yet. For this reason the market rules on the quiet side, though some business has been put through in new crop Japans during the week. The tone of the market is steady and the tenor of advices with regard to new crop is very firm. In Japan teas we quote: Common, 10 to 13c.; medium, 14 to 17c.; fine, 18 to 21½c.; and choicest, 23 to 29c.

COFFEES.

There has been a fair demand for coffee passing during the week, and sales of some good round lots of Maracaibo have transpired at steady prices. We quote: Java, 24 to 28c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c., and Rio, 18 to 21c.

SPICES.

There is no special change to note in spices, which rule moderately active in a jobbing way. We quote: Black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c., and Jamaica ginger, 15 to 18c.

RICE.

There has been a fair business moving in rice for the season of the year, and prices are steady and unchanged. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3 95 to $4 25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

DRIED FRUIT.

The only business doing in dried fruit is among the jobbing trade with their own customers. As THE GROCER has exclusively pointed out several times before, the market here is bare of Valencias, what there are being held by jobbers, who can make more money by jobbing them to their own customers than selling them to the market here. In currants business remains quiet and prices are unchanged. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine, 5 to 5¼c.; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

There is no change in nuts. Stocks here of these are becoming well reduced but demand is moderate. We quote: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½c.; filberts, 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

There has been no improvement in the canned goods market in a wholesale sense. Demand is slow and business dull with no change in prices to note. From jobbers' hands a little better movement is to note, but nothing of importance. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.

GREEN FRUITS.

The hot weather had a beneficial effect on green fruit here. Owing to the railway strike quite a number of car loads of California fruit have been tied up, but on Tuesday last a car load was brought in via the C.P.R. Oranges are in fair demand, while

FLOUR AND FEED

ALL through Canada crops are looking well, and prospects point to their being a large yield to the acre. A large yield usually means good samples; but notwithstanding this, on account of the extremely low prices at present, the likelihood of an improvement in prices is not unreasonable.

Travelers report business in flour quiet, and the grocers and flour and feed merchants are complaining of the small amount of home baking that is being done during the summer months. The number of people that have left the towns and cities during the summer months tend to decrease the demand, and in consequence retailers are carrying but small stocks on hand, and are buying lightly.

The lowness in the price of flour should be an inducement for grocers to go more largely into the sale of this line. While it is to be admitted that there is but little sale for flour during the months of July and August, the demand rapidly increases during September, and all through the winter months, when families find it not only more to their liking, but cheaper, to do their own baking. The grocer will find the demand for medium-priced family flour, and also high grade pastry, good, and by handling flour and letting his customers know that he has it in stock at reasonable prices, he will find ready sale for it. The grocer in these days of strong competition cannot afford to neglect any line that will tend to increase his profits.

TORONTO.

FLOUR—Business is quiet and no changes in prices have been reported. We quote as follows: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.65 to $3.80; strong bakers', $3 45 to $3.55; winter wheat patents, $3.45 to $3.60; Ontario family, $3.00 to $3.25; straight rollers, $2.90 to $3.05.

BRAN—Flour and feed merchants report a good demand for bran, considering the season of the year, and city mills are supplying dealers at $14.50 to $15 per ton.

SHORTS—Have been somewhat hard to get, owing to the fact that many of the mills throughout the city and country have not been running. In the city, where the mills have been dependent on the coal supply, many have not been grinding owing to their inability to obtain suitable coal at reasonable prices. Many of the city mills are now running full time and are able to supply the demand. The price remains unchanged at from $16 to $16.50 per ton.

SCREENINGS—The demand for screenings has also been larger than city mills have been able to supply, and the price quoted is from $12 to $12.50 per ton.

OATMEAL—Demand is light and prices steady. Rolled and standard meals are quoted at $4.35 in bags and $4 50 in barrels; granulated, $4.40 in bags; cornmeal, common, $3.10; gold dust, $3.25 to $3.50.

OATS—Are easier at 39c. on track.

CEREAL FOODS—Split peas, $3 75 per barrel; pot barley, $3 75 per barrel; pearl barley, XXX $2.25 per 49 lb box.

MONTREAL.

There is considerable enquiry from abroad for flour, and cables generally are stronger and higher, and sales of 2,000 sacks are reported. The advance in prices is principally due to the rise of 1s. 6d. in ocean freights of late. A fair local business is doing, there being a good demand for car lots at firm prices. Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3 70; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3 50 to $3 60; straight roller, $3; extra, $2.75 to $2.90; superfine, $2.50 to $2.65; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.50; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.45 to $3.50.

There was no change to note in feed. The demand was fair and the market ruled steady. Bran, $16 to $17; shorts, $18 to $20; mouillie, $20 to $22.

In oatmeal the feeling was steady and values were unchanged. Standard, brls., $4.25 to $4.30; granulated, brls., $4 25 to $4.30; rolled oats, brls., $4.50 to $4.60; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3 40.

lemons continue scarce and firmer, prices advancing 50c. since our last report, in fact a good deal more in the case of extra fancy fruit. Pineapples are about finished and the offerings here are small. Bananas are quiet. Receipts of strawberries are decreasing and prices are firm. Cherries are a heavy receipt. California peaches, plums, prunes, and apricots, are all firmer owing to the curtailed receipts. We quote: Oranges, $4 to $4.50; lemons, $3.50 to $4.50 per box; pineapples, 18 to 30c. each; bananas, $1 to $1.50 per bunch; strawberries, 4½ to 7c. per quart; cherries, California, $1.25 to $1.50 per box, and Canadian $1 to $1.50 per basket; California peaches, $2.12 to $2.15 per box; apricots, $2 to $2.50 per box; plums, $3.87 per crate; prunes, $3 to $3.75; figs, 25 to 75c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

There has been a sharp advance in eggs since our last report under improved demand and lighter receipts. Choice candled stock are the only kind wanted now, and they are held at 10½ to 11c. There is no change in beans, which meet a fair demand at steady values, $1.25 to $1.35 per bushel of 60 lbs. There is quite a lot of new potatoes coming in and they are selling freely at $1.25 to $1 75 per brl., which is lower than a week ago. Egyptian onions are a glut in the market at $1.75, a drop of 75c. to $1 per bag. Tomatoes meet a good sale at $2 75 to $2.50 per crate of four baskets, and watermelons are in good demand at 25 to 30c. each.

PROVISIONS.

A fair amount of business is transacted in local provisions, there being a good demand for small lots, and the market was moderately active and firm. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The butter market continues about steady, further speculative purchasing acting as a brace to prices. Purchases of creamery at about the figure we quote for a spot basis have occurred recently in the country. With regard to dairy stock, it is understood that holders are asking 15c. in the country for Western dairy, and that it has been paid in some cases. We quote: Fine creamery, 19 to 20c.; fine townships, 16 to 17c.; fine western, 15 to 16c.

CHEESE.

The cheese market is certainly firm so far as the position on this side is concerned. There is evidently a strong party who believe June cheese a purchase, for they are keeping at it hammer and tongs, and prices instead of declining are ascending the scale. The business at the wharf Monday morning was a forcible illustration of this, for out of receipts of 5,000 boxes only 1,500 were for sale. The remainder had been bought to arrive last week at 9c. Of the 1,500 for sale they made 9⅛c. owing to comparative scarcity, but 9c. was the ruling on the receipts as a whole. Though it is as difficult as ever to say whether goods costing this would realize a profit in a regular way for immediate shipment, the fact that they did sell it means that a buyer certainly could not fill an order for less to-day. The question of the exact quantity of June goods in cold store is a problem that many traders would like answered. It is of course impossible to arrive at any reliable idea of the figure, but one is pretty safe in assuming that there is a good deal more than there was last year at the same time. Finest Western colored, 9⅛ to 9¼c.; finest Western white, 9⅛ to 9¼c.; finest Eastern, colored, 9 to 9⅛c.; finest Eastern white, 9 to 9⅛c.; under grades, 8½c.; cable, 45s.

ASHES.

The receipts of ashes continue light, and as a result the market rules quiet. Prices naturally are steady—in fact, firmly held. We quote: First pots, $4.10; seconds, $3.65; pearls, $5.40 to $5.50 per 100 lbs.

RAW FURS.

The market here for raw furs, when it is a question of actual values, is purely nominal. Stocks on hand are very heavy, and with very blue foreign advices, a demoralized feeling prevails, and holders hardly know how they are going to pull out. It may be remarked, also, that prices during the past season were lower than usual, so that with the large stocks on hand and the low prices that have been ruling, the tendency for the coming season will be very doubtful.

LIVE STOCK.

The labor troubles in the west are having a strong influence on the cattle market both on local and export account here. At the Point St. Charles yards Monday morning a large business was done, and though there was a heavy run of grass fed stock the market at the close was well cleared up, values advancing ¼ to ½c. per lb., round bunches of stock selling at $4 75 to $5 per 100 lbs. The supply of butchers' cattle was not large, and as the quality was better, a good demand was experienced by drovers, consequently a clearance was made at the advance. Choice beeves sold at 4 to 4¼c., good at 3½ to 4c., fair at 3 to 3½c., and common at 2½ to 3c. per lb. live weight. The receipts of sheep were large, but the bulk of them were on through account for export. However, quite a few fair sized lots were offered, which met with a ready sale for shipping purposes at $3.50 to $3.62½ per 100 lbs. Butchers' stock sold down as low as $3.25. John Rollinger, of Toronto, had a lot of 342 head of American sheep from Black Rock, Buffalo, which will be shipped this week. Live hogs were somewhat scarce and prices were higher. There was a good enquiry, and buyers in some cases could not fill their wants. Sales were made at from $5 25 to $5 35 per 100 lbs. Calves sold fairly well at $2 to $10 each, as to size and quality. The receipts of live stock at these yards for the week ending July 7th were 2,200 cattle, 2,500 sheep and 700 hogs. The receipts since Saturday night were 1,436 cattle, 2,456 sheep, 234 hogs and 38 calves.

At the East End market choice beasts brought 4 to 4¼c.; good, 3½ to 4c.; fair, 3 to 3½c., and common, 2½ to 3c. per lb. live weight. The demand for sheep was good on local account, and all the offerings were taken at 3½ to 4c. per lb. live weight, while lambs sold at $3 to $3.50 each as to size and quality. There was only a fair enquiry for calves, the season for them being now about over, and very few choice veals were on the market. Those that were brought $8 each, while common sold at $1 to $5 each. Lean hogs realized from $3 to $10 each as to size. At the C. P. R. stock yards a train load of 15 cars Manitoba cattle and hogs were received Tuesday night for John Wake and Taylor Bros. The cattle will be exported and the hogs sold on spot. On Monday morning about 200 hogs changed hands at these yards at $5 25 per 100 lbs. live weight. The principal shippers for this week from these yards are: James Aitkins, of Port Hope, 15 cars cattle; Brown & Co., Toronto, 10 cars; John Sheridan, 4 cars sheep; John Lunnis, 7 cars cattle, and M. Green, of this city, 4 cars.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Laporte, Martin & Co. have on the wharf this week an especially fine lot of Barbadoes molasses which they offer the trade.

A cargo of 1,300 puncheons of molasses arrived on Thursday last. It was made up of lots for the various jobbing houses.

Laporte, Martin & Co. expect a consignment very shortly of their Victoria Japan teas in five, ten, fifteen pound, etc., packages.

Advices to W. T. Costigan & Co. state that Japan teas are from $1 to $2 per picul higher than what was paid for them in the early part of June.

The first carload of fresh California fruit that got through since last Monday was sold here on Tuesday, the total amount realized being $2,500, or fully 25 per cent. better than previous sales. This was due to unusual scarcity.

Cables from Barbadoes state that the molasses market is about closed, all the crop having been disposed of, and that prices are unchanged at 11c. first cost.

Mr. Rose, of Rose & Laflamme, who got back from a trip in Eastern Ontario on Saturday last, reports trade from Kingston East as very quiet at present.

J. Alex. Gordon & Co. have received the first consignment of Australian canned meats ever offered to the trade on this market. It consists of boiled, roast and corned mutton in two pound tins.

A Quebec firm of jobbing grocers paid as high as 5c. on this market for a straight lot of off-stalk Valencias The seller made a handsome profit on the deal of fully 1½c. Holders of raisins are lucky just now.

The first cargo of new crop rice, 40,731 bags, has arrived, which is about equal to 4,000 tons. Most of this cargo has already been placed to arrive, and it has all or nearly all been moved from the wharf at the time of writing.

F. Hughes, of Caverhill, Hughes & Co., got back from the seaside on Tuesday morning. He had been taking his family down for their summer outing and took advantage of the fact to enjoy a short but well-earned holiday.

David Brown, the Canadian manager, reports a fresh consignment of Tetley's famous package teas Their Western travellers find the demand for the specialty constantly increasing, both for blended teas and packets. These teas are bona fide English blends of Indian and Ceylon.

The movement giving the retail clerks of Winnipeg a half holiday, is spreading to all stores in the city. The grocers and butchers have decided to close on Thursday afternoons, and the dry goods houses on Friday. All the rest are expected to join immediately.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. E. JEJANG, representing the St. Croix Soap Co., St. Stephen, N.B., has been visiting the trade at Ontario points lately.

H. Wilson, Oakville, called on THE GROCER last week. He reports business good in Oakville. Mr. Wilson seems to know a good thing when he sees it, as he has never been without THE GROCER since it started.

G. H. Cutter, representing Bensdorp's Royal Dutch Cocoa, is visiting the Canadian trade.

W. H. Gillard, of W. H. Gillard & Co., Hamilton, was in Toronto, Wednesday. He reports business fairly good in the west.

W. A. Strowger, manager of the Ireland National Food Co., who has been in Montreal and Quebec introducing their new package goods, says that business generally in Lower Canada appears to be improving.

John Hagey, one of Gillard & Co.'s knights, had a very painful accident last week, being thrown from his buggy, which left him unconscious for the greater part of the day. He is now hopeful of resuming his trip in a few days.

"OUR NATIONAL FOODS" IN NEW PACKAGES.

The Ireland National Food Co., Toronto, have made an important change in the style of their package goods. The new packages in which they send out their principal cereals are somewhat smaller, and they are encased in the most attractive lithographed covering of any that have been offered. The three principal lines are desiccated rolled oats, wheat and barley ; but they also put up a package of self-rising buckwheat flour. They have very appropriately made the chief feature of each label a colored sheaf of the grain from which the contents of the package are made. They will make cheap and very attractive shelf and window goods. The Ireland Co. have made a further improvement in the quality of the oats and barley by the adoption of an additional process which more effectively removes the hulls and foreign matter. How to get rid of these is the aim of every ambitious miller, and, judging from the samples now at THE GROCER office, they have made an important stride in the right direction.

TO SHUT OUT SPURIOUS TEA.

FURTHER tariff changes were announced in the House, Tuesday night, by the Minister of Finance.

The change of most importance to the grocery trade was one relating to adulterated tea.

Canada has long been the dumping ground for spurious tea that would not pass inspection at New York. And the Government has been from time to time urged to take measures to prevent the continuance of the practice. A step was made in the direction of complying with this when the Government decreed that all tea imported, when not direct from country of production, should pay a duty of 10 per cent. unless it was accompanied by a certificate showing that the tea had passed the customs of the country in which it had been brought as fit for consumption. Now it has been decided to prohibit the importation of adulterated tea altogether. The clause announcing this reads :

Tea adulterated with spurious leaf or with exhausted leaves, or which contains so great an admixture of chemical or other deleterious substance as to make it unfit for use, to be prohibited from entering Canada.

Other changes of interest to the trade are :

Lamp chimneys, 10 per cent. ad valorem.
Maple sugar, 20 per cent.

Under the old tariff the duty on lamp chimneys was 30 per cent. ad valorem.

Last Friday Wm. Dancy, ex-merchant, of Bobcaygeon, visited the circus in Lindsay and was very much interested in the walnut shell business, but not being as well posted in the game as he expected, he had to pay between one and two hundred dollars for his experience, and returned home a sadder but wiser man.

A POINT WELL TAKEN.

A BROOKLYN grocer, advertising in one of the daily papers, says Grocer's Review, advises patronizing a person who is educated by long study, and experience, in the business. This is a point well-taken, and a departure from the reasons ordinarily given to establish the tradesman's right to public preference. The attractions usually held out are all of a kind, and though a variety of methods are resorted to, the object is always an assurance that at the place mentioned more can be obtained for the money, either in quantity or quality, than elsewhere. When a tradesman makes any material reduction in the prices at which similar goods are generally sold, one of two conclusions can usually be drawn; either the merchant is doing business at a loss or the quality of his goods is not as represented; for the fluctuations of the market in grocers' supplies are not such as to affect an individual, except in rare instances. We take it for granted that no business is conducted, purposely, at a loss, although we are aware that it has been the policy of department stores and houses dealing in a variety of lines to sell well-known articles in general use at a loss, but only as a decoy to attract customers, from whom it was expected to make good the damage on other purchases which they might make. This is not, properly speaking, a legitimate business method, and we will consider the second conclusion only—that of a deteriorated article. Because a grocer sells inferior merchandise does not necessarily signify that he is a knave; he may be a fool, or at least, an incompetent judge. It makes no difference to the consumer, the result is the same. How often is the assertion made, that a certain article is "just as good" as something else of known quality, and that the goods offered have the additional merit of being much cheaper? A person who will reflect upon the conditions under which business is conducted, and consider the pressure which is brought to bear by competition in all lines to force prices down to a minimum, will readily perceive the impossibility of an individual or a class underselling, to any material extent, their contemporaries in the same line of business and still maintain the same or equal quality of merchandise. Yet many are deceived into the belief that such is the case, and are induced to buy inferior imitations of well-known brands with established reputations for quality, believing them to be equal to the latter in every respect. The average consumer must depend largely, not only upon the honesty, but also upon the judgment, of his grocer to supply him with what he requires, and a man deficient in a knowledge of his business may therefore deceive his customers, still having the best of intentions, and proposing only to serve their interests.

Our friend in Brooklyn says in his circular that it is of the utmost importance that what you eat and drink be clean and unadulterated. We do not think it worth while to expatiate upon the truth of this statement, for we believe that the majority of buyers intend that their purchases shall be such, and that whatever else they may get is through misrepresentation, intentional or otherwise. He further maintains that the adulterated and inferior imitations are more costly in the end, in that some essential constituent has been replaced by something less wholesome, less nutritious, and less expensive; and that the harm done by thus taking injurious substances into the system cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents. He concludes by stating that he has a thorough knowledge of his business, is a competent judge, and one who can be relied upon to furnish the best, and only the best, at prices in accordance with the quality supplied; a claim entirely compatible with existing circumstances and consistent with good reason and common sense, tending to establish confidence between the dealer and his customer. On the other hand, a grocer who advertises to furnish the best, at prices the same, or only slightly in advance of what is known to be inferior, renders himself liable to suspicion, and if he is honest he cannot be thoroughly posted in his business, or he could not be deceived into the belief that so wide a difference exists in the value of merchandise having the same intrinsic merits.

U. S. IMPORTS DRIED FRUIT.

DURING the month of May, 1894, there were imported into this country no less than 1,844,826 pounds of currants. The importations in May, 1893, amounted to only 68,867 pounds. This is according to the report of the Bureau of Statistics. During the eleven months ending May 31st, 1894, no less than 42,970,513 pounds have been imported. The importations in the eleven months ending May 31st, 1893, were 33,033,994 pounds. Statistics of consumption and stocks on hand do not appear to be available. It seems a reasonable conclusion that the stock on hand must be very heavy, since evidence is wanting of any great increase in consumption, despite the low prices that have ruled for the goods during the past few months. The increase of nearly 10,000,000 pounds in importations suggests that the force of circumstances at the primary sources of supply and the disposition to anticipate the proposed duty have together had a somewhat unfavorable if not a somewhat boomerang influence. A year ago ordinary stock, in barrels, realized 2⅝ to 2¾c. At the present time it is difficult to work deals in round lots of uncleaned stock at 2c. In the month of July last year currants in cases realized 3¼ to 5¼c.; they are selling now at 2½ to 3¼c. Cleaned currants are quoted now at 3¼ to 3¾c. in bulk, and 4 to 4½c. in cartons. In the early part of July last year they were quoted at 5¼ to 5½c. and 6¼ to 7c. respectively. The reduction in prices of the goods in original condition may fairly be attributed to the heavy supply. The decline in prices of cleaned currants is due to that fact and partly to the increased competition in the business of fruit cleaning.

Importations of raisins in the eleven months ending May 31, 1894, are shown to have been only 13,453,153 lbs., against 27,456,893 lbs. during the corresponding period last year, or over 50 per cent. California raisins have not gone into consumption at a corresponding rate, but liberally enough to place the foreign article considerably in the shade. The data relating to prunes are particularly interesting, showing as they do only 8,275,457 lbs. imported in the eleven months ending May 31, 1894, against 26,012,557 lbs. the year previous. This falling off was due in a good measure to the liberal supply and cheapness of California prunes. How the contest during the new season may end is problematical, but present indications are that France will have a heavy crop, and will ship freely to America. California will, it is calculated, make a heavy crop, so that upon the whole the chances would seem to be in favor of a liberal, if not inconveniently large supply.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

Keep cool.
Keep dry.
Keep packed in sawdust.
Keep in ordinary cellar.
Buy in small quantities.
Buy often.
Advise the consumer to keep in refrigerator.

What Not to Do

Don't pile up in window. Don't keep your stock in refrigerator. Don't pile on shelves or counter. Don't wait six months to find fault. Don't buy too much at a time, then goods will always be fresh. Don't say some other cheese is good enough.

WORK FAITHFULLY DONE.

TWO men employed by the city government, says an exchange, were conversing lately about their work.

"How much can you do in a day?" asked one.

"When I came to this place last fall," he replied with a smile at the recollection, "I was quite 'fresh,' and I worked with all my might. I did a big day's work every time," and he specified the amount. "But I have learned better since then. I do about a third now of what I did at first," and he seemed to feel quite proud of his increased worldly wisdom.

"When I am paid for a day's work I do it," said the other.

"Everybody knows your practice, and it will make you unpopular with the rest if you persist in being so exact to the minute in the morning, and in working your full time or over at night."

"I am willing to take the risk," said his friend decidedly. "It will be the first time I ever saw it work to a man's disadvantage, to do his duty honestly and faithfully."

"There is no use in being so particular," said another in the same line of work, "when you get your money just the same, whether you work or not."

It might look so on the surface, but even on the low ground of expediency, faithfulness was best.

Troublesome investigating committees have a fashion of coming around at times and making a good deal of disturbance where they are honestly conducted. It is not the really useful workers who are weeded out. It is the nature, too, of all dishonest proceedings to multiply themselves, and sometimes losing his place is the least of the evils that befalls such a workman.

In these days, when every perjury seems so common, a young man cannot take too great pains to have his character rooted and grounded in truth. Nothing short of it will save him from a thousand pitfalls. "Being found out" is a small consideration compared with being dishonest; and being dishonest in the matter of time is the same in principle as being too free with an employer's money. The responsibility is not the least lessened when that employer is the Government of the United States.

The first year of a boy's business life often decides much with regard to his future course. When the Duke of Wellington stood in his later years overlooking the playground of his boyish school days and observed the skill and science and endurance of the lads, busy with their athletic games, he said with warm interest and sympathy: "It was here that Waterloo was won!" Many a youth has won or lost his Waterloo in just such unconscious moments. That was a sad day for Napoleon, but not in the least more disastrous than for one to lose the battle of life.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

A book, entitled "How to Get Money," published away back in the fifties, contains, according to an exchange, the following on advertising:

"Whatever your occupation or calling may be, if it needs support from the public, advertise it thoroughly and efficiently in some shape or other that will arrest public attention. I freely confess that what success I have had in life may be attributed more to the public press than to nearly all other causes combined. There may possibly be occupations that do not require advertising, but I cannot well conceive what they are. Men in business will sometimes tell you that they have tried advertising and it did not pay. This is only when advertising is done sparingly and grudgingly. Homeopathic doses of advertising will not pay, perhaps; it is like a portion of physic, making the patient sick, but effecting nothing. Administer liberally and the cure will be permanent. Some say they cannot afford to advertise. They mistake: they cannot afford not to advertise. In this country, where everybody reads the newspapers, it will be seen that these are the cheapest and best media through which persons can speak to the public, where they are to find their customers. Put on the appearance of business and generally the reality will follow. The farmer plants his seed, and while he is sleeping his corn and potatoes are growing. So with advertising. While you are sleeping or eating, or conversing with one of your customers, your advertisement is being read by hundreds and thousands of persons who never saw you or heard of your business, and never would had it not been for your advertisement appearing in the newspapers."

EARLY CLOSING OF STORES.

WINNIPEG is to try the experiment of the compulsory closing of retail stores at a fixed hour. Some time ago an act was passed by the provincial legislature, giving municipal councils the power, upon petition of retail dealers in any particular branch of trade, to pass a by-law providing that stores should be closed at a given hour. The act has heretofore been a dead letter, but lately an effort has been made to have it enforced in Winnipeg. The requisite number of signatures has been obtained in several branches of trade, to a petition asking that the act be put into effect, and at the last meeting of the council the necessary by-law was passed. The by-law provides for the closing of grocery, boot and shoe, jewelry and hardware stores and tailoring shops. The effect of the working of the by-law will be watched with interest. While there seems to be something harsh about compelling stores to be closed at a certain hour, it is certainly more harsh and unjust to compel clerks to work such an unreasonably long number of hours each day, as is customary in this country. Some may say that the clerks are not compelled to work these hours, as they can give up their jobs; but clerks have to earn their living, and though in theory they are not compelled to accept a position which necessitates their working twelve to fifteen hours per day, they are practially compelled by force of circumstances to fulfil the requirements of this unreasonable system of long hours. If the system of long hours is unreasonable and unjust to the employees in stores, as all admit that it is, it seems justifiable for the state to interfere to correct the abuse. Really the first duty of the state is to provide for the welfare of its subjects, and those who are obliged to earn a living in any capacity as employees, have a right to the protection of the state from a system which is unjust to employees, and which is really an abuse of the power of employers. The great majority of merchants, we believe, are in favor of early closing, but they have been forced into the long hour system by the few. If all close at the same time, business will not be injured in any way, the distribution of custom will not be interfered with, and the general public will not be seriously inconvenienced.—Commercial Winnipeg.

E. B. Eddy, the Hull lumberman, has again taken to himself a wife. It never did seem very difficult for him to make a "match."—Winnipeg Free Press.

THE FIRST ROLLER MILL.

In 1879 H. B. Rathbun & Son, Deseronto, Ont., placed with a Canadian firm of mill furnishers the order for a 75-barrel mill, the equipment to include smooth rollers on the breaks. The mill was in due time completed and started up, but failed to make the quality and quantity of flour which had been "nominated in the bond." Ira Wescott, superintendent with John T. Noye & Sons, Buffalo, N.Y., was sent for, and on visiting the mill it was arranged to increase the capacity of the mill to 150 barrels with a full roller outfit. A new roller corrugation, invented by John Stevens, of Neenah, Wis., was put in, and in due time the Deseronto mill was completed and started up with results which were very gratifying to the Rathbun Co. The products of the mill worked quickly into favor, and the patent under the brand "Crown Jewel" sold far and wide. Thus it is the Rathbun Co. properly claim to be pioneers in the use of Stevens' roller system, and to have been owners of the first all-roller mill in Canada.

A SOAP FIRM ASSIGNS.

The assignment of G. F. Mott, soap manufacturer, was heard with regret on the streets the other afternoon. It is understood the assignment was caused or hastened by the result of a big gold mine case in which he was interested. The assets and liabilities are not yet known. The preferential creditors are : Union Bank, $15,000 ; Catherine Ann Mott, $1,000 ; Elizabeth J. Mott, $1,000 ; Sarah E. Howe, $2,800 ; W. B. McDonald, $1,000. Lyons, Lyons, Mellish & Tobin are also preferred for the amount of their legal charges. John G. Trider is the assignee.—Chronicle, Halifax.

The Collar Expanded

Our latest specialty for the tea trade is a 1-lb. Folding Caddy, on which we have just been granted a patent by the Dominion Government. It is in appearance an exact representation of a regular China tea chest with matting, and as a tea package beats everything on the market for three reasons :

1st. Because it is much cheaper than a hand-made box.

2nd. Because being a knock-down box it takes up little or no room, and

3rd. Because being a machine made box there is no paste or glue to taint the tea, which has been one of the greatest objections to the old style tea caddies.

SIGNS of disintegration have made their appearance in the organization known as the Toronto Fruit and Produce Exchange. This is to be regretted. The primary object of the Exchange is to curtail credits; not to fix or regulate prices. And for this it is entitled to the support and sympathy of all who desire to see the evils of the credit system eliminated from business. There are two sets of rules in the Exchange regarding collections. One relates to city customers and the other to country customers. Those dealing with the former decree that all goods sold on credit up to Friday night of each week must be paid for on the Monday succeeding. The debtor who fails to comply is placed on the delinquent list, and all members of the Exchange are enjoined, under penalty of a fine from selling him on credit until such account is liquidated. Country customers are required to pay their bills the first Saturday in each month. Taking notes, accepting cheques dated ahead, or holding a cheque longer than the next banking day succeeding that upon which the cheque is received, are among the things for which the members must withhold. At first, and before its objects were understood, there was a good deal of opposition to the Exchange by the retail fruit dealers, but as its objects and aims became known better, this nearly all vanished, and now, only a few months after its inception, its principles are generally endorsed.

All the members of the wholesale fruit trade are not members of the Exchange. The largest firm in Toronto, for instance, is not. But whatever dangers may have arisen to threaten the existence of the Exchange, they are not the making of foes without. They are rather because of the action of those within. In the first place, through inadvertence, customers were placed on the delinquent list who should not have been; and now one member at least has seceded because other members have not been faithful to the rules of the Exchange regarding credits, and the penalties were not enforced. This is the most serious danger that has yet threatened the existence of the Exchange. When members of such an organization as that lose faith in each other, it's good-morning to it, unless, peradventure, it can be restored. It lives by faith. A paltry fine will never keep the Exchange intact, when that quality is lacking. Since the Exchange came into existence much benefit has accrued to its members, in the way of shortening the terms of credit particularly, and it is to be hoped that the dangers now threatening it may drive the members more closely together, and to a better observance and enforcement of the rules than is claimed to now obtain.

Retail grocers have but few recreation days. And the fact is none the less true because it is the fault of a system which is of their own building. Next Wednesday, the 25th inst., is one of the days in the year of grace when the retail grocers of Toronto disport themselves. On that day the Retail Grocers' Association holds its annual excursion to Niagara Falls and Buffalo. All who can should take it in. Much of the friction that exists in the trade to-day is because of mutual jealousies. These jealousies in turn are largely the result of a want of acquaintanceship of the members of the trade with each other. It is obvious, then, that the larger the circle of acquaintanceship gets the broader will become the views of the trade, the wider its charity, and the fewer the evils which it has to contend with. The excursion on Wednesday next will afford the opportunity of the year for propagating the spirit of goodfellowship in the trade, and no grocer should miss taking advantage of it. A good many will close their stores on that day. Others there are who probably will be unable to see their way clear to do so, but if they cannot close up, they can leave their clerks in charge and go themselves. The clerks can be given another day. But where it is possible, everybody should try and close up. And then the advantage to be gained by rubbing shoulders together is supplemented by the benefit to health that will accrue from the day's outing.

Ratified at last has been the treaty between the Dominion of Canada and France. At the last session of the House of Commons, it will be remembered, Canada's acquiescence in the treaty was deferred because of certain obscurities surrounding it. Prominent among these were the meaning of the items of "fish preserved in their natural form" and "soap." During the year that intervened between the last session of Parliament and the present, the Finance Minister had correspondence with the French Government in regard to these obscurities, with the result that they were explained away; and he was warranted in last week urging the ratification of the treaty. The item in regard to canned fish interpreted means that Canadian canned fish, as ordinarily understood, will be allowed entry into France under the minimum tariff, while that relating to soap means Castile soap only will be allowed special privileges under the Canadian tariff. The House complied, but it was not without some opposition. Not much of the opposition was of a party character; in fact, the leader of the Opposition and several of his followers voted for ratification. It was those who took up the cudgels in behalf of the prohibitionists and the grape growers that presented the strongest front against the proposition; although those who held that Canada was getting the worst of the bargain were by no means an insignificant company.

As far as the protests of the prohibitionists are concerned, the fact that the treaty can be abrogated after due notice has been given will be ample protection to their interests should the Dominion ever adopt a prohibitory law. Then as to the grape growers and wine makers, it is the opinion that they still have a fair meed of protection. As for Canada's end of the bargain, what that will be is yet largely a matter of speculation. In agreements of this kind the smaller party usually has to take the smaller share of the benefits; and that is what it looks like in the present instance. That is yet, however, to be demonstrated by the actual working of the treaty. But supposing that Canada has not got the big end of the stick, or even half of it, is it not better to have a small part than none at all? In other words, will not Canada enjoy privileges under the treaty that she otherwise would not? The fact alone that we shall be able to get access to the French market with certain articles under the minimum tariff that we otherwise would practically be unable to get there at all, is evidence that we will.

LIGHT STRAWBERRY PACK.

THE pack of strawberries this season is not as large as last year. There seems to be no doubt about this. The damage sustained by the crop is the cause of the decrease. As a result firmer prices may be anticipated the ensuing season. A marked appreciation, however, is not probable. The strawberry pack of late years has ruled large, with the result that season after season large quantities have been carried over. The past year was no exception to the rule, and so, if the pack should be even so short that it will be exceeded by the demand, there is still some of last season's goods to draw upon. People may probably have to pay a little more for canned strawberries than they did last season, but there is no fear about their being able to get a sufficiency. At any rate it is a question whether as many strawberries would have been packed this season whatever the nature of the crop might have been. One of the objects of the Packers' Association, when the Selling Committee was organized some months ago, was to regulate the pack; and as strawberries was particularly one of the lines in which the pack had been excessive, there is ground for suspecting that in any event there would not have been so many put up as usual.

ONTARIO'S ARBITRATION LAW.

ONE of the most difficult social questions that has for years been occupying the attention of economists is how to settle grievances between capital and labor.

One of the means most advocated in order to secure the end is arbitration. And so strong has faith in its efficacy become that legislative bodies throughout the world are creating machinery to carry out the principle.

At the last session of the Ontario Legislature, it, too, fell into line, enacting what is now known as "The Ontario Trade Disputes Conciliation and Arbitration Act, 1894."

The Act is what may be termed double-barrelled in character.

One set of machinery is for the settlement of difficulties between railway companies and their employees, and the other is for adjudicating difficulties between all other kinds of employers and their employees.

There are what are termed councils of conciliation and councils of arbitration.

The council of conciliation consists of four conciliators. To this body the dispute is first submitted. Should this body fail to bring about a settlement, the matter goes on to the council of arbitration. That body consists of three members, two appointed by the Lieut.-Governor, on recommendation of employer and employees respectively. The third, who presides, is appointed on the recommendation of the other arbitrators. Each council holds office for two years.

A claim or dispute under the Act includes such matters of dispute between employers and employees of ten or more in number as these: (1) The price to be paid for work done; (2) damages alleged to have been done to work, delay in finishing same, etc.; (3) the price to be paid for mining; (4) the performance or non-performance of any stipulation or matter alleged to have been in an agreement; (5) insufficient or unwholesome food supplied to employees where there is an agreement in regard thereto; (6) ill-ventilated or dangerous workings or places in mines or unwholesome or unsanitary rooms or other places of accommodation in which work is being performed; (7) the dismissal or employment under agreement of employees; (8) the dismissal of employees for their connection with any trade or labor organization.

Both councils have power to enforce the attendance of witnesses and to examine them under oath.

The report of the award of the council of arbitration is to be made within one month after the council has completed its sittings, and, provided each party to the dispute had agreed, prior to the hearing of the same, to be bound by the award, the award may be enforced by legal proceedings.

Remuneration of members of council of arbitration is fixed at $3 for preliminary meetings, $4 for whole day sittings. The members of the board of arbitration are to be remunerated in such manner and at such rate as the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council may appoint. Witnesses are entitled to the same fees as in the Division Court.

There is now in the Province of Ontario the machinery for adjudicating differences between capital and labor, and if disputants fail to take advantage of it, the fault will not be with our legislators. They have done their part; and it now devolves upon employers and wage-earners to do theirs when occasion demands, instead of going into open warfare, unsettling trade and inflicting injury upon themselves directly and others indirectly, as is always the case to a more or less extent where strikes obtain.

POOR EXPRESS DELIVERY.

COMPETITION is needed badly in express transporta ion in Canada, especially with the Canadian Express Co. Unless they amend their ways, slow freight will get there before them. The other day a parcel was left with them at 2 p.m. to forward by a regular 4.35 p.m. train. The depot is only five minutes distant, but the package was not sent until some time at night. When spoken to the only response was that if the shippers wanted to catch that train they should have taken the parcel to the station themselves.

Complaints are also made that employees steal fruit and other commodi ies in transit, and there can be no doubt of it. No satisfaction, however, can be got from the company. The time is not far distant when the post office department will handle much of the business now done by the express companies, and continued inattention to the needs of the public will bring on that period sooner than anything else. In Germany, especially, the post office does a very large and profitable parcel business, such articles as tea, sugar, coffees, etc., being largely delivered in that way.

JAPAN TEA OUTLOOK.

"THE Japan tea market is on the mend," said a tea broker to THE GROCER'S Montreal correspondent on Saturday last. "In fact the most interesting phase of the grocery market at present is the improved demand for early teas in Japan, which, according to my cables show a noticeable change for the better. The stock remaining there is now held at an advance of from $1 to $2 per picul above what was paid for shipments in the early part of June. The settlements are about 10 per cent. in advance of what they were last year, but this, however, was almost entirely due to the earlier opening of the season.

"At the same time the fact remains that the yield of first crop teas is actually smaller than what it was last year. A result of this is that early teas are not plentiful, and it is my opinion that those who are in a position to hold such for awhile, can realize higher prices. Stocks in Montreal, also in my opinion, are in better shape than last year, and, altogether I think the Japan tea trade has a much healthier outlook than a year ago. All depends, however, upon the trade having nerve enough to hold on for higher prices, which in my opinion are sure to come."

A letter from Yokohama was shown THE GROCER man in relation to the same matter which was much to the same effect. It was as follows :

"During the early part of the interval business at the two ports was continued with great a tivity, but more recently there has been a slackening in the demand. The first crop is now practically exhausted. The second crop teas are arriving with a fair degree of freedom, and thus far appear of good average quality. As to values, while some irregularity is noticeable here and there, the result of the less eager attitude of buyers, prices on the whole cannot be quoted down, as the falling off in quality fully compensates any apparent decline. The arrivals are 50,691 piculs; settlements, 52,516; stock, 8,340. At Hiogo the arrivals are 37.330 piculs; settlements, 38,815; stock, 2,035. The settlements up to date at both points amount to 214,011 piculs, against 182,955 piculs at the same time last year and 194,275 in 1892. The amount exported to Canada up to date is 1,511,122 pounds, as against 1,351,477 at the same time last year, and 1,863,638 in 1892."

THE TRAVELERS' PROMENADE.

TORONTO'S City Trave'ers' Association held its second annual promenade concert Monday evening last. And 'twas a "a jolly good company" that took it in.

About 1000 of the youth and beauty of the city crowded their way on board the steamer Chippewa, bent on having a good time. And they got it, which is nothing unusual with anything the travelers father.

About 9 o'clock the big steamer left her wharf and lazily made her way out through the western gap into the lake, where for nearly three hours she steamed about to nearly all points of the compass, seemingly having no other care than the pleasure of the crowd of exuberant spirits she was carrying. The mo n looked down through an almost cloudless sky, and the breezes, while cool, were not sufficiently so to cause uncomfortableness.

The arrangements made by the committee for the entertainment of its guests were excellent. On the promenade deck was stationed the band of the Royal Grenadiers. Aft of the main deck was Glionna's orchestra, around which were gathered many score of laughing dancers. In the ladies' cabin a recherche program of vocal and instrumental music and readings was digested under the direction of R. M. Corrie. Those who contibuted to the program were : The Harmony Quartette (Chas. Dimmock, R. Gorrie, W. H. Adamson, Fred. T. Verral); Mr. Harrison, piano soloist; George Barron, baritone soloist; Mr. Osborne, mandolin soloist; E. B. Piggott, comic; Mr. Howitt, bass soloist; A. J. Tipping, tenor soloist; Neil Burton, elocutionist. By no means the least point of attraction was for'ard on the main deck. Here was located Chas. Parsons, banjoist; Albert Irving, mouth organist; and Albert Taylor, banjoist; and around them circled many jovial spirits with good voices, and a knowledge of, seemingly, all the popular and topical songs in existence. The smoking room was turned into a card room, but the attractions were too strong elsewhere for it to be well patronized.

The second annual promenade concert of the City Travelers' Association was a successful affair in every respect, and the committee of management is to be congratulated.

A SOAP MAN MARRIES.

The Handsworth Herald and North Birmingham News (England) of June 16 contains the following :

"Before a large congregation at St. Silas', Lozells, on Wednesday, the marriage took place of Thomas E. Owens, of Picton, Ont., Canada, and Miss Annie Pearce, the eldest daughter of Henry Pearce, of Hunter's Road, Handsworth. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. D. A. Maxwell, M.A., vicar. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a charming dress of cream serge, trimmed with white fur. There were three bridesmaids—two sisters and a cousin of the bride—the dresses of the two former being of yellow crepon, trimmed with lace to match, and that of the latter similar to the dress of the bride. Each carried a lovely bouquet, that of the bride being of magnificent white roses and lilies. Albert Assender was the bridegroom's best man. Subsequently a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, the guests being chiefly relatives of the bride and bridegroom. A large number of valuable presents, including several of sterling silver, were received. During the afternoon the bride and bridegroom left for London prior to their departure for Montreal."

The groom, Mr. Owens, is a member of the Century Co., the Picton, Ont., soap manufacturers, and THE GROCER tenders congratulations.

CORRECTION.

A paragraph appeared in last week's GROCER to the effect that "A. Campbell, a prominent business man of Lockport, Ont.," was dead. The paragraph, which was clipped from an exchange, was incorrect. That this was so we are reminded by the following :

LAKEPORT, ONT., July 16, 1894.

THE J. B. MCLEAN PUB. CO., Toronto.

Gentlemen,—We wish to contradict the statement that appeared in the last issue of THE GROCER, of the death of A. Campbell, of this place. It was A. Campbell's wife. Please have this attended to and oblige.

Yours respectfully,

CREDIT IN COUNTRY STORES.

A MANITOBAN merchant named Clifford has issued a pamphlet on the subject, "Credit in Country Stores," and THE GROCER herewith reproduces it for the benefit of its large constituency. The writer launches into his subject without any preliminary exercises, and in the following manner:

That we should all be the better for paying for the necessaries of life, our food and clothing, as we use them, will I think be admitted by all. Is such a method of living practicable with us? is a subject this pamphlet proposes to discuss.

A cash system is a hard system to get into when times are bad, but when they are "booming" we do not realize that the same necessity exists. The People's Store was started with the object of gradually working from a credit to a cash system by making a difference between the price of goods bought on credit and those paid for in cash; but unless some more decided step is taken this object will never be attained, for there is always a tendency to expect more accommodation from the local store because it is a local institution, than from a firm that has its headquarters at some distant point. The local merchant being more in touch with his customers, having more opportunities of speaking to them and knowing their financial position, to some extent admits this claim, but one exaggeration grows out of another till some begin to treat, even if they do not maintain it in so many words, the local store as a charitable institution and not as a business one. "If I can't get my groceries on credit till fall, I don't know how I shall pull through," "I'm ashamed to ask you for credit, but—" and similar phrases are I think familiar to all country storekeepers, while many are the men who count themselves excellent customers to the local store because they pay their bill regularly at the end of twelve months.

To give the best satisfaction to all, a business should be run strictly on business lines. We should not look for credit where we have to apologize for asking for it. No one thinks of apologizing to a loan company when they apply for an advance on farm property. The loan company's business is to advance money at interest, the storekeeper's business is to turn over his capital as frequently as possible.

Let us look for a moment into some of the causes that have led to the credit system in this country, to a system that has given men the idea that they are "good pay" if they settle up at the end of a year. First and foremost, this system has been bred by the fact of Manitoba being a new country; everything starts at sea level as it were; to have left it alone for a hundred years, it would not have gone behind what it was twenty years ago, because at that time it was practically untouched by men, therefore every step taken was an advance, every acre cultivated, every building added was a step towards a development that practically has no limit. This at once created a feeling of confidence; men had no hesitation to buy, and sellers parted readily with their goods, not on the credit of the purchaser, but because of the confidence they had in the country. But in making their calculations they omitted to reckon time, forgot that no matter what the resources of the country were, and they are to-day just as great as ever, it must take time as well as capital to bring about that development; hence promises to pay in comparatively short time were given and accepted without due consideration for unforseen risks and the time necessary to produce the desired returns, and it is the awakening to these facts that largely tends to the want of confidence and consequent general depression of to-day. The fault was on both sides; the salesman was too ready to part with his goods, for he was confident the amount was to be got out of the land. What does it matter to a man, from a business point of view, whether you or I can hold on to what we have, provided that when we are wiped out our 160 acres are in such a locality and state of cultivation that some one else will take hold of it where we left off? Many are the complaints raised against machine companies and horse dealers because they have persuaded farmers to purchase what they could have done without. But they were simply business institutions; their object was to make sales and get their money, and it was for the purchaser to know whether he required the money or whether he could purchase them without sacrificing what he already had. The greatest fault was on the part of the purchaser, hence the punishment falls heaviest on him. The salesman was likewise sometimes at fault in estimating the ability of his customer to pay, hence he suffers in proportion, and the depression is felt by both parties.

Another cause is that the returns of our year's labor only come in once a year so long as we depend on wheat alone; and a man who has practically been without money for eight months seems to be unable to hold it when he gets it; hence in the years when wheat was a high price, or a big yield, many could see nothing better than to at once invest the balance of their earnings, after paying their debts (some not even waiting to do that) in land, more machinery or some similar article which could not be turned into money again at a moment's notice should an emergency like the present arise.

But there is another cause which more directly affects the country store than those just cited. The bigger the profits the bigger the risk, and in order to increase his business the merchant will sell on credit, increasing the percentage on his goods to what he thinks will cover the risk of bad debts; so that if he knows a customer has only $100 cash to spend, but will buy $150 worth of goods if given till fall to pay for them, he will naturally take the risk, which, supposing his man to be industrious and on a good farm, is small, and thus increases his business fifty per cent., otherwise the trade will go elsewhere. Provided the storekeeper adheres strictly to business principles, and selects only such credit customers as he knows to be reliable, his risk is small compared with the increase of business he gains. But in taking these risks the storekeeper opens the door to the man who looks upon him as a charitable institution. "If I pay the cash to you a creditor will sue me for an old debt," "I can give you no security beyond my note, but will make it a point to pay you first if you will only see me through till fall," "You know I paid you up before, won't you trust me again?" and so they follow one another. There is not a single one amongst them who would admit that he was dishonest, that he is getting goods under false pretences or that he is not a man of his word, but that the merchant knows from experience that a percentage of these debts will be bad, but that he must wait till fall to get his suspicions confirmed. Why is it that the storekeeper does not draw a hard and fast line that will exclude these customers? Because in doing so he would dismiss a large number who will pay when they say they will; he therefore adds an extra ten per cent. on the goods he sells to all, to cover the loss which he knows is there but cannot detect till it is too late.

By carrying on a strictly cash store all this bad debt risk is wiped out, but in a place the size of ours and situated the way we are, the question arises, can we guarantee a sufficiently large business to warrant anyone running a permanent cash store?

Five years ago a store with a stock worth $4,000 supplied us with an assortment of dry goods, groceries, general merchandise, and hardware. To-day a general store requires a stock worth at least $8,000, exclusive of hardware, to carry the assortment desired. The interest on this amount at 10 per cent. is $2.65 per working day, while the cost of attendance, fuel, light, rent, taxes, and insurance, cannot be paid for with less than $5.35 per day. Selling goods at 12½ per cent. margin, it would require a business of $67 per day to pay expenses; at 15 per cent. margin, it would require $58 per day, while if only $29 was taken in, goods would have to be sold at 30 per cent. to pay expenses, and it makes no difference whether the proprietor attends to the counter himself or pays another to take his place, the working expenses chargeable to the business will be the same in either case.

We have no transient trade in Austin, no one coming on a holiday from a distance who will spend a little money in presents for themselves and their friends before leaving. The country store's business is the same the year round; the same customers with much the same requirements for their households one year as another, therefore if a cash store is to exist it must look for support from the immediate neighborhood. Can we guarantee 200 customers who will average $90, or 150 customers who will average $120 per year at the very least? If not, it will not pay one to carry a stock such as we require and sell goods near a 15 per cent. margin.

This is the view the merchant takes of the situation and the answer is plain to each of us. Make no more effort than we have done in the past towards getting into a cash system and it will be impossible to run a cash store in Austin.

As business is carried on at present, some pay their year's bill in the fall, and some at the end of every three months, and some at end of every month. If then we can pay at the end of our stated term, why not at the beginning? If we pay $100 every fall, why not let it be paid in for what we shall require instead of always for what we have had? If we can pay $10 into the store on June 1st, why not pay that $10 for June, not for May? This is reversing the order of things. I wonder what our opinion would be of the merchant to whom we had paid $100 in advance, and he was to tell us with a long face that he had really meant to supply the goods but on account of hard times, etc., he could neither supply the goods nor return the money. No! no! this is a string we have always attached to our own bow, and comes in too handy with many of us nearly every year, to part with. Many will tell you they would pay cash if they could catch up with the back debts, and the next moment turn round and buy a horse or some machinery to be paid for out of the next crop. The real reason that the cash system is not more general, is that we will spend any length of time talking about it, but we will not make the effort necessary to bring about the adoption of the system.

It is not correct to say the cash customer pays for the bad debts; the credit customer who pays, pays for the credit customer who doesn't. The ten per cent. added to cover bad debts is returned to the cash customer in the form of discount, though were every article sold on a cash basis the cash customer would probably get goods to better advantage than he does at present. Still a cash store at Austin cannot be expected to sell every item at the lowest price quoted elsewhere, though the cash customer being more independent and more desirable than the credit one, a merchant will invariably try and quote a price to suit him. Some firms will sell an article as a "leader" at cost or less than cost; others will have a line of bankrupt stock, whilst some doing a larger business with a larger range of customers require a smaller margin to cover running expenses, and I have seen goods quoted by retail dealers in the larger towns at the wholesale prices quoted to small country storekeepers; but I am convinced that even supposing we could not buy much cheaper by paying cash, we should find our position greatly improved by having no store bill to meet in the fall.

I do not wish to be understood as condemning the system of dealing on credit, for without it business and speculation would be dead, but what is to be avoided is the abuse of it, as instanced in our own province. It may pay us to raise a percentage of the value of the farm on the security of the whole; it may pay a man with a hundred acres of crop to buy a binder by instalments, so that instead of paying out $100 cash a year for having his crop cut for him, he may pay the same sum to a machine company for a couple of years and then own a binder for himself, or it may pay him to purchase a team, paying only half their value in cash and the balance when, by the use of them, he has earned it; but it is an abuse of the credit system for a man with 30 or 40 acres of crop to buy a binder because he can get it on time, or to consume his groceries and wear out his clothes months, not to say years, before he has paid for them; for the necessities of life do not earn their own value—they are an expense which must be paid for by deducting from the profits of the industry we follow.

In conclusion—(1) No man should be able to purchase goods on credit without having material security, either in the articles themselves or in collaterals, to offer in exchange.

(2) No man should expect credit in a business deal merely because he is known to be honest; no praise is due to a man for being honest, but no condemnation is too severe if he is dishonest.

the price at which goods can be sold in it, depend entirely upon the support it receives from the neighborhood. The volume of business, cash and credit combined, being done in Austin during the present year would not warrant a cash store at prices that would be satisfactory to purchasers.

(4) No one need expect to pay cash for what his household will require for nine months or a year by merely making up his mind to do so. He must make some provision by which he can carry out his determination, and if necessary set apart a certain quantity of wheat or cattle, or start a savings bank account, and no matter where he buys his goods, have the money so placed that he can spend it for no other purpose than for supplying himself and family with household requirements, and now is the time to think the matter over and see what would be the best to do for next year.

(5) If a cash store is to be started in Austin, its object should be to better the community and not a mere excuse for refusing credit to long-winded customers, and this can be done by treating all, from the railroad tramp to the Governor-General, alike, by selling to all at the same price when, and only when, they have the money. If you allow a man credit for three hours, why not for three days, and if you allow one man credit for three days, why not allow another who owns several times the value of property credit for three months?

(6) It has always been the endeavor of the management of The People's Store to make it worthy of this name, and if the proprietor can assist in such a movement as the one above suggested, he will be pleased to do it; if, however, the verdict is that only a credit store can exist, he will, as already intimated, retire as soon after October the first as possible, for the reason that the direction of a credit store requires more attention and time than he can devote to it.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

THE dry goods wholesalers have now got clearly into fall business, while the manufacturers' agents are booking orders for next spring. In the warehouses the unsold balances of summer stock—and these are not large—are being put away behind counters or on the top of shelves. The full attention of every person in every department is being turned to the opening up of fall goods, and marking, ticketing and arranging these. There will be full display in the warehouses inside of a month, but shipping on fall account will not be very general until after August 4th.

Retailers are ordering much more freely than two weeks ago. True the orders are not so large as last year, nor is the total volume to date equal to last season. Nevertheless summer stocks have been materially lightened and retailers are deciding that they must buy fall goods some time or other. When the shelves begin to show bare, travelers can make better impressions and customers have better heart.

Japanese silks are reported to be much stronger in primary market. They have been very low for some time, and the rise is due no doubt to the increased demand from America.

MONTREAL MARKET.

The week has witnessed little change in the position of the dry goods market; a few sorting orders are coming in from travelers now out for summer lines of goods, but, in the main, business is very quiet. With regard to fall orders, a very cautious spirit seems to actuate buyers, and it is yet too early to speak of business in this connection with any degree of authority.

Wm. Agnew & Co. received during the week some of their fine lines of dress goods, and shipped them without opening the packages on orders already in hand.

Brophy, Cains & Co. have now on hand some of their fine lines of fall dress goods. They invite their friends to give their representatives a few minutes when called upon, feeling assured that they will be repaid for the trouble of an inspection of their samples.

THE LONDON GROCERS' PICNIC.

The fourth annual picnic of the Retail Grocers' Association of London will take place Wednesday next, 25th inst. London's grocers are progressive in matters of pleasure as well as in matters of business; and it is not surprising therefore that THE GROCER'S correspondent in the Forest City writes that next Wednesday's picnic "promises to eclipse all former efforts in that line." As each one, however, has been better than its predecessor, a good many will wonder how that can really be. But London grocers laugh at difficulties and cry "it shall be done" when they undertake to do a thing. All London's grocers will be there. That is a foregone conclusion, for they always close up on picnic day. Country merchants in the vicinity of London should do the same thing and go to the picnic. At any rate they should take in the picnic whether they close up or no.

NOT SURE OF HIMSELF.

Over-confidence has been the ruin of many a man. It is better not to boast, but rather to remember ourselves, lest we also be tempted. So thought a venerable negro, mentioned by the Washington Star.

He had applied for work.

"So you want to do chores for us?" said the gentleman on whom he had called.

"'Deed I does."

"Well, I don't know. You look as if you were honest"—

"Colonel, I'll tell yer de troof 'bout dat."

"Very good."

"Well, yer see, I specks I'se pufficly hones', but I kain't be sho."

"Why not?"

"'Kase I aint had 'nough 'sperience. I'se wifstood watermillions all right 'nough, but I aint nebber had no face-ter-face temptations wid chickens."

S. F. McKinnon & Co., filed suit, Monday, against W. H. Trebelcock, a former London merchant and C. B. Armstrong, to whom Trebelcock recently assigned, to set aside as preferences a judgment of $8,000 given to McMaster & Co., and one of $2,000 to Harriet Armstrong, mother of the assignee.

Good butter in Philadelphia sells very high. Fifty cents is quite a common price. More indifferent qualities, of course, can be procured for a less price. The butter made by the Quaker families of Darlington and Sharpless is widely known, and for twenty years the Darlington butter has sold for $1 a pound. The supply is limited, and new customers have to wait for old customers to die before they can buy it.

Twelve men have just completed the shearing of 15,000 sheep on the ranch at Swift Current. Two of them, Australians, sheared 150 per day each. The clip averages about 7 lbs. The lamb crop has been exceptionally good.

W. H. Stevens, proprietor of the Kent Mills, Chatham, predicts that the ruling price for the new wheat crop will be 50c. a bushel. He considers that dealers have been paying far in excess of the price warranted by the market, either present or prospective.

J. Cameron, representing the J. B. McLean Co., of Toronto, is in the city on his way to the coast. The publications represented are THE CANADIAN GROCER, BOOKS AND NOTIONS, THE HARDWARE MERCHANT, DRY GOODS REVIEW, and THE PRINTER AND PUBLISHER.—Free Press, Winnipeg.

The Yarmouth Creamery Co. have been operating their factory for a week past and are turning out a prime quality of butter. An average of 5,700 lbs. of milk, is taken in daily, from which 275 lbs. of butter is made. It is reported that the manager, a young man from Ontario, says that although he made the butter which took the prize at the World's Fair, he never saw the equal of the article he is now making for fine flavor. A GOOD PLACE TO REST.

An exchange tells of a man who went into a store and asked if he could rest four or five hours. The proprietor, who had just found a nest of new born mice in the coffee grinder, told him he could, and then asked why he did not go to a hotel. The man replied: I am suffering from nervous prostration, and the doctor told me to find a quiet place to rest, and as I see you do not advertise I knew I could not find a quieter place, and with that he settled back in his chair and watched the swallows build a nest in the cheese case.

Indurated Fibreware

from Induratus (Latin) hardened, and Fibre (French) the fine, stringy substance found in animals and plants,

Is a ware made of the toughest wood fibre, prepared and pressed into shape by tremendous hydraulic pressure, and hardened or indurated by chemical process. It was first manufactured in this country in 1884, has been constantly improved on since, and has now reached the acme of perfection.

Indurated Fibreware is made into Tubs, Pails, Pans, Wash Basins, Cuspidors, etc., and its peculiar advantages are :

Will not shrink or swell.
Will not taint milk or any liquor.
Cannot leak, water-soak or rust.
Has no hoops to rust or drop off.
Being seamless, bottom cannot drop out.
Is lighter than a wooden pail.
Is proof against kerosene, benzine, vinegar, and ordinary acids.

In addition to its many superior qualities, it is forced upon the notice of the public by the most persistent and aggressive advertising throughout Canada.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 19, 1894.

GROCERIES.

TRADE exhibits more life than it has for some weeks, but it is almost altogether on country account. City trade is quiet, but little else could be expected, however, when so many families are away at holiday resorts. The feeling in sugars is stronger than a week ago, in sympathy with the New York market, but there has been no advance in prices. The demand is a little better for sugars, and is still improving. But the interest is principally centred around the tea market. The second shipment of new season's Japan teas arrived here Monday, and they are receiving some attention. Samples of new season's Moning Congous and Ceylon teas are also being shown, and like the Japan teas, are showing exceptionally good value. Shipments of the Ceylon tea are expected to arrive within a few days, and the Moning Congous will probably be to hand about the middle of next month. The only new feature in canned goods is a firmer feeling in peas in consequence of the reported light pack. Fresh shipments of green Rio coffee are on the market, and there is a good demand for them at steady prices. A little more activity has been developed in molasses. A few fresh shipments of Valencia raisins have arrived during the past week, but there is still a scarcity of this fruit, and prices are firm. On account of the liberal supply of fresh domestic fruits, foreign green fruits are not receiving much attention. The butter market rules firm.

CANNED GOODS.

About the only new development in the situation is a firmer feeling in canned peas in consequence of the lightness of the pack. The range in prices is still 80 to 85c., although some houses are firm at the outside figure. Demand for all kinds of canned vegetables is fair only. We quote tomatoes at 85 to 90c. and corn at 90 to 95c. Demand keeps good for salmon at $1.25 to $1.35 for tall tins and $1.50 to $1 60 for flat tins. Lobster is still going out well, particularly new pack in flat ½'s. We quote: Flats, $2.40 to $2.50; new flats, ½'s. $1.35; talls, $1.85 to $2.25 Canned peaches are selling well, but other kinds of canned fruits are not wanted. We quote: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2 75, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40.

COFFEES.

Fresh shipments of Rio coffees have been received. The fine grades are moving out rapidly, and no trouble is experienced in getting full prices for them. Finer coffees are little higher, the outside price touching 23c. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 23c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

NUTS.

There is nothing new to report, business still being dull. The following are the quotations: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c. lb.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c. a lb.; Terragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; peanuts, 10½ to 11c. for roasted and 8 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12½ to 15c.; Marbot walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9¾ to 10¼c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 12½c.

RICE.

Trade remains steady and prices unchanged. We quote as follows: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

Trade continues fair at previous quotations. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 28 to 30c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 23 to 25c.; cream of tartar, 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

There is a stronger feeling and an improved movement to report. From this out an increased demand may be expected. The increased business, however, does not appear to have yet reached the refineries, but it is of course merely a matter of time before it will. Ruling price for granulated is 4⅜ to 4½c., and yellows sell at from 3⅜ to 4c., with raws quoted at 3¼c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce: Offerings of raws depend a little upon the terms of consignment, but in general they are moderate and carefully made for all near-by positions, and are not very plentiful. Indeed, some importers are refusing to negotiate at all just now, feeling confident that the natural merits of the position must act as a stimulant. Refiners certainly appear quite willing to negotiate. Refined have been a little irregular. At the opening demand was very good, in part filling orders received after hours on Saturday, but later buyers seemed to be more cautious, and only small lots were called for. In general prices were steady, but on Nos. 13 and 14 an advance was made. Just why these grades were selected does not appear clear to the general trade, and there is evidently some disappointment that the advance was not more general.

Epitomized, Willett & Gray's Statistical says: "Total stock in all the principal countries, 1,301,859 tons, against 984,093 tons at same dates last year. Afloats to the United States from all countries estimated 72,000 tons, against 53,000 tons last year. The raw market has been steady and firm during the week, with large transactions, buyers having been willing to take all the sugars offered at the current quotations, which were on the spot, or near by, or which could arrive before August 1st, or the possibility or probability of a duty taking effect on that date. Some holders prefer to store their arrived cargoes rather than sell at present prices. Refined has been in fair demand during the week, but it has been restricted somewhat by a feeling of uncertainty respecting the tariff outcome and of uneasiness regarding the impending railroad strikes. At the close, however, a large business is doing, and buyers are no doubt accumulating a considerable surplus stock over their present requirements. Some refineries are oversold two weeks or more, and an improvement in prices must soon follow."

SYRUPS.

There is a fair demand, particularly for brights. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

An improvement is reported in the demand, and more is said to be selling than is usual at this time of the year. Prices are: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEA.

The second shipment of new season's Japan teas, which should have been here some weeks ago, arrived on this market Monday last. This fact has given new interest to the market. The teas are showing exceptionally good value. They range in price from 17 to 25c., but the demand is principally for those selling at around 18 to 19c. There is a good enquiry. Samples are also being shown this week of new season's Moning Congou and Ceylon teas, and like all new teas this season are showing good value. Shipments of the new Ceylon teas, which are direct, are expected to arrive within a few days, but it will probably be three weeks or a month before the new Moning Congous are on the spot. The former will sell at from 15c. upwards. Advices from London state that the quality of the new season's Monings arriving there are somewhat better than last year, this being particularly noticeable in the Keemuns and Kintucks. Some few chops have sold there at prices ranging from 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. Common grades are inferior to those of last year, and have sold down to 4½d. per lb.

Gow, Wilson & Stanton tea circular, under date of July 9, says: "Deliveries of Indian and Ceylon teas during June again show an improvement compared with last year's figures. It is satisfactory to notice that the stock of Indian tea at the end of last month was about 2,500,000 pounds less than at the corresponding time last year, and is smaller than it has been at that date for some four years past. The stock of Ceylon tea given in the tables below does not include 1,000,000 pounds which have arrived, but were not entered in time to be returned by the warehouse officials."

DRIED FRUITS.

There have been a few shipments of Valencia raisins received during the past week, but there is still a scarcity of this fruit. Prices are still firm, and we quote: Off-stalk, 6 to 6¼c.; fine off-stalk, 6¾ to 7c.; fine layers, 8c. Currants are still in fair demand at unchanged prices. We quote as follows: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¼c. in brls., and 4¼ to 4¾c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases; Panariti, 8½ to 9c. Prunes are moving fairly well for the season, several orders having been received during the past week; U's at 5½ to 5¾c. are what is wanted principally. We quote: U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's. 7½.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c. Figs are almost out of the market. We quote: Small boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 5 lb. boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 10 lb. boxes, 10c.; 28-lb. boxes choice Eleme, 11c.; 6-crown, 12½c.; 7-crown 13½c.; bags, 28-lb., 6½ to 7c. Dates quiet and easy, at 4¼ to 5c.; selected Hallowee dates, 8½ to 9c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

A stronger feeling predominates the butter market this week. Very little is yet coming in on commission, and as buyers and sellers are still apart receipts are naturally not liberal; 15 to 16c. f.o.b., is the ruling price asked by holders outside for tub butter, although as high as 17c. is wanted in some instances. There is a fair demand for choice dairy tubs, but bakers' butter is hard to move. The demand for dairy pound rolls exceeds the supply. The same remarks apply to creamery pound prints, the creameries now being engaged in packing. There is not much demand for creamery butter and the supply is light. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17 to 17½c.; crocks, 18c.; bakers' butter, 12 to 15c.; pound rolls, 19 to 20c. Creamery—Tubs, fresh, 20 to 21c.; pound prints, 21 to 23c.

There is not much demand for cheese. Prices are steady at 9½ to 9¾c.

PROVISIONS.

Meats continue in active demand at prices a little firmer than a week ago. Lots moving, however, are not large. There is said to be less compound laid than usual selling, the price of the pure article being so low.

BACON—Long clear, 7½ to 7¾c.; smoked backs, 10½ to 11c.; breakfast bacon, 11 to 11½c.; rolls, 8½ to 8¾c.

HAMS—10½ to 11c. for smoked, and at 9½ to 10c. for pickled.

LARD—Pure Canadian 8¾c. in tubs, 9c. in pails and 8¼c. in tierces. Compound, 7¼ to 7½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $17 to $17.50, Canadian short-cut $18.00 to $18.50, shoulder mess $14 50 to $15, clear mess $15 to $15.50.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Business was dull at the western yards Tuesday. Offerings heavy, being 80 carloads, half of which were left over from yesterday. Owing to lower cables shippers held off, and very few loads of shipping stock were sold. One load averaging 1,391 lbs. sold at 4c. per lb., and three loads averaging 1,325 lbs. sold at 4c. per lb. and $10 over for the lot. Others were offered at 4c., but dealers refused to pay it. There was only a limited demand for butchers' cattle, which were chiefly grass-fed. A few picked lots brought 3½ to 3¾c., the latter for two heifers averaging 1,090 lbs. Nice medium cattle sold at 3¼c., and inferior butchers' at 2½ to 2¾c. per lb. About 100 calves offered, chiefly bobs, which sold at $1.50 to $2 each. Good veals slow at $4 to $5. Milch cows dull and hard to sell, with receipts of 30 head. They sold at $25 to $40 each.

About 925 head of sheep and lambs offered. The former were in fair demand for export, with sales at $3 40 to $3.50 per hundred and at $2.75 for choice. Rams, 2¾c. per lb. Lambs dull, selling slowly at $2 75 to $3.25 each. Hogs firm, with receipts of 460; choice bacon hogs brought $5.70 to to $5 75 per hundred, and nice mixed lots at $5.25. Thick fat hogs brought $4 95 to $5, stores at $4.75 to $4 85, sows at $4.25 to $4.50 and stags at $2.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

Domestic green fruit is absorbing nearly all the attention to the detriment of foreign green fruits. Oranges are quiet but without any change in prices. There are quite a few lemons moving, but prices are easier. Watermelons are in good demand, but the supply is fair only. Demand is active for raspberries, and there are a good many red currants going out. A few black currants are coming forward. Demand for gooseberries is light. Bananas are in moderate demand only with prices lower than a week ago. The supply of cherries is limited, and are confined to preserving kinds. Huckleberries are arriving, and they are moving freely at quotations. Domestic celery is on the market and all offered is taken. We quote: Oranges, Cal. seedlings, $3.00 to $3.50; Messinas, half-boxes, $2 to $2.50, boxes, $4 to $4.50. Lemons, $3.75 to $4.75. Bananas, $1 to $1.75 per bunch. Watermelons, 22 to 27c. each. Raspberries, 8 to 10c. Cherries, $1 to $1.75 per basket. Red currants, 65 to 90c. per basket. Black currants $1.25 to $1.50 per basket. Gooseberries, Houton's, 40 to 50c.; Downy's, 50 to 75c. Huckleberries, $1 to $120 per basket. Celery, 75 to 80c. per doz. Baltimore cucumbers, $1.25 to $1.75 per crate; in brls., 35 to 40c. per doz. Cabbages, $1.25 to $2 per brl. Tomatoes, Mississippi, $2 to $2.25 per four basket crate.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Quiet and steady at $1.35 to $1.40 for hand-picked per bushel.

POTATOES—Demand is only moderate for new potatoes, and there is no old stock offering. New potatoes are lower at $2.25 to $2 50 per barrel.

EGGS — Deliveries are little better in quality than a week or so ago. Demand is fair and prices steady and unchanged at 10½ to 11c.

HOPS—Quiet at 12 to 15c. for 1893's. Package hops, 20c. per lb.

ONIONS—Quiet and unchanged, Egyptian onions still selling at $2.25 per crate.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: Syrup, wine gallon tins, 65 to 70c.; 5 gallon packages, 60 to 75c.; sugar, 1 lb. cakes, 7½ to 8c.; small cakes, 9½ to 10c.

HONEY—Dull; clover, in sections, 11 to 12c.; buckwheat, 5c.

FISH.

There are very few fish coming forward, and there are not many wanted. White fish and salmon trout are still the principal kinds coming in. Prices are as before: We quote as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c. Lake Erie herring, $1.50 to $1.75 per 100; blueback herring 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 5 to 6c. per lb.; salmon trout, 6c.; white fish, 6c.; pike, 5c. lb.; perch, $1.50 per 100; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb; steak cod, 5 to 6c.; large halibut, 10c.; brook trout, 25c. per lb.

PETROLEUM.

Trade remains much as before. We quote, in 5 to 10 brl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 15½ to 16c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 18 to 19c.; photogene, 20c.

The Petrolia Advertiser, in its weekly report, says: "Petrolea crude, 93c. per brl.; Oil Springs crude, 94½c. per brl.; refined, 5¾ to 6¼c. in bulk, or 8½ to 9c. in barrels in car lots f.o.b. here. The flash test has been lowered from 90 to 85°, and should make a difference of a few cents per barrel in the price of crude. The market is in such an apathetic state, however, that little or no change has as yet resulted. Perhaps another day or two may tell a different tale. We are of opinion, nevertheless, that the change in the flash test should increase the price of the crude article, and if it does not do so it is due to the fact that the producer has given over all his rights to the refiner by submitting quietly to the direct delivery system."

J. W. Lang & Co. have received a shipment of off-stalk raisins this week from London.

Eby, Blain & Co. have to hand their shipment of Armour's canned meats which had been delayed by the strike.

Good sales of canned meats and canned fish are reported by M. Masuret & Co.

M. Masuret & Co. report that 6 lb. fancy cannisters of Ceylon tea are selling well.

"Lily" tobacco should be quoted at 46c. instead of 47c. as given in the prices current.

Warren Bros. & Boomer are in receipt of a fresh shipment of Rio coffee.

Warren Bros. & Boomer have in stock a shipment of new season's lobster in flat ½'s, Noble brand.

Clemes Bros. have received two cars of bananas this week, and two more are on the way.

Davidson & Hay report large sales of new season Japan teas, particularly in the medium grades.

Shipments of new pack strawberries and 3-lb. peaches arrived this week for Davidson & Hay.

Davidson & Hay report a rapid sale of their last shipment of Patras currants in half cases.

A large shipment of new season Japans (medium) arrived on Tuesday for Davidson & Hay.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol report delay in shipment of their 25c. Japans. They expect them end at of week.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol report that their California raisins are taking well with the trade.

Olive oil is being offered by Lucas, Steele & Bristol. They have Dandicalle and Gaugin's.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol report that their Hillwattee tea just to hand, in 50 lb. cases, shows excellent value.

M. Masuret & Co. advise their customers that now is a good time to buy pickling spices.

Advices to J. L. Watt & Scott, from Smyrna, state that the fig crop is expected to be about the same as last year in quality, but it is feared the size of the fruit will not be so large in consequence of the want of rain last winter. The report on Sultana raisins is similar to that on figs, both the fruits being grown in the same district.

W. H. Gillard & Co. report active sales of new Japans from stock and to arrive. They claim to be offering extra values.

New York Ginger Ale, controlled in the West by W. H. Gillard & Co., is meeting, it is claimed, with great success.

Currants in cases are reported by T. B. Escott & Co., of London, to be going well just now.

A new line in this market is "powdered bath brick." The price is about the same as ordinary bath brick.

"Lion Baking Powder" and extracts are reported by T. B. Escott & Co. to be selling fast.

Perkins, Ince & Co. are this week in receipt of samples of Moning Congous. The samples are showing better drawing value than last season's teas.

Todhunter, Mitchell & Co. report a brisk movement in their "Excelsior" blend coffee. "We find our coffee trade growing right along," said a member of the firm.

New Orleans molasses in barrels and halves is being offered by Lucas, Steele & Bristol at what they claim to be a great bargain. Their travelers have samples.

T. B. Escott & Co. have just received a carload of pickles in 20 oz. bottles, Blackfriars' brand, 6 doz. in barrel, and the firm report that they are going out rapidly.

Eby, Blain & Co. have a shipment of Darjeeling tea, flowery leaf, arriving in a few days. It is claimed to be something different from anything ever shown here before.

Grand Mogul tea is reported by T. B. Escott & Co. to be having a good sale. "Grand Mogul tea is going to all customers," say the firm.

The Toronto Biscuit & Confectionery Co.'s employees' third annual picnic will be held at Oakville on the 30th inst. The proceeds are to be given to one of the employees who has been ill a long time.

Notwithstanding the general cry of depression in trade and the reduction in values of all staples, W. H. Gillard & Co.'s sales, so it is said, show a substantial increase, month by month, over former years.

John A. Gowans reports the receipt of a number of testimonials regarding his tea-mixer, handled by Davidson & Hay. One from W. H. Hamilton, of Peterboro', under date of July 11, says: "It is entirely satisfactory, doing the work completely. Hitherto it has been impossible to have the different teas in a blend properly mixed, they not running even. Now with the mixer we manage to have them turn out the same every time."

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 19, 1894.

GROCERIES.

IN wholesale groceries the week has not furnished many new features. A rather better enquiry has been experienced for old Japan teas owing to the delay in the arrivals of new stock, and prices are steady. There has been a fairly good demand for coffee, and spices are steady. In refined sugar a fair volume of trade is noted, while prices are lower. Raw sugar is barely steady, but molasses are firmer, while syrups are very quiet. In canned goods there is no particular feature to report, and other lines show no change.

SUGAR.

The feature of the sugar market has been a decline of 1-16c. in granulated. This is in sympathy with the easier advices from New York and lower cables on raw. Demand has been fair, granulated in some lots selling at 4⅛c., and in smaller quantities 4 3-16c., with cash. There is no change in yellow on spot to note, values ranging from 3 3-16 to 3¾c., as to quality, at the factory.

SYRUP.

The market for syrup continues to rule quiet and steady at 2 to 2½c. for bright grades and 1 to 1¼c. for dark.

MOLASSES.

In molasses business has been quiet, owing to the fact that buyers have filled their wants for the time being. Stocks here are large and there is nothing new to report. We quote round lots 28c., car lots, 29c., and single puncheons 30c.

TEA.

The market for teas on spot continues quiet, the demand at present being restricted mainly to actual requirements. Delay in the arrival of new crop Japans has resulted in the clearing up of a lot of old stock, however. In Japan teas we quote: Common, 10 to 13c.; medium, 14 to 17c.; fine, 18 to 21½c.; and choicest, 23 to 29c.

COFFEES.

There has been a fair demand for coffee, sales of 250 bags Maracaibo occurring at 19 to 19¼c. in 25 and 50 bag lots. We quote: Java, 24 to 28c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c., and Rio, 18 to 21c.

SPICES.

There is little or no change to report in spices. We quote: Black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c., and Jamaica ginger, 15 to 18c.

RICE.

The demand for rice continues fair, and an average business is doing at steady prices. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3.95 to $4.25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

DRIED FRUIT.

The jobbers are the only ones doing any business in dried fruit. Business is limited under light supplies and a small demand. Denia advices state that a good crop of raisins are expected. Currants do not show any improvement. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine, 5 to 5¼c; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

No change to note in nuts of importance. We quote: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½c.; filberts, 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

The market shows some signs of more life since our last, and a moderate amount of business is passing in tomatoes, corn, and other vegetables. Gallon apples have been in good demand and stocks are light. In salmon, business is reported on spot at $1.25 to $1.30 for choice brands. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2 10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.

GREEN FRUITS.

The strike has interfered seriously with the supply of California fruits of all kinds, and stocks of it are very small here at present. Oranges are in light supply and firm at $4 to $4.50. Lemons are scarce and firm at $3.50 to $4.50. Only a few pineapples are coming in while other lines show no change of importance. We quote: Oranges, $4 to $4 50; lemons, $3.50 to $4.50 per box; pineapples, 18 to 30c. each; bananas, $1 to $1.50 per bunch; strawberries, 4½ to 7c. per quart; cherries, California, $1.25 to $1.50 per box, and Canadian $1 to $1.50 per basket; California peaches, $2.12 to $2.15 per box; apricots, $2 to $2.50 per box; plums, $3 87 per crate; prunes, $3 to $3 75; figs, 25 to 75c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

There in a fair demand for eggs, and prices are steady at 10½ to 11c. A fair amount of business is doing in beans at $1 35 to $1.50 per bushel.

PROVISIONS.

There was no important feature in the provision market. A fair amount of business is doing, but the turnover is not as large as it should be for this season of the year. The feeling is firm and values are well maintained, especially for pork. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18.50; hams, city cured, per

FLOUR AND FEED

FLOUR and feed merchants report business very quiet. Flour moving slowly and but little doing in other lines. The demand for bran has dropped off a little. Barley for feed is in fairly good demand, and a fairly good supply of hay is reported in, but not selling fast. Straw has been somewhat scarcer.

THE MARKETS

TORONTO.

FLOUR—Business is quiet. Values for both Ontario and Manitoba wheat have been easier, but no change is yet reported in prices. We quote as follows: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.65 to $3 80; strong bakers', $3 45 to $3.55; winter wheat patents, $3.45 to $3.60; Ontario family, $3 00 to $3.25; straight rollers, $2.90 to $3 05.

SHORTS—There is an increase in the supply, many of the city mills having been running during the past two weeks. Prices remain unchanged at $16 to $16 50 per ton.

SCREENINGS—The demand is not large. Prices are the same at $12 to $12.50.

BRAN—Flour and feed men report very little selling, and as a consequence a slight reduction is reported, and city mills are selling at from $13.50 to $14.

OATMEAL—Quiet and firm. Rolled and standard meals are quoted at $4.40 in bags and $4.50 in barrels; granulated, $4.40 in bags; cornmeal, common, $3.10; gold dust, $3.25 to $3.50.

OATS—Quiet at 38 to 38½c. on track.

CEREAL FOODS—Split peas, $3.75 per barrel; pot barley, $3.75 per barrel; pearl barley, XXX $2.25 per 49 lb box.

MONTREAL.

The tone of the flour market is firm, holders as a rule asking outside prices. The demand is good and the market is active with a larger volume of business doing, especially in Manitoba strong bakers'. The Lake of the Woods Milling Company report sales of eleven cars on local account. Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3 70; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, $3; extra, $2.75 to $2.90; superfine, $2.50 to $2.65; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.50; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.45 to $3.50.

There is no change in feed. The demand is good and values steady. Bran, $16 to $17; shorts, $18 to $20; mouillie, $20 to $22.

The market for oatmeal is quiet and steady, the demand being only for small lots, to fill actual requirements. Standard, brls., $4.25 to $4.30; granulated, brls., $4 25 to $4.30; rolled oats, brls., $4.50 to $4.60; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

There appears to be a better feeling in the flour market shown by an increased demand. Although wheat appears firm, flour is about back to old prices. Oatmeal is firm at the high figures. Middlings show an inclination to advance, demand good. Hay is off, holders being anxious to move stocks. Oats are firm. We quote: Manitoba, $4.25 to $4.35; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3 60; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; oatmeal, standard, $4.50 to $4 60; rolled, $4.65 to $4.75; cornmeal, $2 65 to $2.70; granulated, $3.50; middlings on track, $20.50 to $21; cotton-seed meal per ton $30; oats, local, on track, 46 to 48c.; Ontario, 49 to 51c.; beans, h.p., $1.55 to $1.60; prime, $1.45 to $1.50; split peas, $3.65 to $3 85; round peas, $3.65 to $3.75; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00; hay on track, $10.50 to $12.00; rice, 3¼ to 3⅜c.; American timothy seed, $3.00; red clover, 11½ to12c.; alsike, 13½ to 15c.

Out of 48 grocery establishments in Winnipeg, the Free Press says that 32 were closed on Thursday last at 1 p.m., the half holiday.

The Uptergrove chee e factory is turning out about 300 boxes per month. J. F. Gillespie, reeve of Mara, represents this factory at the cheese board at its meetings in Peterboro'.

WITHIN RETAIL CIRCLES.

T. Moore & Son, grocers, Spadina avenue, have placed very handsome electric light fittings in their store and windows. The store in the evening is one blaze of light, and a tracts much attention.

F. Dean, grocer, Parkdale, has an attractive fruit window.

R. F. Green, Bradford, is extending his shop and moving his offices to the rear of the same. The alterations add much to the appearance of the store.

James Ireland, who, as THE GROCER previously announced, was opening up a new store in Wroxeter, was in Toronto last week buying his opening stock.

Phœnix Coffee and Spice Mills, Toronto

lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The butter market does not exhibit much change. There have been offerings of creamery by factorymen at a rather lower level, but on the whole the market is steady at 19 to 19¼c. for finest creamery, which continues scarce. Seconds are more plentiful, and there is little to report in regard to dairy stock. We quote: Fine creamery, 19 to 19¼c.; creamery seconds, 18 to 18¼c.; fine townships, 16 to 17c.; fine western, 15½ to 16c.

CHEESE.

There is no change in the cheese market. The firm tone is fully maintained, as was evidenced by the transaction at the wharf Monday morning, where some 6,000 boxes of cheese were received by boat and rail. The demand was active for them, and they all sold at 9¼c. and a fraction better, which is an advance of a fraction on last week's range. Outside of this trading there is little to note. These transactions form an actual spot basis, and we readjust quotations: Finest Western colored, 9⅜ to 9½c.; finest Western white, 9⅜ to 9½c.; finest Eastern, colored, 9¼ to 9⅜c.; finest Eastern white, 9¼ to 9⅜c.; under grades, 8¾ to 8⅞c.; cable, 45s.

LIVE STOCK.

The offerings of live stock at the East End abattoir Monday morning were 600 cattle, 500 sheep and lambs, 60 lean hogs, 20 young pigs and 250 calves. Owing to the large supply of cattle, the limited demand from butchers, and the prospects of a good many being left over, the tone of this market was also weak and prices were fully ¼c. per lb. lower. The bulk of the sales made were at 3c. to 3½c. for good grass cattle, while a few choice fed stock sold as high as 4c. per lb. live weight. Common to inferior grassers sold down as low as 1½ to 2c. per lb. There was no export business done at this end, and on the whole trade was quiet, butchers only taking sufficient stock to fill actual wants on account of the warm weather. Sheep and lambs met with an active demand and prices were steady. A few fair sized lots of sheep were taken for export account at 3½c. per lb. live weight, while butchers paid from $3.50 to $5 each, and lambs brought from $3.25 to $4 each, as to size and quality. There was a fair enquiry for calves and, as the supply was not large, prices were fairly well maintained, sales being made at from $1.50 to $7 each, as to size and quality. Lean hogs sold from $3 to $10 each, and young pigs from 75c. to $3 each, as to size.

ASHES.

There is an easier feeling in the ashes market and first pots are 10c. lower, while other grades are unchanged. The stock of pearls here is very small and prices are purely nominal. We quote: First pots, $4; seconds, $3.65; pearls, $5.40 to $5.50 per 100 lbs.

RAW FURS.

There is no improvement in the fur market and none is looked for in the near future. Business is nil and values are nominal in the absence of transactions, but the general tendency is decidedly easy.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Pineapples are very scarce now; in fact, the season for them is practically over.

Several lots of old Japan teas have been cleaned up during the week at full figures.

L. Chaput, Sons & Co. have some fine Barbadoes molasses which they offer the trade.

Private cables from London quote beet sugar at 11s. 4½d., which is a decline.

First arrivals of Quebec raspberries came in last week. They are selling at 12 to 13c. per box.

In black teas, offers of Indian and Ceylons at 5 to 7d. f.o.b. London have been made here.

Laporte, Martin & Co.'s brand of Victoria Japan teas, in handy packages, are good sellers.

J. Alex. Gordon & Co.'s advices from Yokohama state that the Japan tea market is steady, and that stocks are light.

The retail grocers hold their picnic this week. Nearly all the wholesale houses have donated handsome prizes to be competed for at the grounds.

Denia advices state that the prospects are for a good crop of Valencias. Gillespie & Co.'s advices from Great Britain state that prices have been advanced 2s. per lb.

A Quebec house offered a large cargo of Barbadoes molasses last week, which is taken to mean that they have more stock than they want down there.

The receipts of live stock at the Montreal stock yards at Point St. Charles for the week ending July 14th were 3,810 cattle, 3,535 sheep, 725 hogs and 641 calves, which show an increase of 1,000 cattle, 1,500 sheep and 500 hogs as compared with a week ago, and an increase of 1,100 cattle, 3,500 sheep and 500 hogs with the corresponding week last year.

ST. JOHN, N.B., MARKETS.

St. John, N.B., July 19, 1894.

ANOTHER great week is what is heard when the question, How is business? is asked. Although the value of goods entered this June is below that of last, being $254,411, as against $267,212, the duty collected is more, being $56,650, against $56,273. Value of dutiable goods entered this June, $164,662; free goods, $89,749. The value of exports for this June is also less, being $428,906 as against $434,867. A new outlet has been discovered by a Halifax merchant for fish, a carload having been shipped to Vancouver to be forwarded to Honolulu. In the lumber business everything is quiet. Six and a quarter million feet of deals cleared for British ports, while less than 2,500,000 laths and 500,000 feet of long lumber, with 3,000,000 shingles, a load of piling and one of cordwood is the list for U. S. ports. The Tynemouth Castle took equal to 4,500 barrels of freight from this port for the West Indies.

SPICE—At this time of year trade is quiet. Prices continue firm. Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, 15 to 20c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; bicarb. soda, $2 30 to $2.38; sal. soda, 1 to 1½c.

SALT—The matter of the removal of the duty from factory filled salt does not yet appear as settled, though it is being permitted a free entry. Business is light. Coarse, 48 to 50c.; factory filled, 95c. to $1; Canadian brls., 5 lb. bags, $3.25; 10 lb. bags, $3.10; American, 20 lb. wood boxes, 20c.; 10 lb. boxes, 12c.

TOBACCO—Business is reported good. Prices are: McDonald's brands, Crown, 43c.; Pilot, 45c.; Index, 43c.; Napoleon, 49c. McAlpin's Beaver, 62c.; Tecumseh, 65c.; Jubilee, 59c.; Gold Shield, 49c.; Woodcock, 53c.; Army and Navy, 45c. Tuckett's brands, smoking tobacco, T. & B. Myrtle Navy, 59c.; Lily, 46c.; Myrtle cut, 70c.; chewing, T. & B, long black, 48c.; Mahogany, 12s, 48c.; Mahogany, 7s., 48c.

OILS—No change in quotations are reported. Burning oil, best American, 18¼c.; best Canadian, 17¼c.; second, 13½c., 60 days, no charge for barrel Linseed, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. Turpentine, 45 to 47c. Cod oil, 28 to 30c. Seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; pale, 38 to 43c. Olive oil, 95c. to $1.05. Castor oil, 6½ to 7c. Extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

CANNED GOODS—Owing to the cheapness of all small fruit the trade in canned goods is lessened, though picnic and fishing parties help to keep up the average. An advance of 15c here. Canned vegetables are firm. We quote: Corn, 90c.; peas, 90c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.45 to $2.55; salmon, $1.30 to $1.35; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; oysters, 1's, $1.50; 2's, $2.20; corned beef, 1 lb. tins, $1.75; 2 lb. tins, $2.65; American peaches, 2's, $1.65; 3's, $2.65; Canadian peaches, 2's, $1.90; 3's, $2.90.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—There is an increasing demand for California loose Muscatels, which are, however, scarce and price advancing. Valencia layers are out of the market. Demand for nuts is light. Peanuts are firmer. Egyptian onions are very low. Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5¼ to 5½c.; London layers, $2.10 to $2.20; loose muscatels, 50-lb. boxes, 6½ to 7c.; prunes, 5½ to 6c.; Californias, 11 to 12c.; currants, barrels, 3½ to 4c.; cases, 4 to 5c.; dried apples, 6¾ to 7c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Egyptian onions, 2 to 2¼c.; French walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 15c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazil, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c.; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 11c.

GREEN FRUIT—Strawberries have been very plentiful—in fact, they could not be disposed of as fast as they arrived, good berries at times selling as low as 2 to 3c., though 4 to 5c. was the usual price. Supply is now smaller, and prices are higher. Cherries from Nova Scotia are now in the market. Oranges are higher. No California fruit to hand owing to the labor trouble. Lemons are firmer while water melons are lower. We quote: Lemons, $4 to $4.50; case oranges, $10; Messinas, $5; pineapples, $1.50 to $2; bananas, $2 to $2.50; tomatoes, per crate, $3.25; cucumbers, per dozen, 60 to 65c.; strawberries, 5 to 6c.; gooseberries, 75c. per basket; cherries, 30 to 35c. per box.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Butter very slow, though a little firmer. N. B. cheese are coming forward in better numbers; price is firmer with good demand. Eggs are slow, and shippers are not as careful about quality as they should be. Butter creamery, 19 to 20c.; dairy, 16 to 17c.; eggs, 8½ to 9c.; cheese, 10 to 10½c.

MOLASSES—Two cargoes and a quantity per West India steamer are to hand. Prices are easy, with fair demand. Barbadoes, new, 27 to 28c.; old, 26 to 27c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; fancy Porto Rico, 43 to 44c.; choice, 34 to 35c; St. Croix, 27 to 28c.; syrup, 30 to 35c.

SUGAR—Demand is large. A reported advance of ¼c. in New York has made prices firmer here; an advance is looked for. Granulated, $4.30 to $5.30; yellows, 3¼ to 4c.

FISH—In dry and smoked fish prices are rather lower. There is a carload of herring from Newfoundland here. There are also to be seen in our retail stores kegs of Scotch pickled herring. Pollock and haddock are firmer; the trade in fresh salmon is falling off and prices have advanced. Large cod, $3 25 to $3.50; medium, $3.25; haddock, $1.75 to $2; pollock, $1.60 to $1.65; salmon, 11 to 12c. per lb.; bay herring, half brl., new, $1.40 to $1.50; smoked herring, medium, 11 to 12c.; lengthwise, 10 to 11c.

PROVISIONS—Clear mess pork and plate beef are higher. Hams are firmer. Clear mess pork, $19 to $20; P.E.I. mess, $16 to $17; prime mess, $12.50 to $14; plate beef, $13.50 to $14; extra plate, $13.75 to $14.25; pure lard, 10 to 11c.; compound, 8½ to 10c.

HOW A COMPETITOR WAS BEATEN.

THE National Grocer relates an interesting case of how a grocer tried to take a customer away from a competitor. He was a pushing, th ck-headed fellow, and went to the house of the lady to discover what time she usually went to the kitchen to give the orders for the day.

He started in business by quoting prices that, in some instances, could not have been matched by manufacturers or packers. The goods were to be of the same quality as those generally supplied.

He sent the proper goods at a loss to himself for some considerable time, contrary to the usual course under such circumstances.

The lady was a good buyer and excellent pay, and her grocer had always given her the best article he could get.

Our readers may imagine that when he found his business with her dwindling away, that he as quickly as possible discovered the cause. It was a case of give and take, and this grocer was a man of few words, but exceedingly prompt in action. He concluded that he must frankly state the situation to his customer, and beat the other fellow out of sight.

By this time the intruder had become anxious to get profit, and had begun to substitute inferior articles as often as possible. So that when the grocer began his onslaught on prices in his turn, and kept up his quality, the other fellow soon had to retire.

The reader may now promptly ask: "Did the grocer continue to sell at the new prices?" Well, hardly; in an extended conversation with his patron, he showed her she had been a large beneficiary in the fight which had just ended, and that as his adversary had retired, that old relations would be resumed. And they were resumed to the satisfaction of both.

Renfrew's butter factory is to be helped by the Government. Prof. Robertson will manage it for the first season, and will also assume the loss which it is quite possible the creamery company will have to face in the first season's operations. He will manufacture the butter for 3½c. a pound, instead of 4c., probably the lowest figure the company will have to pay when once fairly started. The Government meantime will bear the loss of the d fference.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Dallas, of New York, made one of his periodical busine:s trips to Toronto this week.

A. Munn, of Ripley, was in Toronto this week.

A. M. Smith, of Smith & Keighley, is still convalescing.

Mr. Walker, Sr., of Walker & Son, McCaul street, Toronto, has just returned from a six weeks tour of the Western States and British Columbia. Mr. Walker is looking well.

E. McCoy, representing Lucas, Steele & Bristol, is on his western trip this week, and is receiving congratulations all round, but "not on his good looks."

A NEW BLACKING.

A NEW blacking is being put on the market by the F. F. Dalley Co., Ltd., Hamilton. It is named "English Army." The tin package containing the blacking is probably the most attractive on the market. On the foreground of the cover are pictures of two soldiers. One is an officer of the Grenadiers and the other a cavalryman. Both wear the regulation red coat and both carry glistening swords. In the background is to be seen the white tents of the camp, with a red coated soldier standing here and there. J. R. Vert, representing the Dalley Co., has been in Toronto the past few days introducing the blacking. One day he undertook to supply the shoeblacks, and on that day the Queen's hotel, where Mr. Vert was staying, was besieged by an army of little urchins clamoring for a box of the "English Army."

"TREATING" CUSTOMERS.

THE customer who is in the habit of taking solace out of the clay pipe may experience a beatitude through a choice Havana cigar which will allay discordant feelings and put him in a good buying humor, says the Traveling Salesman. But it must be handled cautiously by the traveler, and it must never appear that he goes about with a case full of the article, intended expressly to give him an audience with the trade. The dealer is not to be bought, and if the offering of a cigar carries with it the remotest intimation of this sort, the traveler had better pack his grip on the spot. Should he have the faculty of casually presenting the weed, and with the same air of unconcern and good fellowship that he would unconsciously assume when he hands a cigar to a friend of the inner circle, the act would do no harm.

But this is a hard thing to do, and the man you may never have seen before can hardly fail to suspect your motive when you deliberately hand him a cigar. This is especially apt to be the case when the gentleman is not a smoker. As a rule, therefore, do not attempt the cigar lay. An intimate acquaintance with the customer is, unquestionably, a very decided advantage, and the nearer the traveler can get to a customer in a dignified way, the more he enhances his chances of capturing his order. The acquaintance, however, must never degenerate to familiarity. Some travelers assume the familiar manner, and think they have made substantial progress when they can address the customer by his given name. This is dangerous ground to tread upon.

CENTRIFUGAL MOLASSES.

WE presume there are many of our readers, says the New England Grocer, who do not know the difference between centrifugal and open-kettle molasses, although these are two very common terms in daily use by the wholesale grocer and in the trade journals.

Centrifugal sugar is so called because, after the molasses is boiled to the proper consistency, it is put into a cylindrical machine which revolves with great rapidity. The rapid motion throws the molasses to the surface of the machine, which is perforated with a great many small holes. The fact of the molasses being thrown from the centre to the circumference is why the process is called centrifugal (from centrum, the centre, and fugere, to flee).

Open-kettle sugar is so called because, after boiling down, it is allowed to settle and the molasses drains off without motion of any kind. Centrifugal sugar is much clearer and brighter than open-kettle, as more molasses is extracted; but for this reason it does not contain as much saccharine matter as open-kettle sugar.

After the molasses is extracted the first time, it is again boiled down and again put into the machine and another grade of sugar is the result. This is repeated until several grades of sugar are obtained, known as "first," "seconds," "thirds," etc. Both open-kettle sugar and molasses are said to be much "stronger," there not being so many grades in the former as in the latter. Centrifugal molasses is the drippings from centrifugal sugar, and the open-kettle molasses is the drippings from that process.

THE MIOWERA'S RETURN.

SS. Miowera is expected here in December, and in the meantime is making trips between Norway and the Tyne. She has been immensely improved and is now fitted up with cold storage for the Australian trade, and will also bring out a similar complement for the Warrimoo. A large number of pleasure-seekers have booked for a round-the-world trip on this steamer. The course she is to take on her way to this coast will be by way of the Suez canal to Colombo, thence to Australia, New Zealand, and back again to Sydney, and from Sydney to Vancouver. Stoppages will be made at points of interest, and the steamer used as a kind of hotel for the passengers. After her arrival here the latter will return to Europe over the C. P. R. thus completing the circle round the world. —News, Vancouver.

A. CHILD, BUT NOT A CHILD.

IF variety of experience tends to qualify a man for the busy, bustling life of a commercial traveler, A. Child, who is one of John Taylor & Co.'s (Morse Soap Works) staff of travelers, should stand well in the ranks. He was born near Schomberg, York Co., some 40 years ago. When he first left the paternal roof to carve out his future it was to accept a position with the old Toronto, Grey & Bruce railway. "Life on the rail" became uncongenial to him after an experience of some years, during which he had gathered several relics in the shape of scars which are unfortunately common to the lot of only too many railroad men, and then he branched into general storekeeping. His place of business was at Beeton, Simcoe county. It proved a fortunate move, for success crowned his efforts. Eventually he sold out to G. G. Price & Co. He has been with John Taylor & Co. since July, last year, and for three years previous to that he carried on a grocery and butchery business in Queen street west, Toronto. His route is in Western Ontario, covering the ground from Niagara on the east to Windsor on the west and from Lake Erie on the south to the Georgian Bay on the north. Mr. Child is genial, energetic and enthusiastic regarding the merits of the soaps made by the Morse Soap Works, and since he "took the road" has met with considerable success. And why shouldn't he. He may be "A. Child," but he is not a child in avoirdupois: He weighs 230 pounds. When, therefore, he gets hold of a customer he has not only a good article to induce a sale, but he has an imposing appearance as a further argument why he should get the order.

A. CHILD.

EFFECT OF THE RAILROAD STRIKE

The tonnage East bound from Chicago, the principal seat of trouble, was reduced from 45,000 to 11,000 tons the first week in July, but the decrease in payments through banks of that city is only 11 per cent. Many railroads have not as yet reported earnings for the first part of July, and those reported are 25.7 per cent. less than last year, but the decrease in exchanges at all the principal clearing houses has been only 11.7 per cent. this week compared with last year, and only 23.2 per cent. compared with 1892. Stocks have recovered a little with restoration of order, and are slightly higher than a week or two ago. This is in spite of the unfavorable returns for June, earnings in that month being 27.0 per cent. smaller than last year. For the first half of 1894, wholly or in part, the earnings of one hundred and ninety-seven roads, operating 129,261 miles in the United States, were $359,822,456, a decrease of 17.0 per cent., and if six Canadian and Mexican roads are added, the earnings for the year thus far are $377,979,778, and the decrease 16 5 per cent.—Dun's Review.

EFFORT FOR PURER CHINA TEAS.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce: The large and uncompromising rejection of impure teas at this port last season appears to have borne good results. Buyers of stock for this country at primal points have evidently thoroughly wakened to the necessity of reform, and the translation of circulars addressed to Chinese tea growers by two leading houses, and hereto annexed, are pertinent and instructive:

NOTICE TO TEAMEN.

"Boyd & Co. hereby inform teamen in Amoy and Tainsin that, owing to the admixture of dust, chaw and inferior leaf, that has of late years so greatly increased, their friends and constituents in America now refuse to take any teas containing any such admixtures, and Boyd & Co. now make the following rule: That they will not take any chop or chops found to contain any such admixture, and that if any such be found in any string settlement they will be returned, and no allowance in price made for any such chop or chops.

"Amoy, May 8th, 1894."

TO THE TEAMEN OF AMOY AND FORMOSA.

"The changes of trade demand changes of procedure, and the present time would seem to indicate the necessity of a new departure on your side. For many years Formosa and Amoy teas have been steadily deteriorating through want of care in preparation, and, even to a greater extent, through the admixture of dust and chaw, which you have put in to reduce the cost. So long as this system paid you have, from your point of view, been justified in continuing, but the home markets now appear to insist on a better method. You may remember that in 1889 the foreign buyers agreed together not to buy teas which were found defective through the addition of dust and chaw; but at that date the movement was in advance of actual necessity, as was proved by the teas, circulated as unmerchantable owing to this defect, being purchased within one week. Now since this action the position has been gradually accentuated, and the chance for a similar proceeding in the near future much lessened, the home requirements being of such a nature that no buyers here can ignore them. As the oldest merchant to whom you sell, I recommend you, for your own protection, to take heed to the general warning, and prepare for the market only such teas as are clean and merchantable. Signed,

"FRANK LEYBURN."

In introducing his bill respecting the sale of railway passenger tickets, on Monday, in the House of Commons, Hon. Mr. Haggart said that it was intended to prevent conductors from selling return tickets and pocketing the proceeds. Passengers using such tickets would have to go to the ticket office and sign a receipt to show that they were the parties to whom the ticket was issued.

SICILY FILBERTS.

THE present duty upon Sicily filberts is three cents per lb., but in the new tariff bill this rate will be reduced one-third ; and for this reason, and also the fact that present quotations are the lowest in the history of the trade, a large speculative movement has been completed abroad for American account. At 31s. c. and f. a parcel of 200 bags was purchased ; this was the lowest sterling price touched, and it has been subsequently said that the offer of this lot was made by a bear operator abroad, who hoped to influence similar action upon the part of others, so as to afford him an opportunity to secure some cheap goods ; but the scheme did not work successfully, for from the point of 31s. the market advanced by easy stages, and on the rise American buyers became free purchasers, the operations not ceasing until some 12,000 bags had been contracted for, and up to 32s. 6d. c. and f. paid. Here is quantity in sight which is said to be nearly equal to a year's consumption. The prices paid were certainly low, and each individual operator considers he has made a good investment in the purchase, the stock being regarded as excellent property to carry, the shrinkage in weight and depreciation in quality being so insignificant as not to disturb in the least the minds of owners when they think of a possible carriage to a distant period. Many of those upon the outside are inclined to doubt the favorable prospects for the goods, and in their arguments will point to the spot supply (which by the way is rather limited at the moment), then to the quantity in transit and for forward shipment, and end by alluding to the prospective liberal crop, which reports now appear to favor. They say that recent purchases will cover the necessities of the trade of this country for many months, and when the new crop is ready for shipment in October there will be no inquiries from this country, and the absence of American competition will hold in check any advance. The facts of present and future supply, however, have been taken into consideration by speculative operators, and, after fully digesting the figures, those who have "stocked up" are unable to see anything in the future situation to change their original views regarding a profitable return upon the investment. The market here under the present duty is 6¾c. per lb., and under the new scale would be 5¾c., an attractive price certainly, and one that it is believed will serve to increase materially the consumption. Though the actual unsold stock in Messina is not definitely known, it is believed that the quantity available does not exceed 5,000 or 6,000 bags. The latest sterling prices cabled are 32s. 6d. for prompt shipment, the same value for September-October, and 32s. 9d. for October. Distant shipments are regarded by importers as more advantageous than earlier, as the goods are then received here during the active period, and the incidental charges of the interval are thus avoided. In view of the prospective lower duty, and a corresponding lower market price, there is no special inquiry at the moment from the trade. The greater part of the stock, however, is held in bond, and the goods are only withdrawn as the necessities of the time demand, hence when the new tariff goes into effect the change in the price can be made without serious injury to any in the trade.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

British imports from Canada increased £694,665, or 40 per cent., in the past six months, as compared with the same period of 1893. The chief increases are : Sheep, £18,000 ; bacon, £57,000 ; hams, £5,000 ; butter, £3,000 ; cheese, £38,000 ; eggs, £1,500 ; fish, £278,000 ; wood, £260,000. Exports from Britain to Canada during the six months decreased 28 per cent. For June, the imports increased 25 per cent., and the exports decreased 37 per cent.

Jean Simard, boots and shoes, Quebec, is offering to compromise at 50 cents on the dollar.

Thomas Hoskin, boot and shoe dealer, 658 Queen street east, Toronto, has assigned to W. A Campbell.

Anderson Bros., grocers, 395 Parliament street, have placed their estate in the hands of Assignee Richard Tew.

W. A. Milne, who kept a general store at Parkhill, has made an assignment of his book debts, amounting to about $2,000, to W. A. Campbell.

Isabella J. Thomas, grocer, 639 Yonge street, Toronto, has assigned to John Ferguson. The liabilities are about $1,000 and the assets not yet known.

Two Nova Scotia general merchants have assigned. They are Thomas M. Martin, of Falmouth, and G. A. Beals, of Mahone Bay.

The creditors of the estate of Smith Bros., general storekeepers and manufacturers, of Sarnia and Dresden, met at the Queen's hotel, Toronto, a few days ago. Among the creditors represented were McMaster & Co., Toronto; John Hallam, Toronto; Calder & Co., Hamilton; Robert Berryman, Hamilton; Gordon, Mackay & Co., Toronto; W. R. Brock & Co., Toronto; Gault Bros. & Co., Montreal; and Robinson, Little & Co., London. The gross liabilities are about $38,000, and the nominal assets about $60,000. Much sympathy was expressed with the firm, but the opinion expressed was that it had been carrying on too large a business. The meeting was firm in its determination not to accept less than 65 cents at four, six, nine and twelve months, secured. It is expected that about 70 cents will be realized. Messrs. Berryman, of Hamilton; Muldrew, of McMaster & Co., and Gibbons, of London, were appointed inspectors.

PARTNERSHIPS FORMED AND DISSOLVED.

V. Brosseau & Co., general merchants, Bedford, Que., have dissolved.

PEACH CAKE....

Our latest delicacy. Price low, very low considering the quality. Every grocer ought to order now before the crush commences. We will make them only to order, so get yours in early if you want to have them for your customers before they see them in your rival's store.

N.B.—See how soon this cake will be imitated like our Jelly Wafer, Moss Wafer, etc., was.

WARNING TO SUBSCRIBERS.

We understand there is a scoundrel in Winnipeg, named Ostrosser, who claims to be our agent. He has already called upon several of our subscribers, and in one or two cases succeeded in obtaining money. Friends, he is an impostor; he is not our agent, never was, and never will be, so please look out for him. Of course, our journals have now such an enviable reputation that people insist upon working for us whether we like it or not. We don't like it. Mr. John Cameron and F. W. Armstrong are our only authorized agents in Manitoba, Northwest Territories and British Columbia. They are well known and thoroughly trustworthy.

OUR cousins across the border are congratulating themselves over their export trade for the past fiscal year. And they certainly have some reason for so doing. Their total exports were $869,181,345. This was the enormous total of $237,275,407 in excess of imports compared with last year. And herein it is that our cousins glory. Last year, it will be remembered, they put on sackcloth and ashes because the balance of trade was against them to the extent of $18,735,728. Under analysis, however, these figures lose some of their brightness. In the export of what is termed the principal class, included in which are such articles as breadstuffs, provisions and live animals, cotton and petroleum, and which the nation is most desirous of sending abroad, there is a decrease of about $3,000,000. This does not afford much consolation to the agriculturalist, nor to the storekeeper, whose welfare in turn depends much upon the condition of the farmer. What matters it to the farmer if the manufacturer is sending more goods to foreign markets? Not a great deal, no matter what consolation other people may draw from it. It is regarding his own products that he is concerned—directly, at any rate.

The exports of what is classified as minor articles showed the enormous increase of over $40,000,000, compared with last year. But what has been the principal cause of this, if not the cause? Certainly not good times, or that manufactures of the United States have gained to that extent in popularity. To the fact that the manufacturers across the border were willing to sell to foreign countries their large surplus stocks at almost any price they could get in order to lift from their shoulders the burdens that were heavier than they could bear, must be ascribed the principal cause. Tariff walls that have hitherto been looked upon as insurmountable have been surmounted in the haste of finding a market. At least it is a well known fact that Canada has seen goods from the United States coming across her border that hitherto either did not come at all or only in much smaller quantities. And what is Canada's experience is probably the experience of other countries whose trade and financial condition is better than that of the United States. In a word, the increase in the exports of what are termed minor articles, such as manufactures and machinery, was due to extraordinary circumstances, namely, the financial crisis. But it is a source of some satisfaction to the people of the United States that they were enabled to sell foreign countries so much more goods than last year even if they did have to sacrifice prices and profits in order to do so. It is just what a wise business man does when he wants to lighten his burdens.

The decree of the Government of the Dominion prohibiting the importation of adulterated teas is giving satisfaction to others than Canadians. Leading tea men of New York express satisfaction. Everybody knows that most of the adulterated teas which have found their way into Canada in the past have been those which the inspector at the port of New York had previously rejected. Only last year, it will be remembered, there was a wholesale rejection of adulterated Pingsuey teas at New York, and a wholesale entry of them subsequently into Canada. And this was the last straw that broke the patience of the trade in this country and induced them to make such representations to the Government that ultimately led it to issue the prohibitory decree that it did the other day. The reason whereof the tea men of New York are glad at this move of the Dominion Parliament, is that there is less inducement to ship spurious tea to New York. The tea adulterators in the past knew that if their goods failed to pass the inspector at the latter place there was in Canada a market for at least a part of them. Now, with Canadian ports closed against the spurious tea, the chance of finding a market for it on this continent is reduced to a small point indeed. Hence New York is not likely to be bombarded with this objectionable class of tea as often as it has been, and the tea men there anticipate more peace of mind thereat.

Numbered appear to be the days of the Chinese tea adulterators: and there are a concomitant of circumstances contributing towards that end. A year or two ago the Chinese government, recognizing the evi's resulting to the tea trade therefrom, issued a decree to all whom it might concern, prohibiting the adulteration of tea, and threatening penalties dire if any of its subjects were found violating it. The effect, judging from even the adulterated teas that have found their way to this continent, has not been very wholesome. But still the decree itself shows that the authorities are doing something towards mitigating the evil. In England, tea not accounted fit for consumption is denied entry. Across the border there are inspectors whose duty it is to keep out the spurious article, and now Canada has awakened to her duty and forbidden the importation of any more of the adulterated tea which has so long found a market within her borders. Another obstacle to the entry of adulterated teas into the United States is seen in the fact that a number of leading importers in that country are sending notices to tea men in Amoy and Formosa to the effect that tea will be rejected when not delivered pure. John Chinaman's opportunities for palming off spurious tea on the consuming markets of the world are indeed getting within narrow limits.

The white bean market in the United States has a little more interest for Canadians just now than is usual, in view of the fact that buyers from that country have been here lately making purchases which have resulted in an appreciation of values on the home market. Some time since large shipments arrived at New York, which in the opinion of a good many were not wanted. To the surprise of those who did not see eye to eye with the shippers the beans were soon picked up; and, what was stranger still, prices appreciated. This hardening tendency has been maintained, and to-day medium beans are worth $1.55 to $1.60. This is the bean which is most favored, while its stocks are lightest. The importation of beans into the States last year appear to have been liberal, but for some reason or other the demand has been so heavy that present stocks are thought to be no more than 20,000 bags at the outside, while the amount in transit is only about 7,000 bags. The complaint is that the farmers in the United States, in spite of a heavy protective tariff of 41½c. per 62 lbs., have not paid as much attention to the cultivation of beans as they should have. Now, however, they may be induced to cultivate this article of food more extensively, although the fact that the proposed new tariff is about one-half lower than the old one will probably prevent the movement along this line from being as general as it otherwise would have been. One thing seems certain, however, Hungary and other exporting countries will try to cater for more of the bean trade of the United States than they have hitherto.

THE TARIFF.

THE House of Commons finally disposed of the tariff bill on Friday last. The bill was introduced March 27, so it occupied four months, lacking one week in making its journey through the House.

It might have been put through more expeditiously, although no one complains much on that score, seeing that the United States Congress has been pegging away for nearly a year, and is still apparently far from the goal.

Then whether the time occupied in dealing with the bill had been long or short would not have mattered so much, in view of the fact that the tariff went into force the day following the submission of the matter to the House.

But if fault cannot well be found with the time occupied in fashioning the tariff bill, the same can hardly be said regarding the way in which the fashioning was done. Those employed at the task were not novices. They were tried and old hands at the business.

The fault with them was they lacked decision.

For a year prior to the bill being brought down the members of the Cabinet visited every important section of the country. They consulted with all classes who were supposed to be worth consulting. In camera they listened to what the manufacturers and the wholesalers had to say, and in private and in public they heard the pros and cons of the farmers, although we do not remember their consulting the retail merchants of the country. But this may be a lapse of memory on our part, or perhaps on the part of the Ministers.

At any rate the Minister of Finance and his colleagues collected a lot of evidence, and enough supposed to be to guide them in the arduous undertaking of revising the tariff.

And the measure as it was brought down on March 27 really looked as if they had made fairly good use of the information they had collected. The bill was, generally speaking, along the lines asked for by the wholesalers, and the farmers and the consumers concluded that the bill tended to lighten their burdens and were fairly satisfied. But some of the manufacturers were not. Herein lies the secret of most of the changes which were subsequently made in the bill. And to-day there is dissatisfaction among the great mass of the business men of this country, where, on the 28th of March last, satisfaction obtained to a more or less extent.

But the dissatisfaction is perhaps not so much with the tariff as it ultimately stands as with the way in which the Government played battledore and shuttlecock with so many of its clauses. The duty on rice was one thing to-day, something else to-morrow, and another thing next day. The same thing may be said of woolens, of cottons, of teas, of coffees, and of many other staple lines appertaining to the grocery and other trades.

We had much to be thankful for in that we had not a United States Congress to mold and fashion our tariff, but at the same time Canadians cannot help wishing that their tariff revisors had shown a little more independence and appreciation of their duty.

THE MACKEREL TRADE.

A HALIFAX fish exporter is, according to the Chronicle of that place, in receipt of the subjoined circular from a prominent fish importing firm in Boston. The warning and suggestion it contains should be heeded and promptly acted upon by our fishermen, fish packers and fish exporters, otherwise our people may wake up some fine day to find their mackerel trade gone from them :

It has seemed to us that during the past two years there has been more damage to lots of mackerel that have been received from Nova Scotia and P. E I. from stain, rust, etc., than we have known before, and from close observation there is no doubt in our minds that the cause is chiefly owing to too little salt being used in the packing. That barrels are full of strong pickle is not sufficient; a liberal quantity of salt should always be used. We have consulted our leading packers and dealers about this and they agree fully with these ideas.

It has been more or less talked since Irish mackerel have been imported that when prices should again rule low that kind would cease being brought to this country; as such fish are now coming forward and packing going on specially for our markets, this idea can no longer be entertained. The methods of handling this kind of mackerel have been greatly improved, the color of the fish is white and compares favorably with our home packs, the weights are good, frequently overrunning, and such care is being taken with the cull that they get the preference and bring better prices than provincial caught fish. Besides, the latter are more or less neglected when markets are quiet. Something should be done to cause your fishermen and packers to change their careless handling; better color of fish by more careful soaking, full weights, better barrels that will hold pickle, and a more uniform inspection are some of the requirements that are necessary. If a reform is not brought about, the prejudice that acquired so strong a hold last season will increase and become permanent, greatly to the injury of the trade you have in this kind of fish.

St. Thomas Board of Trade has decided to picnic at Courtright and Port Huron, per M.C.R., this year.

MONTREAL GROCERS' OUTING.

ONE of the best picnics of the year at Montreal has always been that of the Retail Grocers' Association of that city. The one which they held on Wednesday of last week, and which THE GROCER'S correspondent attended, was no exception to this rule.

The grocers appear to have a binding contract with that unstable individual, the clerk of the weather, for the right sort of a day.

Every year sees them set out on a glorious summer morning, and the current season saw the rule observed. In fact, if anything, the only drawback was that it was too fine. The sun beat down on the pleasure seekers with that tropical fierceness that makes the preservation of a boiled shirt impossible, and is a regular harvest for the laundry man.

St. Rose, the pleasant and picturesque village on one of the many branches of the Ottawa, was the objective point this year, and nearly all the old faces were seen at the Canadian Pacific station. There was the president, John Johnston, with what the ladies call his loves of whiskers, and his persuasive tongue, the gift of the Emerald Isle; and genial A. D. Fraser, whose care of the press representatives is proverbial. Ever in the thickest of the work of seeing all the arrangements carried out was Bernard Connaughton and his distinctive white leghorn of generous dimensions. In fact all the good fellows of the trade were on hand, for the day is always generally observed. So much for the actual members of the association; but there are guests without which no grocers' picnic would be complete. Why, the knights of the scoop and scales would be lost if Geo. Waite, who knows so well how to sell produce and provisions, and the games run off, was not on hand. It would be the same with the other judges, for J. C. Wilson's (of J. C. Wilson & Co.) presence is as indispensable at the picnic as his paper bags are to the grocers in their business. They could not get on either without G. Lightbound (Lightbound, Ralston & Co.), H. Laporte (Laporte, Martin & Co.), F. Hughes (Caverhill, Hughes & Co.), Chas. Langlois, whose butter so many of them handle, and others.

Well, they were all there, and no one can deny that they enjoyed themselves.

It took two trains, which were under the personal supervision of genial Harry Ibbotson, the passenger agent of the C.P.R., to convey the grocers, their wives, children, cousins, aunts, and friends, to the number of 5,000 in all, to the pleasant grove on the river bank at St. Rose.

Arrived there the first thing that caught the eye was the handsome and roomy pavilion tent in which the grocers give their yearly celebrated luncheons.

If a grocer does not know how to live no one does, and the spread they gave at their annual outing is ample testimony to this. After the games, the results of which will be found elsewhere, had been run off, Pipers Matheson, Riddell, and Ferguson, of the Royal Scots, who have piped the grocers in to dinner ever since the inauguration of their annual picnics, performed the same ceremony over again, and the good things were thoroughly discussed by about 1,000 of the pleasure-seekers.

Of course, speeches were in order after the inner man had been provided for, and they contained some practical thoughts, both from the members and their guests.

President John on, of course, like a loyal north countryman, submitted the toast of "The Queen," which was duly honored.

A. D. Fraser, who always does so much to look after their entertainment, appropriately proposed "The Health of the Guests." This elicited responses from J. C. Wilson, George Waite, George Lightbound and H. Laporte. "The Judges," proposed by S. Demers, was replied to by F. Hughes, Charles Langlois and T. L. Paton. John Scanlan gave "The Health of the Wholesale Trade," which brought forth short speeches from all the gentlemen of the trade above enumerated. "The Ladies," "the Press," "the Ginger Ale Men," and "the Chairman" followed in their due order, and the party broke up to enjoy themselves as they saw fit in the cool recesses of the grove or on the river.

There was dancing, also, in a roomy pavilion to the music of a fine orchestra, and which, despite the sultriness, was well patronized by the young folks.

The results of the games were as follows:

Quoits—B. Connaughton, 1; W. Osgoode, 2; H. McPhee, 3.

One hundred yards dash, open to boys of twelve years and under—F. Dowse, 1; O. Leveille, 2; W. Johnston, 3.

TORONTO GROCERS' EXCURSION.

THE members of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association had their annual outing Wednesday last. Their destination was Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

I have attended several grocers' excursions and picnics, but I never participated in one at which I had such an enjoyable time, and if anybody else did not it was his or her own fault.

In numbers there were not as many as last year. The thunder storms of the previous day and night doubtless deterred many from going that otherwise would have. But the primary loss was theirs, although the association lost by their absence and the excursionists missed their company.

But if the night before was stormy the day following was not. "A bit of a haze" veiled the sun and obscured distant views on land and sea, but a lovelier day, taking it all in all, could scarcely have been secured. The veil of mist toned down the heat of the sun, and a stiff breeze contributed its part towards tempering the atmosphere. On the lake, instead of the rolling waves which a good many expected to see there were nothing worse than dancing glistening wavelets.

If the crowd was not as large as that at last year's excursion, it was none the less representative. Most of those who are always seen at the annual outings of the Toronto Retail Grocers' Association were there, while many new faces were to be seen.

Don't understand that the attendance was small, for it was not. It was not of the proportion that it usually is. But it was big enough to make the excursion a success from a financial point of view, if that is to be the principal point from which its measure of success is to be viewed.

But everybody knows that this is not the principal concern of the Retail Grocers' Association of Toronto. The end it has in view is a right royal good time, although it of course does not want to pay too highly for it. And it always does have a good time, whether it be at summer outings or winter "At Homes;" and the length of its purse is never shortened thereby either.

The greater portion of the excursionists took the early morning boat, but a good many followed in the later boats. The point of destination for most of the excursionists was of course Niagara Falls. Its attractiveness never fades. On the contrary its attractiveness, in consequence of the devices of man, is ever increasing, and this season is by no means an exception to the rule, thanks particularly to the enterprise of the electric railway people, who have greatly increased the facilities for the transportation of excursionists and tourists.

But however these facilities may have contributed towards the enjoyment of Wednesday excursionists, they were supplemented by the excellent arrangements which had been prepared for their entertainment and comfort by the excursion committee. The committee did its duty well.

Those who went to Buffalo had their choice of the railroads or the steamboat route from Chippewa. Most took the railroads. It gave them about six hours in the "Bison City," while those who took the steamboat route merely had time to doff their hats at the city, the scheduled time there being only thirty minutes. But the small party that took the latter means of reaching Buffalo undoubtedly had the best of it; and I know what I am talking about from experience.

The route from Chippewa to Buffalo, via the Columbian, is delightful. The scenery on either side of the river is an ever-changing panorama of beauty. There is Navy Island with its primeval beauty and historical reminiscences, and American Island during nearly the whole of its entire length of 15 miles, dotted with pretty little summer residences, antique, and, in some instances massive, club houses, with here and there pretty little parks, while fields of waving grain, ripe unto the harvest, and orchards rich with ripening fruit, with prosperous-looking farm houses and barns nestling between the green foliage, greet the eye on either side.

While we were waiting for the Columbian at the landing opposite Navy Island, some of us amused ourselves searching for bullets, relics of the Mackenzie rebellion, which had recently been turned up by the navvy's pick-axe and shovel and washed into view by the recent rains. A few of these relics of Canada's long ago internecine troubles were found, but although I was unfortunate in this respect, I found a couple of silver coins, one had the superscription and image of Queen Victoria and the other the superscription and image of the American eagle. I could not convince the party that these coins, too, were relics of the rebellion of '37, although they were covered with clay, and I had to confess the likelihood of their being what was contended, namely, the evidences of same returning Yankee excursionist sprinting for the boat. At any rate, whatever the coins were, they helped to pay my expenses.

EXCURSIONETTES.

The bulk of the excursionists missed the six o'clock return boat; consequently, did not reach home till nearly ten o'clock.

J. G. Gibson was one of the fortunates who caught the six o'clock boat, but his heart was with the great majority behind, and he got off at Niagara-on-the-Lake, and waited till it came down on the next boat.

"There are not as many here as last year, but we have the old heads."—D. W. Clarke.

Frank Johnston got possession of the money bag, and then went to Buffalo. But he came back, though 'twas on the late boat.

The trio who feasted sumptuously—E. B. Dewey, Frank Johnston and James Mortimer.

President Donald honored Buffalo with his presence.

"I saw John Charters in Buffalo. He has been in business there about four months, and is doing a rattling fine trade."—W. R. Armstrong.

Fred. Mauthie missed the early return boat, and got a ferryman to row him across to Lewiston, where the facilities are more congenial to those who have to wait for late boats.

Secretary Corrie's face wore an expression that told of anything but disappointment.

Hon. Secretary Mills was, as usual, solicitous for the entertainment of the excursionists.

Glionna's orchestra supplied the music, and 'twas good.

W. J. Sykes was here, there and everywhere with bunches of tickets for the trip to Chippewa via the electric railway. And the cause of his ubiquity was that his tickets were cheaper than those obtained by the ordinary means.

The Extractor of Pleasure was A. R. Williamson.

President Owen, of the City Travelers' Association, returned on the early boat, and a good many missed the pleasure of his company.

RE BRIGHT AND YELLOW SUGARS.

DEAR GROCER,—The remarks in last Friday's Mail re Sugar are correct and to the point, but not strong enough. It has been and is now impossible to get a decent bright sugar, and as for nice yellows they are a thing of the past—the smell from many of them reminding one of the days of low grade Scotch sugars. This applies to Montreal as well as to Lower Province goods. What can we do to remedy this state of affairs? Yours, etc.,

SLOVENLY VS. NEAT STORES.

BY NOMAD.

I AM not a grocer, but in the course of my business I am forced to visit many of the grocery stores in Toronto and surrounding country; and I have come to the conclusion that the amount of business that they do and the class of custom that they control depends greatly upon their exterior and interior appearances.

You enter one store, and when on the threshold your nasal organ is assailed with the smell of coal oil, cheese of great strength, decaying potatoes, etc., and you quickly find out that the general arrangement of the store in question is in keeping with the smell.

A bag half full of potatoes stands in front of the counter where the customer will stand, while the floor is strewed with peas, etc., that have fallen from other sacks which stand around wherever chance happens to have placed them. On the counter you will find a pile of soap, with loaves of bread piled up against them, and no attempt seems to have been made to separate articles of food from other goods that are likely to contaminate them. Two or three sheets of fly paper lie around where they are an offence to the eye and a menace to the clothes of customers. On the shelves dust is thick and the labels on the bottles and tinned meats, etc., are dull and fly specked. Then when the frowsy headed, dirty aproned storekeeper shakes his chronic drowsiness off long enough to complain bitterly of the dulness of business in general and his own in particular, you cannot help wondering how anybody could ever have had the courage to eat anything that has come out of such a dingy and dirty store, and been handled by such a slovenly individual as the owner of it.

Of course you will say that I am piling it on, and that very few of the grocers resemble the description that I have given, but you would be surprised if you were to take a tour of inspection, how many you would find that resemble it to a greater or lesser degree.

A great deal of the lack of business done by the smaller class of grocery stores can be traced to the untidyness of the store, the dingy appearance of the windows, and the absence of neatness of dress and manner about the attendant or owner.

It is not necessary that you should have costly fixtures for your store in order to make it clean and inviting, but you will find that nothing will be lost by wearing a clean apron, and forbearing from wiping your hands on it after you have been hand ing molasses or coal oil.

The stores that I find do the most business are those in which an air of neatness prevails, where the clerks are ob'iging and clean, the stock is arranged with some attention to appearance, and where goods of a different class are kept separate as they should be.

The show window, which is the index to the interior of every store, should be kept stocked with seasonable goods effectively arranged, and the windows kept clean so as not to mar the effect of your window display.

I have lately been brought in contact with grocers keeping stores both on the neat and slovenly plan, and have found in nearly all cases that the most grumbling about the slackness of trade and hardness of times comes from the slovenly ones. I fear that I have overstepped the bounds in criticizing a trade of which I am not a member, but I wished to show how the general appearance of grocery stores affected an outsider.

"Oh, wad some power the giftie gie us,
To see ourselves as others see us."

WITH THE RETAILERS.

THE store of A. S. Brubasher, Elmira, was the scene of a little excitement the other day. The cause was a tarantula that had been espied in a bunch of bananas. The customers and others who had heard all kinds of stories about this reptile became excited. But somebody managed to secure the tarantula, and now it sleeps the sleep that knows no waking in a bottle of alcohol in Mr. Brubasher's window, and is looked at with interest unmixed with fear by a large number of persons every day.

T. S. Ford, groceries and dry goods, Mitchell, is refitting and beautifying his store.

T. Quirk, wine and spirit merchant, Stratford, formerly of the firm of C. Flaherty & Quirk, recently married a St. Thomas lady, and wishes he had joined the benedicts several years ago. But it's better late than never. Congratulations.

Walsh Bros., of Stratford, are making extensive alterations in their store. It is being refitted and painted, and by no means least of the improvements is the putting in of a cash railroad, which has been necessitated by the demands of the business. Walsh Bros. are also opening up a wine and spirit store in a building down the street from their present premises, while on their stud farm they have a number of fancy horses ready for purchasers.

F. King, of Tavistock, who met with an accident some time ago, is convalescent and again able to take charge of his business, which is one of the largest in the West.

W. A. McClean & Co., of Owen Sound, find trade with them in their retail store good and fully up to that of last year at this time.

S. Hill, of Markdale, is in receipt of a car load of sugar which he is selling at a price which is attracting a good deal of attention.

E. Berwick & Son, of Shelburne, are in receipt of two car loads of sugar and a large quantity of new season's Japan tea, direct importation. Business is good with E. B. & Son.

McClarty Bros., of Owen Sound, report trade good, and as Billy is looking the same it is evidently so.

W. A. Grier, of Owen Sound, has had many dollars added to his bank account, the result of his purchasing the stock of Notter & Scott last spring.

Cantleon Bros., of Clinton, find business good in both groceries and crockery. This firm handles butter and eggs extensively, and has sent a good deal of butter to the Maritime Provinces lately.

B. C. Strachan, of Goderich, who is reputed to have one of the finest stores in the north, has lately secured the copyright of a new story and accompanying song, "When the Robin Comes Marching Home," which he gives occasionally for the delectation of his customers and his friends.

P. Anderson, of the "Noted Tea Store,' Guelph, is in receipt of a letter from his son reporting his arrival safely on the other side of the "herring pond."

J. S. Ireland, formerly of Wroxeter, has rented the store in Owen Sound formerly occupied by Notter & Scott. He was in Toronto a few days ago and purchased a

John Whitesides, of Huntsville, was in Toronto on business last week.

"For better or for worse; for richer or for poorer," etc., were the words uttered a few days ago by — Sykes, son of Charles Sykes, merchant, Victoria Harbor. THE GROCER congratulates and wishes Mr. and Mrs. Sykes many happy years of married life.

A CURIOUS RECORD.

A methodical man died in Berlin recently at the age of 73 years. When 16 years old he began keeping a record, which he continued for 52 years, which, says an exchange, is the best commentary we have seen on the life of a mere worldling. His book shows that in 52 years this "natural man" had smoked 638,715 cigars, of which he had received 43,692 as presents, while for the remaining 585,021 he had paid about $10,433. In 52 years, according to his bookkeeping, he had drank 28,780 glasses of beer and 36,086 glasses of spirits, for all of which he spent $5,340. The diary closes with these words: "I have tried all things, I have seen many, I have accomplished nothing."

EBY, BLAIN & CO. REORGANIZE.

EBY, BLAIN & CO., who for some fifteen years have been numbered with Toronto's wholesale grocers, are turning the firm into a joint stock company.

A notice to this effect appeared in the Ontario Gazette of Saturday.

The applicants for incorporation are: Joseph Fisher Eby, merchant; Hugh Blain, merchant; James Walton Borsbery, traveler; Robert William Ritchie, traveler; Joseph Henry Devany, traveler; John Arbuthnutt Milne, traveler; Wilhelm Heinrich Seyler, clerk; William James McMurtry, insurance manager, and Charles Corbishley Bennett, accountant, all of Toronto; and the first directors of the company are to be J. F. Eby, Hugh Blain, W. J. McMurtry, W. H. Seyler, and C. C. Bennett.

The name of the company is to be Eby, Blain & Company, of Toronto, Limited, and the capital stock is to be $150,000 in 150,000 shares of $100 each.

A pleasing complexion about the new company is that some half dozen of the employees of the old firm are joining their employers in promoting the new business. Such a combination cannot fail to be of substantial advantage to the new concern, and demonstrates the mutual confidence and appreciation which must have existed among these gentlemen during the past.

This is an era for the formation of joint stock companies, and there is much that can be said in favor of it. It means the concentration of capital, and, consequently, stronger firms. Furthermore, governmental supervision is created, the advantage of which is obvious, while where there is a joint stock company there is a board of directors whose counsel and advice naturally tend to improve business methods and increase the chances of success. Two heads are better than one, and half a dozen or a dozen are better than two in devising ways and means to develop and push trade.

Eby, Blain & Co. has long been recognized as ranking amongst the most live and energetic business firms in Canada, and judging from the personnel of Eby, Blain & Co., Ltd., it is not likely to lose any of its lustre in this respect.

PREPARING STILTON CHEESE.

A tin cylinder open at both ends is required, 6 inches long and 12 inches in diameter, with perforated sides to allow the escape of the whey. Lamb's maw is used as a rennet, and a lemon filled with cloves is placed in the curd. Nine gallons of fresh milk and the cream from 2 to 3 gallons of milk are used for 1 cheese. The milk is heated to its natural temperature before adding the rennet. When the mass is curdled, it is strained through a cloth, broken short and allowed to remain quiet, wrapped in the cloth, until it is fit to be cut. The tin cylinder is then placed upon a board and filled with alternate layers of curd and salt and covered with another board.

The cylinder with the cheese is turned over every 2 or 3 hours for the first day, and 2 or 3 times a day for the succeeding 3 or 4 days, after which the cheese is taken out, wrapped in a cloth wet with boiling water, and pressed until it is dry. It is turned twice a day, and protected from flies and insects. Considerable time is required to make it fit for the table.

Manitoba Provincial Exhibition opened in Winnipeg, Monday.

It is now reported that the Western Ontario peach crop will be small.

Ballantyne & Sons shipped the last half of June cheese from Goldstone factory on Thursday of last week.

J. Van Sommer, who has closed his general store at Goldstone, has removed the balance of his stock to Port Elgin.

The storehouse of Galt Bros., Calgary, was broken into the other day and a quantity of tea and beef stolen.

Business is reported to be quieter in New Glasgow this summer than it has been for many years.

J. F. Honor's grocery store, Port Hope, was damaged to the extent of $1,000 by fire the other day. Incendiarism is believed to be the cause.

The Ingersoll Packing Company refuse to buy hogs from Chatham district because the flesh is too soft. A prominent breeder thinks it is because the hogs are fed on beans.

A fire in the premises of Theophile Desroches, grocer, at 439 Amherst street, Montreal, the other night about 11 o'clock, did damage to the extent of $2,000. A valuable horse was suffocated.

Last week forty fine cheese, averaging over 70 pounds in weight, were made in the Brooklin factory, being the largest turnout for any week since it has been in operation. A shipment of 75 was made again this week. --Ex.

This year seems, up to date, to be the best fishing season Newfoundland has had for twenty years. The shore fishery generally is very good. Business is brisk and public confidence is completely restored in the island.

Reports to the Ogilvie Milling Company estimate an excess of three to four million bushels over the crop of last year in Manitoba alone. In some districts the farmers will be cutting by August 1st, and by the 10th it is expected the harvest will be general.

At a meeting of the council of the Board of Trade, on Monday, the eighth annual report of the gratuity trustees was received and adopted. It showed that there were 45 transfers made this year, the average age of those relinquishing their interest being 44, and of the new participants, 37. There had been eight deaths, which had been duly assessed upon the subscribing members. The average age of those who died was 61, and the death rate for the past eight years has only reached a fraction over the expectancy of 1 per cent. The amount on mortgage is $57,250, invested on property appraised at $118,000. The amount in bonds is $38,000. The average rate of interest is a fraction over 5 per cent. The total amount of gratuities paid was $15,597, the average amount of each payment being $1,559. The number of beneficiaries was 50. On July 1st, 1894, there were 851 subscribers.

The store of Hartley Bros., Brantford, was robbed the other night. Entrance was gained by cutting a screen in the back door so as to permit of the bolt being slipped back. The till was forced open, but did not yield anything, as the money had been taken away Saturday night. The thieves consequently rewarded themselves by taking some tobacco, cigars, cans of salmon and other articles.

There are now being exhibited in the rotunda of the Toronto Board of Trade two cases of lemons, of the Lisbon variety, grown on the Kinnerong Hill, near Sydney, N.S.W., and picked by the students of the Agricultural College, adjacent to that city.

E. B. Eddy, the celebrated manufacturer, of Hull, Que., is in town, the guest of Prince of Wales' Hotel. Eddy's woodenware and indurated fibreware are used in almost every house. Mr. Eddy came to Hull about forty years ago with something less than $75 in his pocket, and to day he claims to be the largest manufacturer in Canada, giving employment to 2,200 people. He says he has done more to develop the manufacturing interests of Canada than any other live man.—Pick-Me-Up, Pictou, N.S.

The fruit of British Columbia has been seriously affected by fruit pests this year. The tent caterpiller is playing havoc with ornamental and fruit trees. The wooly aphis is also showing itself and has worked a great deal of havoc. R. M. Palmer, provincial inspector of fruit pests, has issued circular letters to all the fruit-growers in the province warning them against the insect plague and advising as to their destruction.

The Vancouver Advertiser says: "At about 12.40 yesterday noon the Great Northern engine, No. 218, ran into Vancouver at the end of a run slightly exceeding 2,000 miles. Sir William Van Horne congratulated Mr. Connor, the engineer, in having thus made the record for the longest straight away run upon rails, the former longest being only some 1,066 miles." President Hill, of the Great Northern, and other officials of that road, accompanied Sir William's party to the Terminal city.

"FIVE LETTERS FROM HOME"

RICHMOND STATION, QUE., Feb. 20th, 1893.

THE EUREKA SALT MFG. CO.

GENTLEMEN,—About five years ago I bought from you the first Higgin's "Eureka" Salt I ever handled. I had to do a good deal of persuading to make customers believe it was worth the difference more than common salt, but I now have not the least trouble selling 800 to 1000 sacks per year at a fair profit.

I might also say that the quality of the butter in this section has certainly improved, since dairymen commenced using Higgin's "Eureka" Salt. I am satisfied it is the cheapest and best salt in the market.

Yours truly,

R. F. McKEE.

MONTREAL, Feb. 21s, 1893.

THE EUREKA SALT MFG. CO.

DEAR SIRS,—For the past eight years I have handled Higgin's "Eureka" Salt and each year I find my sales largely increase. I distribute your salt amongst a large number of creameries, whose output I sell, and I find that the quality of their butter has much improved since they started the use of "Eureka" Salt.

My customers are all so pleased with your salt that they will not now use any other in their butter. They find that in the end it is the cheapest salt to use. I shall always recommend "Eureka" to my customers. I remain, Yours truly,

THE EUREKA SALT MFG. CO.

GENTLEMEN,—I take pleasure in recommending Higgin's "Eureka" Salt to all creamery and other butter makers, as I have found it the best to use. I have found it much better and cheaper to use in the long run than any of the other cheaper grades of salt. The difference in price is more than made up by the superior flavor of the butter as well as making the butter keep much better. I remain, Yours truly,

Indurated Fibreware

from Induratus (Latin) hardened, and Fibre (French) the fine, stringy substance found in animals and plants,

Is a ware made of the toughest wood fibre, specially prepared, then shaped by tremendous hydraulic pressure, and hardened or indurated, by chemical process. First manufactured in this country in 1884, it has been constantly improved on since, and has now reached the acme of perfection.

Indurated Fibreware is made into Tubs, Pails, Milk Pans, Wash Basins, Bread Pans, Butter Bowls, Butter Tubs, Cuspidors, etc. Its peculiar advantages are that it

Will not shrink or swell.
Will not taint milk or any liquid.
Cannot leak, water-soak or rust.
Has no hoops to rust or drop off.
Being seamless, bottom cannot drop out.
Is lighter than a wooden pail.
Imparts no taste or flavor to its contents.
Is proof against kerosene, benzine, vinegar, and ordinary acids.

In addition to its many superior qualities, this ware is forced upon the notice of the public by most persistent and aggressive advertising throughout Canada.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 26, 1894.

GROCERIES.

A FAIRLY good business is doing on the street, although the turn-over is scarcely as large as a week ago. This is probably more marked in sugars, but this is only natural after the brisk demand that was experienced last week. Values rule as before, although they scarcely exhibit the same strength they did a week ago. Canned goods are much as before, the demand being fair for the season at unchanged prices. While sugar is occupying rather less attention than a week ago, tea on the other hand is occupying more on account of the new teas which have arrived or are arriving. The improved demand noted a week ago for molasses has been maintained, but syrups are still seasonably dull. Foreign dried fruits are still scarce and in demand at firm prices. This applies particularly, of course, to Valencia raisins.

CANNED GOODS.

Demand continues to ease off for tomatoes, although there is still a fair seasonable trade doing at the unchanged prices of 85 to 90c. Corn is in fair demand and firmer at 90 to 95c. Peas are quiet and firm at 82½ to 85c. The Packers' Association reports a fair movement in all kinds of canned vegetables, particularly peas. There is a good seasonable movement in salmon at the old prices of $1.25 to $1.35 for tall tins and $1.50 to $1.60 for flat tins. Fresh shipments of new lobster are arriving and there is a fair demand, and we quote talls at $1.80 and flats at $2.25 to $2.50. There is a continued demand for canned peaches, but other kinds of fruit are dull. We quote: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2 75, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40.

Epitomized, the weekly report of the Packers' Association regarding the fruit and vegetable crops is as follows: Raspberries, injured by drought and only quarter to half crop, none being packed by some canneries. Plums, large crop in Niagara district and around Hamilton, but apparently short in other districts. Pears, fair to good. Peaches, large crop in the Niagara district. Apples, while very good in some districts, in others the fruit is falling off and not turning out as well as anticipated. Peas, the packers are through packing; crop good in the east, and while abundant in isolated instances in the west, generally speaking the crop in that part of the country was short. Corn is on the whole promising well, but rain is wanted. Tomatoes are here and there reported to be unsatisfactory, but the outlook is good on the whole.

COFFEES.

Trade is fair and prices unchanged. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 23c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

NUTS.

Dull and unchanged. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c. lb.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c. a lb.; Terragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; peanuts, 10½ to 11c. for roasted and 8 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12½ to 15c.; Marbot walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9¾ to 10¼c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 12½c.

RICE.

There is a good demand for "B" at 3½ to 3¾c. We quote as follows: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

There is a good demand at unchanged prices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12c.; pure white, 18 to 25c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 28 to 30c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 23 to 25c.; cream of tartar, 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

Market is steady, but there is not the same strong undertone that was apparent a week ago. People are not talking of advances. Neither is the demand as active as it was a week ago, but retailers' stocks are light although the buying so far this season has not been up to expectations. The idea as to price is still 4⅜ to 4½c. up for yellows, with raw quoted at 3¼c.

Willett & Gray's statistical: Raws advanced 1-16c. Refined advanced ¼c. Total stock in all the principal countries, 1,104,141 tons, against 871,267 tons at same date last year. The raw market during the week has been controlled entirely by the expectation that the tariff bill would be put through in season to take effect August 1st. All sugars available for arrival at that date met with ready buyers at 3 3-16c. for 96° test, while all sugars for later delivery met with no demand at all. At the close, however, the market is at a standstill, and is uncertain which way to turn, because of the failure of the Conference Committee to reach an agreement on the tariff bill. This will cause delay and may necessitate the change of date from August 1st, which would lengthen out the time for arrival of sugar, free of duty, and give opportunity for Cuba and the West Indies to dispose of balance of their crop.

SYRUPS.

No new features. Demand is small and prices unchanged. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Demand still continues to be a little better than is usual at this time of the year, principally at prices ranging from 25 to 45c. New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEA.

Shipments of new season's Monings and Foo Chows are to hand this week, and the market exhibits more life in consequence. The quality and value of the Moning teas were referred to last week, and much the same remarks as applied to them apply to the Foo Chow teas, they showing good quality and far better value than the teas which arrived this time a year ago. These are about the only teas which are at the moment receiving much attention from wholesalers. There are not many China black teas going into the hands of retailers yet, but jobbers report a good demand for new season's Japans around 18 to 20c., and a fair movement in Japan and Ceylon teas. Green teas are quiet, and new Young Hysons will be 2 to 3c. higher than last year. First Young Hysons are very scarce, while good cup Young Hysons of any kind cannot be got. New China green teas will not be here for about five weeks, but Pingsueys are due to arrive in about three weeks. In the latter kind of tea buyers have been more careful this year, and the result is an improvement in the quality, being good in both cup and style. We hear of offers being made for Pingsueys to take the place of first Young Hysons.

Mail advices from London, under date of July 13, state that duty payments during the first six months of the year show a substantial increase in the home consumption. The use of China tea has fallen to only 12 per cent. of the total, as against 20 per cent. consumed during the same period last year. Export figures show a gradual expansion in the use of British grown teas in foreign markets. Nearly all the Indian tea offered was of new season's growth. "Buyers" say the advices are devoting their attention to the better liquoring parcels and quality is receiving its reward in the prices realized. Poorer liquoring parcels are perhaps a trifle cheaper on the week. In Ceylon tea, bidding was brisk notwithstanding the arrival of some heavy cargoes which will be placed on the market directly; low priced teas are in strong demand at present quotations, whilst the better liquoring and fine parcels show a further advance.

DRIED FRUITS.

Dried fruits of all kinds are in limited supply on spot, and prices are well maintained, especially in Valencia raisins. Stocks of the latter are almost exhausted. As far as we are aware there is only one wholesale house in the city that has any layer Valencias, and it is holding them at high prices. Off-stalk is all the other houses appear to have. Demand continues good. We quote: Off-stalk, 6 to 6¼c.; fine layers, 8½ to 9c. Currants are in fair demand at steady and unchanged figures. We quote as follows: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¼c. in brls., and 4¼ to 4¾c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases; Panariti, 8½ to 9c. Prunes are quiet and unchanged. We quote: U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's, 7½c.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c. Figs are dull and featureless. We quote: Small boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 5 lb. boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 10 lb. boxes, 10c.; 28-lb. boxes choice Eleme, 11c.; 6-crown, 12½c.; 7-crown 13½c.; bags, 28-lb., 6½ to 7c. Dates quiet and unchanged, at 4¼ to 5c.; selected Hallowee dates, 8½ to 9c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

There has been no material change during the week in butter. Prices if anything are a little easier than they were a week ago. Demand is nearly altogether for choice dairy butter, low grades being but little wanted, while more of it is arriving. The idea for choice dairy tubs is 17c; some jobbers are trying to get ½c. more than this figure, but it is asserted that they seldom get it. Jobbers are buyers at 16c. Straight store-packed is being taken at 14 to 15c., and jobbers are selling at 1c. advance. Dairy pound rolls are coming in more freely, but still they are not plentiful, while the demand is good. Creamery tub butter is offering freely, but buyers are few. Creamery pound prints are coming forward more freely, but as dairy pound rolls are more plentiful, they are not so eagerly sought after as they were. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17 to 17½c.; straight store, 15 to 16c.; crocks, 18c.; bakers' butter, 13 to 15c.; pound rolls, 19 to 20c. Creamery— Tubs, fresh, 20 to 21c; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

There is only a small business doing in cheese, demand being on consumptive account. Prices are a little stiffer, however, 10c. now being the idea.

PROVISIONS.

Demand continues to increase for smoked meats, and prices are firmer, lowest quotations on small medium hams being 11c., and we quote long clear fractionally higher. We hear of some shipments of round lots of meats to the Northwest.

BACON—Long clear, 7¾ to 8c.; smoked backs, 10½ to 11c.; breakfast bacon, 11 to 11½c.; rolls, 8¾c.

HAMS—11c. for smoked, and 10c. for pickled.

LARD—Pure Canadian 8½ to 8¾c. in tubs, 9c. in pails and 8¼c. in tierces. Compound, 7¼ to 7½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $17 to $17.50; Canadian short-cut, $18.00 to $18.50; shoulder mess, $14.50 to $15; clear mess, $15 to $15.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

Demand is fair only for lemons, while supply is plentiful and prices easy. There are not many oranges on the market and there are not many wanted. Rodi oranges are due to arrive. Bananas are plentiful and cheap, a great deal of the fruit arriving being overripe. Several carloads sold at auction as low as 40c. per hundred bunch lots, while the maximum touched was $1.30. Ordinarily the price is $1 to $1.50. Demand is good, better in fact than is to be expected in view of the large quantity of domestic small fruits on the market. Some nice shipments of domestic peaches are arriving on the market, and there is a fair demand for them at quotations. Several carloads of water melons have arrived during the past week, and there is a good demand for them. There is a big demand for tomatoes. Both supply and demand is good in small fruit. Gooseberries are nearly out of the market. We quote: Oranges, Californias, $3.75 to $4.25; Messinas, half-boxes, 80's $2.25, 100's $2.50, boxes, $4 to $4.50. Lemons, $3.75 to $4.25. Bananas, $1 to $1 50 per bunch. Watermelons, 20 to 30c. each. Raspberries, 7 to 8½c. Cherries, $1 to $1 75 per basket. Red currants, 50 to 80c. per basket. Black currants $1.25 per basket. Gooseberries, large varieties, $1.20 per basket. Huckleberries, 80c. to $1 per basket. Celery, 60 to 70c. per doz. Baltimore cucumbers, $1.25 to $1.75 per crate; in brls., 35 to 40c. per doz. Cabbages, $1.25 to $2 per brl. Tomatoes, Mississippi, $1 to $3 according to package. Peaches, 75c. to $1 per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Quiet, with medium held at 1.20 to $1.30 and hand-picked at $1.35 to $1 40.

DRIED APPLES—There have been sales of odd boxes at 6c. per lb.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Some enquiries are reported, but it seems it was not possible to supply them.

POTATOES—Demand is good, but there are not many coming forward, and prices are firmer at $2 50 per barrel.

EGGS—There are more coming in, while demand is dropping off, causing an easier feeling in prices; 10½ to 11c. is still the range quoted, but the outside figure is not the ruling price. Complaints are again heard of the arrival of a good deal of held stock which has deteriorated in quality.

HOPS—Quiet at 12 to 15c. for 1893's. Package hops, 20c. per lb.

ONIONS—Egyptian onions are dull and easy at $1.40 per sack.

MAPLE PRODUCTS—Are dull and nominally unchanged. We quote: Syrup, wine gallon tins, 65 to 70c.; 5 gallon packages, 60 to 75c.; sugar, 1 lb. cakes, 7½ to 8c.; small cakes, 9½ to 10c.

HONEY—New honey is being offered at 12½ to 15c. for comb, but no transactions are reported.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Are plentiful but of very poor quality, and it is difficult to make up a car of good buff selection. Jobbers are selling at 3½c. and pay ½c. less.

SKINS—Pelts are alleged to be much too high in price owing to the low price of tanned stock. We quote lamb skins at 30c. and pelts at 25c.

WOOL—Is coming in freely, but dealers claim to be "buying it in the dark," although they have been paying lower prices than was ever known before in the history of the trade. The prices they are now paying are: Ordinary combing, 17c.; fine clothing and down, 18 to 19c.; rejections, 12 to 13c. and unwashed, 10 to 11c.

TALLOW—Is more plentiful, but it is arriving in bad condition. Dealers are paying 4¾ to 5¼c. and selling at 5¼ to 5½c.

FISH.

There is only a little white fish and trout coming forward, and this is not enough to supply the demand. Prices are in consequence higher. We quote as follows: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c. Lake Erie herring, $1.75 to $2 per 100; blueback herring 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 5 to 6c. per lb.; salmon trout 6½c.; white fish, 7c.; pike, 5c. lb.; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb; steak cod, 5 to 6c.; large halibut, 10c.; brook trout, 25c. per lb.

SALT.

Trade has greatly improved during the last week and is now quite brisk. Prices are unchanged. We quote: Dairy, $1.50, special grade; brls., 90c.; coarse sacks, 58c.; fine sacks, 70c.; American rock, $10 per ton.

PETROLEUM.

Trade remains much as before. We quote, in 5 to 10 brl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 15½ to 16c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 18 to 19c.; photogene, 20c.

The Petrolia Advertiser in its weekly report says:—"Petrolia Crude: 93 cents per brl. Oil Springs Crude: 94½c. per brl. Refined, 5¾ to 6¼ cents in bulk, or 8½ to 9 cents in barrels in car lots f.o.b. here. The crude market is much firmer, although there is no advance in the price. Oil men are anxiously watching developments in Newfoundland, whither some of the drillers have gone to search for the greasy fluid."

MARKET NOTES.

MARKETS.—Continued

H. P. Eckardt & Co. are offering special value in Eleme raisins.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. have received shipment of new season's Moning Congous. Quality is exceptionally good.

The Marsh Hill creamery is putting up butter in pound prints for D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co.

Eby, Blain & Co. are in receipt of a carload of New Orleans molasses in barrels, which is said to show good value.

One hundred barrels early apples are wanted this week by White & Co., 70 Colborne street, Toronto.

Todhunter, Mitchell & Co. are introducing this season a new package of pickling spice under the name of "Dominion Mills Brand."

S. L. Vanstone, of Brantford, is advertising "Salada Ceylon Tea" in the Brant ford Expositor.

Exhibits of Grand Mogul tea were at the following towns the past week: St. Thomas, Aylmer, Tilsonburg and Brantford.

M. Masuret & Co., of London, remind the trade that Tanglefoot and Hires' root beer are good sellers at a good profit just now.

See Wm. Paterson & Son's candy advt. on page 6. If in want of anything in this line, this firm can supply you.

The peanut season is now in full swing. Wm. Paterson & Son claim to be headquarters. Get samples and quotations from them.

Todhunter, Mitchell & Co. announce a big reduction in the price of Fruit Puddine, rendered possible by the changes in the tariff.

Proof vinegar is reported by T. B. Escott & Co., of London, to be going out fast. The firm report similarly in regard to "Lion Digestive Coffee."

"We have a good ar icle in our Eagle Japan and Ceylon teas," write M. Masuret & Co., "and our friends throughout Western Ontario know it."

W. H. Gillard & Co, of Hamilton, are offering a fine range of early May pick d Japans at prices, they claim, that make the lines valuable.

The canned whole pineapple and grated pineapple, offering by Lucas, Steele & Bristol, is meeting with much favor. Their rennet wine is also going off well.

The Japan teas ex the Empress of Japan, which Lucas, Steele & Bristol delivered this week, are eye-openers. Their customers are much pleased with the quality.

Davidson & Hay report the arrival of new season's Moning and Panyong Congou teas. They were received Monday, and the honor of being the first on the market is claimed for them.

Intending exhibitors at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition will do well to bear in mind that the last day for entries for manufacturers is the 11th of August next. As there is no exhibition at Montreal this year there are unusual demands for space, and applications should be made early.

The Retail Grocers' Association of London held its annual picnic Wednesday, but at the hour of going to press our report had not arrived. It will appear next week.

W. H. Gillard & Co. report that their customers almost to a man handle New York ginger ale, and that their average sales of this are 150 cases a day during the hot weather.

A new supply of the Myrtle peaches are now in Lucas, Steele & Bristol's warehouse. They also have some of the Derby brand. This firm offer very attractive sardines from Dandicolle & Gaudin, of Bordeaux.

P. C. Larkin & Co. report the opening last week of three good agencies for the sale of Salada Ceylon tea in the city of Brantford. Moral: When you have a good thing to sell, advertise it in THE GROCER.

The Toronto Biscuit and Confectionery Co. get out a new biscuit every little while, the last one being "Peach Cake," and it has proved a bonanza to everybody handling it. We have been presented with a sample, and can speak from experience.

The John on-Locke Mercantile Company, of San Francisco, commission merchants, have telegraphed Walter Baker & Company as follows: "You have just been awarded special prize at Midwinter Fair, which exceeds in value and consideration gold medal, and is highest award Exposition gives. Congratulations."

Crops along the line of the Midland and Northern railways are in excellent condition. The farmers are now in the midst of haying, but unfortunately their barley and fall wheat crops are awaiting the sickle, leaving them in the position with three crops on their hands demanding attention at the same time.

Agencies for the sale of Salada Ceylon tea were opened in the following towns during the week ending July 14th: Grimsby, Waterdown, Dundas, Simcoe, Port Dover, Jarvis, Hagersville, and Caledonia; and during the past week at Preston, Drayton, Palmerston, Mount Forest, Moorfield, Maple, Acton, Hespeler, and Fergus. P. C. Larkin & Co. report the sale of "Salada," to have increased in Toronto during the last three months to more than three times what it was during the same three months of last year. It is now on sale in 432 stores in Toronto alone.

Goods entered for consumption in June amount to $9,421,493, and duty collected, $1,285,374. This shows a decrease of $2,579,557 in volume, and $569,324 in duty. The exports for the month were $13,225,873, showing the slight falling off of $146,422 from last June.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, July 26, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THERE is little change to note in the grocery market, which does not present many new features this week, nor is business as a whole especially active, but rather dull. In consequence of the unsettled feeling in New York there has been an uncertain tone about sugar, but up to the time of this writing business was doing from the refineries at the prices we quoted last week. In syrups and molasses trade is of the quiet order, with nothing very special to mention. The same can be said of coffees and spices. New crop Japan teas are now actually on the market. As we pointed out specially last week their cost is reasonable and the quality desirable, but so far no great occasion of activity is to note. In dried fruit the bareness of the market of Valencia raisins is the sole feature. There has been notable activity in canned goods in the matter of ordering fresh supplies of salmon and fruit, the details of which are given below. Values on salmon, it will be seen, are higher. Other lines furnish nothing calling for special mention here.

SUGAR.

There has been little change in the actual position of the sugar market during the week, though the excitement in New York consequent upon the developments at Washington caused an unsettled feeling. However, though higher prices have been spoken of in consequence of this, the basis from the refinery is still 4⅛c. for granulated, the decline noted in our last, which is the ruling figure up to the time of this writing. On yellows the range is 3 1-16 to 3¼c. The demand at these prices has been of moderate volume, and refiners complain that the turn-over is not what it should be for this season. Outside advices regarding New York and London continue of much the same tenor.

SYRUP.

There has been no change in the syrup market, demand continuing slow. Despite the fact that one refiner has cleared out his stock, there is no lack of supplies here. The tone is steady, prices ruling unchanged at 2 to 2⅛c. for bright and 1 to 1¼c. for dark.

MOLASSES.

No new or important feature has transpired since our last in the molasses market. At the time of writing the demand is limited and sales are confined to small lots for actual wants. There is no change in prices which we quote: Round lots 28c., car lots 29c. and and single puncheons 30c.

TEA.

The only noticeable feature in the tea market is the fact that new crop Japans, ex Empress of India, are now on the market, and some sales have transpired at 14 to 20c. On the whole, however, the demand is not specially brisk. As we have noted, however, the tenor of primary advices continues firm, and with further arrivals of new crop business in teas should expand shortly to more generous proportions. The quality of the new goods offering is desirable, and the cost very reasonable, so that this should be an inducement. We quote: Japan teas, common, 10 to 13c.; medium, 14 to 17c.; fine, 18 to 21½c.; and choicest, 23 to 29c.

COFFEES.

There has been a fair business doing in coffees, 25 and 50 bags of Maracaibo changing hands at 19 to 19½c., and smaller lots at 20½ to 22c. We quote: Java, 24 to 28c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c., and Rio, 18 to 21c.

SPICES.

There is no change in spices, which rule steady in value, with a fair business doing on the basis last quoted. We quote: Black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c., and Jamaica ginger, 15 to 18c.

RICE.

A fair average business is doing in rice, and the market rules moderately active and steady. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3.95 to $4.25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

DRIED FRUIT.

Remarks made last week regarding dried fruit may be repeated, and until offers are made to arrive on new supplies the market is not apt to be interesting. California stock has been offering here in the place of Mediterranean fruit, the stocks of which, as already noted, are exhausted. In fact, as THE GROCER pointed out early in the summer, the new fruit will arrive on a market better fitted to receive them than ever before. There is no change in currants, which meet a small jobbing demand at former prices. We quote: Off stalk Valencias, 4½ to 4¾c.; fine, 5 to 5¼c.; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

There is no change in nuts, business in which is of a hand to mouth character. We quote: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18

FLOUR AND FEED

SPEAKING on the subject of the flour and feed trade, city dealers state that there is little flour selling owing to the lack of home baking that is being done and the number of people that are out of town. Breakfast cereals, such as rolled oats, etc., are also moving very slowly. The demand for feed is about the average, considering the season, and some dealers report trade in this line a little more brisk than it was last summer. There is very little demand for hay, and it is selling at from $8.50 to $10 in car lots. Straw is slow and there is no demand for bale straw, though there is some sheaf straw selling. Bran and shorts are quiet, but there is a fair demand for chicken feed. City dealers say that people are buying very lightly this month, and that collections are hard owing to the fact that people have recently paid their taxes and are short of ready money. There has been some cutting of prices during the recent dull times, but not so much as in many other lines, the margin being too small to allow much cutting.

THE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

FLOUR—There is but little change in prices. Manitoba has dropped 10c. per brl., and strong bakers' is selling at 5c. per brl. less than last week.

BRAN—There is a very small demand and dealers are not carrying large stocks. City mills are selling at from $13.50 to $14 per ton.

SHORTS—Trade is quiet and no change in price is reported. City mills are selling at $16 per ton.

SCREENINGS—The demand is fairly good at from $12 to $12.50 per ton.

MONTREAL.

The demand for flour on local account continues good, and the market in consequence is fairly active and about steady. There was also some enquiry for export, but cables were easier and bids lower, which millers would not accept. Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.70; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, $3; extra, $2.75 to $2.90; superfine, $2.50 to $2.65; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.50; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.45 to $3.50.

In feed an active business is doing for this season of the year; in fact, millers state they never remember being kept so closely sold up at this period before. One firm reports sales of 17 car loads of bran at $15, and a large quantity of shorts at $17. Mouillie is also moving freely at $20. Bran, $15; shorts, $17; mouillie, $20.

The market for oatmeal rules quiet, with only a fair jobbing trade doing at about quotations. Standard, brls., $4.25 to $4.30; granulated, brls., $4.25 to $4.30; rolled oats, brls., $4.50 to $4.60; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

In flour market is dull and weak with little prospect of being better. Oatmeal is now above the best flour, and a strong market with prices a little higher. Cornmeal is up five cents with market firm. Middlings continue scarce and high. Oats are lower. Hay very weak with prospects of a very large crop. We quote: Manitoba, $4.25 to $4.35; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; oatmeal, standard, $4.65 to $4.75; rolled, $4.65 to $4.75; cornmeal, $2.70 to $2.75; granulated, $3.50; middlings on track, $21; bran, $19 to $21; cottonseed meal per ton $30; oats, on track, N. B. and Ontario, 45 to 47c.; beans, h.p., $1.55 to $1.60; prime, $1.45 to $1.50; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; round peas, $3.65 to $3.75; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00; hay on track, $10 to $10.50

The British ship Clan Robertson, of some 1,900 tons, is now en route to this port from Hong Kong with a cargo of tea under charter to the C. P. R. Her cargo consists of about 2,500 tons. She left Hong Kong on July 6, and is expected here about the middle of next month.—News, Vancouver.

A BUSINESS FINDER.

Cobwebs: How do you find business?

Rustle: Advertise for it, of course.

No amount of argument can suppress the fact that a good advertisement, rightly placed, is a business finder; and when trade is slow is just the time advertising should be pushed in the most careful and persistent manner possible.—Exchange.

CANNED GOODS.

There has been considerable business in canned goods on this market since the date of last writing. Salmon has been one of the active lines, the feeling ruling strong, while a noticeable advance in values has been established. Sales are reported of 1,000 cases Lynx brand at $3.60 f. o. b. on the coast, and they are now held firm at $3.65 f. o. b. on the coast. Another lot of 50 cases of Clover Leaf was placed at $4.15 for flats and $3 65 for talls. There has been a good enquiry for canned fruit, 100 box lots of evaporated apricots changing hands at 8½ to 9c. per lb. on the coast and 50 case lots $1.90 delivered in Montreal, also 50 case lots of peaches at $2 to $2.50 Montreal. In addition to this large purchasing of future supplies quite a movement in a small way has transpired in pears, green gages, cherries and assorted plums. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2 10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.

GREEN FRUITS.

There has been no receipt of California green fruit up to the date of the present writing since our last. A fair amount of oranges are changing hands at firm prices. Rodi oranges received towards the close of last week are selling well at quotations. Lemons also meet a fair sale and rule firm under light supplies. There is a fair demand for bannas. Receipts of cherries are light and values higher. Gooseberries, raspberries, and currants, all meet a fair enquiry. We quote: Oranges, $4 to $5; lemons, $3.50 to $4.50 per box; bananas, $1 to $2 per bunch; cherries, Canadian, $1 to $1.50 per basket; gooseberries, 50 to 75c. per basket; raspberries, 10c. per box; currants, 5 to 6. per box.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

With large receipts and warm weather and a falling off in the demand, the egg market is weak at present, and values rule easy at 10 to 11c., with a possibility of a decline before the end of the week. New potatoes are selling freely at $1.50 to $2 per brl. In hops the market is very quiet in sympathy with the position across the lines. We quote a range of 12 to 13c. for best lots, and old lots 3 to 7c. as to quality.

PROVISIONS.

A fair amount of business was transacted in local provisions. The demand for pork is limited, which is usually the case at this season of the year, but the movement of hams, bacon and lard is very good. On the whole the market is fairly active and steady. Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The butter market remains much the same, and though a lower price is talked of, it is questionable whether 19c. could be cut upon if it was a question of a lot of strictly fancy fine creamery. As a matter of fact there may be said to be more or less of a premium on A1 goods, owing to their scarcity. On the other hand, there is an oversufficiency of goods that will not grade up to finest, and this constitutes an easy feature, for factory men are anxious to realize on these goods if they can, and are comparatively free sellers. With regard to the position on the other side, mail advices of eight or ten days ago convey the impression that a great deal depends on the price of Danish butter, which at the date of writing exhibited a firmer tendency, whether there will be money in Canadian creamery at about its present level or not. It also conveyed the idea that the Britishers were watching the Canadian market more closely than they have done previously this season. We quote: Fine creamery, 19 to 19¼c.; creamery seconds, 18 to 18¼c.; fine townships, 16 to 17c.; fine western, 15½ to 16c.

CHEESE.

The cheese market is unsettled, though there are indications apparent which make it probable that an order for cheese may possibly be filled cheaper than it could a week ago. In fact, it is possible now in the case of Eastern cheese, on which it may be said that a decline is actually established. It is different, however, in the case of Western goods, which could hardly be got under 9⅜ to 9½c., certainly not under the inside. It is worthy of note, however, despite the easier feeling, that there are some orders in the market for cheese at a price. These possibly came under the head of business by firms who regularly ship a certain quantity per month and have it already placed. Some of the business was put through on Tuesday, among which was the purchase of a leading Ottawa valley combination involving 1,000 boxes, partly June and July, at 9¼c.; it is understood, however, this is not given officially as the exact figures were put. At the wharf on Monday the offerings were 4,000 boxes odd, all of which were sold, the ruling price being 9⅛c. This is a decline of an ⅛c., and in consequence of it we reduce our price on Eastern cheese a fraction. At St. Hyacinthe, also, it is understood that 3,000 boxes or so were bought at 9c. Finest Western colored, 9⅜ to 9½c.; finest Western white, 9⅜ to 9½c.; finest Eastern, colored, 9⅛ to 9¼c.; finest Eastern white, 9⅛ to 9¼c.; under grades, 8¾ to 8⅞c.; cable, 45s. 6d.

LIVE STOCK.

The receipts of live stock at the Montreal stock yards at Point St. Charles for the week ending July 21 were 4,142 cattle, 2,270 sheep, 635 hogs, and 170 calves. The feature of this market to-day was the sharp advance in hogs of 35 to 40c. per 100 lbs., which was due to the small run and the active demand both here and in the West for light weights. Business was active and sales were made freely at $5.50 to $5 70 per 100 lbs. live weight. The market for cattle was weak and prices slow, a decline of fully ¼ to ½c. per lb. on account of the heavy supplies and the large number of inferior beasts. A few lots of the best butchers' changed hands at 3 to 3½c., while common to inferior were offered down as low as 1½ to 2½c. per lb. without meeting with a buyer. A few choice bunches of sheep for export sold at 3½ to 3¾c. per lb., and butchers paid for a few 3 to 3¼c. per lb. live weight. Calves were in light supply and met with a good demand at prices ranging from $2 to $8 each as to size and quality.

At the East End abattoir this morning the offerings of live stock were 500 cattle, 250 sheep and lambs, 150 calves, and 20 lean hogs. On the whole business at this market was quiet, and values were lower in sympathy with other markets. A few shippers were present, and some small lots of the best stock offered were taken at 3¾ to 4c. per lb. The attendance of butchers was small, and the demand was limited, owing to the continued warm weather, consequently sales were slow. Choice beeves sold at 3½c.; good at 3 to 3¼c.; fair at 2½ to 3c.; common, at 2 to 2½c.; and inferior, at 1½ to 2c. per lb., live weight. The demand for sheep and lambs was good, and as the supply was not large, prices showed no change. All the best sheep were picked up by shippers at 3½c. per lb., live weight, while butchers paid from 4 to 5c. each, and lambs brought from $2.50 to $3.50 each, as to size and quality. Calves met with a ready sale at prices ranging from $2 to $8 each, as to size and quality, and the lean hogs sold at $3 to $7 each.

ASHES.

There is no change in the market for ashes, business being quiet and values about steady. We quote: First pots, $4; seconds, $3.65; pearls, $5.40 to $5.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Vipond McBride & Co. note a good demand for bananas. They have turned over several good lines recently.

Wm. Duckworth, of Caverhill, Hughes & Co., has gone to the Maine seaside for a short holiday.

Cable reports to Rose & Laflamme quote new Hallowee dates at 15s. cost, freight and insurance, to arrive.

The expectation is that the increased receipts of new crop Japans will have the effect of expanding the volume of business in teas.

A large and comp'ete assortment of Crosse & Blackwell's well known specialties have just been received by Caverhill, Hughes & Co.

W. C. Wonham, of Walter R. Wonham & Sons, left Tuesday night on a short western trip. Mr. Wonham has just got back from a business visit to Great Britain.

Laporte, Martin & Co. have just received a large consignment of their Japan teas, branded "Victoria" and "Princess Louise." These are good value and well worth a trial.

So far no definite offers to arrive on new crop Valencia raisins have been made of a reliable nature. However 19s. has been spoken of and the expectation here seems to be for a high opening.

Tetley's Tea had a stand at the retail grocers' picnic last week, and people had a chance of judging for themselves of its qualities. Mr. Brown does not neglect any opportunity of pushing the goods he represents.

Advices to Wm. T. Costigan & Co. state that the pack of canned salmon on the coast, owing to recent occurrences, is going to be considerably short of that of last year. Prices have also advanced sharply on the coast.

ST. JOHN, N.B., MARKETS.

St. John, N.B., July 26, 1894.

If there is any change in the state of trade here, it is for the better. The decline in the price of hay, and a good demand for it reported from parts of the West Indies, caused it to form quite an important part in the outward cargo of the last steamer, and a reported large crop favors continued low prices. In the lumber market business continues quiet. There is a great deal of pushing being done by the wholesale houses here now in blended tea, each house having its own brand—which is, of course, the best. One of our leading houses intends putting a team on the road. Tea is about the one article which at all pays a profit, and as a good blend is local to the firm selling it—that is, controlled by them—it means if a blend once establishes itself, that a continued profit is the outcome.

Spice—Demand fair. Prices continue steady, no change being reported here. We quote: Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, whole, 15 to 20c.; ground, 20 to 25c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; bicarb. soda, $2 30 to $2.38; sal. soda, 1 to 1½c.

Salt—Another small cargo of some 5,000 sacks is to hand. Demand fair. We quote: Coarse, 48 to 50c.; factory filled, 95c. to $1; wood boxes, 20 lb., 20c.; 10 lb., 12c.; brls., 10c.; bags, $3.10; 5 lb. bags, $3 25.

Canned Goods—Demand is better. Stocks of vegetables, particularly corn, are running low. Gallon apples are scarce. We quote: Corn, 90 to 95c.; peas, 90c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.50; oysters, 1's, $1.50; 2's, $2.25; corned beef, 1 lb. tins, $1.65; 2 lb. tins, $2.65; salmon, $1.35 to $1.40; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; peaches, 2's, $1.70 to $1 90; 3's, $2.70 to $2.90.

Tobacco—McDonald's brands are having more competition than for some time, though they are still the chief brands. Prices quoted are: Crown, 43c.; Pilot, 45c.; Index, 43c.; Napoleon, 49c. McAlpin's brands: Beaver, 62c.; Tecumseh, 65c.; Jubilee, 49c.; Gold Shield, 49c.; Woodcock, 53c.; Army and Navy, 45c. Tuckett's sell at: Smoking tobacco, T. & B. Myrtle Navy, 59c.; Lily, 46c.; Myrtle cut, 70c.; chewing, T. & B., long black, 48c.; Mahogany, 12s., 48c.; Mahogany, 7s., 48c.

Oils—Prices are off ½c. on illuminating oils, and an improvement is reported in the the quality of Canadian prime oil owing to improvements in its manufacture. Prices to-day are: Burning oil, best American, 18c.; best Canadian, 17c.; prime do., 13½c., 60 days, no charge for barrel. Linseed, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. Turpentine, 45 to 47c. Cod oil, 28 to 30c. Seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; pale, 38 to 43c. Olive oil, commercial, 90c. to $1. Castor oil, commercial, 6½ to 7c. Extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

Dried Fruit and Nuts—Demand for Egyptian prunes, owing to their being so much lower than usual and of good quality, is particularly good. The sale of California loose muscatels continues. The fact that Valencia layers are out of the market is giving a splendid chance to this grade of fruit to become popular, and being undoubtedly a better summer fruit, it will, from the appearance now, be a stayer. Though price of nuts is low, the demand is quiet. Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5½ to 5¾c.; London layers, $2.10 to $2.20; loose muscatels, 6½ to 7c.; prunes, 5½ to 6c.; currants, barrels, 3½ to 4c.; cases, 4 to 5c.; dried apples, 6¾ to 7c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Egyptian onions, 2 to 2¼c.; French walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 15c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazil, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c.; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 11c.

Green Fruit—The small fruit business is at its height. Strawberries are about over; in no year have they sold lower. While the cultivated have sold well, one shipment to Boston being 90 crates—4 900 boxes equal 150 bushels—the demand for wild ones in bulk is not up to other years. Raspberries are just beginning. Cherries are not in as large quantities as last year; demand good. The reports from Nova Scotia are for a large plum crop, but a much smaller apple crop than last year. American apples are quoted. Oranges are higher, Messina in boxes being about all there are offering. Gooseberries are plentiful and low. New apples $6 per brl. We quote: Lemons, $3 75 to $4; Messina oranges, $5; pineapples, $1.50 to $2; bananas, $2 to $2.50; cucumbers, 45 to 50c.; strawberries, 7 to 8c.; watermelons, 45 to 60; gooseberries, 30 to 40c. per basket; cherries, N. S., 25 to 30c.

Dairy Products—N. B. cheese are now offering freely, and are of extra quality. The price has not followed the advance in Ontario owing to the number of factories in competition and the competition of cheap Quebec products. For creamery butter there is but little demand, they holding their price too high for the market. Good dairy is in fair demand. Eggs are slow and buyers very particular. Cheese, 10½c.; butter, 16 to 17c.; eggs, 8½ to 9½c.

Molasses—Another cargo of Barbadoes is unloading this week. Demand fair. Stocks fairly large. New Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; fancy Porto Rico, 43c.; choice, 35c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27c.; sugar syrup, 35c.

Sugar—Demand good. Prices are firm. There is no change in prices. Granulated, $4 30 to $4.40; extra C. white, 3¾ to 4c.; bright yellow, 3⅝ to 3¾c.; yellow, 3⅜ to 3½c.; dark yellow, 3¼ to 3⅜c.; Barbadoes, 3¾ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6 to 6¼c.

Fish—All dried are firmer, particularly pollock. On account of the low prices at which large cod have been selling fishermen are not sending them here. A few Newfoundland pickled herring are for sale here. Large cod, $3.25 to $3.50; medium, $3.25; haddock, $1.75; pollock, $1.65 to $1.75; salmon, fresh, 11 to 12c. per lb.; bay herring, half brl., $1.40 to $1.50; smoked herring, medium, 11 to 12c.; lengthwise, 10 to 11c.

Provisions—No changes are reported; demand light. Clear mess pork, $19 to $20.50; P.E.I. mess, $16.50 to $17; prime mess, $13.50 to $14; plate beef, $13.50 to $14; extra plate, $13.75 to $14.25; pure lard, 10 to 11c.; compound, 8½ to 9½c.; cottolene, 9¾ to 10c.

Under the Forbes system of drainage, some 5,000 acres of land in Raleigh township, Kent county, at one time deemed almost valueless by reason of the inundation which yearly overtook it, have been reclaimed, and a ride recently throughout the reclaimed section revealed 3,000 acres with splendid ripening wheat, which is judged to yield 30 to 35 bushels per acre, while the remainder of the land is more or less under profitable cultivation.

PERSONAL MENTION.

GEO. F. Anderson, cashier of the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., left Wednesday last for Manitoba and the Northwest. He will be away about two months.

H. E. Ralston, of Robt. Ralston & Co., Hamilton, Ont., left for Manitoba and N. W. T., on the 20th inst., and will call on the grocery and hardware trades.

C. McLennan, formerly with Gilmour Bros., of Brockville, and now representing Lucas, Steele & Bristol in the west, is making many new friends. His eastern customers will be pleased to hear this.

Charlie Leaney, North Shore traveler for W. H. Gillard & Co., took a holiday to himself last week, and together with W. H. MacDougal, of White River, hied himself unto the home of the restive trout for which White River is noted, with the result that the head of the firm received three fine ones the other morning, totalling nine lbs. thirteen ounces, the largest going three lbs. eight ounces. It's good to have travelers who can catch trout as well as orders.

J. R. Vert, representing the F. F. Dalley Co., of Hamilton, left Tuesday for Montreal with the special purpose of introducing the new blacking, the "English Army," which the firm is putting on the market.

Major John Sloan, of Sloan & Crowther, is still unable to attend business on account of the cold caught when at camp a few weeks ago with the G. G. B. G., of which he is quarter-master.

Capt. James Adams, of Smith & Keighley, received a letter this week from R. B. Ellis, for many years a leading broker on the street, but who left a couple of months ago for British Columbia to take charge of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance business in that province. In the letter Mr. Ellis speaks in eulogistic terms of his new home, and tells of giant trees which it required twenty-one paces to circumnavigate. Mr. Ellis' friends are glad that he finds his surroundings agreeable.

U. S. SUGAR CONSUMPTION.

The sugar consumption of the United States for the first half of 1894 as compared with three preceding years was, according to Willett & Gray, 902,116 tons for 1894, against 907,725 tons in 1893, and 821,392 tons in 1892. The decrease this year is 5,609 tons, which follows an increase of 86,333 tons in the year 1893. Under normal conditions there is always an increase in consumption from year to year, but the general depression throughout the country has caused the decrease this year. The sugar consumed during the six months consists of 108,400 tons of domestic production and 793,716 tons of foreign production.

POOR SUGAR.

EDITOR GROCER,—Complaints are to hand all the time about the poor quality of coffee sugars in the market; also the heavy, bad-flavored yellows we are getting. Retailers all over are kicking—and no wonder. The light-colored sugars have to be taken out with hammer and chisel or pickaxe, while with the yellows a dipper might at times answer.

I was under the impression that with the recent uncalled for addition to the syrup duties, our refiners could afford to rid their sugars of moisture, but it appears the more they get the more they want.

July 24, 1894. TRAVELER.

B.C. SALMON NEWS.

Several of the canneries have now begun packing, though the run of fish is still very limited. The fishermen are still getting a considerable number of very fine spring salmon, and large consignments of these are going forward to Montreal several times a week.—News, Vancouver, July 13.

The first shipment of salmon this season has been made by the A.B.C.P. Co.'s Skeena river canneries. The Danube, which came down from the north last Friday, brought with her 1,000 cases in all, consisting of 300 cases of flats and 700 cases of talls, which are now being distributed to various points. —News, Vancouver, July 17.

A YANKEE TRICK.

SOME time back reference was made in these columns to the memorial of the British Columbia Legislature setting forth the fact that at Point Roberts, in United States territory, close to the mouth of the Fraser River, salmon fishing and canning operations were being carried on to the detriment of the Fraser River industry. It was pointed out that practically these people were amenable to no fishery regulations and that it was therefore advisable that the British Government should acquire the small strip of territory in question either by purchase or exchange. The memorial was duly forwarded; but nothing further has been heard on the subject. The other day, however, the British Columbia Board of Trade were informed by Agent-General Beeton, in London, that 7,500 cases of salmon on passage from San Francisco to London, had been labelled as "Fraser River salmon," whereas the fish were caught and canned at Point Roberts, Washington. He had, therefore, officially represented to the Customs Commissioner, that the labelling was contrary to the Merchandise Mark Act, and detrimental to the Fraser River salmon industry, and asked that the labels be removed from the tins before the goods were permitted to leave the docks. This action on the part of Mr. Beeton is highly commendable and it is to be hoped that his course in the matter will have the result of stirring up British red-tapeism and securing the action which the situation demands.—B.C. Commercial Journal.

NEW FISH-PREPARING PROCESS.

Prepared fish by a new process is being put on the market by Aikenhead & Sloan, Church street, Toronto. It is put up in sealed glass jars, two different sizes, and the package is nicely labelled and is attractive. The fish put up is white fish and trout, and a commendable feature is that if the consumers did not use all the contents of one jar, it could be put away in the same vessel till required. The price to the retail trade is $2.40 per dozen for the large jars and $1.50 per dozen for the small jars. As the firm cannot get all the jars they require, the supply for the next few weeks will be limited.

CIRCULATING CIRCULARS.

BY NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR.

ALL men who circulate circulars are not fools, but every fool circulates circulars.

The centre of all advertising is the regular advertisement in the regular periodical.

The men who have built up business without the use of periodical advertising can be counted on the fingers of one hand exclusive of the thumb.

It is safer to follow the rule of success than the law of exception.

Because one man by peculiarly constructed ability, coupled with unusual luck and an almost unconscious grasping of opportunities, has made success along any particular line, does not prove that you and I and others can duplicate his success.

There are certain fundamental principles of debit and credit, of buying and selling, of store management, of regulation of prices, and of advertising, and he who would be successful must follow standard rules more than run in the road of any unproven-to-be-successful originality.

There is as much danger in over-originality as in under-originality.

Brains may be but varnish thick.

That which looks well on the outside may be rotten on the inside.

Fundamental principles owe their origin to the trunk, not to the bark of the tree.

Without the healthy inside the outside can only look healthy, and is not likely to look so long.

The cheaper class of merchants and others who depend entirely upon transient trade, and whose success is even more transient than their business, generally adopt the flyer or circular as the bringer-in of trade.

They do so because the first cost is less than that of the newspaper advertisement, and because they imagine that by controlling the circulation of their own individual medium they reach the people as they want to reach them.

They simply fool themselves.

Do not think I believe there is no value in the dodger, the flyer, and the circular, because there is.

Every product of the printing press can be used to advantage.

The forceps that are all right for pulling teeth, may not be suited for the unscrewing of a nut on a carriage axle.

In the adaption of the method is the success of it.

The flyer which is distributed from house to house is worth a little less than the cost of the white paper, unless such flyer is inclosed in an envelope, personally directed, and delivered by a trustworthy carrier.

Millions of dollars have been thrown away in the production and distribution of circulars, some of them printed in gilt upon coated paper, when the same amount of money expended in the newspaper advertisement would have brought permanent as well as transient business.

Wholesalers, and the majority of retailers, are obliged to issue descriptive catalogues and price lists, but to these I am not referring.

I simply have reference to the so-called dodger, or flyer, which is distributed upon the street, or thrown upon the doorsteps.

A circus can use flyers to advantage, for everybody is interested in a circus, principally because it comes but once a year, and the mere mention of a circus attracts attention ; but the success of a circus is of a transient sort—transient in each particular town.

If the business man is going to carry his goods in a cart, and can burn enough red fire around the cart to make himself as prominent as a Barnum, then he can use circulars and exaggerated statements to advantage, but the majority of business men prefer to stay in the same store, on the same street, as long as they can.

Ninety-nine per cent. of the flyers contain from one to twenty-five times too much matter.

Does the merchant ever read circulars of other concerns ?

Does his wife pay any attention to the bills handed her at the door ?

If he doesn't notice other people's circulars, if his wife pays no attention to them, why should he expect others to read his circulars ?

Because a circular reads well to the merchant, to his wife, and to his doctor and minister, is no reason that the circular will read well to those to whom it is sent.

The question is, will the people who can be made to become buyers read the circular ?

If they will, send them out, send out a million, send out any number, but don't send them out unless you are reasonably sure of returns, and even then, the circular advertisement, except for the cheapest stores on the cheapest street in the cheapest towns, will never bring adequate return.

The following presents in reduced form a conventional circular. It does not well illustrate it, because the space does not permit of sufficient matter, but the selection of type, and the crowding together of sentences are fairly correct, and no worse than in 90 per cent. of the circulars distributed in any town :

> NOTICE.
> The undersigned begs to announce that he has just received large shipments of choice molasses, fine teas, and pure coffees, Bridegroom flour, Kentucky sardines, Egyptian prunes, sticky salt, lemons, exhilarated cheese, dairy butter, and all other things in the grocery line. Good goods at low prices. Please give me a call.
> JOHN SMITH,
> 44 Smith Ave.

In the first place, the word "notice" has no place in business economy. It is all right upon the announcements of railroads and express companies, but it never should be used in announcing any line of goods. The firm name at the bottom is in type at least four times too large. The golden rule of advertising is to advertise the goods for sale—not the man who sells them. So many articles are offered that the merchant has produced a conglomeration which will not be read by anybody.

The following is calculated to present an effective circular. It has no heading, largely because the majority of circulars have headings :

> I have 200 lbs. of the best 25-cent butter I ever had, and there won't be any of it left day after to-morrow.
> JOHN SMITH,
> 44 Smith Av, - - SMITHVILLE.

The above presents a clean, definite statement, one that will be read and appreciated.

The following advertisement gives another idea of the extreme of brevity :

CHICKENLESS EGGS.

I have just chartered two hundred hens, and they are to lay eggs only for me. The hens and the eggs are guaranteed.

JOHN SMITH, 44 Smith Av., Smithville.

WHAT BRITISH COLUMBIA CLAIMS.

At the annual meeting of the Victoria, B. C, Board of Trade an exhaustive report was presented. It showed that according to the population of British Columbia, it was the largest manufacturing Province in the Dominion, the number of employees having increased 300 per cent. during the year. Trade continued healthy but not so great as during the previous two years. The Dominion Insolvency Act was approved. The following officers were elected : President, A. C. Flummerfelt ; Vice-President, C. E. Renouf; Secretary, F. Elworthy ; Council, D. R. Ker, G. Leiser, W. H. Ellis, L. C. Futcher, H. Bostock, A. B. Gray H. E. Connon, and H. Croft, with a large Arbitration Committee.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

ANY wholesale house that has not been been making special efforts to secure orders has had a quiet time of it during the past week. Domestic goods have been exceedingly dull The mills are receiving more orders than formerly, but jobbers cannot report the same. Fall goods generally are receiving fair attention from retailers, but the orders are not large.

Collections are very poor. Retailers are renewing in all directions in a way that is discouraging. Wholesalers are frowning on renewals as much as they can, but still find many cases in which they are absolutely necessary. August 4th is looked forward to with much anxiety, although the amount of paper falling due on that day is not so great as usual.

John Macdonald & Co. report a very fair business in sorting orders, owing to the fact that their ranges are very large and their shelves replete with goods needed for present trade. Their fall stock of tapestry and brussel carpets is to hand and being opened up. The range of new designs is very comprehensive. Harvest mitts are in good demand at prices nearly ten per cent. lower than last season. Overalls to retail from 50 cents to $1, flannelette shirts to retail from 30 cents to $1, and a special line of English braces with heavy fittings, to retail at 25 cents, are three lines much in demand at present. Spot and stripe flannels for ladies' blouses, wrappers and dressing jackets are shown in good range. Red and blue cotton handkerchiefs are in full stock.

MONTREAL MARKET.

The wholesale dry goods trade here generally is quiet, though some of the larger general houses report fair sorting orders. It is held, however, that the latter do not compare favorably with those of the same time last year, though some of the houses do report that their fall orders to date are ahead of those of the corresponding period in 1893.

White cotton for future delivery is said to be in good demand, and colored cottons and flanneletes are still in firm request.

There has been a slight change for the better in payments, but the gain, on the average, is not of a very appreciable kind.

SEASONABLE WINDOW DRESSING.

This is the season for camping outings, and the grocers should make hay while the sun shines.

Many grocers are making a specialty of catering to camping parties and have cards in their show windows to that effect.

Some have their windows dressed to resemble a camping scene. A small tent is placed in the centre of the window, the bottom of which has been strewed with sand, and on the table inside, and surrounding the tent, are arranged tinned meats, condensed milk and various other suitable goods. They make attractive displays.

A GROCER'S AWFUL BLUNDER.

When the assistant assessors start on their rounds they are notified by the Board of Principal Assessors to tell who they are before asking any questions. One of them, according to a Boston paper, neglected to do this a few days ago when he entered a grocery store, and the proprietor, mistaking him for a representative of Bradstreet's, gave him a fund of figures that almost took his breath away. The grocer said much, however, when he got his tax bill. How a small store could contain so much valuable merchandise was more than the assistant could understand, but he was there to get values, so he said nothing.

The Centre Support is a new device put in the bottom of every Tanglefoot Holder. It is a simple mechanism calculated to raise and support the centre of the sheet of fly paper in the Holder. A sheet thus raised will catch flies much faster than if it lies flat. The Support can be lowered readily when desired to place the Holders in piles. Ten Holders are placed in every case—one in each box—and are intended for presenting with every first liberal sale of Tanglefoot from the box. Every time you sell a case of Tanglefoot you have an opportunity to please ten customers by giving them gratis just what they care for when buying fly paper. The careful dealer takes advantage of this. The Holders are protected by letters-patent.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

DIFFICULTIES, ASSIGNMENTS, COMPROMISES.

W. H. Merrill, merchant, Montreal, carrying on business under the name of W. H. Merrill & Co., has assigned at the demand of Gault Bros. & Co., with liabilities of about $3,000. The principal creditors are: Gault Bros. & Co., $1,250; John Macdonald & Co., Toronto, $1,000.

S. & J. Armstrong, mills, etc., McKellar, are offering to compromise.

J. G. Oliver & Co., wines and liquors, Toronto, have assigned to E. R. C. Clarkson.

L. M. Jacks, general merchant, Caughnawaga, Que., has assigned.

C. O. Campagne, grocer, Sorel, Que., has assigned.

A St. Philippe (Que.) general merchant, named D. Longtin, has assigned.

J. F. Allen & Co., general store, Copleston, have assigned to C. B. Armstrong.

John Armstrong, grocer, Peterboro', is offering to compromise at 25c. on the dollar.

George Eadie, crockery merchant, Notre Dame street, Montreal, has assigned to Kent & Turcotte.

Charles Swift, boots and shoes, Church street, Toronto, has assigned with liabilities of $800.

A. H. Johnston, of Mowatt & Johnston, boots and shoes, Brockville, is offering the creditors 65c. on the dollar.

Thos. Hoskin, boots and shoes, Queen west, has effected a compromise with his creditors at 35c. on the dollar.

J. Frappier & Co., grocers, Montreal, have assigned. E. Auclaire, in the same line of business at St. Vincent de Paul, has done likewise.

George Bevelockway, general merchant, Nanaimo, B.C., is offering to compromise at 50c. on the dollar.

J. S. Baxter, grocer, Smith's Falls, is offering to comoromise at 40c. on the dollar —cash.

A meeting of the creditors of Isabella J. Thomas, grocer, Isabella and Yonge streets, was held a few days ago, when a statement of affairs showed an apparent surplus of $700. The stock was ordered to be sold.

Marson & Brosseau, grain, etc., Montreal, who have been in difficulties for a long time, made an abandonment of their estate Monday on demand of Dual Mireault. The liabilities are nearly $200,000. The largest creditor is the Ontario Bank, for $60,000, only half secured.

Joseph Schaffer, who for more than 30 years has carried on business at Paris, has, on account of several suits against him, been forced to place his affairs in the hands of Richard Tew, assignee, of Toronto. Liabilities, $5,000. Assets between $15,000 and $20,000

The stock of Anderson Bros., grocers, Toronto, has been sold.

The book debts of L. J. Desrosiers, grocer, Montreal, has been sold at 29c. on the dollar.

The stock of Mowatt & Johnston, boots and shoes, Brockville, has been sold at 75c, on the dollar.

CHANGES.

Mrs. J. A. Stewart, general merchant, Constance, Ont., has sold out to T. Andrew.

A. Hudgin, grocer, Toronto, has sold out store at Dundas and Arygle street to J. W. Shunk.

FIRES.

Sills' roller mills at Meyrsburg, near Campbellford, were destroyed by fire Saturday; cause believed to be incendiarism; loss, $20,000; insurance, $10,400.

At Clinton, the other day, Cook's flour and feed shop, Young's bakery, and Cantelon Bros'. grocery, were slightly damaged by fire, and two stables belonging to Young and Cantelon were burned, as also a fine hound, which was tied in Cantelon's stable.

DEATHS.

T. G. Anderson, general merchant, Arden Man., is dead.

OUR CREAMERY IN ENGLAND.

A new trade is being inaugurated by Marples, Jones & Co., of Mathew street, Liverpool, who have just commenced operations with their first consignment of mild Canadian creamery butter. It is as nearly as possible the same texture and character as Danish creamery butter, and is clean, sweet, and uniform throughout. The consignees are selling it at 88s. to 90s, packed in kiels or 56-lb. boxes. There will henceforward be regular weekly shipments from Ontario and Quebec. The venture should be not only a successful but a popular one, for traders should prefer colonial to foreign produce. Canadian cheese sells largely now in this country, and there is no reason why Canadian creamery butter should not have an equally large sale, and why the enterprising firm who are introducing it should not "do" thousands of packages a week. The butter, it might be said, will take a few days longer on the voyage, but it will get less knocking about than the Continental product, there being but one transhipment. —Grocers' Review, Manchester.

The Collar Expanded

Our latest specialty for the tea trade is a 1-lb. Folding Caddy, on which we have just been granted a patent by the Dominion Government. It is in appearance an exact representation of a regular China tea chest with matting, and as a tea package beats everything on the market for three reasons :

1st. Because it is much cheaper than a hand-made box.

2nd. Because being a knock-down box it takes up little or no room, and

3rd. Because being a machine made box there is no paste or glue to taint the tea, which has been one of the greatest objections to the old style tea caddies.

WARNING TO SUBSCRIBERS.

We understand there is a man in Winnipeg, named Ostrosser, who claims to be our agent. He has already called upon several of our subscribers, and in one or two cases succeeded in obtaining money. Friends, he is an impostor; he is not our agent, never was, and never will be, so please look out for him. Of course, our journals have now such an enviable reputation that people insist upon working for us whether we like it or not. We don't like it. Mr. John Cameron and F. W. Armstrong are our only authorized agents in Manitoba, Northwest Territories and British Columbia. They are well known and thoroughly trustworthy.

COMPLAINTS have reached THE GROCER several times lately to the effect that some spice and extract firms are in the habit of imitating the labels, marks, packages, and ideas generally, of their competitor. One firm particularly seems to be affected in this respect. Against such practices language scarcely strong enough can be brought to bear. When men spend their time and their money in crystallizing ideas for advancing their business, the resultant is as much their property as is any piece of machinery in their factory or article in their shop. And it is no less robbery to copy the one than to take the other. Scarcely one of those who are remiss in this particular are probably ever conscious of this. They cannot help knowing that what they are doing is not exactly right. But that they were guilty of theft pure and simple they would all probably scout. They are, nevertheless. What difference there is is only one of degree. The thief in the ordinary accepted sense takes all he can find in his victim's pocket or till. On the other hand he who steals a man's ideas as represented in labels, marks, etc., does leave his victim his ideas and the labels, marks, etc., which he has caused to be made. But this makes him none the less a thief. His motive is to deprive his competitor of enjoying to the full the advantages that are likely to accrue from the label or mark and to appropriate them unto himself. If that is not robbery, what is?

Of course the originator of a mark or label can protect himself against these idea-stealers by recourse to registration. But that is not the question. Be a label registered or be it not, that does not alter the moral right of a man to keep intact the product of his own ingenuity or give another freedom to deprive him of that right. Because a man may not have a mark registered, or an invention patented, he who would purloin either is none the less a thief in the eyes of the moral law, whatever he may be in the eyes of the statutory law. But a great obstacle in the way of registration is the fee which is demanded for doing so. This fee is from $25 to $35, no small sum, especially to a firm that is continually getting out new labels and marks like spice and extract firms are. And this is what is the cause of so many marks and labels going unregistered, and affords in consequence so many opportunities for plagiarism in this respect. Obviously it is the duty of the Government to cheapen the registration fee, and that by two-thirds at least. Were this to be done registration would be much more common, while beneficial results would accrue to the Government in the shape of increased fees.

The final official figures of Canada's foreign trade for the fiscal year ending June 30 have not yet been issued; nor will they be for some months yet. But from what can be gathered from the monthly returns there is much to give satisfaction and very little to create dissatisfaction. The aggregate trade was not as large as that for the year 1892-3, but that year it was the largest on record, and, in view of the general condition of the financial world and the general conservative tendency that obtains at home, it was not to be expected that that of the past fiscal year would either equal or even come near it. Bulking the twelve monthly returns the aggregate trade is made out to be $227,430,787. These monthly returns are never complete, and therefore when the returns for the year come to be finally made up, an increase in these figures will be seen, probably, of three or four millions. At least, that is what has been the rule in the past. But taking the figures as they are, the decrease in the aggregate trade is $13,838,213. This decrease is caused largely by a falling off in the imports, the decline in this respect being about $8,750,000. The decline in exports, on the other hand, was less than $700,000, the aggregate for the two years being $115,187,665 and $114,488,985 respectively.

Lacking as the trade returns are in completeness, they are sufficiently full to demonstrate one thing to even he who reads as he runs, and that is Canada's steady development as an exporting country. In spite of the depression in the United States and in Great Britain—our two largest customers—and the low price of wheat, flour and barley

Canada's export trade comes within less than three-quarters of a million of being as large as last year, which was by some $5,000,000 larger than ever before in the history of the Dominion. Ten years ago our export trade only aggregated $91,406,496.

As with the individual merchant, so with the nation: It is buying carefully and pushing business energetically. And in this way our credit among the nations is gradually rising. No nation is to-day enjoying immunity from depression to the extent that Canada is. Financial men in the Old World are recognizing this more and more every day; and the opportunities Canada affords for investment come as an afterthought. The trouble is that we have not advertised our country enough. Nations as well as individuals must advertise in order to be anything. At the World's Fair we surprised everybody, ourselves no less than foreigners. Like a young giant we did not know our own strength. We knew long ago that we were something, but it was not till we actually measured our strength with the nations of the world as represented at Chicago, and proved our superiority in many important respects, that we awoke to anything like an adequate sense of what we really were and what we might be. Nature has blessed us with fisheries and mineral deposits, the richest on the globe; our grain lands are not to be surpassed, and the championship for wheat growing is held by the Dominion. In timber there is none to touch us, while if we are the Land of Icicles in the winter that some deluded people imagine, we are also the land that abounds in fruit illimitable in the summer. Canada is a country of which we might well be proud and in which we might well have abounding confidence. And we are cultivating these qualities, and not any too soon either.

Advices from Great Britain indicate that prices for canned lobster will be well maintained there the current season. The reason for this is that ordinary shipments have not been "equal to the ordinary requirements for consumption." This is good news for the Canadian packers, Great Britain being about our best customer in this respect, our shipments of canned lobster to that market for 1893 aggregating 5,932,272 lbs., valued at $829,334. Our total exports to all countries were 12,618,662 lbs., so that our exports of canned lobster to Great Britain last year were more than 47 per cent. of the whole.

HONESTY OF CUSTOMS OFFICERS.

THE crookedness which is so scandalously characteristic of the Customs officials in the United States in general and the port of New York in particular does not obtain in Canada.

But Canadian officials are not above suspicion in this respect.

THE GROCER has more than once lately charged this. And with promptness that is commendable, and not at all in keeping with the insinuations often thrown out regarding the Customs department being a latter day "circumlocution office," the Hon. Clarke Wallace, Controller of Customs, instituted vigorous investigations.

These charges were specially in regard to blackmailing and pilfering.

The practical work of the investigation devolved upon S. W. McMichael, Financial Inspector of Customs. As a result of the probings of that astute officer some of the charges were brought home, and some of those affected were men in high places too. The work of investigation is still going on.

A recent charge was one made by some of the wholesale fruit dealers, through THE GROCER, and was to the effect that the Customs authorities were in the habit of systematically pilfering from packages.

During the last few days Inspector McMichael has been specially engaged in investigating these charges. So has THE GROCER. Pilfering there undoubtedly is, but the onus does not appear to be on the Customs officials. They may take a peach, sample a cherry or some other fruit, but from what can be gathered it does not seem possible that the Customs officials could carry on the wholesale pilfering of fruit that is reported, even were they so disposed. There are not enough of them through whose hands the fruit passes unless they have some underground railway to carry away the stuff

The bonded cars of fruit arriving in Toronto are run into the siding at the foot of Yonge street. When a car is opened by the Customs official a certain proportion of the packages are taken to the Customs house, a hundred or a hundred and fifty yards distant, there examined, and returned to the car, the consignee often awaiting their return, while it is the duty of the Customs official at the fruit siding to see that the packages come back intact. And he says that to the best of his knowledge they do.

That packages of fruit are broken into and pilferred the Customs officials emphatically declare to be true. But they are all of one mind in asserting that nearly all the pilfering is done before the fruit reaches Toronto, and that, therefore, the onus is upon either the carriers or the Customs authorities at New York or other entry ports. And enquiries of the railway officials bear out these contentions.

They claim that the stealing in nearly every instance is done before the car crosses the Canadian border.

During Mr. McMichael's tour of the fruit men, not one had any charges of pilfering to prefer against the Customs officials; nor would any of them acknowledge that they had ever suffered from any dishonesty on the part of the officials. And yet to THE GROCER there are fruit dealers who still maintain that they do suffer from dishonesty in that direction, but they will neither speak for publication or prefer definite changes.

The excuse is that "they don't want to get themselves into hot water with the Customs authorities."

"We are glad," said Inspector McMichael, "that THE GROCER has brought these matters to the attention of the department. Hon. Mr. Wallace is determined to put a stop to any and all pilfering or blackmailing that may exist. Pilfering and blackmailing there undoubtedly is somewhere in the Customs department. It is, however, only to a small extent, comparatively speaking; but whoever is suspected will be suspended and dismissed from the service if proven guilty."

Controller Wallace is aggressive in this matter, and he has an able lieutenant in Inspector McMichael. If there are any Augean stables to be cleaned we may therefore expect to see them cleaned before a great while, although scouring of this kind is necessarily slow, especially when those who would profit most thereby are so loath to point out the unclean spots.

In order to assist the department in the premises, all importers having complaints against officials in other places besides Montreal and Toronto should lay them before Mr. McMichael, who will keep in confidence whatever information may be supplied him.

FENELON FALLS BOOMING.

Business men in Fenelon Falls are in good spirits. The particular reason is that an American syndicate has purchased and fitted up the old saw mill there, and is now turning out large quantities of lumber. The syndicate in question is reputed to have large timber limits in the northern part of the province, and the lumber will be sawn at Fenelon Falls. It is said that the owners have enough lumber to keep the mills running for 20 years.

CITRIC ACID.

The subscriber who wanted the address of the Toronto representative of a Montreal firm which handles citric acid may apply to A. P. Tippet & Co., 43½ Wellington street east, Toronto, who can supply him.

A sandwich man was run over and killed in the streets of Edinburgh recently. He was carrying at the time boards advertising Sir Noel Paton's picture, "Death the Gate of Life."

SNAP SHOTS AT THE LONDON RETAIL GROCERS' PICNIC.

BY THE DOCTOR OF ADVERTISING.

THE SECRETARY.

WHEW! but I'm hot. What made me hot? Well, say, if you had been at the London Retail Grocers' picnic you would be hot too. The day, you know, was not so awfully hot, but I chased round for about two hours trying to get photographs of decorated grocery wagons, of committees and of baseball teams, all of which is respectfully submitted.

The day was made to order. The night previous the rain came down in torrents, the lightning flashed and the thunder pealed, and at every peal Peter McGlade, the caterer, was heard to shout, "There goes another basket of sandwiches." But on the breaking of a glorious morning the sandwiches were found quite safe.

Shortly before 10 o'clock, the hour on which the procession was to start, I made my way into the market square and a sight met my gaze. Everywhere was life, color and gaiety. Grand Marshal Trebilcock was rushing around with a club forming carriages, wagons, etc., into line. On the first stroke of ten he rushed up to the President's carriage, in which I was seated, and shouted, "Is the CANADIAN GROCER here?" "Yes, sir." "Then let the procession begin." He raised his club, the big drum thumped, the bag-pipes squealed, the small boy shouted, and the great picnic of 1894 was begun.

The procession was headed by the Seventh Regiment band. Following the band were about 20 carriages containing the officers of the association—W. H. Ferguson, president; W. H. McCutcheon, vice-president; W. H. Branton, treasurer, and E. Sutton, secretary—and a number of the leading grocery merchants and their assistants. Among the more prettily decorated delivery wagons in the line were those of Ferguson & Co., Ald. Fitzgerald, Andrew McCormick & Sons, drawn by the well-known team of mules; Rolston's, surmounted by a ship made entirely of straw; R. A. Jones, E. Butler, S. Powell, with a couple of boys putting away watermelon; McCutcheon & Co, J. C. Trebilcock, A. J. Denny, W. H. Branton, with four little girls at tea; F. Harley and F. C. Toon. The judges awarded the prizes for the best decorated wagon as follows: 1, E. Rutter; 2, Jas. Fitzgerald; 3, McCormick & Sons; 4, Wm. Ferguson; 5, F. Harley; 6, A. J. Denny. Hundreds lined the street along the line of march, which was from the market by way of Talbot and Dundas streets to the park.

THE WORKERS OF THE LONDON RETAIL GROCERS' ASSOCIATION.

THE PRESIDENT'S WAGON.

The baseball match was the centre of attraction in the morning between the wholesale and retail men. The wholesale men outbatted their retail brethren, they likewise outran them, they went to bat oftener, and were regular kleptomaniacs when a base was in view. "Bob" Lind's pitching puzzled the retailers and kept them down to seven hits. There were some brilliant features in the game. No chance was missed, even if it meant the turning of a double somersault in old time Donovan style. There was no grand stand to play to, but there was glory and $20 awaiting the winners. The losing team were solaced with a box of cigars.

The wholesalers won by 18 runs, and the retailers had to content themselves with 7.

The sports in the ring began about two o'clock and lasted until eight in the evening. I am sorry that our editor will not allow me space for the full list of prize winners, but herewith are the principal events:

Fat men's race, 100 yards, open to grocers, their sons, or employees, 200 pounds or over to qualify—1, J. C. Trebilcock; 2, R. J. Wood; 3, J. R. Shuttleworth.

Combination horse race, 1½ miles in harness, open to horses owned by grocers three months prior to race and driven regularly in delivery wagon; walk ½ mile, trot ½ mile, go as you please ½ mile; horses breaking in first or second event must make a turn on track—R. J. Wood's Barney McCoy won the event in the ½ mile walk. In this he got such a lead that he had finished the race before his competitors had finished the second part; W. Winder's Dolly, took the second, and James Annett's McKinley Junior, third.

MCCORMICK'S WAGON.

Foot race, 200 yards, open to all travelers selling to the grocery trade of London—1, Robert Lind; 2, F. W. Griffith; 3, D. W. Bell.

Grocers' delivery race, with regular delivery horse and wagon. Harness and hitch horse to wagon, deliver goods, return empties, unharness horse and tie up. Horses to trot or pace. Drivers running their horses will be ruled out. Driver allowed an assistant to hold horses—1, R. H. Cullis; 2, F. Richardson; 3, W. Cook; 4, McCormick & Sons.

Best turnout of horse, harness and buggy and cart, the bona fide property of retail grocers, their sons or employees—1, Ald. Fitzgerald; 2, Frank Turville; 3, T. A. Rowat; 4, R. Smith.

WHOLESALE BASEBALL TEAM—THE WINNERS.

Trotting race, one mile, best 2 in 3. Open to horses owned three months prior to race by grocers, their sons or employees.—The entries were Jennie Rooker, Sandy F. and Shanghi. The Wood's mare drew the pole, but Sandy F. immediately took the lead. Coming down the half mile stretch Shanghi pulled ahead, with Rooker at his neck and Sandy F. bringing up the rear, having broke badly. This order was maintained to the finish, Shanghi winning by a length. In the second heat a pretty trotting exhibition was given between Shanghi and Jennie Rooker, the former leading all the way to the three-quarter, when he broke, and the latter went ahead and kept the advantage down the home stretch, passing under the wire a winner by a neck. The third heat was a neck and neck race all the way around, first one horse edging a little ahead and then the other. Shanghi won by a neck. Summary:

Shuttleworth's Shanghi	1	2	1
Wood's Jennie Rooker	2	1	2
Turville's Sandy F	3	3	dr

Committeemen's race, 100 yards, open to all active committeemen—1, A. G. McCormick; 2, Geo. Trebilcock; 3, D. J. Langdon; 4, A. E. Richardson.

Mr. McCormick was afterwards ruled out because he was not a committeeman.

NOTES.

By a curious coincidence the initials of the president, vice-president and treasurer are all "W. H." They're all hustlers.

Andrew McCormick's delivery wagon mules have been pulling groceries around the city for fifteen years now.

The veteran Peter McGlade was everywhere.

The ladies were in the ascendancy on the grand stand.

Not a grocery store was open in the city on that day.

Hot water was provided for those with lunch baskets.

The retail ball players threaten dire vengeance on the wholesalers next year.

Checking lunch baskets free proved a great convenience.

SALMON CANNING IN B.C.

B. C. Commercial Journal: "The first vessel of the new season's salmon fleet has arrived—the City of Glasgow, 1,168 tons, under charter to Turner, Beeton & Co, to load at Victoria for U.K. at 37s. 6d. Total tonnage engaged to date, 6,012. The Northern canneries are now in the packing season, and the first shipment has been received from the Skeena River by the A. B. C. P. Co., consisting of 700 cases talls and 300 cases flats for immediate distribution. But little information has been received as to the progress the canneries are making with their packing operations. Everything is ready on the Fraser River, and a few sockeyes are reported, but not sufficient for the canneries to get into full swing. The big run is daily expected. It is reported that buyers are waiting to see how the pack will turn out before doing much business. Prices for the Eastern Canadian market are ruling from $3.50 to $4 per case according to brand. In London and Liverpool the current offerings are from 17s. 6d. to 18s per case for stocks of last year's pack now in warehouse.

"There will be twenty-eight canneries packing on the Fraser this season, which have taken out 560 fishing licenses. About 1,300 licenses have been issued altogether for the Fraser this year, which is 200 more than last year and double the number of four or five years ago."

THE CANADIAN TARIFF.

DEAR GROCER,—Your remarks on the above subject are right to the point. The way the matter was tampered with from beginning to end was most disgusting. With many others of its supporters I thought the measure brought down on March 27th was an evidence that the Government intended carrying out the many promises made, but instead of that the last estate is really worse than the first. The rice question which you allude to is a most unjust one. It benefits one or two people hugely, but the poor consumer has to foot the bill. Having no competition, the Mount Royal Mills can make their own terms and qualities — the latter at the moment being particularly poor. Our friends the sugar refiners had their finger in the pie also, and forced a prohibitive duty on American syrups, a most uncalled for concession on the part of the Government, as they knew from repeated representations made to them that a full supply of various syrups could not be procured from Canadian refiners. The tariff revisors have shown no independence or appreciation of their duty. The manufacturers have the pull, and wholesale and retail merchants as well as consumers have the grim satisfaction of knowing that no good use was made of the information they volunteered to those employed at the task of tariff revision.

ONE OF THEM.

WITH PROGRESSIVE RETAILERS.

JOHN BAMBRICK, Ottawa, has recently made improvements in his store. He has added a new office.

John Dean has been sold out on judgment obtained by his sister.

John Pratt and wife, of Heathcote, are holidaying in Great Britain. They expect to be absent about three months.

Among the country merchants who are "doing" the Old Country is J. M. Bothwell, of Barrie.

Bemrose Bros., of Bradford, are erecting a new store and dwelling. The building is of brick, and is of imposing appearance. It will be finished in a few weeks.

Thompson Bros., dry goods, etc., of Orangeville, are going more extensively into groceries. Preparatory to this their store has been enlarged, giving it a depth of over 130 feet. Plate glass windows have been put in the store and in the room above, and a large stock of groceries has been purchased.

W. Davey, of Bobcaygeon, who has been out of business for about four years, during which time he has been in the Northwest, is going into business again.

D. A. McCalvey has bought out Workman & Stinson, general merchants, Minden.

Manager Clarke, for Mrs. B. Anderson, general merchant, Haliburton, is wearing a smile unusually broad. It's a daughter.

Noel Rivers, Kinmount, has bought on the opposite side of the street from his present premises, and has removed thereto.

J. J. Davis, merchant, Halton, is snuffing the invigorating breezes that are to be found on the upper lakes.

Mr. Deeves, of Crawford & Deeves, Brampton, is away enjoying a respite from business.

PURE GOLD TAKES A PARTNER.

J. D. ROBERTS, manager of the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., took unto himself a life partner some months ago, and now his firm has taken him into partnership. Increasing business necessitated some such step being taken, Mr. A. Jardine having found the duties of proprietor pressing upon him too heavily.

Mr. Roberts is a first-class man. He has good executive ability, is a good buyer, a good seller, and is ever on the alert to appropriate whatever will advance the interests of his firm. His connection with the Pure Gold Co. dates back some seven years, when he took charge of the firm's business in Manitoba, his territory subsequently including the Northwest Territory and British Columbia. Under his superintendence Pure Gold's trade in these western parts of the Dominion grew rapidly, and the pushing representative became known from Port Arthur to Victoria as "Pure Gold" Roberts. Last summer brought him to Toronto when the firm made him manager, and now, less than a year afterwards, he has been taken in to share the responsibilities and honors of part proprietor.

CONDITION IN DRIED FRUIT.

REMARKABLE as was the opening of the Mediterranean dried fruit market last fall, it is held that the present year is likely to see an even more remarkable opening in another direction.

Last year the peculiarity was the exceptionally low range of values at which the market opened on both currants and raisins. On the former, instead of prices ranging at the usual figure of 16 to 18s. per cwt. f.o.b., they opened at 12s., and from that figure gradually moved down to 7s. per cwt. f.o.b.

This unusually low level of prices led to free importation, so much so in fact that there are still holders of currants in Canada who have occasion to mourn the fact that they went in so deep.

With raisins the experience was rather different.

Prices on them also ruled from 2 to 4s. f.o.b. below their usual level, but despite this fact less of the fruit came across the Atlantic than usual.

The result was that after the influence of the arrivals of the first importations in Canada and the United States had passed away, values commenced to appreciate and have continued to do so ever since last fall under steadily diminishing supplies.

At present the market is absolutely bare of Denia goods at Montreal, and California raisins have had to take their place at full figures.

It is owing to this unusual scarcity that a well-known Montreal commission man expressed his fears to THE GROCER'S correspondent that the market might open out too high.

With no fruit there, the market ostensibly was in right order for the receipt of new crop goods this fall. There was danger, however, that this exceptional condition would lead to the market opening out too high. Buyers having no stock on hand might be induced to pay speculatively high prices, which they would be unable to realize later on, and before values could settle down to a reasonable level, some dealers would be so involved that they would have to be satisfied with taking sharp losses.

Dried fruit ventures had not always been profitable ones in previous seasons, and there was just the possibility that the present condition of the market might make traders loose their heads this season in the matter of paying more for future supplies than they legitimately should.

Though nothing that could be much depended upon was to hand in the shape of advices from primary sources, there were indications that dealers in Denia had pretty high ideas of what fruit should be worth. These talked of 17s. to 19s. f.o.b, at Denia, which was fully 1s. above what prices usually open at.

Under the circumstances we would strongly advise caution in the matter of dried fruit.

Naturally such a disposition might be carried too far, but there was less danger in this direction than in the other.

WILL MOLASSES DECLINE?

THEIR molasses speculation is, if present indications are fulfilled, not going to be so profitable a one with several Montreal houses as they expected. THE GROCER'S correspondent has had occasion to refer before to the fact that the importations were heavy, and that the demand did not seem to materialize to the extent that some in the trade anticipated.

With these large stocks on hand, there have been freer offerings from primary sources, an offer that was made last Thursday capping the climax when a cargo lot of 1,500 puncheons was offered to arrive in August at 26c.

With goods available at this figure in any large quantity it seems hardly possible that the parties to the agreement to sell molasses at a uniform rate will be able to hold up the market.

The only way they can do so will be to go in and buy up the fresh lots that arrive and are offered at the lower level, and whether with their already large stocks on hand they will care to do so is problematical. For this reason the theorists in the trade are figuring on the possibility of a decline in the position of the molasses market. In fact such a decline has already taken place to a certain extent, for although jobbers maintain the basis of 30c. for single puncheons, and 29c. for lots, round l ts of stock have changed hands here at 27c.

Sales on this basis are apt to have their effect sooner or later on selling values.

NOT HAPPY WITHOUT IT.

John Leslie, Blake, Ont., writes July 27, '94: "I enclose $2 for another year's subscription to THE GROCER to July 16, 1895. I thought at one time I would not renew this time, as I have been in rather poor health lately and thought of giving up business this fall. On second consideration I thought it would be impossible for me to even pass one month without THE GROCER. Even if I do sell my business I think I cannot do without the welcome weekly visits which I have enjoyed for so many years, and from which I have got so many benefits."

It is to be hoped that Mr. Leslie will soon improve and enjoy the best of health, and that not only THE GROCER, but the representatives of the wholesale houses, will continue to receive the same hospitable welcome from Mr. Leslie for many years to come that they have had for many years past.—ED. GROCER.

A BAD EGG CASE.

INFORMATION has just been given us regarding the returns of a lot of eggs shipped by an Ontario firm to an English house on commission not long since. It seems that the eggs, which were selected and carefully packed by an experienced man, were landed in good shape on the other side and delivered to the house in question, which rendered account sales at the market price, but deducted 50 per cent. for bad eggs, which showed a loss to the shipper of £32 15s. on the lot. A lot of about the same number of cases was sent to another firm in the same city, consisting of precisely the same class of eggs packed by the same experienced hand, with the result that account sales showed a net profit of £27 10s. 3d. In view of the suspicious circumstances surrounding this case, the shipper has written the consignee, asking him to furnish him with the name of the party or parties to whom the eggs were sold, in order that he may verify the correctness of the account sales, at the same time stating that if the party refused to do this he should consider there was something wrong. Unless the shipper gets a more satisfactory account of the eggs, he intends putting the case into the hands of a party on the other side, with instructions to make what investigation he considered necessary.—Trade Bulletin, Montreal.

SUGAR PRODUCTION IN GERMANY.

From an article recently published in a French commercial journal is secured the following information regarding the production of sugar in the German Empire. The average price of raw sugar was, in 1892-93, 16s. 3d. per cwt., against about 18s. 4d. per cwt. in 1891-92. The average price of refined sugar was £1 10s. 1d., against £1 10s. in 1891 92. The imports in 1892 93 were: For raw sugar, 18,000 cwts., and for refined sugar, 20,000 cwts. The exports amounted to 8,100,000 cwts. of raw sugar and 5,314,000 cwts. of refined sugar. The imports are so insignificant as to be of no account. As regards the exports, they represent, for both raw and refined sugar, little more than one-third of the production. The net yield of the different duties on the sugar industry and trade amounted to £2,610,750, or 1.03 per head of population.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

CONSIDERABLE uncertainty prevails as to the situation in grey cottons. The recent drop was thought to be a temporary one, but it has, so far, given every evidence of being a permanent one. The reasons advanced at first were that the company had a lot of stock to unload, and that American firms desired to perform the same act on the Canadian market. But when prices continue low these reasons are seen to be inadequate. A buyer advanced the idea this morning that the combine, with Mr. Morrice as its chief selling agent, was attempting to undersell and crush the St. John mill. If this is so the consuming public will be pleased, although it may not please Mr. Parks and the St. John capitalists who generously put up $160,000 some time ago to keep the mill going. If the Parks' mill should be closed out, or forced into the combine, the latter would soon make up for any losses it may be sustaining now, and the public would soon pay for all its previous advantages. In the meantime prices are ruling low.

Fall orders are certainly coming in more briskly, although not yet as freely as the wholesalers desire. Covert coatings, worsted coatings, and tweed effects, are leading in dress goods and orders are very fair for this class of merchandise. Woolens generally are slower.

A full range of cream cashmeres have been opened this week by Alexander & Anderson. These are scarce goods. Orders for their fall goods are coming in well, and shipments arriving and being opened up keeps their dress goods department busy.

U. S. RICE CROP.

The following regarding the growing rice is taken from Dan. Talmage's Sons (July) bulletin No. 3, rice crop, 1894: In the States of North and South Carolina and Georgia conditions are generally favorable. Total area planted, 50,000 acres. Louisiana planting practically completed. In some sections acreage is considerably less than last year, but in the majority the area is said to be quite that taken off in 1892. Wherever less, it has been to give better care to that under cultivation. Rains have been frequent, yet the fall scarcely sufficient for immediate demands. Early plantings show vigorous growth, good stand, clean and free of grass. Later plantings germinating and growing finely. Present month and early August is the critical period of growth and the question of moisture causes apprehension, especially wherever the reserve supply is light or exhausted. Harvest will be generally late, but some arrivals may be expected from upper and lower Coast in first half of August. Area planted, 147,500 acres. Total area present season, 197,500 acres, which under ordinary conditions should produce 7,900,000 bushels rough, equal to 625,000 barrels cleaned rice.

THE SHAPE OF AN EGG.

Dr. Nicalsky, of St. Petersburg, attributes the form of birds' eggs to gravity. He thinks that every egg not yet coated with a solid shell departs from the spherical form and elongates, simply by pressure on it by the walls of the ovary. In birds which keep a virtical position when at rest (such as the falcon and owl), the soft egg becomes short through the bird's weight against the ovarian pressure. In birds which, like the grebe, are nearly always swimming, the egg lengthens, because the weight of the body acts in the same direction as the ovarian compression.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, August 2, 1894.

GROCERIES.

NO marked change has taken place in trade during the week. There is a fair business doing, but not much life is exhibited, buying still being characterized by a great deal of conservatism. Travelers found business, if anything, a little better last week than for some time, but still the turnover is not generally as large as last year at this time. Sugars are stronger in tone, in sympathy with the New York market, but no actual advance has taken place. The market is again rather bare of Rio coffees. There is a fair movement in canned goods at steady prices. For spices the demand seems to be rather better than is usual at this season. There is still some demand for molasses. Teas continue to receive some attention, especially new Japans and new Monings. In green fruits people are again giving more attention to those of foreign growth on account of the season for some domestic small fruits nearing the close. Butter and eggs are easier, while provisions are firmer. Payments are fair.

CANNED GOODS.

Tomatoes are still moving fairly well for the season at the firm figures of 85 to 90c. Corn is in good demand at 80c. Peas, firm and quiet at 82½ to 85c. There is a little doing in new pack strawberries. The demand for canned peaches has fallen to a small compass. Plums are rather scarce. We quote: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2 75, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40. There is a good demand for salmon at $1.25 to $1.35 for tall tins and $1.50 to $1.60 for flat. A good deal of new pack lobster is going out. We quote: Flats, $2.40 to $2.50; new flats, ½'s, $1.35; talls, $1.80 to $2 25. Potted meats are in active demand.

This report is furnished by the Packers' Association:

"The season for strawberry, raspberry, cherry and other small fruits is now past and is the lightest in the history of the canning trade. The pea pack is also past and is an exceptionally light one. The recent rains have helped the growing crops of corn and tomatoes materially in most localities, and, if no drawback, there is hopes of a fair pack of these two lines, but the critical time for these has yet to come. One night's frost in September would utterly ruin them, and as the spring was exceptionally early and summer-like, some growers think that this would point to an early fall. If their opinion is a correct one, we may see these two staple lines that now promise well put in the same position as all the other lines so far packed this season, viz., the lightest for years.

"Canned goods have been selling freely for the past week, orders coming in from the far east and from the far west and from nearly every point between. The assured prospect for a fine wheat harvest is apparently helping to revive business in most sections of the country, and the canned goods business along with other lines evidently is benefitted thereby."

COFFEES.

There is quite a demand for the better grades of coffee, while the market is getting bare. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

NUTS.

Much as before. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c. lb.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c. a lb.; Terragona almonds, 12½ to 13c.; peanuts, 10½ to 11c. for roasted and 8 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 12½ to 15c.; Marbot walnuts, 12 to 13c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9¾ to 10¼c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 12½c.

RICE.

Trade continues fair for the season. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

Trade is brisk for the season. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12 to 14c.; pure white, 20 to 28c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 28c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

There is a stronger feeling in sympathy with the New York market, but no change has taken place in quotations. Jobbers report a fair turnover, but it is not equal to what it usually is at this season. Refiners' agents report business dull with them at the moment. The ordinary range for granulated is still 4⅜ to 4½c., but it is seldom indeed that the outside figure is obtained. Yellows run from 3¼c. for dark up to 4c. for bright.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, July 31: Now and then some one suggests the possibility of final disappointment over the calculations that have been made upon the placing of an import duty upon sugar, and that is the vital point of the market. A very large majority, however, believe in the duty as a surety, and act accordingly, the market ruling steady and a fair demand still prevailing. Custom is mostly with the outside refiners, the current large arrivals coming to the Trust giving that source of custom an ample supply for the present. After the refusal to accept orders on Saturday it was no surprise to find the list of prices on refined goods marked up 1-16 to ⅛c., although the advance was not as great as expected, and the two top and two bottom quotations were exempt from change. At the increase demand has been very fair, including the execution of some of Saturday's held-over orders renewed at the advance and some few fresh calls, but no unusual animation shown.

SYRUPS.

Dull and unchanged. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

There are still a good many moving out taking into account the season. Quotations are: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEA.

Trade continues fairly satisfactory in this line. New season's Japan teas are still attracting the most attention, medium kinds running in price from 18 to 22c. being the most sought after. Some exceptionally good values are being shown in low grade Japans at 13 to 15c. New season's Monings and Panyongs, fine quality, at from 35 to 40c., are receiving considerable attention; also new season's Monings at 16 to 18c. Indian, Ceylon and China green teas are quiet.

DRIED FRUITS.

Several cable quotations on new fruit have been received, but have attracted but little attention from the buyers, who are no doubt benefitting by their experience of the last two seasons, when many of them bought on speculative offers before the market opened and found they could be had much cheaper when the time of shipment arrived. Valencia raisins are still in demand and firm at quotations. We quote: Off-stalk, 6 to 6¼c.; fine layers, 8½ to 9c. The Valencia raisin crop promises to be lighter than last year, but quality promises well. There is a fair business doing in currants, with case fruit at from 4¾ to 5½c. being the most sought after. Some fine Filiatra currants in barrels and half barrels are being shown at 4¾ to 5c. We quote as follows: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¼c. in brls., and 4½ to 5c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases; Panariti, 8½ to 9c. Mail advices estimate that the crop of currants in Greece will be about 20 per cent.

less than last year, and authorities differ as to the prospects of quality, but they all agree as to probability of higher prices obtaining. Prunes are quiet, as follows: U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's, 7½c.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c. Figs remain seasonably dull at prices nominally unchanged. We quote as follows: Small boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 5 lb. boxes, 7½ to 8c.; 10 lb. boxes, 10 to 10½c.; 28-lb. boxes choice Eleme, 11c.; 6-crown, 12½c.; 7-crown boxes, 28-lb., 13½ to 15c. Dates quiet and unchanged, at 4¼ to 5c.; selected Hallowee dates, 8½ to 9c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The feeling on the butter market is easier, with buyers and sellers still apart. There have been some transactions at 14, 14½, and 15½c. for round lots f.o.b. outside, but holders are, as a rule, asking 15 to 16c., while about 14c. is the limit that dealers seem willing to pay. Buyers and sellers are even further apart than a few weeks ago, and while the supply of really choice dairy tub butter is none too plentiful, large quantities appear to be held in the country. With no export demand there are a good many who cannot see how prices are going to be maintained. There are a few dairy pound rolls coming in, but they are not gilt edge, a good many of them being merely made over. The supply of creamery pound prints is about equal to the demand. Creamery tubs are slow of sale. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17c.; straight store, 15 to 16c.; crocks, 18c.; bakers' butter, 14 to 15c.; pound rolls, 18 to 19c. Creamery— Tubs, fresh, 19 to 20c.; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

Cheese is in liberal supply, and there is a fair demand locally at 9¾ to 10c.

PROVISIONS.

There is a good trade doing in provisions, especially in long clear bacon. Market is almost bare of breakfast bacon, backs and barrel pork. Small hams are particularly scarce. Prices are higher on some lines. There have been quite a few dressed hogs on the market during the week, and some sold as high as $7.50.

BACON—Long clear, 7¾ to 8c.; smoked backs, 11½ to 12c.; breakfast bacon, 11 to 11½c.; rolls, 8¾c.

HAMS—11 to 11½c. for smoked, and 10c. for pickled.

LARD—Pure Canadian 8½ to 8¾c. in tubs, 9c. in pails and 8¼c. in tierces. Compound, 7¼ to 7½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $17 to $17.50; Canadian short-cut, $18.00 to $18.50; shoulder mess, $14 50 to $15; clear mess, $15 to $15.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

Oranges are in light supply and practically confined to Messinas, Rodi's not having yet arrived. Prices are higher. Enquiry for oranges is fair, but it does not appear to be as good as the character of the weather would warrant. Prices run all the way from $3.50 to $4.50. Bananas are in little better demand on account of the falling off in the supply of domestic small fruit, and prices are a little higher. Four cars of bananas were sold by auction on the track Monday, and the prices realized ranged from 80c. to $1.50 per bunch. The ordinary jobbing price is $1 to $2 per bunch. There are still a few raspberries to be had, and they are in good demand. A good many early peaches are coming in, but they are all taken. Watermelons are in good demand and those now arriving are small. Cucumbers are getting easier, while demand is good. We quote: Oranges, Messinas, half-boxes, $2.50; boxes, $4.50 to $4.75. Lemons, $3.50 to $4.50. Bananas, $1 to $2 per bunch. Watermelons, $18 per 100. Raspberries, 7 to 8c. Lawton berries, 6 to 9c. Celery, 60 to 70c. per doz. Cucumbers, 50 to 65c. per basket. Tomatoes, $1.25 to $1.50 per case and 50 to 60c. per box. Peaches, 40 to 65c. per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Very few selling, but prices are steady at $1.35 to $1 40 for hand picked.

POTATOES—Receipts are more liberal and prices easier, domestic growth now offering. The idea as to price is $2.25.

EGGS—Supply is liberal, while consumption is dropping off, and prices are easier at 10 to 10½c.

HOPS—Quiet. There was some fear of a shortage in the crop owing to the dry weather, but that possibility seems to have been removed by the recent rains. Some sales of bale lots of good hops are reported at 13½c. Package hops, 20c. per lb.

ONIONS—Egyptian are slow of sale, while jobbers are anxious to push sales. We quote: Egyptian, $1 25 to $1.40 per sack; domestic, 65c. per basket.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The total receipts Tuesday were 58 carloads, including 845 sheep and lambs, 377 hogs and 50 calves. The cattle trade is dull, with shippers showing little disposition to buy, owing to lower cables. Some heavy losses are reported by the exporters on cattle landed the past two weeks. Good to choice shipping cattle, averaging 1,200 to 1,350 lbs., sold at 3⅝ to 4c. per lb. Butcher's cattle slow. The best sold at 3⅜ to 3½c. per lb. for picked lots and good to medium cattle brought 2⅞ to 3c. Inferior sold as low as 2c. About 50 calves offered. Good veals sold at $4 to $5.40 each. Sheep in fair demand, with sales at 3½c. per lb. for shippers' and at 3 to 3¼c. for butchers'. Lambs are easy, with sales at $2.50 to $3 25 each. Hogs are steady and sold well. The best long and lean bacon hogs sold at $5 50 to $5.60, mixed at $5.25, stores at $5 to $5 10, sows at $4 25 to $4 50, and stags at $2 50.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—Supply is good, but there is no accumulation of stock, and demand is fair. Dealers are paying 3c., and selling cured at 3½c.

SKINS—Dealers are paying 30c. all round for lamb skins and pelts.

WOOL—Has been offering freely at unchanged prices. The prices they are now paying are: Ordinary combing, 17c.; fine clothing and down, 18 to 19c.; rejections, 12 to 13c., and unwashed, 10 to 11c.

TALLOW—As before. Dealers are paying 4¾ to 5¼c. and selling at 5¼ to 5½c.

FISH.

Trade is improving and prices are stiffening. White fish and trout are still scarce and higher. We quote: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c.; Lake Erie herring, $1.75 to $2 per 100; blueback herring 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 5 to 6c. per lb.; salmon trout 6½c.; white fish, 7½c.; pike, 5c. lb.; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb; steak cod, 5 to 6c.; large halibut, 10c.; brook trout, 25c. per lb.

SALT.

Trade has been fairly good and prices have gone up a little. We quote: Dairy, $1.50, special grade; brls., 95c.; coarse sacks, 68c.; fine sacks, 70c.; American rock, $10 per ton.

PETROLEUM.

Trade remains much as before. We quote, in 5 to 10 brl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 15½ to 16c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 18 to 19c.; photogene, 20c.

one cent to one thousand dollars. They will supply the Tutti Frutti Cash Register and thirteen boxes of Tutti Frutti gum, valued at $26.50, for $15. Out of this investment a merchant can realize $11.50 clear, through the gum.

Marshall & Co., the fish curers, of Aberdeen, Scotla d, beg to inform their Canadian customers that they are now shipping the new season's pack of herrings.

The trade tell James Turner & Co.'s travelers that the line of extra choice Japan shown by them is the finest they have looked at this season or handled. It is a beauty.

James Turner & Co. announce that their customers are unusually well pleased with the new season's Japan teas being shown by this firm.

Wm. Paterson & Son, in addition to their many other lines, are extensive dealers in "licorice." They ask the trade to write for samples and prices.

Valencia raisins are about exhausted. James Turner & Co. have a few fine off-stalk left for their trade, which, they report, they are selling at a reasonable price.

James Turner & Co. advise their friends to buy freely of their line of Vostizza currants in cases and ½-cases, in view of the reported damage to the growing crop.

White & Co., Colborne street, report tomatoes, potatoes and cucumbers coming in more plentifully of late, and prices gradually dropping.

Graham, McLean & Co. report they are experiencing large increases in receipts of commiss on butter, much of which is of second quality.

M. Masuret & Co. have just received their third shipment of Tanglefoot sticky fly paper. This is a good seller and pays well; so, says the firm, does Hire's Root Beer.

Eagle Japan and Ceylon teas in 6 lb. cannisters, 30 lb. caddies, half chests and chests, are in increasing demand with M. Masuret & Co.

Canned meats and fish are handy and convenient for cold lunches and picnic parties. M. Masuret & Co. announce that they are closing their stock of these goods at lower prices.

Six cars of fruits and vegetables were on the track one day this week for Dawson & Co. There were two each of potatoes and watermelons, one of tomatoes and one mixed car.

The Toronto Biscuit & Confectionery Co. are again working late at nights trying to overtake their orders. They have, in addition to the Ontario orders, some from the Northwest.

W. R. Wonham & Sons, Montreal, agents for Marshall & Co., fish curers and provision merchants, Aberdeen, Scotland, have recently filled an order for St. John, N.B., for their canned soups. The consignees are greatly pleased with the goods, and write that they think them superior to any American soups they have been importing at the same cost.

Grand Mogul tea exhibits were held this week past at Niagara Falls, Grimsby, Woodstock, Ingersoll, Princeton and Drumbo. T. B. Escott & Co. are well satisfied with the success that they met with.

John Mouat, W. H. Gillard & Co.'s north representative, states that his customers now ask for Imperial Congou almost to a man, "as it is specially adapted to alkaline water," writes the firm.

Witt, Macaulay & Co., commission merchants, 64 Colborne street, Toronto, have sold their business and stock to P. J. Reid, of this city. Mr. Reid will continue the commission business, but on a much larger scale.

Joseph Tetley & Co. distinctly wish to inform the retail grocers of Canada that their teas are not sold to any dry goods merchants, but are extensively handled by grocers and general merchants throughout the Dominion.

Dried apples are all eaten up; evaporated in same position; so, to meet a want, James Turner & Co. write that they have arriving a nice line of Sphinx prunes, specially prepared by the grower and packer to keep fresh during August and September. Price is low.

A. & H. Foreman, of Collingwood, have taken the agency for "Salada" Ceylon tea for that town. P. C. Larkin & Co. report the opening of other agencies for this tea during the week at Elora, Newmarket, Markdale, Owen Sound, Thornbury, Dundalk, Tottenham, Ingersoll.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, August 2, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market remains much the the same as it was in its general features as at the date of last writing. The demand for sugar continues slack and there is a feeling of uncertainty with regard to this staple which checks the demand. Tea has shown a fair degree of activity. Molasses has declined in price under heavy stocks, and canned goods are not as active as they were at the time of last writing. Dried fruit are firm in value and some high offers are spoken of to arrive, but are no criterion to figure future cost upon. In other lines there is nothing to mention.

SUGAR.

There are few new features of interest to the sugar market, the tone ruling steady and values unchanged. Business is of small volume for the demand has fallen off to a considerable extent. Granulated is quoted here at 4⅛c. net cash, and yellows at 3 3-16 to 3¾c. as to quality at the factory. With regard to the future of the market there is more or less uncertainty, and reasons are advanced to show that prices are apt to go either way. In a word, on this re pect the feeling is very irregular and the uncertainty no doubt has a good deal to do with curtailing the demand which is not anything like what it should be with the preserving season on in full force.

SYRUP.

Business in syrups continues quiet, the demand only being for small lots to supply actual necessities. Bright goods have sold at 2 to 2⅛c. and dark grades 1 to 1¼c. per pound, so that the market can be called unchanged.

MOLASSES.

The development of an easier feeling has been the chief feature of the molasses market, and sales have been made of round lots at a decline of fully 1c. per gallon. This easiness is due to a congested market, supplies being more than ample for the demand. In fact it would not be at all surprising if prices should go lower. Fair-sized lots have changed hands during the week at 27c., while jobbers are asking 27 to 30c., according to quantity.

TEA.

There has been a rather better demand for tea during the week, and arrivals of new crop Japans have been meeting a fair reception. The eastern war trouble is attracting some attention from tea importers, as it is apt to have material influence on the question of supplies. Sales of 400 packages new crop Japans are noted at 17 to 20c. and we quote: Japan teas, common, 10 to 13c.; medium, 14 to 17c.; fine, 18 to 21½c.; and choicest, 23 to 29c.

COFFEES.

The market for coffee continues steady and values have no change. Demand is fair for small lots. We quote: Java, 24 to 28c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c., and Rio, 18 to 21c.

SPICES.

The spice market rules moderately active in a jobbing way. Values are unchanged. We quote: Black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c., and Jamaica ginger, 15 to 18c.

RICE.

There is no change to note in rice on spot. Demand is fair, and millers report about the average business at firmer prices. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3.95 to $4.25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

DRIED FRUIT.

The scarcity of Valencia fruit that has already been referred to in this column has led to further importations of California stock on this market to make up for the shortage. There have been sales of this fruit at 5⅝c. in lots. With regard to future supplies of Valencias nothing definite is to note, but offers of 17 to 19c. f.o.b. Denia are spoken of. These are purely speculative, however, and no fair criterion on which to base any judgment of cost. Currants continue much the same. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, 5 to 5½c.; fine, 5½ to 5¾c.; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

There is a fair jobbing trade doing in nuts at steady prices. The following are the quotations: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

A rather quieter feeling has characterized this market during the past week. The firmness in values in one or two of the leading lines previously noted by us, however, is fimrly maintained. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c per doz.

GREEN FRUITS.

The supply of green fruit of late has been somewhat light, owing to the fact that no receipts of California stock have been received. Demand for all kinds is good. Oranges are scarce and firmly held at $5 per box. Stocks of lemons are light and meet a good demand at firm values, $3.50 to $4 per box. Cocoanuts rule weaker at $2.50 to $3.50 per 100. Bananas are in good demand, but the market is well supplied with them. New apples in baskets come forward more freely and meet a ready sale at 75c. per basket. A few small lots of California cherries are coming in this week. Gooseberries are a heavy receipt, and the same can be said of raspberries and currants, prices on which are rather easier. We quote: Oranges, $5; lemons, $3.50 to $4.50 per box; bananas, 75c. to $1.50 per bunch; cherries, Canadian, $1 to $1.50 per basket; gooseberries, 50 to 75c. per basket; raspberries, 9 to 10c. per box; currants, 25 to 35c. per gallon; new apples, 75c. per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Continued heavy receipts and a poor demand have resulted in a further decline on the price of eggs. We quote choice caudled stock 9 to 10c., and culls 7 to 8c. per dozen. Canadian tomatoes are commencing to come in and sell at $2.50 per basket, but prices have a downward tendency at this level. A complete absence of demand characterizes the hop market which we quote as before nominal at 12 to 13c. for choice, 9 to 10c. for medium, and 5 to 7c. for old stock.

PROVISIONS.

A fair amount of business was transacted in provisions and the market was moderately active and steady with no change in values to note. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18 50; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The butter market is dull with the tone easy as before. No export business to speak of is doing and values are more or less nominal. We quote: Finest creamery, 19c.; creamery seconds, 18 to 18¼c.; fine Townships, 16 to 17c; fine Western, 14 to 15½c.

CHEESE.

The cheese market continues much the same as it was. The easiness noted last

FLOUR AND FEED

RETAIL dealers report that there is but little improvement in flour and feed. Flour in the grocery and feed stores has but little life, and breakfast cereals are selling very slowly ; but little hope is held out for any improvement in these lines until September. There is a little more demand for chicken and other feeds. Collections are reported slow and many of the flour and feed merchants are complaining of their inability to collect accounts, and are refusing to give credit.

THE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

FLOUR—Trade is quiet. There has been a stronger feeling in wheat this week, but it has not affected flour prices. We quote as follows : Manitoba wheat patents, $3.55 to $3.65; strong bakers', $3.35 to $4.45; winter wheat patents, $3 45 to $3 60 ; Ontario family, $3 to $3.25 ; straight rollers, $2.90 to $3.05.

BRAN—While the demand has been fairly good for the season, there has been a reduction of from $1 to $1.50 per ton owing to the large stocks accumulated by city mills. In the city it is now being offered at from $12.50 to $13 per ton.

SHORTS—The demand has been good, and there seems to be a scarcity of it at the city mills, which are selling it at from $16 to $16.50 per ton.

SCREENINGS—A fairly good trade is reported. City mills are selling at from $12 to $12.50 per ton.

ROLLED OATS—The demand for all breakfast cereals is poor, and rolled oats are reported selling at from $4.25 to $4.50.

HAY—Trade is quiet. It is at present being offered at from $8.50 to $9 on track.

STRAW—There is not much being offered, but quite enough to supply the present demand, which is slow. Prices range from $5.75 to $7.50 for choice.

MONTREAL.

The demand for flour continues good, and the market rules active and steady, with a large volume of business doing. The Lake of the Woods Milling Co. report one sale of 1,000 sacks on export account and twenty cars on local at quotations. Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3 70 ; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60 ; straight roller, $3 ; extra, $2.75 to $2.90 ; superfine, $2.50 to $2.65 ; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.50 ; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.45 to $3.50.

An active business was transacted in feed, there being a good demand at steady prices. Bran, $15 ; shorts, $17 ; mouillie, $20.

In oatmeal a fair jobbing trade was transacted at about quotations. Standard, brls., $4.30 to $4 40 ; granulated, brls., $4 30 to $4.40 ; rolled oats, brls., $4.50 to $4.60 ; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

Wheat is again at low water mark and the flour trade is limited to actual wants. Oatmeal is easier, while cornmeal continues firm. Middlings are about out of the market, being scarce and very hard to get. Bran is in better supply. Oats are firm, N.B. and P.E.I. being about out of the market ; this is particularly the case with P.E.I. oats. Hay is very weak with a very large new crop about to hand. Beans are selling below the car load price to arrive. We quote : Manitoba, $4.25 to $4.35; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60 ; medium, $3.35 to $3.50 ; oatmeal, standard, $4.50 to $4.75 ; rolled, $4.65 to $4.75 ; cornmeal, $2.70 to $2.75 ; middlings on track, $22 to $23 ; bran, small lots, $18.50 to $19.50; oats, N. B., 45 to 47c. ; Ontario, 47 to 48c.; beans, h.p., $1.50 to $1.55 ; prime, $1.45 to $1.50 ; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85 ; round peas, $3.65 to $3.75 ; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00 ; hay on track, $10.50 to $11.

FINE VS. TRASHY TEA.

THE following is in part a circular recently sent out by a Philadelphia firm :

We all will admit that there is an infinite number of grades of tea, and that the differences in quality are not wholly discernable to the eye. Style counts for much in tea, as in everything else, but beyond the appearance of tea in the hand, its inherent value in the cup, comprehended by the term "flavor," is brought to light only by most careful and expert testing. Besides the flavor at first steeping, a good tea will develop strength and a lasting aroma, so that at table the second cup will be as good as was the first poured out. In these times of business depression, when competition sets people wildly astray in efforts to beat the world in prices, we find many dealers making a great ado in print about teas at absurdly low prices, some at less than half the import cost of good tea. No argument is required to prove that such prices always mean extremely poor qualities. It cannot be said that it pays the grocer to sell such tea to his customers if it prejudices them against tea in general, and sets them in particular against the goods of the grocer who sells it to them. The users of such tea are likely either to stop drinking the beverage altogether or go elsewhere for their supplies afterward.

Dealers who permit themselves to be inveigled into a hope of reward by the notoriety which an advertisement of trashy tea brings them, will probably find, ere long, that the bird that once was in their hand has taken to the bush ; their tea trade has "taken the wings of the morning" ; other and wiser grocers are supplying their customers.

As to profit, the low grade article may show the largest immediate percentage, but the best ultimate reward comes to the man who sells the finer quality and wins the smile of his customers.

It is not inconsistent with these general principles to have in stock fair tea at a comparatively low price, to meet the demand from a certain class of people whose means require them to look to the price rather than to merit. Every grocer may judge for himself how best to cater to this class of buyers, without impinging upon his good rule to establish a reputation for satisfactory qualities in everything he sells.

week is more apparent, and trading at the wharf on Monday was on a lower level than last week. The offerings were some 7,000 boxes, which sold at 9c. We quote: Finest Western colored, 9⅜c.; finest Western white, 9⅜c.; finest Eastern colored, 9 to 9⅛c.; finest eastern white, 9 to 9⅛c.; Under grades, 8¾ to 8⅞c.; cable, 45s.

LIVE STOCK.

At the East End abattoir market Monday the offerings of live stock were 350 cattle, 600 sheep and lambs, 300 calves and 20 lean hogs. The market was fairly active. One or two shippers were present and bought a few small lots, weighing on an average 1,250 each, at 3¾ to 4c. per lb, but they were rough looking beasts. Butchers' cattle were well enquired for, and all the choice stock was picked up at 3 to 3½c. per lb., while the lower grades sold down as low as 2c. per lb. live weight. The demand for sheep on export account was good, and a number were bought at 3¼ to 3½c. per lb. Lambs also met with a ready sale and butchers bought freely at prices ranging from $2 to $3 50 each as to size and quality. Choice calves were well enquired for and sold at $5 to $7 each, while common stock moved slow at from $1 to $4 each. Lean hogs brought $3 to $7 each as to size. The shipments of live stock to the different ports since the opening of navigation to date were 43,488 cattle and 31,938 sheep.

ASHES.

Business in ashes continues quiet, and values are nominally unchanged. We quote: First pots, $4; seconds, $3.65; pearls, $5.40 to $5.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

There were sales of Ceylon Pekoe at 7 to 7½d. on this market during the week to London buyers.

California raisins, which have been taking the place of Valencia fruit on this market, were turned over by a leading McGill street dealer at 5⅝c. for 100-box lots.

J. Alex. Gordon & Co. received on Thursday last 425 cases of Australian canned meats, consisting of boiled, corned and roast mutton, in one and two-pound tins.

A few small lots of Californian cherries, which sold at $2.50 per box, were the only Californian fruit to arrive during the past week.

Tea importers here are commencing to speculate as to whether the troubles in the East will seriously interfere with the flow of supplies of tea from Japan and China.

Cables from London to brokers here place the stock of raw sugars at four ports in the United Kingdom at 90,000 tons against 104,000 tons the same date last year.

A cargo of 1,500 puncheons of molasses was offered on this market to arrive in August at 26c. last week. This fact, with large stocks already here, has weakened the market.

The first arrivals of new fresh Canadian tomatoes were offered here for the first time on Thursday. They were taken at $2.50 per basket, but will sell off from this in the course of a day or so.

ST. JOHN, N.B., MARKETS.

St. John, N.B., August 2, 1894.

BUSINESS has been better during the past week, and collections continue good. Coffee is firm, while tea is in buyers' favor, though some qualities of new crop are extra value. Some are not up to standard, and this keeps a weak feeling.

SPICE—Demand light. Compound goods are about out of the market. People are beginning to realize that pure spices are the cheapest. Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, whole, 15 to 20c.; ground, 20 to 25c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; bicarb. soda, $2 30 to $2.38; sal. soda, 1 to 1½c.

SALT—Demand is not as wished by holders, stocks being large during the past week. Coarse sold from vessel's side about 44c. An effort is being made to introduce Canadian fine salt in large packages. We quote: Coarse, 48 to 50c.; factory filled, 95c. to $1; 5-lb. bags in brls., $3 25; 10-lb. bags, $3.10 per brl., 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.

CANNED GOODS—Demand is not large. Three cars of new salmon have been placed on this market; one or two more may be sold, but sales will be far less than last year. Low prices are being quoted on old goods. New goods are firmer. Values are as follows: Corn, 90 to 95c.; peas, 90c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.50; oysters, 1's, $1.50; 2's, $2.25; corned beef, 1-lb. tins, $1.65; 2-lb. tins, $2.65; salmon, $1.25 to $1.35; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; peaches, 2's, $1.70 to $1.90; 3's, $2.70 to $2.90.

OIL—Demand is reported good, but wholesale dealers complain that on account of extreme low prices there is no profit. We quote: Best American burning oil, 18c.; Canadian, 17c.; prime, 13⅛c.; 60 days, no charge for barrel.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—Egyptian onions, which were so low last week, are much firmer, though no advance is reported here, still stocks could not be received at old figures. Currants, though they continue low, are somewhat firmer. California loose muscatels are firm; they are having a large sale. Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5½ to 5¾c.; London layers, $2.10 to $2.20; loose muscatels, 6½ to 7c.; prunes, 5½ to 6½c.; California, 11 to 12c.; currants, barrels, 3½ to 4c.; cases, 4 to 5c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Egyptian onions, 1½ to 2c.; French walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 14c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazil, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c.; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 11c.

GREEN FRUIT—American apples are now plentiful and Canadian are expected shortly. Bananas are easier, while oranges and lemons continue high. Cherries are scarce and continue high. Raspberries are now in good supply, while strawberries are about out of market. Good pines have been plentiful and have sold low. Lemons, $4 to $4 50; oranges, $5; bananas, $2 to $2.50; tomatoes, per crate, $3 to $3.25; strawberries, 8 to 10c.; watermelons, 40 to 60; gooseberries, 35 to 40c. per basket; California apricots, peaches and plums, $2 to $2.50; cherries, 30 to 35c.; apples, $5 to $5.50; raspberries, 8 to 10c.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Butter is rather firmer and a much better demand for creamery is noticed. Cheese is quiet. Eggs are in good demand and much firmer. Butter, 15 to 17c.; creamery, 20 to 21c.; cheese, 10 to 10½c.

MOLASSES—Demand is quiet. It is understood New York parties are again in the market offering goods, some samples showing good values. Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, 35 to 43c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27 to 28c.; syrup, demand light, 35c. per gal.

SUGAR—Is in good demand, with a not over-strong market locally, and offers of granulated under the market are reported. Granulated, $4.30 to $4.40; yellows, 3¼ to 4c.; Barbadoes, 3¾ to 4c.

FISH—Owing to small arrivals of dry fish market is firm. Large codfish are scarce. The prospects are for a continued firmness; prices are higher. Fresh salmon are coming forward in only small quantities, and prices have advanced. Halibut is also firmer. Smoked herring is somewhat easier. Salmon and mackerel from the gulf are being shipped to Boston. Large cod, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3 35; haddock, $1.75; pollock, $1.75 to $1.85; salmon, 16 to 17c.; bay herring, half brl., $1.40 to $1.50; medium, smoked, 11 to 12c.; lengthwise, 10 to 11c.

PROVISIONS—Demand is quiet. There is little if any change. Compound lard is rather lower. Clear mess pork, $19 to $20.50; P.E.I. mess, $16.50 to $17; prime mess, $13.50 to $14; plate beef, $13.50 to $14; extra plate, $13.75 to $14.25; pure lard, 10 to 11c.; compound, 8 to 9c.; cottolene, 9¾ to 10c.

PERSONAL MENTION.

C. E. Colson, of Montreal, is making his usual tour of the West, gathering orders for fall shipment.

Major John Sloan has recovered sufficiently to enable him to pay short visits to the warehouse.

An excellent cut of J. H. Smith, the popular representative of Wm. Paterson & Son in the Northwest, is presented by the firm in their ad. on page 6. Mr. Smith has been carrying the "grip" for them for nine years, and at no time has he been so loaded up with "good things" as on his present fall trip.

M. Davidson, grocer, McCaul street, who has recently been laid up with an injured ankle, is able to be about again, and was seen visiting the wholesale houses last week.

EVOLUTION OF TEA-PACKING.

AN Indian tea-planter, in a series of reminiscences of the industry, tells in the Indian Planters' Gazette of the experiments of thirty years ago to utilize machinery in tea-packing after this fashion:

"The first efforts in labor-saving machinery had rather a comical side to them; there was a pretty general complaint as to the large proportion of dust and broken leaf owing to defective measures adopted for packing, and considering the means taken to get the tea into the chest this was not to be wondered at. We were some time ere discerning the advantages of a uniform net weight, and, ere the steamer companies looked into matters, many planters set themselves to devise methods of getting the largest amount of tea into a box possible, a chest being taken on trust as a maund; the heaviest coolies available were in request for stamping down the leaf; one gentleman introduced a jack-screw, and, though carrying off the palm with this power, miscalculated the resistibility of his chests and nails, as, though he succeeded in getting a maund and a quarter into a space intended only for the regulation bulk, his boxes burst asunder when removed from the protecting mould. Some pounded the tea in, and as we did not attend much to marking, at that time, when the consignments were opened for sampling in town, some from the top and others from the bottom, there was rather a want of uniformity in the musters; not being aware of the ramming and jamming in vogue at the gardens, the agents sent up sieves, with directions for use. One secretary favored the manager with a winnowing machine, which the latter duly appreciated, placing it at the foot of his bed and utilizing it as a punkah. Rolling machines were the first to attract attention, and crude as the first contrivances in this line were, they led up to the present ones; though, had each device been sent to Europe or America in the early days, an enormous sum would have been saved. Kinmond's was not the first, but Gibbons'; this latter was a cylinder covered with corrugated leather revolving in a sack, and, though it did not finish the leaf, reduced the labor by one-half; this was considered a great step in advance; then came Nelson's mangle, and strange to say without collusion of any kind, the same idea was simultaneously hit upon by a lady in Ootacamund; both of these necessitated the use of bags, which from the difficulty of keeping them clean proved very objectionable, so that they had soon to be given up. One resembling very much the present rapid roller first saw the light in Hylakandy, but as the inventor failed to regulate the pressure he pulped his tea into a mass that would not answer, and so for a time we rested on our oars till Kinmond, Jackson and others came to the rescue."

TRADE METHODS.

It is surprising that some business men are so thoughtless as to continue an unprofitable business, or a business that pays a small profit, without stopping to consider for a moment why the business is unprofitable, or why it fails to pay a large profit, says N.E. Grocer. There is always a reason why these conditions exist; they do not come by chance. They are the result of wrong management, or else they exist because natural conditions are against the successful prosecution of the business at the point where it is unsuccessful.

It is not within the nature of things that all business men can be competent; there must be a good deal of incompetency until the world becomes a good deal more perfect than it is. We need not be surprised, therefore, at the failures that come to notice. But there is a remedy for a large part of unsuccessful business, and that can be found in consultation with competent business men who can be found in every locality. There are a good many competent business men who have not been able to reveal their full capability because they have been unable to straighten one or two problems in connection with their business, but as soon as some one can point out where the trouble exists, it serves to make them more searching and sharpens their ability to straighten out other equally as difficult matters, and in this way they develop into keen business men.

PRUNE GROWING IN TRIESTE.

THE prune trade through Trieste suffe ed severely in 1893, in fact it is said that the depression has been unprecedented. According to a report to the Foreign Office by Consul Haggard at Trieste, there have been different reasons for this. One, it is alleged, is the abolition of the free port which drives the buyers to the places of production in Bosnia and Servia to avoid paying duty here; but it is the fashion now to put the blame for everything on the abolition of the free port. A more substantial explanation lies in the falling off in the demand from the United States, for which there are several reasons, but the depression may be only temporary, as should the proposed Wilson tariff pass in its present form, the duty will be reduced on the basis of present prices by about 50 per cent. This want of demand in America has caused prunes to desert Trieste in another way, for when they do not go to the United States they are almost entirely sent to Germany, consequently there is no need for them to come near this port at all. The factors which govern the prune trade in America are the Californian prune crop and the apple and apricot crops there, which last year were most productive. The Californian prunes are always at the top of the market, being very fine fruit, and no doubt chiefly compete with the French prunes. On the other hand American apples and apricots directly affect the Bosnian and Servian prunes, because the former can be (and are) used as substitutes by the German population of the United States, who eat the fruit with their meat, whether it be prunes, apples, or apricots, whichever is cheapest. It is said also that the trade is being permanently affected by the gradual assimilation of the Germans to the native Americans, as in the second generation they give up eating fruit with their meat, becoming in habits like the ordinary Americans. The McKinley tariff, too, has much injured the prune trade through Trieste: the duty, comparatively speaking, is enormous, being 2c. per lb. Under the proposed new tariff the duty will be 20 per cent. ad valorem. The prunes now shipped from Trieste are packed in boxes, being previously prepared in the French manner by steaming. In former times they were simply sorted and shipped in large casks, holding 13 cwt. or 14 cwt. of prunes each. This was altered partly in consequence of the steamship companies placing a differential rate of 2s. 6d. per ton upon the casks, which gave much trouble, as against bags and boxes, which were more easily stowed and less damaged in the hold. But the falling off in the prune trade has affected British shipping interests materially; eight or nine years ago it was no uncommon thing for large steamers to leave Trieste with full cargoes of prunes alone, whereas the quantity now shipped on board a single steamer rarely exceeds 200 tons. There is a small trade to England in prunes through Trieste, but it is very small, as in England prunes are only used for dessert, the sweeter French prunes being preferred.—Grocers' Review, Manchester.

MORE RE ADULTERATED TEA.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce: Importers of Oolong teas have, as has already been reported, advised the tea growers in China that hereafter no first quality Oolong teas mixed with the poor tea will be accepted. This action on the part of importers is not, as is popularly supposed, due to the fact that large quantities of Pingsuey teas were rejected by the Government inspector last winter. It is an entirely different class of teas that are now meeting the attention of buyers. The Pingsuey tea rejected last winter was adulterated with a kind of Ningpoo mud, which made its use unhealthy to the consumers. Buyers are ordered to refuse poor Oolong tea, not because they are adulterated with a foreign substance, but because they are mixed with a poor quality of tea; the result being an inferior article.

Three sorts of Oolong teas are shipped here from China. They are Formosa, Foochow and Amoy. Of these, Formosas are much the best and very popular in the United States, where about 20,000,000 pounds of Formosa are used annually, against 8,000,000 pounds of Amoy and Foochow teas together. All the Formosa teas are raised in the Formosa Islands and brought over to Amoy by steamers of the Lapraik Line, of which Lapraik, Cass & Co. are managers. This concern is also the largest shipper of Oolong tea from China.

E. A. Willard was asked as to the reason of Lapraik, Cass & Co.'s circular, recently published, warning buyers against poor teas. He said: "In the latter part of the season, when the low grades arrive from the plantations, the poorer teas are obtained, such as are used here by those tea stores which give presents with every pound of tea. This plan has proved very popular and the tea stores have reaped a harvest, but the consumer has been getting poor tea in consequence. The increased demand for poor teas has enabled the grower to get a relatively larger profit on them than he could on fine teas, and he has increased the production of poor tea and lessened the production of fine.

"Last season the tea men in Formosa took over poor tea from the mainland and mixed it with true Formosa leaf, thus making the late crop poorer than ever. To guard against the repetition of this action by the Chinese, Messrs. Lapraik, Cass & Co. have distributed the circular already published widely among the tea growers, and other shippers have taken similar action. This course protects the dealer and consumer in this country, and is highly commendable."

Indurated Fibreware

from Induratus (Latin) hardened, and Fibre (French) the fine, stringy substance found in animals and plants,

Is a ware made of the toughest wood fibre, specially prepared, then shaped by tremendous hydraulic pressure, and hardened or indurated, by chemical process. First manufactured in this country in 1884, it has been constantly improved on since, and has now reached the acme of perfection.

Indurated Fibreware is made into Tubs, Pails, Milk Pans, Wash Basins, Bread Pans, Butter Bowls, Butter Tubs, Cuspidors, etc. Its peculiar advantages are that it

Will not shrink or swell.
Will not taint milk or any liquid.
Cannot leak, water-soak or rust.
Has no hoops to rust or drop off.
Being seamless, bottom cannot drop out.
Is lighter than a wooden pail.
Imparts no taste or flavor to its contents.
Is proof against kerosene, benzine, vinegar, and ordinary acids.

In addition to its many superior qualities, this ware is forced upon the notice of the public by most persistent and aggressive advertising throughout Canada.

PURCHASING COMBINATIONS.

AMERICAN Grocer: At intervals of a few years there comes over the retail trade a craze for a buying combination or purchasing syndicate, based upon the idea that money can be saved by getting goods from first hands and then distributing them among its members. The strongest objections to this plan come from the retailers themselves, including many who are advocates of and belong to retail grocers' associations. These men object to the leveling power of the plan, as it discriminates against the most enterprising, thrifty and largest retailers. It gives to the man ignorant of business principles and methods, with small and limited capital, the same advantages possessed by his more progressive neighbor in high credit.

It is destructive of individuality and puts a premium upon ignorant, indifferent, incompetent and possibly insolvent retailers. It is a violation of the principle involved in the demand of the retailers that the jobber should not sell the consumer. This purchasing syndicate seeks to overthrow or do away with the services of the jobbers, who in equity have as much right to demand of the importers, manufacturers and the first hand dealers that they shall not sell the retailers, as the latter have to demand that jobbers shall not sell consumers or hotels.

The best retailers desire perfect freedom as to the style, character and quality of their stock. The purchasing syndicate places, as it were, all of its members in a mold. They all keep "Merchant's Oats," or whatever the article may be; and unless they all agree to sell at the same price, there will soon be a war of prices among themselves.

They will run against innumerable snags, amongst the foremost being the liability to irregularity in the quality of their proprietary brands, through not always buying from the same party instead of the lowest bidder. Part of the policy of the most representative retailers in this country is never to change the source of supply so long as high quality is maintained. And thus it happens that for 30 or 40 years they have bought their spices and other goods from the same firms, no inducement of price or terms being strong enough to cause them to assume the risks involved in a change.

It is doubtful if a purchasing syndicate can buy, deliver and settle for merchandise at as low or lower cost than the jobbers who are now distributing goods at a net profit of 1 or 2 per cent on their sales. No syndicate can possibly render as varied or complete a service as the jobber. Why, then, try the experiment of co-operative buying? It has been tried over and over again without success, and yet no sooner is the past record forgotten than a new set of men, generally young and inexperienced, again make the attempt.

SOME QUEER FOODS.

THERE is an old proverb to the effect that what is food to one man is poison to another, and the proverb is well illustrated at the Department of Agriculture at Washington, remarks an exchange, by an odd sort of exhibit of queer foods eaten by out-of-the-way people. Among the articles in the exhibit is a loaf of bread made from the leaves of a plant that is allied to the century plant; as also another kind of bread from a dough of juniper berries. These are relished by some kinds of Indians, while others make cakes out of different kinds of bulbs. The prairie Indians like a dish of wild turnips, and the "screw beans," which grow on mesquite bushes, are utilized by Indians for food. Soap berries furnish an agreeable diet for some tribes. The Digger Indians in California do not disdain the seeds of salt grass, and the seeds of gourds are consumed in the shape of a mush by Indians in Arizona. The exhibit in question includes a jar of pulverized crickets, which are eaten in that form by Indians of Oregon. They are roasted, as are also grasshoppers. These delicacies are cooked in a pit, being arranged in alternate layers with hot stones. After being thus prepared they are dried and ground to powder. They are mixed with pounded acorns or berries, the flour made in this way being kneaded into cakes and dried in the sun. Among other curious things used by Indians for food are acorns, sunflower seeds, grape seeds, flowers of cattails, moss from the spruce fir tree, and the blossoms of wild clover.

John Cameron, General Subscription Agent.

WARNING TO SUBSCRIBERS.

We understand there is a man in Winnipeg, named Ostrosser, who claims to be our agent. He has already called upon several of our subscribers, and in one or two cases succeeded in obtaining money. Friends, he is an impostor; he is not our agent, never was, and never will be, so please look out for him. Of course, our journals have now such an enviable reputation that people insist upon working for us whether we like it or not. We don't like it. Mr. John Cameron and F. W. Armstrong are our only authorized agents in Manitoba, Northwest Territories and British Columbia. They are well known and thoroughly trustworthy.

A BUSINESS man should never miss an opportunity of making an honest dollar. Just now is the time of year when numbers of people, especially those who are unable to enjoy a respite from their daily avocations, feel the need of tonics. To cater to this demand is within the province of practically every grocer and general merchant in the country. It does not necessarily cost much to get in a supply. The character and location of a merchant's business must determine the extent to which he should invest in this particular. But no one need stock heavily in patent medicines, particularly when the object at the moment is merely to cater to the demand for tonics. For this it will only be necessary for the merchant to lay in a few cases of the leading standard tonics. In fact, if he gets in a supply of, say beef, iron and wine only, it will suffice. At any rate, it will be a start. This medicine is one of the most popular of tonics, while the package is attractive, and, what is still more important to the merchant, there is a good profit attached to it. THE GROCER is persuaded that if the retail merchants would take hold of not merely tonics but proprietary medicines generally, they would reap beneficial results therefrom.

Could we but see to what an undertaking would lead, or the possibilities in store for it, we would often have done this or that particular differently in order that it would the more easily have fitted certain conditions. When electricity became first to be applied as a motive power, if anybody thought of it in connection with the steam railways it was as a competitor, not as an adjunct. Of late years, however, it has come to be looked upon as both competitor and feeder of the railway systems of the country, and town and villages, here and there, are building electric railways in order to facilitate transportation between themselves and the steam railways. But now the question is dawning upon them whether the desideratum would not have been better secured had the gauge of the electric railways been made to conform with that of the ordinary railways. The promoters of the new electric railway between Galt and Preston saw the advantage of so doing, and the cars that now run on that line can run just as well on the rails of the Canadian Pacific Railway if need be.

The wisdom of the Galt and Preston Railway directors has set some of the daily papers moralizing. The Toronto World, after pointing out the mistake that this city made when converting its street railway system from horse cars to electricity in not changing the gauge and making it the same as the standard railway gauge, dwelt upon the advantages that would accrue to Toronto if cars of merchandise brought in by the C. P. R. or G T. R. could be hauled direct to the consignee's warehouse via the electric railway's road bed. The Free Press, of London, also takes up the burden of the song and sings of the advantage it would be to that city if the gauge of its street railway were made the standard width. And as London is on the eve of changing its system, it has a good opportunity to take the advice of the Free Press.

There no longer seems to be any "ifs" or "buts" about the wedding of the electric and steam railway systems. Even with the gauges of the two systems as they are the consummation is gradually being accomplished. But the union will be the more expeditiously and completely accomplished when the same standard gauge obtains on both systems. In the commercial centres rails could be laid along the lanes, etc., in rear of the warehouses, whereon the cars might be switched from the steam railways and unloaded at the doors of the consignees, or cars might be loaded at the warehouse doors, economy in time and expense being secured in each instance. But great as would be the advantages to the merchants in the cities from such a union of the steam and electric system they would be greater still to the farming community and to country merchants. Electric railways are no longer confined to the cities and larger towns: They tap and are tapping the country. And as the urban system extends the disadvantage under which the farmers labor as a class in getting their produce and live stock to market will diminish. If a farmer wants to ship a carload of live stock or produce, instead of driving the animals or teaming the produce through probably miles of dusty roads and crowded city streets, particularly if his farm happens to be near an electric railway, a steam railroad car can be sent out to him whereon he can load, in all likelihood, at his farm gate, whatever he may desire to send to market. Country merchants would have the advantage in being able to ship their butter and eggs to market more conveniently, and to receive the supplies they had ordered at the city wholesale houses. This is the custom that will obtain in the future, and promoters of new lines of electric railways, urban as well as suburban, should govern themselves accordingly.

The currant crop in Greece has reached the stage where forecasts can be made with less speculation surrounding them. From what can be gathered from private advices and other sources, one thing seems settled—that is, that the yield of 1894 will be less than last year. Authorities generally estimate the falling off at about twenty per cent., the aggregate crop being placed at from 140,000 to 150,000 tons. With regard to the quality, the advices are not so uniformly of the same opinion. One says "that the quality promises to be very good if there is not trouble with rain during the dry period," while another says that "the fruit in many districts has been shrivelled and without juice." Whatever the damage may be, it does not appear to be general. Other factors there are of a bullish tendency. One is that as distilling operations in Greece last year used up 15,000 tons, a large quantity may be again consumed in this way this year. But in counting upon this factor it must not be forgotten that unusual means were taken to encourage the distillation of currants last season in order to find an outlet for the crop which was larger than the growers knew what to do with. The other bullish factor is the presence of Russia in the market as a buyer. Last year, it is claimed, was that country's first appearance as a customer, when it took 16,000 tons, while the fact that the Muscovite has been lately buying currants on an advancing market encourages the hope that he will continue to buy. And Russia is not the only country in which it is claimed new markets are being opened up for Greece's currants. Then the refusal of the French Chamber to impose a further duty has removed a disturbing element, and a revival in the currant trade with that country is now looked for. The indications certainly point to higher prices for the coming crop; and the condition of the growers needs that it should be.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILWAYS.

THE railway strike in the United States has revived discuss on regarding Government ownership of railways.

The ground taken by some of those favoring the innovation is that in governmental ownership of railways is to be found the panacea for strikes. In fact the discussion was started by those who argue from this standpoint.

Those who are opposed to government ownership of the steel highways find this species of argument an easy mark.

They contend that government ownership would be no guarantee against strikes.

This is true, but in part only.

If the railways of Canada or of the United States were owned by the respective governments, it would be no guarantee that the last would be heard of strikes. But there is this much to be said about it: If the railways were under the control of the government, there would be less chance of strikes.

The postal service is in governmental hands, and we do not remember when there was anything approaching a strike among the postal employees either in Canada or the United States. At any rate, if there have been strikes, the remembrance of which we cannot recall, one thing i certain, they have been rare.

Then again, the fact that the railway system was under the control of one central authority would naturally tend to expedite and simplify differences if they did arise.

Not infrequently we see strikes created or maintained because of lack of harmony among the different interests concerned.

The fewer parties there are to a dispute the easier, naturally, it is to effect a settlement.

But aside altogether from the question of strikes, it seems to us that the assumption of ownership of the railroads by the government would, in the long run, be to the public good.

The most common argument against the innovation is that it would afford the government greater opportunity for corruption.

But what is the government? It is the expression of the will of the people.

The stream is not higher than its source. Therefore if the government be continually corrupt it is evident that the source from which it emanates is nothing better. Governments, in fact, are just what the people make them.

After a government has been launched on its mission by the people it may fall into corrupt ways. But the people have the remedy in their own hands; and in Canada the constitution allows them to use it quickly too.

To contend, therefore, that the ownership of railways should not lie with the government because it could not be trusted is to cast a reflection upon the people.

But we deny that governments are as corrupt as some would have us believe.

They might be vastly improved upon, and the more duties the people impose upon them that will require careful discharge, the greater likelihood will there be of this improvement taking place.

The imposition of the ownership of railways upon the government is one of these particular kind of duties that demand eternal vigilance as the price of successful operation.

The argument, therefore, that the government should not be trusted with the ownership of the railways because it would use them for corrupt purposes is unworthy of a free and intelligent people, armed to the teeth as they are with the franchise.

The railroad is a public convenience, and obviously the nearer the controlling force is allied to the public the more closely should the latter's interest be looked after.

The public in its essence is to be found in its representatives in Parliament or in Congress, and in these—as the expression of the people and, consequently, the closest in touch with the people—should be reposed the control of the national highways of this or any other country similarly advanced in civilization and enjoying a liberal franchise.

The postal service is under government control, and in Great Britain to the Imperial authorities belongs the telegraph as well as the postal service. No sensible man ever dreams of placing these under the control of private ownership.

And if the carrying of mails and the sending of telegraph messages can be safely reposed in the government, why not the carrying of freight and passengers? To us it seems unreasonable to answer in the negative.

One of the wants keenly felt by shippers to-day is cheaper carrying facilities. This government ownership of railways would tend to accomplish. All that the government would desire under the circumstances would be to make both ends meet. It may be urged that this is about all some of the railways are doing now while others are not even able to accomplish this. In the United States last year we are told over 61 per cent. of the railroads returned no dividends to their shareholders. But this, it must be remembered, was under circumstances of extraordinary depression. Granted, however, that from bad management, over-competition, etc., some railways do not pay and others prove positively unprofitable, it is not because the shareholders will it so.

They invested their money with the intention of making more out of it, and because they failed that does not take any from their object.

The object of the government on the other hand would perforce be to make freight and passenger rates as low as was consonant with running expenses.

Another crying evil of to-day is freight discrimination. This, too, governmental control would tend to obliterate. The people would not brook discrimination, and there would be no other alternative, for no government could afford to run in the face of the wishes of the author of its being in matters of this kind.

A question of such moment as the government ownership of railroads has its pros and its cons, but in our opinion the former by far outweigh the latter. And the signs of the times say that they will ultimately prevail.

THOSE POOR SUGARS.

IN our issue of the 27th July there were two interesting communications regarding bright and dark yellow sugars that made some serious complaints regarding the grade of goods of this kind at present supplied to the trade by Canadian refiners. It was also alleged that the Montreal refiners were as much to blame as those of the Lower Provinces.

Among the alleged faults given was the statement that the smell of many reminded one of the low-grade Scotch yellows; that the moisture was not sufficiently extracted, and that the bright, light-colored sugars solidified too rapidly, so that it was necessary to chop them out of the barrel with an axe.

If true, these were really serious complaints, so THE GROCER'S Montreal correspondent called upon the representatives of both refineries, showed them the letters in question, and asked them for their side of the story.

In both cases the accusations were characterized as exaggerations, the refiners maintaining that the consuming public in Canada to-day was getting a better sugar than they ever did for the money.

They pointed out that $1 would buy more than double the quantity of sugar now than it did eight or ten years ago.

As an actual fact Montreal at present was one of the cheapest markets to buy sugar on the continent, being fully $1.50 per brl. cheaper than New York.

Of course that market was unsettled at present, but it did not alter the fact.

But to return to the complaints regarding the quality of the bright and dark yellow sugars it was, to use a colloquialism, something of a chestnut.

When the market was easy in tone or declining, complaints about quality were always numerous. It was different when the market was on the rise, for they were conspicuous by their absence.

As to the merits of the complaints under consideration, the representatives of both companies positively averred that they were entirely unfounded so far as their goods were concerned. In fact they had had fewer complaints than usual lately. They could not understand them, therefore, and had nothing to say of other sugars, on which they were not in a position to speak.

The correspondent next directed attention to another source of information, visiting some well known sugar brokers. These gentlemen fully endorsed the statements of the refiners.

The sugars complained of were certainly not Montreal sugars. When a buyer paid the price he got a good sugar every time, but if he wanted goods for a price that was ⅛ to ¼c. below his competitors, he should not be surprised if the quality did not suit him. There had of necessity to be a certain percentage of moisture in all dark and bright yellow sugars. After the goods left refiners' hands it was not fair to expect that the latter should be responsible for the condition in which they were kept, a matter over which they had no control. Everyone knew that sugar was an article that readily absorbed any taste or smell from a foreign substance kept adjacent to it, and this, they were prepared to say, was the secret of sugar being in improper condition in many instances.

With regard to the solidifying of bright sugars, this was easily understood. As already pointed out, the moisture was never entirely removed from any dark and bright yellows. If it was they would cost as much as granulated and have to be sold at the same price. No refiner, therefore, guaranteed bright sugars over a month, and if after being kept two or perhaps three months they showed a tendency to lump up, the refiner in all fairness could not be held responsible. But they could talk for columns on the subject.

The fact of the matter was you could never please buyers. One of the gentlemen gave an instance of this where a customer of his had been kicking and kicking for a special kind of sugar. At last, to satisfy him, the broker in question got the refinery he represented to go to work and make the special grade requested. After they had gone to all this extra trouble the customer calmly took 50 or 60 packages, leaving the balance of several hundred on the refiner's hands. The latter, however, in these days of keen competition, had to grin and bear it.

This was only one instance, but many others could be given to show that the grievances of the refiners were not by any means slight, though so much might not be heard about them.

FRENCH PEAS LOWER.

"French peas are going to be cheaper this year," said a broker to THE GROCER the other day. "And you might suggest to the retailers that the tins they ought to have this year should weigh about 19 oz. gross. The same applies to mushrooms."

A FRONTIER MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

DEAR GROCER,—It may not be generally known that the above association has been organized since April, 1893. Its objects are for mutual protection from "beats," either dead or live, and for the promotion of a better understanding among local merchants. The association embraces all classes of business men, and aims to assist in any way possible in building up the locality. Last year we arranged for a civic holiday on August 16th, and an excursion to Toronto, which proved successful, and was highly appreciated. This year our second annual excursion has been arranged for Aug. 15th to Toronto. All ye traveling men please take note! Our password, which until recently was a profound secret, has leaked out, owing to a defect in the barrel. It is ("Codfish and Molasses") generally believed that John T. Atkinson, of Jas. Turner & Co, Hamilton, was the originator of the password. It is probable that some of our members will pay THE GROCER a call while in the city.

J. T. JAMES, Sec.

THE GROCER is pleased to know that the Frontier Business Men's Association is still vigorous, and hopes that its members will honor it with a call on the 15th inst.—ED. GROCER.

DROP IN TUBS AND PAILS.

A drop in the price of wooden tubs and pails is announced. Pails are 10c. per dozen and tubs 50c. per dozen cheaper.

The changes were decided upon at the annual meeting of the Woodenware Association, held on Saturday last.

For all purchases of $20 and over the quotations to the retail trade are now as follows: Pails, 2 hoops, clear, No. 1, $1.50; pails, 3 do., $1.70. Pails, 2 hoops, clear, No. 2, $1.40; pails, 3 do., $1.60; pails, 3 do., painted, $1.60. Tubs, No. 0, $9; do. 1, $7; do. 2, $6; do. 3, $5.

Established 1850

Show them to your customers and they will be glad to buy them at 10c. each.

A TRAVELER INDEED.

SAM WILKINS, whose genial, fatherly face smiles upon you from the accompanying photograph, covers the ground in Ontario west of London as far as Windsor, for W. H. Gillard & Company, of Hamilton. Mr. Wilkins has had a varied experience as a "globe trotter," and commenced when a boy by taking a trip from his native land, England, up the Mediterranean to the seat of the Crimean War, where he remained for some years. He returned in 1855, to start immediately for Australia, and in that country spent four years among the kangaroos. He next took a jump backwards, landing in England in 1864, when he caught a fever (the western fever) and started for the land of Stars and Stripes. In two years he drifted into Canada and halted at Strathroy, there filling a lucrative position until his engagement as bookkeeper for Stuart, Harvey & Company. His capabilities as a salesman being recognized by the firm, it persuaded him to go on the road, and since that time he has steadily stuck to the grip with every success to himself and to his employers. He started with W. H. Gillard & Company in 1866, since which time he has made for himself a host of friends on the road, and is highly esteemed by his fellow travelers and clerks, both in the house and on the road. He is a man of fine appearance, standing over six feet, has robust health and is a noble representive for any house.

HOW TO TEST A WATERMELON.

I draw my thumb nail over the melon, scraping off the thin greenish skin, says the correspondent of an exchange. If the edges of the skin on each side of the scar are left ragged or granulated, and the rind under the scar is smooth, firm and white, and has something of a glassy appearance, the melon is ripe. But if the edges of the scar are smooth and even, and the thumb nail has dug into the rind in places, and the skin does not come off clean, then the melon is green. You can easily learn on two melons, one ripe and the other green, noting the difference after they have been cut open.

TEA AND COFFEE AS FOOD.

M. Stanislaus Martin states that, as the result of an experiment on three different criminals sentenced to death, who accepted the scientific trial in preference to hanging, No. 1, nourished exclusively on tea, lived three years, and then died. He had become almost a skeleton, and was in a transparent condition. No. 2, on coffee, died in two years, burned as if an interior fire had calcined him. No. 3 lived on chocolate for eight months and died in a very advanced state of rottenness, as it were, devoured by worms.—London Lancet.

TRADE CHAT.

THE popular and widely known Tudhope, the grocer, of Welland, has entered into partnership with C. W. Nugent, the flour and feed merchant. Their premises in the Morwood Block are being extensively altered and improved. This firm deserves success for their indefatigable energy.

A cold storage warehouse has been opened at Morrisburg.

Around Kingston there are a number of pedlars who are not licensed.

The Woodstock Board of Trade is negotiating for the establishment of a beef and pork packing business in that city.

Alex. Smith, Moosomin, is building a large brick store on Main street next to his present store.

Alex. Armstrong, merchant, Whitevale, has sailed for Great Britain, where he will spend about three months with his brother.

W. H. Lindsay, one of Milton's leading merchants, is having the inside of his store somewhat remodelled and improved.

Toronto and Montreal packing houses have begun making heavy purchases of Manitoba hogs for export bacon.

The new exhibition buildings at Owen Sound are being rushed ahead for occupation this fall. The company is expending $5,100. The dates for the exhibition are the 18th, 19th, and 20th of September, and the Lieutenant-Governor has promised that he will be present at the opening.

During the past twelve months E. D Tillson, of Tilsonburg, has purchased from the farmers of that section over 150,000 bushels of wheat for the roller mill.

A Whitevale merchant set rough on rats for mice. His three-year-old child narrowly escaped going where it was intended the mice should go.

A Montreal man was fined $1 the other day for peddling without a license, and $50 for having in his possession unstamped tobacco.

Cod fishing on the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, especially at Esquimaux Point and Longue Point, nine miles from Mingan, is reported to be exceedingly good this year.

John Carter, grocer, Yonge street, Toronto, was thrown from his wagon a few days ago while driving on Yonge street near Eglinton, and sustained a fracture of the right arm.

The St. Croix Soap Manufacturing Co., St. Stephen, N.B., manufacturers of Surprise Soap, sent a contribution of $50 to the Children's Aid Society, Toronto, the other day.

The abnormal abundance of money in London, Eng., last week compelled the joint stock banks to reduce their allowance on deposits from the previous minimum of 1 per cent. to ½ per cent. It was even suggested that the Bank of England should change its custom and descend below its recognized minimum rate of 2 per cent. Gilt-edged securities have attained phenomenal prices, though it will be rash to predict that they have touched the highest point.

These have been elected officers of the Master Bakers' Association, Toronto, for the ensuing year: President, A. W. Carrick; Vice-Presidents, Geo. Weston and H. C. Tomlin; Secretary, M. Bredin; Treasurer, Wm. Bain.

Supplementary letters patent have been issued to the Hamilton Vinegar Works Co., authorizing an increase in its capital stock from $100,000 to $300,000, and changing the name to the Hamilton Distillery Company, Ltd.

Letters patent have been granted to the Canadian Forwarding and Export Co., Ltd., of Montreal, and to the International Produce and Manufacturing Ex. Co., Ltd., of Montreal.

England exported only 25,880 cwts. of currants during the six months ending June 30, 1894. In the corresponding period last year, 37,523 cwts. were shipped, and in 1892, no less than 44,490 cwts. There were in bond there, June 30, 314,255 cwts., against 284,708 cwts. a year ago, and 245,753 cwts. in 1892.

B.C. TRADE PROSPECTS.

Touching the trade prospects of British Columbia, the Vancouver News Advertiser says: "We cannot regard the present trade situation in the province as showing much improvement over the position two months ago. Compared with the state of things on the coast to the south of us, we may, however, congratulate ourselves. The serious labor troubles and disturbances which are paralyzing trade throughout the United States fortunately do not here intensify the generally depressed state of business. British Columbia is also fortunate in having more diversity in her industries than is the case in some other provinces. It is to be hoped that the salmon canning industry will be up to expectation, as, although prices for the article in Europe are low, a good pack means a good deal of money put in circulation in the lower region of the province. It appears now as if the harvest will, in some parts of the province, be better than was anticipated. The lumber trade still continues dull and depressed. The outlook for the mining industry is better, especially in the Cariboo district, where much interest is centred in the operations of several companies engaged in opening out large hydraulic works. On the whole, it may be hoped that trade generally will continue at least moderately good, and that the gradual change towards an improvement in all branches of business, which appears now to be taking place, may shortly become more apparent and positive."

BOUGHT EGGS, GOT CHICKENS.

On Monday evening last Mr. Joe Demara, of the south ward, went into a Kent street store and purchased a dozen eggs. The eggs were done up for him in a paper bag, and he took them home and put them away for future use. On Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock Mr. Demara concluded to cook some of the eggs for breakfast, and proceeded to the pantry. While in the act of opening the bag he heard a "tweet, tweet," and tearing away the paper he saw nine chickens looking up at him. The chickens are all eating heartily, and may be seen at any time. Mr. Demara says he would not take 50c. apiece for them, and is recommending that store as the cheapest place in town to buy fowl.—Lindsay Post.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, August 9, 1894

GROCERIES.

NOT many interesting features surround trade at this moment. Business is probably fair for the season, but that fair does not represent much volume. Sugars are quiet, and to induce trade cutting is commonly resorted to by the trade. New season's Japan teas are attracting some attention, but the agents are complaining a good deal as to the unsatisfactory condition of prices. The price of canned peas has been advanced 5c. by the Packers' Association. This is the only new feature in canned goods. Coffees continue in good demand and scarce. In spices the feature is a brisk demand for the pickling kinds. Advices regarding the new crop of dried foreign fruit are becoming more definite, and a little more interest is being taken in this market in consequence. Payments are not up to the mark.

CANNED GOODS.

The feature of this market is an advance of 5c. per dozen in the price of canned peas by the Packers' Association. This brings their price to the jobbing trade up to 80c. There are still some to be had at this price from the jobbers, but the price with the latter is generally firmer, sifted being quoted at 90 to 95c. There is the usual quiet, seasonable demand for tomatoes at 85 to 90c. Corn is fairly active at 85 to 95c. Canned fruits are dull, with prices as before. Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2 65 to $2.80, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40. Advices regarding new pack of salmon show that in some places it is fair, while in others a shortage is reported. Demand for salmon on spot is fairly good at $1.30 to $1.40 for the better brands, and those not so well known can be had at $1.10 to $1 20. Lobster is in fairly good demand. We quote: Flats, $2.40 to $2.50; new flats, ½'s, $1.35; talls, $1.80 to $2 25. Potted meats are in active demand.

COFFEES.

There is a good demand for the better grades of Rio coffee, stocks of which are light on spot. Outside markets are a little better than they were. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20 to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

Trade is still moderately good and prices unchanged. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅝c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

There is a brisk trade doing in pickling spices at unchanged prices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12 to 14c.; pure white, 20 to 28c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 28c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

The market is quiet, and one of the best evidences of this is the cutting that is being done in an effort to induce trade, granulated being freely sold at 4¼c., which is the laid down price here from the refineries; 4⅜c. is the ruling quotation. Yellows range in price from 3½c. up, although some dark kinds may be got at a fraction less. The market generally has a firmer tone, in sympathy with the New York market.

SYRUPS.

There is no change to note either in regard to prices or business. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Business keeps fairly good for the season at former quotations, which are: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEA.

No special features have developed during the week. Demand continues good for low and medium grade new season's Japans at from 17½ to 25c. A few new season's Moning teas are moving at 18 to 35c., but they are not saleable. Ceylon teas are nearly one penny dearer in London. Here both Indian and Ceylon teas are quiet. Tea agents report a little better demand from jobbers, but they are all complaining regarding the unsatisfactory prices obtained. Advices from London state that the war between Japan and China has induced some speculation on teas.

DRIED FRUITS.

The situation on the local market remains much as before. Valencia raisins are still scarce and firm. The demand is not large, the high prices ruling having, to some extent at least, checked consumption. We quote: Off-stalk at 5½ to 6½c.; fine off-stalk at 6½ to 7½c., and layers at 8¼ to 8½c. Advices received by P. L. Mason & Co. state that shipments of early Valencia raisins will be late this season, the scalding not having begun as soon as usual on account of the backward condition of the vines. Shipments will probably begin about August 20. Advices from R. C. Casado, of Malaga, report the Malaga crop as good, and that low values will rule throughout the season. Currants are firmer on account of reported shortage in new crop, although no actual change has taken place in quotations. There are not many selling, although the demand is probably better than it otherwise would be on account of the scarcity and high price of Valencia raisins. We quote as follows: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4½c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¾c. in brls., and 4½ to 5c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases; Panariti, 8½ to 9c. Barff & Co., of Patras, under date of July 20, advise P. L. Mason & Co. that the coming crop will be smaller than last year by 15 to 20 per cent., estimating the aggregate at 140,000 to 145,000 tons. The falling off, they say, is accounted for by "natural decrease after a year of unusual plenty, by a very dry winter and spring, imperfect cultivation owing to straitened circumstances of many growers, and finally by loss caused by peronosporos in various districts." Of last year's crop 148,490 tons have already been exported. Dem. Schusas, writing from Patras under date of July 24 to Watt & Scott, says: "Since writing we have had some very hot winds that did great damage to the fruit now about ripening. This as well as the mildew and the drought during the winter have rendered the yield some 30 per cent. perhaps less than last year, so that our crop is not expected to turn out more than 130,000 to 138,000 tons, against fully 175,000 tons last season. You will understand from this that prices are sure to be higher." Early shipments of currants are expected to be on about August 28.

Prunes are quiet and unchanged on spot. We quote: U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's. 7½c.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c. Opening prices for Turkish prunes will be higher than last year, and indications are that as crop is good, low prices will rule throughout the season.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Holders of butter seem to be a little more desirous of selling than they were a week or so ago, but still their views are as a rule above those of the buyers. Some sellers seem to be pressed to sell by the need of money. The idea with holders appears to be about 15 to 16c. f.o.b. for round lots, although we hear of some wanting as high as 18c. With buyers the idea is about 14 to 14½c. f.o.b., maintaining that this is nearer the value in view of the fact that a good deal of that coming in now is slightly off in quality. Of really choice butter there is not any too much, while low grade is beginning to accumulate. Price of the choice article is firm. A lot of 50 tubs of low grade changed hands this week at 13c., and was subsequently turned over at an advance of ½c. per lb. There is a little better demand for creamery pound prints, but tubs are still quiet. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17 to 17½c.; straight store, 15 to 16c.; crocks, 18c.; bakers' butter, 13 to 14c.; pound rolls, 19 to 20c. Creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; pound prints, 22 to 22½c.

Cheese is in much about the same position as before, local demand being fair at 9¾ to 10c. The factories are wanting about 9⅞ to 9¾c.

PROVISIONS.

Hog products are ruling firm, and stocks are light. In smoked meats there is a scarcity. Further advances are announced in some lines. There are only a few dressed hogs coming in and they are selling at $6.75 to $7.

BACON—Long clear, 7¾ to 8c.; smoked backs, 11½ to 12c.; breakfast bacon, 11 to 12½c.; rolls, 9½c.

HAMS—11½ to 12c. for smoked, and 10 to 11c. for pickled.

LARD—Pure Canadian 8¾ to 9c. in tubs, 9¼c. in pails and 8½c. in tierces. Compound, 7¼ to 7½c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $17.50 to $18; Canadian short-cut, $18.50 to

$19.00 ; shoulder mess, $14.50 to $15 ; clear mess, $15 to $15.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

New oranges have been arriving, but in bad condition, while old are about done. Stocks are consequently light, there only being a few Messina oranges to be had. There is a good outside demand for lemons, while the supply is getting limited and prices are higher. Demand for bananas is reported to be unusually good for this time of year, but the supply is equal to it, and the quotations are lower. Watermelons are in a liberal supply with demand good. Tomatoes are in good demand and supply is ample. There are still a few tomatoes of foreign growth coming forward, but domestic are now coming in pretty freely. A few domestic apples are coming in, but they are of poor quality. Demand for huckleberries, California peaches, plums, and pears, are in fair demand. Of domestic peaches there are more arriving than the market can comfortably absorb. Cucumbers are in good demand. We quote: Oranges, Messinas, half-boxes, $2.50 to $2.75 ; boxes, $5 to $5.25. Lemons, $4.50 to $5. Bananas, 90c. to $1.50 per bunch. Watermelons, $15 to $23 per 100. Huckleberries, 80 to 90c. per basket. Cucumbers, 35c. per basket. Tomatoes, domestic, 60c. per basket ; foreign, 80 to 90c. per four basket crate, and $2 per bushel crate. Peaches, 55 to 60c. per basket. Apples, $1.25 to $2 per brl., and 20 to 35c. per basket. California green fruit—Peaches, $1.85 to $2 per box ; plums, $2 to $2.25 ; pears, $2 to 2.50.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Quiet at $1.20 to $1.25 for medium and $1.35 to $1 40 for choice hand picked.

POTATOES—Prices are lower in view of heavy arrivals. Market is still principally supplied with the American article. The idea as to price is $2 per barrel. Demand is light.

EGGS—The bottom is out of the egg market. The cause is the anxiety of holders to dispose of their stock, and with these freer deliveries have come out large quantities of bad eggs, some of which have sold as low as 3c. per dozen ; 100 cases sold at 5c. We quote: Cold storage, 8½ to 9c.; fresh, 9½ to 10c.

HOPS—Market is much as before with sales of bale lots of 1893 growth at 12½c. Package hops, 20c. per lb.

ONIONS—Egyptian onions are practically out of the market. Domestic are quoted at $1.25 per bag and $2.50 per barrel.

FISH.

Demand is good, with white fish and trout still higher. Herring are beginning to arrive. We quote: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c.; Lake Erie herring, $1.75 to $2 per 100 ; blueback herring, 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 5 to 6c. per lb.; salmon trout, 7c.; white fish, 7 to 7½c.; pike, 5c. lb.; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb ; steak cod, 5 to 6c. ; large halibut, 10c.; brook trout, 25c. per lb.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—There is a fair demand at unchanged prices, carloads of cured having changed hands at 3½c.

SKINS—There is not much doing, and dealers, as before, are paying 30c. for lambskins and pelts.

WOOL—Buyers have pretty well stocked up, and they are not so keen in consequence as they were. We quote : Ordinary combing, 17c.; fine clothing and down, 18 to 19c.; rejections, 12 to 13c.; and unwashed, 10 to 11c.

TALLOW — Demand is moderate and chiefly for small lots. Dealers are paying 4¾ to 5¼c. and selling at 5¼ to 5½c.

SALT.

Trade is reported good, with several car lots moving. Prices are unchanged and are as follows : Dairy, $1.50, special grade ; brls., 95c. ; coarse sacks, 68c.; fine sacks, 70c.; American rock, $10 per ton.

PETROLEUM.

Trade is picking up, especially in burning oils. Prices are unchanged. We quote, in 5 to 10 brl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 15½ to 16c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 18 to 19c.; photogene, 20c.

The Petrolia Advertiser in its weekly report says:—"Petrolia Crude : 93 cents per brl. Oil Springs Crude : 96c. per brl. Refined, 5¾ to 6¼ cents in bulk, or 8½ to 9 cents in barrels in car lots f.o.b. here. Although business is not rushing, the crude market is very firm at the above quotations, with a strong tendency to rise. Refined is going along steady without change in prices."

MARKET NOTES.

Peels will be cheaper this season.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. are in receipt of a shipment of Gillard's pickles.

Dominion Produce Co. report eggs and butter coming in freely.

Adams & Co. report an increase in the sale of chewing gum during the week.

Smith & Keighley report that they are offering fine, flowery Pekoe Ceylon tea at low prices.

Davidson & Hay have received further shipments of new season's Congous and medium Japan teas.

Vance & Co. have on hand a large consignment of California pears, peaches, plums and apricots.

A. Paxton & Co. are in receipt of a large quantity of dairy butter which is bringing a good price.

White & Co. report apples weaker, the supply being better, but principally in baskets.

Graham, McLean & Co. are handling a large number of pound rolls of butter at present.

Smith & Keighley report that they are experiencing an unusually good demand for new season's Japan tea.

J. E. Murgatroyd and Midgley Murgatroyd have opened up a new general store in Smithville.

Vance & Co. have on hand a consignment of California pears, peaches, plums and apricots, all very choice stock.

"We have seen better value in Japan teas this season than ever before," say W. H. Gillard & Co.

The "Western Mixed" biscuit introduced by W. Paterson & Sons a short time ago, is proving, the firm says, a great seller.

Toronto Salt Works have just shipped 1 car dairy at $1.50 ; 2 cars brl., at 95c., and 2 cars sacks, at 58c.

Hughan & Co., general merchants, Lindsay, are getting their stock arranged as fast as possible in their new premises, 52 Kent street.

The stock of Thomas & Mowat, Elkhorn, Man., was sold on July 28th at Winnipeg. Wilcox & Ramsay, of Virden, were the purchasers.

tea in the following towns during the past week: Penetanguishene, Mildmay, Clifford, Allandale, Port Elgin, Paisley, Hanover, Tilsonburg, and Southampton.

W. H. Gillard & Co. state that New York ginger ale is now in the hands of nearly every one of their customers, and that the sales are increasing daily.

Eby, Blain & Co. are in receipt of another shipment of Orient tea. This firm also reports large sales of low and medium grade new season's Japan tea and pickling spices.

M. Masuret & Co., of London, are offering large dry codfish in cases, and have a few Bosnia prunes in barrels, bags and cases, and currants in barrels, half barrels, cases and half cases.

Sinclair & Co., of Caer-Howell street, Toronto, are moving from their present stand to the premises lately occupied by the Royal Arms Hotel at the corner of Yonge and Edward streets.

T. B. Escott & Co., of London, have held exhibits for "Grand Mogul Tea" the past week at Waddell Bros., St. Thomas; J. T. L. Orme, Port Stanley; A. J. Denny, London, and Farmer Bros., Exeter.

Gillard & Co. report that they have secured the sole control of "Sovereign" salmon for this season, and having bought before the scarcity was known, are, they claim, able to quote specially low prices.

The attention of the trade is directed to W. Paterson & Sons' "Peanut" ad. on page 6. This firm are large dealers in these goods and will be pleased to quote prices and send samples on application.

Gowans, Kent & Co. are now placing on the market their new "Ivory Top" lamp chimney which is advertised on the back cover of this issue. This chimney combines durability to stand heat, and neatness, and retails at a low price considering the quality. It is manufactured by one of the best makers in the United States.

One of the latest novelties in lamp goods is a "Costume Shade" now being put on the market by James A. Skinner & Co This shade is handsomely gotten up in the shape of a costume, and is attached to the chimney the same as any ordinary shade. It will prove an attraction in a show window or store where lamp goods are displayed.

A. M. Piper, formerly with Todhunter, Mitchell & Co., has formed a partnership with James Langskill to carry on the manufacture of spices, coffees, cocoas, chocolates, baking powder, etc. The style of the firm is "Piper & Langskill, proprietors of the Queen City Coffee and Spice Mills," and the factory and offices are at 101 to 109 Adelaide street west, Toronto.

Sloan & Crowther have to hand advice of shipment of first car of 350 cases of Fraser sockeye salmon, this season's catch, per C.P.R. The packers advise Sloan & Crowther as follows: "We may mention to you that the run of salmon on the Fraser at present is very poor and only two canneries are reported to have caught over 1,000 cases, and in many instances they have not much over a carload to be put up. As time for fishing is so short, it looks as if a serious shortage will take place, and those who have made large contracts at low figures will suffer greatly in consequence. We note that a large combination has been formed in England to buy up British Columbia and Alaska packs at low prices."

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, August 9, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THERE has been no pronounced change in the grocery market during the week. A moderate volume of business is doing, but the dimensions are still more or less restricted. Tea, which was expected to show more life ere this, has failed yet in doing so, but a change for the better is expected. Sugar is very firm, but the demand for it does not widen to any material extent. Molasses continues easy, but values are not quotably altered. Canned goods rule quiet, the only business of importance being some round lots of salmon. Spices and coffees remain about the same, and there is nothing special to report yet in dried fruit. Payments are generally complained of.

SUGAR.

The past week has witnessed a rather firm feeling in our sugar market, in consequence of the tenor of advices from New York. Values, however, are not quotably changed and refiners do not appear to anticipate any radical alteration. Demand is limited for the season of the year; in fact, the volume of business is generally admitted to be comparatively light. For granulated 4⅛c. is still the basis from the refineries, and yellows 3 1-16 to 3¾c. as to quality at the refinery. Cables from London on beet stock have been fairly steady on the whole.

MOLASSES.

This market has continued quiet, and the easy tone noted specially and in our market letters last week continues, but no further change has, up to the time of writing, taken place in values governing ordinary business. For forward business further sales to arrive of round lots are noted on the basis of 26c. August delivery. The combination prices are still unchanged at 29c. for car lots and 30c. for single puncheons.

SYRUP.

Syrups have continued quiet and featureless with only a very moderate business passing. Quotations are unchanged from a week ago at 2 to 2⅛c. for bright grades and 1 to 1¼c for dark.

TEA.

Nothing very striking has transpired in the tea market since our last report. What demand there is continues to be of a hand to mouth character and very few large lots have been moving. In this connection we note sales of a 1,000 odd packages of Japans at a range of 13 to 20c. as to quality. The trouble between China and Japan has not affected the market, and as the bulk of the Japan teas for this market are now afloat importers here do not apprehend that it will do so in the immediate future. In New York, however, the feeling is strong on war news, and if speculators manipulate any pronounced alteration in that market it may possibly have some sympathetic influence on values here. We quote: Japan teas, common, 10 to 13c.; medium, 14 to 17c.; fine, 18 to 21½c.; and choicest, 23 to 29c.

COFFEES.

There is about the usual amount of business doing in coffees, but no large operations are being put through except a few round lots of Maracaibo, and one or two parcels of Mocha at 19½ and 24½c. respectively. We quote: Java, 24 to 28c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c., and Rio, 18 to 21c.

SPICES.

The spice market is quiet under a moderate business at unchanged prices. We quote: Black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c., and Jamaica ginger, 15 to 18c.

RICE.

There is no change in rice. A fair business is being transacted at previous quotations. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3.95 to $4.25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

DRIED FRUIT.

There has been nothing very special since our last in dried fruit which rules much the same. Prices are more or less nominal and we quote as follows: Off-stalk Valencias, 5 to 5½c.; fine, 5½ to 5¾c.; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

There is a fair business doing in nuts at unchanged prices. The following are the quotations: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

Outside of the sale of a round lot of 1,500 cases of B. C. salmon on the basis of $3.65 f.o.b. on the coast on Thursday last very little business of importance has transpired. Aside from this the ordinary jobbing business is of very limited dimensions indeed, and there is no change in prices. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz.

The Australian canned meats, the arrival of which we noted last week, are offering on this market at the following range of prices: Boiled mutton, $1 86 to $1.90 per doz. 1-lb. tins, and $3.10 to $3.15 per doz., 2-lb. tins; roast mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz., 2-lb. tins; corned mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3 40 per doz, 2-lb. tins.

GREEN FRUIT.

The chief feature of the week in the green fruit market has been large receipts of apples and consequent demoralization in prices owing to poor sales. Duchess and Astracans have been sold all the way from $1.25 to $2 per brl. The only oranges offering are a few boxes of Rodi, which sell at high prices, viz., $5.50 per box. Demand for lemons has been rather quiet, but light stocks have prevented any decline in prices, which rule firm at $3.75 to $4 per box. California cherries are meeting a fair sale at $1.75 per box. Pears command good sales at $2 to $2.50 per box, and plums sell well at $1.75 to $2.25 per crate. Raspberries sell very well at 12c. per box. The supply of bananas is large, and prices range from $1 to $1.50 per bunch.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Demand for eggs is fair, but receipts continue large and prices rule on the easy side at 9 to 10c. for candled and 7 to 8c. per dozen for culls. In honey a fair business has been transacted for small lots at 8 to 9c. per lb. The market for beans continues to be quiet and steady at $1.35 to $1.50 per bushel of 60 lbs. Hops rule quiet at 10 to 12c. for good to choice and 9c. for medium grades. The market is kept well cleaned up of tomatoes at $2.25.

PROVISIONS.

The provision market is without any new feature of interest to note. The feeling generally is steady and values are maintained. The demand for all lines is limited, and business in consequence rules quiet. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The butter market does not furnish any special change, except that prices are practically lower. It is understood that with freer offerings by factorymen quite a lot of July creamery has been picked up at 18½c. or thereabouts in the country, and this, no doubt, will act to a certain extent as a stiffener. Still it is pretty generally admitted that there is quite a quantity of July make to market, and, no doubt, the salesmen want to realize, which will have its effect. In dairy goods there are very few developments to report. We quote: Finest creamery,

18¾ to 18⅞c.; creamery seconds, 18 to 18¼c.; fine Townships, 16 to 17c; fine Western, 14 to 15½c.

CHEESE.

The cheese market rules about steady, the buying in the country of July goods that has already been referred to tending to dissipate the easy feeling apparent at the beginning of last week. This buying has already been supplemented by more and at fractionally firmer prices, so that it is evident the speculators have again stepped in to keep the market up. This is the only interpretation that can be put upon it with an 8⅝c. market in New York and offers from this side on the basis of 45s. c.i.f. It is hinted also that there are some shorts and that a squeeze is on the tapis. Whatever the reason, the cheese market, so far as indications go in Canada, is steady. At the wharf Monday morning 3,500 cheese were offered and all sold at a range of 9 to 9⅛c., a good percentage going at the higher figure. At St. Hyacinthe the offerings comprised 5,000 boxes, and the ruling price was 8⅞c. We quote: Finest Western colored, 9⅜ to 9½c.; finest Western white, 9¼ to 9⅜c.; finest Townships', 9⅛ to 9¼c.; finest Eastern colored, 9 to 9⅛c.; finest eastern white, 8⅞ to 9c.; Under grades, 8⅝ to 8¾c.

ASHES.

Receipts of ashes are small and business is quiet with no change in price to note. We quote: First pots, $4; seconds, $3.70; pearls, $6.50 per 100 lbs.

FLOUR AND FEED

THERE has been much said through the columns of this and other trade journals as to the value of the window display for enhancing sales. Many grocers are inclined to think that the place for their flour stock is in the back of the store, or in the cellar, and that customers will naturally ask for it if they need it. An East Toronto grocer was heard recently to remark: "Oh, flour looks very well in the window of a flour and feed store, but a grocer is only sacrificing space and time, without receiving any return for his trouble, when he attempts to make a flour display." Now, while we respect this dealer's opinion, we differ from him nevertheless. A grocer in Parkdale, who is one of the leading dealers in that vicinity, has been recently devoting one of his windows to the display of flour only, and has not only succeeded in arranging the gaily labelled paper bags effectively, but has also enhanced his sales in this line considerably thereby. This is the dull season for the sale of flour, and the time when it needs most pushing. If one dealer finds it profitable to make such a display, why should not others? To those who wish to build up a good flour trade we say, "Go thou and do likewise."

Reports from the United States say that there has been a great lack of rain in the corn districts, and prices have risen considerably in the Chicago markets, carrying wheat with it. A deficiency in corn crop will doubtless do much to raise the price of wheat, and, as a consequence, we may expect a raise in flour. The weather bureau holds forth no prospects of relief from the hot winds that have been withering and destroying the grain in the western corn fields.

The aunual meeting of the Dominion Millers' Association was held at the Board of Trade last Tuesday. President A. H. Baird, of Paris, was in the chair. There was a large attendance, and all the officers and committee were present, with the exception of Mr. Flavelle, of Lindsay, who was unable to attend through illness. The reports presented by the secretary-treasurer were satisfactory, and after the President's annual address the following papers were read:

"Our Export Flour Trade, and why it has been Largely Lost," M. McLaughlin, Toronto; "Shortages in Car Wheat—Causes and Remedies," W. H. Meldrum, Peterboro'; "Export Freight Rates on Flour—How to Secure Them"; "Doubtful Patents on Milling Machinery," H. Barrett, Port Hope; "The Plansifter System of Bolting," James Hodd, Stratford; "Fire Risk in Mills—How Reduced," J. L. Spink, Toronto; "Discussion on Wheat Buying and Prices," T. O. Kemp, Seaforth; "Chattel Mortgage on Farmers' Grain—How it Affects Millers," James Goldie, Guelph.

THE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

FLOUR—Business in the city is quiet. Grocers complain of the hot weather which keeps their customers from doing much home baking, and bakers report a dullness owing to numbers of people who are at present out of town. An improvement in the flour trade is looked for during the coming month. There has been no change in prices. We quote: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.55 to $3.65; strong bakers', $3.35 to $3.45; winter wheat patents, $3 45 to $3 60; Ontario family, $3 to $3.25; straight rollers, $2 90 to $3.05.

SHORTS—The demand has been good, and city mills have been hard taxed to supply it. There is but little to be had at present. City mills are selling at from $16 to $16.50 per ton.

BRAN—While the demand from dealers in the city has not been great, some good shipments in car lots are reported at from $12.50 to $13, and city mills have a very small quantity on hand which they are offering at $13 per ton.

SCREENINGS—There is a good demand and the mills are selling at $12 per ton.

HAY—Business is quiet. Prices unchanged at $8.50 to $9 on track.

STRAW—There is some demand for sheave straw, but bale straw is selling very slowly. Prices unchanged at $5 75 to $7.50 for choice.

MONTREAL.

The demand for Manitoba flour on local account continues good, and a fairly active business is doing at steady prices. Winter wheat, $3.60 to $3.70; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, $3; extra, $2.75 to $2.90; superfine, $2.50 to $2.65; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.40 to $3.50; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.45 to $3.50.

Owing to the continued good demand for feed, especially shorts, a stronger feeling prevailed and prices advanced $1 per ton, sales being made freely Monday at $18, and millers state that a further advance of $1 per ton will be in order before the end of the week if the present demand continues, as supplies are very short. Bran, $15; shorts, $18; mouillie, $20.

In oatmeal a fair amount of business was done, there being a good demand for small lots, and values were steady. Standard, brls., $4.30 to $4.40; granulated, brls., $4 30 to $4 40; rolled oats, brls, $4.50 to $4.60; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl. $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

The movement in flour as stated by a leading broker is flat, stale and unprofitable. The reaction after the recent advance has left the market if anything duller than before. Oatmeal is firm, as are middlings. Bran is, however, not so much in demand. Oats are off about 3c., and hay is again lower. The one movement is in cornmeal. It shows an advance of 20c. in the week, and if the firm feeling in corn continues, it will go higher. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.20 to $4.30; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; oatmeal standard, $4.50 to $4.75; cornmeal, $2.85 to $2.95; middlings, $22 to $23, on track; bran, small lots, $18 to $19; cottonseed meal, $30; N. B. oats, on track, 43 to 44c.; Ontario, on track, 44 to 45c.; beans, h.p., $1.55 to $1.60; prime, $1.45 to $1.50; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; round peas, $3.65 to $3.75; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00; hay on track, $9.50 to $10.

Chas. Southwell & Co.'s high-class Kentish fruit.

Laporte, Martin & Co. are receiving this week a large consignment of "Brandy Richard" in bottles, half ditto and quarters, which they are offering at very special prices for immediate delivery.

Some very tempting samples of "Batger's" candied peels have been received by Messrs. Rose & Laflamme. They comprise lemon, orange, citron, etc. One sample of the latter—a complete half of a fruit—especially attracts attention.

The new season's catch of Marshall's Scotch salt herrings is a very fine one. Walter R. Wonham & Sons state that the goods are meeting a good demand in kegs, firkins, quarters, halves and barrels, but especially in kegs, as the latter is a very handy package.

ST. JOHN, N.B., MARKETS.

ST. JOHN, N.B., August 9, 1894.

TRADE continues rather quiet, but payments are fair and people are buying carefully. The only matter of excitement has been the rapid advance of cornmeal, first 5c., then 5c., and then again 10c. This, with 5c. last week, makes an advance of 25c., with value very firm and a further advance looked for. In tea some samples of direct importation are to hand. In Saryunes extra value are shown.

SPICE—Whole pickling spice is now a seller in value. Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, ground, 20 to 25c.; whole, 15 to 20c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; bicarb. soda, $2.30 to $2.38; sal. soda, 1 to 1½c.

SALT—In spite of reports to the contrary stocks here are large and movement is not rapid. Coarse salt, 48 to 50c.; factory filled, $1 to $1.10; Canadian 5-lb. bags in brls., $3 25; 10-lb. bags, $3.10; American wood boxes, 20, 10 and 12c.

TOBACCO—Prices as last week. McDonald's brands: Crown, 43c.; Pilot, 45c.; Index, 43c.; Napoleon, 49c. McAlpin's brands: Beaver, 62c.; Tecumseh, 65c.; Jubilee, 49c.; Gold Shield, 49c.; Woodcock, 53c.; Army and Navy, 45c. Tuckett's T. & B. Myrtle Navy, 59c.; cut, 70c.; Lily, 46c.; chewing, T. & B., long black, 48c.; Mahogany, 12s., 48c.; Mahogany, 12s. and 7s., 48c.

CANNED GOODS—A car of new salmon is reported on the road for Halifax. Orders for futures in vegetables are now being booked. Prices spot goods are quoted as last week. Corn, 90 to 95c.; peas, 90c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.50; oysters, 1's, $1.50; 2's, $2.25; corned beef, 1-lb. tins, $1.65; 2-lb. tins, $2.65; salmon, $1.25 to $1.35; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; peaches, 2's, $1.70 to $1.90; 3's, $2.70 to $2.90.

OIL—Quotations are as last week. Demand good. Best American, 18c.; best Canadian, 17c.; prime Canadian, 13⅛c.; 60 days, no charge for barrel; linseed, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. Turpentine, 45 to 47c. Cod oil, 28 to 30c. Seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; pale, 38 to 43c. Olive oil, commercial, 90c. to $1. Castor oil, commercial, 6½ to 7c. Extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—In New York an advance of ½c. on currants is reported, but though prices are firmer here no advance has yet been made. Those selling Valencias for direct shipment report a larger sale than up to this time last year. California loose muscatels are making many friends in this market. One firm has a hundred sacks of filberts direct from Spain; this is understood to be the first direct shipment received here. A short crop of Sultana raisins is reported. We quote as follows: Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5½ to 5¾c.; London layers, $2.10 to $2.20; California loose muscatels, 6½ to 6¾c.; prunes, 5½ to 6½c.; California, 11 to 12c.; currants, barrels, 3½ to 4c.; cases, 4 to 5c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Egyptian onions, 1½ to 2c.; French walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 15c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazil, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 11c.

GREEN FRUIT—Strawberries are out of the market. Raspberries hold firm. Cherries are out of the market after an exceedingly light crop, prices holding very high, and not enough for local demand. Plums are reported a large crop, while apples are reported light. Oranges are firmer, and other fruits are taking their place. Tomatoes, of which but very few natives are yet to hand, are lower, as are watermelons. Bartlett pears are now being offered. Messina lemons, $4 to $4.50; oranges, $5 to $5.50; bananas, $2 to $2.50; tomatoes, per crate, $2.25 to $2.50; cucumbers, per doz., 30 to 35c.; watermelons, 40 to 50; gooseberries, 40c. per peck; California apricots, peaches and plums, $2 to $2.50 per crate; apples, $4.50 to $5; Bartlett pears, $4.50 per bush.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Eggs continue slow, with rather firmer market. Butter—a good demand for creamery prints is reported; market all round is rather firmer. Cheese is rather quiet; competition between the different factories is causing a rather weaker feeling in the market. One factory has a carload now ready for the English market. It is a splendid lot of cheese; average weight, 70 lbs. Eggs, 9½ to 10c.; butter, dairy, 15 to 16c.; creamery, tubs, 18 to 19c.; prints, 21c.; cheese, 10 to 10½c.

MOLASSES—No change in price is reported. Demand is fair. Barbadoes, new, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, fancy, 42 to 43c.; choice, 34 to 35c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27 to 28c.

SUGAR—In this market no change reported. Granulated, 4¼ to 4⅜c.; white extra, 3¾ to 3⅞c.; bright yellow, 3⅝ to 3¾c.; yellow, 3⅜ to 3½c.; dark yellow, 3¼ to 3⅜c.; Barbadoes, 3¾ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6 to 6¼c.; pulverized, 6 to 6¼c.

FISH—From Bathurst encouraging reports in regard to mackerel are to hand. Lobsters are a small catch this season. Fresh halibut and salmon are among the things of the past as far as general business is concerned. Fresh shad are being received in fair quantities. In salt and smoked fish market is steady. A carload of pickled herring from the east is to hand, being first of the season. Large cod, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.25 to $3.35; haddock, $1.75; pollock, $1.70 to $1.75; bay herring, half brl., $1.40 to $1.50; medium, smoked, 11 to 12c.; lengthwise, 10 to 11c.

PROVISIONS—Values are as last week. There are those who think the state of the corn market will cause a weakening on account of the unloading of live stock. Clear pork, $19 to $20; P.E.I. mess, $16.50 to $17; prime mess, $13.50 to $14; plate beef, $13.50 to $14; extra plate, $13.75 to $14.25; pure lard, 10 to 11c.; compound, 8 to 9c.; cottolene, 9¾ to 10c.

ST. JOHN MARKET NOTES.

In lumber the only movement is to British ports, which, however, makes a fair showing.

The friends of I. C. Bowman are much pleased to see him again in his accustomed place after a severe illness. No broker is more deservedly popular, and a general movement along the lines in which he is interested is expected.

In Customs receipts there is a decline of over $12,000, comparing this July with last. The figures are: Last year, $63,684 48; this, $51,390.37. The inland revenue also shows a decrease amounting to $4,486 71, figures being: last July, $26,339.78; this, $21,853.08.

B.C. SALMON NEWS.

B.C. Commercial Journal: The beginning of the run of sockeye salmon on the Fraser River this season is the latest on record. In fact, the run proper has scarcely begun yet, and is the cause of considerable anxiety among cannery men, who have made preparations for an average pack. Advices from the North received Monday report that fish are plentiful on the Naas River and Rivers Inlet, but on the Skeena the run is only middling, the canneries averaging, it is reported, about 6,000 cases each. On the Naas, the two canneries of the Federation brand have put up 13,000 cases. The B.C. Canning Co., Rivers Inlet, report that they were nearly finished on Thursday, 26th, with a pack for their two canneries of 25,000 cases. The Wannuck cannery, Rivers Inlet, is also reported to have filled 12,000 cases.

THEY COME HIGH.

It was such a bright boy who applied to the grocer for a job that he thought he would give him a little talk just for a guy.

"If I hire you," he asked, "I suppose you will do what I tell you?"

"Yes, sir."

"If I told you to say the sugar was high-grade when it was low, what would you say?"

The boy never turned a hair.

"I'd say it," he responded promptly.

"If I told you to say the coffee was pure when you knew it had beans in it, what would you say?"

"I'd say it."

"If I told you to say that the butter was fresh, when you knew it had been in the store for a month, what would you say?"

"I'd say it."

The merchant was nonplussed.

"How much will you work for?" he inquired very seriously.

"One hundred dollars a week," answered the boy, in a business-like tone.

The grocer came near falling off his stool.

"One hundred dollars a week?" he repeated in astonishment.

"With a percentage after the first two weeks," said the boy coolly. "You see," he went on, "first-class liars come high, and if you need them in your business you've got to pay them the price. Otherwise I'll work for three dollars per," and the boy had caught the grocer at his own game and got the job at three per.—Detroit Free Press.

A TRICK OF THE TRADE.

Shrewd orange shippers in Florida make a virtue of necessity, and brand their rusty oranges with such fancy and attractive names as "Golden Russet," etc., says an exchange. Most consumers, and many Northern dealers believe such oranges to be a distinct and probably improved variety, and sometimes pay a higher price for them on that account. We have previously pointed out that the russet oranges of Florida are made so by an insect, and are in no sense a separate variety of fruit. At a recent meeting of the Florida State Horticultural Society, W. A. Marsh read a paper from which we take the following account of the rust mite: "This minute insect, which is invisible to the naked eye, is a great source of annoyance to the orange grower, and causes a loss of thousands of dollars each year to the growers. The rust mite is only the 1,200th part of an inch long. The eggs are deposited singly or in clusters over the leaves, and hatch in four or five days. In about ten days they shed their skins and reach the adult condition, which differs from the young in being a little darker. It is during the hot, moist weather in summer when they become most abundant, cold or dry weather checking them. On examination of a single leaf infested with them, Mr. Hubbard estimates the number of mites and eggs at 75,000. These little creatures are able to travel twelve feet per hour, so they are able to cover a good deal of space in a short time. The result of the little fellows' work is not altogether bad, for our rusty fruit will carry a good deal better than the bright, and late in the season there is not much difference in price. The russet fruit holds its juices better than bright. Almost any of the insecticides now in use will destroy the rust mite, but the trees must have several applications, for they work the year round, as their food is the oil in the rind of the orange, and other citrus fruits."

The trade returns of Germany for the first six months of the year, when compared with those of the same period of 1893, show a decrease in exports of 96,000,000 marks, and an increase in imports of 151,000,000 marks, 6 and 8 per cent. respectively of the total.

Indurated Fibreware

from Induratus (Latin) hardened, and Fibre (French) the fine, stringy substance found in animals and plants,

Is a ware made of the toughest wood fibre, specially prepared, then shaped by tremendous hydraulic pressure, and hardened or indurated, by chemical process. First manufactured in this country in 1884, it has been constantly improved on since, and has now reached the acme of perfection.

Indurated Fibreware is made into Tubs, Pails, Milk Pans, Wash Basins, Bread Pans, Butter Bowls, Butter Tubs, Cuspidors, etc. Its peculiar advantages are that it

Will not shrink or swell.
Will not taint milk or any liquid.
Cannot leak, water-soak or rust.
Has no hoops to rust or drop off.
Being seamless, bottom cannot drop out.
Is lighter than a wooden pail.
Imparts no taste or flavor to its contents.
Is proof against kerosene, benzine, vinegar, and ordinary acids.

In addition to its many superior qualities, this ware is forced upon the notice of the public by most persistent and aggressive advertising throughout Canada.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

FALL orders are increasing in volume and the demand for all lines of imported goods is ten per cent. better than two weeks ago. This no doubt is due to very favorable crop prospects and a slackness in the money market. Domestics continue very dull, cottons, woolens, and underwear being very weak. Shaving of prices is quite common, although the bottom of the market is solid.

Collections this week have been important. The amount due was large, but while expected percentages of payment were made, still expectations were for a fair amount of renewals and these expectations were not groundless as events proved. Still no very weak spots have been brought to light.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

A fair enquiry for assortments of seasonable goods has characterized the week in dry goods, and some improvement, though it is very slight, is noted in the volume of orders for goods on fall account. Printed fabrics are in good supply from both England and the United States, and with this competition prices are very moderate as our own mills are meeting it.

Remittances are not as good as they might be, in fact collections are very slow.

Brophy, Cains & Co. have been busy for some time back receiving fall goods. Their range of dress goods is an especially large and varied one with the firm this year.

Priestly's dress fabrics are a standard line, and S. Greenshields, Son & Co report business on them fully up to the average.

Thouret, Fitzgibbon & Co.'s glove department reports that cadet blue, navy, and myrtle, are to be the fashion for the coming season's supplies of fancy glace gloves.

JAPAN RICE SITUATION.

A NEW York firm has received the following resume of the Japan rice situation, compiled from their special dispatches: Recent telegraphic advices from Tokio inform us that the prospects for the new crop for the Southern provinces are unfavorable on account of the continued dry weather, but the account from the Northern counties are quite cheerful. From this it is evident that the Southern rice district, which alone produces the best rice fit for export, has somewhat suffered from the want of rain, the young plant requiring any quantity of water during May, June and July. However, as it is too early in the season to do much damage to the coming crop, we may yet hear that the change of weather has completely restored the young plant to its normal condition. The good feature of the situation is the fact of the favorable account from the North, whose crop supplies most of the domestic demand, and is the greater factor of the two to regulate our rice market. The telegram adds that the market is advancing but steadily, which is in itself evidence that it is not at all alarmed, but is waiting and hoping for a favorable turn. Everything depends upon the meteorological conditions of the next two months. What is wanted is an abundant rainfall for the immediate future, to be followed later by a hot and dry harvest. The present high price is evidently caused by the crop prospects, assisted to a certain extent by the Corean dispute.

APPLE MEN CONFER.

The Apple Buyers' and Exporters' Association held its annual session on Tuesday at the Albion Hotel. The report of the Executive was presented and recommended that assistants for buying and packing be paid by salary, instead of on commission, as has been the practice in the past. A uniform contract between buyers and sellers was adopted. The crop prospects are large and consequently prices will be low.

These officers were elected: President, W. Dixon, Hamilton; vice president, A. E. W. Peterson, Cobourg. Executive Committee—J. M. Shuttleworth, Brantford; J. C. Smith, Burlington; D. Cantelon, Clinton; S. Nesbitt, Brighton; Thomas Seldon, Ingersoll.

Beg to draw the attention of the trade to the following lines of Fancy Ice Cases, Pie and Cake Collars, and Individual Crimped Cases, manufactured by

Mansell, Hunt, Catty & Co. Limited

LONDON, ENGLAND.

We are sole agents in Canada for these goods. Samples and prices on application. These Ice Cases are really handsome and are very suitable for dinner parties and receptions of all kinds. They can be used a number of times by replacing the inside cup. Made in large variety of styles ranging in price from $1.10 to $3.00 per doz.

THE PIE AND CAKE COLLARS as shown in cuts are the latest and most unique table dressing novelties in the market. Assorted colors, plain or striped. No live grocer should be without them. Send for sample gross.

The Collar Expanded

Our latest specialty for the tea trade is a 1-lb. Folding Caddy, on which we have just been granted a patent by the Dominion Government. It is in appearance an exact representation of a regular China tea chest with matting, and as a tea package beats everything on the market for three reasons :

1st. Because it is much cheaper than a hand-made box.

2nd. Because being a knock-down box it takes up little or no room, and

3rd. Because being a machine made box there is no paste or glue to taint the tea, which has been one of the greatest objections to the old style tea caddies.

WARNING TO SUBSCRIBERS.

We understand there is a man in Winnipeg, named Ostrosser, who claims to be our agent. He has already called upon several of our subscribers, and in one or two cases succeeded in obtaining money. Friends, he is an impostor; he is not our agent, never was, and never will be, so please look out for him. Of course, our journals have now such an enviable reputation that people insist upon working for us whether we like it or not. We don't like it. Mr. John Cameron and F. W. Armstrong are our only authorized agents in Manitoba, Northwest Territories and British Columbia. They are well known and thoroughly trustworthy.

THERE are a great many old business men who look with disdain on the business men of to-day who take a week or two's respite from the cares of mercantile life. "We never took holidays, and I don't think the business men of to-day are any healthier than we were," is in effect what we hear the Past say when it sees the Present skipping about summer resorts or lolling about farms or trout streams. But it overlooks the fact that business then and business now is surrounded by vastly different conditions. Then competition was small and of a live and let live character, now it is large and cut-throat in its character; then the merchant had little mental worry, now he has much. In a word, then a week or more's respite from business was perhaps not necessary; now it is absolutely so if premature breaking up is to be avoided.

But even granted that holidays are no more necessary now than a generation ago, that is no reason why the Present should do as the Past did in this respect. The Creator never intended that man's life should be all work and no play, even if He did sentence our first parents to earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. It is only necessary that we should sweat long enough to earn our bread and butter and create a little surplus for rainy days. We are not commanded to work on forever at a treadmill, as some evidently believe. Pleasure is bequeathed to us as well as work, although, and fortunately so, the proportions of the latter exceed the former considerably. If this were not so pleasure would be work and work would be pleasure. Some probably do wish that the latter was the order, but they are lazy people. It is not the slothful merchant or clerk or whatever his avocation may be that needs recreation. He will die of dry rot anyhow, and recreation won't prevent it. It is the live, pushing, energetic man that needs rest and recreation in order that the machinery of mind and muscle may not wear out too soon. But the man who gets away for a spell from the cares and anxieties of business and the sledge-hammer work of every day life, gets something more than rest and improved health. He gets ideas. He rubs shoulders, whether he hies away to the city or the country, with people other than whom he is ordinarily brought into contact with, during the process of which many cobwebs are brushed from him and he gathers new ideas of business, of humanity, of the world; and he comes back to his duties more vigorous in body and in mind, broader in his views and better equipped to fight the battle of life. Old man, young man, take a holiday.

The immigration problem of the United States seems to be solving itself. The masses of Europe have learned that the land of the Stars and Stripes is no longer the land flowing with milk and honey that it was supposed to be. Canadians are flocking back again to the land of their birth, and the outgoing steamers from New York are crowded with emigrants, the number leaving during the month of July being nearly 20,000. This is more by over 8,000 than the immigrants who came in during that month. If in these outgoings are included the elements that are threatening the peace of the Republic, our cousins are indeed to be congratulated. Nature frequently does for us what we cannot do ourselves.

The information that the fish of Norway and Sweden are to be allowed free entry into Cuba, and perhaps Porto Rico, is not pleasant food for reflection for Canada generally and Nova Scotia in particular. In certain lines of fish the Spanish West Indies are our best customers. The fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, for instance, that part of Spain's domains took of Canadian cod fish, including haddock, ling and pollock, dry and salted, 207,080 cwt., valued at $865,552. Our next best customer in this respect was British West Indies, with 178,337 cwt., valued at $767,737. Of pickled herring we sold them 16,355 barrels, valued at $55,178, while of smoked herring they took 147,787 pounds, valued at $3,047. Pickled mackerel they bought to the amount of 318 barrels, valued at $2,545. They also purchased small lots of other kinds of fish, making in all a total value of nearly $2,000,000. But if the country at large is concerned in losing the greater part of this trade, the Province of Nova Scotia has cause to be much more so, for that province is the most interested as a seller. The duty on codfish in Cuba is $1 per quintal and in Porto Rico 50c. per quintal, and it is obvious that Canada, having to pay these duties, cannot compete with Scandinavia, against whose fish there is now no impost, the treaty granting her these privileges having gone into effect the 15th inst.

The Nova Scotia fishermen have not been rolling in clover by any means for some time. A glance at the last report of Marine and Fisheries Department is proof of this. And judging from the tone of the press in that province, it is feared that the present blow at the industry will be more than they will be able to bear. Porto Rico is the only market that Nova Scotia has for its bank, bay and Labrador fish, and with this treaty in force that only market is practically wiped out. This is indeed a serious thing, and the Halifax Board of Trade was well warranted in urging on the Dominion Government the necessity of taking prompt steps to protect the country's trade with the Spanish West Indies. But we are at a loss to know why Canada was not appraised before of the import of the treaty when her interests were so vitally affected. The onus, as far as can be learned, lies with the Imperial authorities. The Dominion Government cannot cause the abrogation of the objectionable treaty. The best it apparently can do is to urge the Imperial Government to secure from Spain for Canada the most favored nation treatment. And that is all the Nova Scotians ask. As soon as the matter is brought before the British Government, it will probably move in the premises ; but with what measure of success is another question. Great Britain herself of course participates in the favored nation clause, but Spain, it seems, is not inclined to recognize the right of Britain's colonies to be accorded the same privileges that she is. Time, however, will tell what British diplomacy can do.

Certain conditions are requisite in order to hold eggs. First among these is good cold storage. Where this does not obtain it is folly to hold them. That everybody does not realize this is evident from the plethora of bad eggs that have been arriving on the Toronto market during the last few weeks, many of which sold as low as 3c. per dozen, while o hers will of necessity be fit for nothing but the dump heap, and that a far-away dump heap. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE APPLE SITUATION.

SUFFICIENTLY near to maturity is now the apple crop for its character to be determined with some degree of certainty.

The promises made in the early spring of a good crop the world over, as then stated in THE GROCER, have been largely fulfilled. In Canada, while anticipations have not been fulfilled to the letter, we are to have a fairly good crop at any rate.

Last spring spraying was more generally and scientifically practiced than ever before. The result of this is that this year's apples are less worm-eaten and are larger and finer in consequence. One thing seems assured, the crop of 1894 will be heavier and better than that of 1893. An average crop in the Province of Ontario is accounted to be 3,000,000 barrels, 10 per cent. of which are summer apples, 30 per cent. fall and 60 per cent. winter.

The United States last year, it will be remembered, had a poor crop, and afforded Canada a ready market at good prices. This year the conditions are the opposite. The crop in New England will be very large, and much the same may be said of that in the States west of the Mississippi. Michigan and Iowa will have a fair crop, while in Ohio, Indiana and New York the yield will be smaller than usual.

Whatever benefit may accrue to the consumer from the Canadian apple crop, the outlook for the exporter is not of the brightest. True there will be more apples of the exportable quality demanded by the English market, while a better system of packing will be inaugurated, but there are factors with a contrary influence which are stronger than they.

The United States will of course this year be a much keener competitor for the English market, where that country was last year Canada's best customer, so that the good crop in the States hits Canada from two directions.

Another factor which does not help the Canadian exporter is the increasing efficiency of the apple-growing countries of Northern Europe to compete with the present caterers for the English trade.

These countries, sticking to old methods, have hitherto been accustomed to ship their apples in hogsheads. Coming in this way their keeping qualities were not to be relied upon, and consequently they possessed not the confidence of the English buyer. Now these exporting countries of Northern Europe are adopting the American barrel, which is more popular than the clumsy hogshead. Even were these countries as far from the British market as Canada and the United States the effect of this adoption of the more modern package would be felt, but as they are so much nearer it will be felt all the more by the exporters on this side of the Atlantic.

But all the changed conditions of an advantageous character are not on the side of Canada's competitors, notwithstanding that they may not override the advantages that have developed with the latter.

Aside from the better quality of the fruit which Canada this year has, the exporters themselves have inaugurated some important reforms in their methods of doing business which cannot but tend to diminish their loss on this side of the Atlantic at any rate, thanks to the inauguration of the Canadian Fruit Buyers' and Exporters' Association, which held its first annual meeting a few days ago.

Probably the most important of these reforms is in regard to the plan of purchasing apples known as "so much and the rise."

Under this method the exporter, when buying apples, would agree to pay the grower, say, $1 per barrel, and a further sum should an advance in the market take place in the meantime, no provision being made for the remuneration of the buyer should a decline instead of a rise develop.

The great evil of this system was that it was made a whip handle whereby the shoulders of the buyer might be belabored, or, rather his pockets rifled ; and in this way : Another buyer comes along after a grower has sold his apples. Learning this, and the price obtained, would often remark in effect, "Oh, I would have given you 25c. more than that." Whether made in seriousness or not, the grower grasps it as an opportunity for going to the exporter who has bought his apples and demanding more money. This "so much and rise plan" the Exporters' Association have decided to discard and a form of contract devised by the association which will prevent the evil in future.

Another reform is in regard to bills of lading. Heretofore exporters have been in the habit of accepting what are termed "shipper's count" or "more or less" bills of lading.

These shelved upon the shipper all responsibility for loss ; and as sometimes as many as ten barrels of apples would be missing when the shipment reached the steamer's side, the loss was often serious.

This form of bill of lading is contrary to the charter under which the railways secured their incorporation, and having learned this the members of the association will hereafter demand the ordinary and legal bill of lading, thus leaving the responsibility for pilfering where it belongs, with the railways.

Not the least of the reforms which the association have decided to inaugurate is one stipulating that the practice of engaging assistants to pack and buy on commission shall obtain no longer. This practice, which has been in vogue a long time, was the cause of much loss and annoyance to exporters on account of the recklessness which often characterized both the buying and the packing. Much of the heavy loss that was incurred on the apples shipped to the English market in 1892 was directly traceable to this cause, as THE GROCER, it will be remembered, pointed out at the time.

Frequently during past winter seasons Canadian apples, via United States port, have often been put to one side and left over for the next steamer in order that the home-grown article might be sent, the American shippers having offered to pay a higher freight in order to get precedence. This meant increased risk of damage to fruit and loss from a falling market. No definite line of action, it is understood, has yet been decided upon to prevent the continuance of this practice, but the matter is under consideration, and it is to be hoped that some remedy will be evolved as a result of the deliberations.

One satisfactory feature of the situation is that the conditions unfavorable to the export apple trade of this country are not of our own creation, but that, on the contrary, our growers and exporters are doing their part better than ever before. The Canadian Fruit Buyers' and Exporters' Association is particularly to be congratulated upon the work which it has accomplished during the few months it has been in existence, the tendency of which will be to increase Canada's qualification as a caterer to the British apple market.

TEA AND THE EASTERN TROUBLE.

THE GROCER'S Montreal correspondent had an interesting talk with a well known tea broker in that city, on Saturday, as to whether the war now in its inception between China and Japan would have any material influence on the Canadian tea market.

"It is quite natural," he said, "to expect that the trouble will have some influence on the tea situation, but whether they will be as radical as some of the more speculative members of the trade anticipate it is difficult to say. I may say, however, that I am not quite so sanguine in this connection as some of my brother members in the trade. No one can say, with the information at our disposal, which is at the very best most conflicting, whether the war is going to amount to anything or not. Of course it is well for a trader to be prepared, but I don't think that it means he should rush in and get excited. In the meantime I am compelled to admit that the possibility of future developments has already had an effect upon the cheese market of late. The tone is very firm, and higher prices are being obtained on all lines but especially on Japans.

"The fear of possibilities in regard to the Eastern troubles is no doubt having its effect on buyers who are taking larger lines to provide for contingencies in the event of their being of lengthy duration. Importers who have goods to come forward are also rushing them along as much as they can, some of them, even going so far as to say — an opinion I don't altogether coincide, in—that if the war continues the supply of tea will run short by the end of the season, and that there will be no crop next year. Of course, the business of tea culture will be to a certain extent interfered with, but my opinion is that it will not be absolutely interrupted.

"It is wonderful how, when anything is really wanted, under what difficulties it can be produced. Take the Southern States during the American civil war as an instance. Though they were being invaded, while practically all their able-bodied men were fighting at the front, and the negroes were under lax control, they yet had cargoes of cotton to run the blockade. I think we will find that it will be the same in the East when it is found that tea is wanted. The fact of possible difficulty, though, will, of course, enhance its cost, and it is no doubt upon this fact that the speculators in Chicago and New York are already banking upon. The tea market at both those centres has been active and higher for over ten days back.

"One thing also has to be considered in relation to the Canadian position, and that is that the stock carried over this season is generally admitted to be lighter on all grades, both in wholesale and retail hands, than usual. Take, for instance, the case of Gunpowders. There is practically none here now, a very unusual thing, what there is being all in the hands of one firm.

"Another thing also that is bothering the trade is the difficulty of communicating with primary centres. Cables which formerly brought an answer in three days now take ten for a reply, and all the time the Exchange market is advancing, having risen from 2s. 0½d. at the beginning of the season to 2s. 2½d., the rate on the last shipments.

"I may conclude by saying that taken altogether the tea market is a decidedly interesting one at present."

THE U.S. TARIFF PASSED.

THE United States House of Representatives showed its good sense in adopting the tariff bill as it came from the Senate when it became evident that it was that bill or nothing.

This branch of Congress stood to its guns as long as it was necessary in order to demonstrate its principles, but when this was served and there was not the remotest chance of the Senate surrounding it, it would have been foolishness to have continued the warfare, particularly when by so doing the agony of the country would have been continued. Congress had been dealing with the bill for about a year, and that was long enough to have tried the patience of any people.

The people of this country would not have stood the dilly-dallying so long, that is sure.

All that is now necessary in order to make the bill law is the signature of the President, or it will become so by the lapse of time if the President fails to do so within ten days.

The tariff does not bear much resemblance to the Wilson bill, but from either the tariff reformers' point of view or from a Canadian point of view it is an improvement on the McKinley bill.

The clause in the bill around which was waged the warmest warfare was the sugar clause. The Wilson bill proposed to abolish ½c. per lb. on sugar above 16 Dutch standard and the bounty of 1¼ to 2c. per lb. on sugar produced from beets and cane grown in the United States. The Senate on the other hand fixed the duty on sugar above 16 Dutch standard at 1 4-10c. per pound, and all not up to this standard at an average rate of 1 1-10c. per lb. The all-powerful hand of the Sugar Trust was visible in this handiwork. In anticipation of the sugar clause passing as, it is generally conceded, it willed, the Trust bought sugar in foreign markets to the value of $112,000,000, while its aggregate profit as a result of the Senate bill prevailing is estimated to be $40,000,000.

An advancing market in sugars is what will now obtain.

The duty on iron ore and bituminous coal is 40c. per ton. The Wilson bill purposed making both free, but the tariff as it passes is more favorable to Canada than the McKinley tariff, under which the tariff was 75c. per ton. Lumber is free, even including the finished article. Barley duty is 30 per cent. instead of 30c. per bushel as under the McKinley bill. This is 5 per cent. above the Wilson bill. The duty on horses is 20 per cent., which is lower than under the McKinley tariff.

Other items under the new tariff, of interest to Canadians, together with a comparison of the duty under the old tariff, are :

	New Tariff.	McKinley Tariff.
Poultry	20 p.c.	5c. lb.
Beef	25 p.c.	2c. lb.
Mutton	25 p.c.	2c. lb.
Pork	25 p.c.	2c. lb.
Butter	20 p.c.	6c. lb.
Preserved milk	5c. lb.	3c. lb.
Honey	20 p.c.	20c. gal.
Smoked fish	15 p.c.	¾c. lb.
Hay	20 p.c.	$4 ton
Hops	20 p.c.	15c. lb.
Onions	20 p.c.	40c. bush.
Potatoes	30 p.c.	25c. bush.
Apples	20 p.c.	25c. bush.
Dried apples	20 p.c.	2c. lb.
Cattle	20 p.c.	$10
Peas	20 p.c.	40c. bush.

After adopting the tariff the House passed a bill placing sugar, iron ore, coal and barbed wire on the free list. This, while practically nothing more at the moment than an expression of opinion, means that the tariff reformers are still in the field.

THOSE POOR SUGARS.

DEAR GROCER,—Under the above heading, in yours of August 10th, you refer to some communications of the 27th July re quality of Canadian sugars. It is all very well for the refinery representatives to characterize the accusations as exaggerations. I cannot blame them, as it is their bread and butter, and are the only answers the buyer has ever received when making complaints, either direct to the refiners or their agents.

I beg to repeat again that for some months past it has been almost impossible to get good coffee sugars, while some of the yellows that have been furnished to the trade have been of a disgraceful quality. If you or your friends doubt my assertions, I can take out of our stock something that will convince you of what I claim, or I can get my complaint backed up by hundreds of prominent retail grocers.

The question of a dollar buying more than double the sugar now than it did eight to ten years ago has no bearing. Raw is not one half the price it was at that time.

Would your refinery brokers tell us why it is an impossibility to-day to get any syrups? To get any quantity of same we would be obliged to go to the United States for them, paying the additional duty which the Government levied in the interests of the refiners—a most uncalled for concession.

I think the trade have by this time become pretty well convinced that their complaints are of little avail and the only thing to do is to grin and bear it.

Yours truly,

KICKER.

P. S.—The sugar referred to as bad smelling stuff was both from Montreal and Halifax, the result I think of using beet root raw. Will our Montreal friends deny using beet?

LOBSTERS FOR FRANCE.

Messrs. Von Huffel and Guinneau of Paris, France, were at Cape Tormentine this year canning lobsters for direct shipment to France. The lobsters are first boiled in a liquid, whose composition is kept secret, then packed whole in casks, each cask holding from forty to fifty lobsters. Then the liquid in which the lobsters were boiled is poured in and the cask when sealed up is ready for shipment. The lobsters keep remarkably well. They have been taken from this pickle, left exposed in the sun for a week, and then the meat has been found as sweet and pleasant to taste as in a new boiled lobster. Neither will the flies go near lobsters taken from the pickle. Messrs. Von Huffel and Guinneau were in St. John the last of June and while there were told that the lobster fishing season closed July 1st. Accordingly they purchased their tickets for France and were much disappointed on returning to Port Elgin to learn that the season does not close till the fifteenth. They will return next spring with better equipments and expect to ship a great quantity.—Chignecto Post.

TWENTY-SIX YEARS A TRAVELER.

A quarter of a century is a long time to carry the "grip," yet that is what A. Hill, one of Sloan & Crowther's travelers has been doing. And more too, for in June last he completed his twenty-sixth year on the road, and can lay claim to the honor of being one of the oldest travelers in Northwestern Ontario. Mr. Hill does not appear to be going down the "hill" yet, being still as lively as a cricket and as energetic as a junior, and looks as if he is good for another quarter of a century on the road. He has just been fortifying himself for another year's work by taking a ten days' holiday at Southampton, where fishing was good and fun abundant.

THE LOWERING OF WAGES.

THE tendency of wages, says the Iron Age, in sympathy with the tendency of prices for the past three years, is downward. The movement is resisted by all the means available to those who are obliged to work for others, but its force is irresistible. The most formidable strikes known in our industrial history have been undertaken in the hope of restoring past schedules, but they have either been successful in only a slight degree or they have proved inglorious failures. The trend of all values being downward, the price of labor goes down also. The recent coal and railroad strikes were crucial tests, and now that they have been met and passed the question seems to have been settled. Until the general condition of business improves there can be no restoration of wages to former standards, and there is no guarantee that further reductions will not have to be endured by those who are now working for much less than they consider their services worth. Railroad revenues are still shrinking, manufacturers' incomes are still diminishing, merchants' sales are still falling off, and it is only reasonable to suppose that employees will have to bear a greater part of the burden of hard times than has yet been imposed upon or assumed by them.

In certain occupations, which are hedged about by agreements with a time limit, no change in rates can be made. The workmen in such trades, however, are likely to be losers in the amount of their yearly income from the irregularity of employment. Numberless other occupations exist, however, in which time agreements are not made and wages can be changed by mutual consent whenever conditions may seem to require a rearrangement. In such lines the lowering tendency is now proceeding. It is not forced specially by employers, but is assisted by employees themselves. For instance, workmen whose usual wages are 35 cents per hour in good times are offering to work for 20 cents in order to get employment. This is being done in a Western city in which labor is supposed to be as strongly organized as in any other place in the country. Lack of regular employment is, of course, the cause. After a man has averaged less than half time for a year he concludes that more steady work must be had if possible. Having only his labor for sale he proceeds to offer it at a bargain, in the hope that he may find an appreciative buyer. Probably the expectant employer has helped the downward plunge in wages by making a low bid for the workman's services, but he too is seeking work and is struggling to secure contracts on which he must reduce his costs. This acceptance of hard times conditions is believed to be widespread, and will shortly affect the great mass of wage workers unless there is a radical change in general business, which is unfortunately not to be expected in the near future. Those who maliciously assert that employers are taking advantage of the times to reduce wages, falsify the circumstances. An occasional instance may be found in which a man will wantonly grind the faces of those dependent upon him, but it is the exception and not the rule. Reductions in wages are almost invariably the last resort to reduce costs. We have sufficient faith in human nature to believe that employers generally are more pleased when they are able to increase the compensation of their employees than when they find themselves obliged to make a reduction.

INCREASING IN POPULARITY.

"Time tries all things" says the proverb, and the Toronto Industrial Exhibition is one of the institutions that stands the test triumphantly. Year after year it increases in popularity and adds to the record of its unbroken list of successes. The Fair which opens on the 3rd of September, will surpass any hitherto held in the number and variety of its exhibits, and the brilliancy and interest of its special attractions. There is an unusually large number of entries in manufactures, machinery, live stock, agricultural and dairy products, in fact, in all the staple departments. Those desirous of familiarizing themselves with the progress of the world in mechanical inventions and improved processes of industry can learn more by a day's visit to the Industrial Exhibition than in a year spent at home. Entertainments and specialty performances of every description fascinate and enthral the large class who seek for legitimate recreation. The attendance this year will be larger than ever, as in addition to the greatly reduced rates granted by the railways and steamboats, special excursions will be run from many distant points embracing the intermediate localities. The Fair continues from the 3rd to the 15th of September. [adv.]

DELIVER ON COLLECTION.

EVERY glossary of commercial terms contains an explanation of the well-known letters C.O.D., remarks an exchange. There is also an explanation of this legend in every list of abbreviations. While some of the young people of the day give it a familiar interpretation, to the effect "Call on Dad," it is ordinarily used in the sense of "Collect on Delivery."

A good story is told of an Irishman who ordered a quantity of haddock fish, to be delivered by carrier. He was somewhat indignant upon the delivery of the fish to find on the outside of the package the letters "C.O.D." "An' sure," says Pat, "I didn't order codfish." The carrier examined the fish, and pronounced them haddock. "Well,' says Pat, "C.O.D. don't spell haddock." "Oh, no," the carrier replied, "C.O.D. spells cod." "Then," says Pat, triumphantly, pointing to the fish, "then's fish." "Yes, you're right there." "Well, that makes codfish, don't it?" "But where do you get the cod f om?" returned the carrier. "Look here," says Pat, pointing at the pretentious C.O.D., "that's cod to be sure." "Oh, no, that's C.O.D., which means 'collect on delivery.'" "Ah, bedad, I didn't think of that," cried Pat, scratching his head with one hand and feeling for his purse with the other. "But, young man, let me give you a bit of advice, when yez bring any more bundles for me, don t put on anything so mysterious again, but just reverse the big letters, making it D.O.C., and then ye can 'deliver on collection,' which any fool can understand."

We doubt very much if there is to be found any better play upon commercial terms than this reversal of the well-known letters, C.O.D.

HOW WORKERS LIVE.

AN English health journal expresses great surprise at the quantity of food eaten by American as against English laborers. It is very curious to see how different foods preponderate in the different industries. The textile worker in Europe will have 95 pounds of meat per annum for every 100 units of consumption, or say a quarter of a pound of meat a dav, while steel workers indulge in 114 pounds for every 100 units. On the other hand, the weaver consumes more flour than the steel worker—275 pounds per 100 units ins'ead of 208 pounds. He also takes about 71 pounds of sugar more per 100 units and a dozen more eggs; of butter, lard and tea both take about the same, though both in tea and coffee the weaver a little exceeds the other. That is, in the calling which demands the greater muscular exertion, a greater amount of nitrogenous food is required. On the European continent the consumption of meat by workers is much less than in Great Britain. Even in the iron industry the German, with 16½ pounds per 100 units, is little more extravagant than the English weaver; while the Frenchman consumes only 57¾ pounds and the Belgian 55½ pounds. On the other hand, the latter consumes more flour and eggs, more than twice as much of each. Their consumption of coffee, too, is large—14 pounds and 19 pounds respectively to the Englishman's 3½ pounds; but it must also be taken in the reckoning that tea does not appear in their accounts. But all these figures pale before the statistics of food consumption in America. The Illinois iron worker manages to consume 393 pounds of meat per 100 units, and though this is excessive, 206½ pounds are put down as the average of Pennsylvania, 197¾ pounds for Ohio, 187¼ pounds for West Virginia, and 155 pounds for Tennessee. The average consumption of flour for the States is about 250 pounds, but voracious Illinois again comes to the fore with 366 pounds; and sugar, butter and eggs are everywhere more lavishly used than in Europe. Here, as in Europe, iron and steel industries are found to be more self-indulgent than other trades, but the expenditure here is far above that of even the most extravagant worker in Europe. Much of the food accounted for in these figures is actually consumed, but a large margin must be allowed for what is wantonly destroyed, and when the history of the waste of food products in the United States comes to be written, it will contain some startling and not altogether pleasant reading.

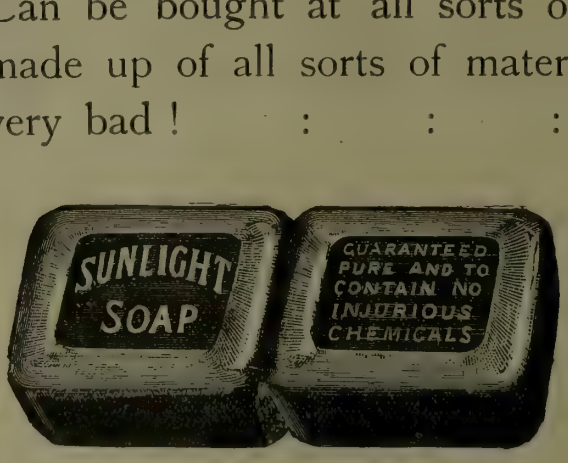
WHAT ABOUT THIS SOAP?



EVERY BAR IS WARRANTED!

The wrapper around every bar contains a $5,000 guarantee that the soap is PURE. Think what this means! While it puts a tremendous responsibility upon the makers, yet it means satisfaction and absolute safety to the consumers, and this is one reason why SUNLIGHT SOAP has a sale more than double that of any other soap in the world.

BRAZIL COFFEE CROP.

W. H. Crossman & Co., of New York, have issued a lengthy circular on the situation of coffee, from which we extract the following :

"As regards the present Brazil crop we put our estimate at 7,500,000 bags, based on our January figures of 3,500,000 for Rio, and 4,000,000 for Santos, but, while we prefer to adhere to these estimates, we are willing to admit that by reason of certain unforeseen circumstances, such as a lack of labor and so forth, the yield may fall to 7,000,000 bags for Rio and Santos together. In addition to this, however, the Victoria, Bahia and Ceara crops are quite likely to contribute 1,000,000 bags. We also leave unchanged our estimate of an aggregate production of 13,500,000 bags for the entire crops in the 1894-95 season, and this we do on the ground of the extreme probability that if one section may give a little less, other sources will give more. In the crop season of 1891-92, Rio and Santos yielded 7,300,000 bags, and the total mild crops yielded say 4,300,000 bags. During the same season the total arrivals in Europe and United States were only 11,332,954 bags. Allowing that the stocks remaining in Brazil then were equal to the home consumption and exports to other countries, of which no record is kept, we think that the total world's production in that crop year did not exceed 11,750,000 bags, and we therefore feel satisfied, that since increased production is to be looked for from countries other than Brazil, the total yield of the present season can easily overreach the above figures by 1,500,000 bags or more.

"But aside from the well known fact of a larger production, we have a far different condition of affairs to reckon with now than then. It must be frankly acknowledged on all sides that the general condition of financial and commercial affairs throughout the world is not such as will take and distribute the largest crop of coffee on record at these values so easily as was the case three years ago ; nor is there any other sound point from which believers in coffee can derive any assurance of advance from present prices, or that same can be maintained. The visible supply for the world on July 1, 1894, was 2,146,000 bags, as compared with July 1, 1891, 1,909,000 bags. If the latter was found sufficient for all purposes and to sustain the subsequent heavy decline, why should not the same experience occur with the present large and increasing visible supply? In fact, we have reached the end of the period of short supplies, and have entered upon an era of steadily increasing abundance of coffee, which, according to the natural influence of supply and demand means a gradual, but certain reduction of prices."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Major Sloan, of Sloan & Crowther, is holidaying at the Preston springs.

Alexander Taylor, Dromore, was in Toronto this week. He is bound for the east.

Charles Boomer, of Warren Bros. & Boomer, left last week on a brief visit to Great Britain.

T. Harold Mason, of P. L. Mason & Co., who has been holidaying on the Atlantic Coast near Old Orchard, is again back to business.

W. Bremner, Perkins, Ince & Co.'s representative in the West, was in Toronto Saturday. He reported unusually large sales of new season's Japan tea.

Fred. J. Dixon, of Davidson & Hay's sample room, has returned from a holiday trip to Manitoulin Island, sunburned and primed with fish stories.

Arthur P. Tippet, of Montreal, THE GROCER is glad to hear, has sufficiently recovered from the severe sprain to his knee to be able to attend business again.

J. B. Gowanlock, with Perkins, Ince & Co., while at Lefroy, Lake Simcoe, the other day, found time to drop his "grip," pick up a fishing rod and haul in numerous herring, which were plentiful in that neighborhood just then.

J. J. Clark, Wiarton, is taking a couple of weeks' vacation, visiting Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal. He says Wiarton continues to thrive, and they hope ere long to make it a popular summer resort. As it is, the hotels are always filled. They have a population of 2,500. The chief industry is in saw mills, of which there are five. There is sufficient lumber to keep them running for perhaps another twenty years. They have also an extensive furniture factory.

Charles Parson, one of Sloan & Crowther's city travelers, has returned from his holidays. He spent them at the Canadian Chautauqua, Niagara-on-the-Lake. James Owen, another of the same firm's city travelers, has now dropped his "grip" for the fishing pole and pleasure.

R. W. Gowanlock, with Perkins, Ince & Co., took a party of about one hundred, comprising his customers and friends, to Honey Harbor a few days ago. Of course they had a sweet time, what with the character of the locality and the entertainment provided by Mine Host Gowanlock.

Albert Irving, of Sloan & Crowther's sample room, has returned to business from a two week's vacation. The two weeks he was away were fraught with much sadness. First he lost his only child, a seven months' old boy, and then he was confined to his bed himself for a week.

E. D. Holliday, of Port Perry, who purchased the Dawson stock at Raglan, was in Toronto, Saturday, and says he is doing very well in his new place. The prospects are good as farmers have excellent pea and fall wheat and oat crops, and fair barley, but poor buckwheat. They have also done well in cheese and cattle.

C. R. Cooper, of the Toronto Salt Works, paid a business visit to the Windsor Salt Works, at Windsor, for which he is the Toronto agent. He was much pleased with his inspection of the works which he accounts the finest in America. The present capacity of 600 barrels daily is being increased to 1,000 barrels daily.

THE CURRANT CROP.

G. Marcopoli & Fils, Patras, Greece, write R. S. McIndoe, under date July 26, 1894, as follows regarding the new currant crop: "The prospects for a smaller crop are still further increased day by day. Hot, dry winds continue to damage the fruit, which, where not entirely destroyed, will at least lose a great deal in both color and substance. This applies almost entirely to the vineyards on high ground, those in the plains having evaded those evils owing to irrigation. The present crop estimate is 130,000 tons, not more, and no doubt this figure will be still further decreased. Messenia (Calamata) is said to be from one-half to even one-third of what it was last year, and Pergos from two-thirds to three-fourths. With regard to quality of the different provinces it is said that Gulf will be up to the average, high ground Vostizza and Patras poor, but low ground very fine. Pergos will be nothing extra, but Prifilia, (Filiatra, etc.) excellent. From Calamata and Campos we have confusing reports and cannot vouchsafe any information. Our own opinion is that really good fruit will have abnormally high value. Prices apparently have a tendency towards opening on a basis of 9s. 3d. to 9s. 6d. f. o. b. cases for good average Provincials. This however is but a mere supposition, and in fact anything we may write at present, may, owing to the great possibility of the state of things being changed from day to day, be subject to alteration."

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, August 16, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THE feature of trade during the week has been the advance in sugar, prices having gone up a full ¼c. The market is still strong and tending upward. The advance is of course in sympathy with the New York market. The demand has responded a little to the appreciation in prices, but it is not active. A good many of the travelers are taking their holidays, and business generally is quiet. The tea market both at home and abroad is gradually becoming more interesting, and mail advices announce further advances in price in England. Syrups are showing increased firmness, and the refiners are getting fractionally higher prices. The movement in canned vegetables and fruit is gradually falling off, but prices remain steady and unchanged.

CANNED GOODS.

Canned corn is being gradually less enquired after, and canned vegetables and fruits generally are dull. Prices are unchanged at 85 to 90c. for tomatoes, 90 to 95c. for corn, and 82½c. up for peas; peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.65 to $2.80, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40. There is a good demand for salmon at $1.30 to $1.40 for first class and $1.10 to $1.20 for second class. Lobster continues in moderate demand. We quote: Flats, $2.40 to $2.50; new flats, ½'s, $1.35; talls, $1.80 to $2.25. Potted meats are in active demand. Mackerel is in good demand, supply of which does not appear to be any too large. There is a good demand for canned meats in 1's, 2's and 14's; also for sardines.

Regarding the salmon pack, the British Columbia Journal of 7th inst. says: "The run has been miserable up to the end of last week, when there was a sudden improvement, and prospects are now brighter. The anxiety of canners to get fish is attested by the fact that last week several raised their price to fishermen from 8 to 15c., and in some cases as high as 20c. a fish was offered. The pack of five canneries on the Fraser up to last Friday night was 7,400 cases, averaging a little less than 1,500 cases each. As an indication of the improvement, a cannery of the average size wired their agents Monday morning that they had 7,000 fish on the dock from Sunday night's fishing and would pack fully 1,000 cases for the day. The general opinion here is that the pack will be short. The season has now advanced too far to enable the canners to put up the expected pack, even should the fish continue to run well. The close season on the Fraser begins on the 25th inst., and the fish will have to come in very fast in order to allow the canners to make a fair pack. Some of the canners have withdrawn their packs from the market and expect better prices. It is stated that there is as yet no appreciable change in the English market. In the North, fishing has been exceptionally good on the Naas river and Rivers Inlet, but on the Skeena it has been only moderate. Two well-known canners on the Skeena are reported to have packed 4,800 cases up to July 24, the date of last advices."

On the same subject the New Westminster correspondent of the Vancouver News-Advertiser says: "The Western Fisheries Co. and Boutillier & Co., yesterday despatched a carload of fresh sockeye to New York. Canners and fish merchants are now quite pleased with the run of fish. As many as 1,200 were delivered yesterday morning from three boats, and the average over the river would be about 200 fish per boat. The canneries are therefore now in full blast. While the fish were scarce the canners gave as high as 25 cents for them, but they have now decided to allow only 8 cents each while the run lasts."

COFFEES.

No change to report, there is still being a demand for the better grades at unchanged prices. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20 to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

Java rice is higher in primary markets, a cable order at former prices having been refused, an advance of 1s. 6d. being asked. There is no change on the local market. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

An increased demand is reported for pickling spices at unchanged prices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12 to 14c.; pure white 20 to 28c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 28c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

Prices have been advanced ¼c., and the tendency of the market is still upward. The idea for granulated is $4 40 to $4 60; yellows are held from 3⅜c. up, and raws at 3¼c. The advance has stimulated the demand somewhat, but there is still room for improvement in this respect.

SYRUPS.

The market is a little stiffer and sales are being effected at ⅛c. advance. Taking into consideration the time of year there are still a good many syrups moving. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Dull and uninteresting. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEA.

There are still a good many Japan teas moving at from 17 to 25c. In the order of attention new season's Congous come next at from 18 to 40c. Some good values in last season's Japan teas are being shown at 12½ to 15c. There is a steady movement in Indian and Ceylon teas at 17 to 35c. Low grade Indian teas are scarce. In Young Hysons business is quiet.

Mail advices from London under date of Aug. 2 state that the quality of offerings of Indian teas during the previous fortnight had shown considerable improvement, but that after making allowances for this a general advance must be quoted, especially for Pekoes and Pekoe Souchongs, which closed ½ to 1d. dearer. Broken Pekoes were not so keenly competed for as the leaf tea, but common Pekoe Souchong and Pekoes show a slight recovery on the previous low quotations. The Ceylon teas, finest broken Pekoes, showed 1 to 2d. advance, and medium kinds 1d. The demand for medium and fine Pekoes has been strong, those goods marking fully 1d. per lb. advance. Common grades are ¼d. to ½d. per lb. up for the fortnight. In China teas the demand for Keemun kinds continued strong, and these grades were readily saleable at fully previous rates. In consequence of the advance in Indian and Ceylon descriptions, the attention of the trade has been taken to the same grades of China tea, and a moderate business has resulted in both old and new season's teas. The latest China telegrams with export figures are dated August 1st, and showed the total shipments from all ports amounted to 22,800,000 lbs, against 31,000,000 lbs. at the same time last year, and 33,000,000 lbs. in 1892.

DRIED FRUITS.

Nothing materially new has developed during the week. Valencia raisins are still in fair demand, with stocks light and prices firm. We quote off-stalk at 5½ to 6½c.; fine off-stalk at 6½ to 7½c.; and layers at 8¼ to 8½c. A moderately good business is reported in currants at unchanged figures, as follows: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4½c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¾c. in brls., and 4½ to 5c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases; Panariti, 8½ to 9c. Prunes are quiet and steady. We quote: U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's, 7½c.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The butter market continues much as before. There is a good demand for choice butter, but taken on the whole the market is heavy and prices if anything are a little lower. Country lots are still held at about 15 to 16c. f.o.b., which are still too high for buyers' views. There are still a good many pound rolls coming in that have been made up from tub butter, and the market seems to be getting over-supplied therewith. We hear of a sale of 100 tubs of low grade butter at 13 to 13½c. for shipment to the Old Country. An increasing demand is reported for creamery pound prints while creamery tubs are still quiet. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17c.; straight store, 15 to 16c.; crocks, 18c.; bakers' butter, 13 to 14c.; pound rolls, 19c. Creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; pound prints, 22c.

Cheese continues slow at 9¾ to 10c. on local account.

PROVISIONS.

Trade continues good with stocks low, and the market generally in a healthy condition. Sweet pickled meats are practically scarce. Further slight advances in prices are announced. Offerings of dressed hogs have been liberal for the season and prices are easy at $7.

BACON—Long clear, 8c.; smoked backs, 11½ to 12c.; breakfast bacon, 12 to 12½c.; rolls, 9½c.

HAMS—Small and medium, 12½c.; large, 11c.; pickled, 11c.

LARD—Pure Canadian 8¾c. in tubs, 9 to 9¼c. in pails and 8¼ to 8½c. in tierces. Compound, 7½ to 7¾c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $17.50 to $18; Canadian short-cut, $18.50 to $19; shoulder mess, $14.50 to $15; clear mess, $15 to $15.50.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The market for live stock was a little better Tuesday than on Friday, and receipts amounted to 70 carloads. These included 1,000 head of sheep and lambs, 150 hogs and 50 calves. There was a fair demand for export cattle, with sales of choice at 4c. per lb. and ordinary to good stock at 3½ to 3¾c. per lb. Freights from Montreal are a little lower at 35c. The best butchers' cattle sold at $3.60 per hundred; it was for 10 choice animals, averaging 1,072 lbs. There were sales of choice loads at 3½c., while ordinary to good stock brought 3 to 3¼c., and inferior 2½ to 2¾c. Milch cows sold at $28 to $45 each; choice veals at $5 to $7, and bobs at $1 to $2. The demand for export sheep is good and prices firm. Sales of choice were made at 3¾c. per lb., and we believe that contracts have been made at 4c. Butchers' sheep sold at 3¼c. per lb. and lambs at $2.25 to $3 each. There was a light run of hogs, and with the exception of best qualities prices are unchanged. Choice long and lean hogs brought $5.35 to $5.40 per 100; thick fats, $4.90 to $5; stores, $4.75, and sows, $4.25 to $4.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

Oranges are practically cleaned out of the market at the moment. Lemons are moving well. Old stock is about cleaned out, and the new is arriving more freely. As far as quality is concerned, the preference is still given to last season's fruit. There is a plentiful supply of apples, but demand is poor and prices are without much basis. Bananas are in good demand, but prices are easier on account of free supplies. Much the same applies to watermelons. Supply of peaches is large, but demand is poor and prices easy. Pears are in good demand. Tomatoes are in good supply, but all coming in are taken care of. A good many plums are offering. We quote: Oranges, Messinas, half-boxes, $2.50; boxes, $5 to $5.25. Lemons, $4 to $5. Bananas, $1 to $1.50 per bunch. Watermelons, $12 to $25 per 100. Huckleberries, 80c. to $1 per basket. Lawton berries, 6 to 8½c. Cucumbers, 25c. per basket. Tomatoes, 50 to 70c. per basket. Peaches, 35 to 60c. per basket. Pears, 30 to 50c. for common; 40 to 60c. for good. Plums, 70c. to $1 per basket. Apples, $1.25 to $1.50 per brl., and 15 to 40c. per basket. California green fruit—Peaches, $1.25 to $1.50 per case; plums, $1.75 to $2 per case; pears, $1.75 to $2 per box.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Quiet and featureless at $1.25 to $1.30.

DRIED APPLES—There have been sales during the week at 6¾c.

POTATOES—Market weak and demand light, while there are a good many coming in. The supply of the United States article is dropping off. American potatoes are quoted at $1.75 per brl. and Canadian at $1.50 per brl.

EGGS—Market is still weak on account of the poor quality of the eggs arriving. Good stock is worth 9 to 10c. and held stock 6 to 7c.

ONIONS—Jobbers are quoting 1¾ to 2c. per lb. for choice yellow Danvers and Silver Skins.

SWEET POTATOES—Are quiet at $4 per brl.

FISH.

White fish and trout are arriving more freely and prices are easier in consequence. A few ciscoes are on the market this week. We quote: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c.; Lake Erie herring, $1.75 to $2 per 100; blueback herring, 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 5 to 6c. per lb.; salmon trout, 6½ to 7c.; white fish, 6½ to 7c.; pike, 5c. lb.; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb; steak cod, 5 to 6c.; large halibut, 10c.; ciscoes, $1.25.

SALT.

Trade is fair. Prices are unchanged except in brls. We quote as follows: Dairy, $1.50, special grade; brls., 90 to 95c.; coarse sacks, 68c.; fine sacks, 70c. American rock, $10 per ton.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW

HIDES—Good buff hides are scarce, and locally are ¼c. higher. Demand is good.

SKINS—There are a few coming forward and all are being taken at 55c. for lamb skins and 30c. for pelts.

WOOL—More wool is said to be on the Toronto and Hamilton markets than ever before. There is not much doing in consequence. We quote: Ordinary combing, 17c.; fine clothing and down, 18 to 19c.; rejections, 12 to 13c.; and unwashed, 10 to 11c.

TALLOW—Demand keeps moderate for small lots. Dealers are paying 4¾ to 5½c. and selling at 5¼ to 5½c.

PETROLEUM

Trade is fair and prices unchanged, although it is anticipated they will soon be higher. Car lots are beginning to move quite freely. We quote, in 5 to 10 brl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 15½ to 16c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 18 to 19c.; photogene, 20c.

J. Y. Cairns, Varna: J. Whiddon, Bayfield; T. W. Scott, Blyth. Large sales are reported in every one of these places.

Vance & Co. have to hand a consignment of choice bananas.

Dawson & Co. are in receipt of five cars of bananas this week.

As a result of the increase in the discount on starch, retailers are taking a good many 50 box lots.

Clemes Bros. received nearly a thousand baskets of Canadian peaches Tuesday, but they were all disposed of before sunset.

We notice D. R. Duncan, of Owen Sound, has taken the agency for Salada Ceylon tea, as the handsome sign on his window shows.

Eby, Blain & Co. report large sales of some especially fine Darjeeling teas, and are experiencing some difficulty in matching their teas to fill orders.

D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co. report that their stocks of meats are getting so low that they will be compelled to begin winter packing operations earlier than usual.

Smith & Keighley have a cable announcing that their first shipment of new crop Valencia raisins will leave there this week. It will reach Toronto in about three or four weeks.

D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co., pork packers, etc., report a large increase in their letter orders. The firm is making a specialty of this branch of their business just now.

James Turner & Co. have just received a large consignment of Sphinx "U" prunes which they are offering, they report, at low figures. They have also a well assorted stock of currants and Valencia raisins.

A. G. Gibson & Co. are receiving regular shipments of new lemons which are sound and cheaper than old stock. They are also dealing largely in bananas and domestic fruits.

Eby, Blain & Co. have received in stock this week direct shipments of new season's Ceylon teas in chests and half-chests. They show excellent value, being good clean leaf, syrupy and bright in liquors, in low, medium and higher grades.

A novelty is being put on the market by Jas. A. Skinner & Co. called "The Stone Beer Mug." It is intended for keeping on ice in order to serve customers with ice-cold lager. This is a new article on the Canadian market, and dealers will find it a fast seller among hotels and restaurants.

Foam Yeast Co., 79 Esplanade east, report business very brisk. "Although the company has been established only a short time," said a member of the firm, "still Foam Yeast is now known all over the Dominion and is becoming very popular. It is a new discovery and is put up in very attractive small packages which are enclosed in larger hinged tin boxes, thus preserving all its strength. We are now receiving enquiries every day from all parts of the Dominion. Sample packages will be mailed free to any part of the Dominion on receipt of a card."

The following retail grocers are noticed to be advertising Salada tea in their different local papers: F. A. Gonne, Chatham; Chas. A. Wennino, Sarnia; Merriman Bros., St. Catharines; J. L. Cruickshank, St. Catharines; Murphy & Scott, Port Dalhousie; W. R. White, Aylmer; W. B. Hogarth, Windsor; J. H. Price, St. Thomas; John Rogers, Petrolea; John Butler, Woodstock; Arch. Campbell, Lindsay; A'ex. Elliott, Peterboro'.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, August 16, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THE actual jobbing movement at the moment is not of large volume, but this is nothing extraordinary during August, when the holiday season is at its height. The strictly wholesale situation, however, has assumed quite an interesting aspect on several of the leading staples. In the first place the excitement in sugar across the line, which culminated in an advance in New York on Thursday, was followed the same day by a rise in Montreal, the refiners deciding late on Thursday afternoon of last week to put up the price of granulated a ¼c. per lb. and lowest yellows 3-16c. The rise, however, has not had any effect on the movement as yet, but with the tone firm it probably will have later on. In tea also wholesalers have shown more interest regarding supplies, and the fact has led to more activity. The question of fall supplies of Mediterranean dried fruit has commenced to attract attention, and the offers so far received from the leading shippers in Denia are considered pretty high. In canned goods there is not much to report, and the same may be said with regard to other lines.

SUGAR.

Since our last report this market has furnished the most interesting phase of the week in groceries. On Thursday of last week advices to refiners here cited considerable excitement in New York, and an advance of ⅛c. per lb. on all refined sugar due to the fact that all raw sugars had been withdrawn from the market there. The receipt of this news caused some little excitement along St. Sacrament street, and materialized about 5 o'clock Thursday in the local refiners deciding upon an advance of ¼c. per lb. on granulated and 3-16c. on lowest yellows. Since the rise the tone has been firm, but the fact has not induced any change in the demand of a material kind as yet, though it ought to have that effect if the firmness is retained, which it is likely to be. We now quote granulated, 4⅜c., yellows, 3¼ to 3¾c. as to quality at the factory.

SYRUP.

The demand for syrup continues slow and the market rules quiet and featureless. There is no change in prices which rule at 2 to 2⅛c. for bright grades and 1 to 1¼c. for dark grades.

MOLASSES.

There has been no change in the molasses market. Barbadoes is quiet with only a small jobbing business doing, and round lots are offering at 26c., while car lots continue to be quoted by the combine at 29c. and single puncheons 30c.

TEA.

A fair healthy distributing trade has been done in Japan teas at steady prices. City wholesales have been doing more in the market, some 2,000 packages of Japans changing hands at 13 to 15c. for common, 16 to 21c. for medium to fine. A lot of 800 packages of Japans to arrive has also been placed at 14 to 17½c. Blacks have also changed hands at 16 to 22½c., a lot of choice Congous fetching as high as 24½c. There has also been a fair enquiry for green at steady prices. We quote: Japan teas, common, 10 to 13c.; medium, 14 to 17c.; fine, 18 to 21½c.; and choicest, 23 to 29c.

COFFEES.

There has been a fair business doing in coffee, a little more enquiry being noted since our last. Round lots of Maracaibo have been put through at 19½c. and smaller lots 20 to 21c. We quote: Java, 24 to 28c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c., and Rio, 18 to 21c.

SPICES.

The spice market is steady and there is a fair demand to note. We quote: Black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c., and Jamaica ginger, 15 to 18c.

RICE.

There has been no change in the situation of the rice market. Millers report the demand as fair and that an average business is doing at steady prices. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3.95 to $4.25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

DRIED FRUIT.

The interesting topic in this market at present is the question of fall supplies, and news from primary markets is eagerly looked for. So far the advices from these in raisins have been very firm, but no reliable quotations can be cited, offers ranging from 17 to 22c. The English demand is the chief factor in Spain at the moment, and as soon as it is supplied buyers here look for an easing up in prices. At present there are absolutely no Valencia raisins here, and pressing necessities are being relieved with California fruit at 5¾ to 6c. The quality of those which have so far come forward has been excellent. For currants there has been little or no enquiry. Advices with regard to the prune crop state that it is a little in excess of last years, while dates are quoted very firm. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, 5 to 5½c.; fine, 5½ to 5¾c.; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

The nut market is steady. Stocks here are diminishing steadily and prices are firm. We quote: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

This market has not presented any particular activity since our last report. Demand has been limited and business slow. In salmon, however, advices to agents here from the coast have been of a character to strengthen prices. There has been a fairly ready sale for the Australian canned meat at the prices quoted. We quote as follows: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2 10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c per doz. Australian canned meats: Boiled mutton, $1 86 to $1.90 per doz. 1-lb. tins, and $3.10 to $3.15 per doz., 2-lb. tins; roast mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz., 2-lb. tins; corned mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3 40 per doz, 2-lb. tins.

GREEN FRUITS.

An active business has been transacted in green fruit during the past week. Some eight carloads of California fruit have been sold at auction and met ready bidders. Lemons are scarce and firm at $4.50 to $5 per box. The supply of oranges is very light, in fact Rodi have been the only kind offering, and have ruled at $5.50 to $6 per box. Bananas have ruled steady under light supplies at $1.25 to $2 per bunch. Apples continue a drug, Duchess being quoted down to $1.50 to $1.75. Receipts of plums are heavy and prices are quoted at $1 75 to $2 25 per box. Peaches met a fair sale at $1 to $1.50 for California per box, and Canadian 50 to 75c. per basket. Canadian pears are coming in at 75c. per basket and California at $1.50 to $2.25 per box.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Receipts of eggs continue liberal and the market is easy but values show no change. Demand is moderate at 9 to 10c. for choice

FLOUR AND FEED

THE exports of wheat and flour from the United States for July amount to 13,487,000 bushels. In the corresponding month last year the exports were 22,850,000 bushels.

The Toronto bakers have been holding meetings for the purpose of forming an association for the regulation of prices. It is their hope to maintain a higher price and a standard weight for the loaves sold. Should the price of bread materially increase, there is no doubt but that there will be an increase in demand for flour from the grocer, and flour and feed merchants.

A flour and feed dealer, speaking in reference to the handling and sale of flour by grocers, said: "Grocers should be very careful if they are keeping flour in stock that it is not placed near anything that will taint it." Flour is very easily contaminated, especially when placed near paraffin oil, and care should be taken that it is not so placed.

The outlook of the United States corn crop is still a very important subject in the cereal market, and speculators have been working the gossip for all it is worth. The public are still almost as uncertain as to the outlook of the corn harvest as they were a week ago. The Modern Miller says in regard to this matter: "Sections of Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Oklahoma have suffered from lack of moisture this week, and the general condition is thereby reduced. Missouri is all right and promises now to raise a much larger corn crop than in 1893. The damage in Iowa amounts to from 35 to 40 per cent. of the corn area; in Nebraska and Kansas about 30 per cent.; but the great areas seeded to corn in those states must be taken into consideration in comparing the prospective harvest with that of last year or previous years. Kansas City is selling corn and hay to points in Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska, much of which is destined for points that buy corn every year. In Western Kansas, a large portion of Nebraska and Iowa, where corn is badly injured, farmers are cutting it for fodder. Most of the damage done in Oklahoma is in a region not considered in the corn crop estimates of former years."

THE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

FLOUR—Business remains quiet, and little change is looked for before September. The majority of the city mills are again running, and are selling at unchanged prices. We quote: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.55 to $3.65; strong bakers', $3.35 to $3.45; winter wheat patents, $3 45 to $3 60; Ontario family, $3 to $3.25; straight rollers, $2.90 to $3.05.

BRAN—The demand is fairly good for the season. There is still a scarcity of bran in the city mills, and those that are at present running are offering at from $13 to $13 50 per ton.

SHORTS—City mills have been unable to supply the demand, owing to the fact that they have been running steadily. The price is unchanged at from $16 to $16.50 per ton.

SCREENINGS—A fairly good business is doing. Good screenings are selling at from $12 to $12 50 per ton.

NOTES.

There has been a slight improvement in the sale of flour during the past week, and grocers report cereals to be more in demand.

F. Dean, grocer, of Parkdale, is devoting one of his spacious windows to the display of flour, while in the other he is exhibiting a fine assortment of fruit.

Worthy of notice is the display of flour made by T. Bletsoe, grocer, Parkdale, and it is in keeping with the interior of his store—neatly and tastefully arranged.

MONTREAL.

The local grain market was quiet to-day and without any new feature of importance to note. No. 1 hard Manitoba, 73 to 74c.; No. 2 hard Manitoba, 72 to 73c.; Peas, per 66 lbs., in store, 72½ to 73½c.; No. 1 oats, per 34 lbs., 39½c.; No. 2 oats, per 34 lbs., 38 to 39½c.; No. 3 oats, per 34 lbs., 35½ to 36c.; corn, duty paid, 57 to 58c.; barley, feed, 46 to 47c.; barley, malting, 50 to 53c.; rye, 52 to 53c.

A fair amount of business was transacted in flour on local account, and the market was moderately active and steady. Winter wheat, $3.25 to $3.50; spring wheat, patents, $3.25 to $3.50; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.55 to $2.60; superfine, $2.40 to $2.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.30 to $3.40; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.40 to $3.45.

There was no change in the feed market. The demand was good and values were firm. Bran, $15.50; shorts, $17.50; mouillie, $20.

The market for oatmeal was quiet and unchanged. Standard, brls., $4.30 to $4 40; granulated, brls., $4.30 to $4.40; rolled oats, brls, $4.50 to $4.60; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

In flour there appears, at least on the part of the millers, a firmer feeling. The movement here is slow, and no change in price is reported on account of the difference in freight. Small quantities continue to come in via Boston. Cornmeal is rather easier, though still firm. The price at the mill did reach $3.15, but is now off to $3 00, which is about 15c. over last week's price, being an advance of about 35c. As always there is a difference as regards the corn crop, but from best advices it would appear to be short. Millers here have a fair stock of corn now on hand. Oats are somewhat off in price, and dealers are not inclined to buy except for actual need. Prospects for a good crop in P.E.I. are much better than a week ago. Hay in this province has been found in splendid condition. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.20 to $4.30; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; standard oatmeal, $4.50 to $4.75; roller oatmeal, $4.65 to $4 75; cornmeal, $3 00 to $3.10; granulated cornmeal, $3.55; middlings, $22 to $23 on track; bran, $18 to $19; cottonseed meal, $30 per ton; oats, on track, 42 to 43c.; small lots, 47 to 50c.; French beans, $1.45 to $1.50; Canadian h.p., $1.55 to $1.60; prime, $1.45 to $1.50; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00; round peas, $3.65 to $3.75; hay on track, $9.50 to $10; small lots, $10 to $11; rice, 3¼ to 3⅜.

caudled stock, and 7 to 8c. for culls per doz. Honey meets with a fair jobbing trade at 8 to 9c. per lb. The hop market is quiet at 10 to 12c. for good to choice and 3 to 7c. for old. Receipts of new potatoes are very heavy, but demand is good at 90c. to $1 per brl.

PROVISIONS.

There was no important change in the local provision market to note. The demand for pork, lard and cut meats was fair for small lots, but on the whole the market was quiet and steady. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The easier feeling in butter intimated last week has had further development. Actual transactions in creamery have transpired at a lower level, which furnish a fair basis for a lower range of quotations. A factoryman was in town Saturday offering a line of 100 odd boxes of July make and did not meet with very urgent buyers. The quality, it was claimed, did not grade very high, and it is understood that he closed the lot out at 18c. For strictly finest goods, however, it is pretty certain 18¼c. would be paid. Dairy goods continue, as they have been all along, dull. It is claimed that there is now quite a quantity of Western dairy in receivers' hands on spot. Buyers contend, however, that is held too high to suit their ideas, and for this reason no business is doing and values on it are nominal. Finest creamery, 18 to 18¼c.; creamery seconds, 17¼ to 17½c.; fine Townships, 16 to 17c.; fine western, 14 to 15½c.

CHEESE.

Cheese on spot moves along on much the same lines, and, as it has done all along, fails to show any marked sympathy with the course of affairs in the country. If shippers are to be believed there is little encouragement in their private advices to permit of business at what goods will cost now. It is, therefore, still a stand off, and the new business on legitimate orders is limited. The tone, however, in view of the prices that have been paid this and last week, and were again paid to-day, is steady. The speculative element control the market, and while they are able to do so there is no prospect of cheaper cheese. Reports from the country show plainly that factorymen are not urgent sellers, except in a few sections, even at the advance which has been offered to them. Those who are east of Toronto, having practically closed out their July make at full figures, are in no present hurry to sell, which is an influence in strengthening the market. In view of the fact that the spot movement is small, it is difficult to quote prices, but a buyer with an open order could certainly not fill it to-day inside of the prices quoted below. We quote: Finest Western colored, 9½ to 9⅝c.; finest Western white, 9⅜ to 9½c.; finest Townships', 9⅛ to 9¼c.; finest Eastern colored, 9 to 9⅛c.; finest eastern white, 8⅞ to 9c.; under grades, 8⅝ to 8¾c. Cable 45s.

ASHES.

The market for ashes is quiet owing to light offerings. We quote: First pots, $4; seconds, $3.70, and pearls, $6.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Fred. Hughes got back from Murray Bay this week, looking as brown as a berry.

Laporte, Martin & Co. are prepared to supply molasses at the most favorable rates.

J. Alex. Gordon & Co. report that the consignment of Australian canned meats is working off very nicely.

Caverhill, Hughes & Co. have now close at hand some of their first of leading brands of B.C. canned salmon.

The cargo of molasses (1,500 puncheons) for John Pinder & Co. was received last week, the barque Runymead entering on Friday last.

Hart & Tuckwell have in stock now some especially tempting Rodi oranges. As oranges are scarce on this market they are doing a good trade with them.

The catch this season of Scotch salt herring is a very fine one. Marshall's well known goods in this line therefore are meeting a good demand, especially in kegs.

There is, according to leading tea brokers, an absolute scarcity of Gunpowders in this market. One of them had a good order on Monday, and found it impossible to fill it.

W. T. Costigan & Co.'s advices from the coast state that the Fraser River pack of canned salmon is very poor, and that the aggregate for the canneries on the Columbia River will be 100,000 cases short.

Norman Croker, who is at present calling on Lower Province grocers in the interests of Tetley's teas, reports a good demand for this brand. "The many old country people in this province," writes the firm, "doubtless recognize the flavor of Tetley's as that they used to get in the teas they drank in Merry England."

Gillespie & Co.'s advices from Denia state that no change in the raisin market can be expected until after the first steamer sails for Liverpool on the 20th. The fruit in this port is going forward on the basis of 19s. 6d. for fine off-stalk, 22s. for selected and 24s. 6d. for layers.

Tetley's teas' stand at the Exhibition in Winnipeg—July 23 to 28—was quite a centre of attraction, owing not only to fine showing made, but also to the fact that these teas were being served free to all comers. The flavor of these teas seems to strike home to the palate of the amateur," they write, "and the Hudson Bay stores who sell them in the Northwest report a steady increase in their output."

Cables to Rose & Laflamme state that the prune crop this year will, it is expected, be in excess of that of last. Quotations for first shipments are on the basis of 13s. to 19s. 3d., according to quality.

BUSINESS during the past week has been quiet. The excitement in cornmeal is rather off, although market continues firm at present prices, which is, however, somewhat off from full advance. The direct importations of tea are coming to hand. One day last week six carloads, being 2,651 packages, were received. This tea was but forty-eight days on the road. The values showing are extra good. The number of Americans traveling through here this year has been much larger than usual, and American money has driven our own out of general use. Even the silver dollar is in active circulation. It is a question with a great many if there ought not to be a discount on it, as our money will not move with any such readiness in the States. The banks not accepting it tends to keep it all in circulation, making it often inconvenient. At present the matter seems one sided, to prevent which something must be done. Reports from Prince Edward Island are for splendid crops in hay, potatoes, grain and fruit. Even oats, which on account of an insect which appeared on them, and which it was feared would do much harm, but which has on account of the weather been largely driven away, will turn out much better than was expected. In the country market the principal change has been in lamb, which has been off in price, selling as low as 7½c. In the savings bank the deposits for June exceeded the withdrawals by $3,691.77, figures being $93,003.23, against $96,695. In lumber no change is reported, most shipments going to British ports. Export business in lime is small.

SPICE—There is no change to report, and movement among these lines is small. We quote: Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, ground, 20 to 25c.; whole, 15 to 20c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; bicarb. soda, $2.30 to $2.38; sal. soda, 1 to 1½c.

SALT—A fair business is being done at steady figures. There is a cargo of coarse afloat for here. We quote as follows: Coarse salt, 48 to 50c.; factory filled, $1 to $1.15; Canadian 5-lb. bags in brls., $3 25; 10-lb. bags, $3.10; American salt in 20-lb. wood boxes, 20c.; 10 lb. boxes, 12c.

TOBACCO — Movement is always large. McDonald continues to sell at his cut prices, but shows no sign of further reduction. His tobaccos are sold here as follows: Crown, 43c.; Pilot, 45c.; Index, 43c.; Napoleon, 49c. McAlpin's brands: Tecumseh, 65c.; Beaver, 62c.; Jubilee, 49c.; Gold Shield, 49c.; Woodcock, 53c.; Army and Navy, 45c. Tuckett's brands are sold at: T. & B. Myrtle Navy, 59c.; cut, 70c.; Lily, 46c.; chewing, T. & B. black, 48c.; Mahogany 12's, 48c.; and 7's, 48c.

CANNED GOODS—Those who have bought their salmon would seem to have an advantage. A telegram from one of the largest canners on the Coast to his broker here reads: "None to offer; present run salmon failure." There is a fair stock of old salmon still on the market, and as the quantity sold here to arrive is not large, it is expected that loss on those carried over will not be as large as was expected. In vegetables market is firm. Spot prices are as follows: Corn, 90 to 95c.; peas, 90c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.40 to $2.50; oysters, 1's, $1.50; 2's, $2.25; corned beef, 1-lb. tins, $1.65; 2-lb. tins, $2.65; salmon, $1.25 to $1.35; lobsters, $1.75 to $2; peaches, 2's, $1.70 to $1.90; 3's, $2.70 to $2.90.

OIL—No change in values is reported and business is but fair. Burning oil, best American, 18c.; best Canadian, 17c.; prime Canadian, 13⅛c.; 60 days, no charge for barrel; linseed oil, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. Turpentine, 45 to 47c. Cod oil, 28 to 30c. Seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; pale, 38 to 43c. Olive oil, commercial, 90c. to $1. Castor oil, commercial, 6½ to 7c. Extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—In raisins demand is somewhat off, dealers waiting for the new fruit on which some very low prices have been quoted. Evaporated and dried apples, like Valencia raisins, will come in on a bare market. Nuts except peanuts move but slowly. We quote: Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5½ to 5¾c.; London layers, $2.10 to $2.20; muscatels, loose in boxes, 6½ to 6¾c.; prunes, 5½ to 6c.; California, 11 to 12c.; currants, barrels, 3½ to 4c.; cases, 4 to 5c.; dried apples, 6¾ to 7c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 15c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazil, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c.; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 11c.

GREEN FRUIT—The trade is very active. The finest California fruit ever seen here is to hand this season, particularly plums. Oranges and lemons are 50c. higher. Raspberries are about out of the market, the crop was not a large one and prices held firm. Gooseberries are firmer. Apples, which promise a large crop, it is reported will find ready sale in England and on the continent. The crop in Ontario and in the States is reported large. It is hoped the packers here will follow the example of those in Ontario and see that the greatest care is taken in putting up the fruit. The careless manner in which it has been packed has told against the Lower Province fruit in the past years. We quote: Lemons, $4.50 to $5 50; oranges, $5.50 to $6; bananas, $2 to $2.50; grapes per basket, $1 to $1.25; tomatoes, native, $2.50 to $3 per crate, cucumbers, 25 to 30c. per doz; watermelons, 40 to 45c. per doz.; gooseberries, 40c. per peck; California apricots, peaches and plums, $2.50 to $3 per crate; apples, $3.50 to $4; California pears, $3.50 to $4.25; Bartlett pears per brl., $7.50 to $9.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Cheese is quiet, and factories are off about ¼ of a cent. This is about the dullest part of the season for cheese. The feeling in the cheese market at large is firm. In butter the market is firmer; the hot weather has kept a good deal of the butter back. Demand for creamery continues to improve. Eggs are in good demand, the presence of off stock and the hot weather tends to keep the price down. Good stock find a ready sale, at 10c.; creamery butter prints, 21c.; tubs, 20c.; dairy tubs, 16c.; cheese, 10c.

MOLASSES—The last steamer from the West Indies had but 50 casks aboard. Stocks here move slowly. No change in price from last week. Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, fancy, 43c.; choice, 35c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27 to 28c.

SUGAR—Demand good; price not over firm. In granulated it is in a great measure being sold at a loss. The experience of those speculating in sugar this summer, though not as bad as those who did in flour, has not been of the pleasantest. Granulated, 4¼ to 4⅜c.; yellow, 3¼ to 3⅞c.; Barbadoes, 3¾ to 4c.; Paris lump, 6 to 6¼c.; powdered, 6 to 6¼c. Syrup, 35c.

FISH—Halifax is getting some of the fish which usually come here owing to better prices obtainable there. Price of dried is steady. Fresh fish are scarce. In smoked herring, lengthwise tend to firmer prices than medium. Large cod, $3.50 to $3 60; medium, $3.25 to $3.35; pollock, $1.75; bay herring, half brl., $1.40 to $1.50; ripplings, $1.75; medium smoked herring, 11 to 12c.; lengthwise, 10 to 11c.

PROVISIONS—No change reported; movement is quiet. Clear pork, $19 to $20; P.E.I. mess, $16.50 to $17; prime, $13.50 to $14; plate beef, $13.50 to $14; extra $13.75 to $14.25; pure lard, 10 to 11c.; compound, 8 to 9c.; cottolene, 9¾ to 10c.

ST. JACOB'S CREAMERY.

A WRITER in the Waterloo Chronicle of a recent issue, who signs himself "Visitor," has this to say of the above creamery:

Among the most important industries of the county is the above prosperous e tablishment carried on by W. and A. Snyder and W. H. Brubacher. Few young men in the county would undertake to risk the investment of the amount of capital this firm of young men have at a time when butter is selling for less than they now pay for the cream. Last year the firm manufactured 130,000 pounds of butter, all of which was shipped to England or the Lower Provinces. At one time they had over $22,000 worth of butter in stock. A reduction of several cents a pound would have ruined them, but they pluckily held on to the butter until a favorable time, when several cents a pound was cleared on the lot and the firm put upon an independent financial footing.

The firm has between four and five hundred patrons and six teams out gathering the cream. Christian Wideman and Ben Lichty go north, David Letson goes east, George Porter and Philip Wire go west and south. It is through the courtesy of these gentlemen that the list of patrons of the creamery is gradually increasing.

At the present time the firm is paying more for the cream than the price of butter in England and is turning out 1,500 pounds of butter per day, and average over 1,000 pounds of butter per day during the season. And such butter! It makes your lips water to see it. It is not touched with a hand from the time it is sent in as cream until it goes out as butter in 25-lb., 50-lb. and 70-lb. tubs. The staff who turn out this really excellent butter consists of W. H. Brubacher, manager; W. and A. Snyder, secretary and treasurer, and Jacob Killer, Isaac Good and E. Hollinger, assistants. All of these have become experts in the business. The cream as it is brought in in large cans is run into large tanks which are surrounded with ice and two streams of ice-cold water (from two artesian wells) run around the vats, thus keeping the cream nice and cool over night. The next morning the cream is run into two large square box churns, where it is churned until it becomes granulated. When the sweet buttermilk is drawn off water is run in and the butter well washed, after which it is put into tubs and thence run into the butter machine, where every particle of water is squeezed out. Salt is now added and the butter well mixed by the large revolving machine; it is then taken out and deposited in the St. Jacob's and Waterloo refrigerators, and kept there until a favorable market is open for it. To carry such an immense quantity of butter requires a large capital and a cool head when to sell. What a reduction there would be in the price of butter on our local markets if 10,000 pounds a week were put on our markets; therefore, the firm are public benefactors to the farming community in investing their capital to hold over the farmers' butter for a favorable season and ship the same to a foreign market instead of glutting the home markets. But, best of all, the farmer still retains his milk for his calves and pigs, while the good wives and daughters are saved the hard work of churning the butter.

Now, the reader will ask, what becomes of the buttermilk drawn off? Well, the writer tried hard to get some one in Berlin or Waterloo to start selling the same. But it seemed beneath the dignity of some who should be working at something to take hold of the matter. So the local agent, to oblige many who are fond of this really healthy and delicious drink, will bring a load down with him every time he has business up that way, and it can be got of him at ten cents a gallon if a can is sent along. In fact, the request for this buttermilk has become so great that an extra rig may be put on the road. Housewives say it is better for baking purposes than any other milk, and when too sour to use it makes excellent feed for the pigs. Farmers fetch the washings of the butter by the thousand-gallon loads for their pigs, hence the demand for the fine pork of this vicinity. We congratulate our farmer friends on having such an excellent

from Induratus (Latin) hardened, and Fibre (French) the fine, stringy substance found in animals and plants,

Is a ware made of the toughest wood fibre, specially prepared, then shaped by tremendous hydraulic pressure, and hardened or indurated, by chemical process. First manufactured in this country in 1884, it has been constantly improved on since, and has now reached the acme of perfection.

Indurated Fibreware is made into Tubs, Pails, Milk Pans, Wash Basins, Bread Pans, Butter Bowls, Butter Tubs, Cuspidors, etc. Its peculiar advantages are that it

Will not shrink or swell.
Will not taint milk or any liquid.
Cannot leak, water-soak or rust.
Has no hoops to rust or drop off.
Being seamless, bottom cannot drop out.
Is lighter than a wooden pail.
Imparts no taste or flavor to its contents.
Is proof against kerosene, benzine, vinegar, and ordinary acids.

In addition to its many superior qualities, this ware is forced upon the notice of the public by most persistent and aggressive advertising throughout Canada.

institution as the St. Jacob's creamery in their midst, and hope they will continue to patronize the same, as it is as much for their benefit as it is for that of the proprietors that the business is carried on. In conclusion, we would compliment the proprietors for for their pluck in thus having established such an important industry in the county, and wish them continued success in their enterprise.

A "WORD" FROM R. B. ELLIS.

P. C. Larkin has received a letter from R. B. Ellis, the well known and popular ex-broker, late of Toronto, now of Vancouver, in which he says: "I like this place very much indeed. Of course it is new, and perhaps a little rough compared with Toronto, but the summer climate is perfection. Fairly warm in mid-day, with evenings and nights delightfully cool and balmy; very little wind, but always a light breeze. If you get too warm you can just step to the front door or window and look at the snow on the tops of the mountains across Burrard Inlet. On a clear day it only looks as far as from Front to College streets, but is really about twenty miles, measuring up the side of the mountain. One never gets tired of looking at the scenery. It is really grand. There is good sea bathing which my boys enjoy very much. One splendid thing here is the water supply. It comes from a lake formed by damming up a stream seven miles up a mountain gorge,

"With kind regards to all in the trade in Toronto, R. B. ELLIS."

A BIG SOAP FACTORY.

Lever Bros., manufacturers of Sunlight soap, have issued a circular from their factory in England from which THE GROCER gleans the following: "From pole to pole is a distance of nearly 8,000 miles, yet it would only require 200 days for the soap made at Port Sunlight to reach from the north to the south pole, and at the same rate of production, an unbroken line of Sunlight soap reaching to the moon (a distance of 225,000 miles), could be made in less than 6,000 working days. This means that equal to a mile of Sunlight soap is made every fifteen minutes." Lever Bros. have recently increased the capacity of their factory from 800 tons to 1600 tons per week. Two years ago their factory covered 10 acres; now it covers 20 acres. Their site has also been increased to from 50 to 86 acres, with a wharfage of one quarter mile. In order to increase their capital to $7,500,000 they put on the market last June 50,000 shares at £10 each. All these shares were sold at once, and the demand exceeded the number four-fold.

Cooper Bros., chartered accountants, London, Eng., report the sales of this firm for one year to amount to $5,000,000 in value.

A PRUNE MAN IN TOWN.

Gino Kabiglio, son of Salamon Kabiglio of Trieste, Austria, packer of the "Atlas" brand prunes, was in Toronto a few days last week. This is his second visit to Canada, having been here in July of last year. Mr. Kabiglio is a young man of fine appearance and an interesting conversationalist.

THE GROCER had a brief talk with him, and the conversation naturally turned upon the new prune crop.

"The crop," he said, "will be larger in Bosnia and Servia, but smaller in Bohemia. Taking it all round, however, it will be the same as last year."

"Are there any particular features in the trade?" queried THE GROCER.

"A feature of the prune trade is the almost total absence of demand for cask prunes, the consumption being almost entirely for the larger sized fruit prepared and packed in boxes."

"About what time do you expect the first shipment will be made?"

"About the end of September or early in October. Prices for first shipment are lower than for the corresponding shipment last year. This is due chiefly to the falling off in the demand from the United States. The demand from that country has fallen off a great deal of late years, principally on account of the development of the prune industry in California. In what we called the good years, say four or five years ago, the United States took about 200,000 boxes of our prunes annually, while last year they only took 25,000 boxes."

Mr. Kabiglio left for the west Friday night.

FRONTIER MERCHANTS "EXCURT."

The Frontier Merchants' Association held its annual excursion to Toronto, Wednesday. There were nearly 170 in the party, and among those comprising it were noted Wm. and E. W. Vabey, J. J. Kelly, E. E. Hart, J. H. Atwood, Thos. H. Allan, Geo. A. Clark, A. B. Hurrell, J. T. James, Mrs. Benner, all merchants, of International Bridge. An effort was made to induce the Fort Erie merchants to close up their stores and come along with the party, but John Sheppard was the only one who saw fit to comply. The day was fine, and, of course, the excursionists had a good time.

THE SALMON CANNING SEASON.

THE following from its New Westminster correspondent appears in the Vancouver News-Advertiser of Aug. 5. Steveston is meantime a very busy place and it has a large population. Its many canneries are all in full swing and it is estimated that 1,800 boats are engaged fishing at the mouth of the river and in the Gulf. All sorts of habitations have been erected. There are houses of wood, houses of tin and houses of canvas. All nationalities are here living in amity together. There are Chinamen, Japs, Indians, Canadians, Americans and Europeans, old and young, male and female. Excellent order appears to prevail in the community.

Till this week little work was done at the canneries, but though the fish have not yet entered the river in large numbers they are to be got in plenty out in the Gulf. It is easily evident, however, that fishing in the Gulf is a much more dangerous matter than fishing in the river, as the gale is stronger and the waves are more turbulent. The scene on the gulf was a most animated one, in fact the boats looked like a flock of sheep spread over a lawn.

The pack already up at the Gulf of Georgia cannery is 3,000 cases, at the Steveston cannery 2,700 cases, and at the Guichon cannery 1,900 cases. The other canneries will doubtless have an equally large pack on hand.

As many as 500 fish have been got by one boat, but so far the averages have been much below that, in fact yesterday morning the average would not exceed 40 fish per boat.

Speaking with a canner as to Indian fishermen, he said he found it very unprofitable to employ them. They insist on being engaged by the day at from $2.25 to $2.50 per day. He finds them very lazy, and in consequence the fish they catch cost too much. He seriously contemplates parting with them all and engaging whi e men instead. If there is substantial foundation for this canner's statement, it is time the friends of the Indians took them in hand and got them either to give a better day's work or to fish at their own risk. The services of the Indian women appear to be highly appreciated in the canneries.

The Gulf of Georgia cannery yesterday shipped 500 cases of fish by the Yosemite to be taken to Victoria, and there transhipped to the Seattle boat to be sent per Northern Pacific Railway to Montreal. This appears rather a roundabout course, but it shows the great advantages of competition.

The Gulf of Georgia cannery, popularly known as "Windsor's" is a splendidly fitted up one with a capacity to turn out 2,000 cases per day if the fish were to be got in plenty. They have altogether 75 boats fishing for them. On their wharf there were about 1,200 fish lying ready to be handled, and that they deemed a very small quantity.

DO NOT BESPEAK HARD TIMES.

EVIDENCES are wanting that the condition of the country is unhealthy; but evidences are forthcoming to prove that the country is healthy.

The Government savings' banks returns for 1893 recently published are of the latter character.

These banks are the depositories of the savings of the masses. And when people are hard up, not only do they not increase their savings, but they are of necessity compelled to draw upon what they have in their day of prosperity put aside. No one will gainsay this. Yet, notwithstanding the hard times that some people have been bemoaning, we find that last year not only did these people increase their savings, but they withdrew less than they have done any year during the previous five years.

The total number of depositors in the Government savings' banks last year were 148,868 against 145,400 in 1892, while they deposited $7,708,000 against $7,056,000 the latter year.

The number of withdrawals was 73,000, and the amount withdrawn $6,631,000, against 77,000 and $7,230,000 respectively in 1892.

The total amount on deposit at the end of the fiscal year 1893 was $24,153,193, including interest. Not so bad a nest egg, after all, for a people suffering from "hard times."

The fact of the matter is, we are too much in the habit of crying "wolf" when no wolf is nigh.

Half the time it is "scare" talk, and the want of confidence it breeds that clogs the wheels of commerce and prevents their running as freely as they otherwise would.

When business is quiet, instead of sitting in sackcloth and ashes, merchants should exert a little more ingenuity to bring trade. That is the sensible way—that is the right way.

CANDLE YOUR EGGS.

IT is not wise to trust the doing of a thing to anyone else when you can do it yourself.

The commission merchant candles the eggs he sells the retailer, but that is no reason why the retailer should not repeat the operation before he sells to the consumer.

Just now, when so many held and bad eggs are being placed on the market, it is necessary that the retailer should exercise more than usual care in the matter of eggs.

A bad egg may mean a good deal. It may mean the loss of a customer.

The trouble is that too many retailers are not precautious enough in the matter of eggs. Numbers of them never candle an egg, and numbers of them as a result have a reputation that they cannot be relied upon for supplying fresh eggs.

It is worth while for the retailer to take a little extra pains to satisfy himself as to the quality of the eggs he has for sale.

The grocer who has earned a reputation for keeping good butter and eggs has opened a door through which customers will come in to buy other things, and has laid a good foundation upon which to build a good business.

People always have a weakness for the man who can be relied upon to please their stomachs.

A good way to test eggs is to cut a dozen holes in the top of a box, and an aperture through the side. Inside place a mirror on which to reflect the eggs when they are placed in the holes. By this means it can be seen at a glance whether the eggs are good or bad. The experienced "candler" will probably prefer the more expeditious method of picking up half a dozen eggs at a time and holding them before a candle in a darkened room.

But by whatever means you may do it, candle your eggs.

CANADIAN BEANS AND U.S. TARIFF

CANADIAN bean growers and exporters should benefit by the new tariff in the United States.

In the face of a tariff of 40 per cent. we sold the States 273,354 bushels, valued at $351,058, during the fiscal year 1892-3.

The importance of the American bean market to us may be gathered from the fact that our total exports to all countries, the States included, was 776,313 bushels, valued at $355,682, showing that all other countries combined took less than 3,000 bushels from us.

The people of the United States are great bean eaters, but they are not great bean raisers, in spite of the fostering care of a high protective tariff, and the persistency with which the press have urged the farmers of that country to cultivate more extensively this popular article of food.

And if under a high tariff they could not be induced to do so, what can they be expected to do under a lower tariff of 20 per cent.?

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, the importations of beans into the United States aggregated 1,225,607 bushels valued at $1,206,689, and on which duties to the amount of $490,243 were paid.

As already pointed out Canada's contribution to the total imported was 273,354 bushels. What Canada's crop of beans on an average aggregates we have no means of ascertaining, the Government returns classifying beans and peas under one head, but we doubtless raise enough to spare the United States a few more than we did last year. Then if it is worth our while we can increase our acreage anyhow. And it does look to be worth our while.

TRADE DEVELOPMENT THE ISSUE.

THOSE who claim to know allege that the real issue in the conflict between China and Japan is whether progress shall be the rule in Corea.

China is credited with a desire to preserve Corea in its pristine condition as a hermit kingdom, while the Japanese are said to be in favor of opening up that country to trade and civilization.

The "pristine condition" referred to is deplorable. The old feudal system obtains there, while abject poverty is the condition of the great mass of the Coreans. The country is rich in minerals, but they are undeveloped except a little gold, and all the precious metals the King claims as his own. In one part of the country there is a rich seam of anthracite coal, for the product of which a high price could be obtained at Hong Kong or Shanghai, but it is quarried for the use of the palace, and its export is prohibited.

Corea has long been known as a nation low in the scale of civilization, and the revelations of the past few months have emphasized this knowledge. If, therefore, the real issue of the present war is as stated, let us hope for success to Japanese arms. Otherwise the people of this country are unconcerned how the conflict ends.

The trade and navigation returns do not show that Canada either buys from or sells to Corea one dollar's worth of goods, but if Japan, by trouncing John Chinaman, is going to increase our opportunities—or the opportunities of any other civilized nation for that matter—for doing business with that country, well and good. We have, no doubt, a few things which we could sell the Coreans, and they have in all likelihood a few things which they would not object to sell us.

THE EMBARGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE.

IT is not with good grace that Canada receives the announcement that the British authorities have finally decided that the embargo against Canadian cattle entering that country must continue.

But what are we going to do about it? It is evident that something is wrong in the state of Denmark.

It has yet to be demonstrated that pleuro-pneumonia exists in Canadian cattle, but that no contagious disease is to be found among them is another thing.

Experts in Great Britain aver that there is, and they are not likely to say so unless there is some ground for it.

The duty of Canadians is now to search out this evil thing, its cause, and its cure.

It may not have developed in this country, but it is evident that some of our cattle have been affected by some disease or other when they reached Liverpool.

We want to get our cattle into the British market again on the hoof, and the best way in which we can do this is by seeking out and removing the cause which has deprived us of the privilege we once enjoyed.

THE CHEESE POSITION.

THE cheese market in Canada has got into an interesting condition to those of a speculative turn of mind.

THE GROCER'S Montreal correspondent on Monday last had an interesting half hour's chat with one of the leading Montreal shippers.

According to this gentleman the cheese market on this side of the water was entirely controlled by the speculative element. If country cost was any criterion, the cheese market was firm with a strong upward tendency. On the average the cost of recent purchases in the country was one-quarter cent higher for those of the corresponding period last year, and the latter were generally admitted to be high enough. In fact, the Canadian factorymen this season have realized fully one half cent more for their July cheese than they have in previous seasons.

They certainly have made money on their early goods, and substantial money at that, and of course it is none of their business if the buyers do make a cent or not.

The prospects of the latter are not so definite. Their purchases have cost them all the way from 9¼c. to 9½c. per lb., and on the face of it the argument seems to be against such prices this season.

They are comparatively high, and how the owners of goods costing this money will come out only the future can decide. Exporting firms are—to use a colloquialism—into it with both feet, and how they are going to come out will be seen later.

On the face of it the argument seems to be against high prices. Though drouth is spoken of, it is held that the shrinkage in this respect is fully made up for by the increased number of establishments turning out cheese this year, and that, allowing for all drawbacks, the make this year is an average one.

The shipments of cheese this year from Montreal are in excess of those of last year for the same period. There is a large quantity of cheese in cold storage which has got to be marketed some time or other, reliable estimates placing it at 500,000 boxes in the United States and Canada.

Reports from Great Britain are not bullish in their tenor, for they all speak of a largely increased make, some statements pointing at 20 to 30 per cent. of an increase.

If this is correct, it means, based on the aggregate British output, a quantity of cheese almost if not double our season's exports.

It is also worthy of note, despite the way prices on this side have been climbing the scale, the public Liverpool cable on cheese stubbornly refused to budge a peg until Thursday last, when it jumped 1s.

Another point worthy of mention is that shippers in Montreal don't seem to be rushed with orders, for the reason that their limits prevent them from doing business. No buyer can secure finest cheese under 9⅞c. At the present time this means that he must get over 47s. c.i.f, and at that price he will have to do some close figuring to come out even, while it is unlikely, if values continue to go up in the country, that business can be done on this basis even very long.

In the meantime nothing seems to bother the speculative element, who still keep at it hammer and tongs. Factorymen last week got ¼ to ⅜c. more per lb. for their output than in any previous season for the last six years, yet buyers seem to be still hungry for choice.

In addition to the full figures paid, offers have been made to contract September and October's at 10¼c. in the Brockville and Belleville districts, while factorymen have refused bids of 10c. for their August makes.

These contract offers have not, as far as we can learn, been accepted by factorymen.

It may be remarked that factorymen at present are in a good position to hold. With the exception of some in the townships and down around Quebec they are practically sold right up to date. This means that their shelves are clear and that they can be in no hurry to sell.

If all we can hear is to be believed, action in this direction would fall in line with the views of quite a few buyers.

Anyone who has got cause to sell should carefully consider whether advice to hold their make is entirely disinterested or not.

DANGERS OF AN "UPLIFT."

DEAR GROCER,—Is it not ambition to rise which leads men onward and upward in professions and in business? Is this not the oil which keeps the axle of the whole machinery of life running continually? And are there not dangers of an "uplift" in all these pursuits? If a laborer were called to ascend the lofty spire of a church to assist in some repairs near its apex, he would realize that his new and loftier position greatly increased his personal perils. A slip or a stumble on his part, that would be a little matter while he was on the ground level, might prove fatal to him when his standing place was two hundred feet above the roadway. A tourist who would give slight heed to dangers in a pleasant valley among the mountains would have a sense of growing danger with every hour of climbing toward a mountain summit; and his outlook from a lofty crag a thousand feet above the valley would require a steadier head and a firmer foothold than were called for on the lower plane. So in every sphere of human experience dangers increase with the "uplift." A man cannot be in such danger of falling when his feet are on the ground as when his head is high above his fellows; and his perils grow with his upward progress. With every promotion in business or in station there are new responsibilities and new opportunities of harming one's self or one's fellows by mistakes or failures in duty. Many a man at the head of a large mercantile or manufacturing establishment, or an extensive financial or railroad corporation, or in high political station, realizes the increased perils of his position to such an extent that he longs at times to be back in an humbler place where his blunders and lacks concerned only himself, or those in a limited sphere, instead of involving the interests and welfare of large numbers. Promotion has its attractions and its advantages, but it cannot be said to lift one above perils, or to diminish dangers to him who rises. Knowledge, wealth, station, influence, and power of all kinds, with all the gain that they proffer to anyone, have special and corresponding dangers unknown to those who have not risen so high in the world. And no one of us can ever rise to such a mental or moral elevation that he is above weakness or temptation. And he in business who counts himself already above danger of failure is perhaps in the direst of peril. The present condition of trade throughout the Dominion calls for judicious, not reckless, moves to be made by its business men, and the order of the march should be carefulness and better times are sure to follow, and the "uplift" in trade will then stand upon a surer footing.

THE EGG TRADE.

D. Gunn, Flavelle & Co., Toronto, have issued the following circular re eggs. It requires no comment:

The very unsatisfactory condition of the egg trade in this city is apparent to all engaged in the trade, both in the city and adjacent towns; but the cause is not so genrally known. Why should eggs go begging for buyers in Toronto to-day at 7 to 8c. per dozen when they are worth in New York 17c.? It will only take about 5c. to pay freight thence and duty. It is simply because the quality is poor.

Why is this? Do not our Canadian hens lay good eggs? They do. There are no better eggs than those produced here. Then what is the trouble? Simply this: They are not fresh.

Many farmers and country dealers do not market their eggs when fresh, but they got into the vicious habit of holding for a rise in price, and not having storage of suitable temperature, a few hot days catch them. They are then hastened to market, arrive out of condition, and are unsalable. To-day there are hundreds, yes, we believe thousands of cases of eggs held here for which the receiver would be glad to get any price, but for which there is no sale. Attempts to force these into consumption have turned consumers against eggs generally, and other articles of food are now taking their place. The consumption of eggs in the city at present is not half of what it should be if stock were good.

The loss the country has sustained during the past month from deterioration in the value of eggs is very great, for every egg was once fresh and salable, and there has always been a good demand for fresh eggs.

Notwithstanding all this, there is still a demand for fine fresh eggs.

THE SALMON PACK.

NEWS, Vancouver, August 15: With the arrival of the Danube from the north yesterday morning, comes the news that the salmon canneries all along the North-west Coast are closed down. These consist of the eight on the Skeena, one on the Naas, one on Lowe Inlet, one at Alert Bay, and two at River's Inlet. The run, however, still continues, but despite the fact, with the exception of those on the Naas and River's Inlet, the packs are small, not running over three-quarters of the average put up, and there is little probability of operations being resumed. The fish have been of larger size and excellent quality, and although troubled somewhat with a strike amongst the fishermen, in all other respects the season has been a very quiet one. The following are the packs so far reported:

	Cases.
Naas River	20,000
Skeena—
Inverness	8,000
North Pacific	9,500
Aberdeen	8,000
Balmoral	7,000
British America	7,500
Diamond C	8,000
Royal Canadian	8,000
Standard	6,500–62,500
Lowe Inlet	9,000
River's Inlet—
Wharnock	13 000
British Columbia	27,000–40,000
Alert Bay	2,000
Total	133,500

On the Fraser the run still continues in large numbers. Fishermen are kept hard at work, and the canneries have all they can do to keep up with their supplies of fish.

B. C. Commercial Journal, August 14, has the following salmon news: Further advices have been received by the steamship Danube, which arrived from northern canneries Monday morning. On the Skeena, the cannerymen are disappointed, extensive arrangements having been made in anticipation of a full pack. The weather has been generally bad for fishing, and the packs of the canners run from about 6,500 to 8,500 cases each. At River's Inlet, the B. C. Canning Co.'s two canneries have put up 27,000 cases. The Wharnock is also reported with from 12,000 to 13,000 cases.

Alert Bay Cannery has a pack of about 2,000 cases.

The Naas River canneries of the Federation brand are reported to have filled 20,000 cases. The run on the Naas is said to have been an exceptionally good one this year.

A late advice from Ladner's Landing says that there has not yet been a full day's pack on the Fraser River, but it has been fairly good during the past week. At a number of the canneries the average pack for the week was 3,000 cases.

Last week was the first really good one since the beginning of the season. Previous to that the fish were only running in driblets. Prices to the fishermen were advanced from 8c. per fish—the usual figure—to 15c., and in some cases 25c., to induce the fishermen to keep at work. Even last week, with a fairly satisfactory run, there were not sufficient fish to keep the canneries employed to their full capacity. The total pack for the Fraser all depends on the next two weeks' fishing, and even with a big run it is feared that the canneries will fall far short of filling the tins already made. A three-quarter pack is expected in some quarters, but it is a matter of great uncertainty.

The Fraser River packs to date vary considerably. Some report an average of 5,000 cases to the cannery, others 7,000 cases, and some of the larger canneries are reported to have put up 10,000, 13,000 and 15,000 cases.

The markets are unsettled, and canners are looking for advanced figures

AMONG THE RETAILERS.

A. G. AULT, of Seaforth, who formerly conducted a general store, has gone exclusively into groceries.

J. Comb, of Palmerston, is in Bonnie Scotland with relatives.

Mitchell Bros. & Co., of Galt, are about opening up in Aurora.

J. Colborn, of Paisley, will move into his new store in a few days.

J. H. Strickland, grocer, etc., Cannington, has opened a branch store at Bolsover.

J. S. Sharpe, formerly of Pontypool, has bought out William Watson, of Cadmus.

Fred. Rogers, of Enniskillen, has gone to the Old Country. He will be away about three months.

J. Rothwell and James Whitefish, two Walkerton merchants, are summering with their families at Southampton.

Stuebing Bros., Berlin, have had a large fruit trade this season, and general business has been likewise good with them.

Sam. Ashton, of Hampton, is seriously ill. He is about seventy-five years of age, and fears are entertained of his recovery.

John Waddel, of Harriston, has been confined to his bed for several days, but he is expected to be all right again shortly.

Hilborn Bros., general merchants, Baden, have just completed their first year in business, and it has been a successful one. Hilborn Bros. are pushing and energetic, and to those who know them their success is not surprising.

Henderson & Son, who opened up in Georgetown a few months ago, are reported to be well pleased with the results obtained.

Peter Bros., Walker on, are making an addition to their store. It is about 40 feet long and will be devoted to a clothing and boot and shoe department.

Robertson Bros. & Co., of Drayton, adopted the cash system about six months ago, "and it works like a charm," said a traveler who had called on the firm lately.

J. H. Shields, Palmerston, has had an addition made to his store and is now occupying it. Mr Shields is credited with having one of the neatest stores on the W. G & B. railway.

"Steiss & Good, Berlin, have one of the nattiest stores on the G. T. R. west, and they have a largely increasing family grocery and fruit trade," a traveler was heard to say the other day.

Wm. Clay, son of the well known W. P. Clay, grocer, Galt, is representing the Hamilton Coffee and Spice Co. in Western Ontario. Mr. Clay's friends wish him success in his new venture.

A unique and attractive window display has E. S. Cressman, of Hanover. He has the whole of one of his windows devoted to fruit jars which are tastefully arranged and filled with a varity of colored waters.

D. McEachren and family, of Clifford, are now residing at their summer cottage "Argyle," Southampton. "Mac. is one of those men whom the boys always like to call upon," enthusiastically remarked a traveler.

J. S. Boddy & Bros., of Bradford, have made extensive alterations in their handsome store. They have extended its length nearly 25 feet, and made other improvements. THE GROCER hopes that Boddy Bros. will be compelled to enlarge their premises again before long.

N. S. Bowman, general merchant, Conestoga, has refitted his dry goods department with new shelving, greatly improving the appearance of the store. Mr. Bowman is one of the oldest merchants in the county of Waterloo, having been in the business there for some 30 years.

Robert Mitchell, of Guelph, familiarly known as "Bob," has one of the best equipped grocery stores in the "Royal City." His is the old John A. Wood business, with whom Mr. Mitchell served his apprenticeship, and Mr. Mitchell receives a large patronage from the best city and rural families.

Scott Bros., who bought out the business of MacWillie Bros., King street east, Toronto, have issued a writ for $2,000 damages against the latter for alleged breach of contract. The charge is that MacWillie Bros. have not abstained from doing a jobbing trade since they removed to Yonge and Richmond streets.

Coulter & Perrin, of Pontypool, decided to dissolve partnership the other day. In pursuance of this the store was closed up, and Mr. Coulter took a trip to Toronto. After three or four days, Messrs. Coulter & Perrin found they could not get along without each other. Then the partnership was firmly cemented again and the store opened for business.

S. Ruthven & Co. have removed from No. 377 Parliament street, Toronto, to No. 346 the same street. The latter was formerly a private dwelling owned by the firm, but it has been turned into a large and attractive store by the addition of a new front some 40 feet in length. The store has two large plate glass windows, and at night is brilliantly lighted with patent gas burners. The arrangement of the stock and store well maintains Ruthven & Co.'s reputation in this respect.

J. A. McKerchar, of Winnipeg, has found it necessary to make extensive alterations in the interior of his premises, so well and favorably known to the people of the Prairie City as the Maple Leaf store, which is now in the fourteenth year of its existence. The division between the front shop and the back store room has been taken away and the shelving on both sides extended to the rear end of the building, where a nicely arranged office is situated, the combined arrangement of stock and fixtures giving evidence of the progressive nature of this establishment, which is one of the largest and most successful grocery houses in Winnipeg.

FLY CATCHING SCREENS.

A correspondent of the Scientific American, G. P. Yule, of Clinton, Ia., tells a grateful public how to put in window screens and not have any flies in the room. First place the frame on the outside of the window, the wire to be on the inside of the frame. Nail on moulding on each side and at the bottom to cover the ends of the wires, but let the wire cloth extend over the nail on top of the frame. Put no moulding at the top on the inside. If you will give the flies a chance, they will alight on the screens and walk up and out. Take any common window screen and place it on the outside, but instead of closing the space at the top, take a hammer and pull the top moulding off from the screen; let the space then be open between the top of the screen and the sash. When you draw down the window shade half way, or down to the top of the screen, and the open space is thus left across its top, you will see the flies go toward the light and walk up the screen and go out. All the flies that come in from the screen door when it is open go to the window screen and thus go out.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

TRADE has picked up very considerably during the past two weeks, although it has not yet attained ordinary proportions. The orders for fall delivery now being taken are much more generous than those secured in July. Not only have retailers decided to buy staples, but they are also buying more in novelties. Braids, jets, fancy dress goods, underwear, ribbons, grey flannels and blankets are a few of the lines in which most attention is centred.

The millinery openings next week, beginning on the 27th, will attract many buyers to the city and liven the house trade.

A special lot of lace curtains in three prices to retail at $1, $1.25 and $1.50 respectively are shown this week by John Macdonald & Co. The quality and patterns are said to be much better than ever seen before.

A new dress facing can be procured from W. R. Brock & Co. It is called R.D.F., and is a combination of a braid and a cord. This corded edge is where the wearing qualities are found, and it is claimed to be much ahead of a wholly flat braid or a velvet facing. It is easily attached, is low in price, and should be popular. It can be procured in black, cream, navy, four shades of brown, fawn, cardinal, etc.

The special number of THE DRY GOODS REVIEW, issued this week, contains about 60 pages, is resplendent with a special colored cover, and is valuable as an index to the fall trade.

Wyld, Grasett & Darling have passed into stock this month some very desirable lines of men's umbrellas. They show special value in steel rods, both nickeled and japanned, with laventine, gloria and silk tops, and new designs in handles. These are most attractive goods and worthy of inspection. They also show a number of lines with 27-inch paragon frames, in various cloths made from American designs. Their finer numbers are made with pure silk coverings and small, nobby frames known as the "Cobweb," "Featherweight Perfectum," etc.

In W. R. Brock & Co.'s dress trimming department, lace braids, military, Hercules, and fancy wave braids, jet trimmings, jet gimps, and other more extreme novelties are shown in abundance. The collection is thoroughly up to date, both in point of designs shown and with respect to colorings.

Samson, Kennedy & Co. are running on laces and trimming novelties just now. They have a very large range of the newest things in both these lines. Jet gimps and jetted laces are leading for trimming purposes, and promise to hold fairly well throughout the season. Their smallware department is especially well stocked.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

The wholesale millinery openings have been announced for the week of the 4th of September. A call at the different warehouses elicited the fact that it was too early for them to speak of their goods.

It is understood that the firm who secured the round lot of prints at a cut of 12 to 15 per cent., which was the clearance of a line in first hands, are carrying the bulk of them over until next season. They have marketed a small portion of them, however, and it was no doubt from this fact that talk of a regular campaign of lower prices by the manufacturers arose.

Thouret, Fitzgibbon & Co.'s glove department report that in fancy glace gloves, cadet blue, navy and myrtle are about the only shades likely to be the "go" for fall wear. Dark tans and browns are good under any circumstances, but greys seem to have had their day.

Brophy, Cains & Co. say that black will be a very fashionable color this autumn. There will be a run on black silks, gros grain taffetas, bengalines, and gros de Londres They have the goods.

Thibaudeau Bros.' new carpet showrooms, which have been referred to in previous issues, have a very handsome appearance at present. This firm shows an unusually large range of carpets.

Any buyer who likes to look at some handsome lines of fine fall underwear, mufflers, etc., should spare some time when they get a call from Matthews, Towers & Co.'s travelers. If they want any goods of this sort they will not find it time wasted.

Those who have check s lks left in stock should have them made into petticoats. Check silk petticoats are the mode in Paris; the handsomest have a ruffle of lace around bottom and a broad flounce of lace above it. The laces you can get from Brophy, Cains & Co.

A busy warehouse when the writer called was the big store on the corner of Victoria square and Craig streets of S. Greenshields, Son & Co. Their stock of English and other imported goods is as usual a very complete one.

J. G. McKenzie & Co. report more activity in domestic tweeds and woolens, and hold that the indications in these point to more activity. They have experienced quite a brisk time recently in Canadian underclothing.

The domestic tweed department of Gault Bros. is a busy scene just at present. The demand for fall tweeds has shown more life than other lines, and this firm's trade in Canadian goods of this sort is, perhaps, the largest in the country.

The valley of the Pembina River which is about a mile wide, is in many places this season, a vast hay meadow, for owing to the dry summer many portions of the valley usually too wet can now be gone over with the mower, and strong forces of men are at work cu ting and stacking all along the river. The Pilot Mound Sentinel says that the quantity of hay secured will be prodigious.

A. R. CAMPBELL, Carman, Man, is building an addition to his hotel, whereby he has largely increased his facilities for accommodating the public. The hotel has now two sample rooms. A bus runs to and from the hotel for the accommodation of the guests.

Kelly & Co.'s flour mills at Brandon were completely destroyed by fire Thursday night. The loss is fully $55,000; insurance, $33,000.

George E. Boak & Co., Halifax, received a cable Saturday from the Spanish West Indies, stating that the duty on Canadian fish had been removed.

The general store of Hercules Burwell, Lawrence Station, was broken into the other night and thirteen silver and nickel watches and a lot of other goods were taken.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. are selling a fine line of Eleme raisins at a low price considering the scarcity of Valencias. They are also offering a line of selected bunch Dahesas at about half the original cost.

On Saturday night a man found a $5 bill on a store counter which he gave to the proprietor to return to the owner. Up to the middle of yesterday afternoon no less than three persons called for that bill, all expressing their readiness to swear on a stack of Bibles that they had lost it.—News, Vancouver.

The death of Henry S. Losee, secretary of Woodstock Cheese Board for a number of years, took place Friday. The deceased had been in failing health for the past year, the direct cause of his death being pleuro-pneumonia. Mr. Losee was seventy-four years of age. The funeral took place on Monday at Burgessville.

The Montreal Gas Company decided recently to reduce its price of gas all over the city. The new price is to be 95 cents per 1,000 feet, for both lighting and heating purposes. The consumers are to be allowed one meter free. The prices charged by the company at present are $1.30 for lighting and $1 for heating, so that the reduction is a good one for the citizens.

CURING FORMOSA TEA.

THE British Consul at Tamsui recently furnished his Government with a report regarding Formosa tea. Among other things he says:

It is in reality a black tea prepared without the usual fermentation, but possessing a decided flavor of the green variety. The leaf is fired when green, and this, taken with the flavor, may account for the popular belief. But between the exposure in the open air and the firing, the leaf has to undergo a somewhat peculiar treatment, a process which I discovered accidentally, and which was unknown to the foreign tea merchants to whom I mentioned the matter. One day in September I was walking at the base of the North Hill, near the port of Tamsui, on the look-out for a certain plant, when I suddenly found myself near a farm-house. I saw a man sitting on a high stool on the threshing floor, and with his feet he was rapidly turning what appeared to be a long cylindrical drum. On nearer inspection I found that the machine was about 8 feet long and 2 feet to 2½ feet in diameter, six-sided (each side being made of brown coarse cloth, let in a wooden framework), that the axle ran right through the cylinder and rested on two wooden supports, one at each end. Between the support and the cylinder at one end were four treadles fixed in the axle; working these with his feet the man caused the cylinder to revolve rapidly, each revolution being accompanied by a swishing noise inside the cylinder. On my expressing my desire for some enlightenment, the man willingly unfastened one of the sides, which was the door of the cylinder, and laid it back on its hinges. Exposed to view were six bamboos, corresponding in number to the sides of the machine, fixed at equal intervals in the ends of the cylinder, midway between the axle to which they ran parallel and the periphery of the 'ch' a-nung, or tea-preparer; at the bottom of the cylinder there was a heap of green tea leaves which had been placed there after the necessary exposure on the threshing floor. As the machine revolves these leaves are dashed against the bamboos, whereby their edges are rendered quite soft; they are then removed and put into the iron firing pans. It will be asked: Why are the edges of the leaves softened? The answer is easy: Were the leaves, after being picked and exposed for a short time, placed in the firing pans, they would split up—the leaf is dark and brittle—and lose all semblance to the whole leaf, which is so much desired. Such at least was the explanation given to me, and it appears to be very reasonable and natural. Some of the leaf which is brought into Twatutia, the tea market of the island, is ready for packing and shipment, but most of it is brought in after the first firing and is finished—that is to say, again fired in bamboo baskets—in Twatuti itself, where foreigners and Chinese alike possess firing rooms. After being fired until every particle of moisture has evaporated, the tea is removed and packed hot in lead-lined boxes for export. Almost the entire output of tea finds its way to the United States, where it is specially favored; and to show the value attached to this trade, I may mention that attempts have been made in Ceylon to manufacture Formosa tea, but in spite of all efforts it has been found impossible to produce an article of the proper flavor.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, August 23, 1894.

GROCERIES.

TRADE does not exhibit much activity—less in fact than last week. Tea is the commodity that is the centre of attention at the moment, there being a good business doing in some lines, while prices are generally firm. Sugars continue firm, but the demand has fallen off. Valencia raisins are gradually getting scarcer and higher. Prunes are cabled a little lower. The movement in syrups continues to increase, but the usual seasonable dulness obtains in molasses. Spices are in good demand, and marked advances have taken place in the first cost of some kinds. In green fruit, oranges are almost out of the market. In fish, trade is much as before. The egg market is still in an unsatisfactory condition, and there is no material change in butter.

CANNED GOODS.

Nothing materially new has developed during the week. There are not many tomatoes selling, and prices are unchanged at 90 to 95c. The idea for peas is 85 to 90c., but there are only a few selling. Canned fruits are quiet. We quote: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.65 to $2.80, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40. Demand keeps brisk for salmon at unchanged prices. We quote $1.30 to $1.40 for first class and $1.10 to $1.20 for second class. There is a good demand for lobster in ½ lb. flats, but otherwise trade in this line is quiet. We quote: Tall tins, $1.80 to $2.00; $2.40 to $2.50 for flats; and $1.35 for new flat ½'s. Potted meats and sardines are still in good to fair demand.

COFFEES.

Green Rio coffees are scarce on the spot. New crop is expected to arrive about middle of September. Fine coffees are slightly higher, while mediums are a little lower. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

There is no change in rice, there still being a fair seasonable demand at unchanged prices. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅝c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

The long-expected advance in the first cost of certain spices has at last materialized. Nutmegs are from 3 to 5c. higher, and pepper 1c. Cloves are also firmer. No actual change has taken place here. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12 to 14c.; pure white 20 to 28c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

Firmness is still the predominating characteristic of the sugar market, but no speculative buying seems to have been induced. Neither wholesalers nor retailers are large buyers. "Retailers," said a jobber, "are buying just what they want for immediate requirements. They say that they do not make money out of sugar, and that if a further advance takes place, the consumer will merely have to pay it. The retailer cannot be induced to take any risks." The price of granulated rules at from $4.40 to $4.50; 3½ to 3⅝c. is the ruling idea for yellows, with a dark sugar selling at 3⅜c. Raw is unchanged at 3¼c.

Willett & Gray's Statistical referring to the raw market says: It can scarcely be said that there have been any transactions as yet upon the new duty basis. One-eighth cent per lb. advance has been paid in two instances by a speculator for Centrifugals, and the same advance is offered by refiners, but sellers, with few exceptions, are waiting to see where the new basis will settle. It is early yet to say, but we think that 3¾ to 3⅞c. duty paid will be about the settling point until the new sugar campaign begins in October. The market may be slow in reaching this level, because refiners hold about five weeks' supply, and are not forced to purchase until that is gone. Business will be small for some time. The arrivals this week were as remarkably small (5,806 tons), as they were remarkably large two weeks ago (116,000). At the close sales have been made to refiners of 12,000 bags Centrifugals, from store, at 3⅜c.

SYRUPS.

Syrups continue to show increased movement at firm prices; the idea for prices ranges from 2 to 3½c. per lb. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Business is still quiet in this line, with West Indian, New Orleans and Cuba kinds in most request. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEA.

There is still a good deal of high and low grade and medium new season's Japan tea moving at from 17 to 25c. A fair enquiry is reported for last season's growth of Japan teas at 12½ to 15c. A good many new season's Japan teas are understood to have been sold in Chicago during the last few days by Toronto houses. The feeling in Japan teas is strong on account of the war. A little improvement is announced in the demand for Indian and Ceylon teas at from 18 to 35c., but business cannot yet be called brisk in these lines. China blacks are quiet; and the same may be said of Young Hyson's, but as far as China teas are concerned people are of course now awaiting the new crop.

Mail advices dated London, 10th inst., state that during July, 164 928 lbs. Indian, and 432,277 lbs. Ceylon tea, were re-exported against 150,583 lbs. Indian, and 429,049 lbs. Ceylon during the same month last year. The very small quantity of Indian tea brought forward has met with a ready sale at prices showing no change on rates current last week. A few lines have commanded some very satisfactory quotations. The market for Ceylon tea, the despatches state, continues to advance gradually, and the small quantity catalogued met with good competition. The quality of many marks shows a tendency to improve, a feature generally noticeable at this period of the year.

DRIED FRUITS.

Valencia raisins continue scarce and higher. Ordinary off-stalk seems to be about the only kind now to be had on this market and it is quoted at 6½ to 7c. A cable states that the first shipment of new season's Valencia raisins were shipped from Denia Monday last. We quote off-stalk at 6½ to 7½c.; fine off-stalk at 6½ to 7½c.; and layers at 8¼ to 8½c. It is said by a competent authority that there are buyers on spot for 10,000 boxes of Valencia raisins if they could be had.

Currants are getting more active on account of the scarcity of Valencia raisins. The first of the new crop will be shipped about the 28th inst. Quotations are still: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¼c. in brls., and 4½ to 5c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases; Panariti, 8½ to 9c.

There is very little demand for prunes, but no stocks are held here. A cable received by P. L. Mason & Co. on Tuesday quotes Turkish prunes a little lower. We quote: U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's, 7½c.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c.

MARKETS.—Continued

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

No material change has taken place in the butter market during the week, either in regard to volume of business or profits. Demand is still local in character. Holders are still asking 15 to 16c., f.o.b., for round lots, and a few lots of Strait yellows have changed hands at the inside figure, but buyers, as a rule, apparently do not want to make purchases. There is not much really good butter in the country, and choice tubs are a little firmer. Second grade butter, on the other hand, is abundant and accumulating. A round lot of mixed butter offered at 13c., f.o.b., but was not taken. Some of the local jobbers have been nibbling in Montreal for bids, but without success. Demand for first-class quality dairy pound rolls is good, but there is very little of this to be had, a good many of the pound rolls coming forward still being made up from old tub butter. There is a good demand for creamery pound prints, but creamery tubs are still not much wanted, although several lots sold Monday at 19c. The factories are reported to be wanting 20½c. The bulk of the dairy tub butter is going at about 16 to 17c., with ½ to 1c. more than the outside figure being obtained occasionally for something extra choice. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17c.; straight store, 15 to 16c.; crocks, 18c.; bakers' butter, 12 to 14c.; pound rolls, 19c. Creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

Cheese is in fair demand and higher at 10 to 10½c. Some orders for export are reported at 9¾c.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Provision market continues active, with prices higher in some instances. There have been quite a few dressed hogs in this week, but all were taken.

BACON—Long clear, 8 to 8¼c.; smoked backs, 12 to 12½c.; breakfast bacon, 12½ to 13c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.

HAMS—Small and medium, 12½c.; large, 11c.; pickled, 11c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, 9 to 9¼c. in tubs, 9¼ to 9½c. in pails, and 8½ to 8¾c. in tierces. Compound, 7½ to 7¾c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $18; Canadian short-cut, $18.50 to $19; shoulder mess, $14.50 to $15; clear mess, $15 to $15.50.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The receipts on Tuesday showed a falling off, but the market generally was worse than on Friday last in consequence of poorer cables. The total receipts at the western yards were 68 car loads, which includes 1,100 head of cattle. The demand for export cattle was somewhat slow, and only choice animals wanted. A few head of the best sold at 4⅛c. per lb., and best loads at 4c. Good to medium shippers brought 3½ to 3¾c. The run of butchers' cattle was of inferior quality, and prices ranged low. The best loads brought 3¼c. per lb., while in a few cases two and three head sold at 3⅜ to 3½c. Good medium butchers' sold at 3c., and others at 2½ to 2¾c. Calves dull at $2 to $6 each, and milch cows also easier at $22 to $40 each. The demand was less active for shipping sheep, and prices are off a little. There were sales at 3¼ to 3½c. per lb., and of butchers' sheep at $2.50 to $3.50 each. Lambs dull, with $3 an exceptional price; they ruled at $1.75 to $2.50 each. Hogs dull and about steady. The best sold at $5.25 to $5.30, thick fats at $4.75 to $5, stores at $4.50 to $4.75, sows at $4.50, and stags at $2 to $2.50 each.

GREEN FRUIT.

Trade keeps fairly good. There are very few oranges to be had. Sorrentos are the only kind to be had, and they are quoted at $5 per box. Lemons are in good demand and the price is kept at its present figure by the shipments of new season's growth which are arriving. Tomatoes are receiving moderate attention, but receipts have been larger than the demand warranted. It is, however, anticipated that the cooler weather of the past few days will cause both a falling off in the supply and an increase in the demand. California green fruit is scarce and high. Domestic peaches are not as plentiful as they were, it now being between the early and fall crops. Watermelons are not receiving as much attention as they were on account of the cool weather. Muskmelons, on the other hand, are in good demand, especially on country account. Canadian pears are forced sale. There are a good many apples going into consumption, but a large portion of the supply is being received direct from the farmers. Wholesale trade is quiet. Bananas are plentiful and easy. We quote: Oranges—Sorrentos, 200's, $5 per box. Lemons—Fancy Rodhi, 300's, $5.50 to $6.50 per box; ditto, 360's, $5.50 to $6 per box; Messinas, 300's, $4.50 per box; 360's, $4.50 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75 per bunch. Watermelons, $15 to $23 per 100. Musk melons, $1.50 to $1.75 per case; $2 to $2.25 per brl., and 50c. per basket. Huckleberries, $1 per basket. Lawton berries, 6 to 8½c. Cucumbers, 25c. per basket. Tomatoes, 60 to 75c. per basket. Peaches, 60 to 75c. per basket. Pears, 30 to 50c. per basket. Plums, 60 to 85c. per basket. Apples, 75c. to $1 50 per brl., and 15 to 40c. per basket. California green fruit—Peaches, $1.60 to $1.75 per case; plums, $1.50 to $2.50 per case; pears, $2.25 to $2.75 per box.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged at $1.25 to $1.30 ordinarily.

DRIED APPLES—There have been sales at 6½ to 7c. during the week, and a few more could probably be placed at the same figure, but not many.

EVAPORATED APPLES—The factories are asking for bids for new season's fruit, but neither transactions nor bids are heard of.

POTATOES—Market is quiet and weak at 60c. per bag for Canadian and 75c. per bag for American.

EGGS—A good many bad eggs are still coming in and prices are weak and without a recognized basis, jobbers being willing to take almost anything they can get. Good are quoted at 8 to 9c., while anything that cannot qualify under that head can be had all the way from 3 up to 6c. Said a dealer: The quality of many of the eggs coming in is so bad that we simply cannot do anything with them. We would buy eggs here and pay 10c. for them if the quality could be guaranteed strictly fresh.

ONIONS—Much as before at $1.25 per sack for Egyptian, and 50 to 60c. for new crop domestic.

HOPS—Dull at 12½ to 15c; package hops, 20c. per lb.

FISH.

The movement is about the same as it was in white fish and trout, at about previous prices. Lake herring is not to be had. We quote: Skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to

W. Paterson & Son have a unique "Candy ad." on page 6 of this issue. See it.

Consumers are beginning to ask after Aikenhead & Sloan's prepared fish.

Warren Bros. & Boomer claim they have the finest value in Japan teas on the market.

T. Kinnear & Co. announce that they are showing good value in new season's Japan teas.

Aikenhead & Sloan expect their first shipment of haddie about the first week in September.

T. Kinnear & Co. have this week received their first shipment of new season's "Crown" lobster.

J. W. Lang & Co. have sold out their last shipment of beef, iron and wine, but another lot is on the way.

Sloan & Crowther have a direct importation of new season's finest Pekoe Congous to hand; also car of new season's salmon.

Perkins, Ince & Co. have to hand their first consignment of new season's French peas. The quality is said to compare well with last year's pack.

W. Paterson & Son make a specialty of "Gross Goods." Their sales in this line they say, are enormous, and they are producing "something new" continually.

Davidson & Hay have to hand a shipment of Brown & Polson's corn flour, direct from London, England; also direct importation of Ceylon tea, which is claimed to show excellent value.

Smith & Keighley are importing large lots of Japan tea this season, "and we are giving our friends the advantage of the low prices at which we purchased," said a member of the firm.

Eby, Blain & Co. have a lot of medium Japan teas coming in which are said to show excellent value. They have also to hand a direct shipment of Ceylon tea; also fresh kippered herring.

Roberts' table jellies are reported by Davidson & Hay to be in brisk demand at the moment. The firm has another shipment on the way. Kurma package tea is also reported to be having a good sale.

Eby, Blain & Co. got in a shipment of Californian loose Muscatels, and they have taken so well that another lot has been ordered. They are to take the place of Valencia raisins, which are so scarce just now.

Agencies for the sale of Salada Ceylon tea have been opened in the following towns during the past two weeks: Rockwood, Port Colborne, Gorrie, Dunnville, Lucknow, Kincardine, Mitchell, Wroxeter, Hepworth, Wiarton, Paisley, Southampton, Hanover, Blythe, Lucan, St. Mary's, Exeter, Seaforth, Goderich. P. C. Larkin & Co. claim that one-seventh of all the tea sold in Toronto is Salada, and state that they are willing to prove it to the satisfaction of anyone that is interested.

W. H. Gillard & Co. report that their second shipments of new Japans and Congous are now coming in. Their first, they say, showed such good values that they went out in fifty and twenty-five package lots in most cases.

The egg market would have been in better condition to-day, and holders would have little or no loss, had they placed them in Aikenhead & Sloan's cold storage warehouse, instead of keeping them where there were not proper facilities to keep them good.

Sales of Imperial cheese have more than doubled since MacLaren & Co. removed their factory to Toronto some three months ago. They are receiving orders every day from the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

T. B. Escott & Co. report a steady sale for "Leon Digestive Coffee," and they look for an increased demand as the weather gets colder. The peculiarity claimed for this coffee is that it is particularly beneficial to people with weak stomachs. Both this coffee and "Mogul" tea will be exhibited at the Western Fair by Escott & Co.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are daily expecting the arrival of Sphinx prunes, "U" brand. They have handled many carloads of this pack during the past few seasons, and they report that the quality has always been excellent and uniform.

Hamilton Times: A magnificent map of the city of Hamilton, in which a bird's-eye view of all the streets, churches, public buildings, business blocks, etc., is given, is being presented by W. H. Gillard & Co., the enterprising wholesale grocers, to their customers.

T. B. Escott & Co., London, write: We had exhibits Grand Mogul tea the past week at J. G. Stewart, Clinton; W. M. Ellis, Goderich; R. Babb, Mitchell; H. Livens, Seaforth; Shiver & Marshall, Kirkton: R. B. Thornton, Woodstock. The lady in charge writes that everybody is delighted with the full round flavor of Grand Mogul tea, and in most places her sales was quite large, those who tasted it, pronouncing it the best tea they ever drank.

R. S. McIndoe is advised by G. Marcopoli & Fils, of Smyrna, as follows, under date of August 10: Sultanas—Since our report of 7th ult. alarming advices have come from nearly all the vine-growing districts. The favorable hopes that were entertained some five or six weeks ago with regard to the coming crop have not been realized insomuch that the vines have sustained sensible damage owing to hot weather. According to trustworthy accounts, the yield will be short by 25 to 30 per cent. as compared to that of the preceding year. Some, however, bring down the deficit up to 50 per cent., but we think that the production will not be under 25,000 tons. The berry will be small and the quality moderately fair. Under such circumstances the prevailing opinion is that opening prices will be relatively high; this is partly justified by the firmer tone already noticed on the markets of consumption. We have unfortunately to report the same for Elemes, which show a yield of about 170,000 tons. Figs—This product has not suffered so much, and we presume to reach last year's return, viz., 13,000 tons, with the exception that the fruit will be smaller, and large figs very few. We shall not be able before a month to furnish our friends with reliable types of our crops in general. Any samples mailed earlier would imperfectly represent the exact bearing of the new fruit.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, August 23, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery market does not present any particular activity at the moment, but this condition is usually normal to the month of August. The most lively staple at the moment is tea, which has been dealt in pretty freely during the week. The recent advance in sugar has not put any life into the demand, which remains quiet. Syrups and molasses are characterized by the same feeling. Advices on rice are firm, but spot prices remain as before. The canned goods market rules quiet, and in dried fruit the actual movement is small. No importation of new crop fruit can arrive here before the end of September or the beginning of October. Its tone continues firm. Other lines furnish no feature of moment.

SUGAR.

Since the advance last noted there has been no important change in the sugar market. Prices are well maintained, but the demand is not active and the volume of business is small. The condition of things, however, is more or less expected during August. Supplies in second hands at present are said to be ample, and with the advanced prices wholesale grocers no doubt will benefit on those goods which cost them less money. We quote: Granulated at 4¼c. and yellows, 3¼ to 3¾c., as to quality at the factory.

SYRUPS.

The market for syrups continues to rule quiet and steady, with only a jobbing business doing. We quote: Bright goods, 2 to 2⅛c., and dark, 1 to 1¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

Business in molasses has continued quiet under a limited demand, and there is no important feature to report. We quote: Round lots, 26c.; car lots, 29c., and single puncheons, 30c.

TEA.

The demand for teas has continued good and the market rules active, both on local and country account. Importers state that orders have not been coming in so freely as at present for a long time, and they consider prospects encouraging for a very active market. We quote: Japan teas, common, 10 to 13c.; medium, 14 to 17c.; fine, 18 to 21½c.; and choicest, 23 to 29c.

RICE.

There has been no change in the situation of the rice market. The demand is fair and business is moderately active at steady prices. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3 70; Japan, $3.95 to $4 25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

DRIED FRUIT.

Sales of small lots of Valencia raisins have been made during the week, but the price was kept private. It was very likely a pretty full one. No new fruit is expected until the end of September, which is about a month later than the date when new crop fruit was offered here last year. Currants continue unchanged. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, 5 to 5½c.; fine, 5½ to 5¾c.; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

A fair jobbing trade is passing in nuts, with nothing special to report. We quote: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

COFFEES.

The coffee market has been rather more active owing to the excitement in the States. Prices here in consequence are more or less nominal, as dealers don't know what to ask. We quote: Java, 24 to 28c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c., and Rio, 18 to 21c.

CANNED GOODS.

Since our last there has been but little change in the canned goods market. Jobbers have ample stock for immediate requirements, and having provided for some future

FLOUR AND FEED

IT is the opinion of many of the local flour and feed merchants that an advance in the price of hay is to be expected. The reduction in the United States tariff will open a new market for Canadian hay. Timothy hay is quoted in New York at $15 per ton, and the same hay is reported to be able to be bought in the vicinity of Toronto for $8 per ton, baled and on track at a profit of $1.50 to the seller. The freight will come to about $3 50, so Canadian hay can now be placed on the New York market considerably below the present quotations there.

Dealers report a slightly better demand for cereals, flour moving better owing to cooler weather, and a good demand for bran and shorts. Collections have not improved much, still being poor.

THE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

FLOUR—Dealers report a slightly better demand during the past week. Some of the city mills have made a 10c. reduction on all their fall flours and are selling at the following prices. We quote: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.55 to $3.65; strong bakers', $3.35 to $3.45; Ontario, $3.00 to $3 15; straight roller, $2.80 to $3.

BRAN—The demand is still large owing to the continuation of dry weather, and the price has again advanced 50c. to $1 per ton. City mills have very little on hand and are selling at $12 50 to $13 per ton.

SHORTS—A good demand is reported. There has been no change in price, though some car lots were sold during the week at $16.50 per ton. City mills are selling at $16.

SCREENINGS—The demand remains good at unchanged prices. Good screenings are selling at $12 per ton.

MONTREAL.

There was no change in the situation of the flour market. The tone is steady and values are fairly well maintained. The demand was good on local account, and business continues fairly active, but there was no business done for export. Winter wheat, $3 25 to $3.50; spring wheat, patents, $3.25 to $3.50; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.55 to $2.60; superfine, $2.40 to $2.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.30 to $3.40; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.40 to $3.45.

The feed market is very firm, and prices have an upward tendency, which is due to the light offerings; in fact, some millers have been obliged to stop selling to outsiders, as they have only sufficient stock to supply their regular customers. On the whole an active business is doing. Bran, $15.50; shorts, $17.50 to $18; mouillie, $20.

A fair amount of business was transacted in oatmeal in a jobbing way at steady prices. Standard, brls., $4.30 to $4 40; granulated, brls., $4 30 to $4.40; rolled oats, brls, $4.50 to $4 60; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

Flour is rather firmer, millers being stiff on their price. Stocks here are large and movement slow. Dealers only buy to fill actual wants. Feed flour, owing to scarcity of feed and the high price of cornmeal, is higher and in demand. Cornmeal is firmer again, being about 10c. above last week. Oatmeal, following the low price of oats, is rather easier. Samples of new Ontario oats to hand are hardly up to last year in quality. Prices are 2 to 3c. off from last week. New hay is selling in Woodstock at $6 per ton. This is to make room to store grain. It is expected the price will be higher. The crop is a large one. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $4.30 to $4.35; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4.50 to $4 60; cornmeal, $3 20 to $3.25; middlings on track, $22 to $23; bran, $18 to $19; cottonseed meal, $30 per ton; oats, N.B., 42c.; Ontario, 41 to 42c., on cars; oats, small lots, 47 to 50c.; beans, h.p., $1.55 to $1.60; prime, $1.45 to $1.50; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00; round peas, $3.65 to $3.75; hay on track, $9.50 to $10.

Some 600 brls. damaged flour, ex schr. Welcome Home, were sold by the underwriters at auction at $1.55 to $1.85 per brl.

supplies as well, are holding off more or less at present. We quote as follows: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz. Australian canned meats: Boiled mutton, $1.86 to $1.90 per doz. 1-lb. tins, and $3.10 to $3.15 per doz., 2-lb. tins; roast mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz., 2-lb. tins; corned mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz., 2-lb. tins.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market continues to present a seasonable degree of activity. Several car loads of California fruit changed hands. There are few changes in prices to note. Pears sell at $1.15 to $1.40 per box; plums, $1.10 to $1.40; peaches, $1.10 to $1.75, and grapes, $2.05 to $2.35. Local demand for apples is small. Astrachans sell at $1 to $1.10 per bbl. and Duchess, $1.25 to $1.75. Rodi oranges move at $5 per box. Lemons sell at $3 50 to $4.25, and bananas, 75c. to $1.50 per bunch.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

The egg market continues quiet and unchanged on the whole. Prices remain at 9 to 10c. for choice candled, and 7 to 8c. for culls. Hops sold dull, at 10 to 12c. Potatoes are in light receipt at the moment, and are selling at 95c. to $1.25 per brl. Reports state that the crop this year is a very heavy one.

PROVISIONS.

There was no change in the situation of the local provision market. The demand was fair, and a moderate amount of business was done at quotations. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

Butter rules about the same. The tone is about steady, and we do not hear of any further important operations in the country. With regard to encouragement in the shape of new business from the other side it is not very much en evidence at present. Some of the optimists, however, point to the exceptionally high prices ruling across the line as an influence in favor of steadiness. Finest creamery, 18 to 18¼c.; creamery seconds, 17¼ to 17¾c.; fine Townships, 16 to 17c.; fine Western, 14 to 15½c.

CHEESE.

There is but little business in cheese on spot, and private advices from Great Britain do not indicate much change in the temper of buyers over there. It may be noted, however, that the public cable for the first time since the recent bulge in the country acted in sympathy. It advanced a shilling on Friday last to 46s. The market here is pretty well cleared up of available lots, which have consisted principally of goods from the Townships, Ottawa valley, etc., which have realized around 9½c. Prices for finest Western continues nominal. The goods are here, but they are not offering on spot except at fuller figures than buyers are prepared to pay. At the wharf on Monday the offerings were 5,000 boxes, with 9¾ to 9⅞c. the range, the inside the ruling price. We quote: Finest Western colored, 9⅞ to 10c.; finest Western white, 9¾ to 9⅞c.; finest Townships', 9¾ to 9⅞c.; finest Eastern colored, 9⅝ to 9¾c.; finest Eastern white, 9½ to 9⅝c.; under grades, 9¼c. Cable 46s.

ASHES.

Receipts of ashes continue light and prices rule firm. We quote: First pots $3, seconds $3.70, and pearls $6.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Marshall's herrings in tomato sauce are a genuine breakfast delicacy.

Laporte, Martin & Co. offer their Richard brandy at special prices to the trade.

Frank Magor & Co. report that the new season's marmalades of Charles Southwell & Co. are now ready.

Arthur P. Tippet has been registered proprietor of the firm of A. P. Tippet & Co., manufacturers' agents.

Advices to a leading tea broker here state that Ceylon teas in London have advanced 1d. to 2d. per lb.

Caverhill, Hughes & Co. are at present receiving their new supplies of Crosse & Blackwell's jams, pickles, sauces, etc.

Rose & Laflamme have placed quite a few good lots of California raisins since the market became so bare of Valencia fruit.

Gillespie & Co. don't expect their first importations of new crop Valencia raisins until the end of September, which is a month later than last year.

John Pinder & Co. have put the balance of the cargo of molasses, ex Runnymede, into store. Quotations are therefore no longer ex wharf.

J. Alex. Gordon & Co. have placed during the week on this market two carloads of California canned fruit. The way these goods are put up would be a pointer to some of our Canadian canners. They are due to arrive about the end of September.

W. T. Costigan & Co. note further advices from the Coast about a small catch of salmon on the Columbia and Fraser rivers. Their correspondents hold that there is a possibility of some contracts not being filled.

London advices state that the demand for Burmah rice cargoes has shown more activity, prices being fully 3d. to 4½d. higher. Other kinds of rice also manifest a firmer tendency in London, while at primary markets in Burmah an advance of 3d. nett is reported.

ST. JOHN, N.B., August 23, 1894.

THE past week has seen somewhat of an improvement in business. There has been a strengthening of prices except perhaps in cheese, which, compared with lines west, are low. Cheese is moving slowly. Tea continues to arrive in large quantities, some four thousand five hundred half chests arriving during the past week. No business is receiving more attention at the hands of the wholesalers at present, and the competition between the different houses is keen. The bulk of tea now imported is coming direct from China, almost all the wholesale houses being direct importers. The stocks here and to arrive are large ; it is not expected the trouble between China and Japan will at all affect prices. The tone of the market is not as firm as it is in London, better prices being obtainable there. Large sales of woodenware are reported by brokers at lower prices than for some time past.

SPICE—There is nothing whatever new to report. Values are unchanged and demand is fair. We quote : Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, ground, 20 to 25c.; whole, 15 to 20c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; bicarb soda, $2.30 to $2.38 ; sal. soda, 1 to 1½c.

SALT—The last week has seen a very decided improvement in the demand. Prices are therefore firmer. A combination is reported between local holders to keep the price of coarse at 52c. It is understood that the first cargo to arrive has all been sold. One house sold upward of 6,000 sacks ex store and to arrive, one day this week. Coarse salt, ex store, 52c.; fine factory filled, $1 to $1.15 ; Canadian 5-lb. bags in brls., $3 25; 10-lb. bags, $3.10 ; American salt in 20 lb. wood boxes, 20c.; 10-lb. boxes, 12c.

TOBACCO—The business manager of the firm of Geo. E. Tuckett & Son Co. has been here during the past week and was much pleased at the amount of business done. With four factories now in active competition here it is making somewhat of a change in the tobacco business. Tuckett's brands are quoted by the trade : T. & B. Myrtle Navy plug, 59c.; cut, 70c.; Lily, 46c. ; chewing,

ST. JOHN MARKETS—Continued.

T. & B., long black, 48c.; Mahogany 12's, 48c.; and 7's, 48c. McAlpin's brands: Beaver, 62c.; Tecumseh, 65c.; Jubilee, 49c.; Gold Shield, 49c.; Woodcock, 53c.; Army and Navy, 45c. McDonald's brands: Crown, 43c.; Pilot, 45c.; Index, 43c.; Napoleon, 49c.

OIL—Fish oil is rather firmer and is in limited supply. Prices are as last week. We quote as follows: Burning oil, best American, 18c.; best Canadian, 17c.; prime Canadian, 13c.; terms, 60 days, no charge for barrel; linseed oil, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. Turpentine, 45 to 47c. Cod oil, 28 to 30c. Seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; pale, 38 to 43c. Olive oil, 90c. to $1. Castor oil, 6½ to 7c. Extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

CANNED GOODS—By this time it is usual that the larger part of the canned goods for fall delivery are sold, but not so this year, the association not yet having quoted prices. Outside of vegetables, however, some goods have been sold. Corn is scarce, though for present small demand it is sufficient. Values are a little higher. Demand for canned fruit is at present limited. We quote: Corn, 95c. to $1.10; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.40 to $2.50; oysters, 1's, $1.50; 2's, $2 25; corned beef, 1's, $1.65; 2's, $2.65; salmon, $1.25 to $1.35; lobsters, $1.75 to $2.10; peaches, 2's, $1.70 to $1.90; 3's, $2.70 to $2.90.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—Raisins are quiet. New Californias are now being quoted, but as yet are high. Loose muscatels would cost, landed here, about 6¾c. Talking to one broker selling Valencias direct, he reports 2,500 sold for August shipment, and about 1,000 more for later—a good beginning. Dried apples are hard to get. Currants are firmer, but demand is light. French prunes are being sold here to come direct, fall shipment. We quote as follows: Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5½ to 6c.; London layers, $2.10 to $2.20; loose muscatels, in boxes, 6½ to 6¾c.; prunes, 7 to 7½c.; California, 11 to 12c.; dried apples, 6¾ to 7c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Egyptian onions, 1¾ to 2c.; French walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 15c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazils, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c.; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c.

GREEN FRUIT—Nova Scotia apples are now in the market, but American and Canadian apples continue to have a large sale. New Brunswick apples will soon be on the market; there are never many, but there will be more than usual. N.B. plums will also soon be in the market; the crop is large. Pears are cheaper. Business in fruit is very active. We quote as follows: Lemons, $4.50 to $5.50; oranges, $5.50 to $6; bananas, $2 to $2.50; grapes per basket, $1.00 to $1.25; tomatoes, $2.50 to $3.00 per crate; cucumbers, 25 to 30c. per doz.; watermelons, 40 to 45c. per doz.; gooseberries, 40c. per peck; California apricots, peaches and plums, $2.50 to $3 per crate; California pears, $3.50 to $4.00; Bartlett pears, per brl., $6 to $7; Nova Scotia apples, $1.75 to $2.50.

DAIRY PRODUCTS — Cheese continues quiet and low, and market here does not at all show sympathy with western values. One factory, it is understood, has sold a car for export at slightly over 9 cents. The lack of united efforts among the factories is largely the cause, and also because a large quantity of the cheese are not properly put up for export. The output of cheese in this province will not, it is expected, be up to last year. This is very different from what was expected. Butter is higher, being up from 1½ to 2c. Demand good. One creamery reports selling about 1,000 pounds per week. There will be quite a quantity of creamery tub butter for sale in this province this fall; it is an extra article. Eggs—Supply is equal to demand, at firm figures. Cheese, 10 to 10½c.; butter, 17 to 18c.; creamery, 21 to 22c.; eggs, 9½ to 10c.

MOLASSES—There is nothing to report. Price as last week. Fair demand. Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, fancy, 42 to 43c.; choice, 34 to 35c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27 to 28c.

SUGAR—Our refiners which have already done some business in American markets, are looking forward to a large business there should the present duty cease. Prices are up here and firm, being about ¼c. advance on those of last week. Demand good. Granulated, 4½c.; bright yellow, 3½ to 3⅞c.; yellow, 3¼ to 3½c.; Barbadoes, 3¾c.; powdered, 6 to 6¼c; Paris lump, 6 to 6¼c.

FISH—Owing to the fishermen picking out their large mediums and having the bulk of those sold only just over the required 14 in., the measure being 14 to 22 in, the dealers have decided to make the inside limit 16 in., the measure running to 22 in. All under 16 in. will be regarded as small. Large cod are higher as are bay herring. Smoked fish are easier. Shad are now being caught in fairly large quantities; one day this week nearly 2,000 were landed. The quality is very fine and will make a choice pickle stock. Smoked shad are very popular here, and to lovers of fish there can be no more dainty dish; it is much liked by Americans visiting here. We quote: Large cod, $3 60; medium, $3.20 to $3.35; haddock, $1.75; pollock, $1.70 to $1.75; bay herring, half brl., $1.40 to $1.50; medium smoked herring, 11 to 12c.; lengthwise, 9 to10c.

PROVISIONS—Pure lard is easier. Prices with this exception are as last week. Demand fair. We quote: Clear pork, $19 to $20; P.E.I. mess, $16.50 to $17; prime, $13.50 to $14; plate beef, $13.50 to $14; extra $13.75 to $14.25; pure lard, 9¼ to 10c.; compound, 8 to 9c.; cottolene, 9¼ to 10c.

ABOUT RIO COFFEE CROP.

A SUPPLEMENTARY market report, giving results of exports of coffee from Rio Janeiro for past crop year and comparisons, has been issued by Johnson & Co.:

	Crop Year
To—	1893-94.	1892-93.	1891-92.
The United States, bags...	1,654,828	1,966,898	2,555,105
Europe.....	568,293	820,060	986,465
The Cape of Good Hope..	87,820	96,901	111,670
River Plate and sundries.	42,850	59,332	48,605
Total.....	2,353,791	2,943,191	3,701,845

The verified stock on hand June 30th was 120,000 bags. There is also the following table of direct exports from Victoria, State of Espirito Santo:

	Crop Year
To—	1893-94.	1892-93.	1891-92.
Europe.....Bags	66,429	39,300	10,950
The United States.....	291,824	146,306	94,320
Total.....Bags	358,253	185,606	105,270

After reviewing the discouragements of the past season, Johnston & Co. say that the planting of new fields goes on. Present currency prices are a powerful incentive to production, to which not only the older coffee states, but also the new ones of Espirito Santo and Bahia are responding. The large increase in Victoria exports, as shown by our statement, is due partly to a change in the mode of conducting the business, for all the coffee of home growth is now exported direct instead of coming to Rio; but the area of production in the province will soon be extended by the construction of the railway that will eventually connect the capitals of Espirito Santo and Minas. This line will open a new and rich country in the valleys of the rivers Doce and Manhuassu, causing coffee to be cultivated also in the Minas district north of the Ouro Preto Mountains, well suited for planting, but hitherto neglected on account of the difficult communications and higher freights Bahia is attracting no little attention, and it is worth noting that its exports of coffee, which were, in 1892, 121,000 bags, and in 1893, 315,000 bags, are estimated for 1894 at 400,000 bags. With high prices prevailing, every effort has been made to market the new crop early, and small parcels began to appear even in May. As usual, however, the work of gathering the crop, which is the more important and more urgent, has stopped its preparation for market; besides which heavy and continued rains during June have interfered with all agricultural work, transport included, so that large entries are not expected before the customary time. The new coffee so far shows a good bean, but also the customary lack of careful preparation, type 8 N.Y. (Common Channel) and below composing the lots offered for sale. From inquiries made, with all possible diligence and care we are led to expect a yield of from 3,000,000 to 3,250,000 bags. This does not include the exports from Victoria nor that from Bahia.

PERSONAL MENTION.

W. H. Seyler, of Eby, Blain & Co., went off on his holidays last Monday. When last seen he was boarding a steamer, having in his arms a pair of field glasses and two long-necked pickle (?) bottles tied up in strong paper.

Wm. Ince, sr, and Wm. Ince, jr., returned this week from a bass-fishing expedition to Penetang. There are several less black bass in the waters thereabout as a result.

W. L. Baker, representing the manufacturers of Sapolio, is making a business tour of Canada. He was in Toronto last week. He has just returned from a trip through the Southern and Pacific States, and announces that his orders aggregated larger than ever before for the same territory.

Robert Hamilton, grocer, Queen street east, Toronto, was charged at the Police Court on Tuesday by Eby, Blain & Co. with fraud, it being alleged that he obtained some $1,200 worth of goods on the statement that the house in which he lived was his own property, which the plaintiffs claim is not true. Mr. Blain said in the witness box that Mr. Hamilton gave him a statement of his position in February last, showing assets of $7,100 and liabilities of $1,283, and on the truthfulness of this statement the firm furnished Hamilton all the goods he required since then to the amount of about $1,100. The statement was made because Mr. Blain refused to sell Hamilton any more goods in the state the account was then. Hamilton assigned some time during this month.

LIVE HALIFAX MERCHANTS.

The enterprising wholesale merchants of Halifax propose to use their country customers well during Exhibition week in that city in September. The Herald says: "The wholesale merchants of Halifax some time ago decided to suitably entertain their country customers during Exhibition week. A committee was appointed to arrange details of this very commendable undertaking. The project will doubtless succeed, as it should succeed. The committee propose to have a building erected on the Exhibition grounds, about 50 by 25 feet, in two compartments. One will be used as a reading room, etc., and in the other refreshments will be served. Such an arrangement would prove a great convenience to country merchants, and it ought to be of advantage to the Halifax wholesale men as well."

NOT A COMBINATION.

Wm. Dixon, of Dixon Bros., Hamilton, president of the Fruit Buyers' and Exporters' Association, writes congratulating THE GROCER on its article of last week on the apple situation.

He draws attention to the fact that among some persons not well informed there exists an impression that prices were fixed at the recent meeting in Toronto, and desires THE GROCER to state that such an impression is entirely erroneous. There has been no attempt at a combination to control prices, and every appearance of such has been tabooed. The association exists merely to introduce better methods of business and to collect proper crop reports.

Ice Case

Beg to draw the attention of the trade to the following lines of Fancy Ice Cases, Pie and Cake Collars, and Individual Crimped Cases, manufactured by

Mansell, Hunt, Catty & Co. Limited

LONDON, ENGLAND.

We are sole agents in Canada for these goods. Samples and prices on application. These Ice Cases are really handsome and are very suitable for dinner parties and receptions of all kinds. They can be used a number of times by replacing the inside cup. Made in large variety of styles ranging in price from $1.10 to $3.00 per doz.

THE PIE AND CAKE COLLARS as shown in cuts are the latest and most unique table dressing novelties in the market. Assorted colors, plain or striped. No live grocer should be without them. Send for sample gross.

The Collar Expanded

Our latest specialty for the tea trade is a 1-lb. Folding Caddy, on which we have just been granted a patent by the Dominion Government. It is in appearance an exact representation of a regular China tea chest with matting, and as a tea package beats everything on the market for three reasons :

1st. Because it is much cheaper than a hand-made box.

2nd. Because being a knock-down box it takes up little or no room, and

3rd. Because being a machine made box there is no paste or glue to taint the tea, which has been one of the greatest objections to the old style tea caddies.

ENGLISH MANUFACTURERS AND CANADA.

MEN do not always see the fruit of their labors in a day or a week. Sometimes the flower even only appears after years of persistent work.

If a man takes a pickaxe and shovel and proceeds to make a hole in the ground, he sees the fruit of his labor at every stroke of the pick and with every shovel of earth he lifts.

But the merchant or the manufacturer who is introducing a new article or is assaying to get an old article introduced into new territory, often do not see the fruit of their labors for many a day.

There is nothing new about this, and yet people seem to forget it.

Here is a manufacturer, in England for instance, who has a line of goods which he desires to introduce into Canada or the United States. The article is a good one, and in the home market is popular; or if not at home it is somewhere else. He appoints one or more agents in the country or locality in which he proposes to introduce his goods. Then he advertises.

The time arrives when he thinks the orders should be coming in more freely. He writes the agent to stir him up, and begins to question whether advertising pays. Still the trade does not assume the proportions in the new territory that he anticipated. Then the manufacturer loses patience, and the probability is that he will quietly feel about for another representative, and occasionally goes to the extreme of seriously considering whether he will discontinue advertising.

He has infinite faith in the superiority of his goods; and although this may be true, he forgets, or apparently so at least, that other similar lines have preceded him and become favorites in the territory where his products are making their initiatory bow. This is where the trouble largely arises.

People are conservative, and when they get a good thing will not surrender it until they are persuaded that that offered them is better. It takes time to do this.

But English manufacturers should not forget the conservatism of their own people, and, while ruminating upon this, exercise a little more sympathy and patience with their struggling agents in new fields. True, the people of this continent are tinged with the same peculiarity, but in a lesser degree.

No matter how good a thing may be, or how much it may have been demonstrated in Great Britain or any other country, the people on this side of the Atlantic want to find out its merits for themselves. If it is good and the price right the manufacturer need have no fear of the result. All he needs to have is patience, perseverance and continuity of purpose.

Everything comes to him who waits—and also does a little pushing.

WHAT CUTTING DOES.

CUTTING prices will maim or kill a town as well as individuals.

A well known town northeast from Toronto is a case in point.

It is favorably situated, is traversed by a good river, has excellent manufacturing industries, bright and spacious stores; but the "cutter" got in there some time ago. The disease spread, and by-and-bye many merchants were affected.

Now, where there was once few failures there are many, and some have been disastrous.

The credit of the town has gone down as a result, and wholesalers will tell you that they do not push business there like they formerly did.

"Cutting" is like the buzz saw: It is a dangerous thing to fool with, and the trouble—or rather blessing, perhaps—is that it usually cuts the operator deeper than it does the subject which its teeth are set to annihilate.

With competition as keen as it is, it is a great temptation for merchants to cut in order to induce custom to flow their way; but it is none the less foolish, it is none the less wrong.

Every man has got a right to make a living in whatsoever honest way he may choose, and no one has the right to say him nay. But this is what every merchant is doing when he, with a view to squeezing a competitor to the wall, resorts to cu ting prices.

The trouble is there is too much selfishness in the world. This breeds cutting and cutting breeds dishonesty.

Sink selfishness and "cutting" will die, and with "cutting" dead, merchants will make more money, and live and die happier.

Bury the hatchet.

CANADA'S OPPORTUNITY.

THE question with the United States half a century ago was how to get people into the country. Now it is a question of how to keep them out.

The depression is helping them to solve the problem, it being estimated that during the past six months 151 former immigrants have returned to Europe for every 100 that have come to settle. Two weeks ago a whole colony of Russians that had settled in Kansas decided to take up their beds and return to their native land.

But these outgoing tides do not satisfy the apostles of immigration reform, and leagues are being formed to restrict the incoming tide, although the causes that are increasing the flow of people out of the country are diminishing the volume of the inflow.

The effect of this return of so many former immigrants—the largest in the history of the country—must tend to sow broadcast over Europe a poor opinion of the United States, and to some extent of the American continent.

The position of the United States in this respect is Canada's opportunity.

The United States has practically no arable land to offer the immigrant; Canada has abundance. The United States has no inducements to offer the European agriculturist; Canada has.

The duty of the Government is to seize the present opportunity of acquainting Europe of the favorable position Canada to-day occupies financially as well as a land for settlement.

But it is no use of doing so unless we are prepared to adopt a liberal immigration policy.

We do not want mechanics, clerks or dudes; we want brawny sons of agriculture, the kind whose value to the country is placed at one thousand dollars each.

This class of immigrants we should bonus either with free farms or farms at a nominal cost.

Assisted passages are neither popular nor desirable.

The people who are too poor to buy their own tickets are hardly the class we want.

Canada wants immigrants with a little money, plenty of brawn and muscle, and a fair meed of intelligence.

To men of this class Canada should be only too glad to give free land, or land at a nominal price.

Land has no practical value unless people dwell on it or are adjacent to it; and the way to place a value on our unsettled and fertile lands in the Northwest is to hold out such inducements as will persuade the people of overcrowded Europe to take up their abode with us.

Now, when the opportunities are more than usually favorable, is the time for the Government to act.

FAVORABLE TO CANADIAN BEANS.

REFERENCE was made in last week's GROCER to the possibilities of increased trade in white beans with the United States consequent upon the change in the tariff.

Since then other factors favorable to the advancement of Canada's bean trade with the United States, this season at least, have come under our observation.

We have reference to the market. It is considered in excellent shape. The available stocks in New York, according to the Journal of Commerce, do not exceed 12,000 to 15 000 bags. Then the country is bare of domestic goods, leaving consumers to depend for supplies on the foreign article for the next six weeks. Two boat loads are on the way to New York, one of which contains 26,000 bags. These two consignments are held to be the last of the desirable stock to be had in primary markets. The new Hungarian crop, from which the United States market principally draws its foreign supplies, will be ready for shipment about the middle of next month.

The weather in Hungary this season has been unfavorable to bean culture and it is estimated that the crop will not be over 50 per cent. of last year's yield. On account of this, and in view of the insufficiency of the domestic supply, materially higher prices are expected to rule.

The condition of the bean crop in the Province of Ontario, as reported to the Agricultural Department, August 15th, was critical. "If rain falls," says the report, "a fair crop may be harvested; if the drouth continues there will be but a very limited crop." And the trouble is the drouth has continued. The yield per acre according to the same report was estimated at 14.6 bushels.

With the duty lower and the market favorable Canada should, during the ensuing season, largely increase her sale of beans with Uncle Sam.

SLOTHFUL EXPRESSAGE.

EXPRESS companies are useful adjuncts to trade. Parcels which require speedy delivery and consignments of goods which would spoil if sent by the ordinary freight train are gathered and sent forward on the swift-moving passenger train.

But we are living in an age characteristically evolutionary, and express companies, like all other transportation organizations, must conform themselves to the new and improved order of things, or give place to something that will.

There is at least one company, the Canadian Express Company, which seems to be so loaded down with the barnacles of the Past, that it refuses to adapt itself to the methods and requirements of the Present.

THE GROCER has had two instances of this recently.

A parcel was delivered at the Toronto office before noon to be sent out on a train leaving between four and five o'clock. It was important that it should go on that train, but it did not.

When enquiry was made at the office of the company, this curt explanation was given by an official: "O, if you wanted the parcel to go on that train you should have had it in the office here the day before."

Twenty-four or thirty-six hours to get a small parcel away! Awake, ye Rip Van Winkles.

If this instance illustrated the sloth of the Canadian Express Co., the other exhibited the crudeness of its system.

A parcel containing five rolls of wall paper, neither too burdensome to be handled nor too small to be seen, was expressed from Montreal for Toronto. It was addressed to a gentleman well known in Toronto, and whose firm frequently does business with the company, giving his initials but no street number.

The day the parcel was due enquiry was made for it at the office, but the enquirer was told it had not arrived. Three days later the consignee himself made enquiries, and he too was told there was no parcel addressed to him.

Wondering at the delay he walked over to where a number of parcels were lying, and there, lo and behold, was the identical parcel. It had lain there three days.

When confronted with the parcel an official remarked: "There was no street number given, and we have no time to look up the directory."

The consignee left the parcel, saying he would send for it. He did send for it, and when the messenger asked for a parcel addressed to Mr. So-and So, "There is no parcel here for anyone by that name," was the answer that again came And before that parcel could be obtained the consignee had to again go and turn it out.

Could not "find time" to look at the city directory, indeed! Why, even in the post office department, where so many thousands of letters, post cards and papers are handled daily, they are able to find time to turn up the directory for an address should it be wanting.

Of course, if an express company cannot "find time," it is high time that the privileges it enjoys were taken from it and placed where time can be found to attend to such matters.

There is a growing belief in this country that the expressage of parcels should devolve upon the postal authorities as well as the carrying of letters. And nothing that we know of will assist more in propagating this belief than such instances as those cited.

THE ACTIVITY IN TEA.

THE deal for future supplies of tea between the jobbing houses and the selling agents continues to be one of the most interesting features of the grocery market in Montreal at present.

THE GROCER'S correspondent in a round of the trade at the close of last week found out that the tea market was on the average fully 2c. higher on all grades of tea. He ascertained also that the China-Japan trouble was being worked for all it was worth.

As pointed out in an interview given in these columns a week or so ago, though it does not do to ignore the possible influence of the troubles on the tea market, it is just as well for buyers not to get excited over all the reports that are related to them about how high tea is going to be, etc.

There can be no doubt that the tea market is firm, and that it is not safe for buyers to "bank" on obtaining better terms by holding off, but this does not mean by any means that we are going to have a positive tea famine in Canada. There are eight firms of selling agents in Montreal, and from all that can be learned four of them at least have in the aggregate quite a nice little quantity of tea on the way.

It has to be admitted, however, that the offerings of first crop teas on this market have been bought up with greater freedom than usual and at fuller figures.

This, however, is only natural under the circumstances, and it is not at all surprising that buyers with small stocks on hand quickly take up any offers to arrive.

One fact worthy of notice in this connection is the influence all these reports is having on the small buyers.

Jobbers stated to THE GROCER man on Monday morning last that the demand in this connection was quite active, and not a few of them also admitted at the same time that they had some fair supplies of fresh goods on the way.

The member of a trading firm also expressed the opinion that he did not think they would see the advance of from 5 to 8c. in the market that some of the sanguine ones expected unless the belligerent powers closed the treaty ports. This, he said, was very unlikely, as he felt certain that both England and the United States would have something very forcible to say against any decision of the kind.

He believed, nevertheless, in a firm tea market, remarking, at the same time, that the advance in tea above referred to was mainly attributable to the advance of twopence in the rate on silver toward the close of last week.

Advices to some sales agents were also seen, and were to the effect that the Russians were after Moyune gunpowders, which were from 25 to 35 per cent. higher than last year, while the boom in the American tea market that has already been referred to appears to be as strong as ever.

CROPS IN ONTARIO.

WHAT has for some time been no secret regarding the crops in Ontario, has been emphasized by the bulletin just issued by the Provincial Agricultural Department. Ontario has, on the whole, a fairly good crop.

Fall wheat is probably the best crop of the season, the average yield being placed at 21.6 bushels per acre. Spring wheat was injured by drouth and seems to be limited in quantity and light in weight, and yielded but 16.1 bushels per acre. Anticipating the reduction in the United States territory, there has been an increased acreage devoted to barley compared with last year, but the yield per acre is below the average and on the whole there will be available only a limited quantity of plump, bright barley for export. The average yield per acre is 22.7. There is a large increase in the acreage devoted to oats, but on account of the drouth and ravages in the west by grasshoppers the yield per acre is but fair, namely, 30.4 bushels. The yield of peas is estimated at 17.5 per acre, and the report says "that on the whole the yield of first-class peas will probably be less than for some years past. The bean crop is light at 14.6 bushels per acre. The hay crop was good, yielding 1.39 tons to the acre. The cultivation of corn is receiving more attention in this province, but the drouth is interfering with its development, although from Eastern Ontario the reports are encouraging. In Western Ontario the yield of potatoes is small, while reports from the eastern part of the province are encouraging. As with potatoes, so with roots, the yield is small west and fair east. The yield of grapes is said to be below the average, but other fruits are fair crop. Honey is somewhat darker in color, but of good flavor. The average yield will be less than usual.

IT IS NICE AND TERSE.

A. M. Little, general merchant, Waterford, has decided to retire from business, and has issued an attractive circular to his customers announcing the fact. The first paragraph is so nicely and tersely put that THE GROCER deems it worthy of reproduction. It reads:

"After doing business in Waterford for over 26 years, and during that time have neither failed nor made a fortune, I have finally decided to retire. I believe that it is just as important for a man to know when to quit as it is when to begin. During my career in this place my business relations with the people of Waterford and surrounding country have, on the whole, been of the most pleasant character. I have been accustomed to meet daily with so many pleasant people and to see so many cheerful faces that it is with a great deal of hesitancy that I have decided to take this step."

A while ago our merchants decided to close their places of business on Thursday afternoons, and other evenings at 8.30. We were very much surprised to see one of them with his store open all day last Thursday, while others acted as they agreed. It is no common sight to see some of the stores still open at nine, and even later. We think the guilty parties apparently have little consideration for their agreement.—Delhi cor., St. Thomas Journal.

CHAT BY THE WAY.

OWING to steadily increasing business Henry J. Lehman, merchant, of West Montrose, has been compelled to build an addition to his store.

Toronto master bakers to-day agreed to advance the price of bread one cent per large loaf.

An order for flour and meal has been received by E. D. Tillson, Tilsonburg, from the Canary Islands.

Large shipments of lumber are expected to go out from Hamilton now that the new tariff is in force.

Willis Mason, late of the Manning House block, Windsor, has removed to the double store in the new Fleming block.

Galt clerks get their weekly half holiday on Thursday afternoons, all the stores closing at 1 o'clock for the rest of the day.

The canning company at Ridgetown intend putting up a quantity of pears this season, the crop of which is enormous in that section.

W. Winkler has purchased the stock of groceries from M. E. Eby on King street, Berlin, and will continue the business in the same stand.

Charles Richards, assistant clerk in the water works office, St. Thomas, has purchased the fruit and confectionery business of M. Rochleau, Sandwich street east.

The stock of A. Munro, grocer, St. Thomas, will be sold and the estate wound up. Mr. Munro declines to accept the offer of the creditors to pay twenty-five cents on the dollar.

Albert E Hourd, of this city, has entered into the management of the White Star Store, corner of Front and Caradoc streets, Strathroy, having purchased the stock from T. B. Escott & Co.

G. H. Bennett, of Walkerville, who is the owner of a large vineyard, says the prospects for the largest yield of grapes in several years is excellent. He expects to have over 100 tons on his own vines.

D. D. Wilson, the Seaforth egg buyer, claims that it will pay farmers better to feed their wheat to the hens and sell the eggs at eight cents a dozen than to market the grain at fifty cents a bushel.

Owing to the drought the drying up of pasture and the difficulty of procuring water, some of the milkmen of St. Thomas express their intention of raising the price of milk on September 1 to 6c. per quart.

Wm. Garvey, better known as the "Butter King," died at Morrisburg, Ont., recently, aged 66 years. The deceased who, 10 or 12 years ago, was the largest butter shipper in America, resided in Morrisburg for over 40 years.

T. A. Crane and James Carruthers, of Montreal, and C. B. Watts and G. A. Chapman, of Toronto, have been appointed members of the Western board to select grain standards, which meets in Winnipeg on September 10.

The following have been elected members of the Toronto Board of Trade: James C. Grace, secretary-treasurer Toronto Railway Co.; F. Clare, stove manufacturer, Preston, and Robert B. Harcourt, tailor and gents' furnisher, King street west.

The rise in price of silver is having a more or less stimulating effect upon nearly all East Indian products. On the grocery markets the articles most directly influenced are teas and spices, the latter in some cases having a quotation at primal points above valuation level here.

The retail grocers of Atlanta, Ga., are making efforts to have the peddler's ordinance changed. The peddlers pay a license of $5 per month, while the retail grocer pays an ad valorem tax, rent, insurance and clerks' hire, in addition to the business tax placed upon him.

The Ridgetown gas well is down 750 feet and the well has been cased. Indications of gas are plentiful, but the impression is that gas will not be struck short of 1,500 feet. The work is being pushed along rapidly, and Ridgetown will soon know whether she is to have more gas or not.

R. Booth's lumber yard, Ottawa, was destroyed by fire Sunday. Loss about $75,000, upon which there is insurance amounting to $40,000 in the following companies: Manchester, $5,000; North British and Mercantile, $10,000; London and Lancashire, $5,000; Union, $5,000; Sun Insurance Co., $5,000; Northern, $5,000; Lancashire, $5,000.

An order-in-council has been passed appointing the Board of Examiners for the selection of standards of grain grown east of Port Arthur. W. D. Matthews, of Toronto, is chairman, and the other representatives are: Thomas Flynn, H. N. Baird, and J. L. Spink, Toronto; R. R. Morgan, Hamilton; R M. Esdaile, A. G Thompson, A McFee, Montreal; James Carrick, Toronto, and W. Brodie, Quebec. The board will meet in Toronto at the call of the chairman.

During the present berry season nearly 26 tons of fruit, or 34,000 baskets, have been shipped over the M. C. R. from Leamington. The average net price would be about 8c. per box, making the nice sum of $2,700. It is thought that the amount shipped over the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway at that point would fully equal the quantity taken by the other road, making $5,440 received by the growers, out of which sum $1,300 were paid the pickers, the school boys and girls.—Times, Windsor.

Free Press, Winnipeg: Rublee, Riddell & Co., the wholesale fruiterers of this city, have added a new branch to their business, through the purchase of the biscuit and confectionery factory lately operated by Wm. Bateman. A thorough renovation of the premises and overhauling and replacing of the machinery is now in progress. The firm expect to have the new branch of their business in full operation in every department within the next ten days, and travelers on the road. The biscuit and confectionery business will admirably fit in with their present extensive wholesale fruit trade, and should ensure a double success.

A circular issued by Wilhelm Schroder, under date of August 11, gives spice statistics of the Government in Holland, as follows: July, 1894—Nutmegs, landed, 92 tons; delivered, 44 tons. Mace, landed, 25 tons; delivered, 13 tons. Cloves, landed, 5 tons; delivered, 2 tons. Pepper, landed, 101 tons; delivered, 75 tons. Stocks, August 1, 1894—1,094 tons nutmegs, 403 do. mace, 738 do. cloves, 5,209 do. pepper; do., 1893—849 tons nutmegs, 375 do. mace, 528 do. cloves, 5,094 do. pepper; do., 1892—691 tons nutmegs, 290 do. mace, 466 do. cloves, 1,645 do. pepper. Mr. Schroder also writes that nutmegs and mace are in rather better demand after the rest during the past six weeks. The tendency is very steady, as it is known that the next periodical sale will be very small. The largest importer, the C. & H. V. Banda, will only bring about 1,300 cases nutmegs and 300 cases mace, against 2,165 cases nutmegs and 613 cases mace in the last sale. Particulars, as well as the date of the next sale, are not yet given. Arrivals in the first seven months of nutmegs in 1894, 555 tons gross, against 640 do. in 1893; deliveries in 1894, 507 tons gross, against 344 do. in 1893. Arrivals of mace in 1894, 101 tons gross, against 212 do. in 1893; deliveries in 1894, 128 tons gross, against 120 do. in 1893. Pepper advancing. In 1894 arrivals were 747 tons and deliveries 909 tons, against arrivals in 1893 of 3,645 tons and deliveries of 528 tons. The opinion for pepper is generally favorable; stocks in second hands are small and a good demand for consumption is expected. Offers from the East are scarce; it seems to me that the next crop is contracted for—the greatest part—and in firm hands.

NOTES.

"Yes, teas are up and going higher," say Lucas, Steele & Bristol. "Can see nothing else ahead. But Japan friends advise us that all their Chinamen are leaving the country and that prices have gone up two cents past few days. Freights and exchanges have also advanced. We have a heavy stock all bought before advances."

Spices and seasonings of all kinds are for sale by Lucas, Steele & Bristol in 10c. tins, 2 doz. in the case. They also have mixed spice and cayenne in 5c. tins, 3 doz. in the case.

A full supply of Roberts' jellies are now to hand with Lucas, Steele and Bristol. This firm also offer Chinese Cumgurts (oranges) preserved in pots like ginger.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol expect in store in a few days some choice salt water herrings, also mackerel in half barrels and kitts.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

MILLINERY is the chief line of goods to receive attention from the very numerous buyers which have thronged the market this week. Despite half-hearted feelings and doubtful prognostications, the number of people who have visited the millinery houses this week is fully equal to that of last season, and trade has been equally promising. Buying has been much ahead of expectations. When the writer visited S. F. McKinnon & Co.'s on Tuesday, Mr. Guthrie stated that they could utilize ten more salesmen than they had. At McCall's the customers seemed to find difficulty in securing salesmen to wait upon them, and so it was at the other houses. At the dry goods houses a very unusual bustle was apparent, and enquiries for all lines of goods were acknowledged to be surprisingly active. The shipping rooms were also very busy, showing that buyers wanted goods immediately and were not buying at random.

The new hats are, for the most part, in velvet, and also derived from the latest summer shapes. The trimmings only have changed, and will include ribbons, velvets, feathers, birds, jet ornaments—principally wired passementerie. Jet is likely to have much success. Ostrich tips and long plumes are in favor. Ostrich edgings and pinpins will also be used, and they allow of all sorts of dispositions and combinations. Of stuffed birds, the preferred are among the smallest, the tangara, the chimney and sea swallows. Among the larger, the most in demand are the white dove and pigeon, the largest species of minuta, the Formosa swallow, the woodcock, the touraco, and the paradise bird.

In fancy feathers, the woodcock lyre and all curved ornaments will be most in favor; next come the wings and birds. White birds will be in demand, and they are intended more especially for ornaments in the front of the hats. There will be a demand for curved coq feathers in white and in colors, wings and quills of changeable shades, small aigrettes mounted with groups of small birds, and bow-shaped ornaments will be worn.

A novelty in feathers is an imitation of flowers, altogether different from what has been seen. The most remarkable are roses and peonies in all imaginable shades. The scale of colors are as complete as possible; there are to be found in the flowers as many as six tints of red combined in perfect harmony.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

The cooler weather of the past week has led to a somewhat better actual movement in dry goods, but it cannot be said yet that the trade has entirely lost its midsummer dulness.

A feature of the week was the receipt of an order by a leading local house for a large line of blankets for the Ottawa district which has been filled.

The millinery openings which take place on Tuesday next (the 4th) are expected to bring in quite an influx of buyers, as the usual reduced rate excursions have been arranged. This always leads to some incidental buying of general dry goods and is expected to have the same effect this year.

Cotton goods continue to attract some attention, fair sized orders for white goods being spoken of. The city retail trade also has been rather brisker during the past ten days.

A MONTREALER'S BIG PROFIT.

A merchant, who has his office in the Board of Trade building, has just had a remarkable stroke of good luck. Two months ago he brought a cargo of 15,000 bags of sugar from Cuba to New York. The cargo was entered free. The merchant forsaw that a change in the tariff was likely and decided to hold on to his cargo. He has just returned from a trip to New York, and stated to a Star reporter to-day that he had an offer of $25,000 clear profit on the transaction. He refused it, however, hoping to make $45,000 once the President signs the

They would, however, make from five to six million dollars on their stock of raw sugar in hand.—Star.

ADVICE ON COLD STORAGE.

THE temperature to preserve food substances by cold must be at or below the freezing point of fresh water, says a writer in the American Agriculturist. Substances so preserved should be gradually thawed before they are cooked, either by boiling or baking. Meats that are naturally tough are greatly improved by freezing, and when frozen may be kept as long as one desires. The preservation of meats in refrigerators on ocean steamers has been found very advantageous, not only for consumption on the voyage, but as a supply for foreign markets. The preservation of fruits of various sorts by cold storage, in what are sometimes called retarding houses, has been largely tried for a number of years. It is found to be a valuable method of keeping the fruit whenever there is a glutted market. But it is not desirable for a great length of time, as some of the fruits so preserved soon lose their fine flavors, and depreciate in value. The average temperature for success in cold storage is found to be between 32 and 40 degrees F. If peaches are kept in this degree of cold for a fortnight they will lose their flavor. Pears like the Bartlett keep well at 38 degrees F. for three weeks, but are worthless if the time be extended to three or four months. The different varieties of both pears and peaches vary considerably in their keeping qualities, both in and out of cold storage. With the exception of peaches, experience indicates that the most delicate skinned fruits may be kept in cold storage all the time it is necessary, without perceptibly losing their flavor.

Moore & Wilcox are busy preparing to commence operations at their evaporator on Bay street next week, by which time they expect to have everything going at full blast. They have advertised for 10,000 bushels of apples, and, if they can get them, will probably require twice that amount. They have made some slight changes in the evaporator which will facilitate operations, and they also intend building an addition for storing fruit as it arrives.—Times, Owen Sound.

EDWARD LAWSON DEAD.

Edward Lawson, of the Victoria Tea House, Church and Colborne streets, Toronto, is dead. He had been ill for about three weeks, but it was not known by the trade generally, and the announcement of his death, in spite of his advanced years, came as a surprise. Deceased, to use the words of an admirer of his, "was a fine old gentleman." Everybody liked him. He was honest, fearless, and outspoken and genial. He was a man. As he was held in esteem as a man so was he as a tradesman. For many years he was adjudged to be the best tea expert in Toronto, and he retained his reputation as a connoiseur to the end of his days. The trade of Toronto had ample opportunity to judge him. He came here some 65 years ago, and at the time of his death had been in business over 50 years. He was in his 76th year when he died, but he preserved his age so well that he looked many years younger. The funeral took place Tuesday last, and was largely attended. The pall bearers representing the grocery trade were Wm. Ince, Sr., J. W. Cowan, and Robert Swan. Among other members of the wholesale grocery trade were noticed P. C. Larkin, W. G. A. Lambe, and A. B. Lambe.

DUTY IMPOSED ON TIN FOIL TEA PACKAGES.

The appraisers at the Toronto Customs house have ruled that the tin foil packages of package teas must pay a duty.

This decision was the result of representations made by Canadian package tea men.

The value placed by the appraisers on the different-sized packages, the printed labels included, is as follows: One pound package, 3c.; half-pound package, 2c.; quarter-pound package, 1½c. On this value a duty of 30 per cent. is charged. The tea in the packages is, of course, free.

Under the old tariff the packages were free, but the Canadian merchants who put up tea in packages had to pay a duty of 30 per cent. on the tin foil they imported for making their packages. This, of course, gave the foreign package tea an advantage over the domestic. Now, it will be observed, the burden rests on the former.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. L. Watt, of Watt & Scott, is holidaying in Muskoka.

C. W. Boon who is carrying a grip of "Tetley's Tea" samples in the West, is finding the tea rapidly increasing in popularity, and reports some very good sales. "Tetley's Tea," it is said, can be found in all the principal towns and villages of Canada.

CHARGE RE HORSESHOE SALMON.

SOME houses in Toronto are alleged to be palming off on the trade last season's pack of "Horseshoe" brand canned salmon for new season's pack.

"Do you know," said my informant, "that there are wholesale houses who have so little regard for the truth as to be imposing upon their customers by professing to be selling them new season's pack of 'Horseshoe' salmon, when as a matter of fact not a tin of new 'Horseshoe' has reached this market yet. It shows a state of business morality that it grieves me to discover. I am not speaking from mere hearsay. I am telling you what I know to be true."

"Yes, and I can prove it," said a traveler who heard a part of the conversation, "for I came across two instances of it myself."

"I would not say," interposed my original informant, "that the principals of the firms in question are parties to this fraud. I hope, for the morality of the trade, that they are not."

I afterwards put these questions over the telephone to Geo. Stanway, the Toronto agent for "Horseshoe" brand:

"Has any 'Horseshoe' salmon, new season's pack, arrived on the Toronto market yet?"

"No, there has not."

"Are you positive?"

"Positive."

"When do you expect the first shipment to arrive?"

"In about ten days."

A grocery traveler, who was up West last week, writes: "Geo. Hasenflug, 'city grocer,' Waterloo, has one of the best stocked and well managed grocery and crockery stores on the G.T.R. west of Toronto. In addition to his grocery and crockery business, he is a large jobber of fresh fruit in the season, his sales to the 22nd, just of huckleberries alone, being over 3,000 baskets. Waterloo evidently is a good distributing point for this class of business, and Mr. H. seems to have the right run of it. He also is a large dealer in plums, peaches, pears, grapes and other varieties."

L. Augusina, an Italian and street pedler of Toronto, has absconded leaving debts to about the amount of $2,000. One commission merchant is out over $600, and several others $200. He is reported to have gone to Italy. Their experience with this man will probably learn commission merchants a lesson which they will not forget very soon.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Aug. 30, 1894.

GROCERIES.

SUGARS and teas continue to be the cynosures of the trade on account of their hardening tendencies. Since our last review two advances of ⅛c. each have taken place, and although they stimulated the demand to some extent yet the volume of business in sugars is still somewhat disappointing. Teas are firmer, particularly Japans, for which higher prices are asked. Business in teas is fairly good. Advices quote rice higher in Japan, but there has been no change here. Canned goods are not important factors in the market just now. A good business is being done in spices, and syrups are moving fairly well for the season. Nothing new has developed in dried fruits, nor is there likely to until the new fruit arrive. A good many of the houses have not a box of Valencia raisins in their possession. Payments are fair.

CANNED GOODS.

Nothing new has developed. Business is quiet all round for vegetables. Tomatoes and peas are selling at 85 to 90c. and corn at 90c. There is a good demand for salmon at $1.15 to $1.30 for talls and $1.35 to $1 40 for flats. The market is strong. Lobster is quiet and unchanged. We quote: Tall tins, $1.80 to $2; $2.40 to $2.50 for flats; and $1.35 for new flat ½'s. Canned fruits are quiet and unchanged. We quote: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.65 to $2.80, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40.

COFFEES.

There are no new features. Business is quiet, with good grades of Rio scarce. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

In New York the demand on the street market for Brazil growths lack speculative composition, and from regular trade sources comes out in very much the old slow, careful form. Buyers complain of quality as usual, but there are indications that even with a better assortment available the opportunities for an expansion of business would be exhausted at a few thousand bags, and there are some who believe that a guaranteed offer to deliver strictly standard grading would meet with much less custom than imagined, while the coffee is not really forthcoming.

RICE.

The price of Japan rice has advanced equal to ½c. per lb. in primary markets owing to the war. There has been no change here. Business is quiet. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

There is still a fair seasonable trade doing at unchanged prices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12 to 14c.; pure white 20 to 28c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

Sugar is ¼c. dearer than a week ago, there having been two advances of ⅛c. each since last review. The ruling figures are now 4½ to 4⅝c. for granulated and 3⅜ up for yellows. These advances have stimulated the demand somewhat, but still the volume of business is not as large as jobbers would like to see it. To induce business there is still some cutting being done. Some houses are said to be not even getting the advance of a month ago. Low grade yellows are scarce, some of the refiners having none. Raw sugars are quiet at 3¼c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, 28th inst.: Holders of raw sugars are generally in cheerful confident mood. Refiners are well satisfied with investments recently made, and importers who are carrying remaining stocks feel that while possibly they may not be able to secure any further immediate gain, the chances are largely in favor of fully retaining the recent advances, on the theory that whatever stimulus there may be in the change of duty is probably only just about discounted and the sugars now to come forward are small.

SYRUPS.

Demand is fair for the season, but there are not many selling yet. There are not many syrups to be had, and prices are firm. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Continue quiet at unchanged prices. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

Stimulated by the advance in primary markets, jobbers here are asking higher prices for Japan tea. The movement continues brisk in new season's Japan tea at 18 to 21c. for medium, and 30 to 35c. for high-priced teas. There is very little new season's Japans left in first hands. Low grade new season's tea at about 15 to 16c. is expected to arrive every day, and a good demand is anticipated for it. Low grade old season's Japan tea is obtainable at 12½ to 15c. Low grade Ceylon teas have been moving freely, and there is a fair and increasing movement in Indian and Ceylon teas at from 17 to 35c. China blacks are quiet, and those principally selling range from 15 to 25c. Young Hysons are quiet at 12 to 27c.

DRIED FRUIT.

Valencia raisins on spot are gradually getting into smaller compass, some of the houses being cleaned out completely. The few there are consist of off-stalk, and those who have them are getting 6¼ to 6½c. Advices from Denia state that the outlook for the new crop continues good, the fruit so far coming into the market in limited quantities.

There is a good demand for currants, better than is usual on account of the scarcity of Valencia raisins. The first shipment of new season's currants was made on Tuesday last from Patras. It will be about four or five weeks before it reaches here. Quotations are: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¾c. in brls., and 4½ to 5c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases.

Barff & Co., of Patras, under date of Aug. 9, advise P. L. Mason & Co. as follows: Since issuing our last report in date of 20th ultimo, very hot weather accompanied by scorching winds has prevailed, and this has tended to further reduce the growing crop of currants. We append our estimate drawn up on advices received from all districts and from this it will be seen that, if all goes well during drying season, the coming crop will fall short by 40,000 to 47,000 tons of crop 1893, which reached the hitherto unprecedented total of 175,000 tons. Quality of coming crop is expected to be fine on the whole and prices will naturally be considerably higher than those which have been ruling during the last nine months. Shipments of new fruit will commence on 28th instant. Owing to shortness of crop prices of 1893 fruit have advanced considerably. Approximate estimate of currant crop, 1894:

Prunes are quiet and unchanged. We quote U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's, 7½c.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c. Cables quote the Trieste markets easier.

Advices received by P. L. Mason & Co. from C. Whittal, Smyrna, under date August 10, say regarding Sultana raisins: "Forecasts about our yield vary continually. We ourselves are inclined to think that the yield will be about 23,000 tons against a total of 38,000 tons last season. The little old fruit that remains in Smyrna is held firmly for an advance. We expect relatively higher prices during the coming season."

Advices to the same firm regarding Eleme figs say: "Very damp and mild nights of late are favoring the trees, and hopes are entertained of the yield reaching two-thirds of last year's production. The better grades will be scarce."

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The situation is much as before in regard to butter. Holders are asking from 14 to 16c., but there is such a small proportion of choice butter in lots generally that jobbers say they cannot pay these prices. A couple of round lots of low grade changed hands a few days ago at 13c. Good butter is wanted, but poor stuff is accumulating. Demand is nearly altogether for dairy tubs and creamery pound prints. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17 to 18c.; straight store, 15 to 16c.; crocks, 18c.; bakers' butter, 12 to 14c.; pound rolls, 19 to 20c. Creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

Cheese is in fair demand and firmer at 10½c. for July and August makes.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Provisions continue in good demand with prices advancing. Sales of round lots of long clear bacon are reported. A number of dressed hogs are coming in and demand is fair at $6.75.

BACON—Long clear, 8 to 8¼c.; smoked backs, 12 to 12½c.; breakfast bacon, 12½ to 13c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.

HAMS—Small and medium, 12½c.; large, 11½c.; pickled, 11c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, 9 to 9¼c. in tubs, 9¼ to 9½c. in pails, and 8½ to 8¾c. in tierces. Compound, 7½ to 7¾c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $18; Canadian short-cut, $18.50 to $19; shoulder mess, $14.50 to $15; clear mess, $15 to $15.50.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The receipts at the Western yards Tuesday were 45 carloads, and left over from Friday 20, making 65 in all. There was a fair demand for shipping cattle, and they ruled steady. The best brought 3¾ to 4c. per lb., and others 3½c. The bulk of butchers' cattle is of inferior quality, and the demand for them is somewhat slack. The best, averaging 1,000 to 1,100 lbs. sold at 3¼ to 3½c per lb. Medium at 2¾ to 3c., and inferior at 2¼ to 2½c. per lb. Calves dull at $1.50 up to $6.50 per head, the latter for choice veals. Milch cows not wanted, and prices heavy. They sold at $40 down to $15 for very inferior animals. Cables are weaker for sheep, but prices were a little firmer here than on Friday. The best exporters brought 3½c. per lb., and butchers' sheep from $2 to $3 per head. Lambs inactive and easy, with only a limited demand. They sold at $1.75 to $2.50 per head. Hogs steady, with choice long and lean animals fetching $5.40 to $5.50; thick fats, $5; stores, $4.75 to $4.80; sows, $4.50, and stags, $2.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

Lemons are in fair demand, and there is a good supply of new season's growth. All old lemons are cleaned out. Bananas are "draggy," with prices easy at $1 to $1.25 for firsts, 75 to 90c. for seconds, and 60 to 75c. for thirds. Pears are dull. Peaches are arriving more freely again, and the market is absorbing them pretty well, country orders being particularly good. Plums are in fair demand and firm. There is a good demand for grapes, and the supply is about equal to it. There are not many watermelons coming in, and there are not many wanted. Muskmelons are in good demand. There is a fair supply of tomatoes, and demand is good. Baskets of apples are scarce and prices for apples generally are about 40 per cent. higher than a week ago. We quote: Oranges—Sorrentos, 200's, $5 per box. Lemons—Fancy Rodhi, 300's, $5 to $5 50 per box; ditto, 360's, $5.25 to $5.50 per box; Palermos, 360's, $3 50 per box; 360's, $4.50 per box. Bananas, firsts $1 to $1.25; seconds, 75 to 90c.; thirds, 60 to 75c. per bunch. Watermelons, $15 per 100. Musk melons, $1 to $1.25 per case; $1.50 to $2 per brl., and 40c. to 75c. per basket. Huckleberries, 40 to 50c. per basket. Cucumbers, 25c. per basket. Tomatoes, 20 to 25c. per basket. Peaches, 40c. to $1.10 per basket. Pears, $3 to $4 per brl. for Bartlett's and 40 to 50c. per basket. Plums, 50 to 60c. per basket, large plums, $1; green gages, 65 to 85c. per basket. Apples, $1.50 per brl. Grapes—Champion's, 3c. lb.; Moore's Early, 5c. lb. California green fruit—Peaches, $1.25 to $1.35 per case; plums, $1 to $1.50 per case; pears, $2.50 to $2.75 per box.

COUNTRY PORDUCE.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged at $1.25 to $1.40.

POTATOES—Demand is fair and supplies are liberal. Prices are easier, carloads offering on track at 60c. per bag, with 55c. bid. Jobbers are ordinarly getting 70c. out of store.

EGGS—There has been some improvement both in quality and in price. Demand is fair. The ruling figure is 10c. for first-class stock, but there is plenty of poor eggs to be had at 7½ to 8c.

ONIONS—New crop are quoted at 50 to 65c. per bushel; Egyptian, $1.25 per sack.

HOPS—Dull at 13 to 15c.; package hops, 20c. per lb.

FISH.

The feeling is now a little better, the demand now being equal to the supply. Prices are almost the same as last week. We quote: Skinned aud boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c.; Lake Erie herring, $1.75 to $2 per 100; blueback herring, 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; salmon trout, 6½c.; white fish, 6½ to 7c.; pike, 5c. lb.; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 5 to 6c.; large halibut, 10c.; ciscoes, $1.25.

SALT.

Trade is firm, although the pickle crop will not be as good as was anticipated, hence the demand for coarse salt will not be as strong as usual in the fall. Prices are unchanged and as follows: Dairy, $1.50, special grade; brls., 90 to 95c.; coarse sacks, 68c.; fine sacks, 70c.; American rock, $10 per ton.

PETROLEUM.

There is no change from last week. Trade is good in small lots. Prices are unchanged: We quote, in 5 to 10 brl. lots, imperial

MARKET NOTES.

See W. Paterson & Sons' "cough drops," packed in 5 lb. tins.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have now in stock 1-lb. tall and 1-lb. and ½-lb. flat tins new pack lobsters.

"W. Paterson & Sons' soda biscuits," writes the firm, "are leaders, in 3 lb. red boxes."

T. B. Escott & Co.'s second shipment of new Japan teas have just arrived. They show good value.

The Toronto Biscuit and Confectionery Company have put another new biscuit on the market, "The Reception."

The arrival of another importation of choice Japans ex Argomene, via Tacoma, is reported by W. H. Gi lard & Co.

"Ceylon and Japan teas of the well-known Eagle brand," write M. Masuret & Co., "will please your trade. You can offer this brand to your best customers."

W. H. Gillard & Co. advise arriving this week 2,000 ¼-boxes six-crown finest Dehesa layer raisins in good order, which can be retailed at 50c. per box.

Wm. Ryan & Co. report an increased demand for meats.

Dawson & Co. have a carload of Palermo lemons to hand.

Rutherford & Harrison report good sales of creamery butter.

Clemes Bros. have a car of fancy Verdella lemons arriving this week.

The Dominion Produce Co. report a large increase in the demand for eggs.

Perkins, Ince & Co. received a large consignment of new season's Japan tea on Tuesday last.

Sloan & Crowther are experiencing a good demand for new season's "Lion" brand salmon.

Davidson & Hay have shipments of Morton's goods and French peas and mushrooms on the way.

Gowans, Kent & Co. are getting out a new catalogue, which they will mail to the trade on application.

Shipments of Bosnia prunes in cases and loose muscatels have been received by Eby, Blain & Co. this week.

Vance & Co. report Crawford peaches and Bartlett pears as coming in more plentifully, with prices easier.

There has been an advance of about ½c. per lb. in the price of glucose, in sympathy with the corn market.

Pickling spice is used in every household. M. Masuret & Co. offer these goods in ¼, ½ and 1-lb. packages, also in bulk in boxes.

The Pure Gold Manufacturing Co. are this week beginning to receive their supplies of tomatoes for their next season's make of tomato catsup.

James A. Skinner & Co., 54 and 56 Wellington street west, are offering special inducements to merchants to visit their sample rooms during Exhibition time.

J. L. Watt & Scott report the arrival of a carload of John Sealy's assorted fish and Munn's pure cod. This is understood to be the first arriving on the market this season.

Fine large dry codfish in quintals and 100 lb. cases. M. Masuret & Co. just had their third shipment of these. They are, the firm advises, selling quickly and giving good satisfaction.

Aikenhead & Sloan will make a specialty of fresh, frozen and salt fish next winter. Arrangements are now completed for taking in their new stock. They will also carry a good assortment of canned fish.

J. Dunfee, Port Hope, writes of "Salada" Ceylon tea to P. C. Larkin & Co.: "It is a great pleasure for me to add to your list of testimonials. Your 'Salada' Ceylon tea is giving the best of satisfaction to my customers and made much new trade for me. I have never heard anything but words of praise from each purchaser."

A. G. Gibson have just received a fresh shipment of Rodi and Palermo lemons, which they are selling at what they claim to be low price. They have also a stock of bananas, which they are clearing at a discount.

Smith & Keighley received a cable Tuesday from Smyrna advising them of the shipment to them of a small lot of Sultana raisins via Liverpool. The cable further states that this is the first shipment of new season's fruit to leave Smyrna.

Several New England and New York State packers of corn have withdrawn offers of new pack, owing to the unfavorable crop prospects. The Maine pack, it is estimated, will be one-third short of that of last year.

W. H. Gillard & Co. have in stock a range of last season's currants of high quality, viz., choicest Gulf, choice Amalias, extra fine Patras and Panarete, which show, they claim, exceptional value at the prices asked.

Cable advices report that the Dutch Government sale of nutmegs in Holland has been fixed for 30th inst., with only 105 tons, against 195 tons last sale, and the small amount with advance in silver is expected to realize higher prices.

A new improved Globe washboard has been placed on the market by Chas. Boeckh & Sons. It is made of the best quality of zinc and selected basswood, and has the bent top protector. This board is offered at a close price, and should have an extensive sale among leading grocers.

A letter from Port Dalhousie to P. C. Larkin & Co., says: "One of your employees dropped into our store on Saturday and I gave him a further order for 'Salada.' Our steadily increasing sales of 'Salada' is the best evidence we have to offer in regard to the satisfaction our customers derive from using this tea. We have yet to hear the first complaint."

The new crop of broom cane is now being harvested and promises to be of excellent quality. Chas. Boeckh & Sons have already made extensive purchases of same in the best growing districts, and will have an assortment of their leading lines of brooms on exhibition at the Industrial Fair; also a large line and variety of their standard brushes, woodenware, etc.

The manager of the Foam Yeast Co. states that in many parts of Ontario where their yeast has been placed, the grocer can sell no other kind. The company is systematically leaving a sample with every housekeeper, and only ask a trial to convince any one of its superiority. The firm has made a great hit in the handsome and attractive tin box with hinged lid which they have adopted as their trade mark; also in the pretty shelf goods which their packages make.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, August 30, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THERE have been no striking changes in the general grocery position since our last. The actual movement at present is not very extensive, but the excitement in tea has led to some freer movement from second hands. Jobbers have been taking more supplies of sugar also, but, on the other hand, their customers don't appear to be in want of anything large at present. Spices are steady, and the same can be said of values on all lines of goods, with few exceptions. In fact, values on teas have advanced, and orders for fresh supplies could not be duplicated at the same cost as a week or ten days ago. The first cost of canned salmon on the coast has also advanced, but it has not led to any actual change on spot yet, though it has had a firmer influence.

SUGAR.

The sugar market does not show any material change. The demand for supplies has been somewhat better from wholesalers, but though this is the case the movement from second hands is not very extensive. This is easy to understand, as the preserving season is about over. A feature during the week has been the booking at the refineries of some big orders on western account for granulated at 4¼ to 4⅜c., and it is claimed that the outside figure will soon be the ruling rate, but the fact has yet to be established. Aside from this there was little to note, but the feeling on yellows is equally steady at 3¼ to 3¾c. according to grade. English advices quote the market there firmer at 12s. 6d. prompt, and in New York granulated has sold at 4 9-16c., so that everything seems to be in favor of firmness.

SYRUPS.

There has been a somewhat improved demand for syrups since our last report, which has resulted in a fair turnover of stock. We hear of sales of round lots of bright grades at 2 to 2⅛c., and dark grades at 1 to 1¼c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

There has been no change in this market, and the position of affairs is unimproved. The stock on spot is estimated to be 1,500 puncheons more than at the same time last year, but no further large receipts are expected as all the direct cargoes have arrived. Round lots could no doubt be had for less; but the combine are still asking 29c. for car lots and 30c. for single puncheons.

TEA.

The flurry in tea and the reports that are being circulated in regard to future possibilities has had the effect of inducing a better demand from second hands. As a consequence jobbers report a better demand from their customers, but it seems to be the expectation that this will soon stop. In the meantime in consequence of the advance in Exchange values are firmer all round, and with silver 2d. higher sellers here are asking an equivalent advance for their goods on spot. Sales of 1,100 packages of Japans are spoken of at 16 to 19c., and it would be something very poor that can be had now under the inside price. There is a fair demand for blacks also, and an advance of fully 1½c. has been made on these in the case of round lots. The distributing trade is as we have noted above, excellent both in Japans and blacks.

COFFEES.

There has been little change in the coffee market since our last report. Demand has been fair for good sized lots both from urban and country dealers, and prices rule steady on the whole. Maracaibo has been the principal goods moving in a large way on the basis of 19 to 20c. We quote: Java, 24 to 28c.; Mocha, 25 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 19 to 21c.; Jamaica, 19 to 21c., and Rio, 19 to 21c.

RICE.

There has been a fair movement in rice during the past week. Advices from all the primary markets continue firm in tone. It is not anticipated here that the advance in Burmah rice in England, referred to in our last, will have any effect on prices here. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3.95 to $4.25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

SPICES.

The spice market does not furnish any special change. Manufacturers report a larger volume of business for the week which should mean that jobbers are also doing more. Prices continue steady and unchanged. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 65c., and 70 to 90c., and Jamaica ginger, 15 to 22c. at the mills. Jobbers' quotations call for a proportionate advance on this basis.

DRIED FRUITS.

The actual movement in all kinds of dried fruit on spot at the moment is small. The

FLOUR AND FEED

DEALERS in flour and feed report but little improvement in trade. Cereals are still moving slowly and the demand for flour has not yet shown any appreciable change. The dryness of the weather has caused an increased demand for shorts and bran in the country, but city dealers are reaping but little benefit from it. There is a comparatively small demand for oats, and it is hard to tell which way they are going to go. There is a bigger difference between the values of old and new oats this year than last; the old oats seem to be holding their own better. There is very little demand for straw and scarcely any offering. A dealer remarked this week, "I have not had a load for at least two months. It has all been of an inferior quality." Very little hay is moving, corn is dearer, and all other lines are quiet.

THE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

FLOUR—Business is dull and deliveries from city mills are reported small. Prices remain as before. We quote: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.55 to $3.65; strong bakers', $3.35 to $3.45; Ontario, $3 to $3.15; straight roller, $2 80 to $3.

BRAN—The continuation of dry weather is the cause of the advance in the price of bran, which is now selling at $14 per ton. City mills are unable to supply the demand, which is large.

SHORTS—The dry weather has also stimulated the demand, and the consequence is an advance in price. City mills are offering at $14 per ton.

OATS—Trade quiet. Old oats are reported as selling at 34c. in car lots, and new oats at 30c.

HAY—Is moving slowly, and there is a scarcity of good hay being offered. It is selling at from $8.50 to $9 per ton.

STRAW—The demand is small, and that which is being offered is reported to be of an inferior quality. The prices quoted are from $5 to $6.50 per ton.

MONTREAL.

There was a good export enquiry for flour to-day, and as cables were rather better some sales were put through, including one lot of 2,000 sacks. There was also a good demand from local buyers, and on the whole the market was fairly active and steady. Winter wheat, $3.25 to $3.50; spring wheat, patents, $3.25 to $3.50; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.55 to $2.60; superfine, $2.40 to $2.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.30 to $3.40; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.40 to $3.45.

An active business was transacted in feed and values were firmly held. Bran, $15.50; shorts, $17.50 to $18; mouille, $20.

In oatmeal a fair business was accomplished at steady prices. Standard, brls., $4.30 to $4.40; granulated, brls., $4.30 to $4.40; rolled oats, brls, $4.50 to $4 60; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

There is little new or encouraging in the flour market. Mills are firm at present prices. Sales are, however, light. Feed, owing to extreme dry weather and the high price of cornmeal, is in demand It is impossible to get enough to satisfy it; the same is true of feed flour. New oats coming in has caused a falling off in price. Oatmeal is also easier. Cornmeal continues firm. Beans are firmer owing to reports of bad crops. We quote as follows: Manitoba flour, $4.30 to $4.35; best Ontario, $3.35 to $3.50; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4.50 to $4.60; cornmeal, $3 20 to $3.25; middlings on track, $22.30 to $23.50; bran, $18 to $19; cottonseed meal, $30 per ton; oats, N.B., 40 to 42c.; Ontario, 40 to 41c., on cars; beans, h.p., $1.55 to $1.65; medium, $1.45 to $1.55; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00; round peas, $3.65 $3.75; hay on track, $9.50 to $10.

scarcity of several leading staples has already been referred to, and with stocks in second hands so limited, business is bound to be dull. The chief interest is in regard to the question of supplies of new crop fruits. Advices from Denia state that the first vessel for Liverpool only took 40 tons of raisins, a very small quantity, but the prediction is for a fully average crop, and present indications are that the quality is excellent. The latest quotations were for last week's steamers which were 19s. selected, and 16s. fine off-stalk, f.o.b., London, and for later shipment, 17s. selected, and 14s. fine off-stalk. Currants continue quiet as heretofore. Cables from Bordeaux state that new crop prunes have opened 1s. to 3s. lower than last year. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, 5 to 5½c.; fine, 5½ to 5¾c.; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

There is no change in nuts, stocks of all kinds of which are working into very narrow compass. We quote: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

There has been no special change in the canned goods market since our last report. Demand on spot has been quiet both from first and second hands. In fact, the only goods moving have been salmon. In a large way also salmon have furnished the only interesting feature of the week, namely, the sale of 2,000 cases B.C. salmon at $3.80 f.o.b. on the coast, which is quite an advance on previous sales. Prices here have a firmer tendency in consequence, but no actual change is to note. We quote as follows: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2 10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz. Australian canned meats: Boiled mutton, $1 86 to $1.90 per doz. 1-lb. tins, and $3.10 to $3.15 per doz., 2-lb. tins; roast mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz., 2-lb. tins; corned mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz., 2-lb. tins.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market has exhibited a fair degree of activity in all its branches, but Californian goods, which come in fresh in large quantities every day, is monopolizing attention, to the exclusion of everything else. In oranges, Rodi are the only kind offering, and they sell at $4.50 to $5. There is only a limited demand for lemons, which are quoted at $3 to $4. Bananas have a slow sale at 50c. to $1 per bunch. California peaches command good sales at $1.25 to $1.30 per box, and Canadian 50 to 60c. per basket. The heavy offerings of California fruit is keeping down the price of the domestic below its usual level. There is a good demand for California pears at $2 to $2.50 per box, and Hudson River Bartlett's move at $1.25 to $1.75 per keg. Canadian move at 40 to 60c. per basket. There is a rapid sale for California plums at $1.25 to $1.75 per box, and Canadians 65 to 90c. per basket. Quite a few sales of Canadian grapes are being made at 60c. per basket, while Hudson River stock is selling at 60c.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

The large receipts of eggs has given the market a weak tone, and values have an easier tendency. We quote choice candled stock 9 to 10c. and culls 7 to 8c. per dozen. Demand for honey is fair at 8 to 9c. per lb. The first new hops of the season have been offered and sold, several small lots changing hands at 10c. to arrive. We quote yearlings 7½c., with an indifferent demand. The call for potatoes is not active and prices are rather easier. Sales on the track have been made at 85 to 90c., and they are jobbing out at 95c. to $1.10 per brl.

PROVISIONS.

The demand for provisions in small lots was fair, both on local and country account, but the market on the whole was quiet and values showed no change. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

The butter market does not exhibit much change. Nothing further is to note from the country, but shippers protest as strongly as ever that they cannot pay over 18¼ to 18½c. for July stock, and that it is doubtful if such a bid will stand long. Their mail advices to-day all spoke of heavy receipts of Danish butter in England, and complained about the difficulty of securing purchases at a price permitting business on the basis of cost in Canada. Finest late made creamery, 18c.; finest July creamery, 18¼ to 19½c.; Townships, 16 to 17c.; fine Western, 14 to 15½c.

CHEESE.

The firmness of the cheese market is fully maintained, and though encouragement in a regular way from the other side is wanting, nothing seems to check the steady appreciation in prices. Business that transpired this week was on a basis fully ¼c. to ⅜c. higher than last Friday, so that though shippers protest that their limits do not permit of such a cost the fact remains that there are buyers for the cheese. It is the speculative element, however, who are largely responsible, for the consensus of advices from the other side is to the effect that sellers there find it difficult work to make the British buyers follow the advance in prices on this side. There is an advance in the public cable, but even at 47s. it is away below the parity of cost on this side the water. At the wharf Monday morning the receipts were 4,500 odd, all of which sold at a range of 10⅛c to 10¼c. This is an advance of about a ½c. on a week ago. Briefly, the market can be placed higher all around, as we intimate above. We understand that east of Toronto further contracting has been done. None so far is spoken of in the Brockville district, but in Belleville and Napanee a good percentage has already left the control of first hands at 10c. to 10¼c. for August and the three months. In the Belleville district factorymen who have not yet contracted have been bid 10¼c. for the three months, or 10⅛c. for August, 10¼c. for September and 10⅜c. October, but factorymen ask 10¼c. for August, and 10½c. for balance. On the basis of these bids the factorymen who contracted early have lost money, but that is one of the chances that speculation always entails. There was an offer of some Western goods to-day, colored and white, at 10⅜c., and it is likely to be closed with. This offers a reliable basis to quote upon and prices are worked up accordingly. We quote: Finest Western colored, 10⅜ to 10½c.; finest Western white, 10¼ to 10⅜c.; finest Townships', 10⅛ to 10¼c.; finest Eastern colored, 10⅛ to 10¼c.; finest Eastern white, 10⅛c.; under grades, 9⅞c. Cable 47s.

ASHES.

There is no change in the market for ashes, business ruling quiet and prices unchanged. We quote: Firsts, $4; seconds, $3.75, and pearls, $3.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

John Pinder & Co. are now holding their cargo of Barbadoes molasses ex Runnymede at 27½c. ex store.

Tetley's western agent is "painting the west red," by way of calling attention to the merits of the Elephant brand tea.

Laporte, Martin & Co. are offering to arrive a very fine lot of loose Muscatel raisins in perfect order and at moderate cost.

Advices to Gillespie & Co. state that the first vessel from Denia to England took out only 40 tons of raisins, or about 3,200 boxes of fruit.

Caverhill, Hughes & Co. have now on hand their fresh supplies of French sardines. Their tomato and boneless goods are worthy of attention.

Laporte, Martin & Co. offer this week to arrive 200 brls. of syrup of very fine quality, and ask their patrons to write for quotations and samples.

Caverhill, Hughes & Co.'s advices from British Columbia state that the run of fish on the Fraser river has improved, and that first shipments of canned salmon will be somewhat delayed therefore. They don't expect their first lots of new goods for a fortnight yet.

Cable advices from Denia to brokers here are to the effect that the crop of raisins is a good one, but that scalding has commenced later than usual.

Cables to Rose & Laflamme from Bordeaux state that the market for new prunes has opened out 1s. to 3s. per cwt. c. i. and f. lower than last season.

Prices on canned salmon, according to advices to W. T. Costigan & Co., have advanced materially on the cost over the basis at which previous purchases were made.

Demand for Tetley's teas throughout the West and Lower Provinces is becoming brisk. Fresh arrivals are to hand, and travelers are now showing their new samples.

Silver and sterling having advanced materially, the fact has had an immediate effect on the tea market, and it takes a 2c. advance all round now to procure supplies on this market.

Wm. Munn, of Stewart Munn & Co., states that advices from the coast all point to a light catch of herrings. In former seasons there were several cargoes on the way here by this time, but now the only advices received are of a lot of 100 brls.

Arthur P. Tippet & Co, Montreal, have accepted the agency of the Griffin & Skelley Co., of San Francisco, the large handlers of California raisins as well as extensive dealers in prunes, evaporated peaches, pears and apricots.

Vipond, McBride & Co. are among the few holders of figs on this market. They have just taken out of cold store some fine Turkey layer figs, which are offering at 8 to 10c.

ST. JOHN, N.B., MARKETS.

ST. JOHN, N.B., August 30.

BUSINESS during the past week has shown some improvement, though it is not yet as active as it should be at this season. The improvement in the cheese market is a feature. Tea continues to arrive in large quantities, the amount imported direct being larger than ever before. The following prices are quoted at Charlottetown, P.E.I.: Oats, 42 to 44; eggs, 9 to 10c.; butter, 18 to 22c. Value of shipment for past week: Mackerel, $670; horses, $515; lambs, $430; wool, $400; eggs, $397; pork, $150. The extreme dry weather is affecting the market here in a number of ways. There is a firmness in the cheese and butter market. The local dealers have advanced the price of milk one cent per quart. The above and the high price of cornmeal makes a large demand for feed and feed flour, and it is hard to get, the mills not being able to supply the demand. The lumber market is quiet, what movement there is being to England.

SPICE—In cream of tartar figures on large sales have been shaded, causing an easier feeling. This applies to nutmegs also. Prices otherwise are quoted as last week. We quote: Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, ground, 20 to 25c.; whole, 15 to 20c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; bicarb soda, $2.30 to $2.38; sal. soda, brls., 1 to 1½c.

SALT—Market is steady at advance of last week. Demand continues good. Prices show no change. Quotations are as follows: Coarse salt, bags, ex store, 52c.; fine factory filled, ex store, $1 to $1.15; Canadian, small bags in brls., 5-lb. bags, $3.25 per brl.; 10-lb. bags, $3.10 per brl.; American, wood boxes, 20 lb., 20c.; 10-lb., 12c.

TOBACCO—But a short time ago the larger number of merchants kept but one line of these goods. Now almost all keep three, and some even add a fourth, that of Canadian grown. The demand for this is, however, limited. Then there is one manufacturer who sells direct to the retail trade, so that his brands are but very little handled by the wholesaler. The principal lines, brands and prices are: McDonald's Crown, 43c.; Pilot, 45c.; Index, 43c.; Napoleon, 49c. McAlpin's Beaver, 62c.; Tecumseh, 65c.; Jubilee, 49c.; Gold Shield, 49c.; Woodcock, 53c.; Army and Navy, 45c. Tuckett's T. & B. Myrtle Navy plug, 59c.; cut, 70c.; Lily, 46c.; chewing T. & B., long black, 48c.; Mahogany 12's, 48c.; Mahogany 7's, 48c.

OIL—Fish oil continues in small supply, market firm. In burning oil a better demand is reported. Values show as last week. We quote as follows: Burning oil, best American, 18c.; best Canadian, 17c.; prime Canadian, 13c.; terms, 60 days, no charge for barrel; linseed oil, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. to 30c. Seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; pale, 38 to 43c. Olive oil, 90c. to $1. Castor oil, commercial, 6½ to 7c. Extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

CANNED GOODS—The association have not yet quoted, except fruits, which they quote low no doubt on account of low price of California. There are those here who think the best known factories are losing much which cost them time and money by the present arrangement. Corn is scarce. There is quiet a demand for American canned peaches, prices being below that of Canadian goods. Salmon are weak. The sale of two cars of California canned fruit, fall delivery, is reported. We quote as follows: Corn, 95c. to $1.10; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.40 to $2.50; oysters, 1's, $1.40 to $1.50; 2's, $2 20 $2.25; corned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.70; 2's, $2.65; salmon, $1.25 to $1.35; lobsters, $1.75 to $2.00; peaches, Canadian, 2's, $1.90 to $2; 3's, $2.90 to $3; peaches, American, 2's, $1.65 to $1.70; 3's, $2.65 to $2 70.

DRIED FRUITS AND NUTS—Good quality old California London layers are being offered here from New York very low. Loose muscatels continue firm, with good demand. Some dried California fruit for fall delivery have been sold here, not, however, I believe, including raisins. New York houses are quoting Valencias to arrive. Demand, as a rule, is quiet. New Chilian walnuts are now to hand. We quote: Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5½ to 6c.; London layers, $2 to $2.10; loose muscatels, in boxes, 6½ to 6¾c.; prunes, 7 to 7½c.; California, 11 to 12c.; dried apples, 6¾ to 7c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Egyptian onions, 1¾ to 2c.; French walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 15c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazils, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c.; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 12c.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples are now here in quantities, both Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Demand, particularly for Nova Scotia, is slow, quality not yet being very good. New Brunswick plums are also in the market, but most to be seen are Canadian, that is Upper Canadian. Sweet potatoes are also to be had. Bartlett pears are lower. Grapes are beginning to arrive freely. All fruit merchants are very busy. Prices are quoted as below: Lemons, $4.50 to $5; oranges, $5.50 to $6; bananas, $2 to $2.50; grapes, $1 to $1.25 per basket; cucumbers, 25 to 30c. per doz.; watermelons, 40 to 45c.; gooseberries, 40c. per peck; California apricots, peaches and plums, $2.50 to $3 per crate; pears, $5.50 to $6.50 per brl.; apples, $1 to $2 per brl.; plums, $1 per box. Tomatoes, native, which are coming in in large quantities, 5 to 6c. per lb.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Milk, owing to dry weather, has advanced in the city 1c. per quart. Cheese is also firmer, and more enquiry is the outcome. Price is still lower here than outside. The factories should take more care putting up their goods, hardly any using scale boards, and in many cases the boxes are not what they should be. A little care now will more than repay for itself in the future, when it takes a very long time to overcome a bad impression. Butter is firm with fair demand; better prices are expected. Creamery is 2c. advanced over price of two weeks ago. Eggs are also firmer, quoted at 10 to 10½c. Butter, dairy, 17 to 18c.; creamery, 22 to 23c. Cheese, 10 to 10½c.

MOLASSES—Just at this season demand is light and values rule even. Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, fancy, 42 to 43c.; choice, 34 to 35c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27 to 28c.

SYRUP—Continues quiet, 30 to 35c. per gallon.

SUGAR—Demand continues light. Prices are, however, firm. Of the two Montreal refineries but one is now represented here, and it is selling but little sugar, the great bulk being sold by the local combine. Granulated, $4.40 to $4.50; bright yellow, 3½ to 3⅞c.; yellow, 3¼ to 3½c.; Barbadoes, 3¾c.; powdered, 6 to 6¼c; Paris lump, 6 to 6¼c.

FISH—Medium cod, dry, sold firmer ex vessel. Large and mediums, ex store, are both higher, and owing to the mediums not now running less than 16-inch in length they are much better fish than formerly, large quantities of what were mediums now selling only as small. Pollock are rather easier. Smoked herrings are also not as firm. Shad are now being barreled, and are very firm, the fall shad being always the best. A few fresh halibut and haddock were landed during the week. Wolf Island, a particularly good brand of bay herring, are now in the market. We quote: Large cod, $3.60 to $3.70; medium, $3.23 to $3.40; small, $2.90 to $3; pollock, $1.65 to $1.70; bay herring, half brl., $1.40 to $1.50; Wolf Island, $1.75 to $1.80; shad, $6 per half-barrel: medium smoked herring, 11 to 12c.; lengthwise, 9 to 10c.

PROVISIONS—Pork is rather higher, but demand is light. We quote prices firm at last week's figures. Clear pork, $19 to $20; P.E.I. mess, $16.50 to $17; prime, $13.50 to $14; plate beef, $13.50 to $14; extra plate, $13.75 to $14.25; pure lard, 9¼ to 10c.; compound, 8 to 9c.; cottolene, 9¾ to 10c.

THE SALMON FISHERIES.

B.C. Commercial Journal, August 21st: "There was a good run on the Fraser during the first half of the last week and the pack was considerably increased. The latter part of the week fishing fell off. Friday night the fish are said to have averaged about forty to the boat, and for Sunday night telegraph advice reports twenty-five fish to the boat. It is believed by some that there will be another spurt on the river before the end of the season, while others state that they believe the run is practically over. Estimates place the pack to date on the Fraser river at 300,000 cases; northern rivers, 120,000 cases; making a total of 420,000 cases to date. The Westminster Board of Trade have requested the Fisheries Department to extend the sockeye season from the 25th to the end of the month, in consequence of the unusual lateness of the run this season."

News, Vancouver, August 22nd: "The salmon run yesterday morning was almost nil. Reports are to hand, however, that a big school is approaching, and the hope is entertained that it will be on hand in time to eke out the pack before the 25th inst. Failing that it will be a serious loss to the canners if the time is not extended for at least one week more."

The Suva (Fiji) Times devotes several columns to trade between Canada and Fiji. The islands are preparing to make experimental shipments of coffee, cocoa, cinnamon, castor oil, oil cake, cocoanut oil, dye stuffs, ginger and tobacco.

CURRENT MARKET QUOTATIONS

TORONTO, Aug. 31, 1894

This list is corrected every Thursday. The prices are solicited for publication, and are for such qualities and quantities as are usually ordered by retail dealers on the usual terms of credit.

Goods in large lots and for prompt pay are generally obtainable at lower prices.

All quotations in this department are under the direct control of the Editor, and are not paid for or doctored by any manufacturing or jobbing house unless given under their name; the right being reserved to exclude such firms as do not furnish reliable information.

DEEPER CANALS WANTED.

CHEAPER freight rates is the desideratum which merchants, manufacturers, and farmers are clamoring for.

The want is felt in Canada as well as in the United States, and the manner in which it is hoped to be obtained is by improving the canal systems of the country, and that of the St. Lawrence in particular.

The St. Lawrence system of navigation is 2,260 miles, of which over 70 miles are composed of canals, and it is in these canals that are to be found the obstacles which prevent shippers from reaping to the full the advantages of our splendid inland system of navigation.

The obstacles do not exist at either end of the system. They are encountered intermediary. In a word the great trouble is with the St. Lawrence canals, and it is with a view of removing the obstacles there that the international convention is to be held in Toronto week after next.

The new canal built by the Dominion Government at Sault Ste. Marie will pass vessels drawing over 20 feet of water, and the Welland Canal those with a depth of 14 feet. But down the St. Lawrence canals no vessel with a draught of over nine feet can pass. This necessitates the transhipment to canal boats of a large portion of the cargoes from the upper lakes destined for Montreal.

The objects sought by those who are seeking for the deepening of the St. Lawrence canals are of two different kinds: One desires to induce the Government to proceed expeditiously with its intention to make these canals of a uniform depth of 14 feet. Others desire that both the St. Lawrence and Welland canals be made of a uniform depth of 20 feet in order that ocean vessels might, if need be, steam into Port Arthur at the head of Lake Superior.

This latter object will probably be realized at some time, but on account of the financial obstacles in the way it is likely to be deferred for many years.

Government engineers have estimated the cost at over $100,000,000; and besides this there is the cost of dredging out the harbors to accommodate vessels of ocean steamship capacity. But this latter consideration is infinitesimal compared with the other, which would mean the addition of another $100,000,000 to our Federal debt, which is now over $240,000,000 net. In the face of this it does not seem politic to advocate the 20-foot scheme at present.

The proposition, however, to deepen the canals to a uniform depth of 14 feet should receive the support of everyone in the country.

This proposition is based on no theoretical propositions. Fourteen feet canals are demanded upon practical grounds. They are demanded in order that products of the Canadian great Northwest may be conveyed down to Montreal in vessels drawing fourteen feet of water to the side of the ocean steamships, thus obviating at least one costly and unnecessary transhipment. They are demanded in order that the St. Lawrence route—the natural one—to the sea from the upper lakes shall be preserved to Canada.

The press despatches of a few days ago informed us that the Dominion Government have called for tenders for deepening the Lachine canal to fifteen feet, work to be completed by the end of October, 1896. But this canal is only 8½ miles out of the total of 43⅜ miles of the St. Lawrence river canals. It is however a step, but if no bigger or more rapid steps than that are taken it will take a good many years to secure the decided uniform fourteen feet throughout the system.

It is opportune that the people should agitate.

IT'S COMING.

THE trade of the country look as regularly for the fall number of the CANADIAN GROCER as does the farmer for the varying seasons of the year.

The number is coming. It will make it's obeisance in another month.

The cover has already been prepared, and now we are busy getting ready the material to fill it up.

THE GROCER'S special fall number cover is always striking and original. That of the coming number is even more so. Our artist, when instructed to draft a design for it, was in Bermuda. One day he came across a big, jolly-faced negro in the act of eating a banana. He saw in that an idea for the cover, and there and then he sketched the unique picture that the lithographer has transferred to the cover of our fall number for 1894.

The gentleman of color stands with a banana partly peeled in his hand. His head is turned to one side, while the expression on his face seems to say: "Golly, ain't it nice!"

THE CHEESE SITUATION.

CHEESE is the cynosure on the produce markets. It has been so for some time, and dur ng the last week or two it has been doubly so.

The drouth has been the all-important factor. On account of this the factories in the west have not been able to turn out their full complement. Instances are known where they have not been able during the last month to come within doing so by 66⅔ per cent

In consequence of this prices have appreciated considerably. They are from 1¼ to 1½c. higher than a month ago, and the latter part of last week bids that were entertained the day previous were refused, and equal to ½c. more demanded. The factories in Ingersoll and west of there are holding at 11c. f.o.b., and men in Toronto, who made contracts when lower figures ruled, are now regretting that they did not place orders for much larger quantities.

There does not appear to be much cheese in the hands of the factories, but while this is so, the same cannot be said with regard to the middlemen. They have quite a number in cold storage, but they are holding them at high prices. In Montreal there are over 300,000 boxes in cold storage, and the number is increasing. In fact, accomodation, advices from there state, cannot be found for all seeking storage.

Rumors are rife that a corner on cheese is in process of formation, but THE GROCER has been unable to discover reliable evidence that such is the case. True, middlemen are holding a good many, but, on the other hand, dealers in Toronto have experienced no difficulty within the last week in making contracts with factories.

The heavy rains of Sunday seem to have somewhat abated the bull fever, but those so affected still appear to have faith in the market at present prices.

The rainfall has certainly changed to some extent the influences that were stiffening the market. But there are still elements of uncertainty regarding the situation that are somewhat puzzling to dealers, and one of them is as to the extent of the June and July cheese held in Montreal.

From what THE GROCER can gather the situation does not appear to favor further or at least material appreciation in values. Large quantities of cheese are held in Montreal, and Quebec has not suffered from drouth as has the West. Then there are the lots held in the West, and now we have had rain to improve the pasturage.

Furthermore, it must be remembered that the cheese making industry in Canada received quite an impetus from the World's Fair, and, although the make will be curtailed somewhat on account of the drouth, it will be larger than ever before. Europe, and the United States with its duty of 2c. per lb. lower, will take more cheese from us than they did last year, but it must be remembered that the condition of prices in these markets, in the former particularly of course, will largely govern values here.

Our exports of cheese for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, were 133,946,365 lbs, valued at $13,407,470. Of this $13,360,237 worth went to Great Britain and $23,578 to the United States.

THE FRASER SALMON PACK.

SALMON packing in British Columbia is over for the season. It closed August 25th.

Efforts were made to induce the Government to prolong the season a week, but without avail.

The run of fish on the Fraser this season has fluctuated a good deal, some days it being small while on others the canneries were taxed to accommodate the catch. The last week of the fishing was of the latter character.

The pack on the Fraser is estimated at 317,000 cases, and that in the North at 127 000 cases, making a total of 444,000 cases. This is according to figures in the News-Advertiser, at Vancouver, while the B. C. Commercial Journal places the total pack at 430,000 to 440,000 cases.

Of the total pack, according to the News-Advertiser, 355,000 cases will go to the United Kingdom; 55,000 to Canada, 25,000 to Australia and 10,000 to other points. The same paper further says: "The quality throughout is excellent and about one-half the whole pack has already been sold, the balance being firmly held for an advance. Latest prices in the United Kingdom range from 17s. 6d. to 18s. 6d. for talls, and 19s. 6d. to 20s. for flats, but holders expect an early advance in the face of the short pack. The total pack of flats was 58,000 cases, of which some 3,000 will go to Australia and Canada. In the United Kingdom consignment is included 15,000 cases of half-pound flats, which should fetch a fancy price. Most of the lines un old are held in Victoria."

Last year the pack on the Fraser was 590,229 cases. In 1892 it was 228,470 cases, in 1891, 314,893 cases and in 1890, 409,464 cases.

Taking the pack as estimated it is much larger than that of the average of the previous four years, which was 360,014 cases.

Our exchange says that holders are firmer in their views, although only a few sales were reported at advanced figures since the beginning of the packing season.

MERCHANTS SHOULD SEE THE FAIR.

EVERY merchant within reasonable distance of Toronto should visit the Industrial Exhibition, which opened Monday last, and which continues till the 15th inst.

Because a merchant visited it last year, or the year before, it is no reason why he shou'd abstain this year.

The man who stops reading his trade or daily paper gets out of touch with what is going on in the world of politics and of commerce.

And the man who misses attending the Toronto Industrial Fair gets out of touch with what new goods and new inventions are coming out, and fails to glean ideas that would have helped to make his business, his life, a better success.

Visit the Fair and call in and see THE GROCER, the wholesalers, and have a good time generally.

NEW B.C. INDUSTRY.

A salmon smoking establishment has recently been started at South Westminster, which bids fair to be the forerunner of a big industry in this line.

The smoking of salmon is comparatively new on the Coast, canning having heretofore absorbed all the attention and capital of those engaged in the fish business.

The proprietor, H. C. Barber, of this city, is employing an experienced staff of men and putting up a first-class quality of fish, of which he should have no difficulty in making large sales. The smoked fish for foreign trade is being put up in 25-pound tin cans, a new idea, and one which it is warranted will keep the fish for an unlimited time.—News, Vancouver.

Like the manufacturers and farmers, the railways of Canada will in time benefit by the new United States tariff. They will certainly carry a great deal more lumber across the line, and larger loads of coal, farm and dairy produce are certain to be shipped to our cousins than now. The railways are also likely to bring back into Canada more freight than has been customary.

A VEXATIOUS CUSTOMS LAW.

INDIGNATION higher and higher is being heaped up against the Dominion Government as the number of the members of the grocery trade harrassed and annoyed by the decree of the Customs Department ordering the strict enforcement of Section 10 of the Customs Act increase.

The section referred to reads: "All invoices of goods shall be made out in the currency of the country whence the goods are imported and shall contain a true statement of the value of such goods."

This means a complete reversal of the custom that has obtained for no one knows how long.

Until this order went into force the invoices were made out in the same currency as the goods were bought—pounds, shillings, and pence.

Now, although the buying and selling of foreign goods is still on the sterling basis, the foreign merchant from whom goods are bought is compelled to furnish an invoice, certified correct, in the currency of the country of shipment. For instance, if the goods are bought in Turkey, the invoice must be made out in piastres, if in China, in the tael, if in Germany, in the mark, and so on.

The law is not a new one; it is an old one revived.

The avowed object for putting the law into operation is to the better ensure the Customs getting at the actual value of the article imported. There are those, however, who aver that it will not.

But one thing, it is certain, the order has done: It has stirred up the animosity of importers in Toronto, particularly grocers and dry goods merchants; and in words strong and expressive, if not always elegant, they give vent to their feelings.

Good cause have importers for being indignant. The ruling puts them often to a good deal of extra trouble and inconvenience.

It compels them to have their invoices for the inspection of the Customs authorities made out in a currency other than that in which the goods are bought.

Then not unfrequently the foreign house from which the goods are bought, through ignorance of the Canadian law or inadvertence, makes out the invoice as it always has. This requires the importer, in order to get his goods, to make a "sight entry" and return the invoice to be made out in piastres or marks or whatever it might be. Instances are known where three invoices had to be sent before. This means extra worry and waste of time of all concerned—to the man who buys, to the man who sells and even to the Customs officials at the ports of entry.

Furthermore, the ruling breeds much confusion, importers not always being able to ascertain whether the invoice as made out in the currency of the country in which the goods are bought is the exact price, and is, therefore, correct or not.

The duty of the Government is to devise means to enable importers to pass their goods through the Custom House with as much simplicity and expedition as possible. This recent ruling, on the other hand, has the opposite effect.

It is, in short, like an evil spirit sent to worry and harrass importers, and some more than even the grocers.

It is to be hoped that Hon. Clarke Wallace, who has hitherto always shown a willingness to remove, when in his power, any unnecessary burdens which the Customs regulations imposed upon importers, will in this instance also display his wisdom and suspend the operation of a law which is unreasonable and vexatious, without serving any good purpose.

THE EXPORT APPLE TRADE.

THE time for export business in our rosy Canadian apples is again on hand, and already the vanguard of representatives from English houses have made their appearance in Montreal and held councils of war regarding the campaign with the big fruit houses on McGill street.

THE GROCER correspondent on Monday last had a short chat with one of these gentlemen, in company with the head of one of the largest exporting firms in Montreal.

He elicited the information that there was some kind of a tacit agreement among the various buyers this year not to cut each others' throats by bidding too high prices.

There has been, it seems, generally enough fruit to go around, but the competition among buyers has generally 'boosted' prices sky high, so to speak.

This has frequently led to heavy losses when it came to turning over the goods to the actual consumers in England. In fact, last year was the first year for two or three that was a uniformly profitable one.

However advantageous such an agreement as the proposed one may be, a good number in the market are skeptical about its success.

They hold that once the fun commences it will be the old story over again, for there are always one or two new speculators in the market every fall who upset previous calculations, and force values up, the rest having to follow suit unless they are content with being practically shut out of supplies.

The English buyers also informed the correspondent that the first shipments of North American apples had arrived on the other side last week, and that sales had been made in Liverpool, netting $1.75 per barrel, but, of course, the lots were small. Some people, he understood, also proposed to make shipments in cases like egg boxes, but this had been tried unsuccessfully before, and he did not think it would work any better now.

Neither of the gentlemen had heard of any contracts for winter fruit, but they were going west to find out.

It is understood, however, that some local speculators up west have been offering $1.25 per brl. on the tree for a number of orchards without any one accepting.

This is a pretty full figure to start out with.

WHEAT NOW AND 50 YEARS AGO.

Homer Baldwin, who has been milling in Youngstown, Ohio, for nearly half a century, has written a letter to the Northwestern Miller, that contains some curious information and valuable suggestion. Mr. Baldwin began milling in 1846, and paid 50 cents a bushel for wheat. This summer he bought wheat again for 50 cents for the first time since his first summer in the business. The highest price he ever paid was $3.50 currency in June, 1867. The failure of the potato crop in Ireland in 1847, sent wheat here up to $1.20, and Mr. Baldwin wonders whether the low price this year is to be followed by a like advance. When in 1846 he paid 50 cents for wheat he sold bran for $5 a ton, and now with wheat at the same price he sells bran for $15 a ton. He had this summer bought wheat at 48 cents a bushel, and he says that with wheat at $16, and bran at $15 at ton, the question arose in his mind whether it were worth while to spend money in the improvement of mill machinery in order to get the most and best flour from the wheat. He had almost reached the conclusion that it did not pay, when he sold some flour at $4 a barrel, the price of eight bushels of wheat, and he decided that it did pay him to have a good mill and make fine flour and save all the produce of milling. Mr. Baldwin, remarks N.Y. Journal of Commerce, would have added greatly to the interest of his letter had he mentioned the prices the farmers paid in 1846 and in 1894 for the things they had to buy with the money they got for their wheat at 50 cents a bushel. Probably there is hardly anything the farmer buys that he cannot buy with much fewer bushels of wheat now than then.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

FREE traders have another chance to work up their stock arguments under new guises this week. Domestic colored cottons have gone down from 5 to 20 per cent. This is due to the fact that under the new Canadian tariff United States manufacturers had begun to find exporting to Canada a profitable occupation, and week by week the imports were increasing. As soon as these grew large enough to make themselves felt the prices of Canadians went down. This, at least, seems the most plausible and only accepted explanation.

That the decline varies from 5 to 20 per cent. shows that there must have previously been a huge margin for the cotton companies. For example, a line of goods they formerly sold at 8½ cents they now sell at 7 cents, or a reduction of 18 per cent. What must have been the profit per yard when they can afford to go on manufacturing it at 1½ cents per yard less than before? A line that the mills got 12½ cents for is now sold at 10½, and so on through the list.

The reductions seem to be along the best lines of goods, the percentage of reduction in the higher grades being much greater than in the lower ones.

In denims the reduction is very considerable, amounting in some lines to from 15 to 18 per cent. In shirtings the reductions are not so large, and will average perhaps 7½ per cent., being 10 per cent. in some cases. In cottonades the reduction is very considerable and runs anywhere from 5 to 10 per cent.

The wholesalers are issuing new price-lists and retailers are hereby warned to be very careful in their purchases. The reduced prices will apply only to goods delivered to jobbers on and after Oct. 1st. No rebates will be allowed. The intention was at first to let it apply only to spring goods, but this has been slightly modified.

John Macdonald & Co. are busy in every department, and report a very heavy trade last week. Customers are numerous this week also.

W. R. Brock & Co. have a special line of grey flannels to retail at 25c. which is exceedingly trustworthy. Four special lines of umbrellas to retail at 50c., 75c. and $1 are being cleared at 25 per cent. below regular quotations. Several stock lots of braces have been lifted out of the manufacturers' hands, and are being jobbed at less than mill prices. Cable repeats have been sent in this week for "R.D.F." dress facing and for cashmere gloves. Both lines have been in great demand for the past month.

MONTREAL MARKET.

The millinery openings, which were held on Tuesday last, were well attended, in fact in many cases it is said that the attendance was better than at those in the spring. Buyers came in from all points in the Eastern Townships and in Eastern Ontario from many points east of Kingston.

A careful review of the styles shows that the hats are to be largely velvet and felt, and they have a decidedly large tendency, while the bonnets are medium. Jacquimot and blue seem to be the prevailing colors, although browns still hold a good place. In ribbons, moire silk and in velvets, moire velvets, as well as plain, promise to be in good demand. In children's hats, felt and covered goods seem to be coming to the front this season. The three favorite combinations this summer are tan, magenta and bluett; purple, bluett and green, and moss green, black and white.

Reports in general dry goods state that stocks of fall goods are being broken into more, and that travelers find business constantly increasing.

Importations of cottons from the States have ceased, it is claimed, because demand across the line has picked up so much that the supply of goods is insufficient to meet the home demand.

Remittances are fair, and better returns are noted from several sections.

The gross earnings of the Richelieu Navigation Company from the opening of navigation to August 25 were $462,270.68, against $365,094.54 for the same period of last year, showing an increase of $97,176.14 for this year. The net earnings for July, after deducting all expenses, were $80,-929.78. Up to August 24 the steamer Quebec topped the list, with earnings of $73,031.61, against $55,369.73 for the same time last year. No less than $35,278.54 was received from pilgrimage excursions.

The lucky Montrealer is John Pinder, of the firm of John Pinder & Co., and the general remark made by the trade is that Mr. Pinder is a good fellow, and richly deserves the result of his pluck in holding on and taking the chances of the tariff.—Trade Bulletin.

NEW ZEALAND BUTTER.

THE New Zealand Trade Review gives this interesting information regarding the butter industry in that country: "The colony may be now fairly said to be alive to the importance of this industry, and the number of factories is on the rapid increase. The following are the number of factories and creameries existing in New Zealand at the present time:

	Factories.	Creameries.	Total.
North Island....	70	40	110
South Island....	48	20	68

The total is 178, against 104 in June, 1893, and 72 at the same time in 1892. Several more are in course of erection in both islands. The Government is also in earnest in its efforts to encourage and promote the industry. The number of instructors appointed by the department has been increased from two to six, three of whom will work in each of the two islands.

"A bill to be promoted in Parliament by the Government this session will provide for the erection of cool storage at the four chief ports of shipment—Auckland, Wellington, Lyttleton and Dunedin. This is a most important step. It will also provide for a system of inspection and grading of butter before shipment.

"Dairy associations are being formed where none existed before, and the various associations in the two islands, while maintaining their separate organizations, are combining their forces to take joint action for the common good of the trade in respect of such things as cool storage, rates of freight to England, proper care on the voyage, and so forth.

"The Union Steamship Company has decided to have one of their coasting steamers fitted with refrigerating machinery with the view of employing it in taking butter from the smaller ports to the larger ones for transhipment into the steamers loading for England.

"Together with the recent agricultural returns, particulars were obtained of the number of cattle and breeding cows held in New Zealand, from which we extract the subjoined figures, adding comparison of the totals for previous years:

	North Island.	South Island.	Total.
Cattle, 1894.....	613,454	270,637	884,091
Breeding cows, 1894..	218,238	109,374	327,612
Cattle, 1893..... ...	557,566	250,873	808,439
Breeding cows, 1893...	199,470	105,800	305,270
*Cattle, 1891.....	.....	.....	788,919
Breeding cows, 1891...	.....	.....	280,711
*Cattle, 1886	.....	.....	853,358
Breeding cows, 1886 .	.....	.....	279,136

*Census year.

* * * * In 1893 the proportion of breeding cows to the whole number of cattle was fully 37 per cent., whereas in 1886 it was under 33 per cent."

HOW TO FILE RECEIPTS.

Every firm has its own way of filing invoices, receipts, letters, etc. The best and most convenient method is, of course, the regular indexed file, in which two holes are first perforated in the receipts, and they are then placed under their proper initial letter on the file. The plan followed by most merchants, however, is to fold the sheet once or twice, write particulars on the upper part of the back, and enclose it in a rubber band. An objectionable feature in this method is the irregularity in the size of the sheets thus folded. Some will be 3½, others 2½ inches wide, but the bulk will vary ⅛ to ¼, more or less, than 3 inches. This makes a bundle with a very irregular edge. Some of the receipts will slip out easily while the whole packet must be pulled to pieces before the others can be got out. While talking to a St. Stephen's, N.B., merchant a few days ago, THE GROCER noticed a simple device he used to produce even edges. It was a tin strap 2½ x 10 inches. This strap is laid over the receipt, which is folded over the exact size of the strap. This gives a bundle with perfectly square edges and no overlapping. This strap is, perhaps, narrower than most bookkeepers would use; 3 inches would be nearer the average width.

A BIG TEA ENTRY.

Perkins, Ince & Co., of Toronto, have been importing several large lots of tea this season. One lot particularly has been large. It was Japan tea, and contained in the neighborhood of 2,500 packages. This is believed to be the largest lot of tea ever passed through the Toronto custom house by one firm. This was last week, and among their shipments this week was a consignment of 450 packages of China green teas.

TO IRRIGATE THE NORTHWEST.

The C.P.R. Land Department are undertaking a work which will be the means of transforming a dry waste of country along their line, in extent about 1,000,000 acres, into a fertile farming district. Lying between Medicine Hat and Gleichen, on the C. P. R., there is a magnificent plateau, the only drawback to which is the lack of water supply. J. L. Douple, of the Land Department, returned last evening from west of Medicine Hat, where he has been engaged in taking levellings, with a view to the possibility of taking the waters from the rear of the Bow river and turning them over the plateau for irrigation purposes. He was accompanied by Mr. Pearce, of Calgary, the Government inspector, and a party of helpers. After examining the report, Commissioner L. A. Hamilton will be able to make a statement as to the plans of the company. —Free Press, Winnipeg.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr and Mrs. E. B. Eddy, of Hull, Que., were in Toronto, Wednesday.

D. W. Ross, of D. W Ross & Co., general merchants, Parry Sound, was in Toronto Tuesday. He was en route for New York, from whence he sails for Scotland by the Lucania. He wore a buttonhole of heather in honor of the occasion. Ross & Co. have recently bought out the firm of S. & J. Armstrong, who have been in business in McKellar for some twenty years, and business at this branch will be carried on under the firm name of Patterson, Ross & Co.

J. D. Roberts, of Pure Gold Manufacturing Co, and W. H. Seyler, of Eby, Blain & Co., returned from their holidays this week. Both rusticated at different points, but both met in Berlin, and both are said to have had an exceedingly good time before they parted.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Sept. 6, 1894

GROCERIES.

MUCH as before is the situation in the wholesale grocery trade. The holiday interfered with business to some extent, although Labor Day was not generally observed, either by the wholesale or retail trades. The sugar market has developed more activity, but still the volume of business is not all that the trade would like to see. Values remain firm. Teas, particularly new season's Japans and China greens, are active, and higher prices have been asked and obtained. Canned goods are not moving to any extent, but the packers are holding prices firmly. They will not quote futures on vegetables, and the price of peaches has been advanced. The few Valencias there are are all in one or two houses, and prices are firm. Syrups are scarce. The egg market is improving, while butter is much as before.

CANNED GOODS.

The only change to note in this line is an advance by the packers in the price of peaches. They quote 10c. per dozen higher on 2's and 5c. per dozen higher on 3's. The association also refuses to quote futures on vegetables. Tomatoes, corn and peas are quiet and unchanged. We quote tomatoes and peas at 85 to 90c., and corn at 90c. Salmon is in good demand at $1.15 to $1.30 for talls and $1.35 to $1.40 for flats. Lobster quiet and unchanged at $1.80 to $2 for talls; $2.40 to $2.50 for flats; and $1.35 for new flat ½'s. Fruits are quiet at these quotations: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.65 to $2.80, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40.

COFFEES.

There has been no material change. In New York the market for Brazils continues as monotonous and uninteresting as ever. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

Market is quiet with quotations as before. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

Business continues fairly good without any new or special features. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12 to 14c.; pure white 20 to 28c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

SUGAR.

The demand is improving, while there is a fairly good consumption, but it is not yet as large as one would fancy is warranted by the large quantity of fresh fruits there are in the market, and the cheapness thereof. The ordinary quotation for granulated is still 4½ to 4⅝c. Yellows run from $3.35 up, and raws are quoted at 3½c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Monday: "Raw sugars have been parted with fairly this week by those who evidently considered the return they could obtain for investments as quite satisfactory, and were willing to clean up and draw out. Still they experienced no difficulty in securing custom whenever ready to accept old rates, and there are others who still expect to compel a raise in the line of bids before selling. Refined sugars have had a slow week, with a simply perfunctory line of trading, but no one cognizant of conditions of the market has been greatly surprised. Pretty much every section of dependent custom was loaded up to the brim either with goods in hand or ordered before the tariff bill went into effect, and as the duty seemed to be pretty well discounted on raws, and consumption of refined was not remarkably large, demand narrowed down accordingly. The close is exceedingly dull, with prices nominally unchanged."

Willett & Gray's Statistical: "The week—Raws advanced ⅛ to ¼c. Refined advanced ⅛c. Total stock in all the principal countries, 771,849 tons, against 645,000 tons at same dates last year. Raws—The demand to complete required supplies of refiners until the new sugar campaign was pretty well filled by the sellers this week. The holders who are waiting for a possible further demand in September, and are still asking 4c. for Centrifugals, may or may not obtain their price. Much depends on the size of the demand for refined sugar, which just at present is somewhat sentimental on the expectation of a further rise in the refined product. Refined sugar is now above the parity of foreign granulated for new crop delivery in October, and it is a little uncertain for how long present prices can be maintained, or a possible temporary advance succeed, although new beet sugar cannot reach here before the last of October. The conditions attending the change from free sugar to a duty basis are somewhat problematical and will require two months at least before well settled."

SYRUPS.

Syrups are scarce and firm in price. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

Dull and unchanged. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

Business continues active in new season's Japan teas, and the representatives of the tea houses on spot have been asking and getting higher prices from the wholesale houses. The net result of the war on prices has been an advance of 2c. per lb. on Formosa Oolongs, 1 to 1½c. on China greens, and ½ to 1c. on China blacks. Exchange has risen from lowest point about 5 per cent. and rates of insurance are higher. There is considerable competition on the local market, and shippers are not demanding the same advances that are being obtained in the United States. Japans in Canada are getting scarce. China blacks are in poor supply while there is a large demand. There is a good business doing in Ceylon teas, which are difficult to get in London.

Mail advices from London, under date of August 24, say that 18,140 packages of Ceylon tea were brought forward against 23,817 the previous week. Bidding was good for all grades with the exception of teas for price, which were occasionally not quite so eagerly competed for. Exports of Ceylon tea to the United Kingdom for the first half of August were about 2,700,000 lbs., and the estimate for the month has been reduced 5,500,000 lbs.

DRIED FRUIT.

The few Valencia raisins there are on the market are gradually falling into fewer hands. There are a few layers to be had at 7½c., and selected at 7c., and California loose muscatels at 7 to 7¼c. New crop will likely be here in about ten days, and prices will probably rule at from 6 to 6½c. for fine off-stalk. Advices from Denia report prices well sustained. Currants are in fair demand and unchanged. Quotations are: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¾c. in brls., and 4½ to 5c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases. The Dracona, the first direct currant steamer, left Patras Tuesday or Wednesday, and advices state that prices remain firm on the primary markets. Prunes are quiet and unchanged. Cable advices received Tuesday state that the market in Trieste remains much as before. We quote: U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's, 7½c.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c. Cables quote the Trieste markets easier.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The local demand for butter continues fair, all the better grades being taken, while the poor and medium qualities are accumulating. The Old Country markets are much as before, while values here and there are too far apart for business of an export character to be done yet, either in dairy or creamery butter. The quality of the butter held by many of the country dealers is becoming much deteriorated, and some large buyers, who have been examining lots, inform THE GROCER that they would not bid any price at all, although holders were anxious to sell. They look for a lower range of values. Creamery pound prints are in good demand, but creamery tubs are quiet. There is a good deal of creamery butter on the market that has been held for some time, much of which is no better than poor dairy. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17 to 18c.; straight store, 15 to 16c.; crocks, 18c.; bakers' butter, 12 to 14c.; pound rolls, 19 to 20c. Creamery—Tubs, 19 to 20c.; pound prints, 22 to 23c.

The local cheese market does not respond to any extent to the advanced prices outside. Jobbers are getting 10½ to 11c., while about this price is being obtained at the factories.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Pork packers report that sales of provisions, especially long clear and barrel pork are much larger than usual. This is attributed to the increased activity in the lumber business on account of the removal of the American duty on lumber.

BACON—Long clear, 8¼ to 8½c.; smoked backs, 12 to 12½c.; breakfast bacon, 12½ to 13c.; rolls, 9 to 9¼c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 11½c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 12c.; small hams, 13c.; pickled, 11 to 11½c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, 9½ to 9¾c. in tubs, 9¾ to 10c. in pails, and 8½ to 8¾c. in tierces. Compound, 7½ to 7¾c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $18.50 to $19; Canadian short-cut, $19 to $20; shoulder mess, $14.50 to $15; clear mess, $15 to $15.50.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The receipts of live stock at the Western Yards, Tuesday, were larger than usual, but the demand was by no means active, and prices dragged. There were 80 carloads, which include 1,100 head of sheep and lambs, 800 hogs, 80 calves, and 12 milch cows. Cables were a trifle better for export cattle, but as the supply was large here, and the condition of animals hardly up to the mark, prices show little change from those of Friday. The best brought 3¾ to 4c. per lb., and others 3½c. The bulk of butchers' cattle is of inferior quality, and the demand was slow. The best, averaging 1,000 to 1,100 lbs., sold at 3¼c. per lb.; medium at 2¾ to 3c., and inferior at 2¼ to 2½c. per lb. Calves dull at $1.50 up to $7 per head, the latter for choice veals. Milch cows firm, and prices steady. They sold at $28 to $50 each, the latter for choice. There was a moderate demand for sheep, which rule firm. Sales of exporters at 3½c. per lb., and butchers' sheep from $2 to $3 per head. Lambs inactive and easy, with only a limited demand. They sold at $1 75 to $2.50 per head. Hogs easier, with choice long and lean animals fetching $5.40, thick fats, $4.90 to $5, stores, $4.75 to $4 80, sows, $4.50, and stags, $2.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

Fall peaches are arriving freely, Tuesday's shipments being the largest of the season. Prices are in consequence lower. Demand for tomatoes is moderate only, while there is a good supply. Plums are wanted. Lemons and oranges remain much as before. We quote: Oranges—Sorrentos, 200's, $5 per box. Lemons—Fancy Rodhi, 300's, $5 to $5 50 per box; ditto, 360's, $5 00 to $5.25 per box; Palermos, 360's, $3 50 per box; 360's, $4.50 per box. Bananas, $1.25 to $1.75. Watermelons, $15 to $20 per 100. Muskmelons, $1 to $1.25 per crate; $1.50 to $2 per brl., and 25c. to 40c. per basket. Cucumbers, 25c. per basket. Tomatoes, 15 to 30c. per basket. Peaches, 60c. to $1 per basket. Pears, $2.25 per barrel for Bartlett's and 40 to 50c. per basket. Plums, 60 to 85c. per basket. Apples, $1.25 to $1.75 per brl. Grapes, 40 to 50c. per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged at $1.20 to $1.40.

EGGS—The export trade is a little better, several shipments having been made within the last few days. Business on the spot has also improved. Jobbers are now asking 10½ to 11c. for strictly fresh eggs and 7 to 8c. for held stock.

POTATOES—Demand is light and receipts liberal, with prices easy. We quote car lots at 60c. and small lots out of store at 70c. per bag.

ONIONS—Demand fair at 50 to 60c. per bag.

HOPS—Much as before at 13 to 15c.; package, 20c. per lb.

MARKETS—Continued

HONEY—Is beginning to move a little, but there is not much doing yet. Comb is quoted at 14 to 15c. and strained at 7 to 8c.

FISH.

Trade is firm. The supply slightly exceeds the demand, but it is held for the Exhibition. Lake Ontario trout is now coming in quite freely. Prices are unchanged and are as follows: Lake Ontario trout, 7 to 8c.; skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c.; Lake Erie herring, $1 75 to $2 per 100; blueback herring, 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb.; salmon trout, 6½c.; white fish, 6½ to 7c.; pike, 5c. lb.; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 5 to 6c.; large halibut, 10c.; ciscoes, $1.25.

OYSTERS.

Oysters are beginning to arrive. None but a few of the best shops are handling them yet, and then it is on a small scale on account of the warm weather. The price is $1.50 per gallon.

SALT.

Trade is good, especially in large lots. The demand for coarse salt for meats is extra good. Prices unchanged as follows: Dairy, $1.50, special grade; brls., 90 to 95c.; coarse sacks, 68c.; fine sacks, 70c.; American rock, $10 per ton.

SEEDS.

There is a little alsike and timothy seed offering, and jobbers are paying all the way from $5.50 to $6.30 per bushel for alsike and $2 to $2.75 for timothy, f.o.b. points of shipment. Offerings are more liberal, and the market is somewhat feverish.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW.

HIDES—There is no change, carloads lots of cured moving at 4c.

SKINS—Prices have been advanced 5c., 40c. now being the ruling figure. There is not much doing.

WOOL—Business is dull, and in the absence of transactions prices are nominal.

TALLOW—Is moving slowly. Dealers are paying 5½c. and selling at 6c.

PETROLEUM.

Trade remains firm, with prices much as before. We quote, in 5 to 10 brl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 15½ to 16c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 18 to 19c.; photogene, 20c.

In Petrolea car lots are quoted at 9½c.

MARKET NOTES.

T. A. Lytle & Co. report a good fall trade for pickling vinegar.

White & Co. want one carload of good fall apples, colored variety preferred.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. are offering a lot of Gem jars at prices said to be away down.

pool, one quarter or ten tons of this amount is said to be for W. H. Gillard & Co., of Hamilton.

J. L. Watt & Scott are in receipt of a carload lot of Bay herring.

A consignment of Sphinx brand prunes is to hand with Perkins, Ince & Co.

H. P. Eckardt & Co. have received a shipment of new season Young Hysons.

Sloan & Crowther are receiving another shipment of early picked new Japan tea.

Gunn, Flavelle & Co. have made several shipments of eggs to the English market lately.

Wm. Paterson & Son's "ad." on page 6 draws the special attention of the trade to their soda biscuits.

The Eleme raisins which are being offered by H. P. Eckardt & Co. are said to be giving excellent satisfaction.

Eby, Blain & Co. are offering loose muscatels in 50-lb. boxes; also "Anchor" Bosnia prunes at 5½ to 6½c.

T. Kinnear & Co. have to hand a shipment of "O-Wee-Kay-No" salmon, new pack; also Young Hyson tea.

Aikenhead & Sloan have on hand a large supply of smoked trout which they claim is superior to, and a pleasant change from haddies.

T. B. Escott & Co. write their friends to call at their warehouse during the Western Fair, and they promise to make the call pleasant.

W. H. Gillard & Co., of Hamilton, report their sales in Imperial Congou in Manitoba and the Northwest as having been doubled during the past year.

Wm. Paterson & Son are now working on Christmas confectionery specialties. Their travelers will shortly call on the trade with a large and varied line of samples.

"Grand Mogul Tea" and "Lion Digestive Coffee" will be infused and served to all who wish it at T. B. Escott & Co's exhibit, Western Fair, London.

New 1894 salmon has just arrived with M. Masuret & Co., of London, they having taken into warehouse two cars of their "Lynx" and "British Columbia" brands.

New Orleans private despatches report scanty supplies of rice, with no milled grades available. Receipts of rough about 2,000 bags per day, against 10,000 last year.

"Eagle Ceylon and Japan teas are reliable," write M. Masuret & Co. "We use every precaution in the buying of these teas, and you can recommend them to your customers."

Advices received by R. S. McIndoe state that sardine fishing, both in France and Portugal, is still practically nil, and that even should the packing now improve prices must be higher.

James A. Skinner & Co.'s travelers will be in the sample rooms at 54-56 Wellington west during the Exhibition to meet and entertain their customers who are visiting the city during the Fair.

The Foam Yeast Co. report heavy sales of their yeast in London, Sarnia, Hamilton, Brantford, Prince Edward Island and St. John, N.B. They are making large exhibits at London, Ottawa and Guelph.

The show of "Salada" Ceylon tea in the Main Building at the Exhibition is a credit to the Exhibition itself as well as to the wholesale agents for "Salada," and from the numbers who are sampling the tea and the opinions expressed as to same, the large outlay incurred is not wasted in exhibiting.

T. A. Lytle & Co. are now carrying in stock a choice lot of fruits for jams and jellies; also vegetables for pickling. They are making contracts with large fruit growers for supplies to keep their factories going. Merchants visiting the city during exhibition are cordially invited by the firm to visit its sample rooms on Richmond street, near York.

Grand Mogul tea exhibits were held at the following places the past week: Skinner Bros., West Lorne; D. J. McLean, Ridgetown; A. M. Aubin, Comber; W. H. Parnell, Leamington; J. G. Kolfage, Kingsville; D. W. Mason, Windsor. The lady in charge writes: "Great success everywhere, some stores sold nearly half-chest in single day during exhibit."

The following letter, re "Salada" Ceylon Tea, was shown THE CANADIAN GROCER by P. C. Larkin & Co.: "Toronto Junction, August 28th. Please send us, as soon as possible, 75 pounds of Blue Label and 25 pounds of Red Label 'Salada.' I can say of this tea, now that I have handled it for over two years, that it has pleased my customers and has been most satisfactory in every respect. The profit is fair and there is no cutting in prices, and the quality is always right. I value the agency for Toronto Junction very highly indeed. Respectfully yours, Geo. E. Williams."

The Dominion Paper Box Co. is just now making a specialty of oyster pails. These pails are liquid tight, and are claimed to be second to none on the market. Every pail is guaranteed uniform. One of the methods adopted by the firm to induce business is the promise of a window display card or a lithographed chromo to every purchaser of 1,000 oyster pails. The display card is printed in gold leaf on heavy morocco board, and is 19 x 12. The chromo is in fifteen colors. Both are handsome and attractive, and either will make an attractive sign to inform passers-by that oysters are sold in the store in which it is suspended.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, September 6, 1894.

GROCERIES.

BUSINESS showed a fair degree of improvement in the past week. Sugar and tea take the lead in activity, a large quantity of the former having gone west during the week, while the active demand for teas which was noticed in our last from second hands is fully maintained. Coffee and all the other lines show good life also. In canned goods there have been some further large purchases of salmon to arrive, but canned vegetables continue on the dull side. Values generally are firm, especially so in tea and sugar, advices from outside markets on both of these being firm.

SUGAR.

The sugar market has been a very active one since our last report, a large volume of business being transacted. The demand comes from both local and western buyers. A large quantity has gone to the latter during the week on the basis of 4¼c. for granulated, 3¼ to 3⅞c. for yellows, as to quality, at the factory. Outside advices both from London and New York have been remarkably firm, and are naturally exercising an influence on sellers. Stocks in refiners' hands are light, and it would not be at all surprising if the above prices are advanced before the date of next writing.

SYRUPS.

In syrup a fair amount of business has been transacted, and the market rules steady, sales of bright grades having been made at 2 to 2⅛c. and dark at 1 to 1¼c. per lb. American syrups have sold at 17 to 21½c. per gallon.

MOLASSES.

No improvement has been noted in the molasses market, which continues dull and heavy. The weight of heavy stocks is felt all the more owing to the poor demand which sellers are experiencing. Round lots are offering at 27½c. ex store; car lots are selling at 29c., while the price for single puncheons remains nominally at 30c.

TEA.

The tea market has ruled very active, and a large volume of business has been put through at firm prices. Japans have been the most active grade, and the turnover of them is large. Gunpowders have met a good enquiry also. It is now impossible to do business except at much firmer prices than a fortnight ago. Japans have fetched 10½ to 11c. which were offered at 9c. a few weeks ago, and medium to fine have realized 16 to 22c. In blacks values have raised all the way from 10 to 20c. up to 17 to 21c. for Oolongs, Foo Chows and Formosas.

COFFEES.

The coffee market has been fairly active and prices are firm. Orders are principally for small lots. Maracaibo changed hands at quotations. We quote: Maracaibo, 18¾ to 21c.; Rio, 19 to 21c.; Java, 24 to 30c.; Mocha, 22½ to 28c.

SPICES.

The spice market has continued active as noted last week, and the mills report a good demand. Values are steady. We quote: Penang black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia,

MONTREAL MARKETS.—Continued.

9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 65c. and 70 to 90c., and Jamaica ginger, 15 to 22c. at the mills. Jobbers' quotations call for a proportionate advance on this basis.

DRIED FRUITS.

The dried fruit market remains much the same. The season is backward in Spain for raisins, and advices state that shipments so far have been light. Prices quoted up to date on the cable have been for fancy for this market. In currants it is claimed that the crop in Greece is 30 per cent. less than last year. Prices have opened 11s. 6d. to 12s. for provincials in brls., cost of freight to Montreal. We quote: Off-stalk Valencias, 5 to 5½c.; fine, 5½ to 5¾c.; layers, 6 to 6½c.; currants, 3 to 3½c.

NUTS.

The nut market is unchanged and moderate jobbing trade passing. We quote: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

There has been very little change in canned goods except that purchases of salmon have been made at fu'l prices owing to the shortage on the coast. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 80 to 85c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2 10 per doz.; corn, 85 to 90c. per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz. Australian canned meats: Boiled mutton, $1 86 to $1.90 per doz. 1-lb. tins, and $3.10 to $3.15 per doz., 2-lb. tins; roast mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz., 2-lb. tins; corned mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz., 2 lb. tins.

GREEN FRUIT.

The apple market does not show much change. Prices are fairly steady, however. Astrachans and Duchesses, $1.50 to $1.75. The only oranges offering are Rodi, which sell at $4 50 to $5.50 per box, as to quality. There was some fresh receipts of lemons

FLOUR AND FEED

A PROMINENT grocer on Queen street west, Toronto, speaking on the subject of flour displays for the window said to a representative of THE GROCER: "I have not the least doubt, that as effective a display can be made from flour as anything else. I have noticed that the grocers were not slow in following the advice given in your columns, and I was surprised to see the number of windows so dressed on Queen street."

A better demand is being felt in flour, and feed is moving better. There is a large demand for bran and shorts, but they are hard to get, owing to the amount shipped outside by the city mills. Very little improvement is reported in the demand for cereals, and collections are still very hard to make.

The stock of grain in the Toronto elevators is reported to have decreased by 3,000 bushels during the last week.

THE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

FLOUR—A better local demand is being felt this week, and the reduction on fall flours has been followed by a similar reduction on Manitoba patents and strong bakers'. We quote: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.50 to $3.60; strong bakers', $3.35 to $3.45; Ontario, $3 to $3.15; straight roller, $2 80 to $3.

BRAN—The demand for bran is larger, and prices remain high in consequence. City mills that have any to offer are selling at $14 per ton.

STRAW—A slightly better demand is reported by retail dealers. Good straw is offering at from $7 to $8 per ton.

BARLEY—Is nominally quoted at 42½c. per bushel.

PEAS—Quite a large amount changed hands this week at from 60 to 60½c. per bushel.

HAY—There is a good supply, but not of the highest quality. It is offering at from $7.50 to $8.50 per ton.

SHORTS—A good outside trade is reported, while in the city wholesale dealers are unable to supply the demand, and are selling at $17 per ton.

SCREENINGS — Trade is brisk. Good screenings are selling at $12 at the mills.

OATS—Are reported somewhat firmer, and are selling at from 32 to 33c. per bushel in large lots.

MONTREAL.

There was a fair demand for flour on local account, and the market ruled fairly active and steady. Winter wheat, $3.25 to $3.50; spring wheat, patents, $3.25 to $3.50; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.55 to $2.60; superfine, $2.40 to $2.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.30 to $3.40; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.40 to $3.45.

A fair business was accomplished in feed, and values were firmly held. Bran, $16; shorts, $18; mouille, $22 to $24.

There was no change in oatmeal, the market being quiet and steady Standard, brls., $4.30 to $4 40; granulated, brls., $4.30 to $4.40; rolled oats, brls, $4.50 to $4.60; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

Sales in flour continue light. Mills, however, report a good business at firm values. Local market is dull. Feed is in demand but hard to get. Oatmeal is off 10 to 15c. Cornmeal continues firm. Hay is slow at low prices. Beans firm with sign tending upward. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.20 to $4.25; Ontario, high grade, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4.25 to $4.35; cornmeal, $3 10 to $3.15; middlings on track, $22 to $23.00; oats, 38 to 40c., on track; beans, h.p., $1.55 to $1.60; prime, $1.45 to $1.50; split peas, $3.65 to $3.85; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00; round peas, $3.65 $3.75; hay, $9.50 to $10, on track.

during the week, which were turned over promptly at $3.50 for choice new stock; medium to good, $3; old stock, $2 to $2.50 per box. Bananas are very dull at 25 to 75c. per bunch, according to size and quality. Receipts of peaches have been large and the demand is rather slow—$1 to $1.30 for California and 60c. to $1 for Canadian. Pears are an over supply also, California 75c. to $1.20 per box for ripe fruit and $1.75 to $2 for green; Hudson river Bartletts $2 per keg, and Canadian Bartletts $3.50 to $4.50 per brl. California plums are in fair demand at $1.25 to $1.50 per box; Canadian, 50 to 60c. per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

The egg market was firmer at 9 to 10c. for choice stock; inferior, 7 to 8c. Beans are quiet at $1.20 per bushel. There is a fair demand for honey at 7½ to 9c. in tins. New comb honey has sold at 10 to 14c. per lb. Hops continue quiet. We quote new crop to arrive, 9 to 10c.; yearlings on spot, 6 to 7c.

PROVISIONS.

The tone of the local provision market is firm, and prices generally are well maintained. Business on the whole is quiet and principally of a jobbing character, owing to the fact that buyers on spot and in the country are only buying sufficient to fill actual wants on account of the high prices ruling. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20;

BUTTER.

Butter does not show any change of moment on spot. Business doing is of moderate dimensions, and our quotations give a fair idea of possible values. Local jobbers show a disposition to trade in late made creamery, have in some cases paid 19c. for it. Shippers still affirm that this is too extreme for them. Some of the optimistic in the trade to-day were speculating on what effect the high prices in the States might have. Elgin quotations 24c. The tenor of British advices, however, are not more encouraging than they were. We quote as follows: Finest late made creamery, 19c.; finest July creamery, 18¼ to 18½c.; Finest Townships, 16 to 16½c.; fine Western, 14 to 15½c.

CHEESE.

The firm tone to the cheese market is fully maintained. In fact it is quite likely that a buyer with an order to fill would not find it easy to repeat purchases at the figures paid last week. Spot business is confined to Eastern goods, and, as usual, it looks as though the market was going to be well cleared up of what goods are available. For early August white 10¼c. has been paid, and for colored a fraction more would have to be given, though we did not hear of any actual transactions. Advices from the country sections are as firm as ever, and buyers gave values another hoist on Thursday. At Brockville, as expected, the factorymen have commenced to contract the balance of their make and will not sell their August separately, but want to sell it with the balance. On Thursday one factoryman secured 10⅝c. for his August, and 10¾c. for the balance. This is almost a full cent higher than the best price paid last year. Such prices for August and the balance in the country make it more difficult than ever to quote Western goods on spot. What is here is not for sale except at a substantial consideration also, but we quote them nominally ¼c. higher than Eastern goods. Finest Western colored, 10⅝ to 10¾c.; finest Western white, 10½ to 10⅝c.; finest Townships', 10⅜c.; finest Eastern colored, 10⅜c.; finest Eastern white, 10¼c.; Cable 49s.

ASHES.

The ashes market has made a notable advance during the week under the influence of moderate stocks and an increased demand for England. We quote values 10 to 15c. higher. Firsts, $4.15; seconds, $3.25 to $3.80, and pearls, $7 to $7.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

A cable order was made during the week for a round lot of Japan teas, but nothing less than 17 cents would buy the goods.

John Pinder, of John Pinder & Co., the big molasses and raw sugar importers, have made a clean $30,000 out of the sale of a lot of raw sugar which he held in New York.

Advices to Rose & Laflamme from Greece state that the currant crop there is estimated to be 30 per cent: less than that of last year.

Advices to the Mount Royal Melting Co. state that the rice market is very firm. In England prices have advanced 1½d. during the week.

Cables to Gillespie & Co. from Denia state that the first steamers have only taken out 5 000 boxes of raisins, as the season is very backward.

Frank Hart, of the fruit house of Hart & Tuckwell, went west last week on a tour visiting the different apple orchards in Ontario. He is making arrangements about export purchases.

Heavy transactions in New York have sent up the price both of refined and raw. It is said that Montreal refiners whose stocks of cane sugar are not heavy have been operating these also.

W. T. Costigan & Co. have advices from the Coast that the advance in f.o.b cost of salmon recently reported is fully maintained and that canners are undecided about accepting some recent offers.

ST. JOHN, N.B., MARKETS.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 6.

BUSINESS for the past week has shown an improvement, and a firm feeling is felt in prices along many lines. Cheese, which has been rather quiet, has advanced about ¼c., and demand is much better. The price is still low. If the factories would but take broader and more business-like views of the cheese question, and would form in a cheese board, such as are worked so successfully in Upper Canada, they would get a much better price for their output than they do now—from ½ to 1c. below Ontario market, and nothing like as good an opportunity for marketing. There is too much jealousy between the factories. Matters of interest in other lines will be found below under their respective heads:

SPICE—Demand for these goods is quiet, this not being the active season except for pickling spice. Ginger continues firm at advance. Pepper shows a firmer feeling. Nutmegs are also firm, and cream of tartar shows a slight advance over old figures. Quotations from merchants here show no change: Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, ground, 20 to 25c.; whole, 15 to 20c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; bicarb soda, $2.35 to $2.40; sal. soda, brls., 1 to 1½c.

SALT—Market is showing a good demand, one firm having shipped to Maine ports during the last month upward of 5,000 bags. At present writing stocks are low. Four cargoes are, however, due, amounting to some 15,000 bags, so that no difficulty in filling orders is expected. Prices are quoted to arrive ex ship's side: Coarse, 46c.; ex store, 50 to 52c.; factory filled, $1 to $1.15; Canadian, small bags in brls., 5-lb. bags, $3 25; 10-lb. bags, $3.10; American, wood boxes, 20 lb., 20c.; 10 lb., 12c.

TOBACCO—Market shows no change. Demand fair. McDonald's brands quoted: Crown, 43c.; Pilot, 45c.; Index, 43c.; Napoleon, 49c. McAlpin's brands: Beaver, 62c.; Tecumseh, 65c.; Jubilee, 49c.; Gold Shield, 49c.; Woodcock, 53c.; Army and Navy, 45c. Tuckett's brands: T. & B. Myrtle Navy plug, 59c.; cut, 70c.; Lily, 46c.; Crescent, 43c.; chewing T. & B., long black, 48c.; Mahogany 12's, 49c.; Mahogany 7's, 48c.

OIL—Demand is reported rather better during the past week. Values unchanged. We quote as follows: Burning oil, best American, 18c.; best Canadian, 17c.; prime Canadian, 13c., no charge for barrel, terms 60 days; linseed oil, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. Turpentine, 45 to 47c. Cod oil, 28 to 30c.; seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; seal oil, pale, 38 to 43c.; olive oil, commercial, 90c. to $1; castor oil, commercial, 6½ to 7c.; extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

CANNED GOODS—No vegetables are as yet quoted for future, and quotations on fruits have been withdrawn by the association. Salmon are firm for fall delivery, some packers on the Coast having refused orders owing to short pack. Those who delayed ordering, expecting that, as last year, prices would fall off, are disappointed. As the quantity sold here is small compared with last year firmer prices are in order. We quote: Corn, 95c. to $1.00; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.40 to $2.50; oysters, 1's, $1.40 to $1.50; 2's, $2 20 $2 25; corned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.70; 2's, $2.65; salmon, $1.25 to $1.35; lobsters, $1.75 to $2.00; peaches, Canadian, 2's, $1.90 to $2; 3's, $2.90 to $3; peaches, American, 2's, $1.65 to $1.70; 3's, $2.65 to $2 70.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—Although reports from Denia are for a very large crop, prices of September shipments from there are higher than they were for August. This has caused somewhat of a falling off in the demand. New California loose muscatels are quoted rather high to sell. At equal prices with Valencia layers it is believed by many they would hold a large share of the trade. Evaporated and dried apples will come in on a bare market. Demand for nuts is quiet. We quote: Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5½ to 6c.; layer Valencias, 6½ to 7c; loose muscatels, in boxes, 6½ to 6¾c.; London layers, $2 to $2.10; prunes, 7 to 7½c.; California, 11 to 12c.; currents, brls., 3½ to 4c.; cases, 4 to 5c.; cleaned, 1lb. cartoons, 8 to 9c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Egyptian onions, 1¾ to 2c.; French walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 15c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazils, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c.; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 11c.

GREEN FRUIT—Business is active. Apples are very plentiful. There are daily auction sales, and these tend to keep prices down. Peaches and pears are now coming forward in large quantities. Plums are very plentiful and very low, being much below last season's price. Grapes are becoming more plentiful. Peaches, per basket, $2 to $2.25; lemons, $4.50 to $5.50; oranges, $5.50 to $6; bananas, $1.50 to $2.25; apples, $1.25 to $2.50; grapes, per basket, $1 to $1.25; tomatoes, 2 to 3c. per lb.; cucumbers, 10 to 12c. per doz.; Bartlet pears, $5 to $6.50; watermelons, 40 to 45c.; California apricots, peaches, plums, per crate, $2.50 to $3.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Cheese is firmer and in better demand. If style and size were right a better figure could be obtained. Higher prices are looked for. Butter is in fair demand, but trade is not being pushed as better values are expected. Eggs are higher, with fair demand. Cheese, 10 to 10½c.; butter, creamery, 20 to 22c.; dairy, 17 to 18c.; eggs, 10 to 12c. for fresh.

MOLASSES—No change is reported. Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; fancy Porto Rico, 42 to 43c.; choice, 34 to 35c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27 to 28c. Syrup, quiet, 30 to 35c.

SUGAR—Demand is better than last week. There is no change in value. Granulated, $4.40 to $4.50; bright yellow, 3½ to 3⅝c.; yellow, 3¼ to 3½c.; Barbadoes, 3¾c.; powdered, 6 to 6¼c.; Paris lump, 6 to 6¼c. In West India sugar, though quality is better than under the old tariff, demand continues light. It is expected another year will see larger quantities in use.

FISH—Trade is quiet. Arrivals are small. Dealers are slow in paying prices asked for pickled fish. We quote: Large cod, $3.60 to $3.75; medium, $3.40 to $3.50; small, $2 75 to $3; pollock, $1.70 to $1.75; bay

WOODSTOCK, N.B., MARKETS.

WOODSTOCK, N.B., Sept. 6, 1894.

BUSINESS is showing steady improvement, the markets being better supplied than for some time. In hay, though price continues low, and the fact of a reduction in the duty under the new American tariff has not increased the price, it is expected it will prevent its going lower, and better figures are expected. New oats are beginning to come in. Apples and plums are very plentiful and of extra good quality. They are very low. Eggs are steady. Butter is scarce, and higher prices are expected. Cheese are also firm, and the outlook is that values will be higher, the extra dry season is so affecting the output. We quote: Hay, $6.00 per ton; new oats, local, on track, 30c.; apples, $1.00 per brl.; potatoes, $1.00 per brl.; turnips, 75c. per brl.; beets, $1.00; carrots, 80c. to $1.00; onions, $1.50 per bushel; cabbage, 4 to 6c. per head; green corn, 8 to 12c. per doz.; squash, 1½ to 2c. per lb.; cucumbers, 8 to 12c. per doz; tomatoes, 60c. per bushel; plums, 50 to 75c. per peck; eggs, 10c. per doz.; butter, 15 to 16c.; cheese, 9½ to 10c.

MUSKMELON SITUATION.

MUSKMELONS have been arriving freely for some time, and of late the market has been almost overstocked with them. The quality of the fruit seems to be unusually poor this season from most all sections, and many of the usually fine marks are not good enough for the best trade. Melons are arriving now from North and some points in South Carolina and from all sections north of that up to the southern part of Jersey, with advices from upper or near-by Jersey arriving to the effect that shipments will commence very soon from these sections. The bulk of the supply just at present is from Maryland and Delaware, and while there are some very nice melons received, the proportion is small and market has been burdened with large quantities of poor stock which, while often having a good appearance, lacks flavor, and tastes more like a squash than a melon. Much of the stock is too green, though many arrive over-ripe and probably latter are more neglected than the green melons, as only the cheapest trade can use them, and then only at extremely low prices; while it is not an uncommon occurrence with receivers to have to dump large quantities, even after having paid the freight and other expenses on them. Most growers are not particular enough as to the varieties they raise, and then again many are very careless regarding packing and preparing their shipments. Stock, especially from far southern points, should be slightly green when shipped in order to arrive in condition for ready consumption, and shippers should endeavor to have the stock as uniform as possible, not only in ripeness, but in size and appearance, but nearly all growers pick their melons too soon and they arrive here too green to attract even cheap buyers. Probably the packages used for muskmelons are more uniform than with many other articles shipped here, but from some sections odd-sized crates or packages are used. The most popular package with buyers is the barrel or full-sized barrel-crate. From the general appearance of a large proportion of the receipts, one would believe that shippers thought most anything was marketable upon this market, and such seems to be pretty nearly the case, as thousands of melons find their way to the table which never should be allowed to go into consumption. If the fruit inspector of the Board of Health department should seize a share of the green, unwholesome melons, and in fact some other fresh fruits with which the market is burdened, it would enable commission receivers to realize better prices for their good stock, and would have a tendency to keep the market from being glutted with inferior fruit, and the growers of fine varieties would not only be rewarded by larger returns, but it would probably raise the standard of the melons shipped to this market and cause Southern growers to be more careful in selecting their varieties to grow and in handling their product. About the best melons received come from near-by sections of New Jersey, but shipments have not commenced as yet this season, though expected shortly.

CHINA TEAS.

WISNER & CO., Shanghai, under date July 30th, advise as follows: Black teas—Musters have been arriving more freely, and a small business has transpired, principally for America. No noticeable change in prices can, however, be quoted, but the market is weak, and a slight concession has been made in common teas, a few of very low quality having been settled at tls. 12.50. Advices from Hankow are to the 16th inst. The yield of second crops proved larger than was anticipated, being 140,000 half-chests, or very nearly double that of last season. Of this it was estimated that 100,000 had been bought for Russia. Third crops were just beginning to arrive, but no estimate of quantity could be given. Total arrivals, 37,165 half-chests, against 53,633 half-chests in 1893; total settlements, 13,165 half-chests, against 32,633 half-chests in 1893; stock, 24,000 half-chests, against 21,000 half-chests in 1893. Green teas—A steady business has passed in Pingsueys until the last few days, since when buying has almost entirely ceased, owing to adverse advices respecting the first arrivals in America, and the natives declining to make any concession in price. The market was opened for Moyunes and Teenkais on the 14th inst., the first settlements showing an advance on last year's prices of taels 6 to 7. The following day great excitement prevailed and prices rapidly advanced 3 to 4 taels. Although this excitement has now somewhat abated, there is still a keen demand for choice teas. The lower qualities are not in such request, and show only a moderate advance over last year. The teas (Moyunes especially) are very badly made and the quality is disappointing. The movement for season is as follows:

	Country and local.		Pingsueys.
Arrivals—½-chests ...	36,238	32,917	98,576	95,101
Settlements	25,188	22,917	64,576	74,101

SOUTHERN RICE CROP.

The following regarding the progress and prospects of the rice crop in the respective States is taken from the bulletin of Dan Talmage's Sons, New York, August 15th: "Conditions in the older rice-growing States, North and South Carolina and Georgia, are generally favorable, and if no untoward circumstances arise during harvest, the outcome, in spite of reduced area, is likely to prove full average both as regards quantity and quality. These, however, are minor States, the largest producer, South Carolina, raising scarce one sixth, and all of them combined only one-fourth that of Louisiana." Of the latter State the Messrs. Talmage remark: "Considerable uncertainty exists as to the outcome. Wherever situated along bayou, river or other stream, crops are in fine condition; but those deriving moisture from rainfall are struggling for life, safety depending on favorable winds, temperature, plenty of rain from now on and a late fall. Immediate prospects are encouraging, giving positive assurance of 1,000,000 sacks, and under favorable circumstances suggested a possible outcome of 1,500,000 sacks (6,000-000 bushels). Harvesting of exceptional sections and crops now under way."

MONEY CHANGES IN CHILI.

The Bureau of the American Republics is informed that the Chilian Government has under consideration the project of requiring all import duties to be paid in the national money, the cost of exchange added. At present 25 per cent of the duty is payable in gold. It is also proposed that the export duty on nitrate, now payable partly in the national currency, shall be paid in gold, or by accepted letters of credit. The four millions of dollars surplus, which it is hoped will be gained by this operation, are to be applied to the fund for conversion of the national paper currency. This proposed financial scheme is to go into effect December 1st.

HITTING THE SPLINTER.

"How is the advertising business, Cannon?" queried a friend to the well-known advertising manager.

"Dull, sir! Dull!" he replied. "Everybody economizing. Scared to death. Pulling in their horns. No enterprise left in 'em. Some of 'em carrying it so far, sir, that if they do not take care they will hit a splinter."

"Hit a splinter! What do you mean?"

"What! Do you mean to say you never heard that expression before? Well, I will tell you: Old Bill Soper, near Henderson, Ky., was about the closest-fisted old man in the state—wealthy and miserly. His son, young Bill Soper, went to town and spent 5 cents on a ginger cake. It nearly broke the old man's heart, so he sent him to old man Hugh Tate, an economist, to take lessons in economy. 'Ask him questions, Bill,' said the old man, 'and bear in mind what he tells you. He will make your fortune for you.' Old man Hugh Tate was a close-fisted farmer, and when Bill got there it was dark—just in time for supper. They had nothing on the table but bread and water. 'Why do you not have vegetables?' asked Billy, 'there are lots in the garden!' 'Sell 'em,' replied the economist. 'Why do you not have mutton, you have lots of sheep?' was the next query. 'I sell the mutton,' said Tate, and so the lesson proceeded. When the meal was over Tate blew out the candle. 'What did you do that for?' queried Billy. 'Candles cost money,' responded the old man, 'we can talk in the dark.' Just then he heard rustling on the other side of the table, and said: 'What are you doing, Billy?' 'Taking off my pants' said Billy, 'save wearing the seat out, nobody can see in the dark.' 'Good boy, Billy! Good boy! You can go home in the morning, I can't teach you anything. But, sonny; mind you don't hit a splinter and ruin yourself.'"

John Wilson, merchant, is looking particularly amiable this week, and the cause may be found in the arrival of a son on Wednesday last—the first event of the kind in the family. Numerous congratulations are being received.—Pick-Me-Up, Pictou, N.S.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

DIFFICULTIES, ASSIGNMENTS, COMPROMISES

JOSEPH TELLIER, trader, Montreal, has had a demand of assignment made upon him.

R. A. Dubrule, grocer, Montreal, has assigned.

D. M. Shields, grocer, Petrolea, has assigned to T. W. Nash.

Paul Magnusson, general merchant, Selkirk, Man., has assigned.

E. G. Belisle, general merchant, St. Andre-Avelin, Que., has assigned.

H. C. Goerke, boots and shoes, Sault Ste. Marie, has assigned in trust.

James A. Moore, general merchant, Worthington, has assigned in trust.

W. A. Mowatt & Co., general merchants, Campbelltown, N.B., have assigned. So has Max Ross, of St. John, same Province.

PARTNERSHIPS FORMED AND DISSOLVED.

Wilson Bros., hay and grain, Montreal, are reported to be absent.

Westland & Co., pork packers, etc., Ridgetown, have dissolved.

Soby & Membery, hotel, Toronto, have dissolved; John Soby continues.

Lomer, Higginson & Co., exporters hay and grain, Montreal, have dissolved.

Robert Kneeshaw and James Lawrie have registered a partnership in Montreal to carry on business as warehousemen under the style of Kneeshaw & Lawrie.

SALES MADE AND PENDING.

W. Tilden, general merchant, Blytheswood, is advertising business for sale.

The stock of Plunkett & Co., grocers, Ottawa, is advertised to be sold for rent.

The stock of A. J. Dubuc, general merchant, St. Hyacinthe, Que., has been sold at 75c.

CHANGES.

E. B. Hill & Co., produce, Victoria, are closed.

Louis Payment, general merchant, is opening branch at St. Malo, Man.

FIRES.

Bienvenue & Frere's saw mill at Varennes, Que., has been burned.

The stock of O. Jutres, grocer, Montreal, has been damaged by fire and water; insured.

DEATHS.

W. R Clark, auctioneer, Victoria, is dead.

Wm. Heyward, coal, grain, etc., Chatham, is dead.

Elijah Bawler, of the Dominion Sanitary Pottery Co., St. John, Que., is dead.

Do you, Mr. Merchant, imagine for a moment that successful advertisers all over the country are spending money for space just for the fun of it? Not much. It pays.

GONDENSED MINCE MEAT

Delicious Mince Pies every day in the year.

Handled by retailer as shelf or counter goods. No waste. Gives general satisfaction.

Sells at all Seasons.

Will not ferment in warm weather.

DIRECTIONS
THE CONTENT OF THIS PACKAGE WILL MAKE TWO LARGE PIES. ADD 1½ PINTS OF WATER, OR HALF THAT AMOUNT FOR EACH PIE. BOIL 15 OR 20 MINUTES. IF TOO THICK, ADD A LITTLE WATER. IF TOO THIN, BOIL TO THE PROPER CONSISTENCY. IT IS THEN READY FOR THE CRUST. A LITTLE SUGAR, VINEGAR, WINE OR OTHER SPIRITS MAY BE ADDED IF DESIRED.

THE PIE AND CAKE COLLARS as shown in cuts are the latest and most unique table dressing novelties in the market. Assorted colors, plain or striped. No live grocer should be without them. Send for sample gross.

The Collar Expanded

Our latest specialty for the tea trade is a 1-lb. Folding Caddy, on which we have just been granted a patent by the Dominion Government. It is in appearance an exact representation of a regular China tea chest with matting, and as a tea package beats everything on the market for three reasons :

1st. Because it is much cheaper than a hand-made box.

2nd. Because being a knock-down box it takes up little or no room, and

3rd. Because being a machine made box there is no paste or glue to taint the tea, which has been one of the greatest objections to the old style tea caddies.

PATRON STORES' SUPPLIES.

THE prominence which the Patrons of Industry have developed lately in politics has hid somewhat from view their operations in regard to the retail trade of the country.

Occasionally, however, a glimpse is obtained and then it is seen that the same old process of dis ntegration is going on among the stores that the Patrons have set up.

In one little town of 1,300 inhabitants in Western Ontario two Patron storekeepers have just gone the way of many of their predecessors, and another is said to be contemplating the folding of his tent.

In Bradstreets' neither of the two firms that have failed are given any rating. Their names are given, but that is all, while the third firm, about whose stability rumors are current, is rated as poor pay.

But if a mercantile agency would not rate the two firms as worthy of credit, there were wholesale houses who would. At any rate they trusted them.

This leads a merchant in another town to write asking how it is that these Patron storekeepers can get goods "when we have been led to believe the wholesale trade did not cater for such a class of trade"; and further on he adds, "could we retailers possibly feel sorry for the wholesale houses who have been badly bitten by such a class of customers, especially when they knew with whom they were dealing, and equally well that they were assisting the Patrons to destroy the good old reliable retail merchants of the country?"

All that our correspondent says regarding wholesalers "assisting the Patrons to destroy the good old retail merchants" when they supply Patron stores with goods, is true. And he would have been equally true had he said that the wholesalers thus engaged were helping to destroy themselves.

In a word, the wholesaler who supplies goods to the stores of the Patrons is helping those who are the avowed enemies of the legitimate storekeeper to dam up and cut off his main source of supply.

THE GROCER is yet to be convinced that this short-sighted policy is pursued by the leading and old-established wholesale houses. Occasionally, "in a moment of weakness," an ordinary wholesaler may sell a bill of goods to a Patron storekeeper, but it is rare, we believe.

The houses that do supply the Patrons regularly were instituted for that purpose. They are usually well known, and obtain comparatively little patronage from the legitimate retail merchant.

Those of the regular merchants who deal with these Patron-supplying wholesale houses are invariably caught with some glittering inducement such as cheap sugar, etc., or a long term of credit.

The Patron store is an exotic that cannot thrive in the world of business. It is bound to die in time. It is dying now. But until it is dead and buried it cannot be prevented from getting supplies.

If the regular wholesaler will not cater to them there is some one who will spring up and make it his special business to do so.

All that the legitimate storekeeper can do is to refuse to buy one single dollars' worth of goods from the wholesaler who is found selling to Patron stores, no matter what inducement may be held out for him to do so.

Let each storekeeper so decide and stand by his decision. Then a blow will be struck that will do some good.

Any wholesaler that condescends to supply Patron storekeepers deserves no sympathy when his regular customers leave him and losses crowd upon him, as is sure to be the result in the latter particular at any rate.

TALE OF FOUR TRADE CENTRES.

SOMETHING new is what THE GROCER aims to introduce always in its special numbers. How we have succeeded, the past amply testifies.

In the special Fall Number that appears October 5, one of the features will be a historical sketch, from a trade point of view, of four Canadian trade centres, together with their leading mercantile houses and manufacturing industries appertaining to the grocery and allied trades. These centres will be Montreal, the "Commercial Metropolis"; Toronto, the "Queen City"; Hamilton, the "Ambitious City," and London, the "Forest City."

The articles are being prepared primarily with a view of furnishing the trade information regarding the manufacturers and wholesalers of to-day, and for this reason they will not only prove momentarily interesting, but worthy of being kept for future reference.

THE "THUNDERER" ON TEAS.

THE London Times of a recent issue devotes considerable space to a dissertation upon the relative merits and possibilities of Indian and Ceylon tea on the one hand and of China tea on the other.

Much that it says is not new to Canadian readers, having already been furnished through the columns of THE GROCER. This applies particularly to the statistics adduced.

The Times is evidently an enthusiastic champion of the British grown teas. After quoting figures showing the changes in the relative consumption of British grown and China teas in the United Kingdom and expressing the opinion that the contest was now no longer a question between India and China, but between British enterprise in Asia and the Chinese power of endurance, adds :

"Like all struggles it ultimately resolves itself into a question of quality and of price. It only takes a nation about ten years to get rid of its taste for bad teas and to acquire a preference for good ones. As regards quality, China has not got a chance against India and Ceylon. Her rule-of-thumb methods produce an article inferior in flavor and in high-class strength to that which the scientific appliances, the costly machinery and the chemistry of arrested fermentation enable the British tea-planter to send to the market. Whether the India soil and climate are really better suited to the growth of the fine qualities of teas has not yet and probably never will be determined. It should be remembered that there is an infinite variety of soil and climate in India, and that the present tea-growing tracts are the survivals of the fittest, the proved successes after many experiments and failures.

"As regards price, the power of India and Ceylon to give the best value for the consumer's money has so far been maintained. But the eventual supremacy depends on how deeply India and China can cut into their respective margin of profits. The result of the conflict so far is that India and Ceylon have beaten China and displaced her product in the greatest tea market of the world."

In the opinion of the Times the struggle has entered upon a new phase. "It is not merely between the British and the Chinese," it adds, "but between the British producers themselves." And in support of this contention animadverts upon the phenomenal growth of the Ceylon tea trade since 1881. "Fortunately," it adds, "the interests of India and Ceylon are in this matter identical. It is the interest of the British tea planter as against the Chinese tea grower. The amount of British capital invested in tea plantations is about £26,000,000 sterling. The contest is for the largest tea market in the world next to Great Britain."

The "largest market" referred to in the last sentence is that of the United States. That country consumes about 90,000,000 pounds a year, nearly all is of China and Japan growths. But as a result of the exhibit of Indian and Ceylon tea at Chicago last year, together with the efforts that are being made by the Indian Tea Association to push business in the United States, the Times evidently anticipates that British grown tea will eventually find favor in that market.

GETTING "STALE."

CLOSE application to business is the price of success ; but there is a possibility of the success being attained at too high a cost, just as a merchant sometimes pays too much for his goods.

All business and no relaxation makes merchants dull and prematurely old, as well as all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.

There are men who move, live and have their being in their businesses.

They get up in the morning and go to the shop, and leave their shop and go to bed, year in and year out. They close their stores Sundays, but their minds are all day in business.

The athlete who is ever training gets "stale," to use a sporting term, and so does the merchant who does not occasionally take a rest from business.

The summer is nearly gone, and there are storekeepers who have never sniffed a lake breeze or taken a drive into the country since it set in.

They know by the tired and listless feeling they have that such close application is doing them harm, but they console themselves with the idea that they are only complying with the imperative demands of their business.

Never was there a bigger mistake. Business demands attention, not slavery.

Relaxation should be taken regularly just as should meals and sleep. And one is as much conducive to health as the other.

The man who, tired and weary with the cares of business, takes a respite therefrom, comes back more vigorous in body and in mind, feeling well repaid for the hours or days he has snatched from his ordinary mercantile pursuits.

DO FANCY GROCERIES PAY?

MANY think that it will not pay to go into fancy groceries anywhere but in large cities, and in the average town of 3,000 to 5,000 very few merchants do.

The experience of a New Brunswick firm would seem to indicate that there is money in it.

St. Stephen is a town of 3,000, with Milltown and a population of 1,500 a mile distant. Some nine years ago two young men formed a partnership in the former town under the name Inches & Grimmer.

They saw they could not successfully compete and make satisfactory headway against several of the strong old-established firms with good connections and an equally good reputation. They, therefore, resolved to try a new line—fancy groceries, crockery and glassware, fruits and vegetables and fish.

"At first," said Mr. Grimmer to THE GROCER, "it was slow work. We had to educate the people to it. Many of our goods were luxuries, and high-priced ones too. For instance, although we are by the sea, at times during the year we sell considerable quantities of British Columbia fresh salmon, the freight on which makes them an expensive food, especially where fish are so plentiful and cheap as they are here. Our trade has increased steadily. Now we keep one wagon going all day, and occasionally we have to use a second to make our deliveries. We now have a good connection with the town and suburban trade ; you cannot do much with farmers in high-class groceries. We have very little competition and its cutting of prices, most of our goods being sold on the brand instead of being staples. We are on good terms with all the leading grocers here, and often buy butter, eggs, etc., from them. We average higher prices than most grocers, and this in itself is a good advertisement for us. People talk about it. Our great aim now is to maintain our reputation. We try to have the very best goods only, and as price is no object with our customers, as long as quality is right, we, ourselves, do not object to paying a little more for the best brands We also try to study the wants of our individual customers and meet them and retain their confidence."

FALL SCRAMBLE FOR APPLES.

LAST week THE GROCER referred in some correspondence from Montreal to the opening of the export apple season.

It was intimated then that the Canadian Fruit Buyers' and Exporters' Association had pledged themselves not to purchase apples on the plan known as "so much and the rise," or to give a bonus, etc., etc.

As THE GROCER anticipated, the suggestion has been honored in the breach instead of the observance.

This has been demonstrated plainly by some occurrences of which Montreal fruit dealers have been advised during the past week.

Last week it was intimated that exceptionally full prices had been bid for the fruit on the trees. This has turned out to be quite true, and not only this, but it appears that these prices have been advanced upon since then.

Briefly, the speculator that the more conservative traders fear so much is already getting in his work, and it seems as though in same cases he had gone almost crazy.

The only grounds on which to account for some of the recent prices that have been quoted are the two encouraging circulars that have been sen out by Liverpool commission houses asking for consignments of Canadian apples, and promising all sorts of things if they get them.

It is just as well, however, for growers and dealers in apples to consider why these people are so anxious for consignments that they are scattering circulars broadcast.

Those who have had experience in consigning have not always found it as profitable as they were led to expect, and in the majority of cases would have made more money had they accepted bids that were made to them on this side of the water.

It is also worthy of note that the quality of the fruit so far shown this season is not anything like up to the average.

It is speckled and generally undersized and it is a questionable speculation whether it is worth more than $1 per brl. on the tree, whereas it is understood that during the past week as high as $1.50 to $1.60 per brl. "and the rise" for fruit after it has been picked, without the barrels, has been paid.

These prices are considered extreme by dealers in Montreal, who also remark that it is curious that they are reported to have been paid by a prominent dealer of the association, who has been the first to infringe upon the agreement.

The only way that the Montrealers can account for this is by attributing it to fears that some of the best fruit will be consigned.

In the meantime, it looks from these circumstances as though the regular fall scramble was about to ensue.

THE "POP" WAR IS OVER.

THERE is harmony again, apparently, at least, between the soda water manufacturers in Toronto.

Some time since an old ex-manufacturer, who had made his fortune and retired, again resumed business when the lease of his factory expired and the lessee had moved to another building near by.

For reasons best known to himself the old manufacturer began to cut prices considerably below those regulated by the association To meet this cut the association also ordered a reduction, and for a time the battle raged warmly, the retailers and saloon keepers in the meantime reaping the benefit.

Now a treaty of peace has been signed and prices have been raised to the old figures, with the cause of the effervescence either a member of the manufacturers' association or, at least, a subscriber to its price list.

AN ASTOUNDING RESULT.

AN interesting statement has just been compiled by the State Department, Washington. It relates to the exports of foreign countries to the United States during the quarter ending June 30, 1894.

The statement is compiled from reports of the United States consuls in the several foreign countries concerned, and the peculiar interest in it lies in the fact that it shows the extent to which exporters to the United States held off awaiting the new tariff to go into force.

The results shown are astounding. From the United Kingdom alone the imports declined more than $16,000,000 compared with the same period last year; from Austria-Hungary, $916,949; from Belgium, $846,814; from Germany, $4,314,620; from Sweden and Norway, figures not complete, but large decrease; Switzerland, $1,256,155.

The figures relating to the exports from the Dominion of Canada read as follows:

MARITIME PROVINCES.

	Decrease.		Decrease.
Charlottetown, P. E. I	$101,305	St. Johns, N.F	$ 30,960

CREDIT SYSTEM IN MANITOBA.

The merchants of Morris, Man., have made an agreement by which they hope to improve their own interests and at the same time be of advantage to their customers. In a circular just issued the scheme is explained as follows:

"It may be well to mention here that at a meeting of the board of trade in Winnipeg and elsewhere it was unanimously decided that the credit system was ruinous alike to the wholesale merchant, the retail merchant and the consumer, and that it was necessary to devise some scheme to do away with it to a great extent and at the same time make it reasonable to those who are depending upon the credit system to carry them along from year to year. They have arranged this plan, for all who wish to take advantage of it, namely, to give six months credit, and sell for six months for cash and cash only. This is the scheme we propose to carry out commencing on the 1st day of November, 1894, until the 1st day of May, 1895, when those who feel compelled to ask for credit or are desirable accounts will again be given the privilege of taking advantage of credit for the period above mentioned, six months, the object at issue being to enable country merchants to compete in selling goods with our friends in large cities, and to increase the local trade by offering the public a material reduction in the price of goods."

Make Hay While the Sun Shines

THE clouds of trade depression have at length rolled away, and the sun once more sheds its rays of prosperity upon a promising and fruitful harvest field. The merchant who would gather in his full harvest must be equipped with a sure and reliable reaper. Of all the trade harvesters which will be employed in the Fall campaign, the most effective will be the Special Number of THE CANADIAN GROCER, covering the entire Dominion with its immense circulation of 12,000 copies. It is for you to say whether you will take advantage of this or not. This number will be the finest specimen of trade journalism ever produced in this country, and nothing will be omitted which is calculated to conduce either to its usefulness or its perfection. In order to secure good position, and careful attention to display, copy should be sent in at once.

MANITOBA WHEAT CROP.

A press dispatch says: "Manitoba has every reason to be proud of its magnificent crop this year. There will be close on to 20,000,000 bushels of wheat, nearly five millions more than last year, and every particle has been saved without the slightest damage from frost or wet. The great bulk of it will grade No. 1 hard. Of 75 cars received recently from all points by the Ogilvies, 72 graded No. 1 hard. Fifteen million bushels will be exported. This means, at the present low prices, about $6,000,000 to come into the province this fall. As the farmers have been very economical for the past two or three years, this amount of money ought to be immediately available for the purchase of new supplies, instead of having to pay old debts, as in the years when the future had been heavily discounted. Further, since the purchasing power of a dollar is much greater than a few years since, this amount of money means a good supply of necessaries and comforts for our population during the coming winter. The whole situation is such as to lead to a very hopeful view of the future."

'OUR NATIONAL FOODS" FORTRESS

AN exhibit that is attracting a great deal of attention at the Industrial Fair is that of the National Food Company, limited, Toronto. It is in the shape of a fortress, with the wall built of packages of "Our National Foods." The "fortress" has a frontage of 16 feet, with a depth of 20 feet, and has quite a formidable appearance. The walls are lofty, while frowning down from them are two cannons, with cannon balls piled alongside ready for action—"ready," as one visitor remarked, "to belch forth for 'Our National Foods.'" But the grimness of the "fortress" is toned down by handsomely lettered signs and nodding sheaves of grain, which are suspended tastefully from the walls, while if this is not sufficient to assure the timid that the aim of the National Food Company is only to capture the good-will and favor of consumers, dainty little dishes of varied breakfast cereal foods are doled out to whomsoever will come and partake. Prominent among some score or more of varieties exhibited were desiccated wheat (both rolled and granulated), which is claimed to be equal to or better than any other breakfast cereal in the world; desiccated rolled oats, snowflake barley, buckwheat flour (self-rising), farinose or germ meal, farina, etc. The foods are made from selected grain, and are free from hulls and foreign matter. The works of the company are situated on the C.P.R., near North Toronto station, and are replete with all modern facilities for turning out large quantities of first-class cereal foods.

FLIRTING WITH VALUES.

On several occasions recently the report has come to us from purchasers that there is no bottom to the market, and that prices of the day will not hold over night, says N. E. Grocer. In a buyer's market like that which now obtains a little backbone would impart confidence to purchasers, would be to the advantage of salesmen and sellers, and would sell more goods. Instances have been reported where the very best prices that could be named were made, and because the purchaser did not respond they were reduced the following day, and on the third he was approached and an offer solicited.

This is a species of bushwhacking with values for which no excuse can be furnished that will palliate the offence. "There are as good fish in the sea as were ever caught," is an old axiom, and besides as good to-day as when first uttered. When the best prices are made for a kind of goods, "mean what you say" and wait for the purchaser to come, for nine times out of ten (if the salesman does not follow him up) he will go after the salesman. Flirting with prices can do no good in any instance. It intimidates purchasers and salesmen alike, and the goods have to suffer in prices.

Those who have confidence in the value of their merchandise have the regard of purchasers, as the latter realize that the goods are better than thought for. This, however, has nothing to do with the general question. There has been, and is too much flirting with values. Nothing can be gained by such a process, and the sale of goods is likely to be injured. Hold for what you want, and buyers will come to your prices or will make offers that can be accepted. Never give away your whole position, as to do that is to lose the opportunity of sales, which is almost as bad as flirting with prices.

PERSONAL MENTION.

T. A. Snider, the well-known catsup manufacturer, Cincinnati, O., is in Toronto visiting the Fair and renewing old acquaintances.

W. H. and Mrs. McCormick, London, paid their respects to THE GROCER the other day. They were in Toronto seeing the Fair.

A. W. Porte, managing director of the McCormick Manufacturing Company, London, and president of the Western Fair Association, was in Toronto this week.

W. J. Boyd, the popular traveler for Edward Adams & Co., London, has been laid up with an attack of typhoid fever. "Billy" is, however, convalescing and will appear on the road again in a short time.

Walter and Edward Clemes, of Clemes Bros., and Howard Clemes, with Gunn, Flavelle & Co., are laid up with typhoid fever. THE GROCER hopes their recovery will be speedy.

J. Moffatt, of Kincardine, was "on the street" Tuesday. Business, he said, was fairly good, and he ventured the information that the packing of fall apples in his neighborhood was nearly over, and that the packing of winter stock would begin shortly.

T. M. Cutler, secretary Acadia Sugar Refinery Co., Halifax, is in Toronto visiting the trade in company with Wallace Anderson, the Toronto representative. He is on a tour of inspection in the west. He says stocks of sugars, particularly yellows, are light and he looks for higher prices. Two of the company's refineries, the Halifax and the Moncton, have closed down for repairs.

Among outside merchants who have been in Toronto during the week were: Mr. Bean, of Bean & Westlake, Woodstock; James McLaughlin, jr., Owen Sound; W. J. Crowther, Kingston; Mr. Colwell, of W. C. Gibson & Sons, Ottawa; Mr. Abbott, of Abbott, Grant & Buell, Brockville; Robert Carson, Kingston; E. E. Thornton, of R. B. Thornton & Son, Woodstock; J. Young, Belleville; G. E. Reynolds, Beeton; D. Shanks, Paisley.

James Dowler, Eby, Blain & Co.'s resident representative in Manitoba, Northwest Territories and British Columbia, is in Toronto on his annual visit to the house. He says that the wheat crop, in Manitoba particularly, is turning out twice as well as was anticipated in June last that it would, and there is a much better feeling in the West in consequence. The one drawback is the scarcity of money, but he says that the merchants are adopting shorter terms of credit and scrutinize their accounts more closely. Stocks, he says, are low, and retailers are in consequence owing much less money than is usual.

WOODENWARE, BRUSHES, ETC.

The firm of Chas. Boeckh & Sons is showing a tastefully arranged exhibit of their brushes, brooms and woodenware at the Industrial Fair, which has been greatly admired. They show amongst other lines a select line of the Newmarket pails and tubs, and also washboards, including the celebrated Imperial Globe, which they are now prepared to supply to the trade in any quantity.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Sept. 13, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THIS, the second week of the Exhibition, has seen a large number of country customers in the warehouses. Although they came primarily with a view to paying their respects, there seems to have been a good deal of business done, especially in teas. The buying, however, has been done with a great deal of caution, and the volume of business is probably not as large as is usual at this time. The situation in the country is, however, improving. There is no doubt about it. Country merchants are in much better spirits than they were a few weeks ago, and they are selling more goods and buying more goods. The gradual development of a better state of things may now be expected from this out. There has been some excitement along the street in regard to salmon on account of rumors of sharp advances on the Coast. Sugars are active and firm, and there is a stronger feeling in Valencia raisins on account of reported damage to crops by rains. Some small shipments of new season's Valencia raisins arrived on this market Monday. The tea market is still gathering strength, and there is a brisk demand.

CANNED GOODS.

The salmon market has been the centre of interest in the canned goods trade during the week. On Monday a telegram was shown on the street announcing that sockeye salmon had been advanced to $5 per case on the Coast, and cohoe to $4 per case. This is about equal to $1.44 per dozen for the former laid down here, and $1.16 per dozen for the latter. Prices are undoubtedly stronger, but there are a good many who are sceptical about any such advances having taken place. In fact, cables have offered during the week at much less prices than the figures quoted. On the strength of the bull talk local jobbers here have advanced the price of sockeye salmon 10c. per dozen, $1.30 now being the lowest figure for good red fish. Cohoe salmon is quoted at $1.20 per dozen. Not much demand has developed for salmon so far, the trade evidently not yet realizing that higher prices have been obtained. Lobster is quiet and unchanged at $1.80 to $2 for talls; $2.40 to $2.50 for flats; and $1.35 for new flat ½'s. Canned meats are firm at the recent advance, and manufacturers find it difficult to fill orders in some sizes on account of the unusually large demand there is on foreign account. Tomatoes and peas are quiet and unchanged at 85 to 90c., and corn at 90c.

There is a little doing in canned peaches, plums and cherries, but practically nothing outside these. We quote as follows: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.65 to $2.80, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40.

Reports sent in during the week to the secretary of the Packers' Association by the several members indicate that the pack of tomatoes will be short. In some districts the pack is good, but in the sections in which the crop is poor is where are located the principal tomato canners. Corn pack will be quarter to half short in the east, small around St. Catharines, but in the west it is good. Apple pack will, taking it all round, be fair.

COFFEES.

The situation locally is much as before. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

The fancy imported article seems to be receiving the most attention at the moment. "B" rice is quiet. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

Trade continues fair at unchanged prices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12 to 14c.

SUGAR.

Prices remain the same as a week ago, but they are strong with an upward tendency. Business is much more satisfactory as far as volume is concerned, and the turnover may now be said to be of a good average character. Dark sugars are scarce. The idea for granulated is 4½c., and for yellow 3½c. up. Raw sugar 3½c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Sept. 11: "It seems to be conceded that refiners are in no immediate need of additions to supply, and demand, therefore, is of voluntary character, rather than one of necessity, which, to a certain extent, places buyers at a disadvantage. Holders with faith in the future have in some cases been carrying at a higher limit than could readily be obtained and so continue, and there are goods that cannot be reached except at advanced bids."

SYRUPS.

Syrups are scarce and firm with demand fair. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MOLASSES.

The market rules dull and featureless. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

The tea market continues active, with prices tending upward. A cable received on Tuesday by a tea agent here announces that Foo Chow teas are up 1 to 1½c. per lb., and that further advances have taken place in both exchange rates and in freights. Stocks of these teas are light and demand good. Young Hysons of the better grades have advanced 2 to 2½c. in Shanghai, and the market is strong. The high prices ruling for China green teas is interfering with the movement, and if any reductions were to take place there would no doubt be a largely increased business done. There is a fair amount of business doing in blacks, prices of which are even now very reasonable. Ceylon and Assam teas are stiff in the primary markets. All teas of good liquor are strongly competed for, and even poor teas are advancing in price. The general tone of the tea market is strong and the position good.

MARKETS—Continued

last, and were in the warehouses early on Monday morning. They were Bordehore & Co.'s (C. Moran & Co.) pack, and were brought on from Liverpool by the Dominion Co.'s line, and arrived here much earlier than the trade expected. The shipment was only a small one, no house receiving more than about a couple of hundred boxes. They came upon a bare market, and are selling at from 6 to 7c. Advices received from Denia this week state that rains have interfered with the curing of the Valencia raisin crop, and have done some damage. In consequence of this, agents' offers have for the most part been withdrawn. The feeling on the market is stronger in consequence.

Advices state that Sultana raisins are opening at higher prices than a year ago.

Currants are offering at slight concessions on previously cabled prices, but the opinion is expressed from Patras that values are likely to go higher. Locally there is a fair demand at unchanged prices. Quotations are: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¼c. in brls., and 4½ to 5c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases. Prunes are much as before. We quote: U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's, 7½c.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

Good dairy butter is still wanted, and if anything more so than a week ago. Low grade butter is plentiful, while choice dairy is scarce, dealers in the country holding for higher prices, and prices which jobbers cannot see their way to pay. Prices asked for round lots range all the way from 15 to 17c. f.o.b., and we hear of 18c. being asked in one instance at least. With low grade jobbing out at 12 to 13c., jobbers' views are 14 to 14½c. for round lots of fairly good butter, the large lots containing so much inferior butter. On account of the scarcity of choice dairy tubs, demand for creamery tubs has improved, and pound prints are selling well. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17 to 18c.; straight store, 15 to 16c.; crocks, 19c.; bakers' butter, 12 to 13c.; pound rolls, 20 to 21c. Creamery—Tubs, 20 to 21c.; pound prints, 23 to 25c.

Cheese is in moderate demand, and firm at 10¾ to 11.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Supply of provisions is still short with prices firm and higher. Demand is good. Street deliveries of hogs are fair, and prices steady at $6.25 to $7 for rough and medium, respectively.

BACON—Long clear, 8½ to 8¾c.; smoked backs, 12 to 12½c.; breakfast bacon, 12½ to 13c.; rolls, 9 to 9¼c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 11½c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 12c.; small hams, 13c.; pickled, 11 to 11½c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 8½ to 8¾c.; tubs, 9½ to 9¾c.; pails, 9¾ to 10c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $18.50 to $19; Canadian short-cut, $19 to $20; shoulder mess, $14.50 to $15; clear mess, $15 to $15.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

Oranges and lemons remain much as before. Peaches, plums, pears and grapes are arriving in large quantities, and there is a good demand. Bananas are slow of sale, and the same may be said of water and musk melons. We quote: Oranges—Sorrentos, 200's, $5 per box. Lemons—Fancy Rodhi, 300's, $5 to $5 50 per box; ditto, 360's, $5 00 to $5.25 per box; Palermos, 360's, $3 50 per box; 360's, $4.50 per box. Bananas, firsts, 85c. to $1.10; seconds, 55 to 65c.; common, 52c. Watermelons, $1 to $1.25 per brl. Muskmelons, $1 to $1 25 per barrel; $1.50 to $2 per brl., and 25c. to 40c. per basket. Cucumbers, 20 to 25c. per basket. Tomatoes, 15 to 20c. per basket. Peaches, 50c. to 70c. per basket. Pears, $2 to $3.50 per barrel for Bartlett's and 40 to 50c. per basket. Plums, 35 to 60c. per basket. Apples, $1.00 to $1.50 per brl. Grapes, 2 to 3c. per lb.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Quiet at $1.40 to $1.45.

EVAPORATED APPLES—New fruit is beginning to be offered by the factories at about 8c. f.o.b. outside. Prospects are for a large crop, while the foreign markets are low on account of the liberal offerings of other dried fruit.

DRIED APPLES—Too early yet for new fruit to offer, but a few odd barrels of old fruit are selling at 6c. for bright stock.

EGGS—The market is firmer, and demand has improved. Supply and demand are about equal; 11 to 11½c. is the idea as to price.

ONIONS—Quiet at $1.10 to $1.25 per sack for Egyptian, and 40 to 50c. per basket for pickling kinds.

POTATOES—Receipts fair and prices steady. Car lots on track are quoted at 60c. for choice, and waggon loads delivered at the same price. Dealers quote five and ten-bag lots out of store to day at 70c. for choice.

HOPS—Hop men are by no means satisfied with the present situation of the market, but they are compelled to take the prices going. We hear of sales of hops yet scarcely matured at 10 to 12c.

HONEY—Extracted, 7½ to 8c., according to quantity; sections, $1.50 to $1.70 per doz. for both new and old. Dealers buy at $1.50 and sell at $1.70.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

Trade is quiet and prices firm. Oysters are beginning to move more freely. We quote as follows: Lake Ontario trout, 7 to 8c.; skinned aud boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c.; Lake Erie herring, $1.75 to $2 per 100; blueback herring, 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb; salmon trout, 6½c.; white fish, 6½ to 7c.; pike, 5c. lb.; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 5 to 6c.; large halibut, 10c.; ciscoes, $1.25. Oysters, $1 50 per gallon.

SALT.

Trade is firm with a great many car lots moving. The prices for sacks have dropped slightly. We quote: Dairy, $1.50, special grade; brls., 90 to 95c.; coarse sacks, 60c.; fine sacks, 65c.; American rock, $10 per ton.

SEEDS.

Trade is about the same as last week, except in timothy, which is about done for the season. Prices are unchanged and as follows: Alsike, $5.50 to $6 30 per bushel, and timothy, $2 to $2.75 f.o.b. points of shipment.

PETROLEUM.

Trade is good with sales of car lots as the principal feature. Prices have dropped a little. We quote, in 5 to 10 brl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 15c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 17½c.; photogene, 20c.

The Petrolea Advertiser quotes: "Petrolia crude, 98c. per brl.; Oil Springs crude, 98c. per brl.; refined, 6½ to 9¼c. in bulk, or 8½ to 9c. in brls. in car lots, f.o.b., here."

MARKET NOTES.

Smith & Keighley report large sales to friends visiting the Fair.

Edward Adams & Co. are making large sales of Verdin Cooke's fine dairy salt in 14 lb. bags.

Eby, Blain & Co. have a shipment of Bosnia prunes in cases on the way.

A shipment of Sphinx brand prunes is to hand with Perkins, Ince & Co.

Toronto Salt Works have just shipped 3 car loads of barrel salt at 93c., also 2 cars of fine at 65c.

A shipment of Japan rice arrived for Davidson & Hay on Tuesday. The quality is accounted excellent.

Sloan & Crowther have a shipment of fancy Japan rice arriving; also a shipment of West Indian molasses.

W. Paterson & Son report their new pickle stock now in process. Goods will be ready for shipment in about two weeks.

Davidson & Hay have a shipment of Morton's pickles to hand; also French mustard and French peas, 3 grades.

The "Star" blend of China, India and Ceylon teas handled by Edward Adams & Co. is meeting with a steady demand.

The oyster cracker season is here, and the Toronto Biscuit and Confectionery Co. are manufacturing them fresh every day.

M. Masuret & Co. advise that they have a good supply of raisins, best brands, with which to supply the wants of their customers.

It is reported that the English crop of strawberries is very short this season, and that the pack of jams will be correspondingly short.

A large shipment of Japan teas, all grades, is arriving for T. Kinnear & Co., who will be able to complete the filling of back orders in a few days.

The recent hot, dry weather somewhat stunted the growth of apples in the country, thereby diminishing their value for exporting purposes.

P. C. Larkin & Co. have received seventeen letters from country agents during the past week, all praising the merits of "Salada" tea.

Newfoundland herrings in barrels, mackerel in half barrels and kitts, large sundried and large evaporated codfish are in store with Lucas, Steele & Bristol.

Sir John Thompson visited the exhibit of "Salada" at the Exhibition. He drank a cup of the tea and pronounced it good, and afterwards came for a second cup.

M. Masuret & Co. extend a cordial invitation to their friends to call at their warehouse if in London during the Western Fair. "We are always pleased to see you."

An exchange says: "Soda biscuits are now about as staple an article as bread." W. Paterson & Son have something to say about the former on page 6 of this issue.

A Pure Food Exposition is to be held in Cleveland, O., from Oct. 1st to 20th. The prospects for its success are bright, and space for exhibitors is being rapidly taken up.

Shell Castile Soap, bars and tablets, is to hand this week with Lucas, Steele & Bristol. They also advise the arrival of a large assortment of Crosse & Blackwell's goods.

Edward Adams & Co., London, have opened a branch warehouse in Windsor under the management of M. B. Twomey, who will look after the firm's interests in that locality.

The Toronto Biscuit and Confectionery Co. closed their factory on Monday last instead of Labor Day, as arranged with their employees, so as to allow them to attend the Exhibition.

Several invoices of Ceylon teas are to hand this week with Lucas, Steele & Bristol, bought before advance. They are being offered, the firm writes, exceptionally cheap, as are also their Japans.

Grand Mogul tea exhibits were held at the following places during the past week: D. W. Mason, Windsor; R. S. Dunlop, J. H. Bogart and J. W. Dyer, Chatham; A. T. Sussex, Bothwell; T. W. Evans, Glencoe.

J. R. Hunter, successor to J. H. Hunter & Co., general merchants, Durham, Ont., has decided to discontinue the credit system and after October 1 all purchasing goods at his store will have to pay cash for them. Mr. Hunter has displayed ability and ingenuity to an eminent degree and he will, no doubt, make his new departure a success.

It will be of interest to grocers to learn that owing to the failure of the crops in the Western States the broom corn market has been visibly affected, an advance being already asked of fully $30 per ton. This will no doubt affect the price of brooms and Chas. Boeckh & Sons report that an advance has already been made by the leading manufacturers in the United States, and the same will have to be done by the Canadian manufacturers if the present high prices of raw material are maintained.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, September 13, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THE improvement noted last week in the grocery market is fully maintained and the week since the date of last writing has furnished a good volume of trade in all staple lines of groceries. Values generally are firm also on all the leading lines. Refined sugar rules steady, and though business is not quite so active a good trade has been put through. The fair enquiry for syrups already noted is continued, while molasses is about the only dull line in the grocery market. The firm tone of the tea market is strongly upheld under a good demand while the same disposition is noted in coffees. Rice is firm, and the first arrivals of new Valencia raisins have been offered on the market this week, and as they are a small lot, command extreme prices. Advices on rice continue of the same tenor, and there are further complaints about the delay in the arrival of the first purchases of new pack B. C. salmon. Quite a quantity was expected by the end of the first week in September, but up to the date of writing only a couple of car loads have been received, while advices with regard to other stock on the way does not indicate that it is near at hand.

SUGAR.

With continued strong advices from outside markets the refined sugar market on spot is firm, and values continue well maintained. Demand, though not quite so active as it was a week ago, has been good, especially for bright yellow, of which supplies here are almost exhausted, and though rather firmer prices have been realized for these goods, no active advance is spoken of. On the whole, a good active market has ruled in sugar both on local and western account. We quote granulated firm at 4¼c., and yellows 3¼ to 3⅞c., as to quality at the refinery.

SYRUPS.

The demand for syrups has continued good, and a fairly active market has ruled at steady prices. Stocks are not large, and it would not be surprising to see prices higher in the near future. Bright grades have changed hands freely at 2 to 2⅛c., and dark 1 to 1¼c. per lb. at the factory.

MOLASSES.

The molasses market has continued quiet without any feature of importance to note. Demand is slow and not likely to pick up until the colder weather sets in. We quote round lots ex store, 27½c.; car lots, 29c., and single puncheons, 30c.

TEA.

The tea market continues firm all round, and a fairly active demand has been kept up since our last. The stock in first hands on spot is not large, and prices are apt to be well sustained in consequence. In Japans there have been sales of old crop at 11 to 12c. for low grades, and 14½ to 17c. for mediums, and fine 19 to 23c. First crop new Japans continue very scarce, and holders are firm in their demands at the 2 to 3c. per lb. advance already noted. Jobbers also note a good distributing trade in progress, so that the advance in prices is being gradually established.

COFFEES.

The coffee market has been quiet but firm in its tone, and values are well maintained. We quote: Maracaibo, 18¾ to 21c.; Rio, 19 to 21c.; Java, 24 to 30c.; Mocha, 22½ to 28c.

SPICES.

There has been no striking change in the spice market since our last reports. Demand continues fair and the manufacturers report a good average business for the season of the year. We quote mill prices as follows: Penang black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 15 to 22c.

DRIED FRUITS.

The most notable feature of the week in this market has been the first arrivals of new off-stalk Valencia raisins, via Liverpool. About 1,500 boxes have been received during the week, and they have met an active demand, leaving jobbers' hands at 6½c. This, of course, is an extreme figure, and the basis is bound to settle down from this as supplies increase. Advices from primary centres show that since the departure of the first steamer for Liverpool, more moderate prices have prevailed. Offers of goods on the first direct steamer for the St. Lawrence have been made at 18s. layers, 16s. selected, 14s. fine off-stock, and 12s. 6d. for off-stalk, cost and freight Montreal. These prices are considered very moderate. Buyers here are not doing much in the way of purchasing for forward delivery, but are waiting for the goods to arrive on spot. Primary advices on currants quote lower prices also, viz., 10s. 9d. for Provincials in barrels and 11s. in cases, cost and freight Montreal, by direct steamer.

RICE.

The rice market rules steady and fairly active while foreign advices are as firm as ever. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3 95 to $4 25, and Patna, $4 25 to $4.75.

NUTS.

The nut market does not furnish any notable features there being only a quiet jobbing business to note. We quote: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

The canned goods market has not furnished any activity during the week. There has been little doing in salmon, this seasons' catch now being well booked up, while in fruits and vegetables it is yet too early to talk on new pack. California canned fruits have been taking fairly well. The first couple of car loads of new pack British Columbia red salmon has been received, but the delivery is very backward this fall. The above goods have been selling since their arrival on the basis of $1 15 to $1.20. Tomatoes have shown a firmer tendency since our last and prices are rather higher. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 95c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c.

per doz. Australian canned meats: Boiled mutton, $1 86 to $1.90 per doz. 1-lb. tins, and $3.10 to $3.15 per doz., 2-lb. tins; roast mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3 35 to $3.40 per doz., 2-lb. tins; corned mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz, 2 lb. tins.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market has continued fairly active. Apples have continued in light receipt, and prices are firmer at $2 to $2 50 for Duchess, and fall apples $1.80 to $2 per brl. Oranges are unchanged at $4.50 to $5.50. Lemons have ruled rather weak at $2.50 to $3 for new stock and $1.50 to $2 for old. Bananas are dull at 25 to 50c. for ripe and 75c. to $1 for green fruit per bunch. California peaches are a large stock, and prices are very low at 90c. to $1.25 per box, and Canadian 40 to 75c. per basket. Pears are easy from the same cause at $2 to $2.50 per box for California, $1.50 to $2 per keg for Hudson River Bartletts, and $3 to $5 per brl. for Canadian. Plums only meet a moderate demand, and the supply is over sufficient at $1 to $1.25 per box for California, and 65 to 90c. per basket for Canadian. Canadian grapes meet a fair sale at 3c. per lb. for Champions; New York Delaware, 10c.; Canadian do., 4 to 5c.; New York Niagara, 8c.; Canadian do., 4c. per lb.; and California Tokay, $3 to $3.25 per carrier.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

The feature of the egg market since our last has been the advance of 1c. per dozen on last Monday under an active local and export demand. The volume of business has been large on the basis of 10 to 11c. for choice candled, and 8 to 9c. for culls per dozen. Honey is in slow demand at 3 to 9c. per pound. Beans are steady and unchanged at $1.20 per bushel of 60 pounds. Onions are in fair demand and fair sized lots change hands at $2 per barrel for both red and yellow. There is no change to report in the hop market, a few bales of new hops changing hands at a price that is no criterion of the possible basis in a regular way. For future delivery grocers are offering to contract at 10c. Receipts of potatoes have been heavy, but prices are maintained at 45 to 55c. per bag of 90 pounds.

PROVISIONS.

The tone of the provision market is firm and values are well maintained. The demand is good for small lots and dealers report a fair average business doing for the season of the year. We quote as follows: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18 50; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

FLOUR AND FEED

BUSINESS on the whole in flour and feed is somewhat better, but not up to expectations. While the demand for bran and shorts continues good, other lines are moving slowly. Cereals show no improvement, and flour, though a little more in demand, owing to the return of many of the retailers' customers to the city, is not showing any great improvement. The usual demand for hay and straw is reported. Collections are somewhat better, and with the return of people who have been spending the summer outside the city, they bid fair to improve.

THE MARKETS

TORONTO.

FLOUR—A fair local demand is reported. Prices are unchanged. We quote: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.50 to $3.60; strong bakers', $3.35 to $3.45; Ontario, $3 to $3 15; straight roller, $2.80 to $3.

BRAN—There is very little offering, while the demand continues larger. City mills that have any in stock are selling at $14 per ton.

SHORTS—There is still a large demand. Buyers report very little to be had, and are paying from $17 to $17.50 per ton.

SCREENINGS—There is a fair demand. City mills are selling at $12 per ton.

STRAW—Business is quiet. Good straw selling at $17 to $18 per ton.

WHEAT — The receipts of grain on the street is reported on the increase. Wheat has been fetching 54c. for white, 53c. for red, and 51½c. for goose.

PEAS—The demand is fair. Sales are reported at from 59½ to 60c. per bushel.

HAY—Good hay is reported hard to obtain. What is offering fetches from $7.50 to $8 per ton.

OATS—Were easier this week. Quite an amount changed hands at 30½ to 31½c. per bushel.

BREAKFAST FOOD—Demand is light. We quote: Standard and rolled oats, $4.10 to $4.20 per bag; granulated, $4.15 to $4.25; granulated wheat, $4 per barrel; cornmeal, higher at $3.75 per barrel.

MONTREAL.

There was no change in the situation of the flour market, the feeling being steady and values unchanged. There was a good enquiry from abroad by cable, and several sales were made, including one reported by a local milling company of 2,000 sacks. The demand from local and country buyers was good, and an active business was reported in car lots. Winter wheat, $3.25 to $3.50; spring wheat, patents, $3.25 to $3.50; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.55 to $2.60; superfine, $2.40 to $2.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.30 to $3.40; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.40 to $3.45.

The demand for feed was good and the market rules active and firm. Bran, $16; shorts, $18; mouille, $22 to $24.

In oatmeal a fair jobbing business was transacted at steady prices. Standard, brls., $4.30 to $4.40; granulated, brls., $4.30 to $4.40; rolled oats, brls, $4.50 to $4.60; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

In flour the market is very dull, and values appear easier. Sales are hard to make. Cornmeal continues firm. Beans are higher, although here the price responds to the advance but slowly. Oatmeal is easier, as are oats. Feed continues scarce and high. Millers say they could get even higher prices, but wheat being so low they are ashamed to advance prices. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.30 to $4.35; best Ontario, $3.35 to $3.50; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4.35 to $4 40; cornmeal, $3.10 to $3.20; middlings on track, $22.50 to $23.00; bran $18 to $19; cotton seed meal, $30 per ton; oats, on track, 39 to 40c.; beans, $1.60 to $1.70; h.p., $1.50 to $1.55; prime split peas, $3.65 to $3.75; pot barley, $3.85 to $4.00; round peas, $3.65 to $3.75; hay, on track, $9.50 to $10.

BUTTER.

There is no improvement to the butter market, as far as export business is concerned, and we hear of little business either on spot or in the country. Appended quotations give a fair idea of the shipping basis on spot. Reports from the West state that there is a scarcity of butter in the district west of Toronto, and that a good local demand is experienced. This, no doubt, accounts for the full figures that holders of western dairy are asking in the country. It is understood in this connection that local dealers have placed some small sized lots of creamery in the section in question at full figures. We quote as follows: Finest late made creamery, 19c.; finest July creamery, 18¼ to 18½c.; Finest Townships, 16 to 16½c.; fine Western, 14 to 15½c.

CHEESE.

The week shows no pronounced change in the tone of the cheese market. It is noticeable, however, that there is not the same hunger for cheese that there was, recent dealing in the country not exhibiting the same snap that it did a week ago. On spot there was little doing to-day. Reports state that 5,000 boxes sold at 10¼c. at St. Hyacinthe, the goods being last half of August make. This is equivalent to about 10⅜c. here, so that 10½c. will be about the spot basis for these goods. The quality is said to be very good. Finest Western colored, 10¾c. to 10⅞c.; finest Western white, 10¾c. finest Townships, 10⅝c. to 10¾c.; finest Eastern colored, 10½c. to 10⅝c.; finest Eastern white, 10½c. to 10⅝c.

ASHES.

The market for ashes continues quiet but firm. We quote: First pots at $4 15; seconds, $3.75 to $3.80, and pearls, $7 to $7.50 per 100 lbs

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

London cables state that there is a strong demand for rice at the advance of 3d. on cleaned rice.

The s.s. Labrador which came in this week brought in 1,000 boxes of Valencias for different firms here. The quality is very good.

Cable advices regarding the China tea market say, "market buoyant with both freight and exchange higher and prices fully 20 per cent. up."

Gillespie & Co.'s advices from Denia on raisins, and Patras on currants cite an easier feeling on both lines of fruit as compared with the opening prices.

A leading broker is willing to bet that molasses will go higher as soon as the cold weather sets in in earnest. The stock here is an ample one however.

Private cables to Alex. Gordon & Co., from Shanghai, state that P. D. gunpowders are scarce and in active demand, at values 3c. per lb. higher than last year.

It is well known that holders of tea here have turned over lots of Japans in New York during the week at 1 to 1½c. per lb. more than they could realize here.

The scarcity of bright grades of yellow sugar is a leading feature of the grocery market. The Canada Sugar Refinery was almost completely sold out of this grade last week.

Caverhill, Hughes & Co. received the first lot of new off-stalk Valencias offered on the market this season They were a lot of 50 boxes ex. Lake Winnipeg, via Liverpool.

Estimates place the stock of canned tomatoes held here at 3,000 cases, and W. T. Costigan & Co.'s advices are to the effect that the pack this season is expected to be less than the average.

The agents for Marshall & Co.'s fish products write that orders continue to come to them from all parts of the country for these goods, notwithstanding the low price of Canadian fish and alleged dull times.

Rose & Laflamme's London cables state that advices from primary markets state that Sultana raisins are scarce and firm, and that prices on new fruit are expected to open much higher than last year. At present old stock in London is nearly double the price it was in the regular season.

Walter R. Wonham & Sons, Montreal, Canadian agents for Marshall & Co., Aberdeen, call attention to this season's new pack of "Crown" brand Scotch salt herrings, in kegs, etc. These fish are in growing demand with consumers, and the trade are buying largely.

ST. JOHN, N.B., MARKETS.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 13.

A MUCH better feeling prevails in business circles, and the outlook for a good fall business is considered good. The extreme dry weather is affecting the markets, and, if it continues, its effects will not only be felt this fall and winter, but the hay crop of next summer will also suffer. The extensive fires are doing much damage to both lumber and land. Some sixteen schooners in the market slip one day last week, loading and unloading for and from Nova Scotia ports, caused quite a stir, and gave to the wharves quite a busy look. The business at the Custom House for the past month shows a decrease as compared with the same month last year in imports, while in exports there is an increase. The figures on dutiable goods for August, this year, were $213,479; last, $245,030. Duty collected this year, $75,940; last, $81,260 Amount of free goods this August, $130,183; last, $142,401. Exports last August, $355,593; this, $426,232. During August of this year 448 vessels—equal to 98,986 tons, and carrying 3,905 men—reported inwards at this port. The summer lumber business has been largely confined to shipping to Great Britain, and compares well with last year.

SPICE—The amount of business in this line continues light; values show no change. We quote: Cream of tartar, 17½ to 18½c.; boxes, 20 to 25c.; nutmegs, whole, 60 to 90c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, ground, 20 to 25.; whole, 15 to 20c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; bicarb soda, $2.30 to $2.40; sal soda 1 to 1½c.

SALT—Market is about bare of coarse and prices are very firm. It is hard to get vessels at Liverpool coming this way, deal freights from here offer such little inducement. I expect by the time this is read some which is now on the way will be to hand which will supply present demand. Stock will, it is expected, be light for this season of year, and prices it is expected will be firm. We quote: Coarse, ex store, 52 to 54c.; factory filled, $1 to $1.15; Canadian, brls., 5-lb. bags, $3.25; 10-lb. bags, $3 10; American, wood boxes, 20-lb, 20c.; 10-lb., 12c.

TOBACCO — Selling figures show no change. McDonald's brands are quoted: Crown, 43c.; Pilot, 45c.; Index, 43c.; Napoleon, 49c. McAlpin's brands: Beaver, 65c.; Tecumseh, 65c.; Jubilee, 49c.; Gold Shield, 49c.; Woodcock, 53c.; Army and Navy, 45c. Tuckett's brands: T. & B. Myrtle Navy plug, 59c.; cut, 70c.; Lily, 46c.; Crescent, 43c.; chewing T. & B., long black, 48c.; Mahogany 12's, 48c.; Mahogany 7's, 48c.

OIL—A better demand is reported and a firmer feeling in burning oil is in order owing to advances west. Values show no change from last week. We quote as follows: Burning oil, best American, 18c.; best Canadian, 17c.; prime Canadian, 13c., terms 60 days, no charge for barrel; linseed oil, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. Turpentine, 45 to 47c. Cod oil, 28 to 30c.; seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; seal oil, pale, 38 to 43c.; olive oil, 90c. to $1; castor oil, commercial, 6½ to 7c.; extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

CANNED GOODS—The association are not as yet quoting all the lines. Not for a number of years have orders been so late going forward. Prices are rather firmer. We quote: Corn, 95c. to $1.00; peas, 90 to 95c.; tomatoes, 95c. to $1; gallon apples, $2.40 to $2.50; oysters, 1's, $1.40 to $1.50; 2's, $2 20 $2 25; corned beef, 1's, $1.65 to $1.70; 2's, $2 65; salmon, $1.25 to $1.35; lobsters, $1.75 to $2.00; peaches, Canadian, 2's, $1.90 to $2; 3's, $2.90 to $3; peaches, American, 2's, $1.65 to $1.70; 3's, $2.65 to $2 75.

DRIED FRUIT AND NUTS—In onions, a movement is on foot to have them sold by the weight rather than by the barrel, as it has been a common thing with some to empty and refill the barrel, in this way gaining about one barrel in six or seven. This has made it very hard for those selling honest barrels to compete in price with the others. New raisins are offering firmer. New evaporated apples are being offered; they came on a bare market. New dates, prunes, figs and currants will soon be in the market, first orders having been placed some time since. Nuts continue low with light demand. We quote: Canadian onions, $3 25 per brl.; Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5½ to 6c.; London layers, $2 to $2.10; loose muscatels, in boxes, 6½ to 6¾c.; prunes, 7 to 7½c.; California, 11 to 12c.; dried apples, 6¾ to 7c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Egyptian onions, 1¾ to 2c.; French walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Grenobles, 13 to 15c.; almonds, 13 to 14c.; Brazils, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9½ to 10c.; pecans, 12 to 13c.; peanuts, 10 to 11c.

GREEN FRUIT—Business continues very active. Apples are very slow, those coming forward not being keepers, and the quantities being large. Native plums are in very large supply and are very low. Peaches are coming in cheaper as are pears and grapes. Bananas continue to hold a first place among sales. We quote prices as follows: Lemons, $4.50 to $5.00; oranges, $5.50 to $6; bananas, $2 to to $2.25; grapes, $1 per basket; cucumbers, 25 to 30c. per doz.; watermelons, 40 to 50c.; plums, 45 to 50c. per peck; peaches, $1.25 to $1.50 per basket; Bartlett pears, $5 to $5.50 per barrel.

DAIRY PRODUCE — The extreme dry weather is greatly affecting the output from the cheese factories and also the prospects of of late make of butter. Butter is up two cents. Eggs are slow. The cheese from this province are coming forward in splendid condition, and if factories were to take the matter in hand rightly they ought to get equal price with those west in place at least of half cent less. There appears to be too many heads at the factories, in many cases no one man being able to make sales. Cheese is quoted at 9¾ to 10½c.; dairy butter, 18 to 19c.; creamery, 22 to 24c; eggs, 12c.

MOLASSES—Sales at present are not large; market is firm. Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, fancy, 42 to 43c.; choice, 34 to 35c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27 to 28c. Syrup, 30 to 35c.

SUGAR—Demand is reported good. Market is firmer, with yellow advanced ⅛c. Prices quoted as follows: Granulated, $4.40 to $4.50; bright yellow, 3⅝ to 3¾c.; yellow, 3⅜ to 3⅝c.; Barbadoes, 3¾c.; powdered, 6 to 6¼c.; Paris lump, 6 to 6¼c.

FISH—Medium codfish are very scarce and prices are higher. First arrivals will get the advantage of the bare market. A few Shelborne herring are in the market; also some from Barrington. It is expected the new tariff in the United States will help the fish business. Fresh fish are free, while the duty on pickled cod, salmon, mackerel, and canned herring, salmon, mackerel is reduced, but on dry fish, pickled or smoked herring there is no change, nor in sardines. Large cod, $4 to $4.25; medium, $3.60 to $4; small, $3 to $3.25; pollock, $1.65 to $1.70; Shelborne herring, brls., new, $4.75; Barrington, $3 75 to $4; bay herring, half brl., $1.40 to $1.50; Wolf herring, $1.75 to $1.80 half brl.; shad, $6 half brl.; medium smoked herring, 11 to 12c.; lengthwise, 9 to 10c.

PROVISIONS—The market is very firm, the advance in pure lard being almost 1c., while cottolene is up ½c. and pork 50c. all round. We quote: Clear pork, $20 to $21; mess, $17.50 to $18; prime, $14 to $15; pure lard, 10 to 10½c.; compound, 9 to 9½c.; cottolene, 10 to 10½c.; extra plate beef, $14.25 to $14 75; plate, $14 to $14.25.

BUSINESS OF LOAN COMPANIES.

THE annual report of the loan companies and building societies in the Dominion for the year 1893 was issued Saturday by the Finance Department. The material for the report was ready in June, but owing to the crowded state of the printing bureau, N. S. Garland, who compiled the report, states that it was not possible to get it printed until now. There were 82 loan companies and building societies that made returns, being an increase of 12 over the previous year. These are represented by provinces as follows: Ontario, 72; Quebec, 8; Nova Scotia, 2; total 82. Of the 12 new companies, 11 are in Ontario and 1 in Quebec. The total liabilities of the companies are placed at $132,410,436, and the assets at $133,250,285. The present cash value of investments on mortgages and other securities is placed at $131,276.354. For the year previous the investment on mortgages was $128,151,577. The amount loaned during the year was $20,865,871, compared with $23,762,737 for 1892. There was $23,437,786 received from depositors during the year, and $24,963,830 repaid to depositors. The amount of principal and interest overdue and in default on mortgages was $2,746,872, an increase of over $200,000 as compared with 1892. There is $5,191,251 of mortgaged property held for sale, and $4,963,940 chargeable against the said property. The amount borrowed for investment during the year was $65,463.335, as compared with $68,179,144 in 1892. The amount of dividends declared during the year was $2,511,477, about $5,000 less than in the year previous. The real estate placed under mortgage in Ontario is placed at $100,782,388; in Quebec, $9,152,712, and in Nova Scotia, $981,458, making a total of $110,916,559.

APPLE SITUATION IN THE STATES.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce: Early in the season advance orders for New York State gallon canned apples were taken at $1.90 per dozen by a number of canners. The prospects at that time were favorable for a large crop of fruit. Maine canners also accepted orders at about the same price, as the outlook there was favorable also. Latterly, the orchards in both states have suffered to greater or less extent, chiefly from extreme dry weather, and, instead of being a large one, the crop will fall considerably below early calculations, and the output of canners will be reduced accordingly. So clearly is this fact demonstrated, that buyers have placed orders recently for gallon canned fruit at 50c. per dozen advance upon the opening prices, and it is difficult to purchase now at less than $2.50. Goods on the spot are also higher, with $3 named as a close price and $3.25 upward asked by most holders. Evaporated apples of last season's crop are also in limited supply, and it is reported from most sections that driers will be unable this season to turn out the quantity that they expected to. Hence prices for the evaporated, as well as the canned fruit, are considerably higher than they were a few weeks ago. The change in the situation has prompted some speculative movement, but there is not enough of it to have any decided bearing, and the rise in prices would seem to be due almost solely to prospects for supplies, as outlined above. Hence the general opinion among large handlers of the goods is that prices will move still higher, with no further stimulus than ordinary trade demand being given. The comparative cheapness of various other lines of fruit may have a certain amount of indirect restraining influence, but it is doubtful if the competition, if such it may be termed, will stand in the way of the natural influence of probable shortage in the supply.

CEYLON COFFEE PRODUCTION.

THE decrease in exports of coffee from Ceylon during the past 15 or 20 years is somewhat remarkable, says New York Journal of Commerce. In the year 1875 no less than 112,000,000 pounds were sent out from the primary sources. In 1892 the movement amounted to less than 5,000,000 pounds. It appears also that the exports in 1893 were nearly or quite as small. On their face the returns would indicate that the coffee industry of Ceylon has lost its old prominence, and is at present an unimportant factor in the market. The downfall, as it may be termed, is attributed to the ravages of a fungoid disease among the plants that killed many, and seriously affected the vitality of others, so that it has been impossible to produce remunerative crops. The disease is commonly termed the Ceylon coffee disease. Besides seriously crippling coffee culture in Ceylon, it spread to Southern India and eventually to Java, the Straits settlements, Sumatra, Mauritius, Natal, and Madagascar, in all of which the effects of the disease were nearly as bad as in Ceylon, thus reducing the importance of the Old World as a producer and factor in the markets. The disease has not appeared to any alarming extent in Central or South America or in the West Indies. Its ravages in the Old World stimulated coffee production at the several points. The coffee industries in Guatemala, Costa Rica and Brazil have greatly contributed to keep up the supplies in the world's markets. In Guatemala especially the exports during the last few years have nearly doubled. Hence the losses of the unfortunate districts have been overcome in a great degree. In spite of the great difficulties experienced in Guatemala with regard to labor, it is noticed that the production of coffee has risen from 49,000,000 pounds in 1888 to 75,000,000 pounds in 1892, and is understood to have gained more recently. Jamaica is an old coffee-producing country, and some of its produce from the Blue Mountains ranks as nearly the best in the world. Of late years, however, there has been little or no increase in the exports. In fact, what change has taken place has been for the worse and not for the better. In 1882 the exports (according to the "Handbook of Jamaica") were 41,004 cwts.; in 1892 they had fallen to 25,677 cwts. There are yearly fluctuations depending upon seasons and prices, but the general tendency lately, in spite of good prices, has been towards a smaller production in that quarter.

A carload of "U" Sphinx prunes has just been received by W. H. Gillard & Co., of Hamilton, and are finding a ready sale.

W. H. Gillard & Co. are in receipt of a large consignment of fine off-stalk Valencia raisins, which are of superior quality and are being offered to the trade at low figures.

John Mouat, W. H. Gillard & Co.'s Northwest representative, reports a much better outlook in Manitoba and the Northwest in the grocery business generally, and especially in teas.

Toronto, Can.

Send in your order for a sample package (20 lbs.) "HARP" Chewing Plug. Only 47c. per pound. It is a pure white Burley tobacco-filler and wrapper, perfectly clean and sweet and costs little more than ordinary black chewing. Harp is put up in 5c. and 10c. plugs, weighing 12 and 7 to the pound, respectively. Try it!

We desire to caution our customers against a bogus imitation of our BEAVER Plug, which is now being offered to the trade. The genuine Beaver tobacco is stamped with yellow and black tag and the word BEAVER printed plainly on each tag.

AMONG OUR READERS.

ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Sept. 8, 1894.

THE grocers and general stores in this town have enjoyed a good summer's business, and they look forward to an active fall and winter. They had a greater number of summer visitors than ever before, and they have been liberal buyers of fancy groceries. Of course the majority were tourists who stayed at the Algonquin, the large summer hotel, or at Kennedy's, a good place in the heart of the town. Some of these tourists will become permanent summer residents, and, as the place cannot but be popular, others will join them in succeeding seasons; but I shall have more to say about this feature of St. Andrews later. The best summer residence at present is that of Sir William Van Horne, of the C. P. R, who will next season be joined by Mr. Shaughnessy, of the same road. The St. Andrews people have every reason to feel that the tide has once more turned in their direction, and to look forward to brighter times, improving with each succeeding year. The farmers about here seem well-to-do and use their heads, for when they found wheat-growing did not pay, they abandoned it entirely, and now devote the acreage to more profitable crops.

It cannot be said that there are any model grocery or general stores in the place, in fact, some of the smaller shops set an example to the big establishments. The latter in the past have not required clean, attractively dressed stores, for their business has been largely with farmers, fishermen, and in a jobbing way, with the islands near by. Now the trend is turning to the store which presents the most attractive appearance, in which attention is given first to bright windows and then to equally clean interiors.

Hartt & Greenlaw, who are old subscribers to THE GROCER, are quietly working into a very good business. They are both hard workers, and if they give as careful attention to the details of buying and the collection of their accounts as they do to selling, they must be making a good deal of money. This they seem to be doing, for I learned from an outside source that their total cash sales to the islands one week recently amounted to $1,100.

John Maloney is a sadder but a wiser grocer. For a couple of years he had the exclusive supply of groceries to the Canadian armed vessel, the Cruiser, and they say he made a good thing of it. Capt. Pratt decided that it was hardly fair to give all the trade to one man, and began to distribute his business. This did not suit Mr. Maloney, who wanted to have a monopoly, and he suspected that the other grocers were giving a commission. His suspicions grew so strong the more he thought, that he became quite positive that bribes were used. A charge was laid against the captain, and a commission was appointed by the Government to investigate. But St. Andrews merchants are honorable men, who would scorn to pay commissions. Though strong efforts were made to prove the charge, not one tittle of evidence was produced. Mr. Maloney has now lost the share of business he would otherwise have secured.

Leo W. Ross, who has been a clerk in De Wolfe's and in Mowatt's stores here for the past few years, recently began on his own account. He has a small capital—the savings of four or five years—and very wisely limits his stock to a small assortment of general groceries, canned goods, confectionery, flour and feed and provisions, all of which he pays for promptly. As his capital grows he will increase his stock. He "creeps before he walks"—an excellent business motto. If he continues as he began he will make money.

"D. Clark" is a sign over a clean, well-kept grocery store. It is probably the oldest firm in St. Andrews. It first appeared 64 years ago, across the street from the present stand. The business is carried on by Peter Clark, a son of the founder, who entered the firm 37 years ago. The family come from Dornoch, Scotland, and must have been related to the late Sir John A. Macdonald.

John Burton has a bakery in connection with his grocery and has the reputation of doing a conservative business in which he has made a good deal of money. He is one of the few left of the men who began about fifty years ago, in St. Andrews' most prosperous days, but he looks fit for many seasons yet. His son Thomas is interested in fisheries but takes an active part in the business.

George D. Grimmer, who has a profitable general store, is one of the most popular and influential men in the place. He does not give the attention to the details of his business that he did at one time, but they are looked after by a careful manager. He takes a prominent interest in Free Masonry and other society work.

The Messrs. O'Neill, who are carrying on the business of their father a generation ago, are now doing the poultry, meat and vegetable trade of the town as well as their grocery. This should increase each season with the growth in the tourist and summer resident trade.

Thomas Black combines groceries with books and stationery.

The large wholesale and retail boot and shoe store of Haines & Lockett, Belleville, was destroyed by fire on Monday morning. The fire is supposed to have caught from lightning running down the telephone wire. The stock is almost a total loss, and the store is completely gutted. The firm places their loss ot $42,000, which is largely covered by insurance.

DRY GOODS.

TORONTO MARKET.

EVERYTHING considered, it must be confessed that trade is not improving in a manner that indicates a freely purchasing public. Orders continue less in volume than last year, although much ahead of what they were four weeks ago.

The current issue of THE DRY GOODS REVIEW is attracting much attention with its articles on the decline in colored cottons, mentioned last week, and on the recent conferences held in regard to lists and terms on domestic prints. These latter consultations have brought up the whole question of terms again, and on this point an interview with John Macdonald, of John Macdonald & Co., is especially important as showing that this house is willing to conform to any arrangement regarding domestic goods that the trade generally may desire. The two articles are most important.

Rubber coats are being displayed at all the wholesale houses. Wyld, Grasett & Darling have a shipment of black parmattas and tweeds, with 26 and 30-inch capes, ventilated, two large pockets, stitched seams and edges. These are kept in stock in a variety of qualities. An extreme style is a navy beaver, double-breasted, large smoked-pearl buttons, velvet collar, loose back and no cape. An assortment of umbrellas in gingham, alpaca, zenilla, laventine and silk is shown. Wood and steel rods, some japanned, others nickeled, attractive and nobby handles in knobs and crooks are the leading features. Lap rugs and mauds in wool and plush are in full display.

W. R. Brock & Co. claim to be showing some extraordinary value in wool half-hose. Their 3½-pounder, called "Beatsall," leads the trade and is selling in large quantities. Cardigan jackets are a leading line with this house. Their favorite numbers, Paralyzer, Dandy, Ripper, Blizzard, Jumbo, etc., are well known to the trade, and this season show up better in weight and style than in any previous one. Special value is being offered in men's black waterproof Para coats, with deep cape, sewn seams and edges, and ventilated sleeves; also three-deckers, a triple cape, mantles in ladies' and misses', being the purchase of their special buyer, who secured these goods under extraordinary circumstances away below market value during the trade depression in the British markets. Further shipments of dress trimmings in fancy lace braids, insertions, jet and other makes are being opened up.

A special drive of several cases of American braces is now offered by Alexander & Anderson. They are great value.

Alexander & Anderson are selling their new cashmere glove, "The Triumph," at a great rate. It seems to suit the trade. A case of antique moire ribbons in colors and blacks has just been opened up. These are pretty goods. Laces are in full stock, with Valenciennes and Irish points leading.

Last November the price of linen threads went up about 10 per cent., due to advancing prices of raw material in foreign market. Now, owing to the continued depression in trade, the price has dropped to the old level. This applies to both spool and hank thread.

MONTREAL MARKET.

Few changes in value are to be noted, but the tone is firm, and already, according to cable advices, the influence of the settlement of the American tariff question is being felt by the foreign textile markets, values being advanced in one or two cases. Buyers now on the other side therefore will have to pay more for their supplies, and this means an advance in the near future on all imported staples.

A canvass of several of the leading houses develops the fact that remittances on the 4th of September were rather better than on the 4th of August, and that they compare very favorably with the 4th of September in 1893.

Summing up the conditions in the different sections, a member of one of the leading houses said: "In Manitoba and the Northwest trade is very unsatisfactory; in Ontario and Quebec it is quite as good as can be expected, and in the Maritime districts indications are encouraging."

Box cloths, beavers, reversible cape cloths and ulsterings, have had ready sale, and are still well assorted with Brophy, Cains & Co.

S. Greenshields, Son & Co. note an improved demand for all kinds of fall goods recently. Serges keep as much to the fore as ever, and the firm have had to repeat orders nearly every week for Priestley's goods of this kind.

Linen towels, towelling, and tablings, new stock at new prices which are less than old prices, are a leader with Brophy, Cains & Co.

Cottonades and flannelettes are a large line with S. Greenshields, Son & Co., in fact they carry one of the largest stocks on the market. Buyers are sure to find something to satisfy them.

Brophy, Cains & Co. report that this has been the best season for handkerchiefs that they have ever had. Their assortment is larger than ever.

TRADE WITH CUBA.

The maritime provinces, says St. John, N B., Sun, are likely to have a greatly enlarged trade with Cuba and Porto Rico. We now get the advantage of the minimum tariff, while the U.S. has to pay the maximum which gives us a distinct advantage. Should the United States secure the minimum tariff also, we would still be able to hold the markets of the islands for potatoes, and probably lumber. If the Americans do not secure the advantage of minimum tariff we can also ship flour, hams, bacon, and lard very largely.

In any event our position is greatly improved. We have the potato market, and it is a good one. A dealer said yesterday that as many as 17,000 brls. of potatoes per week have gone into Havana in the height of the season. Whole cargoes formerly went from provincial ports.

Regarding fish, Havana letters of Sept. 1st, received yesterday, said the old duties were still being collected, no new authoritative announcement having been made, though it was expected. As all provincial fish must go from provincial ports under the new arrangement to avoid the duty on shipment via American ports, St. John shippers must depend on the Halifax route. This route has always been more expensive and less certain than that via New York, and it is hoped that arrangements will now be made so that St. John shippers will have a fair opportunity to get their goods forwarded without delay and at a reasonable freight charge.

GOLD MINING AT MEDICINE HAT.

YEARS ago an employee of the Hudson Bay Co., who had been through this locality long before there was any thought of putting a town here, made use of the expression that "there was a bar on this river, within five miles of where Medicine Hat is now situated, on which a man could wash out $30 a day for three months in the year."

Although this information has been in possession of some of our residents for some time, it was never turned to advantage until this year, when the veteran prospector, Sam. Livingstone, came down the river from the west and unearthed the riches that were lying undeveloped and practically unlooked for on the bars along the South Saskatchewan. About fifteen miles below the town his party located on a claim, and immediately set to work to wash out the pay dirt, and the results have been so gratifying and the returns so apparently rich, that the infection, or, as it is termed here, "the gold fever," has struck the town. Prospectors are coming in from every quarter, and it is only the matter of a few days until every bar within a twenty-mile radius of the town will be staked out. While it is generally admitted that Sam. Livingstone has the best location, yet there are many other bars on which the prospectors are striking it rich. The gold is found at almost every place you put in the shovel, but it varies greatly as to quantity. A few "colors" are also found in the small creeks tributary to the river here, and it is also found in the Cypress Hills to the south of here, but in what quantity is yet a matter of conjecture.

The attention of monied men in the East has been directed to the discoveries here, and we have been informed that a couple of wealthy manufacturers from St. Catharines, who were here last week, intend to put an outfit of the latest improved machinery on their location, and start in to work as soon as possible.

That some of the claims are very rich can be seen from the wash of one shovelful of the pay dirt. In some cases you will get enough of the flake gold out of this quantity to cover a five cent piece. The interested parties will tell you that they are making eight or ten dollars a day, and in the same breath inform you that they are getting four cents a shovel. If you understand the business, figure up a day's work for a man at four cents a shovel and you may get a not too exaggerated idea of the wealth that has been lying unmolested for years within the easy reach of our citizens. The work, so far, has been done with the crudest kind of an outfit—rocker and grizzly—but this week will see more extensive operations inaugurated, as one company is putting in a ditch, sluice box and other material necessary to the rapid washing of the dirt.

There will be about two months' work yet before the frost stops operations, and in this period we will have time in which to see the practical results of the now fast developing work. Should the indications of the present "pan out" in the way that is anticipated, we may be sure that Medicine Hat has struck a good thing—another of our much-boasted "natural advantages."

A HINT TO WHOLESALERS, ETC.

AS a medium for reaching the retail merchant the forthcoming Fall Number of THE GROCER will excel all its predecessors.

In appearance and in subject matter the number will surpass anything of the kind ever attempted in the country, or on the continent, for that matter.

Consequently, it will be more than usually interesting to retail grocers and general merchants, every one of whom, in the Dominion, will get a copy, subscribers and non-subscribers being treated alike in this respect. Then, of course, there is the foreign list of subscribers.

The hint to manufacturers and wholesale merchants is obvious.

Remember, the number appears October 5th.

THE GOOD TIMES ARE COMING.

TRADE is reviving. There is no doubt about it. It is in evidence every where. The farmer, the retailer, the wholesaler, the manufacturer, all are experiencing the fact.

At no time was trade stagnant in Canada. It was quiet for some months: In the first place because of the financial crisis in the United States and the general depression the world over, and in the second place because of our own tariff revision.

The influences which proved a drag on the trade of the Dominion have loosened their grip, while the good crops has engendered fresh motive power and set the wheels of the industrial machine revolving as they have not revolved for some time.

And unless we positively refuse to entertain them, better times can hardly be kept from our door.

The careful buying which has characterized merchants and manufacturers for some time; the closer scrutiny of accounts and shorter credits that have developed, and the general tendency obtaining of doing business on more businesslike principles, has purged the commercial body politic of many impurities and left it in good condition to reap the advantages accompanying a revival of trade.

In a word, like an athlete, the business men of the country have been well trained. From this out they should give a good account of themselves.

Now that the tide has turned, take advantage of it. Do not allow yourself to drift aimlessly with it. Get up and hustle. Be live, be energetic, plan and scheme for business, and thus hasten along the good times.

INJURING ST. LAWRENCE ROUTE.

THE controversy that is going on between the Allans and Mr. Huddart, the promoter of the fast Atlantic service, will benefit neither of the parties to it.

One thing, however, it will do: It will tend to injure the St. Lawrence route with the timid and the ignorant.

To ascribe that route dangerous is to perpetrate a libel thereon.

The route is not dangerous. Its freedom from calamitous accidents is an evidence of this; and the placing of a newer and faster type of steamships on the route, with the capacity to travel a few miles an hour more, is not going to sufficiently increase the liability to accident to make its serious consideration worth while.

The steamers built with the power to travel fast are built with the power to control themselves readily, while every day or hour saved in crossing the Atlantic means the lessening of the vessel's liability to be caught in storms or in fogs.

The opinion of the people of this country may be divided regarding the wisdom of Canada subsidizing a fast steamship service at the moment, but if the loyalty of Canada is judged rightly, there are no two opinions regarding the folly of belittling the St. Lawrence route.

The Allans and Mr. Huddart may fight until doomsday regarding their respective merits for veracity, but Canada does urge that they keep off her grass plot.

ANOTHER ALLEGED POISONING.

A MONTREAL lawyer ate canned tomatoes the other day. There was nothing extraordinary in this, but there was in the fact that shortly afterwards he was taken ill—the press despatches say with eating canned tomatoes.

The Packers' Association should, if it has not already prepared to do so, investigate the matter. As in previous instances of alleged poisoning from eating canned goods so it may be in this, the illness was induced by the carelessness of either the patient or some member of his family.

But this alleged poisoning case again suggests the advisability of the canners placing a brief list of instructions, to be followed by consumers, on the labels in order to prevent the contents of the cans being spoiled or the people being poisoned.

It is as safe to eat canned goods as any other food product; and the canners and the trade should take every opportunity to preach this gospel. THE GROCER does.

No sensible man doubts that canned goods have come to stay, but there are people who, when they read press despatches about cases of alleged poisoning from eating canned goods, become sceptical, and it is for the benefit of these good people that the Canadian Packers' Association should ascertain the truth regarding this, the latest case of alleged poisoning from eating canned tomatoes.

STILL STICK TO BUSINESS RULES.

WHILE better times are dawning, it is well, in the exuberance of realizing this, not to desert the cautious policy which has for some years been gradually developing.

Judicious buying, careful discrimination of accounts, short terms of credit, are principles which need to be closely followed, however good business may be. In fact, good times cannot long obtain after these fail to exist.

Bad crops may bring depression, but it is carelessness in buying and recklessness in credits that are the most potent causes of failure.

The man who has exerted all his strength in useless exertion on the plains below is not equal to the task of climbing to the top of the rugged mountain; nor is the merchant able to survive the periods of depression when they come round if during the good times he has neglected to observe the ordinary rules laid down for the government of business.

THE TEA MARKETS.

"NEVER," said a Montreal tea broker to THE GROCER, "has the course of the tea market been more satisfactory to importers and dealers generally than it has been this fall. In fact the only drop of discontent in our cup of satisfaction is the difficulty we are experiencing in communicating with primary markets. The rush of work on the cables is so great that it frequently takes days to get a message through where it was usually a question of hours. Aside from this the business done has been remarkably satisfactory, and now with light stocks buyers have in many cases been compelled to place their orders with importers at an advance in order to secure future delivery of supplies. All advices from primary centres point to values going higher. Some private letters that were furnished to THE GROCER may be interesting in this connection: A Yokohama letter states: "Settlements have averaged 1,000 piculs daily, arrivals being delayed in transit owing to the Government monopolizing the railways in forwarding troops for transportation to Corea. Stocks are small and prices higher. Demand has been principally for goods from medium to fine which are very dear. The third crop is nearly exhausted and a few parcels of fourth crop teas are being offered. Result of recent rains is being felt in the country and arrivals from now on are expected to be better both in leaf and in cup. Total settlements to August 31, amounted to 202,644 piculs against 195,609 piculs for the same period in 1893. Quotations on that date were: Choice, $31 to $33; finest, $26 to $28; fine, $23 to $24; good medium, $19 to $20; medium, $17 to $18; good common, $14 to $15, and common, $12 to $13."

Another private letter from Shanghai says: "In black teas a distinct advance for nearly all grades must be quoted as having occurred since we last advised you, brought about to some extent by an improved demand from the States, whither shipments have been heavy. Settlements for the interval total 27,000 half chests at tls. 11.75 to 23.75. Low grades after touching tls. 11.75 are now selling at tls. 12.25, notwithstanding every prospect according to native reports of a big supply of third crop common teas to follow. London buyers are chary of operating at present prices, sales so far received for the lower grades of first crop teas not resulting well. Good teas still continue to show satisfactory profits. Green teas have been given a marked stimulus in buying by the satisfactory results obtained on early Pingsueys at New York, coupled with the passing of the tariff bill and vague ideas that the war may sooner or later interfere with supplies. Added to this, shipments are being hurried forward at a rate never before approached, several overland cargoes beating any previous record. There has naturally been very little buying for England as there has been no possibility of working up any excitement about prospects for that market. The two comforting features to the situation are that total supplies of Pingsueys will not exceed 160,000 half chests, and that natives are evincing a desire to make purer teas. For all teas with fairly pure infusions have continually hardened, being now fully 10 to 15 per cent. above the lowest point."

NEW IDEA IN ADVERTISING.

F. S. Merritt, of Puddington & Merritt, St. John, has adopted a novel advertising idea in his store. He clips advertisements of specialties, etc., out of THE GROCER, and pastes them on the bent glass fronts of his show cases.

Customers while waiting to be served are attracted by the various advertisements. Often these are people who do not see newspapers, or skip the advertisements in the hurry to see the news. He does not crowd the cases with them, only putting three or four on each. He has found it a very effective advertisement—far ahead of the handsome lithographed and expensively-framed pictures that are used to adorn the bare walls along the top of the shop. Buyers hardly ever crane their necks to look at them.

Everyone who reads the advertisements does not buy at the time, but Mr. Merritt says he is continually hearing of results weeks and even months later. The effectively-written advertisement is the one that tells. That which crowds a page to describe its many good points he leaves alone, and uses the one which goes straight for the facts in the fewest words. One with an illustration is preferred. This form of advertising need not be confined to the grocery counter. It is equally effective in dry goods, in hardware and in books and stationery. We would like to hear later from any of our readers who try this experiment.

IMPROVED STORE FITTINGS.

PLATE glass cabinets are the coming style for store interiors, or rather they are now the fashion. No merchant, whether wholesale or retail, building a new place or refitting an old one, should complete his plans until he has first examined and found how far these cabinets can be adopted A number of stores in Canada are already using them to a limited extent, a result of a suggestion made in these columns some months ago. The only completely fitted store in this respect we have yet seen is a wholesale and retail hat and cap establishment in St. John, N. B. No doubt there are others, but we have not yet seen them. The whole side of this place is laid out in compartments about three feet wide by a height of about 70 inches. These stand on a ledge or side counter about three feet from the floor. Beneath this counter are drawers or shelves, or the space may be left open for boxes, cases or something of that sort. The compartments may vary from 6 to 18 inches in depth, and are fitted with adjustable shelves or racks. They have false backs painted white to reflect the contents. These wooden backs are used instead of the partition walls of the store so that the sash weights may drop behind them—between them and the wall. Each compartment has a bevelled plate glass front fitted into a sliding sash. It is balanced by two weights attached to the sides in the usual way, but instead of running alongside, the ropes or chains are carried over the top of the cabinet and down behind the false backs. No display space is thus wasted, and the weights are hid from view entirely. In the St. John store the sashes are 34½ inches from centre to centre, and 66 inches in height. There is only a half inch between each sash, and the wood work is all half inch stuff, the object being to have as much glass front as possible. The wood is thoroughly seasoned polished hardwood; the fitting must be done with great care. The sashes must run up and down smoothly, and at the same time every part must fit so close that dust and flies cannot work their way in, for after all, this is the greatest object to be gained by this arrangement. The amount of dust that blows in from the streets, no matter how careful business men are to keep the doors closed, seems to increase with the modern pavements, coal soot from tall chimneys, and the rushing electric cars, followed by clouds, which penetrate the smallest apertures. The flies are equally bad. There are few establishments in which there are not goods with their imprint. Grocers and confectioners suffer most, and they above all others require the cleanest goods.

For firms who wish to be more extravagant, and fit all or part of their store in this way, the shelving may be lined with black velvet or plush, and have the back and sides of each compartment plate glass mirrors instead of painted wood. We noticed a small cabinet of this sort in a Winnipeg store. In another place plate glass shelving is used. These are better adapted for the finer classes of goods.

We will be glad to have further suggestions from the experience of others who may have adopted this style of fitting.

DOES FAKE ADVERTISING PAY?

Daniel & Robertson, of St. John, N.B., make short interviews with canvassers who work fake advertising schemes. "When we were young and verdant, and thought we knew it all," said Mr. Robertson to THE CANADIAN GROCER, "we went into hotel registers, circulars, posters, write ups and similar things. Many of them were nice in theory, but we could get no results.

"Then we tried newspaper advertising. That paid us, and we have used it ever since. For our country trade we have used calendars, not as an advertising ventu e, but as a souvenir They are getting common, and we are not using them now. We may possibly, however, adopt something new in this line. I am looking into the matter now, but we will not charge the expenditure to advertising account."

AMONG OUR READERS.

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Sept. 12, '94.

FREE trade in lumber is not welcomed by the Canadians on the St. Croix river, which forms the boundary between the States and Canada. They have enjoyed this privi ege for years and now they are going to have competition. Owing to the diffi.ulties in keeping the logs of the two countries apart when floating in the same river, the Governments agreed some years ago on practical free trade. There were restrictions but they were not observed.

Milltown is a very enterprising town adjoining St. Stephen, N. B., and judging from the substantial character of the business done by the grocers there, the residents must be of the well-to-do class. They have several saw mills and a cotton mill, and it is said that a furniture and a sash, door and blind factory will shortly be removed there. Competition among the grocers is very keen. The two leading firms keep two wagons each canvassing for and filling orders. Instead of calling once a week for orders as is usual in large cities, or not all, as in smaller places, they call on every customer every day. There seems to be no reason why they should not agree among themselves to cease doing so or limit their calls to weekly instead of daily. In the face of it they all look prosperous. The town has now an excellent waterworks, and electric car and light system, and bears the impress of an enterprising and prosperous town which is making sure and s eady progress.

Mr. Ganong, who took over the estate of Ganong & Wilson some time ago, is making a big rush to get the business on a good footing and to increase it.

Almon I. Teed, who took over the business of C. D. Hill & Co. about nine months ago, is doing a very satisfactory wholesale trade in groceries, flour and feed. Mr. Teed personally covers the ground between St. Stephen and Woodstock, and his son, Ed. Teed, takes in the islands, St. George's and a few near-by points.

The St. Croix Soap Co. are making further enlargements in their works. This is the third large addition that has been made to their buildings since the present company took hold.

"I am only doing a small cash business now," said Thomas Gregory. "At one time I was pretty well off. I carried heavy insurance on my stock for many years, but we had a good fire department, and they quickly put out any fires we had in the town. I thought it was foolish of me to carry insurance, and took my chances on it. I cancelled my policy in January, and in May there was a large fire. I lost everything—all my years' savings. Times became hard, and I have never been able to recover my former position."

J. B. Robinson's general store business is now being effectively managed by his son, E. M. Robinson. They are doing a good farmers' trade in groceries and dry goods. Speaking to THE GROCER, he said: "There is a remarkably good feeling among the business men of the town. Last fall we went in with another firm and imported a carload of canned goods, thus being able to buy at lower prices. It is quite a usual thing for us to supply some of the other houses with butter and eggs."

E. W. Toal, who has been under the weather since Christmas from an attack of influenza, is thinking of selling his business. It is commonly reported that he can afford to retire, having been doing a profitable trade for 20 years.

P. F. McKenna reports money a little hard to get, but looks for an improvement as soon as fall trade opens. He handles a large amount of provisions and also does a good trade in boots and shoes.

"I like your articles on early closing," said F. Libby, a clerk in Inches & Grimmer's store. "We tried to follow them out here, but some of the houses pulled down their blinds, and keeping the doors ajar, caught all the chance trade in the evenings. By and by people began to find out that they were open and went there. Those who lived up to the agreement lost customers and we had to re-open in self-defence. These same people will never close on holidays either."

F. E. Rose has one of the most profitable stores in St. Stephen. He does a good farmers' as well as local trade, with a well-to-do class of customers who are not affected to any extent by booms or depressions. He is a strong advocate of the cash system. "Business men here," said he to THE GROCER, "are not so mealy-mouthed as they used to be in demanding prompt monthly settlements. They are not afraid to hand a man his account and ask him to pay it and promptly to. The cash system saves me fully $400 a year, not to mention losses from bad debts. Jobbers are very properly adopting the 30-day system, and retailers should do the same."

"If it were not for the unbusinesslike methods of some western confectioners with which we have to contend, we would be quite happy. We are doing a good business; their methods curtail profits." So spoke Mr. Ganong who does a nice grocery business in addition to his large confectionery works. "I am glad to see that THE GROCER is after them, for they affect retail as well as our trade."

CONCERNING RETAILERS.

ON Saturday Mr. Hutchinson, of Hutchinson Bros., Bracebridge, gave THE GROCER a friendly call. He reports that business was good dur ng the summer. "Bra-ebridge," he said, "is a town that never gets slow, as we have our two tanneries besides the saw mills to keep up the busine s of the place." The town is now putting in an electric light plant and waterworks, which will cost $25,000. It is an "up to date" town; business is largely done on the cash basis, and all s ores close at 6 o'clock sharp. Hutchinson Bros. moved into their new block (the old Danie's' stand) on Monday last.

T. J. Hamilton, Erin, has opened crockery, g assware and fancy goods in the store adjoining his present premises.

Dahl Bros., Erin, have been compelled by the growing demands of their business to add about 40 feet to their store.

J. Strickland, Cannington, has opened another branch store. This makes his third, and it is in Argyle.

The business of the late Samuel Ashton, general merchant, Hampton, who died a few weeks ago, will be carried on by his widow for the time being at least.

A. H. Beale, who recently managed the Patron store in Nestleton, has gone into business on his own account. Many of his old customers are said to have followed him with their patronage.

P. Lavrock, late of Port Elgin, has removed to Hamilton, and his business at the former place is being carried on by Mr. Goeble.

W. Calder, of Spence, has sold out his business in that place and opened up in Magnetawan. He was in Toronto last week purchasing stock.

J. W. McCULLOCH DEAD.

J. W. McCULLOCH, traveler in the Ottawa district for the Pure Gold Manufacturing Co., Toronto, is dead. His demise took place last week. Deceased had for some time been suffering from a bowel complaint. About three months ago he underwent an operation at the Victoria Hospital, Montreal. To all appearances it was successful, and for a while he seemed to be regaining his health, but about three weeks ago, however, he had a relapse, and went back to the Victoria Hospital for further treatment. He was destined never to leave that institution again alive, for the operation he underwent was more than his strength could bear, death taking place Saturday last. Deceased was 45 years of age and leaves a wife and one child. He resided in Ottawa. The remains were brought to Toronto and interred Monday last.

The late Mr. McCulloch was one of Pure Gold's oldest travelers, he having entered its employ some 11 years ago. His territory was at first in the north, but during the last six years he represented the firm in Ottawa and the east.

"We have lost one of our best travelers," said a member of the firm, "and it will be hard to replace him."

TWO-MANNERED PEOPLE.

PEOPLE who have two sets of manners, one for those arrayed in "soft raiment" and one for the wearers of homespun, often involve themselves in much difficulty and embarrassment, says an exchange. In their estimates of the lofty and the lowly they are constantly making mistakes and displaying the wrong set of manners before the wrong people.

A carriage dealer in the city had this fashion and was especially gruff towards those whom he suspected of shallow purses, and yet who were presuming enough to come and look at his wares.

He was standing in his door one day, when a stout man walked up, with a rough overcoat buttoned to his chin, and a pair of heavy unpolished boots on his feet.

"Good day," said the stranger, civilly: "Are you the owner of this estab ishment?"

"Well, I am," was the curt reply.

"Have you any fine carriages for sale?"

"Well, I have."

"Can I look at them?"

"You can do as you please; there they are."

The man must have wished to buy a carriage very much to have accepted such an ungracious permission. However, he seemed to take no notice of the dealer's boorishness, but examined the carriages carefully, and finally picked out one that pleased him. Its price was two hundred dollars, and he said he would call next day and inform him of his decision.

"Oh, yes," said the carriage dealer, "you will call to morrow, certainly," and he walked away whistling.

To his surprise he did call, and counted out his bills in payment. Greatly disturbed, the dealer looked him over from hat to boots, and then examined each bill with care to see that it was all right. He was now in a fever to learn his customer's name. "Perhaps he would like a receipt?"

"It might be as well," said the other.

"What name?"

"Washington Irving."

What a thunderbolt it was to the admirer of the great and the despiser of the lowly. His apologies began to rain down, but Irving waved them aside. He was too much of a gentleman to take pleasure in his discomfiture, as a narrow mind would surely have done, and bidding him a courteous "good-day," he left him to recover from his chagrin at his leisure.

No doubt Dickens would have made a good point of him in his next story, but Irving was too genial and kindly, and probably felt a sincere regret for his mortification, justly as it was merited.

A true gentleman is not one who puts on politeness as a mask. It is his true face that you see, and it never deceives you. It is a very unfavorable world for masks. The best art cannot keep them often from dropping in most inopportune places, and in most conspicuous noontide light.

COURTESY IN BUSINESS.

PEOPLE buy when in good humor, and are not apt to when they feel provoked, says Cash Grocer. There is no doubt about this. We are all largely influenced by our surroundings and those we approach.

A lady stops in at her grocer's to leave an order. Perhaps she has been shopping, and is on her way home, tired and disappointed in not finding on her shopping tour just exactly what she desired. Or, perhaps, there has been some unfortunate trouble at home—a trifle, it may be, but sufficient to make her irritable. In either case, she is not in a pleasant mood, and is visibly annoyed.

Here is the retail grocer's opportunity, if he is present, and, if he also be discerning enough to observe the humor the lady is in, he will not trust her to a clerk, unless he feels sure of that clerk's ability to be equal to his own. Even so, it would perhaps be best to flatter the lady by his personal attention. A pleasant, respectful bearing—not over-obsequious—and a self-evident desire to save the lady time; the exercise of a knack of making suggestions, if it is possessed, and a cheery manner generally, will, in such cases, smooth out the furrows of irritability from the lady's fair brow, and she will be absolutely cheered and rested without exactly knowing why, but her good opinion of the grocer will be further cemented, and what is of equal importance to him, she will have left him an order, including several important items which she surely would have forgotten if the grocer's diplomatic good nature had not been hypnotically employed.

A RETAILER'S ADVICE.

A SUCCESSFUL grocer in the Quaker city, while abroad on the Atlantic took occasion, accord ng to an exchange, to write to Secretary Smedley, of the Philadelphia Retail Grocers' Association, and give the younger grocers and aspirants for independence some good advice as follows:

"A word of council to young grocers—first, study your adaptations; if you are adapted to the business and like it, then make everything bend to accomplishing success, but remember this can never be done unless you have in the first good moral habits; this is the first qualifi ation; to my mind there is no such thing as what some would call luck. To my mind, based on experience pluck is luck, the old adage holds good, 'Keep your store, and your store will keep you'; let this be a motto, and depend upon it you must succeed.

"Again, never buy more goods than you can pay for when the bill becomes due; never make a promise, without you first see your way clear to fulfil it. Always try and discount your bills; it will pay you!

"Do not allow salesmen to persuade you to buy what you do not see your way clear to sell before the discount season arrives. You will find this an excellent plan—first, because it makes more money for you and all merchants hunt up the men that discount, with the bargains they have to offer.

"If you want to enlarge your business never do it by keeping your wholesaler waiting for his money; if you find it needful, go to some friend and borrow what you require and pay interest. By this means it enables you to be always independent and respected. That was the plan I adopted in my business life, and I recommend it to any young man; it is bound to succeed if these suggestions are adopted. Last, but not least, never lose faith in yourself, and aim high, and you will 'get there.' I will close with the words of Solomon: 'See'st thou a man diligent in business he shall stand before kings, and not before mean men.'"

TRADE CHAT.

J. J. LAWRENCE and family, who have been running a grocery in Tilsonburg for a short time, have removed to Florence.

The Toronto dealers in coal have reduced prices to $5 per ton.

The Aylmer Cider Works is running now at its fullest capacity.

The Delhi Canning Company's factory has been running night and day lately.

D. L. Schultz, Guelph, shipped last week the first car of turnips this season to New York.

The Aylmer Canning Company will start their apple evaporator in about a week's time.

The Ridgetown canning factory is doing a rushing business in corn and tomatoes, working night and day.

Anthracite coal now sells in Winnipeg at $7 50 per ton, which is a reduction of $3 from last year's price.

When a merchant begins to purchase advertising space he soon finds himself in need of additional space in his store.

The Marsh Hill creamery, situated about five miles from Uxbridge, and owned by Tomlinson Bros., was destroyed by fire Friday. About 60 tubs of butter, together with the entire plant, were burned. Loss estimated at about $3,000. Insured for $1,700 in the Guardian. Cause of fire unknown.

John Riley's grain elevator at Cypress River, Man., was burned Sunday with 10,000 bushels of wheat belonging to farmers of the district.

Business men of New York city, who employ 20,000 boys, have determined to give the preference to boys who do not smoke cigarettes.

Qu'Appelle Board of Trade is endeavoring to get a Government creamery for that town, and there seems every probability of its being successful.

The Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville electric railway will likely be pushed on to Beamsville this fall. It is said it will also be built to the beach next summer.

A. W. Wright, traveler for Watts' soap works at Brantford, was burned to death at the American hotel in Port Elgin recently. He took a fit and fell on the lamp, causing the fatality.

Edmonton is the centre of the fur trade ; there is gathered the furs from the Mackenzie, Peace, and Athabasca rivers, Lac la Biche, Jasper Pass, and even British Columbia. About $250,000 worth of furs have already been marketed there this year, and large shipments are reported on the way.

The Calgary Irrigation Co. have filed the necessary plans with the Interior Department and will make application for the right to divert sufficient water from the Elbow river to irrigate lands amounting to 45,000 acres.

The tobacco crop of Kelowna, says the Midway "Advance," promises very well. The plants are three feet high and are still growing. Tobacco growing, if the experiment should prove successful, may become an industry at the Mission.

A branch of the Retail Merchants' Protective Association of Rochester was organized in Simcoe the other evening. Wm. Sutton was elected president, and Geo. Kilpatrick secretary. Nearly all the business men of Simcoe are members.

Important results to Canada have followed a survey of the boundary between Canadian and Alaskan territory. One of the most notable is the discovery that Mount St. Elias, so long regarded as the giant mountain of the continent, is in Canadian and not in United States territory. The height of the mountain was found to be 18,023 feet, considerably higher than the estimate given by the numerous exploring parties of the geological survey. A. M. Burgess, Deputy Minister of the Interior, says the results of the season's survey would, he believed, establish the justice of Canada's claim to still more important points in the disputed territory.

A meeting of the creditors of Hirst Bros. was held at Nanaimo on the 8th inst. Settlements will be made in full, the creditors giving an extension of the time for payment. James Hirst will carry on the business under the name of James & George Hirst, the former firm retiring.

The total receipts for the Industrial Exhibition amounted to $68,937.95, as against $71,961.05 last year, a decrease of $3,024.10. The attendance was actually greater this year, but the decrease in receipts is attributable to the falling off in the grand stand takings on several rainy afternoons, on which no performance could be given.

A carload of Ontario fruit reached the city this morning in poor shape. The fruit is now being sold retail here at hardly paying prices—that is, to the grower. Large baskets of very fine peaches are being sold for seventy-five cents each, and when the fruit is in a damaged condition, for less than half that price.—Brandon correspondence, Winnipeg Free Press.

People often read and hear of the mammoth trees of British Columbia, but are not aware that we have very large trees in this province. There is an elm tree on David Scott's farm at St. Croix, Hants county, that measures 19 feet 6 inches in circumference, and the branches shade over a quarter of an acre of land. This elm tree should be seen by tourists who pass that way with their wheels.—Chronicle, Halifax.

The statement of circulation and specie on 31st August shows the necessity there was for the act of last session extending the issue, as the amount of Dominion notes outstanding on that date was $22,094,124, the largest ever known. The amount of gold held was $10,323,800, and of guaranteed debentures $1,946,667. The excess of gold and guaranteed debentures over the amount required by law to hold was $5,175,467. The deposits in the Government savings banks during August were $304,870, and withdrawals $300,867. The balance at the credit of depositors was $17,587,025.

Iona correspondent of St. Thomas Journal: The somewhat unexpected and sudden death of J. J. Campbell, our merchant here, has cast a gloom over this locality which will not soon be dispelled. Mr. Campbell had been ailing for some six months, but not until the last two weeks was he confined to his bed, when the best medical aid available was brought into requisition. Notwithstanding every effort he gradually weakened, and Sunday morning he passed peacefully away. To say he was a man without a fault is hardly an exaggeration, and the deep sorrow that possesses both old and young over his death is very indicative. He was 58 years of age, and leaves an aged widow and no family.

A GLUT OF FRUIT.

Boston Globe: There is a glut in the fruit market this year. In the words of one of the largest fruit dealers, the market is drugged.

There is a superabundance of apples, pears, peaches and grapes, the first named being the most plentiful of all.

The prices this year are much lower for apples of all kinds than they were last year, and there is little probability that they will be advanced materially before the close of the fruit season. Excellent apples can be bought, the dealers say, at prices ranging from 30c. a barrel upward. In past years the same quality of fall apples have brought anywhere from $1.25 to $1.50 a barrel at this time. The crop this year has been a tremendous one, which accounts for the great fall in the price of the fruit.

Delaware peaches are a comparative failure, however, so all that the dealers have to rely upon are the Jersey and Maryland qualities, which are a good crop, but will not last very long. Good peaches are selling from 90c. to $1.50 a basket, and there is a considerable demand for them at these prices.

Pears, too, are plentiful, every description of the fruit being in advance of the crop of last year. They bring from 50c. to $1.75 a bushel, according to the quality. The price is about the same as it was a year ago, so that there is really no change because of the abundant crop.

Grapes sell for about 25c. a basket, the price which they fetched last year, the crop this season being a very heavy one. This season is expected to end in about three or four weeks more.

MARKETS AND MARKET NOTES

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Sept. 20, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THERE is a lull in business this week; it is the calm after the hurry and bustle of the exhibition. The travelers are again upon their respective routes, and a reawakening may be looked for in a few days. Teas continue active and advancing in prices. There is a falling off in the demand for sugars, but the price remains firm. Syrups are quiet and scarce. Molasses are in rather better demand. A little more enquiry is reported for canned peas, but other kinds of canned vegetables are still dull with prices steady. The second shipment of new Valencia raisins is arriving, and advices confirm the firmness of prices in the primary markets. Butter and eggs, particularly the latter, are firmer. New dried and evaporated apples are beginning to be offered, but there is a wide range in the prices asked.

CANNED GOODS.

Two of the canneries affiliated with the Canadian Packers' Association have been offering independently of the selling committee during the week, and on some lines they have been quoting prices somewhat lower than those fixed by the Association. It is, however, asserted by representatives of the Association that the erring members will be again brought into line. Peas are beginning to show a little more life, an increased demand being reported for them at from 80 to 90c., the inside figure being for old pack. Quite a few extra sifted have been going out at $1.45 to $1.50. Tomatoes and corn are quiet and unchanged at 85 to 90c. The Packers' Association is again quoting futures on vegetables and fruit, and it is said the organization will advance the price of canned vegetables 2½c. per dozen October 1. Nothing particularly new has developed in regard to canned salmon. Prices are firmly held at the advance on the Coast, and the inducements held out by the English market appear to make the canners independent of the home market. Advices received by a local jobbing house quote new red salmon at $1.20 to $1.25 on the Coast. On the spot $1.25 to $1.35 are the ruling prices for red salmon, while as low as $1.20 is quoted in some instances, not all the houses apparently having followed the primary markets in advancing prices. Cables are quoted at $1.10 to $1.20, according to grade. An increasing demand is reported for lobsters at $1 85 to $2 for talls, and $2.30 to $2.50 for flats. Demand is easing off for meats. Fruits are quiet and unchanged at these quotations: Peaches, $3 to $3.25 for 3's, $2 to $2.25 for 2's; raspberries, $1.65 to $1.80; strawberries, $1.90 to $2.10; apples, 3's, $1 to $1.10, gallons $2.65 to $2.80, and preserved fancy quarters at $1.35 to $1.40.

COFFEES.

Rio kinds are scarce and more attention has been turned to Maracaibo in consequence. We quote green, in bags, as follows: Rio, 20½ to 22½c.; East Indian, 27 to 30c.; South American, 21 to 23c.; Santos, 21½ to 22½c.; Java, 30 to 32c.; Mocha, 27 to 28c.; Maracaibo, 21 to 23c.; Jamaica, 21 to 22c.

RICE.

Demand is still brisk for fancy imported Japan rice at 5¾ to 6c., and there is not a large quantity to be had here. "B" rice is moving fairly well. We quote: "B," 3½ to 3¾c.; extra Japan, 5¼ to 5⅜c.; imported Japan, 5¾ to 6¼c.; tapioca, 4¼ to 4½c.

SPICES.

Trade is good, particularly in pickling spices. We quote: Pure black pepper, 12 to 14c.; pure white, 20 to 28c.; pure Jamaica ginger, 25 to 27c.; cloves, 25 to 30c.; pure mixed spice, 25 to 30c.; cream of tartar, 20 to 25c. per lb.

NUTS.

Advices received by a local broker state that the great shortage on the crop of walnuts prevents any quotations being made in advance, and only open orders have any chance of being filled for the Christmas trade. The crop is also two weeks later than last year, which is regarded as quite as serious for the Canadian trade as the question of price. Regarding Terragona almonds, advices state that the first direct shipments will cost about 2c. more than last year. Local trade is quiet and featureless. We quote as follows: Brazil nuts, 11 to 11½c. lb.; Sicily shelled almonds, 25 to 26c. a lb.: Terragona almonds, 12½ to 14c.; peanuts, 11 to 12c. for roasted and 8 to 10c. for green; cocoanuts, $4.50 to $5 per sack; Grenoble walnuts, 13 to 14c. Marbot walnuts, 11 to 12c.; Bordeaux walnuts, 11 to 12c.; filberts, 9¾ to 10½c. for sacks and 10½ to 11c. for small lots; pecans, 10½ to 11c.

SUGAR.

The activity is not as pronounced as it was a week ago, and no difficulty is now experienced in filling orders. Prices, however, are still steady at $4 45 to $4.50 for granulated and 3¾ to 4c. for yellows; raw, 3½c.

N. Y. Journal of Commerce: On market for raw sugars the majority of trade appear to think that if top prices have not been reached they are pretty near it, and as all the free sugars left pay a handsome profit, it is considered probably just as well to meet demand when it develops. Offerings, at least, are fair, and with the decline in refined there seems to be an idea that there may be more of an inclination to realize.

Willett & Gray's Weekly Statistical: Meltings have been reduced, but the demand is reduced still more, and is surprisingly small for the season, and it must be admitted that the invisible stock of refined in the hands of the trade is large, and is being used to supply consumers. The excess of melting is, therefore, more or less fictitious as to increased consumption, which must be equalized by a small demand for some time to come. It is not likely that a reduction of prices would facilitate business, and yet it is scarcely to be expected that cutting of rates can be avoided, when a competition for business begins. The above applies only to hard sugars. The soft grades have had an excellent demand this month and deliveries of some grades are still delayed. The main features, however, of the raw and refined sugar trade indicate top prices of the present campaign and a general if gradual recession to the new campaign basis, whatever that may prove to be. Foreign refined may play an important part in the coming campaign.

SYRUPS.

Business is higher in volume, but there is still a scarcity of the article. We quote: Dark, 25c.; medium, 28 to 30c.; bright, 35 to 40c.; very bright, 45 to 50c.

MARKETS—Continued

MOLASSES.

Demand for molasses has improved lately. This applies particularly to the Barbadoes kinds at about 28 to 32c. We quote: New Orleans, barrels, 26 to 28c.; half-barrels, 30½ to 32c.; Barbadoes, barrels, 28 to 32c.; half-barrels, 30 to 34c.

TEAS.

The tea market continues active and strong. A cable received Thursday by a local broker quotes Indian tea firmer. Both Indian and Ceylon teas continue to sell freely in London, with a hardening tendency in price. Cheap China black teas are still advancing, and some excellent values are being shown by representatives of China tea houses at 15c. Samples of new green teas are arriving. There is a marked scarcity of all green teas except Pingsueys, and any offered are readily taken. The jobbing houses are still doing a good trade in new season's Japan teas, low and medium grades, at from 14 to 17c. and 20 to 25c. respectively. Medium grades China blacks are active at 18 to 22c. Quite a few Young Hysons are going out at 20c. for medium and 35c. for fine teas. Indian and Ceylon teas are moving fairly well at 25 to 30c.

DRIED FRUIT.

The few hundred boxes of new season's Valencia raisins noted to have arrived last week have been almost cleaned out, but another shipment is arriving this week, and as high as 7½c. has been obtained for the few off-stalk that are to be had. Orders are being booked for second shipment at 6c. The advance in the price of Valencia raisins, previously announced as having taken place in the primary markets, has been maintained. Detailed reports of damage to the curing crop by rains have not yet been received, but cable advices from all quarters confirm what has already been said in this respect, and announce that it applies to half the crop.

CURRANTS.

Demand for currants is light and prices unchanged. Quotations are: Provincials, 3½ to 4c. in brls., half brls., 3⅝ to 4⅛c.; Filiatras, 4 to 4¾c. in brls., and 4½ to 5c. in half barrels; Patras, 5 to 5½c. in barrels, 5¼ to 5¾c. in half brls., 5 to 6½c. in cases; Vostizzas, 6½ to 7½c. in cases, 6¾ to 7¾c. in half cases. Prunes are much as before. We quote: U's, 5½ to 5¾c.; B's, 7½c.; bags, 3¾c.; casks, 4½ to 5c. The Avalona, the second direct steamer, has completed loading at Patras. The market from the opening till to-day has been a steadily declining one, but it is generally believed that prices have touched bottom, and a reaction is looked for, the latest purchases on the Avalona having cost quite as low as those made at the same time last year, whereas the crop is certainly not more than 75 per cent. of that abnormal yield.

A few case prunes of the better grades are going out at 7 to 7½c. for "B"; "U," 5¼ to 5½c.; "A," 9c.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The butter market is firm and higher. Good butter is scarce and wanted, while low grade is accumulating. A buyer has just returned from covering territory in which there are some 5,000 packages of butter held without buying a package, his views and those of the sellers being too far apart. Holders' ideas are from 15 to 16c. f.o.b. outside. Creamery tubs and pound prints are in good demand in consequence of the scarcity of choice dairy butter. Receipts of dairy pound rolls are almost nil. The ruling price for good dairy tubs is 17½ to 18c., with 19c. being occasionally obtained for something extra choice. We quote jobbing prices as follows: Dairy—Choice tubs, 17 to 18c.; straight store, 15 to 16c.; crocks, 19c.; bakers' butter, 12 to 13c.; pound rolls, 20 to 21c. Creamery—Tubs, 20 to 21c.; pound prints, 23 to 25c.

Cheese is firm and higher at 11 to 11½c., but prices are interfering with the consumption, and demand is only fair.

PROVISIONS AND DRESSED HOGS.

Long clear bacon is firm. A bid of 8¼c. for a carload lot was refused Monday, and it is learned that one house refused 8½c. for a two-ton lot. Demand is good for long clear, while stocks are small. There are practically no smoked backs on the market. All dressed hogs coming in are wanted at from $6 75 to $7.

BACON—Long clear, 8½c. for car lots and 8¾ to 9c. for small lots; breakfast bacon, 12½ to 13c.; rolls, 9 to 9½c.

HAMS—Large, 22 lbs. and over, 11c.; medium, 15 to 20 lbs., 12½c.; small hams, 13c.; pickled, 11 to 11½c.

LARD—Pure Canadian, tierces, 9¼c.; tubs, 9¾c.; pails, 10c.

BARREL PORK—Canadian heavy mess $19; Canadian short-cut, $19 to $20; shoulder mess, $14.50 to $15; clear mess, $15 to $15.50.

GREEN FRUIT.

The market is a little easier in lemons on account of a falling off in the demand. There are a few Jamaica and Rodi oranges on the market, but the quality of the latter is so bad that prices are without quotable basis. Peaches are in good demand, all arriving being taken. Except a few high-priced kinds, plums are practically out of the market. Both the supply and the demand is large in grapes. There is an improved demand for apples at rather better prices. Watermelons are out of the market, and the demand for muskmelons exceeds the supply. Bananas are in good demand with supply light. We quote: Oranges—Rodis, $2.75 to $3 per ½ box. Lemons—Maoris, $4.50 to $5; Palermos, $3.50 to $4; Messinas, $3 50 to $4; Sorentos, $4 to $4.50. Bananas 75c. to $1. Muskmelons, $1.50 per brl. Cucumbers, 20 to 25c. per basket. Tomatoes, 25c. per basket. Peaches, 50c. to $1 per basket. Pears, Bartlett's, 60c. per basket. Apples, $1.50 to $2 per brl. Grapes, 2 to 3c. per lb. Sweet potatoes, $3.50 per brl.; Jerseys, $4 per brl. Crab apples, 25 to 40c. per basket.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

BEANS—Quiet and steady at $1.30 to $1 35, in bushel lots; $1.35 to $1.45 is asked for choice hand picked first samples.

EVAPORATED APPLES—Are beginning to be offered freely, but the market is without a reliable basis just now. Some holders are asking 8 to 9c., but we hear of sales at 6½c. f.o.b. factories, and 7½c. delivered here.

DRIED APPLES—Prospects are for a large crop and correspondingly low prices. Offerings are being made about three weeks earlier than last year. Transactions are reported at 4¾ to 5c. f.o.b. outside.

EGGS—A good many eggs are being shipped to the English and United States markets, and prices here are higher at 13 to 14c.

POTATOES—There is a good demand for good stock, but the quality as a rule is not of the best. Sales are reported on track at 55 to 60c. in carload lots; jobbers are getting 65 to 70c. out of store.

MARKETS.—Continued

ONIONS—Market quiet at $1.10 per 80-lb. bag.

HOPS—Dull at 12½ to 15c., with quotations for old nominal.

HONEY—Demand fair. Extracted is quoted at 7½ to 8c., according to quantity; and sections at 12½ to 13c. per lb.

FISH AND OYSTERS.

White fish is scarce. So also is medium-sized trout, while large trout are too plentiful. There is no lake herring to be had. Demand is good for small fish, but large are not much wanted. The weather has been too warm for trade to be good in oysters. We quote as follows: Salmon trout, 6½ to 7c.; skinned and boned codfish, 6½c.; shore herring, $4 per brl.; boneless fish, 3½ to 4c.; boneless cod, 5 to 8c.; Labrador herring, $2 50; ditto, split, $3; blueback herring, 4c.; blue pickerel, 4 to 5c. lb.; yel. ditto, 6 to 7c. per lb; white fish, 7 to 7½c.; pike, 5c. lb.; haddock and cod, 5½c. per lb.; steak cod, 5 to 6c.; finnan haddies, 8c.; Digby herring, medium, 15c.; ditto, lengthwise, 14c.; large halibut, 10c.; ciscoes, $1.25. Oysters, $1.50 per gallon.

SEEDS.

With demand for fall sowing about over, there is a somewhat easier feeling in timothy seed, although prices are nominally unchanged. Alsike has been steady for the past week, but if tenor of cable advices received Tuesday is maintained prices must be reduced, especially for inferior grades. We quote, f.o.b. points of shipment: Alsike, $5.50 to $6.30 per bushel, and timothy, $2 to $2.75.

HIDES, SKINS, WOOL AND TALLOW

There was an advance of ½c. last week, and we now quote $4.25 for cured and $3.50 for No. 1 green hides. There is a ready sale for all hides offering.

SHEEP SKINS—All arriving taken, but receipts are light. We quote 45c.

WOOL—There has been some enquiry during the week. Some local mills have been buying, but they are not willing to give a substantial advance, and are buying from hand to mouth. Prices are about ½c. higher at 17½ to 18c. for medium fleece wools.

TALLOW—Is a little scarce, but in spite of this the market is not firm. We quote rendered at 5¼ to 5½c. for prime and 3½ to 4½c. for inferior; rough, 2c.

PETROLEUM.

Trade is still brisk at previous quotations. A reduction has been made in the price of empty barrels. We quote, in 5 to 10 brl. lots, imperial gallon, Toronto: Canadian, 12 to 12½c.; carbon safety, 15c.; Canadian water white, 16 to 17c.; American water white, 17½c.; photogene, 20c.

M. Masuret & Co. report a big demand for British Columbia salmon.

Smith & Keighley report large sales of new Valencia and Sultana raisins.

Aikenhead & Sloan will be able to start freezing operations after October 1.

Dawson & Co. have in warehouse shipments of Maori and Sorento lemons.

Ireland National Food Co. report good demand for their rising buckwheat flour.

Perkins, Ince & Co.'s second shipment of new season's Valencia raisins is to hand.

Perkins, Ince & Co. have to hand a shipment of Sphinx prunes in 55 pound cases.

The "Salada" Ceylon tea exhibit in London is attracting a great deal of attention.

A consignment of Brown & Polson's corn flour is to hand this week with Davidson & Hay.

Smith & Keighley are offering Porto Rico molasses at 32c. in barrels and 35c. in half barrels.

J. W. Lang & Co. have still a few boxes of first shipment of new season's Valencia raisins.

Davidson & Hay expect the arrival of their third shipment of new Valencia raisins in a week.

Sloan & Crowther have just arriving a shipment of new season's Pingsuey tea; also first Young Hysons.

F. A. Gonne, of Chatham, has a sign on his window stating that he is the agent for "Salada" in his town.

W. Boulter & Sons' cannery in Toronto is in full operation. Besides men and boys, some 75 girls are employed.

A fresh shipment of prunes has just been received by Eby, Blain & Co.; also of Noble's "Scripture" brand lobster.

Invoices of the first shipment of new French prunes are to hand, and the goods will be on this market within two weeks.

M. Masuret & Co. have new Valencias (Arguimbau and Morand), in stock. The sample this season is fine and demand brisk.

Charles Boomer, of Warren Bros. & Boomer, who has been in Great Britain some weeks, is expected home in a couple of days.

P. C. Larkin & Co. report that during Toronto Exhibition they received twenty-seven applications for agencies for "Salada" in different towns throughout Ontario.

M. Masuret & Co. report a good demand for their "Eagle Brand" Ceylon tea in half-chests, caddies, and six-pound canisters.

The T. A Snider Preserving Co., Cincinnati, O., have entirely gone out of the manufacturing of fancy soups, and will now confine itself to the manufacture of tomato catsup and soup.

W. Paterson & Son have their new "pickles" now ready. See ad. page 6.

M. E. Gillard, W. H. Gillard & Co.'s special tea man, reports his sales of new season's Japans in advance of any other season.

Aikenhead & Sloan have got in a carload of smoked herrings in half barrels. The firm is also handling large quantities of haddies.

Rutherford & Harrison state that their sales of creamery pound prints on local account aggregated 6,000 pounds during the Exhibition.

Samples of several invoices of teas are to hand with Lucas, Steele & Bristol. This firm claim this season to have done a larger tea trade than for years.

N. Irvine, who takes the Wiarton and Southampton lines for Lucas, Steele & Bristol, has returned from his holidays, looking none the worse of the rest.

G. F. Marter & Son (successors to Barton, Son & Co.), Phœnix Coffee and Spice Mills, have removed to larger premises at No. 1 Jarvis street, corner of Esplanade.

J. A. Carthew, the Skeena River canner, has this year put up 1,000 barrels of salmon. This is the largest quantity ever put up in one season.—News, Vancouver.

Eby, Blain & Co. report large sales of Bensdorp's Royal Dutch Cocoa which they are selling at the prices which obtained before the new tariff went into force.

Both New Orleans and West India molasses are being quoted low by Lucas, Steele & Bristol. This firm also reports that it is offering exceptional value in fine syrups.

W. J. Massey, manager J. W. Lang & Co., has just returned from a trout fishing expedition in the far north, where he landed many speckled beauties, some of them being two feet long.

Lucas, Steele & Bristol report arrival of new Valencias this week Trenor brand. Early in October they will have Getty and Llano goods, and later on an assortment of Arguimbau's.

From the enormous quantity turned out every day, the Toronto Biscuit & Confectionery Co.'s soda biscuits must be appreciated. They claim that trade with them was never so brisk before.

The Western Fisheries Company and Messrs. Boutilier & Co. despatched a carload of salmon, 15,000 lbs. weight, to New York yesterday. This carload is the last of the season of spring salmon. —News, Vancouver, September 9.

The map of Hamilton, which W. H. Gillard & Co., Hamilton, are giving to their customers, being too large to go through the mails, one will be sent with their goods if customers will mention it when placing their orders.

The Diamond Spice and Baking Powder Mills, operated by W. H. Gillard & Co., of Hamilton, are now running with an extra staff, on account of large orders received from the Lower Provinces.

Grand Mogul exhibits have been held during the past week at the following places: A. B. McGregor, Appin; Joseph Campbell, Melbourne; Mann & Co., Petrolea; W. A. Perkins, Petrolea; Anderson & Coghill, Wyoming.

Advices received from Liverpool, Monday, by J. L. Watt & Scott regarding grapes, state that suitable shipping quality is now on the market there, but is early for our Canadian trade as the domestic article is still plentiful.

On account of the press of business the manufacturers of MacLaren's cheese will be unable to fill fresh orders for another ten days, by which time the firm hopes to be able to fill orders it now has on hand.

The big 1,800-pound lion, made of Eclipse brand soap, that frowned down upon exhibitors at the Industrial Exhibition, has been transferred to Michie & Co.'s window, King street west, Toronto, where it attracts large crowds daily.

A Toronto broker, who on Wednesday cabled several offers for fine Moning teas, could not get any, these teas being almost impossible to get on account of their scarcity. A cable to the same broker announced another advance in Indian teas.

In the monster trades' procession at Brantford on Labor Day, W. Paterson & Son had three immense floats. On one of them they made candy and flung it out to the crowd. It is needless to say that the thousand or more children who followed, voted it by far the best display in the procession.

The Statist, London, published an authoritative estimate of the coffee crop of 1894, on Saturday last, 15th inst., showing it to be approximately 12,500,000 bags. This will be the largest crop in the annals of the trade. The maximum consumption of coffee, according to the Statist, is 10,500,000 bags annually, and the Statist thinks that if the prices are maintained by speculators during 1894 a great crash in the spring of 1895 may be expected.

Grand Mogul Tea exhibit at Western Fair, London, was a great success. It was served in small Wedgewood china cups. Many persons, report T. B. Escott & Co., stated that they never tasted such good tea before. Orders were taken for the various retailers throughout the country from the consumers who tasted the tea. The sales were large.

of the grocery business. R. McCormick, of Brockville, made a trial and succeeded and now has ordered an improved sausage machine from C. Wilson & Son, Toronto, capable of making three hundred pounds per hour. Others should try it. Every person eats meat as well as groceries.

Regarding salmon, the B. C. Commercial Journal of Sept. 11, says: "Considerable sales have recently been made at prices which are a marked advance on what have been ruling for some time back. The bark Northernhay will probably commence loading this week on account of R. P. Rithet & Co., Ltd. It is expected that the tonnage already engaged will completely clean up the market; only a few odd lots will be left for local demand. The canners are much pleased that the market is now strong and in their favor."

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, September 20, 1894.

GROCERIES.

THE grocery trade has been much the same this week as last, none of the previously reported improvement having been lost, and, if anything, a little has been added to the volume of trade. Prices have ruled steady. Sugar still holds firm on account of advices from primary markets, and business has been more active on signs shown of an advance in the near future. In syrups a fairly active business is being done, and molasses has brightened up a little. The tea market holds firm, with prices gradually hardening, and there has been a sharp advance in coffees. Rice continues to rule fairly active, and the prospects are that the higher values at which raisins have opened will continue for some little time. Canned goods have ruled moderately active, with the exception of canned salmon, which is rather quiet.

SUGAR.

There is an inclination towards an advance in sugar, although there is no important change as yet to note. Advices from primary markets have continued firm, and the result here is that prices are very well maintained. One refinery holds nearly all the stock of bright yellows on hand, and the result has been that buyers, in the face of a good demand, have had to pay in cases 1-16

FLOUR AND FEED

THE demand for flour during the past week has not been large, though a fairly good local trade is reported. The Exhibition stimulated the demand a little, but very little appreciable change was felt, except by dealers supplying the hotel trade, etc. Retailers are still experiencing difficulty in getting bran and shorts in the city. Cereals show little change, and trade is quiet. Many retailers ran out of baled hay during the past week, and experienced some difficulty in getting more. The scarcity in baled hay was attributed to the number of cars in use for the Exhibition, and the inability of shippers to obtain them. There was also less loose hay offering on the market; fall ploughing is commencing, and farmers are not fetching so much into the city.

There is at present no great probability of a rise in flour, but a further drop is unlikely. Very few flour merchants are carrying any stock; bakers are not buying much ahead, and the mills are also carrying light stock. The grain merchants also have not been buying heavily, and the natural conclusion is that should anything cause prices to advance, no matter how little, there would be a revival in trade. If grain merchants, millers and retailers would hasten to replenish their depleted stock before a further advance, this would naturally cause prices to go up rapidly. Dealers will do well to watch the market closely.

THE MARKETS

TORONTO.

FLOUR—Local trade has been somewhat duller this week. No changes in prices are reported. We quote as follows: Manitoba wheat patents, $3.50 to $3.60; strong bakers', $3.35 to $3.45; Ontario, $3 to $3 15; straight roller, $2.80 to $3.

SHORTS—City mills still have very little to offer. There is a good outside demand and local trade is good. It is selling from $16 to $17 per ton at the mills.

BRAN — The demand continues good. Bran is reported scarce and is selling at $14 per ton.

SCREENINGS—There is a good demand, but few city mills are offering. Good screenings are fetching from $12 to $12.50 per ton.

OATS—Business is quiet, yet the market is reported firm. A fair amount changed hands during the week at from 31½ to 32½c. per bushel.

BARLEY—There is not a great amount moving. Feed is quoted at 41 to 42c. per bushel.

WHEAT—There is a large quantity of the fall wheat coming in. The prices that it is fetching are 54c. for white, and 53c. for red.

HAY—While there has been a fair amount of loose hay on the market, baled is reported rather scarce this week. Prices are reported firm at $8 to $10 per ton.

STRAW—Trade is quiet. Baled straw is selling in car lots at from $7.50 to $8 per ton.

BREAKFAST FOODS—Oatmeal is a little lower with trade fair. We quote: Standard and rolled oats, $4 to $4.10 per bag; granulated, $4 05 to $4 15; granulated wheat, $4 per barrel; cornmeal, higher at $3.75 per barrel.

MONTREAL.

The demand for flour on local account continues good, consequently the market rules active, with a large volume of business doing at steady prices. We quote as follows: Winter wheat, $3.25 to $3.50; spring wheat, patents, $3.25 to $3.50; Manitoba patents, best brands, $3.50 to $3.60; straight roller, $2.85 to $3; extra, $2.55 to $2.60; superfine, $2.40 to $2.50; Manitoba strong bakers', $3.30 to $3.40; Manitoba strong bakers', best brands, $3.40 to $3.45.

There was no change in the situation of the feed market. The demand was active and values were firmly held. Bran, $16; shorts, $18; mouillie, $22 to $24.

The demand for oatmeal was limited, and the market ruled quiet and about steady. Standard, brls., $4; granulated, brls., $4.05 to $4.10; rolled oats, brls, $4.05 to $4.10; pot barley, per brl., $3.90; split peas, per brl., $3.40.

ST. JOHN, N.B.

Demand in the flour market continues rather better, but values do not show strength, prices being very low. Oatmeal is easier with good demand. Cornmeal continues firm at high prices. Oats are easy. Beans are very firm, and just at present rather hard to get. Hay continues dull and low. We quote: Manitoba flour, $4.30 to $4.35; best Ontario, $3.50 to $3.60; medium, $3.35 to $3.50; oatmeal, $4.20 to $4.30; cornmeal, $3.10 to $3.20; middlings on track, $22 to $23; bran, $18 to $19; cotton seed meal, $30 per ton. Demand for low grade flour is very large and cannot be met, as millers do not have enough to fill orders. Oats, on track, 38 to 42c.; beans, $1.55 to $1.60; h.p., prime, $1.45 to $1.55; hay, $9.50 to $10.

FOR SALE.

to ⅛c advance in order to fill their wants. Granulated is unchanged at 4¼c., and yellows are quoted at 3¼ to 3⅜c. as to quality at the factory. Altogether a brisk business is doing in sugar.

SYRUPS.

There is a good demand for small lots of syrups, and a fairly active business is reported. Small lots of bright have sold at 2 to 2⅛c., and 1 to 1¼c. for dark. There has been a fair movement in American syrups at 1¾c. per lb.

MOLASSES.

Business remains quiet, and will probably do so until cooler weather sets in. There has been an improved demand from the Ottawa district, probably for lumbering purposes. We quote: Round lots of Barbadoes, ex store, at 27½c.; car lots at 29c., and single puncheons at 30c. There have been a few sales of small lots of Porto Rico at 24 to 25c.

TEA.

There has been a brisk demand for all lines of tea on spot, and a larger volume of business has been doing at firmer prices. Importers in some cases state that buyers have been placing their orders at an advance in prices in order to secure what they want. An advance would not be surprising in view of the small stocks. Importers are finding some difficulty in getting their orders filled. There have been some inquiries from American points, but no sales have been effected on account of the shortness of stocks here. Sales have been made of new grade Japans at 11 to 13c., showing an advance of 2c. per lb. over what the goods could have been freely obtained for a short time ago. Country dealers continue to buy freely. Medium to good medium Japans sell at 14 to 17c.; fine, 18½ to 23c., and choicest at 24 to 31c.

COFFEES.

An advance in choice Mocha grades of 1c. per lb., on account of active demand and small stocks, has been the feature of the coffee market. Long berry grades cannot be obtained. Prices have an upward tendency in other grades. We quote: Maracaibo, 18¾ to 21c.; Rio, 19 to 21c.; Java, 24 to 30c., and Mocha, 23½ to 29c.

SPICES.

The spice market is fairly active and steady with a good demand for small lots. Prices remain unchanged. We quote mill prices as follows: Penang black pepper, 6 to 7½c.; white pepper, 10 to 12½c.; cloves, 7½ to 9c.; cassia, 9 to 10c.; nutmegs, 60 to 90c.; Jamaica ginger, 15 to 22c.

DRIED FRUITS.

Fall supplies are attracting the attention of the dried fruit trade. There have been further arrivals of new stock and sales have been made of some five or six thousand boxes arriving or to arrive this week at 5c. for fine off-stalk, and 4½c. off-stalk. Currants are very quiet with no change in prices.

RICE.

The market for rice rules fairly active and firm under a good demand. We quote: Standard, $3.45 to $3.70; Japan, $3.95 to $4.25, and Patna, $4.25 to $4.75.

NUTS.

The jobbing business in nuts noted last week still continues with no changes in prices to note. We quote as follows: Almonds at 11½ to 12c.; shelled do., 23 to 29c.; shelled walnuts, 18 to 21c.; Grenoble walnuts, 11½ to 12c.; filberts, 7½ to 8c.; pecans, 7½ to 8c.; Brazils, 9 to 10c., and peanuts, 7 to 9c.

CANNED GOODS.

A fair amount of business is reported and the market rules moderately active with no changes in prices to note except in canned tomatoes. The pack of tomatoes is turning out much smaller than usual, and only a limited demand has kept this line from a rapid advance in prices. As it is sales have been made recently of round lots at 80c. per dozen. Canned salmon is quiet, but firm at the recent advice in prices. We quote: Lobsters, $6 to $6.50 per case; sardines, $8.50 to $9.50; salmon, $1.15 to $1.30 per doz; tomatoes, 95c. per doz.; peaches, $2 to $2.10 per doz.; corn, 95c. to $1 per doz., and marrowfat peas, 85 to 90c. per doz. Australian canned meats: Boiled mutton, $1 86 to $1.90 per doz. 1-lb. tins, and $3.10 to $3.15 per doz., 2-lb. tins; roast mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz., 2-lb. tins; corned mutton, $2.05 to $2.10 per doz., 1-lb. tins, and $3.35 to $3.40 per doz, 2-lb. tins.

GREEN FRUIT.

The green fruit market is active, with a good demand and a large volume of business doing. Apples show a firmer feeling and good fall stock has realized higher prices, sales having recently been made at $2.25 to $2.75 per brl. Jamaica oranges in in barrels are lower at $5, but for boxes prices are steady at $3.50. The recent cool weather has not materially affected the demand for lemons, and prices are firmer at $2.50 to $3 per box, as supplies are not large. Bananas are plentiful and sell at 45 to 75c. per bunch. California and domestic small fruits have ruled weak on account of heavy arrivals, and prices are much lower than they were a week ago. California pears can be bought for $1.75 to $2 per basket; domestic peaches at 40 to 75c. per basket; grapes, 2 to 3c. per lb.; Delewares at 4c. per lb., and Niagaras at 3½c. per lb.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

There has been another slight advance in eggs, in which business is good with a large volume doing at the advance. Sales have been made freely at 10½ to 11½c. in round lots, and 12c. for single cases of choice stock, while culls are worth from 8½ to 9½c. per dozen. Honey remains quiet and prices are unchanged at 8 to 9c. for choice strained stock. The receipts of onions are fair for which the demand is good at $2 per brl. for red and yellow. There is no change in hops and in potatoes receipts continue heavy with prices remaining at 45 to 55c. per bag of 90 pounds.

PROVISIONS.

A fair amount of business is being transacted in provisions, there being a good demand for small lots at firm prices. We quote: Canadian short cut, heavy, $18.50 to $20; do., light, $17.50 to $18.50; hams, city cured, per lb., 10 to 13c.; lard, Canadian, in pails, 9½ to 10c.; bacon, per lb., 10 to 12c.; lard, common refined, per lb., 7¼ to 7½c.

BUTTER.

Butter does not show any material alteration from last week. The tone on the whole continues steady and what business there is doing is on a steady basis. As the fall advances, however, holders in the country are naturally apt to become more anxious about the clearance of the stocks of creamery and dairy. We quote as follows: Finest late made creamery, 19 to 19¼c.; finest July creamery, 18 to 18¼c. Finest Townships, 16 to 16½c.; fine Western, 15¼ to 15½c.

CHEESE.

The cheese market continues steady in tone. Aside from the transactions at the wharf there has not been a great deal of business on spot to note. There have been sales of French goods made at 10½c. Buyers are urgent and accept everything offered at quoted prices. We quote: Finest Western colored, 10¾c. to 10⅞c.; finest Western white, 10¾c.; finest Townships, 10⅝c. to 10¾c.; finest Eastern colored, 10½c. to 10⅝c.; finest Eastern white, 10½c. to 10⅝c.

ASHES.

A slight advance in ashes may be noted. Business is quiet and values firm. We quote: First pots at $4.20; seconds, $3.80 to $3.85, and pearls, $7.50 per 100 lbs.

MONTREAL TRADE NOTES.

Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, report an exceptionally good enquiry for Southwell's fine marmalades, fruit jams and jellies throughout Canada. The quality alone has made them popular.

There is quite a revival in the general grocery trade in Montreal since the 1st of September. Frank Magor & Co. have had to cable for extra stock of many of their lines.

In response to advertisements offering a present of a half pound tin of Robinson's patent barley or patent groats, the Canadian agents, Frank Magor & Co., Montreal, are daily receiving applications from Vancouver to Halifax for these old established foods. They have been in favor for over 70 years, and are used in the royal nurseries in England and on the continent.

ST. JOHN, N.B., MARKETS.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 20, 1894.

BUSINESS during the past week has been fair. There is, in fact, a noticeable improvement. The trade have been much pleased to again meet with J. B. McLean, managing editor of THE GROCER. In markets there is a tendency to higher prices, except flour and oatmeal. The war in the East is making itself felt in the tea market, values being higher, particularly along lines of desirable teas. The season continues very dry, and demand for feeding flour and feed exceeds the supply. Provisions have taken a sharp advance. It is thought by some that price of corn will affect flour. Cheese and butter are active, and though price shows advancement, values, particularly cheese, continue below Upper Canadian prices.

SPICE—Continues quiet as regards demand. Prices are firm, nutmegs being up about 5c. Ginger is also inclined to be active. Cream of tartar, brls., 17½ to 18c.; boxes, 20 to 24c.; nutmegs, 65 to 95c.; cassia, 18 to 20c.; cloves, whole, 15 to 20c.; ground, 20 to 25c.; ginger, 18 to 22c.; pepper, 12 to 16c.; allspice, 14 to 16c.; bicarb soda, $2.30 to $2.38; sal soda, 1 to 1½c.

SALT—As advised in report of last week a cargo of some 4,800 bags coarse salt has arrived during the week, and another with about the same quantity is daily expected. The first coming on a bare market brought a good figure, selling at 45c. from ship's side. The prospect is for easy prices. By a new tariff regulation in the States, charging a duty on salt if imported other than direct from England, a large market is closed to importers here, and contracts already made are either being filled at a loss or not at all. St. John merchants will, no doubt, hold part at least of the trade, as they already get large quantities via Boston, and they will fill their orders for Maine from there. We quote prices out of store: Coarse, factory filled, $1 to $1.10; Canadian, 5-lb. bags, in brls., $3.25; 10-lb. bags, in brls., $3.10; American, 20-lb., wood boxes, 20c.; 10 lb., wood boxes, 12c.

OIL—Is quoted rather lower than last week, particularly in Canadian. The trade in burning oil is reported improving, as is the rule at this time of year. Trade in lubricating is also fair, the fall months showing as a rule good business. We quote prices: American, best, 18c.; best Canadian, 16½c.; prime, 12¾c.; linseed oil, raw, 56 to 59c.; boiled, 59 to 62c. Turpentine, 45 to 47c. Cod oil, 28 to 30c.; seal oil, steam refined, 40 to 45c.; pale, 38 to 43c.; olive oil, commercial, 90c. to $1; castor oil, commercial, 6½ to 7c.; extra lard oil, 65 to 70c.; No. 1 lard oil, 60 to 65c.

CANNED GOODS — Values show little change. Local factories are offering new goods, but the association still withhold new quotations, preferring to sell their old goods first. Large quantitities of new finnan haddies are coming forward, although some factories are not yet offering, they saying that early canned fish are not as good as those canned later in the fall. New salmon are now to hand. Your correspondent has heard of two carloads sold here, which, owing to short pack, shippers would not forward. We quote corn, peas and tomatoes, 95c.; gallon apples, $2.40 to $2.50; oysters, 1's, $1.40 to $1.50; 2's, $2 20 to $2 25; corned beef, 1's, $1.75; 2's, $2.75; salmon, new, $4.80 per case; haddies, $5.55; peaches, American, 2's, $1.65; 3's, $2.65; Canadian, 2's, $1.90; 3's, $2.90. It will be observed that the canned beef is about fifteen cents higher than last week.

DRIED FRUIT—Valencia raisins show firmness. Advices from Denia report a still further advance. Loose muscatels continue in demand, but it is expected when new Valencias come in they will affect the trade. Currants are rather firmer. We quote: Sultana raisins, 7 to 7½c.; Valencias, 5 to 5½c.; London layers, $2.10 to $2.20; loose muscatels, 6½ to 6¾c.; prunes, 7 to 7½c.; currants, 3½ to 4c.; cases, 4 to 5c.; dried apples, 6¾ to 7c.; dates, 5 to 6c.; figs, 10 to 12c.; Egyptian onions, 1¾ to 2c.

GREEN FRUIT—Business is very active. Apples, fall fruit, are very plenty, and bring anywhere from $1 to $1.50. Gravensteins and other apples which are fair keepers bring better prices. Plums are very plenty and continue low. Grapes are also very plenty and find ready sale. Gravensteins sold out of schooners for $2 75, and the report is they will be high. Apples, soft fruit, $1 to $1.50; hard and good keepers, $1 50 to $1.75; plums, 35 to 50c. per peck; peaches, $1 to $2.25 per basket; grapes, 30 to 50c. per basket; lemons, $4.50 to $5.50; oranges, $5.50 to $6; bananas, $1.50 to $2.25; tomatoes, $1.50 per crate; watermelons, 40 to 45c.; pears, $5 to $6 per barrel.

DAIRY PRODUCE—Except eggs, which are slow and rather falling off in value, goods in this line are firm and ready of sale. Cheese continues to strengthen; some factories have already shut down owing to the dry weather. Butter continues to advance, and good is hard to get except at outside figures. Prices, it is expected, will be higher. Eggs are selling at 11 to 12c.; dairy butter, 18 to 19c.; creamery, 22 to 24c.; cheese, 10½ to 11c.

MOLASSES—The active season should be here, there always being a large demand in the fall for use in the woods. Values do not show any change. We quote: Barbadoes, 27 to 28c.; Porto Rico, fancy, 42 to 43c.; choice, 34 to 35c.; Antigua, 27 to 28c.; St. Croix, 27 to 28c. Syrup, 30 to 35c.

FISH—Dry fish are in rather limited supply. Pickled fish are coming in more freely. Fresh herring and haddock are being received by the grocers in good quantities. Were it not for dogfish, which are unusually plentiful, the fishermen would have little to complain of. It is believed that to have fish enter Cuba or Porto Rico free, they must be shipped from a Canadian port. This caused St. John to ship via Halifax rather than via New York, which is the most usual. Large cod, $3.60 to $3.75; medium, $3.40 to $3.50; small, $2 75 to $3; haddock, $1.75; pollock, $1.70 to $1.75; bay herring, $1.40 to $1.50; wolves, $1.85 to $2; medium smoked herring, 10 to 11c.; lengthwise, 9 to 10c. New smoked herring are expected this week.

SUGAR—An advance of ⅛c. is reported in all grades, demand being good. Granulated, 4½ to 4⅝c.; bright yellows, 3¾ to 3⅞c.; yellows, 3⅜ to 3⅝c.; dark, 3¼ to 3⅜c.

PROVISIONS—Values continue to advance changes during the week being about 50c. a barrel. Cottolene is up about ¼c. We quote as follows: Clear pork, $20 to $21.50; P.E.I. mess, $17 to $17 50; prime, $14; plate beef, $13.75 to $14 25; extra plate, $14 to $14.50; pure lard, 9¾ to 10¼c.; compound, 8 to 9c.; cottolene, 9¾ to 10¼c.

WOODSTOCK, N.B., MARKETS.

Woodstock, N.B., Sept. 20, 1894.

New Brunswick apples were never so plentiful, and were it not that quality is not such as will keep, it would be a good thing. Under the circumstances, however, it is hard to find a market, as it is necessary they go into immediate consumption. Plums show better value, with good demand. Potatoes are coming in more freely and they are rather lower. Onions, which show but fair crop, sell freely. Cucumbers are being received in much smaller quantities. Butter and cheese are both firmer, and show signs of advancing. We quote: Apples, 75c. to $1.00 per brl.; plums, 60 to 75c. per peck; potatoes, 80c. to $1.00 per brl.; turnips, 50 to 60c. per brl.; beets, $1.00; carrots, 75c.; onions, $1.40 to $1.50 per bushel; cabbage, 4 to 5c. per head; squash, 1½ to 2c. per lb.; pumpkins, 10c. each; tomatoes, 60c.; eggs, 10 to 12c. per doz.; butter, 15 to 17c.; cheese, 9½ to 9¾c.; beans, $1.80 to $2; buckwheat meal, $1.25 per cwt.

A DISHONEST GROCERY CLERK.

A young lad named Wm. Scott, about sixteen years of age, working for D Scroggie, grocer, Paisley street, was sent to the Bank of Commerce on Saturday, shortly before one o'clock, to deposit $90. The lad did not turn up at three o'clock, and Mr. Scroggie telephoned to the bank. They replied that the money had not been deposited. A description of the youth was given to Chief of Police Randall, who put the wires in operation, and secured the boy's arrest in Stratford. When searched by the chief of police there, $87 was found in his possession. Chief Randall left Saturday evening for Stratford and returned this morning, bringing the prisoner with him. He was brought before Magistrate Saunders this morning and was convicted, but was let off on suspended sentence, his father going security for his good behavior during the next twelve months.—Herald, Guelph.

A FILING DEVICE.

Dear Grocer,—For filing receipts, invoices, letters, etc., I use a piece of tin 12 x 2⅞ inches with a hole in one end to hang up by. I roll receipts, etc., tightly on this slip leaving them all one width, writing on the outside, receipts, letters, or whatever it is, with date, whom from, and what for, as under:

20th April, 1894; invoice, $184.19; Morden, Blare & Co.; groceries.

30th January, 1894; receipts, $89.15; Rogers, Sons & Co.; tea.

10th September, 1894; letter from Smith & O'Brien, giving quotations for cheese, etc.

These are all filed in separate rubber bands, and you have only to turn them over like the leaves of a book till you come to the one you want. I learned this system in an office in Scotland, and I have seen nothing to equal it for compactness and simplicity. I have never been troubled in getting out what I wanted. Of course, the packets musn't be made too big. When packing them away I always fasten them lightly with a cord. One serious objection I have to an indexed file is, when turning them over several times, the holes are apt to get torn.

Can you give us any information regarding the new light displayed at 158 King street west?

Yours truly,

Paisley, Sept. 15, 1894. D. Shanks.

IS IT A PRACTICE WITH YOU?

Grocers often extend credit far in excess of the limits of business prudence to customers because they own the house in which they live. In these days of dashing financiering, however, this is not always a security. It very often happens that the reputed owner has really no equity at all, When the aid of the law is invoked, it is found that the house is built upon a ground rent, the building association owns the walls, and the owner really owns only from the top of the roof upwards.—Cash Grocer.

THE WAY IS CIRCUITOUS.

Ex-Mayor MacDonald, who is a wholesale grocer in Winnipeg, writes as follows to the newspapers of that city: "I have been offered by a commission house doing business in St. Paul, Minn., canned goods, packed in Ontario, by the Canadian Packing Association, for twenty per cent. less than I can buy from the same combine direct. This, however, is not the only advantage the American has over us in our own market. The through rate of freight from points of shipment in Ontario to Winnipeg, as quoted by this American firm, is 54c. per 100 lbs., while we pay the railway combine here 73c. on a hundred pounds on the same class of goods."

D. J. McLeod, of Tilsonburg, has started on the road for Edward Adams & Co., of London.

A meeting of the creditors of the British-American Starch Co., Brantford, was held on Thursday, Sept. 13th. Mr. Elmsley, of the B.B.N.A., J. R. Vanfleet and James Watt were appointed inspectors. It is understood that the principal creditors are the Bank of British North America, $21,000 unsecured, and George Foster, $17,000, unsecured.

L. B. Banks & Co., of Buffalo, N.Y., have engaged to erect a monster ice house at Dunnville, probably the largest in America, and capable of holding 40,000 tons of ice. The G.T.R, are running a spur line to the river.

S. Archibald, a large Montreal tobacco dealer, has arranged to buy all the crop of tobacco raised this season by Hiram Walker & Sons, and Lewis Wigle, of Leamington. The amount to be paid will be upwards of $25,000.

The estate of Bunyan & Flannery, general storekeepers, of North Bay and Nipissing, was sold Tuesday afternoon at Suckling & Co.'s auction rooms, Toronto. The North Bay stock, amounting to $6,500, was sold at 64c. on the dollar, and the Nipissing stock, amounting to $3,000, was sold at 30c. on the dollar. The book debts, $7,500, were sold at 26c. John Strong, of Toronto, purchased the three lots.

PROFITABLE CLEANLINESS.

BY NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR.

THE regular advertisement in the regular newspaper is the bottom of all advertising.

The well-printed circular and the comprehensive catalogue have their place in the economy of advertising.

The poster, the painted rock, the chromo, are valuable to the advertiser.

The advertising that does not harmonize with the business is worth nothing.

The business that does not harmonize with the advertising wastes all the money it spends in advertising.

In good harmony is good profit and good business.

A big advertisement, written by the best advertisement writer, set by the most skilful compositor, and appearing in the leading medium or mediums of business or place, will bring to the store many would-be customers, but the advertisement will not sell the goods; that is the business of the store, the clerks, and the quality of the goods.

Ninety per cent. of the failures in advertising have been because the advertiser expected his advertisements to do the selling; he depended upon advertising, unsupplemented by proficent salemen, attractively arranged goods, and conveniently located place of business.

The appearance of a store has as much to do with successful business as has the advertising, the goods, or the clerks.

A diamond is a diamond in any market, but place it in a box of sawdust, in a dark corner of a store, and the would-be purchaser, unless he be an expert in diamonds, won't buy it for less than 75 per cent. discount.

A wagon is worth its price anywhere, and is just as good a wagon with cobwebs between the spokes and dust on the cushions, but you can't sell it for its regular price.

A fly-specked electrical battery will ring just as many bells, but it won't sell well. Folks don't like dirty glass.

A bedstead separated into its several parts is just as much of a bedstead, and any woman can put it together, but it doesn't look well in the warerooms. The shrewd furniture man has his furniture look the same in his store as it would in a house.

Dress goods are dress goods, and will wear just as well in the dark as in the light, but the woman buys them to wear in the light, and they must be shown her in as attractive a way as they will look when properly made up and put on her.

Rusty tools won't sell for half their value.

A little elbow grease will make a stove worth 25 per cent. more.

A lot of tobacco pipes mixed up together, looking like a job lot, will sell for only half the money the same pipes will if set apart each kind by itself, and given show-room prominence.

A dirty collar is worth less than no collar at all, and yet I have had men's outfitters hand me soiled collars from a box. It's a little thing, but many a man may take his trade away from a house which does not deal in cleanliness.

A pair of shoes that don't shine may be of just as good leather, and can be shined to look as well as they ever did, but it is the business of the shoe retailer, if the shine is worn off, to shine them before he shows them.

A house is just as comfortable, and worth just as much, with long grass on the lawn, and two or three dollars will cut the grass, but the prospective buyer may take the next house.

The appearance of anything to be sold has as much to do with the sale as the actual intrinsic value of the article itself.

A dent in a tomato can, no matter how new the can may be, makes it look like an old can.

Oatmeal is just as wholesome and just as clean inside of a well-sealed package if the flies have been running over the package until the printed matter on it can hardly be read, but the public, which will not think much anyway, imagines that the oatmeal is dirty.

It is just as essential, so far as selling is concerned, to have the package clean as to have the goods inside clean.

There is many a drug store with a dirty fountain, and yet the syrups are as pure as can be, and the glasses always bright, but the dirty fountain makes people think that the syrups are dirty, that the glasses are dirty, that everything is dirty, and if the public think so the man must clean up his fountain if he wants to sell soda.

You can wash the fly-specks off of a hair brush, and you had better wash them off before you try to sell it.

Light and cleanliness are the two great essentials to selling.

A dark store is never as profitable as a light one.

Daylight is free to everybody, and many a store can be made light by knocking a few more holes in the wall.

If the retailer is so unfortunate that he cannot light his store naturally, let him light it artificially.

No one yet has failed in business because he spent too much money in lighting his store. Light doesn't cost a great deal.

Keep the store light all the time, in dull times and in good.

Don't economize in gas by turning up the lights in any particular corner only when somebody happens to come into that corner.

People are like flies, they don't generally go into dark places.

Folks are attracted by light.

Darkness doesn't cover up a multitude of business sins.

Folks think they see unseen dirt in a half-lighted store.

Successful stores are always light, whether they sell perishable articles, dry goods, or anything else.

I have yet to find a first-class, progressive and profitable business run without plenty of natural or artificial illumination.

The man who keeps a dark store himself will not allow his wife to buy anything from a similar store.

In these modern times it would seem absurd to discuss the common-sense doctrine of profitable light and cleanliness, and yet while everybody knows that cleanliness should be a part of business, and that light should be everywhere, one-half of the storekeepers attempt to do business in dark stores, and fully one-half of this half do not not give the attention to business cleanliness which they insist that their wives shall give in the management of the household.

There's many a market man and grocer who would discharge his wife, if he could, if she presented him with a kitchen or dining-table half as dirty as the store which sells the goods to supply the household.

Do not fool yourself by thinking that disorder is a mark of genius.

Do not try to convince the public that your business is so solid that you can do as you please.

There never was a man free to do as he pleased. You have got to do as others want you to, or do no business.

A dirty, ragged clerk can sell goods, but a well-dressed clerk, who isn't a dude, can sell more.

A poor but well-brushed suit of clothes, with a clean collar and a pair of polished shoes, on a clerk have almost as much to do with the selling quality of that clerk as has the ability of the clerk.

Do not make the mistake that some storekeepers do, of having the front of the store light, bright, clean, and attractive, and the back of the store like the inside of a cave.

Cleanliness costs little.

Shoe blacking and clean collars are inexpensive.

Dusters and brooms don't wear out very rapidly.

Soap is cheap, and water costs nothing.

Sunlight is free, and artificial light doesn't cost much.

But even if they cost a great deal, it is better to put out more money and do more business than to cut expenses and do less business.

Some folks believe that in economy is the success of business, that what you save is as important as what you earn—and they are right. But the successful business man, in not forgetting to save, figures that what he makes has as much to do with his success as what he saves.

It is better to put out $1,000 and take in $2,000 than put out $500 and take in $1,000.

Everybody knows that profit is the difference between expenditure and receipt, and yet fully one-half of the business men make more effort to cut down expenses than to increase business.

THE FIRMNESS IN TEAS.

IT may be interesting to note in connection with the market across the lines that the New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin does not attribute the strength of the tea market to pure speculation. It says:

"As a stimulating factor, the breaking out of war between China and Japan has proved potential, but rather as a prospective influence to diminish shipments from those countries than because of any fear of immediate curtailment in the movement; a position fully endorsed by the Government record of imports into the United States during the first seven months of the year, showing a gain of about 11,000,000 pounds. Indeed, considering the incentive presented by the state of warfare existing between the two countries from which practically our entire supply of tea is drawn, speculation has been remarkable only for its exceedingly limited character, and the recuperation of tone in the tea market may fairly be credited to favorable natural conditions sufficiently strong to support the gains made."

"The advance in price has been of an irregular character. On some grades of stock previously crowded to an abnormally low level in the auction room, the reaction can be traced at from 35 to 50 per cent., which is the maximum, and the major portion of the improvement runs at 30 per cent. and under to say 20 per cent., and all this on stock costing from 10 to 20c. per lb. On teas valued at 20c. and upwards the improvement will not amount to more than 10 per cent. at the best, and it is estimated by conservative operators that 25 per cent. will fairly represent the net average advance thus far fully established.

"The general run of quality thus far has been equal to or a trifle better than last season both in leaf and cup, and much cleaner. Importers of Pingsueys, however, have encountered a difficulty which they claim seriously threatens the bringing forward of any considerable quantity of that description of tea. The cause of complaint is in the very high standard of quality required by the Government officials in order to pass inspection, much above last year it is said, which is felt to be an unjustifiable discrimination against a large quantity of the supply."

U. S. DUTY ON SALT.

In reply to an inquiry by Francis D. Moulton & Co., of New York, as to whether salt used for curing fish is dutiable under the law of 1894, Secretary Carlisle has made a ruling that it was not. Paragraph 322 of the Act of 1890 provides that salt used in curing fish or by exporters of meat, either packed or smoked, which has been cured in the United States with imported salt, is free of duty under regulations established by the treasury. The secretary holds that there is nothing in the Act of 1894 inconsistent with this paragraph, and that it is therefore unrepealed. He declares therefore that "dutiable salt in bond may continue to be withdrawn for curing fish free of duty." Presumably, adds an exchange, the same would be true of salt used for curing meats; but the department does not touch this question, it not being raised by the letter of inquiry.

TEA AND HARDWARE.

The tea trade is full of mysteries to the outsider. A dealer in Liverpool, who has about 60 branches, has laid in a stock of ironmongery, crockery, china, etc., to give away as bonus with so many pounds of tea. He makes a show on the pavement outside his shop of galvanized iron buckets, etc. The bonus is at the rate of 8d. and 1s. on 2s. tea, 1s. on 2s. 4d. tea, and 8d. on 2s. 6d. tea. Purchasers of ½ lb. of 2s. tea receive a tea pot. The value of a frying pan or a bucket in Bohea is not stated. Another firm, in London road, give away a large tin trunk with 5 lbs. of tea, and smaller trunks with smaller quantities of the leaf. They even give away carpets and other house-furnishing requisites at so many pounds of tea per yard or per article. "If this goes on ironmongers and others will have to sell tea in self-defence," remarks an English hardware paper.

BUSINESS TALKS TO BUSINESS MEN

IF your advertising has failed to bring you wished for results it is more than likely that you were alone to blame for it.

The great majority of the American people reason sensibly upon all that they read and hear.

They resent the implication that they are standing around ready to be filled full by all sorts of braggart assertion from all sorts of pretentious claimants.

They button up their pockets all the closer when the "never failing cure for all ills" makes it appearance in their local papers, threatening them with "dire calamity" if they hesitate a moment to avail themselves of "the only" remedy.

There is positive danger in claiming too much.

Of course, a certain class of advertisers will remind you of this, that or the other "Proprietary" article that created such a furore five, ten years or so ago.

They'll tell you of the thousands of dollars spent in advertising and in salaries, and yet—

It never occurs to them to wonder why so many of these concerns were lost almost in a night, and their very names are now recalled with difficulty.

Many of these articles had positive merit, and deserved a better success than they had

The managers went on the theory that the American public were fools, and so they ran madly on their career of boasting and claiming and over-praising until the sober second thought of the people turned them away with disgust from the remedies, and the advertisements no longer won their attention or dollars.

Extravagant claims for anything on earth are sure to result in disappointment.

The American people are a sensible and thinking race.

They prepare their advertising in a sensible manner. They tell the story briefly, pointedly, and humanly. They do not boast, they reason, and then as a rule prove their arguments by testimony of the strongest character they have.

The honest, upright and almost always successful advertiser is the one who appeals to the heart, the mind, the judgment of the readers.

The first duty of a business man is to win friends through their faith in him and in what he has to sell them.

If you have an article of general use, try a line of advertising and bring your own special brand more prominently before the public. Never mind how many similar articles there may be, yours will eventually become the leader.

Look at the baking powders, the washing powders, the $3 shoes.

What name do these three suggestions bring to your mind?

All that you need to do is to tell your story modestly and pleasantly—confidently, truthfully, and persistently—and your success is sure.—Printers' Ink.

ADULTERATED FOODS.

The question of adulteration of food and drugs in the United States is discussed in detail in the report of special agent Alex. J. Wedderburn of the Agricultural Department. After referring to the fact that the public ideas of adulteration of food are in many cases very much exaggerated, the report says: It has been proved that adulteration is general and increasing, and that no kind of food, drugs or liquors is free from the finishing touches of the manipulators. Whether the intent be criminal and vicious or simply fraudulent, the result is the same, and the people will continue to suffer until the strong hand of federal law steps in to supplement and support the action of the state.
